Celebrity dinner interest building

People often think scientific breakthroughs happen overnight. The truth is discoveries occur after years of measurable, tested research.

Basic research is the starting point for all medical advances. Step by step, research adds to the pyramid of knowledge from which surgical techniques, medications and preventive health programs emerge.

Thanks to many volunteers and donors in Haskell, the surrounding area and the state of Texas, the American Heart Association Texas affiliate is funding over $3.3 million of cardiovascular research this year. Together with educational programs, this vital research is the key to reducing disability and death from cardiovascular disease and stroke.

Although research is often perceived as intangible, it pays off in very real dividends--human lives. During the past few years, several Haskell County residents have benefitted either directly or indirectly from the great strides that have been made in cardiovascular research. Fund raisers, such as the one the local chapter of the American Heart Association is

Party '94 Friday at Civic Center

Haskell County Graduation Party '94 will begin at 9 p.m. Friday at the Civic Center. It will continue until 5 a.m. Saturday.

The annual party is for all Haskell County high school and college students.

Admission will be free for high school seniors. Freshmen will bring snacks, sophomores will bring chips and juniors 3-liter soft drinks for admission. College students will be admitted for $1.

Campbell was 1 of 4 with 2 RBIs.

Cisco was last year's regional finalist with nine seniors, seven of them starters. Haskell, in only its second season of baseball, has just two seniors, Jonathan Tatum and Jason Torres.

"We put the ball in play enough but we made too many crucial errors," said Coach Johnny Kinzy. "Our inexperience showed and Cisco's playoff experience proved to be the difference. But I am very proud of our team. We've come a long way in two years."

The Indians were district 5-2A runnerup with a 12-2 district record. They were 15-7 for the year.

Stenholm proposes budget reform

Congressman Charles Stenholm has introduced the Common Cents Budget Reform Act of 1994 (CCBRA), bipartisan legislation to reform the budget process and control federal spending.

"Washington's failure to control spending and to wisely manage the taxpayer's money has become a threat to our nation's economic future," said Stenholm. "This legislation will make the budget process more honest, more understandable, and will make an important contribution to a much-needed reform of the federal budget."

The famous charge of the Rough Riders during the Spanish-American War was actually on Kettle Hill.

"If you like saving money on car insurance, give me a honk."

Before the cost of insuring your car leaves you a total wreck, give me a beep, a honk, or even a simple phone call. I'll work hard to come up with a quote that's just what you're driving at.

Mrs. Jeffrey Alan Leslie

Church rites unites Bradford, Leslie

Tiffany Kaye Bradford and Jeffrey Alan Leslie were united in marriage May 14 at the Austin Avenue Church of Christ in Brownwood. Jerry Leslie, father of the groom, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bradford of Haskell and the granddaughter of Mrs. Eva Denton Allamon of Merkel and Mrs. Ramia Lee Frazier of Haskell.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry D. Leslie of Brownwood and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. L'Roy of Tulsa, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd K. Leslie of Ardmore, Okla.

Guests were greeted in the foyer of the church by Shelley Willingham, who presided over the registry table. The altar of the church was centered with a fan-shaped candelabra, with spiral candelabra and candle trees on each side. They were entwined with greenery, various pink flowers, and bows. The unity candle was decorated with greenery and ribbon. Ferns and other green plants completed the setting.

Special musical selections were sung by Donnie Baisden of Abilene, Tim Nix of Garland, and Ted Kell and Jerry Leslie of Brownwood. "I Will Be Here" was sung by the groom as the groomsmen entered. "One Hope, One Faith, One Love" was sung during the lighting of the unity candle.

The bride was escorted on the arm of her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore an original gown by Phyllis for Bianchi of lace and silk-backed taffeta in bridal white. The fitted bodice, of imported re-embroidered lace, had a sweetheart neckline and full puffed sleeves.

The bodice and sleeves were embellished with tiny seed pearls and paillettes. The full skirt with bustle interest in the back was enhanced with two cabbage roses at the waist and one lower. The skirt fell into a chapel-length train and was outlined in matching lace.

A band of lace, encrusted with seed pearls and paillettes, held her full-length veil of imported English illusion, which was outlined and scattered with pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of gardenias, gladiolus and snapdragons.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Donna Bryce of Abilene. Bridesmaids were Sara Greer of Chattanooga, Tenn., Tori Miller of Abilene, Stephanie Stafford of The Woodlands and Jennifer Leslie of Brownwood, sister of the groom.

Attendants wore suits of pink silk shantung. The fitted jackets were styled with off-the-shoulder portrait collars. Each attendant carried a colonial-style bouquet of spring flowers in shades of pink.

Flower girl was Amy Cullers of Throckmorton. She wore a teal-length dress of pink and lilac print with a pleated bodice and Battenburg lace collar. She carried a white basket accented with pink ribbon and scattered paper hearts and blossoms along the aisle.

The groom was attired in a black full-dress tuxedo with peak lapels and a white vest and bow tie. His boutonniere was snapdragons.

Attending the groom as best man was Kevan Jones of Houston. Groomsmen were Ben Sarver of Columbus, Ohio, Rory Cox of Lampasas, Chris Barber of Rives, Tenn., and Keith Leslie of Houston, cousin of the groom.

Junior groomsman was Ryan Bradford, nephew of the bride, who unrolled the aislecloth for the bride's entrance and escorted the flower girl. The groomsmen wore black tuxedos and black vests and bow ties. Their boutonnieres were white alstroemeria.

The mother of the bride chose a two-piece floral dress of soft moss green and pink with a lace collar and softly pleated skirt. Her accessories were antique gold and pink pearl earrings and bone-colored shoes.

The mother of the groom wore a two-piece dress of turquoise silk accented with silk closures. She wore gold earrings and multi-colored shantung shoes.

The mothers' corsages were gardenias with pink ribbon accents.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church Family Life Center. Decorations included ficus trees, green plants, white tulle swags and bows. White trellises accented with tulle and pink ribbons formed the backdrop for the bride's and groom's tables.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth with a swagged topper. The three-tier cake was decorated with fresh gardenias, alstroemerias and greenery. Punch was served from a crystal bowl and appointments were gold. The bridal bouquet accented the table.

The groom's table was covered with a hunter green cloth. The chocolate cake was decorated with fresh strawberries. Coffee was served from a brass service. Crystal vases held the bridesmaids' bouquets.

Members of the houseparty were Shelly Willingham of Mansfield, Donica Bradford of Wichita Falls, niece of the bride, Julie Bailey of Abilene and Charissa Huff of Haskell. A basket of rose petals was carried by Amy Cullers to distribute to the guests.

The bride was salutatorian of the 1991 graduating class at Haskell High School and is attending Abilene Christian University where she is a candidate for December 1994 graduation with a degree in elementary education. She is a member of Tri Kappa Gamma social club.

The groom is a 1990 graduate of Brownwood High School. He graduated summa cum laude from Abilene Christian University on May 7 with a degree in biology. He is a member of Gamma Sigma Phi social club.

Pre-nuptial parties included a miscellaneous shower at the home of Patricia Osbourn in Brownwood, lingerie shower in Abilene hosted by the bridesmaids, and a miscellaneous shower at the Haskell Church of Christ. Patricia Osbourn hosted a bridesmaids' brunch at the Brownwood Country Club on the morning of the wedding.

Following a honeymoon trip to Hawaii, the couple will be at home in Abilene until Aug. 1, when the groom will enter the University of Texas Medical School in San Antonio.

Celebrity...

The fund-raiser is being billed as the American Heart Association Celebrity Celebration Dinner. For a donation of $10 you may join your friends at 7 p.m. in the American Legion building in Haskell for a steak dinner with all the trimmings. Dinner will be served by local "celebrities" who will be catering to every need in an effort to raise additional money for the American Heart Association.

A "silent" auction will be held in conjunction with the dinner. Items up for auction from "real" celebrities will include such things as an autographed photograph of Reba McEntire, an autographed tape from Sindi Patti, two adult passes to Fiesta Texas, and an autographed photo of Gene Autry. These items are in addition to those listed in The Free Press last week.

A couple of big name items will be auctioned "live" at the end of the evening. There may be other surprises and entertainment for those attending the evening of food and fun on June 4. You will have to be present to see what will "happen next."

All money raised from the dinner and auction will be used to benefit the American Heart Association.

Age shouldn't stop exercising

Some common health problems related to aging can be reversed with simple exercise.

Activities such as walking can prevent and lessen the effects of heart disease, stiff joints and low energy.

Chair exercises also are recommended for people over 65. A daily routine of these simple calisthenics can improve range of motion in most joints and make it easier to get around. Books about chair exercise are available at bookstores and libraries.

Stressful exercises such as running, tennis or rowing can strain the cardiovascular systems of those who do not exercise regularly.

Fruit peelings can be helpful

For better-looking skin, try a little fruit acid.

Alpha hydroxy acid skin peeling, a cosmetic procedure using fruit acids to remove superficial skin blemishes, is the latest treatment being tested at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

AHA fruit acids minimize skin imperfections such as acne scars, sun spots, discoloration, freckles, fine wrinkles and solar keratoses, wart-like growths resulting from sun over-exposure.

--Letters to the Editor--

M&M Mars

Editor: I was reading your article on Paul Cox's trip to Russia for M&M/Mars and it occurred to me that many Texans don't realize that there is an M&M/Mars plant right here in Texas.

The plant is located in Waco and it makes Snickers, Twix, Skittles and Starburst. It's the only plant in the states that makes these products.

My husband, George, has worked for Mars for the last six years. The plant employs about 1,000 people. It has been a great benefit for our community and we're proud of M&M/Mars. George helps process Starburst candy.

The wrappers on these products say "New Jersey" where the packaging is actually made, but the products are made right here in Texas.

So next time you bite into a

Starburst you know it was made by a Haskell native.

Thanks

Editor: This year's Field Day was a great success because of all the elementary faculty, staff, parents and friends. Thank you so much for all you did to help everything run so smoothly.

The kids seemed to have a great time. We were real pleased to see such a good community turnout. We are looking forward to seeing everyone again next year.

Once again, thank you for all you did at Field Day and for all you do during the year.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

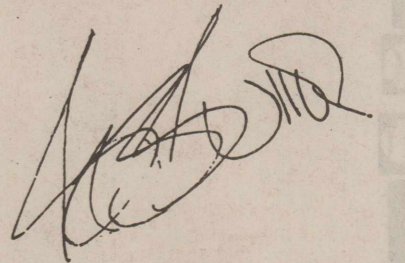

In days before he was kissed by fame,

Robert Bullock signed his name:

Bob Bullock

(or something like that)

Now that he has reached the top,
His John Hancock's changed a lot:

Maybe someone needs to tell the Texas Department of Commerce that West Texas is economically depressed. That agency doesn't seem to know it.

A report out of that office last week listed the state's top 10 counties in per capita income for 1992.

Guess what? Six of them were in West Texas.

And guess which county was ranked No. 5? Throckmorton County with a per capita income of $24,378.

Sherman County topped the list at $36,822, followed by a couple of Panhandle counties, Hartley ($30,630) and Hansford ($28,701). Sparsely populated Loving County ($25,184) was ranked fourth, just above Throckmorton.

No. 6 was Collin County ($24,363). Kennedy County was in seventh place ($23,606) and Dallas County was eighth ($23,420), followed by another pair of Panhandle counties, Oldham ($23,200) and Dallam ($23,190).

The report also compared the growth of per capita income over a six-year period (1987-1992), and guess which county was first? If you don't say Throckmorton, go to the back of the class.

Our neighboring county to the east experienced a 79.5-percent gain from its 1987 per capita income of $13,583.

No. 10 in growth was another Haskell County neighbor. Stonewall County per capita income increased from $11,706 in 1987 to $18,072 in 1992, a 54.4-percent increase.

The report did not list counties other than the top 10 and the 10 with the biggest gain.

It is interesting to note that Dallas (city) had the highest per capita of the state's metropolitan areas ($22,424). Houston is second at $21,737.

Those two cities, along with Fort Worth-Arlington, are the only metro areas in Texas with per capita income above the national average ($20,105).

The metro area with the lowest per capita income in 1992 was McAllen-Edinburg-Mission with $9,802, slightly less than a couple of other border areas, Laredo ($10,387) and Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito ($10,649). The state's only other border metro area, El Paso, is fourth from bottom ($12,497).

Closer to home, Abilene metro had $17,263 which put it in 16th place among the state's 27 metropolitan areas, but its 27.9-percent growth since 1987 was near the bottom in 24th place.

No way!

Travelers advised to avoid water

A word of advice for travelers venturing into less developed areas of the world:

Avoid ice cubes. In places with poor sanitation and hygiene, wise travelers will shun anything made from water that may not have been properly treated, says Dr. James H. Runnels at Baylor college of Medicine in Houston. This includes ice cubes, usually made from tap water.

"For liquids, you best bet is carbonated beverages or drinks made with boiled water," he said. "Even bottled water should be carbonated. Otherwise, it may be nothing more than a bottle refilled at the tap."

Chlorination is no guarantee that water is safe, even though it does reduce the microorganism amount.

Jeanett LeDay

Jeanett LeDay marking marks in nursing

In honor of Nurse's Week and past Teachers' Week, recognition is given to Jeanett L. Randle LeDay. She is the daughter of Ruthie Randle of Haskell and the late Martin Randle Sr.

Mrs. LeDay graduated from Haskell High School in 1978. In 1981 she earned her LPN license at Stamford School of Vocational Nursing. She then moved to Ville Platte, La., and began her career by working as a geriatric charge nurse at Maison de Sante for four years.

In 1987 she began working at Humana Hospital of Ville Platte. After working there for just a year, she was elected as "Nurse of the Year," while specializing in ICU and CCU care.

While continuing her full time status at Humana Hospital, Mrs. LeDay continued her education at LSU-E and acquired her registered nurse license in 1991. She was awarded the "Lattie Pate" scholarship for her academic achievement. She also was nominated for "Who's Who in American Colleges."

After graduation, she worked in the DRG department (reviewing charts for Medicare) and within four months she was in the in-house supervisor at VPMC. That is when she began her dual career as a practical nurse instructor at C. B. Coreil Tech Institute.

Jeanett has completed the first half of her teacher's certification and will be completing the second half of it May 23. She will have her first graduating class in August.

Mrs. LeDay still continues to work as a part time in-house supervisor at VPMC (formerly Humana Hospital) and at Savoy New Horizons as psychiatric supervisor.

Mrs. LeDay resides in Ville Platte with her husband Francis and their four children.

Birds have from 940 to 25,000 feathers, depending on the species.

You Have The Right To Choose Your Home Care Agency

One of the basic rights of patients receiving Medicare-covered services is the right to receive those services from their choice of a provider certified to participate in the Medicare program. Many people think of a doctor when they see the phrase health care provider, but the term is used by Medicare to include hospitals, home health care agencies, skilled nursing facilities, dialysis centers, and rehabilitation facilities.

Although some private insurance health plans may restrict patients to using only providers in a defined system (such as a health maintenance organization), Medicare has a long tradition of allowing beneficiaries freedom of choice. This means, for example, that a Medicare patient can:

- Choose to have needed surgery done by a participating surgeon across the country at any Medicare-certified hospital that allows that surgeon to practice, then
- Choose to receive rehabilitation services in another location from a certified rehabilitation facility, then
- Choose to return home and receive convalescent care there, supervised by the family doctor, and
- Choose a home health agency to provide these services.

Admission to any service or facility participating in the Medicare program does not predetermine that you must receive care from other providers that the service or facility prefers to use. The right of free choice throughout the continuum of health care is ensured to Medicare beneficiaries because respect for the rights of patients is required of all providers as a condition of participation in the Medicare program.

Outreach Health Services respects your right of choice and strives to earn your preference.

By Elbert Johnson,
Registered Pharmacist

Loneliness Can Be Hazardous to Your Health: Being alone can be pleasurable, but researchers have found that living alone may engender some unhealthy habits. People who live alone, especially older people, often do not consume enough nutrients. Additionally, people who live alone have a greater risk of heart disease, cancer, and suicide. Younger people should plan for later years by developing social contacts and hobbies, and older people should work hard at reaching out and overcoming isolation.

Citizens asked to help blood shortage

By Brian Burgess
Haskell County
Red Cross Chairman

A 4-year-old leukemia patient at Children's Hospital In Oakland, Calif., was in critical condition because no blood was locally available for her transfusion.

At the same time at Methodist Hospital in Houston, a 62-year-old man had to wait for days with the fear that his aortic aneurysm might rupture before the hospital could get the blood needed to perform the life-saving surgery.

All across the country, during January of this year, many elective-surgery patients had to endure agonizing delays because the unthinkable had happened: The nation's blood banks were running out of blood. Normally when one region is low it can get blood from a region that has an overage. This time there was no surplus blood available anywhere. Hospitals had to conserve what blood they had for emergencies.

Every year, 4 million Americans receive transfusions using a total of 14 million units of blood. Unless more Americans are willing to roll up their sleeves and give, the blood may not be there for everyone this summer.

Why are we running short of blood?

(1) It is inconvenient and folks just don't care like they used to. Because of AIDS, much greater care is used in drawing, handling and testing blood today. As a result, our blood supply is safer than it has ever been. And as a result, the questioning and screening process for donors takes twice as long. As more folks follow the "do your own thing", fewer of them are willing to be grilled on their sex lives and health history. The number of people in Haskell County who give blood to the Red Cross has dropped from 100 to 60 in the past 10 years.

(2) Related to (1) is that we are becoming a violent nation. If present trends continue, experts claim, gun deaths will replace auto accidents as the nation's leading cause of traumatic death by 2000. These injuries use massive amounts of blood.

(3) New medical technologies---bone-marrow, organ or tissue transplants, cancer treatments, joint replacements---are saving lives, but requiring more and more blood.

Demand is up, supply is down. Every healthy American should give blood. One time will help, but what we really need are donors who will donate two, three or four times a year.

Mark your calendar now for Tuesday, June 7. That's the date for Haskell County's next Red Cross Bloodmobile. It will be from 3 to 6:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church Family Activity Center. If you want to help, but are not able to give, we need two or three folks who will make 15 or 20 reminder calls to our regular donors, just to remind them the bloodmobile is in town. We need folks who will help put up posters in stores.

This might also be a good service project for Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts. If you want to help, call Brian Burgess at 864-3250.

Rubber can be made so elastic it will stretch more than nine times its normal length.

School gets grant from Highway Dept.

Haskell High School has received a $250 grant from the Texas Department of Transportation's Abilene district for Project Graduation.

In addition to the grant, Brenda Mitchell, Abilene district traffic safety coordinator, visited the high school recently and presented the Project Graduation contact person with a key chain for each of the graduates. The key chains bare the slogan "You booze, you cruise, you lose."

"These graduation keepsakes are a reminder to the students to remain alcohol-free around prom and graduation time," Mitchell said.

For the past several years, TxDOT has made monies available through its Traffic Operations Division to support Project Graduation. The money is divided between the state's 25 districts who then determine the amount of each grant based on the number of high schools participating in the district.

"Haskell High is one of the 23 high schools in the Abilene district receiving $250 grants," Mitchell said.

Rule woman begins studies

Melissa L. Lewis of Rule has begun studies at Stenograph Institute of Abilene toward becoming a certified shorthand reporter.

She will be taking courses in machine shorthand (stenotype) methods in order to take oral testimony verbatim at speeds up to 225 words per minute at 98 percent accuracy. Extensive coursework in medical and legal terminology, English grammar and typing also will be part of the program.

Mrs. Lewis graduated from Knox City-O'Brien High School in Knox City and is married to Todd Lewis. She is the daughter of Charles and Sharon Pierce of Knox City.

America's first peacetime draft law was passed by Congress in 1940.

Public Notice

On March 23, 1994, GTE and Contel ("The Companies") filed applications with the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("PUC") to restructure the Companies' Switched Transport rate category and reduce the Carrier Common Line (CCL) charge of its Switched Access Service. The tariff sheets in GTE and Contel's applications, if approved, will bring the Companies' state access tariffs into structural parity with their interstate tariffs for the Local Transport rate category, which became effective on December 30, 1993.

GTE and Contel propose to implement the new tariffs on a revenue neutral basis. The Local Transport category of GTE and Contel's Switched Access Service is primarily for interexchange carriers.

Persons who wish to intervene should file a motion for intervention with the PUC by June 17, 1994 with reference to Docket No. 12866 (GTE) and/or 12865 (Contel). Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Many take part

Howard Hopkins of the Haskell Horse Club said that 164 youngsters competed in the junior rodeo last weekend. And 15 adults helped in staging the event.

"All these kids had parents and most had grandparents," he added, and many of these spent two nights in Haskell which should have been good for the town.

"We could not have done this without the support of local businessmen and the public."

Hopkins said the Horse Club was very grateful to local merchants and others who supported the rodeo.

Only disappointment was the meager attendance at the show.

GOOD LUCK

Scholar athletes

Robert Huff and Teresa Diaz received the U.S. Army Scholar Athlete awards from SSG Hudson at last Tuesday's high school awards program.

Rule Acteens planning huge garage sale

The Acteens of the Rule First Baptist Church will have a mammoth garage sale on Saturday, June 4, beginning at 8 a.m. at the church parking lot.

Proceeds will be applied to their trip to the national Acteens Conference in Birmingham, Ala., June 21-26.

This is one of several activities the girls have had to make money for their trip. They have had a bake sale, bake off, baked potato dinner, pancake supper and this should culminate their activities.

For the garage sale, people are asked to donate things from their own storage. The attic from the church will be cleaned out and many treasures will be brought to light to put on sale. Also, the kitchen will be cleaned out and unclaimed dishes that have been there a long time will go on sale. (If you have dishes from funerals of the past, please come and check out the kitchen.)

Donations for the sale should be in by May 27. On Friday evening, June 3, church members will be given a "sneak preview" of items on sale.

Acteens is a young girls' division of the Women's Missionary Union of the church, ages 12-17. The girls meet each Wednesday afternoon at the church. Girls of all denominations are welcomed.

Twelve girls, along with sponsors Keri Farrell and Paula Wilcox, will be making the trip to the national conference.

Endorsed

Next promotion coming June 18

The Haskell Business association is having another "fantastic" promotion June 18.

"Big Boyz Motor Toyz" is the theme for a first annual classic car and pickup show. Mickey Holloway is coordinator of the event.

All pre-registered entries are due one week prior at $10. Registration fee thereafter will be $15. (Call 864-3238.)

Two $100 gift certificates will be given away at 4 p.m. on the north side of the courthouse. The winner does not have to be present.

Gift certificates are being provided by Heads or Tails Western Wear and Richardson's Case/IH-True Value.

All members of the Haskell Business Association are urged to wear clothing from the 1950s, and the public is asked to do the same.

A special attraction will be demonstrations by U.S.A. TAE Kwon Do Centers of Abilene, starting at 2:30 p.m. Dale Higginbotham, instructor, will direct the activities.

Several food booths will be set up on the west side in downtown Haskell. Participating association members will offer many Father's Day specials.

For additional information, contact Ed Walling, 864-3845.

"Make plans to come for the fun, food and a fantastic time in keeping the 'aliveness' of Haskell going," Walling said.

Robin Harrell tops in sales

Attending sales training classes in Dallas, Robin Harrell was recognized with the presentation of the gold award for the highest photography sales in the North Central region by American Studios in a special recognition ceremony in Plano.

The region covers the area from San Angelo, Wichita Falls, Brownwood to Fort Worth.

Robin is the daughter of Mike and Julia Harrell of Haskell.
