"OUR REAL STRENGTH"

President Truman, speaking to educators recently, expressed the fear that "we are too much concerned with material things to remember that our real strength lies in spiritual values."

There is no disposition whatever to deny the truth of the statement made by the Chief Executive, but there is every reason why one should clearly understand that "spiritual values" must be expressed in a material world and, therefore, find themselves through "material things."

Human beings live in a material world and while they must always appreciate spiritual values, it is questionable whether such values are real unless expressed by physical beings in a physical world. In this sense, the real strength of the nation lies in the spiritual ideas that inspire men and women to translate spirituality into actual expression in material things.

MAINTAIN THE SPIRIT

The modern industrial civilization of the United States presents mechanical equivalent of four to each American family the hundred human slaves, according to a noted scientist, who maintains that science promises us a finer kind of living than the wealthiest potentates of the past ever dreamed of.

While we have no way of checking the doctor's estimate, there is, at least, enough truth in his assertion to astound all of us. The utilization of mechanical power promises greater ease and comfort to the people of the United States. With it will come new dangers to the moral fiber of individuals, with some persons degenerating in flabby indolence and soporific stupefaction.

We would not suggest that we should slow down industrial progress because of the dangers that

SPEED HAS ITS PRICE

The National Safety Council reports that more than 8,000 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the first three months of this year, which means an increase of forty-four per cent over the same period in 1945.

We call attention to the figures which imply that 32,000 persons will be slain on the highways of this country in 1946, without having much idea that they will impress any reader.

For some strange reason, the killings of nearly 100 persons a day is regarded as a casual price that 135,000,000 people must pay for automobile travel.

YOUNG MEN IN OFFICE

The presence of very young men in high public office is the exception rather than the rule, according to a statistical bulletin issued by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, reporting that the two youngest governors are thirty-eight years old and that the two oldest are seventy-two and eighty-two.

The youngest chief executives are Governors Arnall, of Georgia, and Pastore, of Rhode Island. The oldest is Governor Walter S. Goodland, of Wisconsin, 82, and the next oldest, Governor Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey, who is 72.

In the early days of the American Republic it was rather common for men in high public office to be much younger than is the vogue today. Just how and why the change occurred is anybody's puzzle, but the chance are that the nation possesses a much larger percentage of men over fifty today than ever before in its history.

CULINARY ART

Food is one of the ancient possessions of mankind, although the preparation of food is an art that has been highly developed in some sections of the world.

In Baird, for example, one would expect to find that the preparation of food for the family table is, in general, the same, but such is not the case. Rarely does one find two housewives who have the same ideas about the proper preparation of even the most simple dishes.

What is needed, apparently, is more scientific attention to the culinary art by the women of the country, who are in control of the family diet. This is not a study to be lightly considered because science, almost every day, is finding new truths about various foods and their importance to the individual's well-being.

800,000,000 LACK FOOD

Former President Hoover, in reporting upon conditions that confront one-third of the people of the world, says that "hunger hangs over the homes of more than 800,000,000 people" and that the suffering men, women and children face the grimmest spectre of famine in all the history of the world."

This is a fearful fact that should make every American anxious to contribute something to the relief of suffering humanity. While Mr. Hoover pins his faith on the voluntary conservation program, outlined by the Famine Emergency Committee, the inadequacy of the plan ought to be clear when one remembers that the committee appealed to Americans to eat 40 per cent less wheat and 20 per cent less fats during the emergency.

It seems to us that rationing must be adopted if this country is to export an amount of wheat and fats that will be creditable to our professions of sympathy and our proclamation of religion. While some of our people will strive honestly to cut their wheat and fats consumption by the amounts suggested the average will be far below the desired minimum unless the government steps in and seizes what should be shipped to hungry mouths.

SALUTE TO FRONTIER TIMES

Hamilton Wright, conductor of The Road Runner column in the Abilene Reporter-News, had the following to say about our magazine in June 3rd issue:

BAIRD—Great West Texas' newest magazine—Frontier Times. At age of 23, it appears in a new dress and is published right here in Baird on the press of The Baird Star by J. Marvin Hunter, Jr. The Star's editor's father, J. Marvin Hunter, Sr., is editor.

For nearly a quarter of a century it has been published at Bandera, Texas. It had a fair circulation, especially among lovers of Texanna. The newly organized Baird Junior Chamber of Commerce, as a first goal, decided to bring the magazine to West Texas and Baird. Representatives of the JayCees went in person, made their request—and J. Marvin Hunter, Sr. "fell" for it before the conference ended.

The front page carries a picture of Dr. R. L. Griggs, local physician-surgeon, who has been practicing medicine in Callahan county 46 years and is too busy now even to think of retiring. And there is an article in the magazine about him titled, Dr. Griggs, Country Doctor. On the page with the story is another picture of Dr. Griggs taken at his graduation when 21. The tribute to Dr. Griggs is well written, well earned.

Bravery! The doc had it. Once called to deliver a baby on the other side of Pecan Bayou, the doctor had an experience not soon forgotten. As he crossed the stream, a sudden rise flushed down.

"The rise caught me in middle stream. I swam to shore with medicine bag and continued the journey afoot. I arrived in time to meet the stork," Dr. Griggs recalls.

The 32-page first West Texas issue contains gripping short articles. For instance, here's a few titles: A Worthy Name, by Don Ferguson; A Texas Town (Senterfit) that Vanished; Daughter of Pioneers, by Gladys Ray, White-wright, Texas; a Hay Ride—1907, by Lieut. Col. Morris U. Lively; Bathing Was a Crime a Hundred Years Ago; Gail Borden, First Publisher of Texas; The Famous Brock Case, by Don H. Biggers, in Shackelford County Sketches, Origin of the Bowie Knife, by Meigs Frost.

The price of the new magazine is 25 cents. Demand at Baird has been strong. Everybody's reading it. J. Marvin Hunter, Jr., publisher, says in a few months it will be put on sale on all West Texas newsstands.

The editor owns a large Museum in Bandera, contain the biggest collection of Taxanna in the Southwest. The senior Hunter will continue to reside in Bandera, but commute to and from Baird.

Salute to the Frontier Times—a real honest-to-goodness old timer's dream come true!

Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Black are visitors in the home of Mrs. Black's mother, Mrs. Annie Martin, in Clyde. They are enroute to their home in Brownwood from a months visit in Maine with Black's parents. A discharged veteran, Black will enter a watchmaking school in San Antonio. Mrs. Black is the former Odell Martin.

The solution to a strike problem is not the seizure of private enterprise by the government. It is about time that something be done to end the public inconvenience that attends the settlement of economic disputes.

Herr Hitler's plan was to lie about his enemies and about his intentions; the technique is not confined to the Nazi.

The welfare of Baird depends upon the cooperation of the people who live in it; there is no use to look for a Santa Clause.

NO DAY OFF FOR FATHER — Father's Day is like any other day in the Martin household for actor Ian Martin, who plays the father of teenage "Archie Andrews" in the NBC weekly story of a modern Penrod. SOME SWIMMING RULES

Since it won't be long now before the swimming season is in full swing and believing that it might be a good idea to pass along some good advice to swimmers, whether they accept it or not, we are printing below some safety rules which, if followed by the swimmers of Baird might result in the saving of some lives from drowning.

Here they are:
Do not swim alone at night.
Don't overestimate your strength.

Never swim across a lake or river, or from headland to island, or in unknown or dangerous waters unless accompanied by a boat and a strong level-headed companion trained in life-saving. At the first opportunity learn how to rescue drowning persons without unduly endangering your own life, and learn how to administer artificial respiration.

Do not attempt to swim to a drowning person's rescue in rough or deep water unless no other help is at hand and you are confident you are capable of effecting a rescue. If possible, before starting, call to someone to get a rope or a boat.

Don't swim for at least two hours after eating and never beyond your depth in very cold water.

Never drink cold beverages immediately before swimming.

Skylarking in boats is dangerous.

Don't duck or "tease" your friends who are not as good swimmers as yourself.

Never dive in unknown, shallow or rocky water.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Gray and daughters, Nancy and Barbara, from Kermit are guests of Gray's mother, Mrs. T. J. Gray, and his sister, Mrs. J. T. Smith and family in Clyde.

Lt. Joe Bailey from Camp Wallace spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. J. H. Bailey and other relatives in Clyde.

Now, we will be hearing the old dope about the younger generation being the hope of the nation; will be uttered by oldsters who will immediately begin to tell the youth that they are headed for perdition.

Mrs. Sam McIntosh returned to Clyde recently from a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. G. G. Bowen and Mr. Bowen in Wichita Falls. Mrs. Gracie Bowen from Midland, Calif., was also a guest in the Bowen home. While there Mrs. McIntosh, with her sister and Mrs. Gracie Bowen, visited in Ardmore, Okla., with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fred McIntosh, and baby, John Frederic.

Mrs. Marvin Burleson of Richland Springs, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tylor, in Clyde.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa:
My wife and I have been having an argument and we would like to know what you think about it. I think that the greater part of our money should be spent on food as that will make our children healthy and strong. She maintains that good clothes are more important than the best food. Which of us is right?
Mere Man—Okla.

Answer:
I think you should give everything its place. It is necessary, of course, to have good nourishing food but that doesn't necessarily mean a great deal of fancy food nor more than you need.

Certainly, your children will suffer more if you eat up all of your money and let them go without the proper clothes than if you have sufficient food and nice looking things to wear.

It would be very foolish to try all sorts of fads and try to keep ahead of the styles if you can't afford it but every child should have as nice clothes as possible. This gives them poise and confidence in themselves and helps keep them from getting an inferiority complex, when they are around other children.

So try to strike a happy medium. If meals are planned ahead of time with food values in mind and if the mother is clever with the needle money can be stretched much further than if one waits until the last minute to buy food and get together wardrobes.

LOUISA

Dear Louisa:

The boy I am engaged to has just been discharged from the Army and he has been offered two jobs. One is with a firm who have several sons of its different members working with them. The other is with a younger firm but there are no other relatives employed. My fiancée is inclined to take the first offer because the salary is a good bit more but I feel that in the long run he will do better to take the other as there is so much greater chance of advancement. What do you think?

Engaged—Vt.

Answer:

If both of the firms are good reliable businesses I think, as you do, that he will get along faster on this own merits where there are not too many relatives to be looked out for.

LOUISA

Ralph Stevens of Memphis, Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fulcher, Jr. of Eagle Pass, Miss Dorothy Crawford of Ballinger, B. M. Batts, Jr. of San Angelo, Miss Christine Settle of El Paso, and Mrs. Henry Settle of Oplin, have been recent guests of Mrs. S. E. Settle and Mary Lou Settle.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Prew of Odessa are guests of his brother and sister, Jim and Mary Prew, in Clyde and with Raymond Prew and family at Phathom Lake, Abilene.

BUMPER CROP OF TOMATOES

Texas farmers are sending a bumper crop of tomatoes to market with still heavier shipments due shortly as harvesting reaches a seasonal peak.

So far this season, about 4,000 carlots have moved from the lower Rio Grande Valley, the Yoakum district and East Texas, according to Charles L. Howell, Acting District Director, USA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Total yield for the state is estimated at 8,917,000 bushels, the early Valley crop accounting for 5,472,000 bushels. Acreage increases in the Avery and Yoakum sections will bring production in these areas above average.

Tomatoes are highly perishable and must be consumed soon after they come to market to prevent waste, Howell said, urging Texas housewives and restaurants to buy and serve them often. This will keep supplies moving and provide farmers with a market for tomatoes still in the fields.

He also encouraged housewives to can tomatoes while they are abundant. "Canned tomatoes are scarce in most places and home canning now will assure adequate supplies later when fresh tomatoes will be limited," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bragg returned to their home here early last week after Mr. Bragg recently received an honorable discharge from the army. Mrs. Bragg taught in the elementary school in Neosho, Mo. for the past year while Mr. Bragg was stationed at Camp Crowder, at Neosho. He has returned to his former position as telegraph operator on the T. & P.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hollingshead and two daughters from Lamesa are guests in the home of Mrs. Hollingshead's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sikes, in Clyde.

A. All National Service life insurance policies contain a provision for the waiver of payment of premiums, upon application by the insured, during the continuous total disability of the insured which continues or has continued for 6 or more consecutive months, provided such disability commenced subsequent to the date of his application for insurance, while the insurance was in force under premium-paying conditions and prior to the insured's sixtieth birthday.

NEW SOCIAL SECURITY BOOKLET AVAILABLE

Although most workers know that their social security tax deductions are building up a retirement fund for them, many do not realize that they also may have some very valuable family insurance protection under the old-age and survivors insurance system.

This system, according to a statement made today by Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Social Security Board office in Abilene, provides monthly payments to several classes of dependent survivors. These include minor children up to the age of 18, the young widow with these children in her care, the widow at age 65, and under certain conditions—the dependent parent at age 65. In many families, particularly in those homes where the children are small, the insurance protection under social security is equal to a $10,000 or $15,000 policy.

The Social Security Board now has available a new booklet which describes the survivors insurance features of the plan, as well as the retirement provisions. A copy of this booklet may be obtained by calling at the Social Security Board Office, 205 Alexander Building, Abilene, Texas; by telephoning that office, dial 6303; or by sending in a postcard request. Ask for booklet number 35.

P. H. King of Dallas spent the weekend with his wife and daughter, Mildred Ann, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. King.

Mrs. G. E. Eager has returned to Clyde from Amarillo where she spent six weeks with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Eager, and with her little granddaughter, Nelda Frances, who was born April 11.

Who can remember when ladies shuddered at the thought that their dresses might get above their knees?

It won't be long now before somebody will point out that what the country needs is a good five-cent cigar.

The average citizen of any governmental unit fails to appreciate what he, or she, receives for the money paid as taxes.

MISS BETTY GAY LYDIA BECOMES BRIDE OF DON WILSON, JR.

Coming as a surprise to friends was the announcement Sunday of the recent marriage of Miss Betty Gay Lydia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heyser, of Putnam, and Don R. Wilson, Jr., of Denton. The nuptial was solemnized Sunday afternoon, May 26, at Saint Mark's Methodist Church in Fort Worth, but was not immediately announced. The marriage was the culmination of a romance begun at North Texas State Teachers College in Denton, where both were students until the groom's graduation a year ago. The bride, granddaughter of the late Mrs. J. B. Cutbirth of Baird, is well known throughout this county. She was graduated from Baird high school with the class of 1943, where she was prominent in dramatics and student affairs. She enrolled at North Texas State Teachers College the following autumn and has made an impressive record in scholastic achievement, being frequently cited on the dean's list. She completed junior work during the term just ended and plans to graduate next year. The groom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Don R. Wilson, Sr., of Dothan, Alabama, graduated from NTSTC last August, and has since been employed by radio station KDNT in Denton as a script writer and commercial announcer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are planning a brief bridal tour to this section some time this month, at which time they will visit with friends at Baird, Putnam, Cross Plains and other nearby communities.

MISS SHIRLEY POOL BECOMES BRIDE OF JIMMIE PIERSON

Miss Shirley Pool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olton B. Pool, and Jimmie Pierson, popular young couple of this city, were quietly united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at high noon Saturday, June 1st. Justice of the Peace G. H. Corn, grandfather of the bride, performed the ceremony.

An arrangement of white daisies centered the piano and sweet peas decorated the living room. The bride wore a winter white Dressmaker suit with black accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

A graduate of Baird High School this term, the bride was Headlight Queen, chapel representative, head pep squad leader, member of the historian club, home economics club, personality club and also featured in a number of articles.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pierson, was a graduate of the class of 1944. Receiving his discharge recently, he had served two years on an LST in the European Theater of War.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on their wedding trip to Beaver, Oklahoma. They will make their home in Baird temporarily.

Doyle Nordyke and Charles Walker went to San Angelo Wednesday of last week to take their physicals to enter the army air corps. They spent from Saturday until Wednesday here, and then reported to Ft. Sam Houston for processing.

Bryan Bradbury is a candidate for Congress. For those of you who are not acquainted with him, his friends invite your attention to the following:

Bryan Bradbury was born in Brown County, Texas, in 1912.

He was reared in a country newspaper shop and also worked in the harvest fields. He graduated from the Abilene High School but was financially unable to attend college at that time. He worked in a print shop during the day and studied law at night.

He was admitted to the practice of law in 1934.

In 1934 he was elected to the Texas Legislature and served three terms. During this time he was a member of several important committees and chairman of one. He advocated legislation to aid the rural schools, child welfare, rural libraries, old age assistance and other bills for the benefit of the people. He was the leader in the fight to abolish discrimination in freight rates which will ultimately mean a large savings to the farmers and ranchers of the Southwest. As time permitted, he attended McMurry College and the University of Texas.

He served more than two years in the Navy.

He is married and has one child.

He is a member of the Baptist Church and several civic organizations and has contributed much to his community.

The friends of Bryan Bradbury recommend him highly. He has always had to work hard for everything he has accomplished and we believe that in this great land of ours you will want to help this man as he tries to climb higher.

THE RISEN LORD

When Joseph buried the body of Jesus, the hopes of the disciples were buried in the same grave with the body whom they trusted should have redeemed Israel. Did the enemies of Jesus remove the body? Surely they had no motive for so doing. They had crucified Jesus; they felt that His work was ended, and they took precaution to keep his body in the grave. If they removed the body why did they not produce it on Pentecost, when Peter boldly proclaimed the resurrection of Christ?

Thus far our evidence has been circumstantial, but now we have the testimony of eyewitnesses. They saw Him, ate with Him and talked with Him after His resurrection. He appeared to: Mary Magdalene (Mark 16:9-11); to the other women a little later (Matthew 28:1, 9-10); to Simon Peter (Luke 24: 34; I Corinthians 15:5); to the two disciples on the way to Emmaus (Mark 16:12; Luke 24:15); to the apostles in the absence of Thomas (Mark 16:14, Luke 24:36-48); to the apostles, including Thomas, a week later (John 20:26, I Corinthians 15:5); to seven disciples at the Sea of Galilee (John 21:1-2), to 500 disciples (I Corinthians 15:7, and to Paul also (I Corinthians 15:6); to James (I Corinthians 15:7); to the apostles at Olivet (I Corinthians 15:7); and to Paul also (I Corinthians 15:8). If these statements were untrue why did not the enemies call them in question, impeach their testimony, and thus forever settle the matter, and put an end to Christianity forever? These disciples testified that Jesus arose from the grave and gave their lives rather than retract their statements.

Humanity has always set aside certain days commemorative of certain events. The Jewish Sabbath was a day that was holy to the Jew, for it memorialized the deliverance of his fathers from Egyptian bondage (Deuteronomy 5:15). Now to abandon that day, as every Jewish Christian did, and observe a new day of the week, having a different object in view, was a great difficulty with the early Jewish Christians. Before the resurrection of Christ, there was no special observance of the first day of the week. But after the Savior arose from the grave, and after His church was established, His disciples met on the first day of the week to break bread in memory of His death and resurrection. (Acts 20:7). Historians tell us that Christians continued this practice throughout the first few centuries of the Christian era. Today, Christians meet on the Lord's day. How can you account for this custom if Jesus did not arise from the dead upon this day?

We all love monuments. We honor great men by erecting monuments in their honor. The Lord's Supper is a monumental institution. When instituting this sacred supper, Jesus said: "Do this in remembrance of me." (Luke 22:19) This monument has stood throughout the centuries. It is observed each first day of the week by His faithful followers. How did this monument happen to be if Jesus did not rise from the dead?

If Jesus be not risen, His promise to us of a resurrection is void (I Corinthians 15:14, 17). The testimony of the empty tomb of Christ still stands today as irrefutable evidence. It says

I am serving my fourth year as a member of the board of directors of a home for the aged. Out of these years of service has come the conviction that we should stop thinking of an old age pension as a dole which we grant to the needy. I believe in an old age pension as a matter of right—as something we earn in our productive years by our contributions to the upbuilding of the community. I shall do my best to see that just principles are embodied in our pension laws. We have had far too much political hypocrisy in connection with this issue in recent years.

Labor and Industry
Strikes and labor disputes are today the most disturbing issues in our national life. America stands on the brink of economic disaster. Once we thought it could not happen here. Regardless of the justice or injustice of individual strikes, when the welfare of our nation itself is threatened, we must call a halt. When collective bargaining fails in such cases, I favor compulsory arbitration by a government agency responsible to the people. Though we may disagree as to the remedy for these ills, we are all agreed on our aspirations for our country. All of us aspire to establish social and economic justice and to maintain equality of opportunity. Stabilization of the relationship between labor and industry must be established and maintained. American institutions, traditions and ideas depend upon this.

In 1940 I received an appointment from the U. S. Department of Commerce as assistant supervisor of the 17th district for the Bureau of Census. I traveled over ten thousand miles over the district in this capacity. It was truly a fact-finding job. During the business census I came to know the problems which confront the business man both large and small, as well as the problem of the farm and stockman. The growth and welfare of our district must be aided and encouraged by a courageous voice in Congress. I propose to work with our business leaders in the removal of discriminations against the Southwest, and with our public officials and other groups who seek advice and assistance, from Federal agencies. My compelling desire is to represent and serve all the people of the 17th Congressional District in every attempt in making our district a better place in which to live.

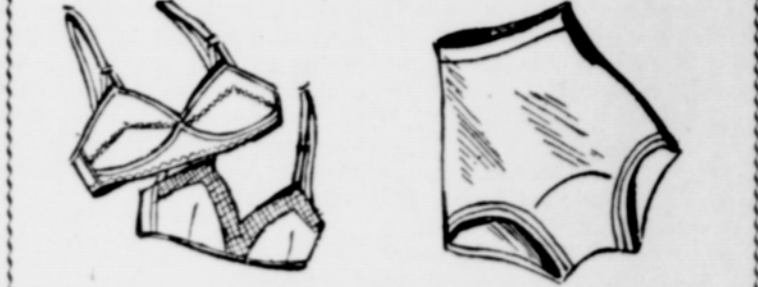

Mr. and Mrs. Z. E. Sikes of Angelo spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. W. A. Sikes, and with Mrs. Sikes' brother, L. M. Green and Mrs. Green, in Clyde.

Mrs. O. T. Cooper of Corpus Christi is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Ross.

CULL POULTRY FLOCKS NOW

The present ceiling prices on corn, wheat and other grains and protein concentrate means that heavy culling must be done in farm and commercial flocks if poultry men hope to stay "in the black" on egg production.

It takes around 11 pounds of feed to produce eggs from a hen that is laying at the rate of 80 eggs per year. A 200 egg hen will lay a dozen eggs on five pounds of feed.

Poultry specialist estimated that 3 1/2 million Texas hens, or about one out of seven in the average flock, was costing her owner money instead of bringing it in.

While culling "boarders" from the flock is always good business, it is especially necessary now because of the feed situation. Many low-producing hens in poultry flocks are eating feed at the rate of four to five pounds per month, so two birds culled out now will save a sack of feed in the next year.

The feed so saved can go to relieve the food and feed shortage elsewhere, or two young birds can be raised up to production on what one old one would eat in the meantime.

4-H DELEGATES TO NATIONAL CAMP ANNOUNCED

The two girls and two boys who have been chosen to represent Texas 4-H Clubs at the National 4-H Club Encampment in Washington, D. C., June 11-18, have been announced by Lorene Stevens ad James Potts, 4-H Club specialist for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. The winners are Eddie Virginia King, Howland, Lamar County; Lanette Riedel, Buda, Travis County; Billie P. Hancock, Lakeview, Hall County; and Jackie Gene Brock, Floydada, Floyd County.

Usually an annual affair, the 1946 encampment will be the first to be held since 1941. Objectives for the Camp are to help 4-H delegates study at first hand the work of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and other government departments, to gain a better understanding of the national government and the important part that can be played by each citizen, and to confer together regarding the development of a strong rural leadership and a richer and fuller life for all those living in the country.

The Texas boys and girls will be accompanied to Washington by Miss Stevens and Mr. Potts, and the Texas and New Mexico groups will travel together by automobile.

ORCHARD TREATMENT URGED

With trees and shrubs damaged by hail in the county in the last few days, they should be treated to prevent infection or fungus growth.

A Bordeaux wash made by mixing one pound of Bordeaux mixture, which can be obtained at a drug store, with five gallons of water, is recommended. This mixture should be applied over the damaged surface with a paint brush or something similar. After treatment, wait for 20 days and then apply orange shellac to the damaged areas.

For pecan rosette, spray now, when pecan foliage is about full size, using one pound of zinc sulphate to 50 gallons of water. This spray may be used in combination with three pounds of lead arsenate to 50 gallons of water for control of nut-case-bearer.

GET GRASSHOPPER POISON

G. O. Weeks of the Eula community was the first farmer to come by the office to secure grasshopper bait. Now is the time to control these pests with poison bait before they get their wings. The county agents office has bran and poison, (sodium fluosilicate) for your asking. Mr. Grote, County Agent, requests that you bring a sack for the bran and a box or other suitable container for the poison when you come in for the materials.

Mr. Weeks figures he can control the grasshoppers better if he gets them before they get into his cotton.

DDT SPRAY

Ranchers and farmers have been using DDT rather extensively for the control of hornflies. C. B. Snyder has a good idea for a spraying rig and it really gets the work done. My first day in the county, Mr. Shockey took me out to this place and he sprayed 156 head in less than fifteen minutes. Mr. Snyder has a six horse-power engine hooked to a centrifugal pump, from which he operates two sixty foot hoses. A very satisfactory arrangement.

SIX SONGS SPARK "HIT THE HAY" TO HIT

There are six songs in Judy Canova's current Columbia Pictures' musical, "Hit the Hay," starring her and featuring Ross Hunter, Fortunio Bonanova, Doris Merrick and Gloria Holden at the Plaza Theatre, Owl Show.

"Old MacDonald Had a Farm," long a vocal standby of social clubs all over the nation, will have its first hearing on the screen when Judy warbles it with a male chorus. The origin of this bucolic number is believed to date back to Elizabethan times.

Also with a male chorus, Judy will sing an original operatic satire of "William Tell" called "Tillie Tell" by Mario Silva and Foreman Brown.

Then, there is a medley sung by Judy solo. It includes "Una Voce Poco Fa" from "Barber of Seville," "Caro Nome" from "Rigoletto" and "Sempre Libera" from "La Traviata."

In a different vein is "No Other Love" by Chet Forrest and Bob Wright which Miss Canova also solos.

Back to opera again, there is the opening chorus of "Martha," sung by sixteen girls and a male chorus. And from the same opera Judy, with a quartette and male chorus, sings an aria from the third act.

FOLLOW THESE STEPS IN PREPARING FRUITS FOR FREEZING

Selecting Fruit

Use only sound, ripe fruit. If fruit is too green, it shivels and lacks in flavor and color. If it is too ripe, but still good, it is better to make a fruit juice or puree with it. Certain kinds and varieties of fruit yield a better product than others, therefore, give priority to those fruits which yield the best quality.

Preparing

Fruits are prepared as for eating. Keep fruit cold from the time it is gathered until frozen. The fruit should be washed in cold water.

How to prevent discoloration in certain fruits

Peaches, apricots, apples, and pears discolor easily. There are several ways to prevent this:

1. Dissolve 1 level teaspoon thiocarbamide (also called thiourea) in 1 gallon cold water. Allow peeled fruit to stay in solution 1 minute; then drain for 30 minutes to 1 hour in a cool place before packing.

2. Use 125 mg. of vitamin C for each pint of fruit. Vitamin C comes in tablets of 25 mg., 50., and 100 mg., potency. You would use 1 1/4 of 100 mg. tablet. Dissolve the tablet in sugar syrup which is to cover the fruit.

3. Mix 4 level teaspoons citric acid or 3 tablespoons lemon juice in 1 quart cool water. Leave fruit in solution only 5 to 10 minutes, then pack immediately.

4. Dissolve 1/4 to 1/2 ounce sodium bisulfite in 1 gallon water. Leave peeled fruit in solution 1 minute. Drain for 30 minutes to 1 hour in a cool place before packing. The disadvantage of this method is that the fruit should be heated after thawing and before eating.

5. Mix 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice and 2 tablespoons salt with 1 gallon cold water. Let the peeled pieces remain in solution only long enough to prepare enough fruit to pack a few cartons, not longer than 15 to 20 minutes. Drain, pack and freeze immediately. This is not as effective as the first method.

6. Scalding peaches and apricots for 1 or 2 minutes in boiling water to remove peel also destroys some enzymes which cause discoloration. If this is used, fruit should be chilled quickly after scalding.

Using sugar or sugar syrup

Sugar or sugar syrup helps most fruit to hold its shape, color and flavor. The amount of sugar must be determined by the availability of sugar and the tastes of the family. Usually one-half to one cup of sugar per quart of fruit is desirable. For very sweet, ripe fruit less sugar may be used and for sour fruit, use more sugar when it is available.

To make syrup, dissolve the sugar in boiling water. Then chill the syrup before pouring it over the prepared fruit. One pound (two cups) of sugar dissolved in one quart of water should cover four quarts of well packed fruit.

Dry sugar may be used for small whole berries, crushed or sliced large berries, cherries, plums and very juicy pineapple. Mix the sugar with the prepared fruit. Use three to five parts fruit to one part sugar. Stir or allow to stand in cool place until enough juice is drawn from the fruit to dissolve the sugar and to make its own syrup.

Packing

After the fruit is prepared, pack it into containers. Be sure that syrup or fruit juice covers the pieces. If dry sugar is used, enough juice should be drawn from the fruit to cover all pieces. If enough juice is not drawn out, some of the softer fruit should be crushed or cold water added to cover.

Mrs. Frank Jones of San Antonio is visiting here.

Health and Beauty

THE CARE OF THE THROAT AND NECK

"Well, whatever she uses on her face, she neglects to put on her neck and throat," was the catty remark about a lady whose face was passing fair, but whose throat and neck screeched to the observer that Father Time was leaving his marks upon them.

If neglected, the throat takes revenge by proclaiming the age of the possessor with unerring accuracy. Lines and wrinkles come which finally fall into folds and deep creases. No woman can be even passably good looking with a throat such as I have described.

A surprising number of women bestow some care upon their faces, but never extend such attention to their throats, and the result is bound to be disastrous. The neck is peculiarly susceptible to discolorations of various kinds.

It is the favorite place for the deposit of ugly brown spots which give the effect of grime and dirt. It is a common thing to see women with the half the neck covered on the sides by brown pigmented blotches. This condition betokens a sluggish liver and inactive glands. It tells of impaired health. Thus there is more to a discolored and blotched neck and throat than mere unsightliness. What must be done about it?

Get up in the morning and thank your Creator for all the mercies that He has so abundantly bestowed upon you, then go to an open window, raise your hand and arms to a level with the shoulders and breathe deeply. With your lungs full of air, contract the hands and arms and breathe out with resistance.

You do this by trying to hold your breath while you are slowly expelling it from the lungs. If you are standing before a mirror you will perceive that the muscles of the neck and throat swell out and become very tense and hard. Repeat this exercise a number of times, then repeat with the difference that you percuss (slap) the chest and abdomen while you breathe out.

Throw the head as far back as possible, contract the body, then open and close the mouth with resistance until tired. These exercises will fill out the throat, improve the neck and round out the chin. When you retire at night apply plenty of massage cream, rub the throat muscles upward and the neck with a circular movement upward and backward until the whole surface is covered. Open and close the mouth several times with resistance in order to tense the muscles. In order to open and close the mouth with resistance, try opening the mouth wide holding it shut and vice versa. This tenses the muscles and brings fresh blood to build the tissues.

At night cleanse the neck, face and throat with massage cream. Remove cleanser with soft old linen, then put on your astringents or whatever beautifiers you please, provided they are safe and scientific. You will be rewarded in a few weeks by a greatly improved appearance.

JUNE 30 A BIG DATE FOR ARMY MEN!

If you have been discharged from the Army—if you held a grade and wish to retain it—if you have dependents—then act now. . . . June 30, 1946, is the last day on which you can enlist in the Regular Army and still take advantage of two important benefits . . . retention of your old grade and family allowances.

Family allowances for your dependents will be continued throughout your enlistment only if you enter the Regular Army before July 1, 1946.

If you have been discharged from the Army and wish to enlist at your old grade, you must enlist within 90 days after your discharge. And before July 1, 1946. Think it over. Act now.

Ford Honored in Auto Golden Jubilee

Contrasts between 1896-1946 are shown in this photograph of the first and most recent Ford cars.

Dearborn, Mich.—Henry Ford, working in his machine shop at 58 Bagley avenue, Detroit, in 1893, dreamed of liberating the world from a slow, horse-drawn kind of civilization.

Three years later, on June 4, 1896, he rolled his first gasoline driven buggy into the street, and the celebration in Detroit this year of the automotive industry's Golden Jubilee is a tribute to his vision.

Today, more than 31,000,000 Ford cars and trucks have been built and Ford Motor Company plants span the earth.

The present Ford Motor Company was formed in 1903, and success was immediate. At the end of four months a dividend was paid to the original 12 stockholders.

In 1903, the company moved from the two-story Mack avenue plant to a new four-story building at Piquette and Beaubien, Detroit. Production soared as models A, B, C, F, K, S and R were introduced in quick succession, and five months later the first of the famous model T's was introduced.

In December 1909, the company moved again, this time to its new 61-acre Highland Park plant. Here the first endless chain conveyor was installed. It was the birth of low-cost production and the beginning of the liberation of labor.

In 1914 Henry Ford started the world by announcing Ford employees would work only eight hours a day and receive a minimum daily wage of $5.

Again the Ford Motor Company needed breathing space, so in 1915 a thousand acres of land were acquired on the Rouge river in Dearborn.

Henry Ford had purchased the stock held by Alex Malcolmson in 1906 and had become president and controlling owner, and in 1919 the Ford family acquired the interest of the minority stockholders for $75,000,000 and became sole owners.

Eagle boats were built in the Rouge plant during World War I, and after the war many activities were transferred to the new plant from Highland Park. On Oct. 31, 1925, an all-time production record was set with 10,000 Model T cars built in a single day.

In December 1927, the new model A was introduced and the next year Henry Ford announced a minimum $7-a-day wage.

In 1922 the Ford Motor Company paid $8,000,000 to Henry M. Leland and his son, Wilford, for the assets of the Lincoln Motor Car Co. It was not until 16 years later that the Mercury was introduced.

The miracle of Ford production continued to pour automobiles from assembly lines across the nation, and the need for more space still plagues the company. Today more than $225,000,000 has been earmarked for expansion.

On May 26, 1943, Edsel Ford, president of the company, died suddenly and Henry Ford, then past 80, again took over the presidency. Soon after this, Henry Ford II, Edsel's eldest son, was released from the U. S. Navy to assume the duties that had been his father's for so many years.

Recently, his brother Benson, after three years in the armed forces, has returned to take up duties in the company and help his brother carry on the great Ford tradition in the automobile industry.

WINFREE OPENS CAMPAIGN

The importance of the office of lieutenant governor was stressed by Jo Ed Winfree of Houston Monday, June 3, in Canton when he officially opened his statewide campaign for that position.

The 54-year-old Harris County legislator said that the lieutenant governor of Texas "can make or break the administration of any governor," adding that "those who really have the power to affect the welfare of the entire state are the legislators and senators," whom he termed "the ones who make our laws and spend our tax money."

"Probably one of the most powerful bodies in America today is the Texas senate, over which your lieutenant governor presides. By his appointment of committees, particularly free conference committees, he can to a certain extent exert great influence in the passage or defeat of legislation," Mr. Winfree said.

MAISIE'S WAY TO WARD OFF WOLVES

The importance of dressing for a job has never been emphasized more forcefully than in Ann Sothern's latest adventures as the heroine of "Up Goes Maisie," opening on the Plaza screen this Sunday and Monday.

After Maisie discovers that hunting a job as a secretary eventually resolves itself down to track-meets around prospective employers' desks, she adopts an ill-fitting brown suit, brogues, a slicked back hair-do and a Queen Mary hat. Then, to cinch the old theory about "men never make passes," she effects a pair of heavy, horn-rimmed spectacles. It works.

Discovered in this masquerade, she attempts to explain to her boss, George Murphy, that this is not a disguise but the only protection for a girl whose bosses make her a compulsory defense worker.

"If I didn't wear this," she says "I'd have to resort to boxing gloves and a catcher's mask!"

Together with Murphy, the cast of "Up Goes Maisie" features Hillary Brooke, Horace McNally, Ray Collins and Jeff York, under the direction of Harry Beaumont.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Tate, Abilene spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dockery and son, James Thomas, in Clyde.

Velma McCollum, librarian in the Lubbock high school is spending the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McCollum, at Clyde.

Prediction: When the atomic bomb tests are over the experts will be divided into two or three groups, with the same divided opinions that are now extant.

There are some structures in Baird that would be benefited by an application of the CLEAN-UP and PAINT-UP idea.

The President says that what the nation needs is work, and more work. That's what a lot of us feared.

If you need IRON...

YOU SHOULD know about an efficient tonic called PURSIN, developed by one of America's leading pharmaceutical houses. Iron (iron ammonium citrate) as supplied by PURSIN, is easily assimilated, causing a RAPID BLOOD RESPONSE in iron-deficient anemias of nutritional origin. It is almost universally accepted to date that iron, when taken orally and in sufficient quantities, is absorbed, assimilated and CONVERTED INTO HEMOGLOBIN, an important part of the RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES.

PURSIN also contains Vitamins B₁ and B₂. One tablespoonful of PURSIN 3 times a day furnishes for adults and children 12 years or more the FULL MINIMUM DAILY REQUIREMENT OF VITAMIN B₁ and one-quarter the minimum daily requirement of B₂.

So if you need a tonic to help supplement your supply of iron and vitamins B₁ and B₂, and to AID IN STIMULATING YOUR APPETITE... get PURSIN today. Only $1.00 for a 10-oz. bottle, $2.75 for three bottles, $5.00 for six bottles.

If satisfactory results are not apparent after using three bottles of PURSIN, your money will be refunded—Consult your physician.

Iron-deficient anemia of nutritional origin develops if insufficient iron-containing food is eaten. In certain rare instances, this condition may develop due to the inability to absorb and assimilate from the food the ingested iron. In both these instances, a large supplementary source of iron is needed to aid the body in producing RICH, RED BLOOD, the carrier of invigorating oxygen to the body tissue for revitalization and repair.

NOT ON YOUR TINTYPE

Grandma looks calm and collected as she poses for posterity, but she wasn't—not on your tintype! Getting her family ready for this picture was a long, weary business.

The day this photo was snapped, Grandma was up at dawn, wrestling with the old wood stove, coaxing the kettle to boil, cooking breakfast. And the day before, she ironed the mountain of starched clothes that had needed such hard scrubbing. The day before that—

But that was Grandma's life. She didn't know any other kind. Her way of housekeeping took lots of time, lots of elbow grease. In Grandma's gayest dreams she never imagined the time would come when a woman would have dozens of electric servants daily for the cost of a bar of soap.

Electric service—ready and willing round the clock and calendar—is a modern miracle Grandma missed by being born too soon. But electrical dependability (and cheapness, too) didn't happen by accident. Not on your tintype! They're the result of plenty of hard work and practical experience on the part of your neighbors who operate this company.

AN OPEN LETTER ON GENERAL CONDITIONS
Dear Bairdites:
I'm not so hot on figuring out the cause of present conditions such as the lack of houses--there are 'bout the same number of folks and the same number of houses hereabouts, but for some reason or tother, the houses have runout. Doesn't it beat all get out?
I ain't none worried. This here is the best darned country in the whole trouble plagued world to live in and always has been and always will be. Like Dr.
Griggs says, "let's have patients."
Tha's my motto.

there not I repair em just like they do in the factory and even include a guarantee, on my work for ninety days. Land's sakes
I'm doing my part. I still charge the same old dollar and four bits to tune up yer old radio and make her play like new, ifen it needs nary new parts.
Drop in my shop anytime. Let's talk conditions, especially the condition of yer old radio. I kin fix it betcha betcha. The City Pharmacy located their drug store right next door to me.
Thanks,
