His and Hers

By Scotty and Linda Moore

Hers

Last week when Tommy Stokes told me it was going to rain because the cenisa was blooming, I scoffed. Monday when he stopped in (after the rain) to ask "Now do you believe me?", I had to concede that there may be something to the old saying that blooming cenisa is a sign of coming rain. We hope Monday's showers are the first of early fall rains or late summer rains which stretch into fall.

The rain didn't slow the players in the American Cancer Society's Longest Day of Golf. The golfers never quit according to event chairman Becky Childress.

For those who didn't get to play this week, a second day has been scheduled. For more information, contact Mrs. Childress at 392-2492.

Calf tie down roping was one of the popular events of the rodeo. Jim Phillips of Iraan, 16-19 year-old contestant, shows good form in roping his calf. He came in second in the event with Shawn McMullan capturing first place.

Snips, Quips & Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker

People always get into trouble when they think they can handle their lives without God.

A lot of trouble arises from workers who don't think and from thinkers who don't work.

A really good parent is a provider, a counselor, an advisor, and when necessary, a good disciplinarian.

The world would be happier if its leaders had more dreams and fewer nightmares.

Maybe the reason we have traffic problems is because the traffic has become as dense as the drivers.

Booze-befuddled brains mean brawls, bumps, and bruises.

To be humble to superiors is duty; to equals, courtesy; to inferiors, nobility.

A book concerning money could be written in seven words: "here it is and there it goes."

Our present economy is terrible. We are making more and more dollars, and less and less money.

It's a boy!

There is more activity around the Arredondo house as Armando and Anna Lydia celebrate the arrival of their new child.

Juan Arturo Arredondo made his appearance at 9:38 p.m. on Wed., Aug. 2, 1989 at Angelo Community Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. and 9 oz. and was 21 inches long.

Also welcoming Juan to the world were his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Rojelio Rodriguez, of Knickerbocker, Mr. and Mrs. Jose M. Arredondo of Ozona, and fellow offspring David Arredondo of Midland.

It's a girl!

Jim and Deborah O'Connor of Albuquerque, NM are the proud parents of a baby girl, Andrea Jo, born 11:20 a.m., Aug. 6, 1989.

Grandparents are Bob and Barbara Wallace of Ozona and Pat and Jack O'Connor of Alamogordo, NM. Great-grandmother is Louise Bilderback of San Angelo.

Paula Bailey honored for Rodeo Queen Contest work

Paula Bailey was recognized for her work with the annual Lions Club Rodeo queen's contest Saturday night receiving a brass tray in appreciation of her effort.

Lions Club president Steve Williams made the presentation to the former Miss Rodeo Texas.

For the past 12 years, Paula has been instrumental in coordinating the rodeo queen contest. Through her hard work and inspiration, several girls have gone on to represent Ozona on the state level.

Paula Bailey is a native of Baylor County, where she was active in rodeo and 4-H throughout her youth. She was a Gold Star recipient in 4-H and competed in the Tri-State Rodeo Association activities in Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico.

While attending Tarleton State University in 1974, Paula decided to enter the Miss Rodeo Texas Pageant which was then held in Stephenville.

"I was down there in Stephenville, had never entered anything like that in my life, and just thought, '...let's see what happens,'" she said.

Paula was so successful that she walked away with the title and eventually became runner up for the title of Miss Rodeo America.

She had the opportunity to work for Resistol and Tony Lama during her reign as Miss Rodeo Texas, and continued her activities in rodeo while majoring in telecommunications at Texas Tech University from which she graduated in 1976.

She has remained active on the Texas Tech Rodeo Scholarship Board and is still on the board of trustees for the Miss Rodeo Texas Pageant. She has judged pageants on the local, state, and national level.

Paula says her main purpose is to promote scholarships and rodeo.

"I believe every title, no matter how insignificant it may seem, carries an honor, a duty, and a responsibility with it," she said.

Paula is the mother of Tres, age 10, and Sunny Jon, age 9. She is a member of the Methodist Church and the Ozona Woman's League.

The Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi manned the concession stand at the Jay Miller Roping this past Saturday.

A special thanks to the Flying W

Hotel and Fesco for their ice contributions, to Donna and Roger Herschap for cooking and all their hard work, to the Lions Club for setting up for us, and to 4-H for use of their roaster.

Sorority sisters who worked the concession were Pam Bissett, Donna Herschap, Lisa Branch, Laurie Hale, Sally Oglesby, Diane Anderson, Nancy Gillett, Lori Williams, and Teri Williams.

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

A lovely craft item made of sea shells was shown Monday morning during show and tell. It featured a pearly colored abalone in the center. Different colors seemed to emerge when the light hit it from different directions.

Residents got in a little ring toss practice Monday afternoon following a short exercise routine. Juana Hernandez scored the most ringers with Consuelo Sarabia coming in second. Ringers were also made by Moriana Perez, Lucia Rios, Monnie Boyd, Nellie Harp and Tomasa Ramos.

With Santos Martinez' luck, we thought for a while we were going to have to get a wheelbarrow to carry all her prizes home during Tuesday morning's bingo. She won three games. Other winners included Frances Davis, Nellie Harp, Theo Burns, and Elvira Pena. Sophie Kyle and Georgia Kirby were our volunteers, and we would like to say thank you. Activities are always more fun when shared with friends.

A challenging game of dominoes took place Tuesday afternoon. Residents competing were Srida Senne, Floy Clare Short, Frances Davis and Hazel McDaniel. The games were evenly matched.

A large group of square dancers entertained the residents Tuesday evening.

During intermissions, couples demonstrated the two step and waltz. Residents were delighted. Members of Levis and Lace Square Dance Club performing were: James and Tracy Fuller, Randy Shahand, Gailya Underwood, C.E. Light, Billy and Tosha Nowell, Joe and Tina Moran, Bob and Elaine Bell, Raul and Maria De La Rosa, Myra Jones, Tom Allen, Trischa Harell, Jason Moran, Justin Moran, Roddy Arnett, Ada Wah of Hong Kong and Mitch Inagaki of Japan. Ada is the guest of Myra Jones, and Mitch is the guest of Joe and Tina Moran. Everyone had a good time, and I'm sure our guests will have something to talk about when they go home. We hope the other international visitors will come by and say hello. We would love to meet them.

Residents attending Wednesday morning's ceramic work shop were: Hazel McDaniel, Srida Senne, Moriana Perez, Frances Davis, Consuelo Sarabia and Juana Hernandez.

We welcomed a new volunteer Thursday morning, Kathy Marshall.

She joined forces with beauty shop volunteers Joann Williamson, Lola Rios, Jody Miller and Audrey Smith. We would like to thank these ladies for a job well done. You're great.

Thursday afternoon residents enjoyed singing their favorite hymns led by David McCarley of First Baptist Church. Maxine was kind enough to play the piano for us. Thank you, David and Maxine. We enjoyed your visit.

The weekly Spanish Hour of Praise was held immediately after the singing Thursday afternoon. Communion was offered and Alicia Perez played the guitar. A short visitation followed. We would like to thank the members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church for sharing their time with us.

Minnie Karr and Olive Berry won two games each in Friday morning's bingo. Other winners were Monnie Boyd, Srida Senne, Adelaida Smith, Hazel McDaniel and Moriana Perez. Monnie certainly had beginners luck. She is our newest resident, and we are happy to welcome her.

Sunday's worship service was presented by Ozona United Methodist Ladies' Bible Class. Residents really enjoyed their presentation and the singing. Thank you, ladies.

Chinese and Japanese visitors find way to Ozona

Lives of several Ozona families and their friends have been enriched this summer through visits by young people from other nations.

Most recent arrivals as part of Experiment in International Living are Ada Tse of Hong Kong, China, Mitsuaki Inagaki and Kimihide Enmei, both of Japan.

Mitch's visit. This is his second trip to North America, and he finds "everything happy in the United States".

Kimihide "Kimi" Enmei, a senior student at a Japanese university, will attend a Liberty, MO university this year as part of an exchange program. A member of the foreign language department at his home university,

Kimi Enmei, Mitch Inagaki and Ada Tse

The three joined visitors from France and Germany for a tour of Crockett County Jail last week. A special attraction for most during the outing was the chance to climb aboard Sheriff Jim Wilson's horse, Jake. Brought to the jail for the occasion, Jake put the guests in the mood for the rodeo and parade.

Tiny Ada, 25, is a teacher on summer holiday. She instructs mathematics, music and Chinese in a country where students attend classes six days a week, 10 1/2 months a year.

Sadness prevails in her country following recent student pro-democracy demonstrations, Ada said. The people will make a "close study on the matter; some are anxious, some confused," she commented. She believes some unions will be formed to support the movement while others want to emigrate to free countries such as Canada, the United States, Australia, Singapore and Taiwan.

The only girl in a family with three boys, Ada enjoys music, reading, swimming, theatre, movies, traveling and language. While in Ozona she is the guest of Myra Jones.

Mitsuaki Inagaki, guest of Tina and Joe Moran, was ready for rodeo Saturday night decked out in new boots and Western hat. Known as Mitch to his host family, the enthusiastic 16-year-old finds all American things interesting.

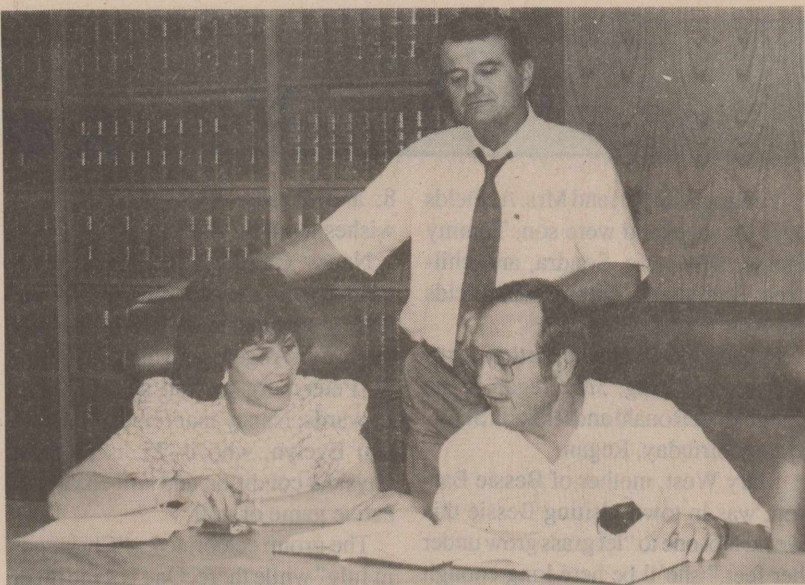

Mitch lives in a household which includes not only his parents and two sisters, but a grandmother and great-grandmother as well. His time here has included a trip to Iran to meet Tina's grandmother, Maria Mendoza, who is 103.

Traveling to Panhandle gave Mitch opportunity to meet Maxine and David DeBord, originators of the international program here. Mitch was to have been their guest in Ozona.

Math, music, gym, history, science, English and Japanese are some of the subjects Mitch studies. His grade equivalent would be that of a junior. Japanese schools require six days a week attendance with a 1 1/2 month holiday each year instead of the three months allowed U. S. students.

Becoming a computer engineer is his educational goal.

Learning to square dance, a hobby of his host family, occupied some of CONSTITUTION BICENTENNIAL-A summer institute for secondary school teachers on teaching the U.S. Constitution was held recently on the campus of Southwest Texas State University. The institute gave secondary school teachers the opportunity to intensively study the Constitution and to develop curricular materials to help them teach Constitutional principles. The Bicentennial Commission's theme for the 1989 institute was the continuing study of Congress and the development of the Executive Branch. Attending from Ozona Junior High School was Jerry D. Tucker, seated right, who is pictured with institute co-directors Drs. Cynthia Opheim and Willard Stouffer of the SWT political science faculty.

B. W. Stuart was all smiles Saturday after playing third base in the second annual Cellular One old timers game in San Antonio. The former professional joined other notables in a three-inning game against a team of former San Antonio Mission players.

Despite a 6-2 loss for his team, the day gleamed for Stuart and grandson Jason who collected autographs and participated in a youth baseball clinic conducted by former San Antonio Dodgers' general manager Wally Moon.

Listed on the roster of former pros were: Cliff Johnson, Gary Bell, Don "Lefty" Falcone, Jerry Grote, Blas Manaco, Gaire Allie, Odie Davis, Byrne James, Tommy Wilkes, Ted Trevino, Gus Koch, Terry Salazar, Byron "Tex" Stuart, Wilbur Huckle, Marty Errante, Woody Bell, Bill Bohler, Garnet Steubing, Rusty Lyons, Buck Stanton, Leonard De La Garza, Wichita coach Brian Little and Wichita manager Pat Kelly.

Making up the team for the San Antonio Missions were: Brooks Robinson, Wally Moon, Claude Osteen, Jimmy Wynn, Reggie Smith, Frank Mancuso, Mel Corbo, Frank Cernosek, Bob Bruce, Carl Scheib, Ray Minor, Mickey Lashley, Cliff Davis, Mark Corrola, Sam Harshany, Bill Scudder, and Missions manager John Shoemaker.

Attendance for the Aug. 5 old-timers game and later Missions game against Midland was the best for the season this year, Stuart said.

Visiting...

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Al Fields over the weekend were son, Tommy Fields, with wife, Sondra, and children, Bambi and Tiffany. The Fields are from Greenville.

Regan Shaw was the birthday girl at her home Aug. 3rd. Regan is the daughter of Ronald and Rhonda Shaw. Happy birthday, Regan.

Mary West, mother of Bessie Barron, was in town visiting Bessie this week. Not one to "let grass grow under her feet," she'll be here long enough to get Bessie "in line," then she'll be off again.

Derek Fierro was honored on his second birthday with a small party Aug. 1st. A pinata of a ship topped the event for Derek and his guests. Parents are Eric and Santa Fierro. Happy birthday, Derek.

Mrs. Alice Couch has returned home after a vacation of visiting with her children. First stop was a visit to Bryan to visit with son, Mike, and his wife. Alice then flew to Grand Junction, CO to visit daughter Michelle and grandson. After enjoying her trips, Alice returned home with pleasant memories.

Kassie Cox has been visiting with her grandparents, A.D. and Wanda Cox, of Ozona. Kassie is from Kermit, and enjoyed her stay a lot.

8; and Wesley West, Aug. 9. Best wishes to all of you.

Nancy Childress has recently returned from a vacation in Florida. Nancy's brother and sister-in-law met her in San Angelo, and the trio flew to St. Petersburg to visit sister Evelyn Edwards. Nancy marveled at the fact that Evelyn, who is 75, is in great physical condition and still enjoys an active game of golf.

The group celebrated a "Christmas in July" while there. One of the nicer things that happened while they were there were roses that were sent to Nancy by her husband on their anniversary. Upon returning home, Nancy's daughter, Linda, and grandson, Brandon arrived for a visit. Brandon became 19 this April and will graduate from the University of Texas next year.

Sin Is Nothing In Particular

by Rev. Ken Harrison
Ozona United Methodist Church

Sin is too generally regarded as the transgression of certain arbitrary taboos established by religious custom. But particular acts or failures are sin because of their origin in the alienation of man's spirit from God, and of their consequence in harm done to human personalities and to the common spiritual life. Sin is nothing in particular; it is evil in the soul which rejects God's goodness and mercy. Where religion affirms and unites, sin denies and divides.

The story, The Cardinal, was made into a good movie, starring Alec Guinness. The story concerned the deterioration and ultimate destruction of a good man by focusing on one incident he wasn't proud of out of his past. The inspector, by repetition and constant reminder, was able to bring into focus one per cent of that man's life where he stumbled, and blot out ninety-nine percent of his life that was commendable. The Cardinal was virtually a saint. As far as anybody else knew his life was impeccable. But he was also a human being, a sinful human being, and the inspector sought out that one sin, and when he found it he changed a good courageous man into a despairing creature.

Forty-five years ago malaria killed at least half the people who died each year. It was a scourge not only in the colonial areas but in southern Europe as well. The U.S. South had more than one million cases per year. Eradicated from the U.S. and Europe following World War II, it quite naturally receded from our consciousness. How was that malaria put to rout? Not by the killing of mosquitoes, the carriers of the fever, but by the development of quinine and similar treatments. The immediate cause of malaria is a single-celled, amoeboid organism that crawls into the red blood cells to feed on hemoglobin, and to multiply. When depleted, the red blood cells burst, releasing huge numbers of parasites to reinfact still more cells. Each explosive release of parasites causes debilitating fever and chills. Medicines that science has developed counteract malaria in the hemoglobin.

So with malaria, so with sin. Malaria isn't conquered by going around slapping mosquitoes (individual sins), it must be attacked from within, as sin must be attacked from within the polluted bloodstream of human conscience.

The three most common words used for sin in the Old Testament are nt', swon and pessa'. The first characterizes sin as failure to meet a standard or to arrive at a goal or to miss an aim. The second sees sin primarily as an irregular, "crooked", action, a deviation from normal behavioral patterns. The third sees sin primarily as an infringement upon a psychoic totality. This breadth in the Hebrew concept of sin stands in contrast to the view that sees sin primarily as external behavior.

Sin is a weary word, but the reality it signifies is energetic and destructive. Its awful power and dreadful responsibility are measured by the divine goodness it frustrates and the divine beauty it mars.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

If there were such a thing as "Person of the Week" in Ozona, Frances Curry would certainly deserve the honor.

Last week, she took a group of young people from the Methodist Church along with a bunch of their friends and a few adults and performed a most unusual task.

Their objective was to fix up a house that needed repairs, and fix it up they did! They cleaned the yard first, then moved all of the belongings out into the yard and covered them with tarps. They cleaned, took up old floor coverings, put putty around windows, paneled, taped and bedded ceilings, painted, put down new floor coverings, and put on exterior siding.

Frances was incredible! She did much of the work herself as well as kept the young people working. If anyone thinks our young people are "bad," you should have been there to see how hard they worked. It was very hot, dirty, hard work, but I heard very little complaining.

The house looks great! Congratulations to you all for a job well done!

Sincerely,
Joyce Young

Texas schools require immunizations

With the new school year just around the corner, the Texas Medical Association encourages parents to check their child's immunization records. Although outbreaks and epidemics of killer diseases like polio and diphtheria don't pose the threat they once did, infectious diseases can still spread among us.

Children are not born immune to infectious diseases; they must be immunized against them. More than any other preventative health care practice, immunizations begun in childhood and kept up to date save money, misery, and lives.

In Texas, proof of vaccinations for six communicable diseases — polio, tetanus, measles, rubella (German measles), mumps, and diphtheria — is required by law for all children registering for day-care or public school. In addition, pertussis, or whooping cough, vaccine is required for children less than 5 years old in day-care and public school. The Texas Medical Association recommends the pertussis vaccine be extended for children through age 6.

Because of vaccinations, only two cases of diphtheria and one fatal case of polio have been reported in Texas in the past 10 years. However, some preventable diseases persist because parents allow the original vaccinations to expire without getting the necessary follow-up booster shots. In 1988, the Texas Department of Health recorded outbreaks of measles, mumps, rubella, pertussis, and tetanus. About 3,000 cases of measles were reported during an epidemic in Texas in late 1988 and early 1989. Victims of these diseases included unimmunized children, as well as adults who had allowed their immunizations to lapse.

Parents should follow their physician's advice in scheduling the necessary vaccinations and boosters and in keeping accurate records for each child. Parents who are not sure if their children's vaccinations are current should update their records now to be ready for the upcoming school year.

The Texas Medical Association reminds you to immunize your child. Although outbreaks of vaccine-preventable diseases are now less frequent in Texas, the diseases can still spread among us.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 29,000 physician and medical student members. It is based in Austin and has 116 component county medical societies around the state. The association represents 80 percent of the state's physicians, and its goal is to improve the health of Texans through the professional and personal development of members.

Card of Thanks
Thanks to my friends and loved ones
I have always liked to thank people personally for thoughtful and kind deeds they do for me. Since I can no longer do this, I have asked this letter be written for me at my bedside.
For two long years, as of Oct. 6, I have been a shut-in in our local hospital, except for my first two and one half months spent in Community Hospital, in San Angelo. Never be doubtful of the wonderful care and concern you will receive as a patient at Crockett County Hospital. Our doctors and nurses are to be commended for the excellent care they give. I have seen enough to assure you that you will be in safe hands. Our staff and our well trained EMT team are the best we have had in many years. Any time a patient's need demands more than the hospital equipment here can supply - our doctors do not hesitate to send you to a larger hospital. Don't feel you have to drive 90 miles to get care. It is here, 24 hours daily.
I thank each and everyone connected with our local hospital. Special thanks go to the kitchen crew who have worked so tirelessly to fix foods I like. Bless them all.
I have a room here I am happy in and for two years I have had an abundance of flowers and plants to watch grow. Fresh fruits and vegetables from friends gardens, homemade cakes, cookies, puddings, and homemade preserves - just name it and I have had it, and still have it daily. Jonsey Williams has kept me supplied with thin toasted bread (I wonder how many loaves), her first spring onions, tomatoes and oh so many things. She is truly Florence Nightingale to me and to many others who are in need of surprises. May God keep her in health and safety.
I thank my many friends for the wonderful books they have brought me to read and keep in my bookshelves. Madye Jo had installed in my room, for cards (a drawer full), letters, telephone calls, visits and prayers that continue to this date, and for my daily newspaper delivered by Hillary Phillips. May God Bless each of you.
Ken Harrison, my minister and his precious family have meant much to me. Ken, you have added so great to my spiritual life. May God keep all of you just as you are today.
Madye Jo and my sister Bonnie, you have been my other hand and shoulder to lean. Each night as I say my prayers for that day, I always ask him to watch over you. You have given me courage when I had none.
To my dear friend and wonderful Doctor Owensby, a man of God, compassionate and caring. I thank you for the tireless care you have given me all through the years I have known you. I wish I could put into words and express how much we love you, and what you have meant to my family. My constant prayer is that our lord richly bless you and Helen, and keep you in wisdom and health.

Course for teens starts Monday at public library

A course to help teenagers improve their self-image and communication skills begins Monday, August 14, at the Crockett County Public Library.

The class is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the library, and will be held from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. There is no charge to attend.

According to Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent-Home Economics, poor self-image and inability to communicate are two traits linked to many teen problems, including teen pregnancy and drug use.

Young people from age 12 through high school are encouraged to attend and participate in exercises ranging from group discussions of topics currently troubling young people in the community to activities designed to give teens a better understanding of their feelings and the ability to communicate these feelings to their parents.

For more information about the class, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721 or the Crockett County Public Library at 392-3565.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Home design workshop scheduled for August 21-23

A 4-H home design course will be held Aug. 21-23 at the civic center. Any 4-H member or youth from age 9 on up is eligible to attend. There is no charge, but there are some inexpensive materials that each participant must furnish, such as scissors, poster board, and old magazines.

The project will include designing a room and planning its decor, making a room accessory, and field trips. Sessions will begin at 9 a.m. each morning and end at 3 p.m. Participants should bring a sack lunch each day.

Leaders and donations of old carpet scraps, paint samples, and upholstery scraps are being sought. To volunteer or to find out more about the project contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721. Or, come by the office located on the second floor of the courthouse annex.

Things they never told you about a heat pump.

Fact #14 and #15

A heat pump will not cool your home as well as a high-efficiency air conditioner.

A heat pump will not warm your home as well as a natural gas furnace.

If a heat pump won't cool you as well as an air conditioner, and won't warm you as well as a natural gas furnace, just who does a heat pump benefit?

Extension Connection

by Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent
"Texas Agricultural Extension Service"

Many parents of preschoolers report that one of the most nerve-wracking times is mealtime. Either the kids are picky—or won't eat all of their food—or their behavior is driving their parents wild—all of these can be a problem with young children.

Meals for children don't need to be planned separately from family meals. In fact, eating with the grown-ups is an important educational experience as your child learns about food. Parents who serve a variety of good foods and take a casual attitude toward how much, what, and how a child eats can build a child's sense of trust in the world as well as good food habits.

Happy mealtimes are important. Children are just like adults in that they usually don't like to eat alone. Meals also need to be at fairly regular times, with a "quiet time" beforehand to let the child calm down before he gets to the table.

Indeed, calm people and surroundings during meals help a child enjoy eating more. Parents need to give a firm but gentle and consistent guidance about what behavior is expected and accepted at mealtimes.

Remember that just as you have your individual likes and dislikes, your child does too. Appetite may vary from one meal to the next and from day to day. A child's growth rate, his activities, and how he feels all influence how much he eats. Doctors suggest that the child is really a fairly good judge of how much food he can eat at a meal.

If you're tempted to coax or play little games, think about how much you dislike having food forced on you. If you provide good, nourishing foods for your child, in a good variety, his diet will take care of itself. Children sometimes eat better when they can serve themselves in some way and when they can feed themselves. Expect a bit of a mess at first—it takes time to develop self-feeding skills. Finger foods are a big plus with a young eater.

The time factor is important in your child's enjoyment of meals. Young children need time to enjoy their meals. When they lose interest and dawdle, you can then quietly but firmly remove the food.

Since little people don't have the capacity to eat so much at mealtime, nutritious snacks are a good answer. At mealtime, offer child-size servings. It's better to offer small servings and let the child have seconds than to wind up fighting over what's left on the plate.

For a child, 6 ounces of milk and 3-4 ounces of juice is appropriate. The equivalent of a 3-inch wide and one-half inch thick meat patty is a good size for a meat serving, and about 1/4 cup cooked cereal or 1/2 cup ready-to-eat cereal is appropriate.

One-half to one slice of bread is enough at one meal for youngsters, and about 2-4 tablespoons of vegetables is sufficient. One-half to one medium piece of fruit is ample for their smaller appetites.

What if they don't like new foods? Try offering only one new dish at a time, and only make him take a tiny taste. Avoid forcing the issue, and take the food away if it's disliked. Try asking just what is wrong with it—a different preparation method sometimes does wonders.

Again, by making mealtimes a relaxed, happy time to enjoy a good variety of nutritious foods, parents can avoid the hassles and heartbreaks that sometimes occur.

For more information on peacefully feeding your preschooler, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721 or come by our office located on the second floor of the courthouse annex.

Jones nominated for international equestrian event

New York, N. Y. - Margaret Jones of Ozona has been nominated to compete in the North American Young Riders Championships, an international competition in the Olympic disciplines of dressage, three day events and show jumping, that prepares riders for participation in the Olympic Games. The Championships, sponsored by American Bankers Insurance Company, will be held Aug. 9-13 at Tempel Farms in Wadsworth, IL.

More than 140 riders, all aged between 16-21, representing the United States, Canada, Mexico, Australia, Bermuda, Guatemala and Puerto Rico, will compete for gold, silver and bronze medals in team and individual competitions in three disciplines. Margaret has been nominated to compete in the show jumping events.

The Championships, sanctioned by the world governing body of equestrian sports (FEI), as well as the American Horse Shows Association, the National Equestrian Federation of the United States, are being presented by American Bankers Insurance Company and hosted by Tempel Farms. Gold Medal sponsors include Rolex Watch USA, Pitman-Moore, and Jane Forbes Clark.

The Young Riders Championships are an integral part of the Olympic dream for aspiring young equestrians and are designed to simulate Olympic competition. The riders will arrive in Wadsworth by truck, trailer and plane with their horses, trainers, parents and grooms, eager to make a name for themselves in international competition. And these dreams can come true; 1988 Olympic show jumping silver medalist, Greg Best, was an individual Gold Medalist at the Championships in 1985. This year he returns to coach the Zone II Show Jumping Team.

Dressage, a French word meaning training, is often compared to the compulsory movements in figure skating and requires total harmony and teamwork between the horse and the rider as they complete a series of compulsory movements. Show Jumping is the ultimate test of power and speed as horse and rider attempt a complicated course of obstacles as high as 5' and as wide as 5'6" in the fastest time. Three-Day Eventing is a test, over a three-day period, which includes dressage the first day, an exhilarating two mile cross-country gallop over a demanding course on the second day, and a stadium jumping course on the third day. The United States will field seven dressage teams, six three day teams and five show jumping teams.

The North American Young Riders Championships are organized under the auspices of the AHSA, which governs and promotes over 2,500 competitions annually and is a Group "A" member of the United States Olympic Committee.
