

Mr. Muleshoe . . .

By J. M. FORBES

Bert Mathis and Shorty Davis are attempting to create the impression that they are up and at 'em plenty early for they came up with a reminder that the wind, at dawn on March 22, the second day of spring, was out of the west-southwest. And they reminded ye editor of the Indian prophecy which that morning would have said: "Wind from the west, south, or southwest, will indicate a bad crop year."

Remember that's just an old prophecy. If it was me farming, I would go ahead and plant as usual. The only argument I can think of against that prophecy is that, at this time, we cannot afford a bad crop year, the farmers are against it and quite a few business men are dead set against it.

W. C. Fields, the man who couldn't help being funny, is coming to Muleshoe. Oh, I know the man has departed this life. But they are remaking those old films of the famous comedian and the Drive-In will show him in "Never Give a Sucker a Break" next Tuesday and Wednesday. I may have a perverted sense of humor but it doesn't depend upon gags or gag writers or special situations, it's funny because he's there, I suppose.

And speaking of pictures, we are reminded that the Valley and Palace have a slogan, "Pictures are your best and cheapest entertainment." We agree. As an example, on a recent bargain night, we saw a rattling good picture at the Palace for only 25 cents. Where could you beat it? Some of us spend dollars for entertainment that we do not enjoy as well.

Three Way Report
We have been reading and trying to study the "Statement of the Financial Condition of the Three Way School, Maple, Texas, of March 23, 1951, prepared by H. H. Homsley, Superintendent." There were five closely typewritten pages with many figures and it must have taken quite a lot of work to get it up.

The statement was distributed to the members of the board and others who are a very comprehensive outline of the school's financial position.
It lists all receipts and all disbursements, naming the sources of income and the item for all expenses, so that the taxpayer surely has no doubt as to where the money goes nor as to the situation of the district at the present time.

The statement includes a summary, also, of the receipts and disbursements of the lunch room, and of the Three Way Athletic Fund, and the "Money to study." We mean that total revenue received by the average school district from sources other than property taxes would surprise many of us. Under the Gilmer-Aikin Bill, we suppose, state assistance has increased mightily; and even the Federal aid is being shared in the cost of the Voc. Ag. instructor and homemaker instructor salaries.

The statement really is in black and white and requires no studying to understand but it is something that will interest you or any citizen just to read.

In this issue of The Journal you will observe several advertisements of local merchants concerning Dollar Day or days in Muleshoe. The coming Monday being the first Monday in the traditional Dollar Day. Some are making the special prices good for Saturday, also. It will pay you to read and study these ads. Muleshoe merchants are doing their best to provide an ever better trading and shopping center for all in the territory.

Another Stock Show Triumph
Folks will pardon us if we keep publicizing our livestock industry. Besides the Lubbock grand champion, a Muleshoe pig has now won the Plainview grand championship honors in those big regional stock shows. We are proud of our boys. And may we again remind you that Muleshoe and Bailey County have a considerable number of registered swine and cattle breeders whose animals are becoming more and more widely recognized.

City Election Set April 10

An election has been called for Tuesday, April 10, in the city of Muleshoe for the purpose of electing three aldermen. At its meeting Monday night the council ordered the election.

Preceding the passage of the order the council had accepted the resignation of Houston Hart as an alderman. This made three vacancies. Resignations of Loyd Roberts and Jim Cox previously had been accepted by the council.

The council appointed Tom Zimmer presiding judge; Mrs. H. O. Barbour, judge; Mrs. Henry Hanover and Mrs. E. R. Wright, clerks.

Seven Nominated To Fill Three Places On Muleshoe School Board

T. E. Millen Rites Conducted At Y. L. Church

T. E. Millen, 75, pioneer resident of the Muleshoe country, passed away at Green Hospital & Clinic here at 10:04 o'clock Sunday evening, March 25. Mr. Millen had suffered a heart attack Friday night preceding his death. He was admitted to the hospital and later returned to his home in Y. L. community northeast of Muleshoe and was brought back to the hospital after another attack.

Mr. Millen was one of the first settlers in this section. The family said he came to Muleshoe on the first train of the just completed line of the Santa Fe railway, in 1914.

He was one of the section's outstanding agriculturists. Until the last Mr. Millen maintained a keen interest in methods to increase production of the land and preserve the fertility and strength of the soil. He and his son, W. T. "Bill" Millen, conducted many experiments in irrigation, crop production and soil building.

They were among the first in the section to build their soil by plowing under heavy green growths of legumes. They made production records by building their soil and growing Irish potatoes. A few years back, cooperating with the county agent, they conducted demonstrations of new wheat varieties that attracted section wide attention.

Mr. Millen was truly an artist. Probably his last big task was the complete decorating of the interior of the Y. L. Methodist Church, a building formerly used by Y. L. school. Everyone who has seen this work praise it and it is described as a fitting monument to his memory by the minister at the funeral services.

Theodore Eaton Millen was born May 31, 1875, in Indiana County, Pennsylvania. He moved to Nebraska when a boy and was united in marriage June 16, 1909, to Miss Nellie Hardin at Wymore, Neb. Mrs. Millen passed on at Wymore in 1921.

Mr. Millen first came to Muleshoe on the first train to run on the new Santa Fe line. He moved here from Idaho in 1914. He remained here until 1925 when he moved to Clovis, N. M., and operated a sign and scenic shop until 1937 when he moved back to the farm in the Y. L. community.

Donations Still Being Accepted For Iron Lung

Donations still are being accepted to the Muleshoe fire department's fund to purchase a portable iron lung, and anyone who wishes to contribute may turn in his money to one of the fire boys or to the Southwestern Public Service Company office where the lung was demonstrated March 16 and 17.

At that first showing the people of Muleshoe and vicinity gave about $700.

Bill Boothe, fire chief, said the firemen feel that the matter is too near a successful completion to let it fall through now. Several who had not contributed have promised to send checks and it is believed the life saving equipment soon will be permanently located here.

The equipment is capable of inducing artificial respiration in many cases of drowning, electric shock, polio attack, etc., and is to be used until recovery or until the patient can be brought to a stationary iron lung at some hospital.

Edwards Farm Sale Is April 3

G. W. Edwards will hold a farm sale Tuesday, April 3, at his place 3 miles south and 2 east of Maple, Texas, or 3 miles north of the Star Route Grocery.

Farm machinery and tools and many miscellaneous items are to be offered.

Bozeman & Son, auctioneers, who will conduct the sale, said they would welcome items to be brought to the sale by neighbors. So if anyone has something he wants sold he should bring it to the farm on sale date.

Hugh Freeman and Tom Morgan of Muleshoe will clerk the sale.

In Marine Corps

PFC. NEWMAN
Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. — (By Mail) — Marine Private First Class Bobby Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Newman, Arch Route, Baileyboro, Texas, recently completed his initial training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

Upon completion of this training he was promoted to the rank of Private First Class, an honor bestowed upon every Marine who finishes his recruit training with a clean record.

The young Leatherneck spent his first three weeks of training here at the post receiving instruction on small arms, first aid, field sanitation, map reading, military courtesy and infantry drill. The following three weeks the young Marine spent at the rifle range where for two weeks he was taught the fundamental principles of marksmanship and during the third week he made practical use of his training by firing the Marine Corps basic weapon, the M-1 rifle, for record purposes. The new Private First Class spent his last two weeks in the Recruit Depot boning on additional subjects necessary to a Marine. These included bayonet fighting, combat formations of a rifle squad, digging of fox holes and a series of field problems where practical experience was gleaned through the application of classroom work.

He has been transferred to a Casual Platoon here and will soon be assigned to one of the many duty stations where Marines serve their country.

The Journal is sponsoring this year's Spelling Bee. County winners will go to Amarillo to compete in the regional Bee and the winner there will win a trip to Washington, D. C. Many prizes are offered.

Courthouse Burglarized

Burglars seem to have plenty of nerve in this area, for Wednesday night they broke into the court house and "blew" the vaults in the county clerk's office and the county treasurer's office.

No money was contained in the vaults at the time of the burglary. The vault in the county clerk's office was entered and papers were scattered all over the floor when it was discovered the next morning. The knob was knocked off the treasurer's vault.

They did not bother the vault in the sheriff's office which contained more than $4,000 at the time.

Inman Barrow Grand Champ At Plainview

The editor of The Muleshoe Journal told the editor of The Plainview Herald Saturday: "Muleshoe is bringing the grand champion barrow to the annual Plainview Junior Fat Stock Show next week." The Muleshoe man was merely repeating what he had been told by local swine experts, but it happened just that way.

Marlon Inman's Poland China pig, which was grand champion of the Bailey County show two weeks before Wednesday, was adjudged champion of his breed and grand champion of the swine division of the junior show by Stanley Anderson, animal husbandry at Texas Tech, who judged by the open and club classes in this division.

The Journal has not been able to learn of the particulars of Bailey County's entries and how they fared. The morning papers today also listed local winners as follows:
John Henry Inman, 2nd in heavy Hampshires.
Marlon's pig at the Lubbock junior fat stock show placed behind the pig shown by Tim Prather, whose entry won the Lubbock grand championship.

Terms of Weeks and Williams expire and the following have been nominated for the two places: Weeks, Williams, Gordon Murrah and J. T. Actkinson.

"Prof." F. L. Shelby will be the master of ceremonies. Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Downing is described as a forceful, inspirational speaker.

Business Discusses Cooperation Between Businesses and Colleges

BABSON PARK, Fla., March 23—Closer cooperation between business and education may save our private institutions of higher learning and, at the same time, bring about increased profits for business. Education and business, working hand in hand, can also make themselves of greater value to the country in this national emergency.

Business Needs The College
One of the soundest ways to preserve private enterprise is to give financial aid to young and needy potential business executives studying in colleges which are especially appreciative of American business and sympathetic to its problems. Most professional colleges of business have this point of view. They not only learn specialized techniques; but they also acquire a sound philosophy of American business. Business needs such young men.

Business also needs the brains and research facilities of the colleges. Many small and middle-sized companies cannot hope, by pooling themselves, to keep pace with the research of big business; but by pooling their efforts with the colleges, their usefulness and profits can be increased. Business provides the funds; the colleges provide the research laboratories.

The College Needs Business
In these times of partial mobilization and declining enrollments, the college needs the help of business. Education is the bulwark of democracy. If America is to win the battle of ideologies, it will be by brains—not by brawn. The survival of private enterprise is, therefore, closely tied to the survival of our educational institutions. To survive, our colleges greatly need the financial support of business, which should feel obligated to help keep our system of higher education strong.

Colleges today are in a precarious position. They are victims of a war-time economy. With decreased income from tuitions and inflated costs of operation, plus being buildings-and-land poor, with income from endowments inadequate, colleges are leaving rough going. Some are already operating in the red. Many more will lose money next year. A cooperative venture between business and education is, therefore, an intelligent solution to many of the problems of both groups. Sand Hills Philosopher Eager To See Bureaucrats Put a Ceiling Price On His Indefinable Cows

Editor's Note: The Sand Hills Philosopher, on his Johnson grass farm, is baffled over the prospects of ceiling prices on live cattle, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I found a copy of a paper which the March wind blew against my front door, of the two, March dust, with March newspapers, or no wind and no papers, believe I'd take the latter, don't like to be ignorant of what's goin on in the world.

but I put comfort ahead of learnin any day in the week, ain't seen a paper yet I'd rather be without than have dust in my eyes, pulled it off the screen and brought it inside and shook the dust off and read where cattlemen through-out Texas are excited over the prospect of ceiling prices bein put on live cattle.

Accordin to the cattlemen, this will ruin the cattle business, but I look at it another way. As I see it, it'll ruin the price controllers.

That is, it will when they come out here and start puttin ceiling prices on my cows.

As you know, I ain't never won no prizes at a fat stock show, and my cattle ain't what you'd call registered stuff, and I am lookin forward to the day when some bureaucrat comes out here and attempts to classify 'em. Would like to know what they are myself. I got one cow that was crossed with what I called a Jersey and a Hereford, but her mother was a cross between a Brainer and a Holstein, and her mother was a cross between a cross and a cross which is too complicated to enumerate. What the calf is, nobody knows, but when it comes to classifyin it in order to put a ceiling price on it, I believe it would be simpler if the government just asked me to put it in a deep freeze and say nothin about it, and I'm willin if the government will furnish the deep freeze.

Also, I'm wondering what will happen at a cattle auction when the auctioneer reaches the ceiling price. Who gets the cow when the bidders is noddin their heads simultaneously at the level?

Just don't see how it'll work, which may not be no stumblin block to the government.

Any thing to the report they're figurin on puttin ceiling prices on the various grades of live cat fish?
Yours faithfully,
"J. A."

Frona Boys Win State FFA Contest

The Frona FFA boys hung up their second consecutive state record this past week end, as they took first place in the farm skill demonstration contests held at Huntsville, it has been reported here.

The Ag. boys and their sponsor, J. T. Gee, left the past Thursday for Huntsville, where the contests were in progress during the week end, and a report Monday morning was to the effect that they had taken first place in the state, duplicating their performance at the 1950 contests.

Keith Brock, Ralph Ree, J. Vonne Fulks, M. C. Osborn, Jr., and Jack Redfern made up the demonstrating team, illustrating proper inoculation of swine. Prior to making their appearance at Huntsville, the team had been awarded first place in the area and regional meets, at Hereford and Amarillo.

Twelve teams were eligible for competition at the state contests this year, and for preliminary demonstration contests were divided into groups of six each, with the four highest teams going into the finals for state rating.

A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly; and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.—Proverbs.

Frona Has Full Time Manager

The Frona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture took on its first full-time manager in November of 1950 when it employed J. Alan Romich as manager and opened an office in the American Legion Building in Frona. The membership is made up of both merchants and ranchers throughout the trade territory and Parmer County.

The chamber was started in Frona in 1926 when the population of the unincorporated town was 250.

In 1929, a vote was taken and the town was incorporated with a population of 400. The census of 1940 showed a population of 803, and the 1950 census showed that the population had grown to 1,196. The city of Frona is located in the approximate center of Parmer County on the open Plains bordering New Mexico. It is served by U. S. Highway 60, the main highway from Amarillo to Clovis, New Mexico.

Primitive Baptists Believe
THAT all who mourn because sin, or who ever have a divine inclination, are the children of God, and cannot go to an everlasting hell, because Jesus Christ bought them and paid for them with His own blood.
THAT the preaching of the Gospel is to prove that glorious fact, so that the individual may choose between living to the glory and honor of God or a vain life of unhappiness and dishonor.
THAT the church is the most exclusive order on Earth, and that no disorderly conduct should be allowed to walk in her ranks.

Levelland Has Tornado Siren

Levelland now has a storm warning signal which cannot be confused with the siren atop the City Hall employed to blast forth fire warnings.
The tornado warning signal was installed this week at the old city barn by Fire Chief H. B. Johnson and company. It consists of four bugle-shaped pipes and is supplied by air from the present city's air pumps.
Not only will it be of value to warn citizens that a tornado is in the area, Johnson points out, but it will also serve in connection with defense signal system should that be needed.
When a tornado or wind storm is reported, the horns will be employed to give short blasts for two or three minutes. The all-clear signal will be two long blasts broken by a one-minute silent period.—Hockley Co. Herald.

VISIT IN DALLAS
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard spent the Easter holidays visiting relatives in Dallas.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Slim And His "Ali Species"

Slim Baker, who's always doing something crazy, had a lot of people smiling last week because his entry won a ribbon in the Women's Club Annual Pet Show.
Seems as though Slim saw a strange-colored alley cat with no tail over at Central City and brought it home. He washed, combed, and brushed it and put a collar on it with a card reading "Ali Species." Then he enters it in the show.
Hanged if the ladies didn't think it was some rare kind of cat and gave it a special award! When one of them asked Slim where she could get one like it, he said, "It's all yours, M'am—I can get an 'Alley Cat' anytime I want!"
From where I sit, some of us are pretty easily "taken in" just because someone else says it's so. Whether it's awarding prizes or passing judgment on a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer—let's take a good look from stem to stern, and learn what it's all about before making up our minds.

Engagement of Miss Billie Little and Fuston McCarty Announced at Tea

The engagement of Miss Billie Ruth Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Little, of Littlefield, and Fuston McCarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McCarty, of Muleshoe, was announced Friday, March 23, at a tea given by her mother at her home, 312 East Ninth Street in Littlefield.

The announcement was revealed when a newsboy, Dale Howard, distributed copies of a miniature edition of the County Wide News to each guest as she entered the Little home.

The "extra" gave details of the tea and plans for the wedding.

The couple will be married on Friday, June 8, in the First Methodist Church of Littlefield by Rev. T. G. Craft, Methodist pastor, at Haskell, formerly pastor of the Muleshoe Methodist Church.

In the receiving line at the tea were Mrs. Little, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. McCarty, mother of the groom-elect; Miss Little, the honoree; Miss Janelle Reed, Miss Billy June Cheshier, Mrs. Lester Brock, Mrs. Weldon McCarty, and Mrs. E. M. Little.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Bill Jim St. Clair of Muleshoe in a hand painted bride's book, made by the mother of the bride-to-be.

Flowers used throughout the house, and in the window planter were Easter lilies.

The refreshment table was laid with a hand-made linen outwork cloth from the Azores, and was decorated in pink, the bride's color. Arranged effectively were pink candles and pink fans, which the bridesmaids will carry in the wedding. The fans are made of nylon tulle, with nosegays of fresh flowers at the base.

Small individual tiered wedding cakes were served from a tier representing a large wedding cake. Mrs. James Cox of Muleshoe and Mrs. C. E. Payne served the cake.

Mrs. Acrey Barton, and Mrs. Oscar Wilemon poured tea. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Elton Hauk, and Mrs. W. J. Cheshier. Others in the house party were Mrs. Douglas Howell, Mrs. Gilbert Coughner, and Mrs. Allen Hodges.

Miss Little is a junior history major in Texas Tech College, Lubbock, where she is active in campus affairs. She graduated from Littlefield high school in 1948.

Mr. McCarty graduated from Muleshoe high school in 1947. He participated in high school athletics, including football. He will graduate from Texas A. & M. College next January with a degree in animal husbandry. Fuston is a member of the A. & M. track team and has been on the team four years. He also is active in A. & M. club and social affairs, and is a major in the cadet corps.

THE MULESHOE JOURNAL

Two Types of Dysentery Are Spread By Inadequate Sanitation System

(Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas)

Infectious diseases usually settle in one particular part of the body first and then sow their seeds or poisons of discontent that spread to other parts of the body. Treatment in many diseases consists of routing out the germ where it first set up housebreaking and then helping the rest of the body get rid of the remains.

Anthrax usually shows up on a hand, face, arm or neck when the germ is spread from livestock to a human being. At first it's just a round red spot, then it rises up into a blister with other blisters surrounding it. When the blister breaks, the rim of the sore gets red and the middle of the sore fills up with an ooze then dries into a black scab. And the whole thing starts swelling.

The infection tries to spread from that sore into the body by way of the lymph glands; these may swell up while they are forming a dam against the spread of the disease, but if they are successful in holding that dam, the sore of anthrax will start disappearing with the swelling going down, the scab dropping off, and leaving a scar behind which soon disappears. Special kinds of medicine applied to the outside of the sore will help those glands inside keep the infection from spreading.

This same sore may start in the lungs or in the intestinal tract and it is then more serious.

There is no such distinguishing sore when the disease is botulism, the kind of food poisoning you can get from improperly canned food. With this disease, it is the food which is poisonous even before you eat it. The germ which causes the food to be poisonous is seemingly quite safe as long as it gets plenty of air; you eat it on fresh foods without ill effects. But when that germ is left alive in a spot without air, like in a can, it starts brewing up a poison. High pressure canning kills the germ; it has been over 25 years since a case of botulism was reported from the eating of a commercially canned product. Improper home canning without keeping the moist heat high enough for the time required to kill the germ is the main cause of botulism.

Botulism doesn't always show up in the looks of the food. Naturally, if the food looks spoiled or smells funny, you should not eat it but should throw it out without even tasting it. Otherwise if it has been properly canned, boil the food for at least ten minutes before serving it.

That poison that the germ makes in the food is known as a toxin. A different brand of germ goes about the business of creating the disease of diphtheria in pretty much the same way. In diphtheria, the germ latches on to some part of the body, usually the throat, builds a leathery patch over itself and starts making a poison out of the juices and tissues of your body. The germ itself doesn't move, but the poison digs downward into the blood stream and flows through the body. This poison, or toxin, makes a bee-line for certain nerves or maybe the heart or other organs and interferes with their proper function.

When your doctor finds that leathery patch, he knows that means diphtheria. So he removes the patch to keep any more poison from being manufactured and gives you medical and best treatment aimed at keeping the poison from being spread before the body gets rid of it.

Since diphtheria is contagious, other people are kept away from anyone who has it. Anthrax is spread only by animals and botulism is spread only by poisoned food so they don't require isolation from other people.

The two types of dysentery are spread among other people in areas where sanitation is not so good. They do not affect animals, just people, so that proper health measures among mankind would cut down on the number of dysentery cases.

Bacillary dysentery, caused by plant-life germ, is not as serious or as prolonged as amebic dysentery, caused by animal-life germ, but it is more easily spread. Towels, eating utensils, and food handled by a person with bacillary dysentery or the germ which causes it may spread it to others. Within a day it makes itself known by cramping of the intestines, fever, and watery bowel movements.

Bacillary dysentery can usually be controlled by proper treatment within one to four days without any after-effects outside of an occasional attack of arthritis.

Amebic dysentery, on the other hand, doesn't usually make you suddenly sick; it starts off with minor cramps in the abdomen, alternate periods of loose bowels and constipation and slight fever if any; but there is usually some weight loss and a general feeling of illness along with flecks of blood and mucus in the stools.

It may affect other organs of the body, especially the liver, and may become quite serious. It is spread only by direct contact with the germ passed from another's body so that proper sewage disposal could prevent its spread.

A friend should be one in whose understanding and virtue we can equally confide, and whose opinion we can value at once for its justness and honesty.—Robert Hall.

MASONIC HALL TO GET NEW COOLING SYSTEM

Muleshoe Masonic Hall will have a new cooling system by the advent of summer, it is indicated. Members of the lodge are contributing to a fund to pay for the system, which will cool both the meeting room on the second floor and the dining room and kitchen on the ground floor.

In addition, the lodge will have a heating system that will heat both floors. Old equipment of the lodge is being traded in on the new plant, which will be installed by a Lubbock firm.

FAMILY FARM FADES

The family farm, an American tradition of long standing, may be disappearing from the Texas scene.

Reports of the U. S. Census Bureau reveal that the number of farms in Texas dropped by almost 50,000 in the five-year period between 1945 and 1950. The decrease indicates a trend toward the mechanized and efficient type of agriculture, in which the marginal producer is eliminated.

It always has been the family farm which has been the backbone of American agriculture and one of the foundations of the country's economy. It has been the family farm which has furnished many of America's leaders in business, industry and government. The wholesome country life with its accompanying work and responsibilities has developed leadership for America.

It would be a shame to see the family farm disappear. However, efficient production of farm crops is a necessity in this time of high costs. Actually, there is no room in American agriculture for the man who can not produce profitably.

As new and better types of machinery are introduced for agricultural production and one man is able to do better the job which once took three men's labor, the trend toward larger farms becomes natural.

Increased efficiency in agricultural production is a good thing, but the loss of the family farm removes an American tradition which has meant much not only to the advancement of agriculture but to the good of the nation.—Star-Telegram.
