Bailey To Grow 65,000 Bales

A prediction that Bailey County will grow 65,000 bales of cotton in 1952 was made Sunday by K. N. Klapp, of Anderson-Clayton Co., Lubbock, who placed South Plains production at 2,065,000.

A crop of the size indicated above would not be a record breaker for this county, which produced more than that in 1948. However, it is a lot of cotton, considering the conditions that prevailed during most of the planting season.

Klapp estimated there are now 140,000 acres of cotton growing in the county, 110,000 on dryland and 30,000 acres irrigated.

He predicted Lubbock County will grow 300,000 bales; Lamb 215,000; Hale 220,000; Castro 40,000; Cochran 25,000; Hockley 185,000; Parmer 30,000.

Mrs. Dalton died Tuesday morning after undergoing a heart operation at the All Saint's Hospital at Ft. Worth. Funeral services will be held at the Plainview Church of Christ and interment will be in Plainview.

Roundup Plans Swing Into High Gear

Kiddies' Parade To Move At 2:30 Friday, Second Day Of Roundup

The kiddies parade, scheduled for the second day of the Will Rogers Memorial Roundup, Friday, Aug. 15, will consist of three divisions, according to a decision of the women's committee making the arrangements. Mrs. Radie Boone is chairman of this committee and she is assisted by Mrs. Harold King, Mrs. Bill Connel, and Mrs. Wilma Gilbreath. The divisions are:

1. Pets.
 2. Bicycles or wheels.
 3. Nursery Rhyme.
- There will be prizes for the four outstanding entries in the three divisions, the ladies said. Each contestant is required to have the theme of their entry printed on their back, showing what they represent. The contestant's mother will see to that, and upon arrival at the rendezvous point they will be given a number.

This rule is absolutely essential for the convenience of the judges.

1,000 New Seats

One thousand additional seats will be in readiness in the Muleshoe Roping Club Arena when the big rodeo of the Will Rogers Memorial Roundup opens for a three night stand here the night of Thursday, August 14. This was announced today by officials of the club, which is having the seats built.

ROUNDUP PARADE IS OPEN TO EVERYBODY!

There is no obligation in any way, financial or otherwise, in entering a float or any other unit in the big parade that will inaugurate the second annual Will Rogers Memorial Roundup in Muleshoe August 14 at 4 p. m.

A firm, club, organization, or individual may enter one unit or more than one unit and no money is involved. There is not even any restrictions as to the sort of entry one may have.

On the other hand, there are money prizes and other prizes to be won by the person or firm or club which enters an outstanding unit for the parade, advertised as "The Biggest Parade in West Texas."

Swimming Pool Shows A Profit

The city treasury and the people of Muleshoe are profiting from the operation of the Municipal Swimming Pool, now in its third season, according to a report of city officials, who view with pride the record made by the city owned recreation facility.

More than a thousand dollars has been netted this year from the pool. Through July 31, receipts at the pool were $2,250.72, and expenses have been $1,093.60, leaving a nice profit balance. The pool more than clears enough money each year to retire the bonds, leaving the city treasury with money to apply to needed improvements, such as the recent street topping project.

The pool paid off its very first year. Receipts in 1950 were $3,081.53 and expenses were $1,485.29.

In 1951 there was a nice profit also. The receipts for the season were $2,918, and expenses totaled $1,817.36. Itemized as follows: pool manager's wages $886.83; electricity, $124.20; insurance, $150; chemical supplies, $448.81; supplies and expenses, $227.52.

Several clubs from surrounding towns have visited the Muleshoe pool and have been very complimentary, saying it was one of the nicest in this part of the country. Several have asked for plans and specifications. The city council has plans for further improvements and will always welcome suggestions of the people, as they want everyone to be proud of their swimming pool.

Electric Co-op Receives Big Loan For Expansion of Service

"The Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association, better known as the REA Coop, has received notice that a loan of $1,050,000.00 has been made for building transmission line, building substations, and extending service to more than 200 irrigation wells and 6 cotton gins in Bailey, Parmer, Castro, Lamb and Cochran Counties," D. B. Lancaster, Manager of the Cooperative, announced.

"The loan was made by the Government through the Rural Electrification Administration for a period of thirty-five (35) years with two percent (2%) interest which will be repaid by money received from electric bills," Lancaster said. He went on to say that so far the Cooperative had borrowed $2,434,000 previous to this loan and that all interest and principal had been paid up to date with a reserve for maintenance and breaks due to storms.

Lancaster stated, "The Cooperative is sound financially and locally controlled by people that are elected by members or users of electric service".

The manager indicated that when the proposed lines, and the lines now under construction, were completed there would be eight substations in different communities which would make power available for any size irrigation wells, gins, and other uses. A high voltage line will extend from Muleshoe to Morton with substations at Needmore, Enochs, Maple and Morton. Other substations will be located east and west of Muleshoe.

"Construction will start on new lines as fast as materials are available and the wells are ready," the manager stated.

TB and the X-Ray Bus

Time was when the TB victim innocently walked the streets of his town undetected—and undetectable.

For who had the millionaire's pocketbook to pay for examining a whole town of a thousand people to sieve out one possible victim?

Now comes the x-ray bus, able to be TB detective for whole cities, for a few pennies a person. Millions of people now have their TB worries erased when the doctor says "Okay."

How long did it take to get the x-ray bus? Well, for its part, General Electric had been working on x rays for 57 years. Costs of diagnosis have come down by better and better equipment. No year passes without some new development. So this was another big chapter in a long book of events.

Notice the nice way these buses get into service. They are usually purchased by voluntary contributions of plain people trying to get a job done.

It is always hard to write a definition of the "American Way." But this hand-in-hand achievement of state and national health associations, General Electric, and the local communities comes close to being a perfect example.

You can put your confidence in—

Soil Conservation Field Operations Streamlined To Assist Farmers

A streamlining of field operations to attain greater efficiency in helping farmers and ranchers has been announced by Paul H. Walser, state conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service of Texas.

Under the realignment, now being put into effect throughout the state, the position of "district conservationist" is eliminated and a new position of "area conservationist" is set up.

"In place of the 57 district conservationists that we have had in the state, we will have 25 area conservationists," Walser explained, pointing out that the term "district conservationist" was often associated by the public with soil conservation districts which are independent subdivisions of state government.

Before the streamlining plan was put into effect, Soil Conservation Service officials consulted with boards of supervisors, the local farmers or ranchers who run the affairs of the soil conservation districts. The supervisors expressed general satisfaction with the plan.

"The area conservationists will be responsible for supervising Service personnel within their areas and will act as production managers," Walser said. "It will be their job to work full time on increasing application of conservation on the land. They have been relieved of the relations work that has been carried on by the district conservationists with the boards of supervisors of the soil conservation district and others helping with the conservation program."

Work unit conservationists, who are more familiar with local problems, will be the service representatives in working with the boards of supervisors, though their main job will still be to help farmers and ranchers with their conservation programs.

That's a logical step, Walser pointed out, because the work unit conservationists are already in close touch with the district supervisors and other agencies and organizations giving assistance to the districts. District conservationists have been put in positions where they will work more directly with farmers and ranchers than in their former jobs.

The realignment plan, which is being carried out on a national scale, is in keeping with the Soil Conservation Service policy of periodically analyzing its organization and when possible increasing its assistance to farmers and ranchers in soil conservation districts, Walser explained.

The present change, he added, has been made possible and desirable by these factors: (1) the experience attained by soil conservation district supervisors, which has enabled them to assume greater responsibilities in their districts; and (2) the progress made in the application of soil conservation on the land which has created greater demand for assistance at local levels.

Old Age Benefits To Be Increased In October

All persons receiving Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind will get a $5.00 increase in their grants beginning in October, according to Blanche Dodgen, Field Worker, for the State Department of Public Welfare. Exceptions will be those who are receiving both Old Age Assistance and Old Age and Survivors Insurance, since the automatic increase will be received by them through Social Security. A lesser increase will be available for youngsters who are receiving Aid to Dependent Children.

This increase in grants is provided for by recent Congressional Legislation which raised the federal contribution $5.00 beginning in October. This now makes a maximum grant of $55.00 instead of $50.00 available for Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind. Naturally, this does not mean that everyone will receive the maximum grant of $55.00 any more than they are now receiving the maximum grant of $50.00. The amount of each grant is determined by the basic recognized needs of the individual less his income and varies according to the individual situation. It simply means that beginning in October no grant can go higher than $55.00 instead of $50.00.

To assure that each eligible person on Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind rolls gets the full amount of the increase the first month it is available, John H. Winters, Executive Director of the Welfare Department, has ordered that checks beginning in October be written for $5.00 more than the amount authorized on that date.

Field Worker, Blanche Dodgen explained that since these increases are to be automatically taken care of in Austin, it will not be necessary to get in touch with the local or Austin office of the State Welfare Department. For Results Try The Journal Want-Ads. PAPER & OFFICE Supplies at the Journal.

Busy Days At Shoestring Ranch

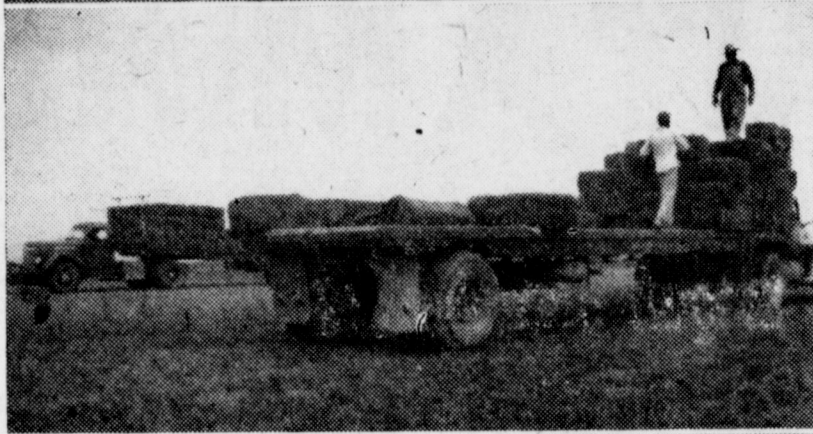

"Prof" F. L. Shelby takes a breather while drivers of the pick-up balers grease their machines. The white shirted individual in the foreground is J. M. Forbes, editor of The Journal. Black Angus steers in the background do not belong to Shoestring Ranch. They were driven into that position by Prof. Shelby, to build up his credit rating. They belong to Allison Bros.

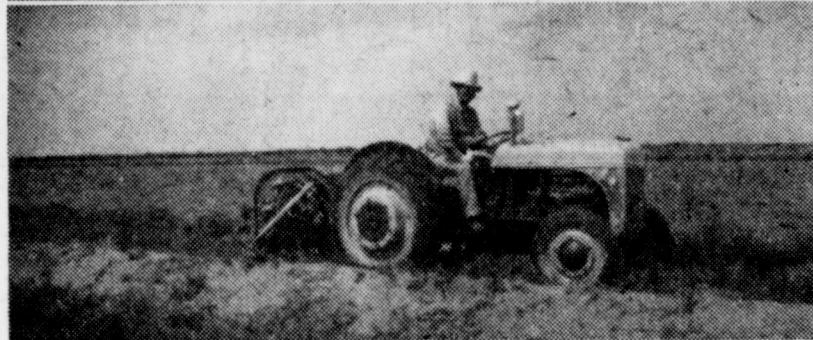

Here Clyde Bray, Muleshoe realtor who made all these pictures, got a shot of a side delivery rake rig in the foreground with two pick-up balers to the rear. The balers were keeping pretty well up with the rakes.

Two huge trucks were loading up from the field the day these pictures were made. Shoestring Ranch has been loading hay out for San Angelo, San Antonio, and other distant points. They also sell much hay to the Muleshoe plant of the National Dehydrating & Milling Co.

Here the old maestro himself, "Prof" F. L. Shelby, guiding genius of Shoestring, pauses in his work of operating a side delivery rake outfit to have his picture struck. Two such rigs were barely keeping ahead of the balers, so Mr. Shelby paused only a moment.

Lots of Work On Big Muleshoe Alfalfa Farm

"The man who puts a seed into the ground enters into partnership with God."

Several years ago, this writer heard "Prof" F. L. Shelby, major domo of "Shoestring Ranch", the biggest alfalfa operator in these parts, agriculture instructor, civic worker, and in demand as a master of ceremonies, make this statement before a civic club gathering.

"Prof." has put a seed into the ground, and apparently the partnership has worked.

From an unambitious start, the ranch now has grown to 440 acres of alfalfa "You eat, think, and dream alfalfa for 6 months," Mr. Shelby says, "then you catch up on your sleep in the next six months."

Lying ready for seeding is another tract of 160 acres to be added to "Shoestring Ranch" jurisdiction. That will give Mr. Shelby and his partner, Mr. Kingery, of Oklahoma, an even 600 acres of alfalfa. Forty acres more would give these men an even section of land. "Prof." says they will stack hay on the other 40.

On the farm is a hay barn, not shown in the accompanying pictures, which will store some 40,000 bales of hay. From the four corners come the trucks to haul the hay to livestock over Texas and the Southwest. Some of these trucks, as shown here, load up from the field; others load from the big hay shed.

Mr. Shelby taught school for 25 years before deciding to start out to demonstrate in agriculture some of the things he had been teaching his pupils. He has taught agriculture to veterans since moving here, and Mrs. Shelby has taught in the Muleshoe schools.

When these pictures were taken, the second cutting was being processed. It was yielding about 1 1/2 tons per acre and probably they will, with four cuttings, maybe five, average around 5 tons of hay per acre. On the day when the writer visited the farm, hay was selling at $35 per ton, on the farm.

All these pictures were taken by Clyde Bray, Muleshoe realtor, who was accompanied by J. M. Forbes, editor of The Journal.

The quarter section being harvested that day was so level and so uniform, that it appears Mr. Shelby must have carved it out of a section, taking care to avoid lakes or other blemishes. Some of the land the partnership owns, some of it they lease. All of it is intensely cultivated, irrigated,

Muleshoe Wins Roping Contest

Muleshoe Roping Club won a four way roping contest held in Clovis Sunday afternoon. Teams participating were from Muleshoe, Clovis, San Jon, and Tiaban.

The eight Muleshoe team members were Mitz Walling, Johnnie Hand, Gene Lowe, Don Bryant, Ikie Bayless, Kenneth Rriscoe, Tiny Lewis, and Everett Horner.

Each man had two calves to rope. Muleshoe's ropers got 16 calves tied up in a total of 458.4 seconds.

Clovis won second place in 469.7 seconds; Tiaban's team was third with 520.2 seconds and San Jon's team was low with 635.4 elapsed seconds.

HERE FROM DALLAS

Mrs. Louis Stanfield and small daughter, Debra, of Dallas are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gatewood and family.

It takes money to get an operation of this category going. How would you like to put $12.50 per acre of fertilizer on 440 acres of ground? How would you like to furnish money to run five irrigation wells incessantly, day in, night out?

And it takes equipment. In accompanying photographs are shown items of equipment that total in cost more than $12,000. Consider, also, that it costs about $20 per acre to level and prepare the land and get it seeded and the alfalfa up to a stand.

Shoestring Ranch sells some of the hay to the Muleshoe alfalfa mill, a plant of the National Alfalfa Dehydrating and Milling Co., according to whether it would pay to bale or to sell the hay to the mill, which comes into the field, takes the hay and eliminates all work on the part of the owner.

Farm Lease Rules Need Revision

Tenant operations are still an important part of Texas agriculture. Some 30 per cent of all Texas farms are operated by tenants. Like most other farming practices, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, many leasing arrangements are out of date. He points out that lease arrangements set up for cash crop systems of farming do not fit the situations brought about by the shifts to livestock production. Therefore, new rental agreements are needed between the tenants and landlords that clearly define the part each is to play in this

Cotton Support Price To Average 30.91 per Pound

The government's price support for cotton produced this year will average 30.91 cents a pound, the Agriculture Department announced yesterday.

The support price is based on the Aug. 1 parity price of 34.3 cents a pound for middling 7-8 inch upland cotton.

The department previously had announced that cotton would be supported at 90 per cent of parity, the price designed to give the farmer a fair return for what he sells in relation to what he has to buy.

Last year, the average support price for middling 7-8 inch cotton was 30.46 cents a pound.

The 1952 average rate for middling 15-16 inch cotton will be 31.96 cents a pound. The rate will vary according to location, ranging from 31.16 cents in Arizona and California to 32.94 cents in the mill area of the Carolinas.

Premiums and discounts for various grade and staple length combinations will be calculated on the basis of the rate on middling 15-16 inch cotton.

livestock system of farming. During the past several years farm management specialists from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, have been studying the existing rental arrangements and seeking possible solutions to tenure problems. The economists have found that both tenants and landlords improve their lot when leases are used that really cover present day farming and livestock production. The use of up to date leasing arrangements meant more income to both tenants and landowners as well as better soil maintenance and improvement programs.

The latest findings of the co-operating economists are reported in the publication "Rental Arrangements for Progressive Farming" which is available at your local county agent's office. Other material on the subject of rental agreements, prepared by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service, are also available.

Bates says the specialists, through studies and actual experience, have come to the conclusion that a good rental agreement should always be written. It should cover more than a single year or contain an automatic renewal clause. It should specify how the expenses, upkeep and labor as well as income are to be shared. It should encourage the tenant to produce livestock as well as crops wherever possible and profitable. Finally the lease should provide for permanent improvements on the land and in the home.

Bates believes the use of rental agreements are operated by tenants, above items will improve landlord-tenant relations and add stability to the agricultural economy in the areas where farms are operated by tenants.

Get Children Ready For School

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 — Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the parents of all children who will respond to the school bell for the first time in September to be sure the child is physically ready for school duties.

"First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year of age; however if not done previously, at school age vaccination becomes absolutely necessary," Dr. Cox said. "If your child has not been vaccinated, have it done immediately for his own protection and that of others."

Immunization against diphtheria is also highly important, Dr. Cox declares. This disease which causes serious illness and deaths among young children can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been protected should be given this safeguard against a dreaded killing disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into schools.

"In addition, before you send your child to school you are urged to take him to your family physician and dentist for a thorough examination," Dr. Cox adds. "You will want to know that he is in good physical condition and can compete with the other children on equal terms. If the check-up reveals any weakness or defects they should be corrected at once. Don't let your child start his school life with any avoidable handicap."

STATE CONTROL IN AGRICULTURAL ARGENTINE

A government corporation was formed to purchase all farm products at fixed prices far below either world prices and what domestic prices would have been in a free market. As a result, one of the principal grain and beef producing nations of the world is now considering importing wheat to meet domestic needs and has instituted meatless days for its people, with restaurants serving fish and poultry primarily.

With exportable surpluses of meat and grain gone, foreign exchange reserves are at such dangerously low levels that even the new factories cannot get needed raw materials and machinery. President Peron has recently called for austerity within Argentina and has instituted drastic measures to increase agricultural production—a retreat from his state planning goals. It remains to be seen whether these measures will avert an economic breakdown. But it is interesting to see the same old story unfolding again—in 6 short years government controls and planning have brought a rich nation to the brink of disaster.

BABSON DISCUSSES

Politics

Babson Park, Mass., August 1—The Republican Party in its Convention at Chicago selected its candidate for President of the United States. The Democratic Party in its Convention also at Chicago has selected its candidate for President. The candidates of either party will not be acceptable to millions of voters. The National election that will be held on November 4, 1952, will select one of the candidates to be President of the United States. The President elected will not be the choice of millions of voters—BUT!

CO-OPERATION NOW VITALLY NECESSARY

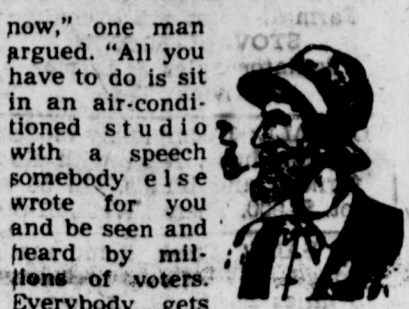

After the majority of the voters have elected the man to be President, the CO-OPERATION of

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER

Tells The Two Candidates Television, Radio Hasn't Replaced Handshake

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has some advice for the Presidential candidates this week, although we don't recall anybody's asking for it. Dear editor:

A bunch of us was sittin' around out here the other day discussin' politics and how the radio and television have changed campaign methods. "Campaignin is a lot easier now," one man argued. "All you have to do is sit in an air-conditioned studio with a speech somebody else wrote for you and be seen and heard by millions of voters. Everybody gets to see what you look like. Can't fool the public any more."

"T. A."

I do not exactly look at it this way, that is, I got confidence in some candidates' ability to fool the public regardless of how much progress science makes, but I also got confidence in the public's ability to fool the candidates, and it's for that reason candidates shouldn't put all their faith in reachin' the people over radio and television.

For example, we can see Washington on television, but Washington can't see us. I know what Eisenhower and Stevenson look like, but they don't know what I look like. It's one thing for the public to size the candidate up, but I suppose it's sort of important for the candidates to size the public up.

Television is fine for lettin' the candidates reach the public but it ain't worth a darn for lettin' the public reach the candidates, and any candidate who doesn't know it and depends exclusively on campaignin from a studio is liable to run an excellent race and not wilt any collars but wind up short on votes.

I have never understood it myself, but science with all its insweep of progress ain't never been able to replace the handshake when it comes to gettin' elected to public office. My advice on both the Presidential candidates is to not spend all their money on radio and television time, better hold back a little for travelin' around the country feelin' the public pulse. There ain't nothin' that beats knowin' what the people are thinkin'. Microphones and television cameras ain't been given the vote yet.

NEED OF RELIGION

Our progress and growth in this life is bounded on all sides by something. On the north, we are bounded by the Multiplication Table, to make us exact as to facts. On the east, we are bounded by the Ten Commandments to guide us into paths of righteousness. On the south, we are bounded by the Law of Gravity, that keeps our feet on the ground; and on the west we are bounded by the setting sun that marks the limits of our day. But the field of co-operation is unbounded. If we carry on obedient to the laws of God and Man, we will enjoy that freedom which comes with the Brotherhood of Man.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 20

Proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 61 to authorize cities, towns, and villages of this State to provide insurance for employees; providing for the submission of the proposed Amendment to the qualified electorate; and providing for proclamation and publication by the Governor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 61 to read as follows: "Sec. 61. The Legislature shall have the power to enact laws to enable cities, towns, and villages of this State to provide Workmen's Compensation Insurance, including the right to provide their own insurance risk for all employees; and the Legislature shall provide suitable laws for the administration of such insurance in the said municipalities and for payment of the costs, charges, and premiums on policies of insurance and the benefits to be paid thereunder."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electorate of the State at the General Election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1952, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon (or in counties using voting machines the said machines shall provide for) the following: "FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages"; and "AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages."

Each voter shall mark out one (1) of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one (1) expressing his vote on the proposed Amendment; and if it shall appear from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for aid election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

NO CROSS, NO CROWN

Now come, I will send thee into Egypt. (Acts 7:34.) Read Acts 7:30-36. Stephen was pointing out new values in old facts. That did not set well with his hearers. It seldom does! Among others, he mentioned Moses, to whom, in the wilderness mountain, the Lord's angel appeared in a flame of fire in a bush. Moses was astonished. By getting close he expected to see better. What happened was better than that. When he came close, God's voice came clear. He heard the best! His curiosity was rewarded with God's revelation of Himself and His will for Moses—"Now come, I will send thee into Egypt." We tend to run in grooves, or we settle down when we ought to be on the go! We do not attempt to find new meanings in our familiar ways. We do not set out to see God's sights! There are fields white unto harvest which we never see. It is true, that real living takes time. It also takes trouble. We can obtain bondage through ease. Liberty requires strenuous vigilance and struggle. So does growth in Christlikeness. No cross, no crown.

Defoliating Proves Successful If Proper Timing Is Given Operation

The ever increasing use of machines for harvesting cotton have also increased the use of chemicals as plant defoliants. Defoliating the cotton plant, says Fred C. Elliott, cotton work specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is a practice, when properly carried out, will materially improve the machine harvesting job.

Here are Elliott's suggestions on doing a successful job. The timing of the application of the defoliant is very important. In order to get maximum staple length development and yield, Elliott says the defoliant should be applied no sooner than 35 days after the period of maximum blooming. Another way to time the application is to wait 20 days after the cotton has quit making or when the youngest bolls are 30 days old. This condition will exist in most fields when about 10 per cent of the bolls are open. The defoliant should be applied from ten days to two weeks prior to intended picking dates in Central and South Texas and from two to three weeks on the High Plains.

Moisture Required

When calcium cyanide is used as a dust, the plants must be wet with dew or when adequate dew is forecast. The chemical to be most effective must remain in moisture on the leaf for at least two hours but four or more hours of moist exposure are preferred. Monosodium cyanamide does not depend on dew for activation but takes the needed moisture from the air or from the leaf. The leaves, however, should be green and not wilted, says Elliott.

Spray defoliants may be used in the absence of dew and when humidity is low; however, the specialist emphasizes that the plant must be thoroughly covered with the material. If an airplane is used for applying the defoliant, a flagman should always be used. Fenders should be used on ground equipment in rank cotton.

Elliott points out that a better defoliation job is obtained when

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE PLANS RALLY FOR SUNDAY

The Church of the Nazarene is planning a home coming Sunday School Rally Day for Sunday, Aug. 10. A large crowd is expected for this event.

All who have attended Sunday School at the Church of the Nazarene and all who are interested are invited to attend. Rev. Patrick, pastor, and Mack Hale, Sunday School superintendent, are cooperating with the church to make this a successful meeting. The installation of officers will be held the following Sunday.

VACATIONING IN COLORADO

the cotton is mature, leaves not wilted nor toughened by drought or starved by a lack of soil fertility, when plant moisture is adequate and the weather is warm and humid. He emphasizes the importance of using weather forecasts as an aid when defoliants are being applied.

Defoliate only enough acreage to stay ahead of the picking, says Elliott and he warns against using any defoliant that is not labeled as to its exact chemical content. Using chemicals as defoliants which have not been tested may injure the open fiber, the unopened bolls or worst of all may cause fire hazards at the gin.

One final caution, Elliott says before making application, thoroughly clean the spray tanks, pumps, lines and nozzles to remove residues left in the equipment by liquid insecticides. The spray machines should be flushed with water after each day's operation.

Elliott suggests to cotton producers interested in obtaining more information on the subject that they contact their local county agricultural agent and ask for a copy of L-145, "Cotton Defoliation Guide in Texas". The leaflet has only recently been released and contains the latest recommendations covering the use of many defoliants.

O. E. S. Gives Memorial Program

The Muleshoe O. E. S. Chapter No. 792 met in regular session Tuesday evening, August 5, at 8 p. m. in the Masonic Hall, with Mrs. Viola Layne, worthy matron presiding.

At the conclusion of the business session a double program was given; a Robert Morris program, founder of the Order of Eastern Star birthday, and a Memorial program for Eastern Star members of Texas who have passed to their reward during the year.

Mrs. Winnie Dunn gave the life story of Robert Morris. Prayer by Mrs. Lela Barron, and a reading by Mrs. Beth White "We Meet Upon the Level and Part Upon the Square", was then given.

A very impressive memorial program was given. The extra drill team led by the conductress, Billie Mathis, and associate conductress, Lola Bray, formed a circle around the altar and paid tribute to those who had departed this life during the year.

The star points Josephine Wood, Anna Lucy McAdams, Bertha Johnson, Beth White and Mildred Wingo, each paid their tribute and placed flowers upon the altar.

Visitors present were Mrs. Evelyn Marse, a Past Matron of Erie Star, Camdenton, Mo.; Mrs. C. A. Grimley of Morton Chapter; and Mrs. Opal Buchannan, a past matron of Bovina.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames Juarene Bovell, Dorothy Barron, Lela Barron, and Billie Snyder to thirty-five members and three visitors.

Bingham-Harvey Nuptials Are Read

The marriage of Miss Geletta Lutressia Bingham and Terry Lee Harvey, Jr., was solemnized Sunday, July 27, at 9 a. m. in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Fowler of Crosbyton. The bride groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Harvey of Muleshoe.

The double ring vows were read by Elder Jesse Bass, pastor of the Primitive Baptist Church of Crosbyton, before an archway of asters and greenery. Miss Maude Coffman of Baileyboro, niece of the groom, played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Fowler, wore a dress of white nylon sheer and lace designed with a high collar and self covered buttons extending to the waist of the semi-fitted bodice from the v-neck. The short sleeves were complemented by lace gauntlets worn over the hands. She carried a white Bible topped with a beautiful orchid.

Miss Christine Brints, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue sheer with metallic dots designed with a low sweetheart neckline with tiny pleated puff sleeves and a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Barbara Jean Harvey, sister of the bridegroom, with the use of sign language, translated the service. She chose a navy sheer, two piece dress with white sequin trim. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Woodrow Brints of Floydada was best man.

At the reception, the bride's table was covered with a white hand crocheted cloth and was enhanced by a three tiered wedding cake and service, with an arrangement of sweetpeas and candles completing the decor.

After a trip to Carlsbad, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are at home at Muleshoe where he is employed in farming.

"Christmas Fun" Theme of Fashion Clinic for Market Week

There will be an early Holiday season this year at the Dallas Market Week, August 17 to 22 when the American Fashion Association will present a promotional package entitled "Christmas Fun for Everyone" at the Midwinter and Holiday Breakfast Clinics on August 19 and 20. Over 1500 buyers are expected to attend the two fashion clinics to be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Adolphus Hotel, according to William Goldstein, president of the American Fashion Association.

A children's choir will provide appropriate Christmas music, and the gaily decorated background of store windows will add to the festive air. Seven promotional ideas, designed to help the small store owner, will be presented. Each theme will be illustrated by costumes from the midwinter lines, together with suggestions for promotion, advertising and window display.

Highlights of the program will be "Candlelight Giving," a lingerie sequence; "Fireside Gifts," a showing of holiday separates; "Christmas is for the Young," featuring children's fashions; and a suggested community service project for the small store.

The Fashion Clinic, which presents new and clever ideas for promoting, advertising, and selling merchandise, was initiated by the Dallas Fashion Arts, Inc., in cooperation with the American Fashion Association at the Dallas Market Week last May. It was enthusiastically received by all the merchants in attendance and promises to be a regular feature of the Dallas Market.

Designed for the festive holiday season, this lounging pajama set is made of nylon jersey with contrasting sleeves of sheer nylon tulle corded in jersey. These and many other specially designed garments will be seen in the American Fashion Association's Midwinter and Holiday market which will be held in Dallas, August 17-22.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The Lesson-Sermon titled "Spirit" to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday offers an answer to the problems of attaining world peace. It will be gained, points out the Lesson, as individuals accept their spiritual heritage of right thinking as sons of God and are obedient in daily living to the Father's commands.

"We are of God: Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit" (I John 4:6-13). This is the Golden Text included in the Lesson-Sermon.

The following Bible verse further discusses man's spiritual heritage: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but freely given to us of God" (I Cor. 2:12).

Mary Baker Eddy makes this statement in the Christian Science textbook (p. 89), "Spirit, God, is heard when the senses are silent." And an indication of how to find peace is given in these statements by the Founder of Christian Science: "The calm and exalted thought or spiritual apprehension is at peace. How much more should we seek to apprehend the spiritual ideas of God, than to dwell on the objects of sense!" (pp. 506, 510).

Patience is power; with time and patience the mulberry leaf becomes silk. —Chinese Proverb.

A PROUD NAME IN THE TELEPHONE INDUSTRY...

The name of Southwestern Associated Telephone Company was changed on August 1, 1952, to General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

This change is in line with that taken by other subsidiary operating companies of the General Telephone Corporation. It is designed to make the public aware that the General Telephone System is one organization, strong and growing.

As you know, the General Telephone System is the largest independent (non-Bell) telephone organization in the industry. The new name clearly distinguishes us from all other telephone companies and unites the General Telephone System more closely.

Here in the Southwest our Company serves more than 120,000 customers in the states of Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

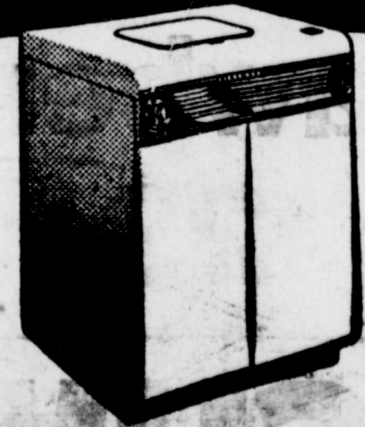

Very truly yours,
