DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS AND DEVELOPMENT OF BAILEY COUNTY AND THE GREAT MULESHOE COUNTRY

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1956

From a permanent population of 3,000, Ruidoso, perched in the mountains of New Mexico four hours' drive from here, swells to an estimated 20,000 during certain periods of the summer. We visited this "playground of the Southwest" last weekend. It found it cool and delectable, the scenery beautiful if not spectacular, and we asked our long time friend, Vick Lamb, editor of the Ruidoso News what makes Ruidoso tick.

"It's our climate," says Vick. "Our daytime temperatures range about like your night time temperatures. And it's fine here in winter. Our lowest temperature last winter was 24 below; but there's no wind to cut through your clothing as it does in the Panhandle and I have never seen a person shivering from cold here."

Vick says they built two new schools last year and some five or six new churches. He and 70 others helped organize the First National Bank three or four years ago, and its stock is eagerly sought after. More streets are being improved and as the town gets older it gets more comfortable and convenient to live in.

Ruidoso Downs, the famous race track, must be in one of racing's most beautiful settings. Pine clad mountains enclose the town in a snug valley. In the last two or three years vast improvements to the plant have been made and more are contemplated. It's said to be one of the country's fastest growing.

Our press pass was good for a visit to the Jockey Club, whose members planked down $300 to get into it. Bill Key, public relations man for the Downs, and Joe Riley, Club manager were most gracious to me and party. Bill said some horse owners in this vicinity race their ponies at the track and at least one local family belongs to the Jockey Club.

Cree Meadows, frequented by many local golfers in summer, is said to be one of the most attractive golf courses in the country. It's a tough course to play, we heard, and the golfer has to be ready to do some climbing.

Ruidoso offers many other attractions to the vacationer. It's not far from good fishing spots, there is bowling, target ranges, skating, horseback riding and other diversions. In winter when plenty of snow falls there is skiing for the venturesome.

I am not suggesting that you make any investments in Ruidoso, certainly not until you thoroughly study the situation. Lots in two new subdivisions are selling rapidly. But, says Vick, anything in Ruidoso is for sale except The News. His paper is a money maker, widely read, even by the vacationers.

But it seems there are always buyers coming in and those who have been there for some time realize a profit and buy something else. More really fine homes are being built now, however, than ever before in the history of the settlement, and this establishes a trend towards permanency and a year round economy.

Ruidoso is our closest vacation spot, and this part of Texas furnishes most of the visitors.

County Committee Of Water District Joins Bi State In Legislative Fight

NEW SHERIFF

The Bailey county committee of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District agreed Saturday afternoon to support the efforts of the Bi State Water Commission to obtain certain legislative changes in the rules of the High Plains District.

The Bi State steering committee, composed of Harold King, Jim Cox, Walter Wooten, Mud Wilson and Jack Young, was represented at the meeting of the county committee, which met to consider applications for three eight inch water wells filed by the city of Lubbock in water sands near the Lamb-Bailey county line.

The board tabled the applications without action, pending receipt of more information.

Members of the Bailey county committee are Guy Austin, Bill Garrett, Ray Carter, Robert Blackwood and A. H. Darieck. Mrs. Doris Trawick is secretary.

The program advocated by the Bi State Water Conservation District includes:

Greater spacing of wells to be used for non agricultural purposes. The district to enact a regulation to require spacing in proportion to excess production expected of municipal and industrial wells.

Metered production on non agricultural wells. The district to enact a regulation requiring meters on wells and reports of production to prevent excessive draw down in non agricultural wells.

Notices and public hearings be made mandatory on applications for non agricultural wells. District to enact regulation requiring public notice of hearing to be held in county where wells are to be located.

County committees be given authority to reject applications (which they do not now have) for wells production of which is to be used outside of county. District to enact regulation granting applications appeal from county decision with public hearing before district directors to determine final disposition of application. Hearing to be held in county where well to be drilled, after public notice has been published.

Daniel, Clements, Stafford, Morgan Win In Balloting Saturday; One Runoff In County

TO MEET IN RUNOFF

PRICE DANIEL, left, and Ralph Yarborough, right, will be contenders for the office of Governor of Texas in the runoff race to be held August 25. Daniel led Yarborough throughout the state, with W. Lee O'Daniel third in most counties.

Senator Price Daniel won an overwhelming majority vote for the governors race in Bailey county at the Saturday Democratic Primary election, defeating his nearest opponent former governor W. Lee O'Daniel by 730 to 473 votes. In county politics, only one runoff appeared likely early in the week, that in the precinct 3 county commissioners race. In the race for sheriff, incumbent Hugh Freeman was defeated by Dee Clements 1132 to 928. Bill Boothe, likewise was defeated in his bid for the office of county tax assessor-collector by Carey Stafford to the tune of 1039 to 876. Tom Morgan was re-elected commissioner of precinct 1, defeating R. E. Buhman and M. F. Mooney. Morgan got 623 votes; to Buhman 375, and Mooney, 132.

In the race for lieutenant governor, John Lee Smith garnered the top number of ballots, 717, with Ben Ramsey running a close second with 576, Aikin third with 308 and Johnson with 116.

Other candidates in the governors race and the number of votes they received were: Everett Hays, 221; J. J. Holmes, 71; Souter, 51, and Ralph Yarborough, 443. Yarborough will meet Daniel in the August 25 runoff election, and Smith will run against Ramsey for Lt. Governor.

A total of 2094 ballots were cast in the election in Bailey county Saturday, and returns were late being reported, due to the large number of ballots, and the size of the ballot. All returns in the more important state and county races were posted by midnight Saturday on the blackboards at Higginbotham Bartlett warehouse.

The Muleshoe Journal and radio station KMUL cooperated in posting the returns, and announcing the results of early tabulations in state races until late Saturday night.

The Journal wishes to thank all the merchants and individuals who cooperated to make the election party possible. They include the staff of KMUL, Higginbotham Bartlett, Morris Douglass-Implement Co., Cox Drive In Theatre, Taylor Sheet Metal Co., and a number of other individuals.

A complete tabulation of how Bailey county voted in the primary election will be found elsewhere in this issue.

RUNOFF
In the precinct 3 race, W. H. Eubanks, with 86 votes, and Chester Petree, with 85, will meet in the runoff August 25. Other candidates and their votes in cluded Cecil Cole 60, J. H. Sowder 27, and Dossie Terrell, 34 votes.

B. R. Putman was named county chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, over Karl Lovelady, by a vote of 1089 to 452.

Herbert C. Martin won in Bailey county voting for the post of associate justice court of civil appeals, with a vote of 1010 to the 474 garnered by his opponent, Alton Chipman. However, Chipman appeared to have won the post in district balloting.

Earl Rudder won handily the post of land commissioner, both in the county and state tabulations. In Bailey, he defeated Price by 898 to 562.

John White, incumbent, won the county nod for a return to the office of commissioner of agriculture with 920 votes. His opponents Jim Barber and Bill Jones received 339 and 219 votes respectively.

Incumbent Jesse James, candidate for state treasurer, also got approval over Warren G. Harding to the score of 1004 to 612.

Jesse M. Osborn, unopposed for reelection to the state Senate received 1508 votes. George Mahon, likewise unopposed won 596 Bailey county tallies. His other unopposed candidates included Jack Young, for county attorney with 1517 votes; Joe Cox, district attorney, 1371; J. J. Redwine, constable, 925 votes.

RACE QUESTIONS
The questions on integration in schools, intermarriage and interposition all carried in the county 1220-430, 1269-391, and 1125-248.

Votes were canvassed by the election board Tuesday night at 8:30 in the office of the school tax assessor.

Water Conservation District In Lamb County Sandhills Area Is Set For Election At An Early Date

County Judge Robert Kirk and the Lamb County Commissioners Court announced Monday in Littlefield that a preferential election will be held soon to determine whether or not a water development and improvement district shall be set up in the sand hills area of that county.

Directors named on a temporary basis to conduct the election included V. T. Tanner of Springlake, Coleman Terrell of Sudan, Frank Bozeman of Springlake, H. C. Armstrong of Littlefield, Gerald Allison of Pleasant Valley and Troy Armes of Littlefield.

The Court heard four hours of evidence including that of Gordon Willis of Lubbock, an independent hydrologist who said that if the district extended the life of irrigated farming in the county two years, the bond issue will have been worth while.

The proposed district covers approximately 50 square miles of Lamb county sandhills beginning on the west in League 206 and extending eastward over three fourths of the width of the county.

The area contains from 150 to 200 feet of water bearing sand, Willis said.

If the election carries, date of which has not yet been set, a bond issue will be called for about $101,000 to purchase water rights beneath 32,600 acres which is expected to produce at maximum, 855,000 acre feet of water.

The district would pay property owners $31 per acre for water rights, which would be about $1.17 per acre foot.

The area is adjacent to the water rights owned by Southwestern Public Service Co., and the City of Littlefield.

Under the statutes, water could only be used inside the county, and could not be used by any city or individuals outside Lamb county.

To pay for the bond issue, an ad valorem tax of 30 cents for each $100 evaluation would be placed on property within the district. Only property owners within the district, about 100, would be eligible to vote in the election creating the district.

The tax district has an assessed evaluation of $17.5 million and 90 per cent collections would realize about $47,000 annually.

County Leaders Meet Friday To Plan For T. R. F.

Last Friday night, leaders of the county met in the REA office in Muleshoe to make further plans for Bailey County's part of the proposed Texas Research Foundation.

Workers were appointed to take pledges in the rural areas. A drive will be made of the businesses at a later date. If you are called upon to support the subscription, make a pledge regardless of how large or how small, because the success of the project will depend on the interest in the area. The more supporters we can get, the more successful the station will be.

Lonnie M. Bass, secretary of the High Plains Field Station stated that 10 pledges had been made in the amount of $4575.00 for the 5 years. The Muleshoe State Bank has made a substantial pledge for the 5 year program. It is interesting to note that 8 out of the 10 pledges so far are from farmers.

A series of meetings have and are being held this week. A meeting was held in Littlefield Tuesday, Hereford Wednesday. A meeting will be held in the Bovina high school auditorium tonight at 8 p. m., and the Dimmitt District Courtroom Friday night August 3, at 8 p. m.

Speakers for these meetings are Huey Whitehurst and Earl Collier from the Texas Research Foundation at Renner, Texas.

County Farmers Place 3742 Acres In Soil Bank Plan

A total of 81 applications were received in Bailey county for soil bank benefits, according to Charles Daniels, ASC office manager in Muleshoe.

Daniels said that the deadline Friday for filing applications, found 3742 acres placed in the soil bank, 1296 acres of cotton, mostly dryland, and 2446 acres of wheat.

Payments, if all compliances are met, will amount to about $36,000, Daniels said.

The cotton acreage will pay about $22,000, and the wheat about $14,000.

Plans are to begin checking compliances right away, and to get first payment checks to farmers by the end of August or first of September.

These People Are Enjoying Renewed Health And Vitality Because of Chiropractic - SEVERE PAINS IN LOWER BACK

Case History: Lady, Age 56; Symptoms and Case History: Patients statement: "My lower spine and hip joints hurts me very bad. Occasionally, the pain is so bad, it is unbearable. Also, my leg gets numb and hurts very much hindering me from doing my work."

After an examination in the Chiropractic Clinic, where the so-called Hopeless Dr. G. Well, the primary cause of her condition was found. The X-ray pictures of her spine showed misalignments, distortions, and displacements of vertebrae. The nerve test analysis determined the amount of pressure on nerves in her spinal column. She decided to take a series of Chiropractic health treatments to correct the cause of her disorders.

Ruptured Discs

Case History: Man, age 31, came to the Chiropractic Clinic after reading an ad describing a condition similar to his. He had been confined with extreme back pain which was aggravated by a spinal tap which in turn started terrific headaches. He was medically diagnosed "ruptured discs" and was told it would take a year or more to recover. In an effort to avoid an expensive and dangerous spinal fusion operation, he consulted us. After an examination consisting of nerve analysis and spinal X-ray at the clinic, this man began corrective spinal adjustments. His pain was lessened from the first adjustment. His condition continued to correct rapidly until in less than six months he was doing heavier

The double-ring ceremony was read before a picture window decorated with floral arrangements and greenery, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Caroway, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. Officiating was Dr. J. E. Shewhart, cousin of the bride. Parents of the couple are Mrs. H. A. Patterson, of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, of Lubbock. # New Pink Brick Home of Jim Cox Family On West Seventh Street Completed On July 1

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cox and their 11 year old son Edwin moved into their new pink brick home on West Seventh street July 1, and are busily settling down into its spacious comfort, after spending the past several years in what they describe as a small four room house.

Small could hardly be applied as a descriptive term to their new home, which features 2200 square feet of very practical and decorative floor space, double garage and storage room.

Mrs. Cox is planning to furnish the house throughout in early American and provincial furniture styling, to augment the tastefully done brick panels, tiny figured wall paper, and graceful lighting fixtures.

A large living room is separated from the entry by a built in divider which doubles as a clothes closet and storage place for extra chairs and a game table. Cocoa carpeting is used in the entry, the living room and the hall way.

The living room hall and entry walls are pebble tan, and drapes in the living room are pebble, gray and blue.

DEN-KITCHEN

Louvered doors separate the living room from the kitchen and den, which are done with birch panelling stained in a Salem finish. Blue vinyl flooring makes the room immensely practical, as do matching blue formica counter tops on the cabinets and breakfast bar. Panelled wainscoting in the kitchen is set off by figured paper on the walls and ceiling with matching cafe curtains.

Full length kitchen windows in the den offer a breathtaking picture of the old ranch land, and open onto a tiled patio in the back yard.

Brass hanging fixtures carry out the colonial theme.

BEDROOMS
There are three spacious bedrooms. The guest room is in blue, white and pink, with a blue cotton carpet, matching drapes and bisque white provincial furniture.

Edwin's room is in shades of green, with a brown motif in the clever drapes which feature prints of game birds and guns. Since Edwin is a southpaw, the drawers on his built in desk, are placed on the left side. The desk is covered with green formica.

Spacious closets abound, one being especially set aside for the storage of a roll away bed for extra guests.

The master bedroom is in shades of tan and brown and pink, with the drapes accenting the color scheme.

The house was built by Higginbotham-Bartlett Company of Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Cox speak in glowing praise of the carpenters, crew and painters who devoted so much obvious care to making the home just what the owners had in mind.

LARGE BATHROOM
An outstanding feature of the home is the main bathroom. This consists of a larger than average powder room with clay tiled counter tops, huge mirrors, and adequate lighting. Surrounding this room are three smaller closed compartments, housing the shower, tub and dressing rooms. A half bath is located near the service entrance and storage room, which is plumbed for automatic washer and dryer.

The Cox family is enjoying their new home, and we believe any family would under the circumstances. It is tastefully decorated, comfortably large, and still extremely home like.

By W. M. POOL, Jr.

Have you ever had that helpless feeling of seeing a fire fan out with incredible speed racing forward and destroying valuable property? It's a feeling we hope you will never experience if you follow these few simple precautions.

Never burn on a dry, windy day. Always burn against any wind for it acts as a natural brake. Always get a fire permit from your fire department of fire warden. Let your neighbors know when you're going to burn.

In burning off a field, plow or clear a fire lane around the field. If you are just going to burn a little rubbish use a good stout incinerator. Don't be afraid to call the fire department if the fire is in any danger of getting out of control.

Make sure that you have adequate Fire Insurance on your property by calling—

Camp Stove Helps Vacationers Save

Many families who are taking to the open road for their vacations this year are saving as much as $7 or $8 a day on food costs by packing a camp stove and portable picnic cooler into the car.

Instead of being constantly watchful for clean-looking roadside restaurants, they pull over and eat wherever and whenever they want. A Coleman camp stove helps prepare hot food the way the family likes it. And the cooler keeps fresh vegetables, milk and other perishables always ready.

The George Espensons, of West St. Paul, Minn., and their two children, for example, started on a 16-day trip to the Rockies by eating in restaurants at an average cost of $12 daily. After three days of this, they switched to preparing their own food on their Coleman stove. Their food costs dropped to $4.17 a day, a savings daily of $7.83 and a total savings on food for the trip of $102.79.

Short Course On Beef Cattle Set At A&M College

Marketing, outlook, dwarfism, breeding and improvement programs diseases and parasites and feeding are subjects which will be discussed at the two-day beef cattle short course scheduled for the Memorial Student Center at Texas A & M College, August 13-14.

According to John K. Riggs, chairman of the program committee, featured speakers will be Dr. A. D. Weber, Dean and Director of Agriculture at Kansas State College and Dr. L. N. Hazel, nationally known authority on animal breeding from Iowa State College.

Dr. Weber's contributions to research in the fields of animal nutrition, breeding and management have been outstanding and he will discuss two subjects on the short course program. "Expanding Outlets for Beef and Influence of Progeny on Performance Testing Work on the Beef Cattle Business."

Dr. Hazel is a native of Spur and received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech; his M. S. from Texas A & M and PhD from Iowa State College. Since completion of his graduate work, he has been associated with Dr. J. L. Lush at the Iowa school. He will discuss "Dwarfism" on the Tuesday morning session.

W. C. Haasse of the Agricultural Research Department of Swift and Company, Chicago, will discuss "New Methods of Marketing Beef" and Stuart Sherar of Houston, "The Texas Beef Cattle Improvement Association."

Teaching, research and extension service personnel of the Texas A & M College System will handle the other subjects listed for discussion. Riggs points out that any person interested in obtaining the latest information from research and practical experience on the listed subjects is welcome to attend the short course. "In fact," he says, "we'd like to have every Texas beef producer present for we feel that each can profit from the meet-

TEXANS ASK EGG GRADING LAW

Egg production is big business in Texas — 187 million dozen each year, to be exact. Yet Texas stands alone among the 48 states with no legal means of protecting its egg industry. As a result, the housewife suffers through unrestricted shipment of inferior egg products from other states, as well as frequent misgrading and labeling which sells her poor-quality eggs branded as "Top Quality."

Farmers and egg-industry men alike, are now asking that the State Legislature pass a uniform grading and labeling law. Such a law would have a double-purpose:

1. It would protect the consumer. The industry wants to guarantee the housewife that she will get 12 good eggs in every dozen she buys — and that the eggs actually are of the size and grade which the label claims.

2. It would assure the producer a fair price for the grade of egg he sells, by encouraging and promoting payment according to quality. Such a law is a strong possibility in the next session of the legislature. In the meantime — and especially during the hot summer months — industry men are recommending to producers methods to keep eggs fresh until they are sold and consumed.

Egg producers are urged to gather their eggs at least three times a day in wire baskets and leave them in the baskets overnight in a cool, damp, ventilated place.

A good on-the-farm storage temperature is around 50 to 65 degrees if eggs are marketed often. The humidity should be 65 to 80 percent.

THESE STEPS ARE ALSO SUGGESTED

1. Clean dirty eggs with steel wool, sandpaper or emery cloth. Be careful about actually washing unless you know the procedures recommended, or the quality can deteriorate rapidly after eggs are wet.
2. Pre-cool egg cases of cartons before packing eggs.
3. Pack eggs with the large end up.
4. Market at least twice a week, more often if possible.

steer or heifer gaining the normal pound a day on the range requires 10 gallons of water each day when the air temperature is 70 and 17 at 90 degrees.

Cutting feed allowances for steers on full fattening rations will decrease water consumption and may help a stockman through a short time water shortage, however, if feed allowances are sharply cut, considerable time may be required to get them back on full feed once the water shortage is relieved.

A 1,000 dairy cow gaining no weight but producing 35 pounds of 4 percent milk daily requires 18 gallons of water daily when air temperature is 70 degrees. She can be expected to drop to 25 pounds of milk at 90 degrees and will consume 19 gallons of water daily.

Body and size influence water intake and the scientists found with other factors equal, a 500 pound animal drinks 6 as much as a 1,000 animal and a 100 pound animal drinks 2 as much as a 1,000 pound one.

Using figures from Winchester-Morris tables it is possible for a stockman to estimate the probable daily water consumption of any large herd of cattle, and to plan an adequate water system for his farm or ranch.

Wife Aids 'Retired' Inventor

"Too old to work any more," said Professor O. A. Carnahan upon retiring from Syracuse University after 23 years of teaching mechanical engineering. But he kept on working in his basement shop with his wife, a skilled lathe hand, as his assistant, and, according to the July issue of Popular Science Monthly, is successfully developing something inventors have been tinkering with for 150 years. Professor Carnahan redesigned the old "hot-air" engine with the thought it might run an automobile. But the Coleman Company, of Wichita, Kan., became interested and retained the professor to perfect his motor as a gas-operated power plant for home air conditioning systems. Coleman already is in production on an internal combustion gas motor air-conditioning unit and is conducting research on the external combustion motor, open-type absorption, and binary-type refrigerant jet units. Any of these is intended to team up with a gas furnace for central year-round air conditioning.

EARLY SUPPLEMENT FEEDING REQUIRED IN DROUTH AREAS

The lack of moisture in many areas of the state has stopped the growth of pasture plants and brought about a need for supplementary feeding of dairy herds. Farm management specialists of the Texas A & M College System point out as plants mature, their nutritive value declines, especially the percentage of protein.

As protein content of the roughage drops, the loss must be offset by increasing the protein in the concentrate ration if top milk production is to be maintained.

The specialists, C. H. Bates of the Texas Extension Service and A. C. Magee and B. H. Stone of the Experiment Station, offer to dairymen five suggestions for beating the usual summer slump in milk output. Hay or silage is suggested as a supplement for pastures; boost the protein content of the concentrate mixture in accordance with the quality of the roughage the cows are receiving; graze the herd early or late in the day and provide plenty of shade as a protection against extreme heat; provide an adequate supply of clean water at all times and plan for early seeding of fall grazing crops. Keep the land on which the crops will be planted clean and in condition to hold moisture and they suggest getting a soil test made now.

They also offer a tip on buying hay. The best, they say, is usually hay which was cut while the plants were young. Hay from such plants is higher in leafiness and protein content and is actually a better buy even at a higher price than is hay made from mature plants.

Local county agents, point out the specialists, can supply bulletins and advice on many of the summer time problems which confront agricultural producers. They suggest a visit with him.

The opening session is scheduled to commence at 9:30 a. m. on August 13. Tours of the Animal Husbandry Department live-stock facilities will conclude each day's program.

PARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND L. JELER

One of the newest Farm Bureau members is Glenn D. Welch. Mr. Welch and family live north west of Bovina, where he is employed by James Readhimer. We are glad to see most farmers who use gasoline as a farm fuel filing for the 2c federal road tax refund. Next year, it will be a 3c refund, making a total of 8c per gallon exemption. Farm Bureau has championed both the state and federal road tax exemption for farm-used fuels. This channels approximately thirty two thousand dollars back to the pockets of Parmer County farmers, each year.

According to USDA reports, real markets, including exports for farm products, are looking somewhat better. We are hoping that milk market prices will exceed the loan offer enough that it will move from the field to market, instead of into government storage. Some wheat went that way this season, and a trend continuing in that direction would, we believe, bring relief to producers exceeding any government assistance possible.

Senate Bill 1135 is one we hope doesn't get far. It proposes making Civil Air Patrol and similar civilian defense project workers, auxiliary military members. The promise of disability and retirement benefits for workers and members of their families is being used to promote the bill. A few moves in that direction would put most Americans under direct supervision of military heads. A majority of independent civilian families is necessary to a continuing democratic nation like ours.

If farmers will take as much

BLACKWATER VALLEY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL • OUR STRENGTH

The Blackwater Valley SCD board of supervisors met July 16 in the office of the Bailey County Farm Bureau. Present were E. H. Eubanks, Virgil Nowell, E. N. MacCall, and Sherman Inman.

WHAT OTHERS ARE DOING

Cooperators are increasingly using summer legumes for both soil building and wind erosion protection. These legumes fit into a cash crop-soil building program by adding nitrogen and organic matter to the soil and furnishing a cash crop also.

Hubam clover, cowpeas and guar are all adapted to our area. Another soil building practice with summer legumes is cowpeas interplanted with peas. Bill Harmon, south of the sandhills has strip cropped 65 acres of land using cowpeas and cotton. Next year he will reverse his plantings. He will, with some showers, be able to combine his peas, and then shred the tops and work them into the soil. This organic matter will be beneficial to the productivity of his soil because of added nutrients, improves water holding capacity, and the plant soil moisture relationship.

A cover crop should be drilled on this land after harvest.

Mary acres of peas planted in cotton blanks have been observed. Also clover plantin, cowpeas in sorghum have been seen in the district.

"Good food grown on good soil properly prepared, will do more than all the medicines in the world to make life longer and happier for the average citizen."

interest in the establishment of the Texas Research Foundation sub-station as their bankers and other business friends have expressed so far, we believe it will be established. The proposed project would benefit the farmer first, and the interest of others is significant.

BAILEY COUNTY Farm Bureau News

BY LONNIE M. BASS

An all-important district policy development meeting will be conducted in Lubbock, August 14, at the Lubbock Hotel. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. and ending about 3 p. m.

The purpose of these meetings will be to discuss with County Farm Bureau policy development committees and other County Farm Bureau leaders improved methods and techniques for conducting county policy development meetings which will when put into practice enable County Farm Bureaus to conduct a more effective county policy development program.

These district meetings will also give county leaders an opportunity to get the thinking of surrounding counties in regard to certain issues.

Bailey County will hold their meeting at a later date to decide the issues they want pushed this year. If you have some ideas that would better agriculture you are urged to contact one of your policy development committees.

A good representation is expected from Bailey County to attend the district meeting.

Beauty-Plus-Service Need Filled by Asphalt Shingles

This young woman sunbathing herself on the patio protects her skin from burning rays with santan lotion and a beach umbrella. She probably isn't aware of it, but the asphalt shingle roof on her home is protected from the sun, too, by millions of rock or ceramic granules embedded in the asphalt-coated felt. In much the same way lotion and the shading umbrella protect a sunbather, the tough opaque granules keep the sun out of the asphalt, preventing the rays from drawing out the heavy oils and resins, assuring long life.

If you are planning to buy or remodel a home, remember the old saying, "beauty is as beauty does." These granules perform three main functions:

1. Protect the asphalt coating from sun and bad weather. The granules are hard and opaque. They resist the wearing effect of rain, snow and ice. Light rays cannot penetrate them.
2. Increase fire resistance. The granules are made of natural slate, quartz, trap rock, slag or clay subjected to a ceramic treatment. These materials can't burn.
3. Make the roof colorful. The granules are produced in almost every color imaginable and make asphalt shingles available in dozens of solid colors and blends, light or dark.

Babson Discusses CITY PROBLEMS AND TAXES

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 2. The Conference of Governors, meeting at Atlantic City recently, received a special report on the plight of American cities, which are now facing some peculiar and very difficult problems.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION
Of course, the most pressing problem of cities, and especially of our larger metropolitan centers, is traffic. For a good many years now, I have been telling my friends and readers that heavy traffic and insufficient parking spaces are choking our cities to economic death.

Traffic congestion is hastening the exodus of business enterprise from our large cities. But even more important, — heavy traffic is slowing down our whole economy and limiting our gross national product. Millions of productive hours are lost because of traffic snarls. In Chicago, to cite but one example which could be multiplied by thousands, busses were stationary a few years ago only 10% of their trip time. Today, owing to more frequent and longer traffic delays, these busses are stationary 40% of their trip time. This is one important reason for the need of higher fares. Five cents of every bus fare which you pay is necessary because of unregulated automobile congestion.

DOWNTOWN AREA BLIGHTS
A second, urgent problem of our cities is the tendency for in-city public and private property to deteriorate too rapidly. The great cities of our country are centers of power and commerce which testify to the fulfillment of the American dream. Yet, as I travel around the country, I am often appalled at the shabbiness of so many of our urban communities. In too many cities, entire streets have been permitted to fall into a shocking state of disrepair. This condition is often dangerous to life and limb, and also fire hazards.

Some of our proudest municipalities are limping along with obsolete residential and business street lighting. Run-down parks and athletic fields are all too common sights. Even city halls, which should be the focal point of community pride as well as of community activity, are often inadequate as to capacity and down-at-the-heel appearance.

AN EDITORIAL Legislation Is Needed

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 was created several years ago as a measure to prevent state control of underground water and water rights on the plains of Texas.

Counties in the district voted to create the district because the need was so apparent at that time.

But now it begins to look as though the tail is wagging the dog. The district has become too heavy with rules made at the time of the district creation which have become obsolete.

We refer particularly to the ruling which limits the county committees to mere rubber stamp action. County committees are composed of vol-

THE INCREASE OF TAXES

When taxes on real estate and personal property were first broached in the United States as the basis of municipal revenue, street lighting, were spent chiefly on streets, street lighting, parks athletic fields, and buildings for the proper transaction of public business. In more recent years demand for public-welfare projects financed by city government is becoming more insistent. Funds for their maintenance are now being voted at the expense of older and sometimes more basic service. In some cities, protective services are being cut. Even fire alarm systems are not being adequately maintained or extended. I do not blame the cities entirely for the evils which have befallen them. I well realize that local governments today do not receive nearly so large a share of our total tax dollars as before World War II. Cities are feeling keenly the adverse effects of our sharply graduated federal income tax. The more it costs to run the national government, the harder it is for local governments to raise needed funds. So the cities look increasingly to federal and state grants-in-aid to pull them through. I forecast that such a policy will prove to be very shortsighted.

Increased central municipal control or inspection encourages waste and results in a heavier over-all city tax load. Economy alone can put our cities back on the path which will lead to true progress; but what are the chances for such economies? For politicians to bribe and to buy, votes with dollar bills is now illegal; but these same politicians are free to "bribe" voters by promising more aid to the unemployed, to the aged, to mothers and others. Much of the legislation to "protect" plumbers, carpenters, painters, and even barbers is merely bribery to get the votes of these groups. It is supposed to be enacted to protect the public; but the public should be made to pay directly for such "protection." No portion of such increased costs for inspectors and others should be added to taxes. If this welfare work continues to increase, city sales taxes are inevitable.

unteers who are supposed to pass on applications for permits to drill water wells within their county. They can pass on the applications, but the county committees do not have the authority to reject an application except for violation of spacing regulations.

In brief, the county committees are no more than figureheads, tied hand and foot to the whims of the district board of the Conservation District, despite their convictions that in some cases permits should not be granted in the interest of county conservation.

It is time, we believe, that the rules and regulations of the district be overhauled, and the county committees be given a voice in granting or restricting permits for wells.

Such a program is being advocated by many groups on the plains and deserves the support of every person in the entire area.

But the people I sell what I produce out here on this farm have been telling me the reason the price I get is so low is because of the huge surplus.

What this looks to me like is that the more the farmers produce, the higher the price of food goes, on the way back, that is, not as it leaves the farm.

Everybody blames this on the middle man, and what I've been wondering is why ain't the middle man subject to the law of supply and demand the same as us farmers?

As I say, I may have missed reading the papers on the days Congress repealed this law, or the Supreme Court ruled it unconstitutional, and if so I would appreciate you getting hold of our Congressman and straightening me out on this.

Understand, I'm not opposed to this new working of the law of supply and demand, I have been contending for years that what the farmer needed was high prices when he raises a lot, not when he raises a little, can't anybody get ahead on that plan, and it looks like the middle man has figured out the secret, which is worth a lot more than the secret of the atom bomb, and apparently is a lot more closely guarded. At least none of us farmers have been able to figure it out, just as very few Congressmen are equipped to make an atom bomb.

Yours Faithfully,
J. A.

Philosopher Baffled By Rise In Cost Of Living And Fall In Price Of Farm Products

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems to be puzzled this week, which really is his customary turn of mind, only he doesn't always recognize it.

Dear editor:
I don't get to read a newspaper every day and I've been wondering — during a few skips in my reading has Congress repealed the law of supply and demand?
The reason I ask this is that yesterday I picked up a paper from the road out here near my farm where somebody had spread it on the ground to get under his car to put the jack to fix a flat and I took it home and read where living costs have hit an all-time high.

Now that in itself wasn't news to me, as best I can tell, living costs have been going up ever since I can remember, every year it takes a little more than it did the year before to get by. If you don't believe this, ask anybody you know, but what did floor me was the statement that the reason living costs have gone so high is because food prices have jumped.

Today's Meditation

Read Psalm 121 or Hebrews 7:25-28.
I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills. (Psalm 121:1.)

We had come to Darjeeling to see God's great mountains, but they were covered with mist. Friends suggested a two-day climb to a 12,000-foot point in order to accomplish our wish. So we secured a guide and set out. The road we took led deep into a valley and then up a steep hill. All day we followed our guide through fog. The second day we continued the climb. Up, up we went.

When evening came, we suddenly broke through the clouds into sunshine. Close in front of us towered the third highest mountain in the world. The long rays of the sun threw a rainbow around us. God's presence was very real that living moment as we gazed in silence upon a bright, enchanting world high above the mist.

Our journey through life has its misty days when visibility is poor. We ourselves cannot see ahead, but Christ, our Guide, knows the way. He will lead us through the clouds of today into the sunshine of tomorrow.

PRAYER
O God, we pray that thou wilt guide us this day. Help us to lift our eyes heavenward that we may catch a glimpse of Thy glory. Bless us with Thy sustaining strength so necessary for our earthly walk. We ask it in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Today I will pray for an upward look.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Man's God-given right of self-government will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God."

Gideon's answer to the men of Isheal who asked him to rule over them will be included in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible (Judges 3:23): "And Gideon said unto them, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: the Lord shall rule over you."

The basis of proper self-government will be emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (106:7): "God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience. Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his

SEIZES SUEZ CANAL — Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdul Nasser announced that Egypt is taking over the Western-owned Suez Canal. Nasser says Egypt has prepared a law "nationalizing" the vital waterway — now controlled by Britain and France. The seizure is believed to be Nasser's answer to the withdrawal of Anglo-American offers to help build a huge dam on the Nile River.

THIS WEEK -In Washington

Clinton Davidson

You have heard it said "there are too many farmers." We've even seen the statement attributed to the head of one of the large farm organizations. What are the facts?

The truth is we are in the midst of an agricultural evolution, an evolution from horse- and man-power to an era of mechanization, to machines that can do the work of many men and horses.

We have not yet learned to use the greatly increased production that results from mechanization, improved crop and livestock strains and hybrids. The need is not to produce less, but to consume more. Washington talks much about "the small farmer" and wonders what to do about him. Most of the plans we've seen propose that he be told to get out of farming and look for a job in the cities.

Farming has become a part-time job for nearly one-third of all people living on farms. Production controls have rationed poverty on millions of farms. Acreage allotments have reduced the amount of land even small farmers can cultivate.

That, coupled with low prices and high production costs, last year forced more than a million farmers to earn at least half of their cash income from non-farm jobs.

All that is needed on farms today is equality of opportunity, the opportunity to produce abundantly and market at fair prices. In cities labor unions demand that as their right. There are no production controls imposed on factories by the government.

What's wrong? Why have farms suffered while city industries prosper? Why is the income of the average farmer only about half of that of the average city worker?

Too many farmers? If a factory worker loses his job, he gets an unemployment check from the government, and they call that social security. If a farmer loses his crop, or is forced to sell his produce below cost, that's just his hard luck. If the government helps him, they call it subsidy, and that is a nasty word.

The people in this country will have $400 billion dollars to spend this year. That's the national income, and it is the most we've ever had. Farmers will get about $30 billion of that, but they'll keep only about $10 billion for living expenses after paying $20 billion in production costs.

If we want more of that $400 billion, and we do, we must do a better job than we have yet on advertising, promoting and selling our farm products. Manufacturers spend billions to persuade people to buy more automobiles, more and better homes, and all sorts of other products.

The result has been that city workers spend a larger proportion of their income for manufactured goods and a smaller proportion for food than ever before. We can create more jobs, and higher income, on farms only if we tell consumers the facts—that good food is the best buy they can make.
