Kitty's Korner

by
Kitty Montgomery

This time last week we were anxiously awaiting the arrival of our first grandbaby. We managed to get the paper out early, in spite of machine trouble, and made a mad dash for San Angelo. This was on Tuesday, mind you, and sure enough our little granddaughter arrived after the deadline at 6:10 p.m.

Since then, we have made three trips to see her and she really does get prettier every day. We are trying to get off early again today. She is at home and for the first time we get to hold her, rather than look at her through the nursery window.

Anyone who has never sat in the waiting room of a hospital nursery really should try it sometime. It's amazing the sights you see and hear. Both families (the father's and the mother's) are usually on hand to get the first glimpse of the new baby. When the nurse brings the new arrival around the corner, reaction ranges from cheers and cries of "Ole" to tears and sobs. I just felt a great relief and checked to see that she had everything she was supposed to have.

To me, all new babies look alike, and ours was no exception except for the shock of black hair covering her little head. I have never seen a pretty new baby. However, while we were sitting there the next day a family rushed to the window to see their new arrival and they were all exclaiming about the baby's great beauty. They took on so vocally and for such an extended time, I got up to look at the little thing. I was surprised to see another little red, wrinkled new baby who looked like all the rest at birth. That just goes to show you, "beauty is in the eye of the beholder."

Meanwhile, back here at the newspaper, we are having our usual deadline blues. The virus which struck the schools Monday in epidemic proportions, hit our production department Tuesday and Janet Stuart took to her sick bed. That just leaves Willa and me, and Tom to do the bossing.

We understand up to 90 children were out with the illness at Ozona Primary School by Monday afternoon. We heard 60 were out at Ozona Intermediate and several came down with the flu-like illness at the Day Care Center. Apparently it is a short term illness, since some children returned to school Tuesday. However, it might be a good idea for mothers of young children and babies to stay away from public gatherings and keep children in as much as possible.

Graveside services for Homer L. Schwalbe, 89, were held this morning in Cedar Hill Cemetery. Mr. Schwalbe died Saturday in Retama Manor Nursing Home in Del Rio.

He was born in Ozona Jan. 22, 1894, the son of Fayette and Jenny Schwalbe, Crockett County pioneers.

Survivors include two brothers, Lowell Schwalbe of Del Rio, and LaVern Schwalbe of Long Beach, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Ella May Schramm of Fort Worth, Mrs. Bill Hughes of Albuquerque, N.M., and Mrs. Jenny Vee Wallace of Long Beach, Calif. and numerous nieces and nephews.

Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet set

The Ozona Chamber of Commerce will hold its Annual Banquet on Thursday evening, January 26, at the Crockett County Civic Center. Dinner will be served beginning at 6:30-6:45 p.m. and will be catered by the Circle Bar Truck Corral.

This year's speaker for the event will be Dr. William J. (Bill) Teague, current President of Abilene Christian University. Dr. Teague has achieved many years of experience in business and education having successfully combined careers in both of these major areas. He has served as an executive officer of two Fortune 500 corporations and three universities. He currently serves on several boards of financial and health-care organizations.

The Annual Chamber of Commerce banquet traditionally kicks-off the year for all of the Chamber's activities which range from community development, fund-raising projects, assistance to the business community, and in general, just making Ozona a better place to live. Tickets are priced at $10.00 per person and are available at the Chamber office (Beth Boyd), the Ozona National Bank (Frank White) or the Crockett County National Bank (Stan Lambert).

New directors for the chamber of commerce were elected by ballot of the membership and the votes were tabulated last week. Coming onto the board are David Young, manager of KRCT; Brock Jones Jr., local attorney and rancher; Garland Davis, superintendent of schools; Fred Deaton, a partner in Ozona Butane, and Sandra Childress, local photography studio owner.

Holdover directors are Steve Sessom, past president; Peggy Crider, Jack Baggett Jr., Ronald Shaw, Johnny Childress, Gene Lilly, Stan Lambert and Frank White. Chemical People meet to target drug abuse

Twenty-five representatives of some 17 civic organizations, law enforcement, school, media, and parents met to discuss possible drug and alcohol abuse programs at the Civic Center, January 12. Mr. Garland Davis, Superintendent of Schools, moderated the evening's discussion. Programs presented by the group included: Chemical Awareness Fair, War on Drugs Speakers, Amarillo Student Group, Poster Contests, Adult-Parent Trainings, Pamphlets-Awareness and Publicity, San Angelo Police Department, organizing a Youth Group, Palmer Drug Abuse Program, Prisoner Program, Shared Experience (especially with alcoholics anonymous), and communicating with the family.

The group decided that the first target group would be the youth in the community. Three committees were selected to set dates, advertise, contact resources and determine goals for each specific committee area. The Shared Experiences, Pamphlets, and Poster Contest Committee Chairman is Joyce Young. Committee members include: Ralph Anderson, Jerry Lay, Pete Maldonado, Judy Probst, and Charlotte Williams.

Chairman of the Communicating With the Family Committee is Ralph Anderson. Members include Don Abbott, Cathy Carson, Pete Maldonado and Roylan Sullivan. re-elected to several terms in his office.

Raymond Davee, who was appointed to serve as justice of the peace when Judge Fields received his appointment, will have to run for that unexpired term, however, he has yet to file with the Democratic chairman.

The office of District Attorney will also be on the ballot. Incumbent D.A. Bill Mason has filed for another term with the state Democratic chairman.

School Board in monthly meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Crockett County Board of Trustees was held Wednesday, January 11, in the administration building of Ozona Public Schools. The meeting was called to order at 7:45 p.m. by President Joe Couch, and minutes of the December 14 and January 4 meetings were read and approved, as well as the general fund and accounts payable.

The members approved a two-year extension of Superintendent Garland Davis' present contract, and they also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Jan Henderson, Ozona High School English and journalism teacher. The board gave formal approval for the hiring of Mrs. Jacquelyn Shacklette to fill Mrs. Henderson's position.

The resignation of Mrs. Sherrie Lloyd, resource room aide in Ozona High School, was accepted by the board, and Mrs. Catalina Pena was hired for that position.

Board approval was also given for the addition of Mrs. Tina Bean, Mrs. Karen Bishop, and Mrs. Melanie Parker to the Ozona substitute teacher list.

Superintendent Garland Davis announced that there will be a one-week delay in the receiving and awarding of bids on the Ozona Junior High Renovation Project. He explained that this was done in order to allow bidders additional time to submit more accurate bids for the project. Receiving of bids is now scheduled for 6:00 p.m. Wednesday, January 18, and the awarding of bids will follow at approximately 8:30 p.m.

The meeting was adjourned after additional reports were made by Mr. Davis on school property, real estate, and December cash receipts.

Incentive payment deadline

Ranchers who have sold wool, mohair or unshorn lambs and have not filed for incentive payments are urged to do so. The deadline for turning in sales for 1983 is January 31, 1984.

Ranchers who have a record of their wool and mohair sales are eligible for incentive payments only if the sales are reported to the ASCS office. Sales slips should contain the month of shearing, month of sale, number of head shorn, pounds of wool or mohair sold and net proceeds. Sales slips for lambs must show the liveweight and state that the lambs were unshorn.

The federal support price for 1983 shorn wool marketings is $1.53 per pound and $4.63 per pound for mohair. Pooled wool will continue to be supported at a level comparable to the support price for shorn wool through payments on unshorn lambs.

NEW ARRIVAL FROM TIBET-This llama is the latest addition to David Weant's exotic animal business. It created quite a stir last week as David took him for a walk around the park.

HAPPY NEW YEAR, GEORGE ORWELL

By Edwin Feulner

At last, 1984 is finally upon us. It is a date of peculiar significance, because it has come to mean something entirely different from a mere point in time. As a result of George Orwell's classic novel 1984, it has come to signify the ultimate triumph of totalitarianism.

So, even though it's 1984, a lot of people are asking if we have reached The 1984. And there, the verdict is still out.

Writing in the current issue of READER'S DIGEST, author Norman Podhoretz argues that those who seek comparisons between the America of today and Orwell's hypothetical Oceania are themselves practicing the twisted logic of Big Brother.

"In Orwell's Oceania, not even strict obedience to Big Brother is enough; everyone is also required to love him," Podhoretz writes. "In the America of 1984, by contrast, there seems to be no limit to the opposition that can be mounted against the President or the government."

But, Podhoretz notes, the way in which Orwell's novel is interpreted by today's left-wing intellectuals, abetted by the news media, could foster the growth of Big Brotherism.

He cites a television documentary hosted by CBS' Walter Cronkite, which compared the constant re-writing of history in the Soviet Union with the periodic revision of textbooks in the United States. How ridiculous, Podhoretz says, to compare the Soviet Union's practice of distorting the facts to fit the current party line with Western scholarship, which seeks to bring us closer to the truth.

Indeed, the inability to recognize totalitarianism in today's world seems to be the most ominous indicator of our times.

It seems odd that the world community often regards our nation, still the most consistent defender of freedom in the world, as the villain in a global morality play between good and evil. Communist insurgencies, which seek to kill and enslave, are enshrined at the United Nations as "national liberation movements." The Soviet Union, which economically and socially has fallen far behind the Russia of 1914, is credited as "progressive."

And, as Podhoretz reminds us, Western intellectuals so often are the purveyors of this "newspeak."

Clearly, we in the West are headed for the fate of Big Brotherism if we allow ourselves to be deluded into believing that the distinction between our society and Marxist totalitarianism is only a fine one.

That's why it's so frightening to hear the teacher of an adult education class enthusiastically reporting that few students to whom he assigns 1984 give "the kind of full-blown anti-Communist reading that was so common in the 1950s and 1960s."

"George Orwell was prophetic about many things," Podhoretz says, "but he neither anticipated nor could have imagined this use of his own work to blur the essential distinction between the democratic and Communist worlds."

'GET SERIOUS!'

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—At the end of last week, state officials were narrowing their search for a new firm to operate 53 state oil wells surrendered by Mobil Oil, Corp. in a giant lawsuit settlement.

Other major events at the Capitol included:
—The Speaker and a key House chairman indicated a new tax hike to support teacher pay raises may be forthcoming.

—The district attorney prosecuting Attorney General Jim Mattox delayed the pretrial hearings to correct the indictment of "commercial bribery," a felony offense.

—A special audit team reported that about $1.8 million in Texas Department of Corrections inventory is missing, and.

—A House ethics committee publicly admonished a Houston lawmaker and then closed its probe of improper conduct after he repaid the state $2,000 for possible illegal expenses.

More Invalid Leases?

A group of Miami investors made an offer to take over oil and gas leases on 42,000 acres of land in South Texas after Shearson/American Express withdrew its offer.

The alleged failure of Mobil Oil to fulfill drilling requirements on the state lease resulted in the state taking back the leases and searching for a new operator.

Last week Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who led the negotiations, told reporters that a systematic audit by his office has uncovered more than 25 additional leases which may be invalid.

Settlements in those cases would lead to the recovery of hundreds of millions of dollars for the state, he said. The revenues are dedicated to the public schools of Texas.

Meanwhile, Texas Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple questioned Mauro's predictions that the 53 oil wells would generate an additional $100 million for the state, indicating his calculation came to about half that figure. Temple based his estimate on 1983 production, Mauro based his on reserves.

New Taxes?

Gov. Mark White has promised new taxes to raise teachers salaries, and new statements from House Speaker Gib Lewis and the tax committee chairman Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killen, indicates he might get his way.

Schlueter, whose committee stopped the tax bill from reaching the House floor for debate, said last week that unless the economy turns around and fills state coffers, taxpayers will probably see a tax hike by spring.

Later, Lewis said any new taxes for teachers salaries should be temporary and should "self-destruct" when the economy improves.

Schlueter and Comptroller Bob Bullock questioned a temporary tax, but Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said it should be seriously considered.

Corrected Indictment

Prosecutors said last week they may have to seek a new indictment against Mattox because of technical problems with the charge of commercial bribery now leveled on him.

The indictment accuses Mattox of threatening to use his office to drive a Houston law firm out of the bond business.

A re-indictment will have to go before a different grand jury from the one which originally charged Mattox, and if grand jurors choose not to re-indict him, Mattox will go free.

Strake Seeks Probe

Texas Republican Party chairman George Strake called again for an investigation of whether Mattox illegally used state employees to raise money for his legal defense.

Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle said his office will investigate the published reports of such illegal activity, but that first he would concentrate his efforts on a new indictment.

Prison Audit

The special audit team

investigating the Texas Department of Corrections reported that about 14 percent of the TDC construction division's inventory worth about $1.8 million is unaccounted for.

Auditors blamed sloppy bookkeeping for the discrepancies, but Rep. Ray Keller, R-Duncanville, wanted an explanation why four TDC officials recently resigned without explanation.

"Public Admonishment"

Last week the House Ethics Committee publicly admonished Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston, for gross overspending of his Health Services committee budget.

Following the chastisement, Wilson repaid the state $2,000 and the committee officially closed its probe.

Public record shows Wilson, attending law school in Austin, charged the state for trips back to his Houston district. He also used state phone privileges for over $4,000 in long distance calls, including more than 150 calls to Hollywood talent agencies and film companies.

The committee said it had reason to believe Wilson had illegally collected certain expenses and offered the $2,000 remedy to Wilson.

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: Do I have to leave my children anything in my will? Also, is a handwritten will considered legal in Texas?

A: Under Texas law, you do not have to leave your children anything in your Will.

A handwritten Will can be legal in Texas. A holographic Will must be entirely in the handwriting of the testator and signed by him. It does not need to be witnessed, nor does it need a notary's acknowledgment. It does need, however, to be a document that you clearly intended to be a Will, so the document must show "testamentary intent".

Q: Can I transfer my prescriptions for glasses and contact lenses from one optical store to another? Or do I have to go back to my eye doctor for a new prescription?

A: No single optician has any rights to prescriptions. A prescription written by an ophthalmologist to correct a defect in your vision can be filled by any dispensing optician. Many opticians can duplicate your correction without a prescription by measuring your present lenses. You could also telephone your eye doctor and ask that your prescription be re-copied out of your file and mailed to you. You should return to your ophthalmologist only as the doctor recommends or if new problems arise.

Q: My wife and I are planning to incorporate. We are now owners of a small business. We have some ideas for expanding our business into something similar to what we now do, but at a different location. If we form partnership with another person, could all this go into our incorporation?

A: Yes, under Texas law any person eighteen or older, or any partnership may be an incorporator. Both individuals and partnerships can agree to form a corporation by signing and verifying Articles of Incorporation and by delivering the original and a copy of the Articles to the Secretary of State.

Q: I have two questions about city laws. First, where can I read the law controlling the water service deposit for my town? Second, how can I protect myself from my neighbors' dogs? They bark and tear up my lawn.

A: The office of the city attorney will be able to refer you to the water deposit regulations. They might invite you to come by

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since January is the middle winter month, there are many chores to be attended to if the weather permits. Bare root planting is this month's big opportunity because bare root plants become better established than those planted from a nursery can.

Only certain kinds of plants are sold this way, but bare root is the best way to plant apples, apricots, peaches, plums, figs, flowering fruit trees, roses, grapes and berries.

Follow these guidelines: Plant as soon as its possible to keep roots from drying out. Just to be sure, soak roots in water overnight. Dig an ample hole and add amendments and slow acting fertilizer, such as bone meal. Form a cone of soil in the bottom of the hole and spread the roots over it, making sure the plant ends up at the right depth. Fill the hole and tamp the soil down to compress any air pockets. Fruit trees need pruning prior to planting to reduce the top growth and compensate for the amount of roots lost when the plant was dug up.

Pruning is winter's next most important garden job. Any leafless plant can be pruned now, but since the freeze it may be best to see how much to prune back. The exceptions to this rule are fruit trees grown only for their flowers. These are best pruned while they are in bloom. Deciduous fruit trees grown for their fruit, such as apricots and peaches must be pruned or they will eventually cease producing fruit.

Dormant spraying follows planting and pruning in order of importance. Dormant sprays are light oils that smother rather than poison pests. Safe and effective, they can be used only on leafless plants, but they almost guarantee fewer pest problems the following season.

Rose growers hardly need to be told, but the nurseries are full of bare root roses, the best way to plant them. The best roses for our area come from California and Oregon.

Continuing education committee meets

Members of the Continuing Education Committee (CEC) met Wednesday afternoon with Bill Askins, Ed.D, professor and associate dean of the College of Education at Texas Tech University, regarding the possibility of Tech offering college courses in Sonora.

Smith Neal, vice-chairman of the CEC; Carol Jones, secretary; Gus Allen, and W.A. McAndrew, members of the committee visited with Askins as well as Ted Cotton, assistant superintendent of the Ozona Schools; Jackie Pederson with Tech's Computer program; and Texas Senator Bill Sims.

Askins explained that "extension courses" would yield college credit for as many as six hours of graduate level work but Askins could not give a definite "yes" or "no" about undergraduate level work. He will report back to the Sonora group after consulting Dr. Michael Mezack, director of Continuing Education at Tech.

Resident off-campus courses would, on the other hand, give college credit for all courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Either program would satisfy the teacher's requirement of six hours every five years.

Imagine picking your way along a frozen wilderness trail. You're bitterly cold, but see no sign of human habitation, mile after terrifying mile.

Then, thanks to someone who's already gone this way, you come upon a crude shack. Even with shelter you could still freeze to death, but you find wood already gathered for a fire. Later, before venturing on, you too pile high more wood for someone yet to come.

No matter who you are... or where... your life marks a trail that someone is following. Along that way is the Church—a haven from storms of the world. Yet the building alone is not enough. It must have people to work in it and to gather fuel for the fires of faith.

Begin today to support and strengthen the Church for those yet to come.

Lady Lions lose close game to Coahoma

The Lady Lions were ready to play some fine basketball last Friday night in Ozona. The final score against Coahoma was 44-54, however; the game was much closer than the score indicates. This was one of the best games played this season by the Ozona basketball girls. There was hustle and determination from everyone on the team, the entire game.

The girls were slow getting started in the first quarter. Vanessa was the only team member to hit from the floor, she hit 2 baskets while Kristal made one free throw. The score at the end of the first quarter was 5-16, but the girls were not discouraged and came back hard the second quarter, scoring 17 points to Coahoma's 20. Sherri sparked the team in the second quarter with 6 points from the field and 2 free throws. Kristal also made 1 basket and 1 free throw, Vanessa put in 4 free throws and Zeldia contributed 1 basket. The score at half time was Ozona 22-Coahoma 36. The girls came out in the third quarter determined to catch up. Lydia Maldonado took charge in the second half to set the pace for the Lady Lions. Lydia put in 6 points in the third quarter, with the only other person to score Sherri with 2 points. Early in the third period Vanessa suffered a slight concussion and did not see any more action in the game. The back up point guard, Donna Sanchez, did not see any action in the game due to being ill Thursday and Friday, therefore; Julie Reager had to step in and play point guard. Julie did a fine job at the task, playing her best game of the season. The girls played a very good fourth quarter, outscoring the team from Coahoma 14-10, but the clock just ran out too soon. Lydia was on target again scoring 8 points in the final period, Julie put in 4 points, and Kristal had 2.

High point for Ozona was Lydia with 14, Sherri 10, Vanessa 8, Kristal 6, Julie 4, and Zeldia 2. Rebounding honors for the Lady Lions go to Julie with 11, Kristal was right behind with 10 rebounds, Zeldia had 7, Sherri 5, Christy 3, Lydia 2, and Vanessa had 2. Sherri had 3 steals in the game, Julie had 2, Zeldia had 1. Kristal and Lydia had 2 assists each while Sherri had 1.

The Lady Lions travel to Crane Tuesday, January 17, to take on the Golden Cranes and then to Colorado City Friday, January 20, to try to pick up a couple of district wins.

Parental awareness program

The next Parental Awareness program will be on January 31 at 7:00 p.m. at the Community Center.

A panel of Intermediate teachers will briefly mention a few ways parents may help their children at home. Parents will then be invited to direct questions to the panel. It is hoped in this way that teachers and parents may work together to improve students' achievement.

Extension office news

By Rachel Hall

Glenna Fredrich, Better Business Bureau representative, from San Angelo, gave a very informative program this past Thursday at the Civic Center. Mrs. Fredrich discussed many major fraud schemes including: solicitation on behalf of charitable or civic organizations; magazine and newspaper advertisements, mail, television, and telephone schemes and certain truck-load sales.

Mrs. Fredrich advised everyone to be skeptical of companies that offered "deals to good to be true" or those companies that had not been "heard of before." Precautions should be taken anytime a small sum of money is requested for an expensive prize. If an organization is hiring a solicitor to raise money for them, be sure to ask what percentage the civic organization or charity is actually benefiting. When in doubt about a business or company, contact the Better Business Bureau. The BBB keeps a file on registered businesses free of charge.

The Ozona Area BBB representative is Linda Truitt. Complaints or requests can be made to 915-563-1881. If you are in San Angelo and need to run a quick check on a company, call 915-653-2318.

FIC-GM Consent Order
A historic consent order signed by the Federal Trade Commission and General Motors Corporation on November 15, 1983 provides the BBB administered arbitration to customers whose complaints about major repair bills go as far back as 1974.

The order is unique in that it provides out-of-court proceedings through BBB arbitration for premature wear and mechanical breakdowns on THM 200 transmissions, premature wear on camshafts, and corrosion in diesel fuel injection pumps (specifics listed later).

In BBB arbitration, both the company and the customer help select an independent trained volunteer from a cross-section of the community. After a hearing at a mutually agreed time and place, both sides will be given an opportunity to present their positions in person. The arbitrator has 10 days to provide a final decision.

The order gives General Motors 60 days to get ready for handling consumer complaints and BBB proceedings start at once, by calling 915-563-1881.

Consent Order in Brief
What it covers: THM 200 automatic transmissions used in a number of rear-wheel drive cars and trucks, beginning with 1976 models and including those manufactured by GM through April 26 of this year; camshafts or lifters in 305 and 350 cubic inch displacement (CID) gasoline engines produced through April 26, 1983 in plants operated by GM's Chevrolet Division since 1974; fuel injection pumps or fuel injectors in 350 CID diesel engines produced through April 26, 1983 in plants operated by GM's Oldsmobile division since 1978.

Have ready the make, model and year of the vehicle, the vehicle identification number, a brief description of the problem, and if possible, copies or repair bills and/or cancelled checks.

The BBB will take your complaint and try to mediate an adjustment from GM. If GM's offer isn't satisfactory, the customer can ask for arbitration.

Prescribed burning for range

Prescribed burning is a range management technique that can be very helpful to many ranchers. Prescribed burning is not a wildfire, but is a fire applied to predetermined areas under conditions that the intensity and spread of the fire are controlled.

Prescribed burns are generally applied in the months of January and February in this area. Prior to a burn, management of areas to be burned should be managed to insure that forage plants are in a high state of vigor and that they will provide adequate fuel to carry the fire with continuity.

The burned area should be incorporated into a system of management allowing for desired response of pasture species. When all of a pasture is not burned, grazing management should be based on the needs of the burned area.

A prescribed burn can be very beneficial and economically applied. Contact the Soil Conservation Service for more information.

7th graders get third at Crane Tournament

Friday and Saturday, January 13 and 14, the Seventh Grade Cubettes traveled to Crane to compete in the Crane Jr. High Basketball Tournament.

In the first game the Cubettes defeated the Fort Stockton seventh grade team by a score of 30-27, to win third place. The Cubettes never trailed in this game but it was close all the way. Scoring points for the Cubettes were Staci Winkley with 8 points, Stacy Lay, 7 points; Patty Sanchez and Polly Villarreal had 6 points, Dottie Gonzales had 2 points and Cathy Moran, 1 point. Patty Sanchez led all rebounders with 7 and Dottie Gonzales had 3 steals.

Overall the Cubettes had a good tournament and were proud to bring home a third place trophy. Coach Sessom felt like the Cubettes displayed excellent sportsmanship and determination in the last three games. The Cubettes will play in the McCamey tournament this Thursday.

Gen. Taylor to speak at First Baptist Sunday

First Baptist Church will be observing "Baptist Men's Day" Sunday, along with the other 37,000 plus Southern Baptist Churches throughout the world.

Major General Robert Preston Taylor U.S.A.F. retired Chief of Air Force Chaplains will be speaking Sunday morning.

Chaplain Robert Preston Taylor, Major General, United States Air Force, retired, came to Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas, August 1, 1966 after retiring from the Air Force as Chief of Chaplains. He served as Director of Institutional Resources. He retired from that position December 31, 1973.

Born in Henderson, Texas, on April 11, 1909, General Taylor received a bachelor of arts degree from Baylor University, Waco, Texas, in 1933; a master of theology degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1936; a doctor of theology degree from Southwestern in 1939; an honorary doctor of law degree from Atlanta Law School, Atlanta, Georgia on June 1, 1961; an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Tarkio College, Missouri on April 15, 1963; and an honorary doctor of humanities degree, College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery, College Clinic, College Hospital, Des Moines, Iowa on June 4, 1965.

On June 2, 1965, he received the "Distinguished Alumnus Award" from the alumni association of Southwestern Seminary. Prior to entering military service in September, 1940, Chaplain Taylor served as pastor of the South Fort Worth Baptist Church.

He served as Regimental Chaplain of the 31st Infantry Regiment, Philippine Division. He arrived in Manila. With the declaration of war, the Philippine Division was transferred to the front lines on the Peninsula of Bataan. Chaplain Taylor was cited for bravery and awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action for his services in the Battle of Bataan.

At the surrender of the American forces there, he became a member of that part of the "Death March" which led from Bataan through the streets of Manila, to the prison camp approximately eight miles east of Cabanatuan. He served as chaplain in the prison camp hospital at Cabanatuan where he ministered to more than 10,000 patients.

In the summer of 1944, he spent fourteen weeks in solitary confinement for smuggling food and medicine to the patients. He was later taken to Japan and Manchuria on one of the infamous "hellships" which was bombed twice by American planes with a loss of over a thousand lives. During the second bombing, Chaplain Taylor was struck in the wrist and leg by flying fragments. Ironically, he was not awarded a Purple Heart since he was wounded by our own forces.

His decorations and awards include the Silver Star, Distinguished Service Medal USAF, Bronze Star, and the Presidential Unit Citation with two oak leaf clusters.

In 1964, he was awarded the 33 degree of the Scottish Rite Masonic Order of American at Detroit, Michigan.

Chaplain Taylor is married to the former Mildred Good of Carrollton, Texas. They have one son, Bobby.

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

Have you noticed how quickly January is passing by? Do you suppose all of 1984 will go the same way?

We had our usual good games of bingo this week on Tuesday and Friday. John Henderson won for his wife a gift certificate from the Teacher Store. He was first place winner. Second place winner was Bertha Miller. Alice Ross won the dinner for two certificates from El Chato's.

We had a fine session of ceramics on Wednesday morning led by Ruth Hester and Doris Karr. In the afternoon several residents played dominoes.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by volunteers Lola Rios, Eglantino Estrado, Tina Moran and Charlotte Davis.

Thursday afternoon we were pleased to welcome our new Bible study leader, Ted Turnley. He started a new series from the Old Testament. Everyone present really enjoyed this first session.

Thursday night after supper the ladies from the Young Baptist Women's group served cookies and visited. This was followed by a performance from the Beard Band of Big Lake. This group, composed of Charlie and Bruce Beard and Mr. and Mrs. Smitty Smith gave us a fine performance. Several volunteers danced with the residents and a good time was had by all.

Friday afternoon several residents made some no-bake cookies for all the residents. Those involved with this project included Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Alice Ross, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Billie Whately, and Moriana Perez. Volunteer Jean Beardmore assisted with the project.

Reports are that Rev. Nelson Lanham gave a very meaningful worship service through songs for the Sunday afternoon church services. Six church members accompanied him for this fine service.

Nina Mayfield received her birthday cake on Monday from Polly Mayes and C.O. Spencer Welding Service. This is a nice treat given to each resident on their special day.

Another treat given to all residents each day and each week, as the case may be, but not often mentioned is that of newspapers. Baggett Insurance Company sends five San Angelo papers daily, The Ozona Stockman sends a weekly paper to all residents who can read, and The Wildcat of Big Lake sends one of their papers. We really appreciate these businesses helping our residents keep up with the news.

We have a familiar face back working at the Care Center in the form of Doris Hull. Welcome back, Doris! Keep visiting and volunteering, friends!

Funeral services for Davis

Funeral services for William Oscar Davis, 86, were held Friday in Snyder. Mr. Davis died at 5:25 a.m. Thursday in a Snyder hospital.

He was born June 15, 1897, in Scurry County. A WW II veteran-he was a longtime resident of Sanderson. He moved from Sanderson to Snyder about 15 years ago.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Floy Head of Snyder, and two brothers, Fred Davis of Snyder and Pete Davis of Roswell, N.M.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Improved Warm-Season Grasses Expand Rangeland Capacity

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Warm-season grasses, always a mainstay of the livestock industry in Texas, have been improved more in the last 40 years than in any other similar length of time in our history, according to Dr. Ethan Holt, forage research leader at Texas A&M University.

In addition to the vast acreages of native grasslands in Texas which are made up predominately of warm-season grasses, there are now some 20 million acres of improved warm-season grass pastures that greatly expand our forage production capacity, Holt says.

Bermudagrass is the most important tame pasture grass in Texas, according to Holt, who is forage research leader for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Coastal is by far the most important improved cultivar, in terms of total acreage. Coastal has the potential for producing high yields and is responsive to fertilization according to Holt, but forage quality does not meet the requirements of some classes of cattle, especially in mid-summer.

Research in recent years has shown that forage quality in bermudagrass can be improved through breeding. Improved quality is reflected, in turn, in increased animal performance.

"The important characteristics of an improved bermudagrass cultivar," Holt says, "are higher dry matter digestibility, winterhardiness, ground cover density and stand maintenance under grazing, and yield. The major improvement needed over Coastal is forage quality and winterhardiness for north Texas. Thus, Coastal serves as a standard for these characteristics.

"In tests at Overton, sixteen bermudagrasses were evaluated for regrowth potential and total dry-matter production. Total yields ranged from 10,024 to 17,044 pounds per acre.

"Selection B-7 produced more total dry matter than any of the other bermudagrasses. Coastal ranked third and Tifton 44 ranked thirteenth, among those grasses tested."

In the Brazos River Bottom near College Station, twenty-two new bermudagrasses and three standard cultivars were established in a replicated test in 1980. Yields in 1981 reflected the slower establishment of sources such as Brazos, Tifton 44, B-11, and B-10. Several rapid starting hybrids produced more than 6 tons of forage in 1981.

The highest yielding sources in 1982 were Coastal and B-13 with more than 10.5 tons per acre.

"While rapid production of a ground cover is an important characteristic, it is less important than low temperature tolerance and the ability to persist under close grazing," Holt says.

"Forage quality evaluations on these twenty-two bermuda-grasses showed four Burton hybrids had average digestibilities above 60% in 1981, each exceeding Brazos in average digestibility. However, winter damage ranged from 70 to 85 percent on these hybrids in the 1982-83 winter.

"Brazos produced almost as much forage as Coastal after the first year and had an average digestibility 3 units higher than Coastal though there was no difference in 1982."

More than 80 bermudagrass hybrids developed by the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station have been screened for growth characteristics and forage quality. In the continuing search for hybrids with an acceptable combination of forage quality, winter hardiness, sod density and productivity, eight hybrids with the best apparent combinations of these characteristics were further tested.

In still other tests, five bermudagrasses (Coastal, Callie, S-16, 74-68 and 2-83), were compared to determine how season, age and cultivar affects forage production and quality.

Coastal produced the most forage and Callie the least. Forage quality and digestibility declined with advancing age, as expected, though there is some indication that the varieties did not respond the same.

The range in dry-matter digestibility among varieties was generally from 8 to 12 digestibility units. Coastal was always lowest and 74-68 always highest.

At Angleton, in a perennial grass variety test, three-year averages indicate there is a little yield difference between Tifton 44, Coastal, Brazos, and Alicia bermudagrasses; Callie bermudagrass and dallisgrass 3-year averages were about 1,500 pounds per acre lower. Common dallisgrass was the most sensitive to the very dry summer.

Several species and varieties produced in the range of 5 to 6 tons per acre in 1982. The highest yielding species was Eastern gamma-grass (14,900 lbs),

Knights of Columbus Council formed here

A Knights of Columbus Council was formed in Ozona on Thursday evening, January 12. The Knights of Columbus is an organization of Catholic men and is concerned with putting into action the four precepts of the organization—Unity, Fraternity, Charity and Patriotism. The first meeting to discuss formation of a council in Ozona was held on October 1. Three months and a lot of hard work later, the goal was reached. In a special ceremony on Thursday, thirty-four new Knights were installed. These thirty-four men will join the existing twelve Knights to form the new council. The evening began with a special Mass for the Knights and their families at 7:00 p.m., followed by the installation ceremony in the parish hall. Sixteen men from San Angelo and Rowena were on hand to bestow the First Degree on the thirty-four new members. After the ceremony, the Knights were joined by their families for food and fellowship. Instrumental in getting the council started were Father Richard Altenbaugh, pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Tony Fierro and Larry Petron.

At the first meeting of the new council the officers will be elected and by-laws set down. The Knights are looking forward to a future of assistance both to the Church and to the community of Ozona.

Royalty owners win

Oil and gas royalty owners have prevailed in a lengthy dispute with the Internal Revenue Service, the president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners (TIPO) said.

Bruce Anderson, a Houston independent oilman, applauded the Jan. 10 U.S. Supreme Court decision that held the IRS can not limit the tax deduction for depleted oil and gas resources to the value of the oil and gas actually produced in a given tax year.

"It shows the Supreme Court is willing to interpret the percentage depletion incentive in the way Congress intended," Anderson said. "Lawmakers intended to encourage the exploration and development of oil and gas lands."

The high court held in a 5-4 decision that independent holders of oil and gas leases may take the depletion deduction for cash bonuses and advance royalty payments received in exchange for the right to explore for and produce these resources on their property.

Even if such bonuses and royalties are paid in advance of production, the court said they should be treated as income and therefore eligible for the depletion deduction authorized by Congress.

"Royalty owners have won a great victory in a long-running battle with the IRS," Anderson said.

He said royalty owners should review their tax situations in light of this decision.

"We expect that many will need to file amended returns for years in which they received advance royalties or bonuses," Anderson added.

The Supreme Court decision said that while deductions may be taken for bonuses and royalties paid on future oil or gas production, those deductions would have to be repaid to the IRS if production is never obtained from a lease.

Know about your S.S.

People who know about Social Security are able to plan for their retirement more effectively and provide for financial security for their family during their working years with greater peace of mind.

Find out what Social Security provides. Many people think of the program as just a retirement program. But, it also provides survivors and disability benefits as well as Medicare benefits. Not knowing the full scope of Social Security may result in late applications and risks loss of benefits.

Get an estimate of your future benefit. The Social Security Office can give you an estimate of what your benefits will be at age 65, or if you become disabled, and to your family if you should die. It is not possible to project benefits accurately for younger workers, but you may get an idea about the level of your future benefits.

This information will be valuable in planning your retirement and your family life and disability insurance needs.

Check your earnings record in Social Security records. We generally suggest that people check the earnings credited to their Social Security record every 3 years. This is especially important for people who change jobs often. The earnings record is the basis for determining eligibility for benefits and benefit amounts.

Know when to contact Social Security. Generally, there are five times when a person should call Social Security. They are when someone in the family dies, when someone in the family becomes disabled, when someone in the family develops permanent kidney disease, when someone in the family retires, and at 2 or 3 months before 65 if you don't retire.

Does your life insurance fit together?

Over a lifetime, most of us acquire more than one life insurance policy which may have gaps or overlaps when providing for your total needs. This is expensive and may not meet all eventualities.

Your Farmers Agent has a portfolio of unique life insurance and annuity combinations which can be used to modify or consolidate your existing program.

To quote just four examples:
MORTGAGE PROTECTOR
A new plan tailored to pay off the home mortgage even with today's high mortgage interest rates, if the breadwinner dies.
