'Alone at Home' program planned

A program to help parents of school-age youngsters prepare their child for the responsibility of being home alone is planned Monday night at Faith Lutheran Church in Sagerton. It will be from 7 to 8 p.m.

Highlights of the program will include discussion of the safe use of a key, telephone rules, the importance of a list of key telephone numbers and the use of time and "home alone" feelings.

A special presentation of the film, "Alone at Home" and a take-home workbook, "When You Are in Charge," are a part of the program.

The hour-long workshop is designed to develop feelings of confidence and security in the child while addressing the needs of both regular and occasional "home alone" situations.

The program is being sponsored by the local branch of the Aid Association for Lutherans and the Sagerton 4-H Club.

Weather blamed for cable outages

Stormy weather has played havoc recently with the cable system which serves the Haskell area.

Harmon Cable went out of service Friday when electrical service was interrupted, causing damage to electronic equipment which resulted in another outage Saturday. Service was interrupted again Sunday to make repairs on the equipment.

Then Monday, lightning caused another outage.

Gigi Barnett, Harmon Cable manager, said the company is sorry for the inconvenience to customers and expressed her appreciation for subscribers' patience.

Jump rope nets $4,872 for Heart

Haskell County elementary schools raised $4,872.54 for the Heart Fund through the recent Jump Rope for Heart activities.

Final results from the various schools included:

Rule, $1,557.51, Barb Melin, sponsor.

Rochester, $1,316.86, Lizette Hast, sponsor.

Weinert, $914.75, Janet Frazier, sponsor.

Dr. Bill McSmith, county chairman, expressed his thanks to each student and each adult who participated in "furthering the fight against America's and Haskell County's No. 1 killer."

King completes leadership course

Cpl. Robert D. King has completed a U.S. Army primary leadership course.

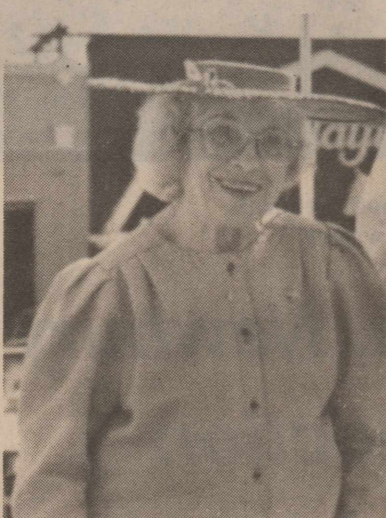

An infantryman with the 9th Infantry Regiment in Fort Wainwright, Alaska, he received training in supervisory skills, leadership principles and small unit training techniques essential to a first-line supervisor in a technical or administrative environment.

A 1982 graduate of L. D. Bell High School in Hurst, he is the son of Joe B. and Linda King of Haskell.

Pet parade

Hat contest winners

Super Saturday pleases merchants

Participants in last weekend's Super Second Saturday in Haskell were well pleased with the results.

A spot check of a dozen participants resulted in a unanimous endorsement of the promotion.

Most reported good store traffic and good sales. Even those few who said they saw little increase in sales lauded the event. "It's going to get better," was a frequent comment.

It was obvious to anyone in Haskell Saturday that Super Second Saturday was a tremendous success in attracting people to town. Neighboring cities were well represented on Haskell's streets and in Haskell stores.

Not only were local people joined by their neighbors, but a number of holiday weekend visitors to Haskell took advantage of the store sales and the entertainment.

One store reported customers from Graham, Houston and Oklahoma, as well as Stamford, Aspermont, Throckmorton and other area communities. Other stores reported many out-of-town shoppers.

The various activities on the square accounted for a large crowd during most of the day.

Super Second Saturday, a project of the Haskell Business Association of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled to be held each month for nine more months.

Super Saturday winners named

Ryan Burgess, Tiffany Loving, Rachel and Reid McLelland and Lee Christian were winners in the weekend Super Second Saturday pet parade in Haskell.

Ryan's Superman uniform with his Superdog Hank was voted the most original.

Tiffany (of Lubbock) had the most look-alike dog--Rhiannon, which belonged to Paula Hise.

Rachel and Reid had the funniest dog--Hoover.

Lee's toad, "Toady" was the most unusual.

Judges were Tommy Spraberry of Anson, Wymon Meinzer of Benjamin and Nicki Harley of KRBC-TV in Abilene.

Opal Adkins of The Personality Shoppe won first place in the hat contest, wearing a Frank M. Benson hat purchased in the late 1940s.

Second place in the hat contest went to Thula Perry for her yellow straw hat surrounded by flowers, and third place was won by Debbie Thomas Scheffel of Lubbock with a green straw encircled with Easter eggs and grass.

Perry endorsed by Farm Bureau

Texas Farm Bureau President S. M. True commended Rick Perry on his overwhelming election as the Republican nominee for the office of commissioner of agriculture, calling him the most qualified candidate in the November general election.

"We are pleased that Rick Perry won the nomination of the Republican party for agriculture commissioner. We know Rick and respect his ability as a political figure in Texas," True stated following Perry's victory over GOP rival Richard McIver in the April 10 runoff.

Perry garnered 69 percent of the vote April 10 to win the right to face Democratic nominee and incumbent TDA commissioner Jim Hightower in the Nov. 6 general election.

True, a cotton and grain farmer from Plainview, noted that Texas Farm Bureau will support and work for the election of Perry in November.

Short, Stone exchange vows

A candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. March 31 in the East Side Baptist Church united Miss Kimberly Dawn Short and Donnie Weldon Stone. The Rev. J. C. Amburn officiated.

Candelabra and candle trees lighted the altar where the couple recited their vows. To complete the decorations there were two over-size bowls of white gladioli resting on tall white columns, and the unity candle, molded to form a frame for the couple's wedding invitation, made by the bride's mother. The pews were marked with candles. Candelighters were Christopher Jones and Jonathan Short. Guests were registered at a table adorned with a blue candle and flowers.

Presented at the bridal altar by her father, the bride was attired with a traditional gown of white satin. The fitted bodice with drop waistline covered with venise lace and schiffle embroidery embellished with seed pearls and sequins and designed with a sweetheart neckline was closed in back with small white satin covered buttons.

Her Elizabethan sleeves accented with hand clipped venise lace medallions sprinkled with pearls and sequins were fitted at the wrist and closed with small covered satin buttons.

Her full skirt was finished with wide scalloped matching lace and flowed to a cathedral train. Venice lace adorned the front skirt and train was designed with cut outs and sprinkled with seed pearls and sequins. Her teardrop beaded forehead band held her veil with poof and flowed to a cathedral length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet tied and accented with satin streamers and arranged with illusion net, white roses. A penny of the year of her birth was placed in her shoe by her father.

Maid of honor was Samantha Fomby of Sweetwater. Bridesmaids were Michelle Dunnam of Rochester and Tracey Dillard of Abilene. Flower girl was Missy Jones of Abilene.

The bridal attendants wore identical dresses of blue and designed with drop waistlines, round neckline and short puffed sleeves, puffed with pearls. The flower girl wore a white dress that matched the attendants in style. The dresses were made by the bride's mother. They wore matching headpieces and carried a lighted candle.

Attending the groom as best man was Chet Lafler of Abilene. Groomsmen were Phillip Pander of Hamlin and Everett Davis of Hamlin. Ringbearer was Shawn Woolwine of Denver City.

Seating guests were Bobby Short of Rochester and David Davis of Hamlin.

Assisting the couple at the reception in the fellowship hall of the church were the couple's parents.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Short of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. Royce Stone of McCaulley.

The bride's table was laid with a blue cloth topped with a handmade overlay. It was centered with the bride's bouquet in a crystal bowl. The four-tiered cake was topped with a musical bride and groom. Punch was served from a flowing fountain.

The groom's table was laid with a blue cloth accented with silver appointments. Coffee and pound cake were served with wedding shoes, top hat and cane and tie trimmed with the bride's blue.

The couple will make their home at Hamlin where the groom is employed by Palmer Well Service and the bride is employed by Wal-Mart in Stamford.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents.

Pianist Jean Wright played "I'll Still Be Loving You" and "You're My Inspiration" before the ceremony.

The bride wore a western dress with silver laced and fringed bodice, white Roper boots and white flowers in her hair. Her cascade bouquet was of white silk roses and silver lace. ## Divorce Isn't Pretty No Matter Who's Involved.

Let's face it. Divorce hurts. No matter how good you feel about yourself, the pain and anxiety are impossible to escape.

That's why we work so hard to build strong marriages at our church. To help heal the rifts in relationships and overcome the scars left by broken promises.

Life's hardest struggles are easier to face when you've got a group of faithful friends standing beside you in the love of Christ.

That's why we're inviting you to join us in worship. To experience the love of God firsthand and see what we mean. No matter how hopeless the situation seems, there's still hope because Jesus cares for you.

Here's Hope.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

APPRECIATION, INFLATION & TAXES

You may be wealthier than you think, due to appreciation of your assets and the effects of inflation. If you don't plan ahead, taxes can take a big bite out of your estate. That's because federal estate tax is levied on the full market value of your assets, not on what you paid for them or on the appreciation over your cost.

These taxes are owed when your "taxable estate" exceeds $600,000 after deducting credits and liabilities. Rates start at 37 percent and go as high as 55 percent on the largest estates.

Your federal taxable estate includes everything you own, from stocks, bonds, retirement plans and cash to motor vehicles, real estate and jewelry. Your share of jointly-held property is included in your estate.

The estate tax is actually a transfer tax, and any prior gifts you have made in excess of $10,000 annually per donee are included in the taxable estate. You get credit for any gift tax you paid, however.

Suppose you die owning a house you bought fifteen years ago for $90,000 that is now worth $400,000. Your investments, retirement plan, and insurance cost you $200,000 but are now worth $400,000. If none of this property goes to your surviving spouse, the federal estate tax on your $800,000 estate will be $75,000.

Property that goes to your spouse escapes taxation due to the "unlimited marital deduction". But watch out! On the death of your spouse the taxman will be back again with a vengeance to get his share, and the estate will almost certainly be larger due to appreciation and inflation.

Tax planning techniques such as gifts to relatives or creation of charitable remainder or life insurance trusts can greatly reduce your estate taxes. See your tax advisor to tailor a plan to fit your needs.

Probation officer prepared for job

Amanda Gauer, adult probation officer, has been working since October with the Community Supervision and Corrections Department (formerly the Adult Probation Department).

A native of Indiana, Amanda moved to Texas in 1982. After graduating from Big Spring High School, she attended the University of North Texas, graduating last May.

While in College, Amanda was a commissioned peace officer for the State of Texas and worked for the university.

After receiving her degree, she moved to Seymour to live with her parents while submitting resumes for a job in another phase of criminal justice. The Haskell Community Supervision and Corrections Department needed an adult probation officer and Amanda fit the qualifications for that position.

After working several months in the office and out in the field, Amanda attended a certification academy in March at the Criminal Justice Center of Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. She had the second highest score in the class on the state examination and is now a certified adult probation officer.

"We are proud to have Amanda on our staff," said Vergil Smith. "We invite you to come by and get acquainted with her."

Weinert club meets

The Weinert Extension Homemakers club met April 3 in the home of Jimmie Weinert. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Weinert, vice president, in the absence of the president, Betty Sanders.

The hostess led all members in the TEHA prayer and the TEHA creed. Eight members and three guests answered roll call by completing "the last time I really listened to someone..."

Minutes were read by Alice Yates, secretary, and approved as read. The treasurer's report was given and Henrietta Rueffer gave the council report. Alice Yates and Alta McGuire were the only club members who got to go Tri-County Rally Day in Benjamin March 28. They reported an enjoyable day.

A 4-H clothing fashion show will be at Paint Creek May 20. The 4-H meeting in Weinert will be at the school in July. The club planned to go to the TEHA district meeting at Rotan April 14. Members discussed the TEHA state meeting in Amarillo Oct. 2-4 and all would like to go on the bus.

Lou Gilly, agent, brought the program. She showed tape on VCR. It was a very informative program and members talked about different parts of the program.

The hostess showed a beautiful quilt she had made for a friend in Haskell. It was pink and off-white colors, and the needle work was almost perfect.

Refreshments were served to Alta McGuire, Agnes Winchester, Myrtle Phemister, Faye Jetton, Alice Yates, Cordie Cunningham, Henrietta Rueffer, Erma Liles, Lou Gilly and the hostess.

Chuck Yeager

Monique Morgan and Martha Jarred visit with Chuck Yeager during the National Congress on Aviation and Space Education in Reno, Nev.

Trio attends space congress in Nevada

Three from Haskell County were among 1,200 conferees in the 23rd annual National Congress on Aviation and Space Education held March 21-24 in Reno, Nev.

Martha Jarred and Jerry and Monique Morgan flew from Maxwell Air Force Base to Reno in a C-130 to participate in the activities.

Program highlights featured such notables as Dr. Charles E. Story, dean of Technology Division at East Tennessee State University; Air Force Lt. Gen. Donald J. Kutyna, commander of the Air Force Space Command; Scott Carpenter, one of the original seven Mercury astronauts; Col. Francis "Gabby" Gabreski, America's top living air ace; Col. Steve Ritchie, the first Air Force ace of the Vietnam War; Ms. Moya Olsen Lar, president of Reno-based Lear Jet, Inc.; and Ted Carlson from the Lockheed Space Division who will present a discussion on the Hubble Space Telescope scheduled for launch soon.

Chuck Yeager attended the conference and was available for questions. He was the first to break the sound barrier.

Also attending were Barbara L. S. Koscak, the A. Scott Crossfield Aerospace Education Teacher of the Year; Earl G. Pingel, a secondary education teacher in West Allis, Wis.; Gloria R. Shepard, a specialist in the Aviation Education office of the Federal Aviation Administration's eastern region; and Dr. Kenneth E. Wiggins, a professor in the College of Education, Oklahoma State University. All four of these individuals were honored as Crown Circle Award recipients at this congress.

The National Congress, open to all educators, promotes an understanding of aerospace topics throughout the nation and motivates participants to inform the public about the impact of aviation and space flight on most aspects of the society. This year's National Congress was co-sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Federal Aviation Administration and Civil Air Patrol.

Mr. and Mrs. Herricks

Sparks, Herricks wed in Weinert

Sally Crager Sparks of Granite Shoals and Roy W. Herricks of Weinert were married April 7 in a wedding ceremony at Foursquare Gospel Church in Weinert. The Rev. Paul Chambers, pastor, officiated.

Organist was Elaine Campbell of Haskell and soloist was Sheri Gordon of Burkburnet, niece of the bride.

Helen Wright of Granite Shoals, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Kristi Lynn Carpenter of Mineral Wells, great-granddaughter of the bride, was flower girl and ring bearer was Bryce Hudgens, great-grandson of the groom.

Best man was Jerry Don Hudgens, grandson of the groom, and ushers were Richard Dale Sparks of Abilene, the bride's grandson, and Todd Herricks, the groom's grandson.

Given in marriage by her son, Dale Sparks, the bride wore a dress of powder blue chiffon. Flowers were white roses and baby's breath with blue accents and seed pearls. She wore a headband of organza leaves and seed pearls.

The matron of honor wore a pink brocade chiffon dress with small arrangements of white rose and baby's breath.

A reception in the fellowship hall of the church, hosted by the children and grandchildren of the couple, followed the wedding. Jean Slagle of Seymour catered the buffet. Donna Byrd of Rochester did the floral arrangements, as she had done for the wedding.

Both the bride and groom are retired. He is former minister of the Foursquare Gospel Church.

Study club hears 'Messiah' review

The Progressive Study Club met April 12 in the Community Room. First vice president Jimmie Weinert called the meeting to order and welcomed guests, Linda Wallace, Hortense Lees, Nettie McCollum, Angie Combs, honorary member, Mrs. Ezelle Frierson and Mrs. S. Hassen, and new member, Kay Croft.

The program was "Broadening Horizons by Education." Mary Martin, director, introduced Jo Simpson, a native of Rule, whose hobby is reading, which is a major way to broaden one's horizon. Another hobby of Mrs. Simpson is giving book reviews, especially those with a religious theme.

In her most delightful and entertaining manner she reviewed Marjorie Holems' "The Messiah," a very appropriate book for the Easter season. Mrs. Holmes recreated in a novelistic style, using her "common sense, God-given imagination and respect for Scripture," the events of Jesus' life as a family member, a man with many friends, a healer, a miracle worker and a preacher. Mrs. Simpson concluded her review with the events of the trial, crucifixion and the Resurrection, which is the reason for the Easter season.

The hostesses, Ruby Tufner, Jerrene Couch and Robbie Pittman, served sandwiches, olives, cake squares, apple cider and coffee. The business session followed. Angie Combs was elected to active membership, Sharee Gardner, treasurer, gave the financial report. The club voted to give scholarships of $250 each to two Haskell High School seniors. A letter concerning Super Second Saturday was read. Sharee Gardner, Franciene Johnson and Frances Lane added information about planned events.

The club voted to have a bake sale on May 12. Sharee Gardner, Lois Richardson and Angie Combs were appointed to set up the time and place for the bake sale. All members are expected to furnish items for the bake sale.

The last meeting of the club year will be an all-member salad supper on May 10 at 7:30 p.m. with the social committee in charge of arrangements at the Community Room. Mrs. Louise Massey, Mesquite district president, of Stamford and Mrs. Pollye Wheeler, state first vice president of Albany, will be special guests.

CIGARETTES/CANCER

Although it is now common knowledge that smoking may cause lung cancer, the American Cancer Society reveals that smoking may also be a risk factor in bladder cancer. Warning signs for this form of cancer include blood in the urine and increased frequency of urination.

Wedding date set by couple

A June 16 wedding is planned at the First United Methodist Church in Haskell for Linda Gail Wells and Robert Clark McDaniel.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wells of Paint Creek, graduated from Paint Creek High School and McMurry College with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. She is employed by the Jim Ned Consolidated Independent school District.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob McDaniel of Wichita Falls, graduated from Holliday High School and is employed by A. L. McAlister Trucking Co. of Wichita Falls.

Homemakers at Paint Creek have meeting

Paint Creek Extension Homemakers met April 2 in the home of Dolores Medford.

Dolores opened the program with a reading, "Song of Lazy Farmers."

Roll call was answered by five members and the extension agent.

Minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given. The council report was made by Dolores Medford.

Lou Gilly, extension agent, presented the program with a video tape showing the "Generation Gap." Members discussed the tape at pause intervals as it was being shown. It was a very informative tape.

Members present were Peggy Burnett, Frances Fischer, Dolores Medford, Mabel Overton, Dorothy Wells and guest, Lou Gilly.

Exhibit features 'Mini-Memories'

"Mini-Memories," the beautiful art works of Robert Martindale of Lefores will be shown from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday, May 5, at the Philadelphian Club in Rule. The program is being sponsored by Sid and Joyce Hester, longtime friends of the artist.

Mini-Memories is a line of handmade nostalgic scenes created by Martindale with a form all his own. He creates miniature scenes with all handmade objects. He uses clay, wood, buttons, snaps, watch and clock parts, etc. He designs and creates the scenes, then makes his own shadow box frames for the pictures.

A self-taught artist, Martindale started making miniatures of things he dreamed up as a boy.

For a year, he sold his miniatures at the World Trade Center in Dallas, but he could not produce them fast enough to keep up with demand. His work may be found in Rule and Haskell, as well as in other parts of the world such as France and Germany.

His work also is known in Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. The Hesters own several personalized selections of Martindale's works.

Martindale's scenes all have a nostalgic theme. He creates his own backgrounds from acrylic paint. He uses arrowheads, redwood, plants and weeds that he finds in canyons and pastures.

He moved to Lefores from Hinton, Okla., and had previously lived in Amarillo. A barber and hairstylist, he grew up in McLean, Texas.

Those visiting the exhibit are asked to bring old family pictures or home or farm scene pictures and let Martindale create their memory behind glass.

Church plans seminar

The First Christian Church of Haskell will host a "Personal Growth and Discipleship Seminar" this weekend (April 20-22). Mark Berrier, professor of Bible and Theology at Dallas Christian College, will conduct the seminar, which is based on the Book of Romans.

"We're really excited about the prospects of Brother Berrier being with us," said Dusty Garison, minister of the local church. "He has hosted seminars of this type all across Texas and the Southwest and we feel fortunate to be able to have him come here and share with us. Mark has taught Romans for a number of years at Dallas, and he knows this material very well."

Berrier is a graduate of Lincoln Christian Seminary, receiving his M.Div. there in 1971. He has participated in Ph.D. studies at the University of Dallas and at Southern Methodist University. While at Dallas Christian College, he has taught in the areas of biblical languages, theology and Bible. He also has taught at Wycliffe Bible Translator's Summer Institute in Linguistics. In addition, he has written numerous articles and essays for various Christian publications.

Garison said the seminar will include teaching sessions, discussion groups and devotional times. Some of the topics to be discussed include: The Law vs. Grace, What Is Sin? The Holy Spirit, and Using My Gifts for God.

The session times will be Friday night at 7, Saturday at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. On Sunday morning, the adult Sunday School classes will combine for a 9:45 session, then Berrier will preach during the morning worship at 10:45. Garison said a nursery will be provided.

"We want to invite everyone to come to as many of these sessions as possible," said the local minister. "Historically, every time Christians have studied Romans, spiritual and personal growth has been the result. We believe this type of growth is still possible, if we will open our minds and hearts to the power of God's word."

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Native plants studied

The Haskell Garden Club met Thursday, April 12, at the Community Room with 13 members present. The theme, "Garden Stage," was set with the roll call being answered by naming a favorite flowering tree.

The program was centered around native plants and perennials for dry climate. The guest speaker was James Bevel, who was introduced by his mother, Neat Bevel. He is the agriculture teacher in high school and has taught 28 years with eight of those years being in Haskell.

He brought some native plants to show, including Dotted Gay Feather, Lute Bush, Salt Cedar bushes, Yucca plants and a wild plum branch.

He showed a tape, titled, Forbs, (Broadleaves) with beautiful colored pictures commented by a professor who was an authority on plants and wildflowers that are native to Oklahoma and Texas. These plants have three classifications, namely, "Decreases," those that are eaten first and often over-grazed by deer especially. "Increases" are the good plants that just keep growing and "Invaders" are the ones brought in by men and planted; first ones are thorny or broomweeds.

The outstanding ones mentioned on the tape were Ragweeds, Sunflowers, Lemonmint, Blackeyed Susan, Black Samson, Buffalo Burr, Curley Cut Gum, Butterfly Milkweed, Pitcher Sage, Snow-on-Mountain, and Prairie Cone flower. Some of these are good grazing and some are poor.

The Indians and early settlers made good use of many of these plants by using them for medicine, and gum and insect repellents.

A short business meeting was conducted with Linda King, president, presiding. The minutes were read by Lorene Dewey. Linda gave a brief report of the District VIII convention at Stamford. Several members brought specimens of horticulture consisting of Irises, lilacs, tulips and others. Juanita Rhea did a nice arrangement using dried materials, gourds, celosia and a nice piece of wood as a holder.

The club will have a flower show with the Haskell County Fair in the fall.

Two guests, Retha Mullins and Florence Peden, were welcomed.

The last meeting of the year will be a luncheon at 12 o'clock and new officers will be installed. The program will be a study of attractive annuals and bi-annuals in the garden. Guests are always welcome. The date is May 10.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Leone Pearsey and Gladys O'Neal.

--Weinert--

by Myrtle Plemister
We can report we received another nice rain, an inch and 2 tenths, in fact and the blessing also came with no storm! With so many storm clouds, and storms in other areas, we may become lulled into thinking we are special, and the big one may catch us unprepared, so we are careful to give thanks for being spared the hail and high winds that would damage the beautiful grain crops we have.

Easter Sunday was a beautiful, sunny, spring day, and the many relatives and friends visiting in our town made a grand weekend population boost.

Each church reported out of town visitors, and we pray everyone remembered that the day was in celebration of the greatest thing that ever happened for mankind, the resurrection of our Savior from the grave. Do the children hear the story of the risen Lord, or do they think the only miracle is the "rabbit" who lays the candy eggs they enjoy hunting for?

Sarah and H. L. Guess hosted the annual egg hunt for the Weinert folks, and 64 guests registered for the 20th annual egg hunt that Sarah has hosted. (She is threatening retirement from the event.)

To help Peter Rabbit with the task of hiding the huge basket of eggs were Hal Guess, Joe Yates, Bill Little of Olney and Christy Herricks of Graham.

The home of Pud and Suzie Brockett was the scene of four days of visiting, and guests included Burgess and Maye Forehand of Haskell; Jo and Don Coffman, Goree; Mark and Darla Coffman, Drew and Jordan, Bridgeport; Pete and Imo Brockett with Monica, Munday; Kim Muth with Renae, Justin and Jimmy of Munday.

Enjoying fellowship, fun and country musical at the home of Chet and Jeanie Forehand were neighbors and relatives.

Jean's mother, Grace and Dick Skipworth of Robert Lee; her brother, Kenneth Conner of Abilene; her sister, Sybil Blackwood of Big Spring, and the Forehand's daughter, Kim and Mark Stewart, with Payden of Munday were among those visiting.

Johnny and Marilyn Earp entertained their children and grandchildren, and they all attended worship services at the Baptist church on Sunday. Their children are Kelly and Wayne Hutchinson of San Angelo; Johnny Boy Earp, of Spur; Karen and Ricky Harlan with Lysie and Jeremy.

Visiting in the home of Kathi and Lester Hutchinson were Dieter and Leisa Hutchinson with Lauren; Wayne and Sherri Hutchinson and Jamie and Debbie Newbury of Junction.

The young people enjoyed an evening of roping near Throckmorton on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Herrick's returned on Sat. from their honeymoon spent in scenic Arkansas and are "at home" to friends and relatives.

J. A. and Laverne Mayfield had their children home, and Dewayne and Alexia Rimmer with Adrienne and Elyse and Evelyn Ricketts of Dallas joined the group at the Guess' egg hunt.

Laverne is nursing a sprained ankle she received last week.

The Harber family entertained Donnie's younger sister, Margie and Mark Baker, with Eric, of Yoakum who was happy to hear big brother preach at the First Baptist Church.

The Baptist church has invited Hollis Hoffman, pastor of First Baptist in Fredricksburg to preach for their spring revival which will begin April 22, and continue through Friday, April 27.

Keith Johnson of Abilene will be in charge of the singing.

The members will be involved in cottage prayer meetings on Thursday and Friday nights.

Guests are always welcome at all services.

Douglas and Kristy Boling of Valley View and Shadella Foster with Ashley and Savannah of Stamford spent Easter weekend with their parents, Fred and Daisy Horan, Pennie and Kristy.

The children and grandchildren of Harvey Griffis gathered with him at his home for Sunday dinner, egg hunt, and a day spent visiting with him and with other relatives on Sunday. About 20 were in attendance.

His children are: Merle and Herschel Alexander; Bennie and Junior Horan; Donald and Gracie Griffis; and Ruth and R. C. Lanford of Rule.

Mildred and Alton Sanders were involved with a VBS Clinic for Baptist churches on Monday of last week. They entertained her mother, Jewel Havran of Munday, an aunt, Aline Cross of Seymour on Tuesday. On Friday, good friends, Jessie and Lana Edwards, with Traci, of Graham, came for two days of visiting.

On Sunday, a family get-together with Jerry and Joyce Sanders, Jeremy and Amanda of Merkel; Terry and Beth Sanders, with David and Kerri, of Hamlin concluded their week of entertaining.

Pearlie Alexander with J. T. and Florence Alexander enjoyed a visit from a cousin, Jim and Florence Robison of Abilene, whom they had not heard from in quite a while. Their fathers were brothers, and lived in our area a long while ago.

Ruby LaRoque of Odessa with her daughter, Debra, of Phoenix, Ariz. and Mrs. Billy Allen of Phoenix were in Weinert on Friday to visit with Francis and Linda Mahan.

Janice and Randy Boatright of Brady spent Sunday in the home of her parents, R. S. and Betty Sanders.

Jenell and Emmett McCoy of Wichita Falls spent the weekend with relatives, Helen Boykin, the Plemisters, Edith and Richard Davis of Haskell and Coy and Retith Keahey of Rule, and they all gathered at the D.Q. in Haskell on Sunday night.

David and Peggy Plemister with Marcus also were in Weinert for a visit and attended worship services at the Church of Christ on Sunday.

Jackie Frantz of Dallas, Bill and Dorothy Jetton and family of Brownwood spent Easter in Weinert with the J. E. Jettons and the Bob Raynes family.

Each home had a mini-family reunion, with dinner, egg hunts and visiting.

Johnny and Derinda Larned of New Braunfels, Randy and Donna Waggoner of Lubbock were here for a visit with their parents, Gracie and Donald Griffis, and Darla. Johnny has recently accepted a position as instructor at the Gary-Job Corp. institute in San Marcos, a vocational training school for young people, and at present is teaching a course in interior finishing of walls.

Kent Sanders of A&M University was home for the weekend and while doing that "mountain" of college laundry that students always bring home, he enjoyed a visit with parents, Brenda and Kenneth Sanders and Kole.

Bob and Crystella Raynes had 42 of their family home of Easter dinner, and egg hunt for the children in the afternoon.

Bennie and Junior Horan are both in ill health, and are consulting doctors in Abilene.

Junior has resigned his truck driving position and hopes to enjoy retirement. Good luck!

R. S. Sanders entered Hendrick's hospital on Monday, and underwent hip replacement surgery on Tuesday. Our prayers are for a quick and complete recovery for him.

Helen Boykin spent the weekend in Vernon in the home of son, Raymon and Janie Boykin, and grandchildren, Shelly, Randy and Mark and his wife.

Eddie and Myrnie Sanders spent last week in Canton visiting with her brother, Oswald Johnson and his wife, who are residing in a rest home there.

They came by Dallas for a visit with her sister, Letha Holloway and her family, and with her brother, Warren and Jewel Johnson and family in Ft. Worth.

The 1990 census is being wrapped up in Weinert this week, and we anxiously await the total count Brenda Sanders has made.

Our birthday people this week includes Trisha Ann Horan, Susie Brockett, Erma Liles, Thelma Edwards and Doris Walker. Happy birthday!

Congratulations to Robin and Renita Raynes who will celebrate an anniversary on the 24th!

Gracie and Donald Griffis attended a ginners convention held at Lubbock last week. The meeting was held in the Lubbock Convention Center, and was hosted by the Paymaster Co.

They were accompanied by Betty and Bobby Raynes and Freida and Edwin Fly of Rochester.

Weinert students will be out of school on Friday, April 27. They are involved this week in UIL competition after an enjoyable Easter holiday of parties, egg hunts and feasting.
