Hit & run victim in hospital

Hascal Waddell, 50, manager of the Silver Spur Motel, was the victim of a hit and run driver here about 8:00 o'clock Monday night. He was in fair condition Tuesday morning at St. John's Hospital in San Angelo, suffering a broken leg, cuts and abrasions.

Waddell was crossing the street in front of the motel when he was hit. He said a van passed him, made a U-turn and came straight back at him. He recognized the driver as a man with whom he had a confrontation earlier in the week at the motel.

Law enforcement officers set up roadblocks and some time later took the van and its occupants into custody. Charged was Mariano Maskill, who was released under bond early Tuesday morning.

Local youth place in State 4-H Horse Show

Crockett County 4-H Youth participated in the State 4-H Horse Show held in Fort Worth's Will Rogers Coliseum.

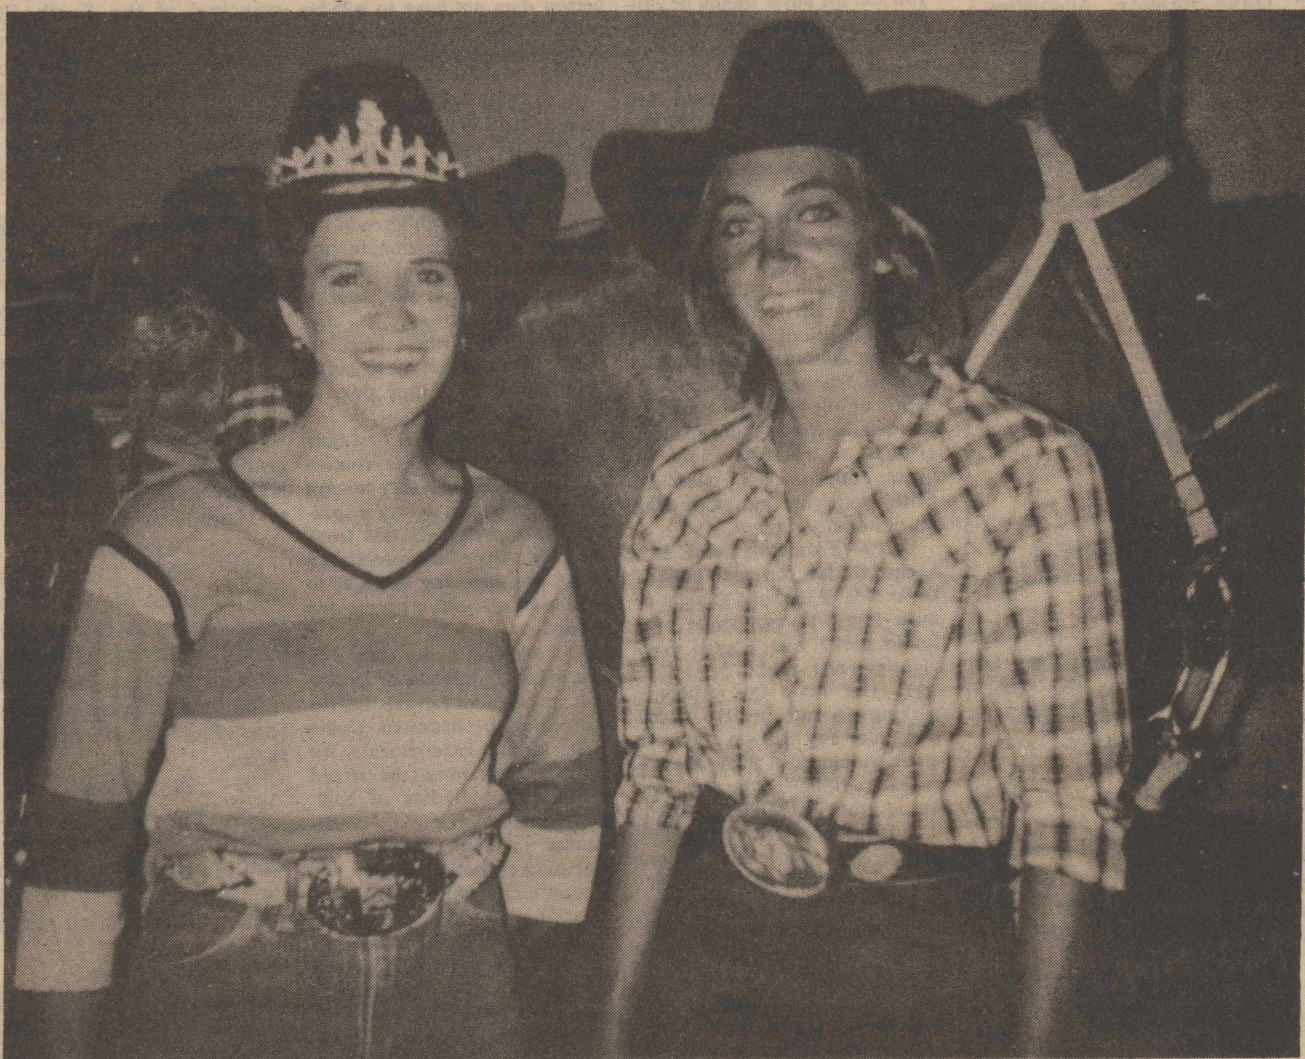

The group accumulated enough points to win 2nd high place county in the Invitational Show.

Bubba Everett placed 3rd in the break-a-way roping and 4th in the judged roping. Will M. Black placed 3rd in judged and Louis Bunger placed 7th in break-a-way roping. Les Hale and Dan Bean were also members participating in the show.

4-H adult leader Tony Allen accompanied these members to the show. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bean also attended.

Last year this group won high point county with Black winning all-around Saddle and Bunger winning the 1st place Breakaway Buckle.

Gay Burns captures top honors in annual rodeo

Melinda Hokit won the Rodeo Queen Contest, with Onita Carlisle as first runner-up and Cindy Reavis, second runner-up. Miss Hokit was crowned by Miss Burns during the second performance of the rodeo Saturday night.

A spokesman for the Ozona Lions Club, sponsoring organization, said the rodeo was one of the most successful in recent years. He expressed appreciation on behalf of the Lions to the Ozona Roping Club who members helped run the show off smoothly.

Rally to highlight Pre-football season

The highlight of the pre-football season in Ozona will be a youth rally at the Civic Center Saturday night, Aug. 9, with Scott Appleton as guest speaker.

Appleton, 37, is a native of Brady and has his BS in Physical Education from the University of Texas, where he was all American and won the Outland trophy for outstanding lineman in the nation in 1963. This was also the year UT won the national championship.

Appleton played professional football with the Houston Oilers, San Diego Chargers and Oakland Raiders from 1964 through 1969.

All young people are invited to attend the rally, especially aspiring athletes. Appleton will speak at First Baptist Church Sunday.

The field house is open today until 9:00 p.m. where high school football players may pick up shoes. Physical examinations will be given tomorrow at the high school library for all high school athletes at 3:30 p.m. Athletes are reminded this is the only time during the year free physicals are offered.

GOVERNOR'S REPORT

by William R. Clements Jr.

Much has been written about the initiative and referendum proposal I will submit to the Legislature in 1981. Unfortunately, a great deal of misunderstanding remains—some of it, I fear, due to deliberate efforts of opponents to confuse the issue.

Here is a kind of primer on the subject, which, I hope, may serve to clear some of the cobwebs:

Initiative is the power of people to enact laws independently of a legislative body. Referendum is the power of the people to repeal an unwanted law.

Twenty-three states already have some form of initiative and/or referendum. No state that ever has adopted initiative and referendum has repealed those powers.

Polls have indicated that some 70 per cent of Texans favor initiative and referendum. Eighty seven per cent of Texas Republicans who participated in a May 3 party primary referendum indicated they want authority to initiate and repeal legislation via petition and the ballot.

A constitutional amendment would be required to give Texans that power.

Regardless of some concern, there has been no pell-mell rush to pass new laws or repeal old ones in the I & R states. Use has been restrained.

I feel it is important, however, that voters be given the powers of initiative and referendum for use in those situations where the legislative process refuses to respond to the clear will of the majority. Particularly in the area of taxation and spending, citizens should have emergency clout to deal with an unyielding bureaucracy.

I propose a procedure by which at least 10 per cent of those voting in the last gubernatorial election have to sign a petition to get a recommended law on the ballot. The petition requirement for a constitutional amendment election should be a minimum of 15 per cent.

To prevent concentration of petition powers in the major cities, signatures should have to come from 75 per cent of the 254 counties. And the Legislature, then, should have authority to approve the petition as submitted or to offer voters an alternative version. Where an alternative is submitted, voters should have a choice at the statewide election between the original and the legislative option.

The U. S. Supreme Court has held that I & R constitutes no violation of the Republican representative form of government.

Legislatures still account for 99.5 per cent of all laws passed in the 23 states which have I & R.

Opponents claim bad legislation, too many issues for the ballot, emotional issues and ill-conceived laws are spawned by I & R.

The truth of the matter is that in the 23 states using I & R, only 20 per cent of the issues submitted for initiative action get enough approving signatures to get on the ballot, and two-thirds of those which make it to election are defeated. Obviously, no legislation which violates the state or federal constitution or federal law can be adopted by either initiative or legislative routes.

No radical initiative legislation has been approved in the I & R states, regardless of opposition charges. Many of the arguments used by opponents have been raised throughout history against other expanded efforts of people to control governments.

During framing of the U.S. constitution, James Madison argued tyranny would result if citizens were in control of government. Thomas Jefferson countered that the real tyranny lay in centralized government. A compromise was reached, but the election of U.S. senators by direct vote was not permitted for many years. Not until 1920 did women get voting rights.

The Texas Constitution states: "All political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their benefit." Initiative and referendum will help keep that principle alive.

PAYING FOR COLLEGE DOESN'T HAVE TO BE A FULL-TIME JOB.

Need an extra $6,000 for college? Serve part-time with your local Army Reserve unit, and you could get it. For starters, many units offer you $2,000 in college aid just for joining. You'll earn another $4,000 mostly in the summers. During school, you only work a weekend a month, so your classes won't suffer. Interested? Call your Army Representative, in the Yellow Pages under "Recruiting."

All-Star "Double Plays"

The only player to win the All-Star game Most Valuable Player award twice is Los Angeles Dodgers star Steve Garvey. He won it in 1974 and in 1978.

Cincinnati's Joe Morgan and former New York Yankees star Mickey Mantle share the record for hitting safely in seven consecutive All-Star games.

Sparkling defensive play won the 1979 All-Star game Most Valuable Player award for Pittsburgh's Dave Parker. According to A-T-O Inc.'s Rawlings Sporting Goods Company, manufacturer of official American and National League baseballs, Parker won the honor for two outstanding throws from the outfield, helping the National League to a 7-6 win.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Democrats backing Mass. Sen. Edward Kennedy in the presidential sweepstakes are pressing this state's delegation to opt for an open convention in New York next week.

Kennedy forces around the nation are positing that President Jimmy Carter's low standing in the polls warrants a change in convention rules. Carter cannot win, they argue, and the Democrats should now release all delegates pledged to any particular candidate so that the party may easier nominate a winner against GOP nominee Ronald Reagan.

Carter has more than enough first ballot pledges to sew up the nomination, if the conventioners stick to those pledges.

Pro-Carter state party leaders are working to squelch the open convention movement which would give Kennedy a new shot at the nomination. Indications are that Carter will keep his pledges, and that even if the convention was "opened," he would still win the party's nod.

In this state, the struggle pits such party leaders as Texas Democratic Party Chairman Billy Goldberg, a Carter supporter, against National Democratic Committeewomen Billie Carr, a Houston liberal backing Kennedy. Carr says she has been told by several Carter pledges that they would switch to Kennedy if rules allowed.

A Code Word
A change in the rules at this late date "sounds good but an open convention is a code word for subverting the decision of 20 million Democrats who voted in the primaries and precinct conventions," Goldberg said.

Much of the new in fighting is regarded as just a rule or ruin fight by Kennedy, who was thoroughly trounced by Carter in the primaries, despite record inflation and home mortgage rates at that time caused by deregulation of certain sectors of the economy. If such is the case, Kennedy, who has effectively knocked off the rust from his national political machine, may be making bitter enemies who will keep him from the nomination in '84.

Brother Trouble
The Democrats are looking bad and they know it. Carter is troubled by low poll ratings and scandal involving his brother Billy's role as a Libyan agent. While the Republicans work in unison and watch with glee, the Democrats know they must begin on Convention Day. One to make intraparty peace and start catching up. The 1980 presidential election may well be won or lost on the first day of the convention.

State Property Taxes
One group of politicians breathing sighs of relief are

Texas legislators who voted for tax relief measures last session. Now is the season for local governments—cities, counties, school boards, etc.—to prepare budgets for the coming fiscal year. Word coming in from around the state is that inflation and other factors are prompting many local officials to seek large property tax increases.

State legislators, who were secretly saying all along that the Proposition 13 tax revolt should have been aimed at local and federal officials, are glad that the heat is off their backs: the Legislature effectively wiped out state property taxes last session.

Nothing stays the same in politics and their relief may be short-lived. Seeking tax revenues, Texas cities may make a raid on the sales tax and seek increases there. And the Legislature, which may be forced next session to raise presently low state taxes, had hoped to keep the sales tax hike option for itself.

College Desegregation
The U.S. Dept. of Education sent a letter to Gov. Bill Clements last week indicating Texas may lose millions in federal funds to higher education because of rampant segregation in state-supported colleges. State officials may soon learn they have 90 days to submit a corrective plan or face the loss of funds. Clements called the letter a political ploy.

AG Opinions
In a legal opinion issued last week Texas Atty. Gen. Mark White ruled Comptroller Bob Bullock may not deposit his employees' salaries directly into banks unless he sends a separate pay warrant for each employee to the bank. Bullock had wanted to save money, time and effort by sending a lump sum to the banks of his employees, but White ruled it must be sent by individual paychecks.

White also ruled the Texas Municipal Power Agency is not a public utility as defined in the Public Utility Regulatory Act.

GAS PRICES GO UP AS TRAVEL GOES DOWN
Those who have been planning long distance vacations by private car this summer may be paying more at the gas pump than ever before.

Fuel prices can be expected to keep rising though supply will be adequate, predicts Texas A&M University energy expert Dr. Spencer Baen. But there is other bad news.

Researchers point to a slowdown in the economy, credit crack-down and increases in the travel industry's vacation price index as crimps on American vacation travel. The situation is causing people to hold back on plans, arrange trips closer to home or to plan to scrub vacations altogether.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: We're planning to sell our home. If we find a buyer who wants to "assume" our loan, could our mortgage company come back to us for the monthly payments?

A: Yes, any time you sell your home by having someone assume the balance of your loan, the mortgage company retains the right to look to you for the monthly payments if the buyer fails to meet them. To protect yourself in a sale of this type, the contract between you and the buyer should be written to include provisions allowing you to have title to the home returned to you in the event the buyer defaults. You would then resume responsibility for paying off the mortgage.

Q: Is there a law requiring a person to have a license to peddle goods or services from door to door in Texas?

A: There is no state law in Texas requiring such a license. However, any retailer should make provisions to collect and pay state sales tax if he is required to do so. Contact the nearest field office of the State Comptroller for details. Some municipalities attempt to prohibit, limit or license door-to-door salesmen. Check with your local City Hall on this matter.

Q: I own a mobile home. Is it against the law for me to pull off to the side of the road at night or must I pay to rent space at a trailer park? Can I park overnight at a rest stop?

A: The Texas law prohibits parking a vehicle on the paved portion of any highway. Because many shoulders of highways are paved, parking on the shoulder would probably be illegal. There is a provision for emergency parking, but police officers are authorized to move any vehicle that is in violation of this law. However, you may park overnight at a rest stop or roadside park.

Q: While I was renting my apartment, the building was sold to a new owner. Now that I gave notice, paid my rent in full, and moved out, the new landlord has refused to return my security deposit. What are my rights?

A: Both the new and old owners may be liable for the return of your security deposit.

Q: I have heard that in Texas a person does not have to leave anything by will to his children. The Probate Code does, however, provide for a family allowance to give minor children of the deceased parent an amount sufficient for care and maintenance for one year from the parent's death. This allowance is only available in cases where the minor children would not have sufficient property of their own to provide for their support.

Q: I have heard that first-time offenders can have their criminal record wiped clean if they commit no further crimes during a specified time period. Is this true? Also, if a person has committed a crime, are there any limits as to what kind of work a person can obtain?

A: Following guilty pleas and successful completion of probation, an offender can ask that the proceedings be dismissed. Under these special requirements for only certain crimes, the record will show no finding of guilt. Convictions of felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, such as theft or perjury, will prevent employment as a policeman, fireman, or private investigator, and will prohibit the practice of dentistry or law. Service in the military and in other government agencies will be restricted, and the offender may not serve as Executor or Administrator of an estate.

JOSEPH VS GOLIATH

By Edwin Feulner

Once again, the giant bully is stalking the plains looking for little people to pick on.

Only this time, it's Joseph, not David, who is volunteering to zing a stone between Goliath's eyes.

Joseph Sugarman is president of JS & A Group, Inc., a small mail order firm in the Chicago area, specializing in pocket calculators, digital watches, and other microelectronic devices. Begun eight years ago in Sugarman's basement, it has become one of America's most respected electronic marketing companies.

Due to three major blizzards and a computer breakdown last winter, JS & A was forced to temporarily set back delivery dates, bringing the Federal Trade Commission out in full regalia. JS & A was in violation of a 30-day deliver-the-goods-or-notify-the-customer rule, the FTC said, and must pay a $100,000 fine.

JS & A's policy was actually one up on the FTC, Sugarman protested. His company's success was based, he said, not only on hard work, but on above-board consumer oriented marketing standards — customers' checks are not deposited until an order is completed, and, in the event of a delay or other problems, the customer is provided with a toll-free number for information, complaining or cancelling the order.

Since the computer was broken down, customer notification in that one instance was delayed, but the JS & A staff, working lots of overtime, eventually filled every order.

No matter, bellowed the FTC. Like Goliath, the huge agency needed some little guys to bolster its great hulking image. Musclebound and weighed down by too much armor, it was unable to catch true violators — those who are really out to bilk the consumer and too slippery to prosecute easily. So they zeroed in on JS & A — a small, highly-visible, presumably helpless company.

That was a bad mistake. Undaunted, Sugarman is fighting back. He has launched an ad campaign and published a booklet entitled, "Blow Your Knee Caps Off," to expose what he calls the FTC's unprincipled tactics.

Sugarman's attorneys advised him not to fight back. He quotes one of them as saying, "It's like a bully pulling out a gun and saying, 'If you don't give me a nickel, I'll blow your knee caps off.'"

Sugarman refuses to give up. "I refuse to let my reputation be slandered and discredited by a few publicity-seeking bureaucrats whose efforts attack legitimate companies, thus undermining our free enterprise system, while leaving the crooks free to rip-off the unprotected American consumer."

That's the real rip-off, he says. (Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy think tank.)

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Through the parade of hot days and weeks, everyone has continued to water with every implement available to help keep our yards looking exceptionally well.

Many of our homes are featuring the colorful caladiums, marigolds, phlox and other annuals.

Unlike many other perennials, the garden phlox is native to the United States. In the wild the 2 to 4 foot tall flower stalks are usually white or magenta, however the hybrid selections possess more varied colors. But all the garden phlox have the same delicious scent and contrasting eye at the center of each flower. One of the reasons for the popularity of garden phlox is that the blooms last for weeks, and they'll last even longer if the fading flowers are kept removed, preventing the flowers from going to seed. The desirable seeds, are those of the hybrid selections that you buy in packets at the garden centers. Sew them in late fall because they need exposure to cold before they germinate in the spring. Sow in porous organic soil in full sun or light shade. When the seedlings are 2 to 3 inches tall, thin them to 2 feet apart, and transplant the extras. Established plants can be propagated like mums. When new growth begins in the spring, divide the clump every 3 or 4 years or take cuttings of new growth. A clear white selection is Prime Minister and a beautiful pink is Fairy's Petticoat.

New garden and seed catalogues should have new and old varieties of many annuals, bulbs and perennials.

If you plan to have a fall garden, August is the month to prepare beds for flowers and vegetables. It is said that plants are only as good as the soil they grow in. Luther Burbank said he could grow plants from any part of the world in a soil mixture of 1/2 garden coarse sand, 1/2 garden clay, and 1/2 barnyard fertilizer. This dry summer may make the soil preparation more difficult than if we could have a good soaking rain. One advantage of alkaline soil that we have, is that there is a much wider variety of alkaline plants than acid-loving ones.

OHS CLASS OF 1960 held its reunion during the rodeo festivities over the weekend and managed to find this 1960 convertible to ride in the parade Friday afternoon.

Mohair Council meeting

The summer meeting of the Mohair Council of America is scheduled for August 21, at the Inn of the Hills in Kerrville, Texas. All activities will be in the Medallion Room at the Inn of the Hills, according to Bob Childress, president of the Council.

Topics to be included on the agenda are the outlook for the coming fall in New York, planned activities to be conducted with the assistance of the USDA-Foreign Agricultural Service, and reports from other industry organizations will be given. Dr. John Hutchison, consultant with the Texas Department of Agriculture, will discuss the importance of marketing programs in agriculture.

PEACE

Sunday Psalms 46:1-11
Monday Psalms 42:1-11
Tuesday Psalms 40:1-17
Wednesday Psalms 51:1-17
Thursday Titus 2:7-13
Friday Job 8:5-14
Saturday Job 27:1-8

Peace can be a moment of stillness, steeped in the beauty of God's world, shared with those you care about.

Yet there is no definition that can fit every human experience of peace. That's probably why the Bible speaks of the peace of God which passeth all understanding.

And the way to find peace — the best way — has always been to seek God. As we turn to Him in prayer and fix our thoughts upon his truth we know a calmness and confidence that neither nature nor companionship alone can provide.

If you haven't already begun the quest for peace — start this week in your place of worship.

August is Sandwich Month, and a good opportunity to add a little flair to sandwich fare—with fish.

Of course, the old sandwich standbys are great, but they suffer pitifully from overuse, so seafood will perk up an old idea.

Try a tasty alternative to the sandwich grind called the "Night Cap Special," which should breathe new life into sandwich eating.

It is a tantalizing concoction of flaked fish, mushrooms and eggs scrambled together and accented with a touch of pimiento.

It's great for a bedtime snack or for a main course.

Many other delicious seafood recipes are available at no cost and can be obtained from "Seafood Recipes," Texas A&M University, 442 Kleberg Center, College Station, Texas 77843.

Dash white pepper
12 slices buttered rye bread
Sweet pickles

Place fillets in boiling, salted water. Cover and return to the boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer for 5 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Drain.

Remove skin and bones and flake.

Cook mushrooms, pimiento, and onion in butter in a 10-inch fry pan until tender.

Combine egg, milk, salt, pepper and fish.

Add to cooked vegetables and cook until eggs are firm, stirring occasionally.

Spread six slices of bread with fish-egg mixture.

Cover with remaining six slices of bread.

Serve with sweet pickles.

Makes six servings.

Heifer development important to herd

"In the cattle business," remarked Dr. James N. Wiltbank, "the most important part of herd management is to develop heifers correctly."
Dr. Wiltbank is an internationally recognized animal reproduction physiologist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Beeville. "The place to start is when calves are weaned," he added. "At this stage a cattleman can start with what he already has, and also it's the time to select and to sort heifer calves by weaning weight."
He emphasized that a cattle producer should select the heaviest heifers for replacements or for expansion of the herd.

"The heavier the better," Dr. Wiltbank assured. "The heavier the heifers are at the beginning of breeding season the higher percent, or the faster, they will mate with a bull."

Dr. Wiltbank has conducted research for many years to determine the effect of first calf heifers in reaching puberty, pregnancy and calving. "A rancher should always keep back or select more than he figures he may need. Say, if he plans for 20 then select 25," he explained. "And he should set a target weight for these heifers to reach by beginning of breeding season. Weights should be at least 650 pounds for Angus, 700 pounds for Herefords, and for the heavier crosses such as Brahman crosses, 760 pounds."
He said that heifers need to be 14 or 15 months old at beginning of breeding season, calving as two-year-olds. Dr. Wiltbank also said that it's good cattle economics for heifers to begin calving at two.

"They are capable at that age," he added. "So, why not?"

Three things happen when a heifer bred for the first time is too light. Not many of them get pregnant, calf losses are high and occur generally at calving time, and not many rebreed for a second calf.

"Development of heifers correctly is the key to productive performance," Dr.

Wiltbank concluded. "But so few cattlemen do it."

Dr. Wiltbank and his associates prepared a detailed report on "Improving Pounds of Calf Weaned by Heifer Selection" which is available by contacting him at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Star Rt. 2, Box 43-C, Beeville, Texas 78102.

Heat is killing urban trees

The hot weather and extended drought throughout Texas has taken its toll on urban trees. Dead leaves and bare trees are dotting streets, parks and landscaped yards.

It's the lack of water accompanied by additional stresses, according to Mark Heil, urban forester with the Texas Forest Service.

"But with the water shortages and rationing in many communities, there's not much homeowners can do about it," he said.

"Trees and shrubs planted during the winter have not developed enough roots to absorb adequate water. Just to keep them alive requires large amounts of water every few days."

Environmental stresses are killing young and old trees, especially oaks. Stresses could be caused by disturbed root systems during construction or building, too much fill soil, or maybe just old age. This is nature's way of eliminating weaker trees.

If all the leaves are brown and dropping, chances are your favorite shade tree is dead. But don't crank up the chain saw yet, warns Heil. Wait until next spring; some branches may bud out. If so, trim off all dead branches. It will probably be ugly for a few years, but a regular program of fertilizer and water will encourage new growth.

If the tree doesn't leaf out next spring, harvest your firewood and make plans for re-planting.

Simpson-Mann Oil Producers, San Angelo, has announced plans to drill 22 projects in the Adams-Baggett Ranch (Canyon sand gas) field of southeast Crockett County, approximately 26 miles south of Ozona.

Applications have been filed to drill four of the projects, and drilling is expected to start within the next two weeks. D & B Drilling Co., Abilene, is the contractor. Wade Simpson, co-owner with Gordon T. Mann, in the firm said "we expect to drill at least two of the projects each month".

The properties 3,500 acres, were secured on a farmout from Amerex, Inc. All of the projects, scheduled to 5,500 feet, are on the J.M. Baggett Estate, et al.

The No. 1-3 is 2,125 feet from the north and 2,120 feet from the west lines of 3,000 GC&SF.

The No. 2-3 is 660 feet from the south and east lines of the same section.

The No. 3-2 is 1,920 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the west lines of the east half of D.M. Hewitt No. 2, in Block O.

The No. 4-2 J.M. Baggett Estate, et al, is 1,730 feet from the south and 1,985 feet from the east lines of the same survey.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas - Director of Activities & Social Care

Home again! And, so far as the weather is concerned, it would seem there is to be no relief from the heat. Some of our residents have commented that they are among the fortunate elderly, to be living in 24-hour air conditioning.

I want to thank everyone who carried on the program while I was away with everything running very smoothly. Lottie Lee Baker stepped in to lead my Bible class on Wednesday morning and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the message she brought. Lottie's subject was "The Better Things in Life". We all hope that she will be back again soon.

The next afternoon Dorothy Montgomery took over the reading and discussion group using a number of selections taken from various sources which gave a sprinkling of humor, sentimental items, and a patriotic reading entitled "It makes our Country Great" taken from Sunshine Magazine.

All residents have been most complimentary about these two ladies, and I would like to introduce others to this group from time to time, not necessarily when I am on vacation or have to be away for one reason or another. Please give me a call with suggestions!

Alma Wilson lead the crafts class and brought the materials to make some most attractive fans; this project was completed and was enjoyed. I would like to make an appeal for two or three more helpers for this group on Tuesday mornings. Some residents can work well alone, but others need help and probably we could include others who do not now participate because they would need individual attention. Please call me!

On Thursday evening Jamie Knox, Don Kilgore, Ollie and Jean Ann Sudduth were the music-makers; as always they put on a good show. We are happy that Ollie has recovered from the nasty accident he had several weeks ago.

August birthdays are as follows: Leona (Granny) Carter on the 8th, Hilario Cortez on the 14th, and Eunice Graham on the 22nd. The party will be on Monday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. Family members and friends are invited to join these honorees.

Hilario is a new resident who moved in while I was gone; he had the misfortune to fall and had hip surgery before coming to stay with us. He thoroughly enjoyed the musical program last week.

A little extra was added to beauty parlor morning, Thursday. Hazel Storms wanted everyone to help her celebrate her birthday after she got through creating hairdos, and brought a delicious selection of cookies so residents enjoyed an impromptu party. Thank you so much, Hazel, and happy birthday! Kathy, her daughter, has been doing manicures all summer and we will miss her when school begins. The ladies have been so pleased to have their nails done while sitting under the dryers, and I hope someone can step into this slot at the end of the summer vacation period.

Bingo winner of the week was Juana Hernandez and second prize was won by Maude Pettit. The July losers' contest was held and there was a tie between Lydia Patrick and Clara Mayes. We will either have a play-off or settle it with a deck of cards, or something! Maude Pettit has been playing the piano from time to time for the enjoyment of other residents.

Tomasa Ramos is presently in the hospital, but says she is beginning to feel much better. Our thoughts are with Louise McWilliams who lost her sister, Monday. She visited her in Odessa for a couple of days last week.

Coming up this Thursday evening... The Williford

Family Band from Sheffield.

Many thanks to the following for gifts and donations: Myrtle Post for a collection of beautiful Ideal Magazines; Sophie Kyle for bringing the flowers over from the Methodist Church; Mina Dowdy for making a large number of pillows for the Center, and she also brought over some pop corn; Ruth Dorris handed me a cash donation from Mrs. Maurine Kirchner who lives in Montana; this gift was made in memory of Lonnie's father and it was requested that it go into the Activities Fund; also, Winnie Harvey for a number of net scrubbers.

With so many fantastic people I am not a bit worried about taking off for my second week, August 18th!

C of C pet show on tap

The Annual Chamber of Commerce Pet Show will be held August 23, in the downtown park. The show is for children under 12 years of age.

Trophies will be given for the prettiest, ugliest, best dressed and most unusual.

Eye injuries occur around the home

"42 percent of all eye injuries occur around the home," says Clymer L. Wright, Jr., president of the Texas Society. "Almost a million Americans today suffer from eye injuries that occurred while they engaged in ordinary, every day activities like mowing a lawn, or playing racquet ball or even cleaning out the kitchen stove."

"Eye injury is, next to cataracts, the most common cause of visual impairment in the United States. People must train themselves to remember that no matter what they are doing their eyes are always at stake. While accidents themselves can't always be prevented, 90 percent of the resulting injuries can be if proper precautions are taken." The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness lists these precautions in a new pamphlet "Eye Safety Is No Accident". It is filled with tips on how to avoid common eye hazards.

Ammonia, lye and other harsh chemicals found in household cleansers and garden sprays are particularly damaging to the eye, resulting in injury, burns, and even blindness, the pamphlet points out. Read package labels and instructions thoroughly before using such products. Many give specific directions, and ignoring them can result in accidents. Use special caution with pressurized spray cans. Be sure the spray nozzle is directed away from you. Spray cans make tempting toys, so be sure they stay well out of reach of children.

Wood chips, rocks, metal pieces and other particles thrown off by home maintenance tools like drills, welding equipment, and chain saws can also cause serious eye damage. Lawnmowers, frequently a cause of eye injuries, can hurl a stone into your eye or some unsuspecting bystander's. Keep young children away when you're mowing. For safety's sake, be sure that all tools and machinery are kept in good repair.

"The best protection against any eye hazard is safety eyewear," Wright stressed. Inexpensive goggles are usually obtainable in hardware stores or from suppliers of safety equipment, and can be worn with or without regular glasses.

More advice on protecting yourself and your family from everyday eye hazards--at home and in the garden as well as in sports--is offered in the Society's new folder. Write for a free copy of "Eye Safety Is No Accident."

THANK YOU!

Save energy. Save money.

Install a high efficiency Executive II central air conditioner by General Electric

The most efficient central air conditioner yet by General Electric. The secret's in the GE 2-speed Climatuff™ compressor. Runs at a low, energy-saving speed more than half the time. And automatically switches to high speed only when you need extra cooling. With a seasonal energy efficiency ratio from 9.8 to 11.5, based on Department of Energy test procedures.

Save more energy. Save more money.

Add a General Electric Hot Water Bank heat recovery unit to your central air conditioner.

Pay for energy once... use it twice. The Hot Water Bank heat recovery unit uses the heat your air conditioner draws from the home and recycles it to make hot water! Because the Hot Water Bank works from the air conditioner, you get double-duty. The GE Hot Water Bank heat recovery unit works with any hot water heater. It's compact — no larger than a briefcase — and it's UL listed.

Low cost hot water. While you get cool.

At the standard rated capacity of your air conditioner, a nominal three-ton cooling system with compressor running, will produce 15 gallons per hour of 140°F hot water (70°F water input).

Put your home on our low energy diet. Call me—your GE Climate Doctor—for details.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
By Jerry Lay

Here's one hard to believe, but it's true... There was a big league baseball team that was in last place as late as Aug. 30 one year--and yet they still won the pennant... The New York Mets were in last place on Aug. 30, 1973--but despite that, they, incredibly, won the pennant that season.

Did you know that the Sugar Ray Leonard-Roberto Duran fight in June turned out to be the richest one-day sports event in history?... Between the live gate and world-wide closed circuit television, the fight earned over 30-million dollars... Not even a Super Bowl or World Series, or any other fight, has ever grossed that much.

One of the most unusual lineups ever seen in a big league baseball game was the one San Francisco used one day in 1963... In leftfield was Felipe Alou... In centerfield was Matty Alou... And in rightfield was Jay Alou... That's the only time in major league history that 3 brothers played for the same team at the same time... And not only did the Alous play alongside each other in the outfield, but they also batted in succession in the batting order.

I bet you didn't know... L-B Motor Co. can do your mechanic work for you or have the parts for the do-it-yourself mechanic.
