miles over a challenging land- 6767. scape. In the darkness, it required considerable self-discipline to early as possible. keep focused on why I was doing this. And why, you may ask? The answer: limestone-overhang shelters. To me, at that time, it was a manly thing pulsing through my veins-to see where and how ancient people lived about 10,000 years ago. Believe me, theirs were extremely difficult times in this area torn apart by the elements of nature.

Looking back to those so-called wasted years, several of my strange adventures almost ended in a personal disaster—a flood, three locations set up including thirteen collared peccaries, an albino rattlesnake, the vertical, fractured face of a high cliff at Royal Hill Canyon (now known at Lewis Canyon), which about ten miles from Langtry, Texas.

It was my good fortune to become friends with Henry Mills, an old rancher who owned and ran the Pandale store and post office. He was crippled when I first met him, but his mind held a roomful of wild stories about this countryside. He enjoyed telling them. All he needed was someone to listen, and I did! I can say with both feet on the floor and my hand on The Holy Bible, he never bored me with his adventures and remembrances from a long way

So, when I write of the Pecos River, some of the adventures are mine, while others are Henry's. This story of Stone Walls is basically fiction, but a thread of the absolute truth runs from start to finish.

Fateful Meetings at the Cottonwood Cemetery

Almost every day I take a walk to the old Cottonwood Cemetery, passing the new one. I live on its west side and was born on the east side. So one can readily see that I have made ever so little progress in this life. My earthly destiny is no more than a hundred yards

Last June, a man was walking up and down the rows of gravestones in the new cemetery, searching for one he could not find. I noticed as I past by several times that he was doing this same procedure over and over again. Finally, I asked him if he needed help. He did. The stone he was looking for was in the old cemetery. We went over there and he took a picture of it. It read:

Early Texas Pioneer Daniel K. Robinson Dec. 25, 1818 Sept. 12, 1894 Texas Rangers and Minute Men 1839-1841.

I asked him if he was a former impressing the lessons on the mind of each individual student. The teacher brought two dozen of the most beautiful red roses he could find to class, one for each boy, plus one. He took one rose — the very prettiest of them all — and passed it around to every male student, letting him smell of it, handle it, even sqeeze it if he desired. Then he took it and fluffed it up as best as possible, and put the handled rose back with the bunch.

As the teacher passed the bouquet of twenty-four roses around, he instructed the boys to each take a rose for himself. The one that had been handled and much "used" was left as it made the circle. The lesson was obvious to both the boys and the girls: a boy may go out with a girl and misuse her, but when it comes to marriage, he always desires to pick one out who is pure and unhandled for

Where does this leave you, young person? Thinking, I hope, even the boys. Who is the greatest to blame, the handled or the handler? Moral purity is not one-sided. God intends for both the bride and the groom to be pure at the marriage altar. Both boys and girls bear equal responsibility toward themselves and those of the opposite sex regarding morality. And what a BREAKTHRU a clear conscience is, which leads to a much happier life because of the peace of mind.

Yes, a rose is a rose is a rose — but most prefer the unhandled one.

Note: To give garden accessories an antique look, grow moss on them. Simply mix any proportion of moss, buttermilk and water in a blender. Pour the solution on fountains, planters, patio surfaces or wherever you'd like moss to grow. Remember to mark on your calendar for the Cross Plains Garden Club's Trade Day, coming up Saturday, March 22. It will be held on the bank lot behind the Dairy Queen. Whether you'd like to rent a space for a booth, or just plan to come and browse, we'll be looking for ya!

I noticed they have some more Jicama in town at the grocery store, in the produce department. Jicama is so delightful. They contain absolutely NO FAT or CALORIES. The more Jicama you eat, the more you want. It is also very refreshing. Try it next time you are VERY thirsty; instead of sweet drink, have some chilled, peeled and sliced Jicama. It makes a great difference. Jicama may be eaten alone, thinly sliced or with a dip. Jicama is very been changeable—cold, cold, delicious in either fruit or vegone day and summery warm the etable salads. It also, for a little next. ### Stenholm (4-Cross Plains Review February 20, 2003) Announces Art Contest H.S. Students

Congressman Charles Stenholm announced for the Twenty-second Annual Congressional Art Competition for high school students in the 17th Congressional District of Texas. Last year's winning entries, from across the nation, currently hangs in the Cannon tunnel in our Nation's Capitol. This impressive exhibit represents the combined efforts of the Members who conducted their local contests and the students who participated. The Artistic Discovery program provides Members the opportunity to showcase the talent of their creative high school constituents.

Students in grade 9 through 12 from Callahan, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Runnels, Shackelford, Stonewall and Taylor Counties should enter a preliminary contest to be held in Abilene, April 12, 2003. Students may obtain release forms and further information at their local high school. Entries should be brought to the Hardin-Simmons University Art Department, Frost Center, by April 11, 2003 for the Regional

Other regional shows will be held in Brownwood, Graham, Mineral Wells, Post, San Angelo, Stephenville and Sweetwater. Winners from the entire 32 counties of the 17th District will be announced at an Awards Brunch in Abilene, on April 26, 2003. Charlie and Cindy Stenholm will host this honor's brunch.

Artwork must be no larger than 32" by 32" framed (framing not required) and two dimensional. Eligible categories are paintings, prints, drawings, collages, computer art, or photography. Artwork must capture the flavor or depict the heritage of the West Texas area and 17th District in any category, which may include, but is not limited to landscapes.

For more information, contact Stenholm's Stamford office at (915) 773-3623 or Martha Kiel at (915) 670-1246.

LEGAL NOTICE

On February 6, 2003, VALOR Telecommunications of Texas, LP (VALOR) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) to establish surcharges to recover lost revenues and increased costs associated with seven hundred thirteen (713) Expanded Local Calling Service (ELCS) routes implemented in and between VALOR's Texas telephone exchanges and in many instances, exchanges of other local telephone companies. The application is filed based on the Commission's Substantive Rule 26.221 titled, "Applications to Establish or Increase Expanded Local Calling Service Surcharges".

ELCS expands a local calling scope to include one or more additional telephone exchanges, if customers in a petitioning exchange approve by ballot, the payment of an ELCS fee in lieu of long distance charges. The costs and lost revenues associated with VALOR's surcharge application are those not recoverable through the ELCS fee.

In the application, VALOR proposes to implement on an interim basis a monthly per line surcharge of $.99 for residential customers and $1.98 for business customers beginning with the April, 2003 bill cycle. This proposed surcharge will apply in additional proposed surcharge will apply a surcharge will be applied to the proposed surcharge will be applied to tion to any monthly ELCS fees. If rates at or above the level of the interim surcharges are not ultimately approved by the Commission, VALOR will refund all or part of the interim surcharges, as directed by the Commission. Ultimately, VALOR seeks approval of monthly surcharges of $3.38 for business lines and $1.69 for residential lines to replace the interim surcharges. Additionally, the application proposes that customers currently billed ELCS fees lower than $3.50 per residential line and $7 per business line, will have those fees raised to $3.50 per residential line and $7 per business line

The net annual effect on the revenues of VALOR will be zero since the requested surcharge replaces lost revenues and reimburses VALOR for the increased cost of service associated with ELCS. The estimated total lost revenues and increased costs VALOR seeks to recover through this proceeding is $7,601,145 annually.

If you have questions about the proposed surcharges or would like further information, please call VALOR at 1-877-520-5220. The Public Utility Commission has assigned Project No. 27363 to this proceeding. Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Public Utility Commission of Texas as soon as possible and no later than April 14, 2003, the intervention deadline. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 1701 N. Congress Avenue, PO Box 13326, Austin, TX 78711-3326. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission at (512) 936-7120 or (888) 782-8477. Hearing-impaired and speech-impaired individuals with text telephones (TTY) may contact the Commission at (512) 936-7136.

AVISO

El 6 de febrero de 2003, VALOR Telecom de Texas, LP (VALOR) sometió una solicitud a La Comisión Pública de Servicios de Texas (Public Utility Commission of Texas) para establecer sobrecargos para recuperar las ganancias perdidas y los costos incrementados relacionados con sietecientos trece (713) rutas implementadas del Servicio Expandido de Llamadas Locales (Expanded Local Calling Service) entre los despachos centrales de teléfono de VALOR de Texas y en muchas instancias, despachos de otras companías locales de teléfono. La solicitud se sometió basada en la Regla 26.221 de La Comisión titulada, "Solicitudes para Establecer o Incrementar los Sobrecargos de Servicio Expandido de Llamadas Locales"

ELCS extiende el alcance de llamadas locales para incluir uno o más despachos de teléfono adicionales, si los clientes de un despacho hacen una petición de cambio que es aprobada por voto para pagar un cargo de ELCS en lugar de sobrecargos de larga distancia. Los costos y ganancias perdidas relacionadas con los sobrecargos de la solicitud de VALOR no son recuperables a través de la cuota del ELCS

En la solicitud, VALOR propone implementar temporalmente un cargo mensual por línea de $0.99 por cliente residencial y $1.98 para clientes comerciales empezando con la facturación del ciclo de Abril, 2003. Este cargo propuesto se aplicará en adición a cualquier cargo mensual ELCS. Si las tarifas al o sobre el nivel de los sobrecargos temporarios no son ultimadamente aprobados por la Comisión, VALOR reembolsará todo o parte de los sobrecargos temporales, indicados por La Comisión. Ultimadamente, VALOR busca aprobación de sobrecargos mensuales de $3.38 por líneas comerciales y $1.69 por líneas residenciales para reemplazar los sobrecargos temporarios. Adicionalmente, la solicitud propone que los clientes que actualmente son facturados con tarifas ELCS más bajas de $3.50 por línea residencial y $7.00 por línea comercial, tendrán un incremento de tarifas a $3.50 por línea residencial y $7.00 por línea comercial.

El efecto anual en las ganancias de VALOR serán cero siendo que los sobrecargos solicitados reemplazan las ganancias perdidas y reembolsa a VALOR por incremento en el costo del servicio relacionado con ELCS. El costo estimado total de las cias perdidas y el incremento de costos que VALOR tiene como fin recuperar a través de este procedimiento es

Si usted tiene alguna pregunta acerca de los sobrecargos propuestos o si necesita más información, por favor llame a VALOR

La Comisión de Servicios Públicos ha asignado el Proyecto No. 27363 a este procedimiento. Las personas que deseen intervenir o comentar en o sobre estos procedimientos deben notificar La Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas tan pronto como sea posible y no más tarde del dia 14 de Abril 2003, fecha límite de la intervención. ## ORCA Welcomes Down Home-Nicki Harle to State Agency Board Position

AUSTIN — The Office of Rural Community Affairs (ORCA) last week welcomed Nicki Harle of Baird in Callahan County to the agency's governing board. Harle is the first new appointee named to the Committee since the agency's inception in late 2000. Harle was tapped by Speaker of the House Tom Craddick to serve on the ninemember Committee, which guides the development of the agency, and defines its policy and philosophy.

"Nicki Harle is an outstanding person who well understands the issues important to rural Texas as well as the hopes and dreams of rural Texans," said House Speaker Tom Craddick, who appointed her to the ORCA board. "I have full faith in her and predict she will be a precedent setting leader for this vital, yet fledging, state agency.

Born and raised in Columbus (Colorado County), Harle serves as the executive director of Texas Midwest Community Network, a coalition of 41 communities representing 25 counties working together to recruit business in a region that encompasses portions of North, Central and West Texas. Harle has also served on the Baird Chamber of Commerce Board Directors, Abilene Convention and Visitors Bureau Board of Directors, Abilene Airport Advisory Committee, and the Abilene Task Force for Community Development. She holds a Bachelor's degree from Southwest Texas State University and has completed economic development courses from Texas Engineering Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

"Finding ways to help rural communities has been my passion for the past decade," noted Harle. "Having this opportunity to serve on the ORCA Executive Committee is a privilege and honor." Harle will serve a six-year term on the Committee, comprised of three appointees each by the Office of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, and the capacity of rural community Speaker of the House, Harle replaces Kent Sharp of Big Spring in Howard County, who was appointed by House Speaker James E. "Pete" Laney in 2000. Sharp, an Inaugural Member of the Committee, made significant contributions to the establishment of the young agency. Harle's fellow committee members note that she will continue to provide a high level of dedicated leadership to the agency.

"Ms. Harle is a natural addition to the Committee," said Robt. J. 'Sam" Tessen, MS, ORCA's Executive Director. "Her background and expertise will complement the many years of first-hand, professional, rural experience reflected on the governing board, which is very committed to serving our constituency."

The committee is comprised of three appointees each by the Office of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House. The terms of two other committee positions expired February 1, 2003, and are due for appointment from Governor Rick Perry and Lieutenant Governor David Dewhurst.

ORCA's door is always open for your comments and suggestions regarding the agency, or rural issues in general. Contact ORCA at P.O. Box 12877, Austin, Texas 78711. Phone: 512-936-6701 Toll free: 800-544-2042 E-mail: orca@orca.state.tx.us Fax: 512-936-6776. On the web: www.orca.state.tx.us.

ORCA was created by the 77th

Legislature to facilitate and focus the State's health, economic development, and community development programs targeting rural communities in Texas. ORCA's programs and services support health care delivery in rural Texas, and address rural community planning activities, and housing and public facility needs such as sewer, water system, road, drainage improvements, and disaster relief funds. ORCA also administers programs designed to improve the leadership leaders. ORCA is the door to Texas government for rural Texas Ranger, he was. During our conversation, he was talking about his most exciting experience that happened to him while at Royal Hill Canyon. It concerned the days when gangs of outlaws used it as a hideout. I told him about my trouble at the Canyon. He and I both were in disbelief. You see! Not one in a halfmillion Texans have any idea where this place is located. And today you'd need thirty-five dollars to get to see it. If I were a gambler, which I'm not, I'd like to find out the odds of a man from Austin, Texas meeting me at the Cottonwood Cemetery and both of us had had a wild adventure at Royal Hill Canyon.

The End

Back in December, or was it January, I was taking my daily walk when I noticed a man meandering around the Old Cottonwood Cemetery. I tried to resist asking if he needed my help, but I knew he did, so I relented. He was looking for the grave of Tom Jones. After a minute or two, we found it. The stone read:

TOM JONES.

He was somewhat disappointed that there wasn't more information. What could I do? I gave him a list of other people who might know something about the grave and the man himself.

We started a personal conversation, and it turned out that he was a retired history teacher at a college in his hometown of Stockton, California. He said that he had distant ties to the Jones family in this general area; but mainly, he was interested in finding more information on Tom Jones, I asked him how often he came to Texas. He said read regular because he owned a place down at Pandale. Wanted to know if I knew where Pandale was. My eyes lit up and I grinned and looked around for some time without saying a word. Was I on Candid Camera? I then laughed and laughed and reached in my back pocket and handed him a copy of Stone Walls. It's true: friendship can start in a most remarkable way.

Nowadays, I've got my windows so clean that I can see all the way to the old Cottonwood Cemetery. Just in case I'm needed, I have my binocular glasses hanging on the wall. "Lord, if there's anybody else out there who's also spent their 'honeymoon' at Pandale's Crossing, my number's in the book—the phone book."

Bill G. Jones, the second man met at the cemetery, sent Harold some photos of Pandale and told him he shared his poem with several friends there. All were impressed with Harold's descriptive words of Pandale. Mr. Jones' photos verified Harold's mind eye description of the land he loves. The Lord works in mysterious ways as this story has proven. Harold's composition is as fol"Stone Walls"

By Virgil Strahan

Oh Pandale, I loved this secluded countryside more than I can ever tell.

Stone walled-in valleys with thorny pastures and clear-water springs thrilled my soul.

Silent memories of a flowing, life-giving Pecos River sing sweetly in my heart.

Down here, near the Rio Grande, coyotes howl and yelp every night.

By noon, Mexican eagles soar with the vultures. The savage past, for a moment, comes alive. But for killing livestock, the trial is over. The sentence is Abundant mountain lions, wolves, black bears and bobcats are but a dead man's dream.

This land is now sheep and goat

Still, to fish and hunt whitetailed deer, a few strangers come

Thus said, the static hands of fright bristled our napes; and heartbeats, they became thunder-

Under that downpour upon the towering bluff, billions of fragments of weathered rocks plunged into the untamed Pecos.

The wild howling, made by the whirling and clashing of stones in mid-air, blossomed into a deafening roar, unearthly.

Upstream, a deep, sonorous rumble rose and bellowed and Shaking the earth's unstable crust we stood on.

It was rainwater becoming a mammoth inundation.

In the wide valley, as fast as a racehorse, the torrent spread out to a quarter-mile wide and twelve feet high.

Where the canyon of the River narrowed, the deluge rose to sixty to eighty feet above the banks.

Before long, coming around a huge bend of the Pecos, the foaming-mad whitewaters swarmed

Daytime, it soon became nighttime twilight. A bone shivering hell, the saturated darkness was. It should be obvious to anyone no one could survive such a frightful ordeal. Of the four friends, however, I was, oh, so lucky to find an eddy in the midst of the unexpected flood. It may sound cold and ruthless-

-without feeling--but, in truth, that's the way it is: Death is just when the spirit and body are no longer compatible.

I once thought: What wonderful days it would be to have my eternal home down there in Pandale's countryside.

But then, after fifty years to think it over, I know, a young man's wishes and wants are most often related to vanity.

So now, in the grip of old age, I gotta lean on the Creator Himself, not stone walls.

An yet, regrettably, time and again, I create my own stone walls, do you?

Lions Club Camp Accepting Applications

New camper application forms are available and the Texas Lions Camp is now accepting camper applications for the 2003 summer camping season. The camping season opens June 1 with the first of six oneweek sessions for children seven through sixteen years of age with physical disabilities. Campers attending each session will check in on Sunday afternoon and check out the following Saturday morning. These sessions will be followed by a day camp July 16-18 for children whose parents will bring them to camp each morning and pick them up each evening.

There will also be two oneweek sessions, July 20-26 and July 27 - August 2, for children with Type 1 diabetes who are eight through fifteen years of age. A medical team joins the camp staff for the diabetic sessions to help children learn to control their diabetes by eating properly, monitoring their own blood sugar, and giving their own insulin injections. Parents of these children are offered a special day of instruction to update them with the latest information concerning diabetes management.

Activity programs at the Texas Lions Camp are designed to promote social and emotional development, support improved self-confidence, and encourage positive self-esteem. All children participate to the extent of their capabilities.

Located on 504 acres in the Texas Hill Country just east of Kerrville, the camp's modern facilities include air conditioned cabins, a dining hall, infirmary, junior olympic sized swimming pool, ropes course, gym, weight room, amphitheater, and much more. There is no charge for Texas children to attend the

One rabid skunk reported in Callahan County for December

One rabid skunk was diagnosed for rabies in Callahan County during the month of December 2002, according to the Texas Department of Health.

The Texas Department of Health's Zoonosis Control Division tested one skunk and two cats for rabies during the month of December. The skunk was determined to be rabid, while both cats were diagnosed as negative for rabies.

Statewide, the Texas Department of Health tested 800 animals for rabies during the month of December with 722 turning up negative for the disease. Among the 78 positive rabies tests during the month, 60 were skunks. There were five rabid fox, five bats, one cat, four bovine and three rabid bobcats reported during the month.

The year 2002 concluded with 12.012 animals received during the year. The Texas Department of Health reported 1,049 (nine percent) positive rabid animals and 10,709 (89 percent) negative for the disease during the year. There were 254 (two percent) cases in which the animal was too decomposed, destroyed, not tested, unsatisfactory or inconclusive.

Zion Hill Cemetery Annual Meeting

The annual meting of the Zion Hill Cemetery association will be held on Thursday, February 27. 2003 at 7 p.m., in the meeting room of the Baird Housing Authority, Fourth and Chestnut, near downtown Baird.

A Spring Cemetery clean-up will be discussed as well as the financial condition of the association. We are very near the goal set last year at the organizational meeting of $1000.00 in the endowment fund. As soon as this goal is met we will be able to place the funds in a CD and begin to put the cemetery on a self supporting basis.

Recent donors to the endowment fund are: Bobby and Dana Voigts, Baird; Gary and Wanda Marsh, Baird; Carl Bailey, Cisco; Ida Mae Waddell, Putnam; Allen and Jerry Wilson, Baird in memory of Ovena Konczak. We appreciate these donations. They will help us provide a proper resting place for the nearly 100 Pioneer Callahan and Eastland County settlers intered there
