

3 Adult Education Classes Formed And Another Is Being Considered

An excellent start has been made to bring adult education to Muleshoe and territory, members of the Chamber of Commerce education committee, sponsoring the courses, said today.

Three classes already are meeting in the high school they said. The Woodworking class, class in bookkeeping, and classes in typing and shorthand all meet Tuesday night of each week at 7:45.

In last week's issue of The Journal it was stated that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tate and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis were attending Baylor University. This week we received a letter stating that Howard is beginning his 2 year in Baylor School of Dentistry at Dallas, and Mrs. Tate is teaching in the Dallas public schools. Charles Lewis is beginning his first year in the Baylor School of Dentistry, and Mrs. Lewis is attending S. M. U.

If enough apply for the course, classes in conversational Spanish will begin in the next two weeks. There are still vacancies in each of the three classes mentioned above, and a few more will be accepted to take these courses. The committee, headed by Earl Ladd, believes that interest in adult education will grow, and that by next year there could be as many as 200 taking night courses at the high school. Their program is a continuing one, and classes will be organized next semester. Meanwhile, the committee urges local people to be thinking about the course they would like to take so that plans can be made for them.

Cotton Harvest Gets Underway

Laborers Moving In By Hundreds

Hundreds of Mexican laborers have been pouring into the Muleshoe country in the last few days to help with cultivating the crops and with the harvest.

Mrs. Grace Benton, representative in this area for Texas Producers, which brings the laborers here under contract with various farmers, said that around 1,000 men have been brought here in the last two weeks.

Last night a load of 168 arrived; the night before saw 80 come in, and the night before that, 85. Bennie Pena is the interpreter and since he speaks both Spanish and English as if each were his native tongue, he is able to explain things to the farmer and to the workmen he is hiring. He is employed by Mrs. Benton.

Mrs. Benton said that the laborers have come here to weed and thin lettuce, do tractor and irrigation work, and now are coming in for cotton gathering. She said that in this immediate territory 1,000 more of these laborers have been requested by local farmers. Today and tomorrow, 260 additional workers are scheduled to arrive by truck.

GUESTS LAST WEEK

Guests last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Evans was their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stephens, another daughter, Mrs. Jack Richardson, all of Tulsa; their son, Zane, of Clovis, N. M.; her brothers, P. E. Nickel, of Portales, and P. S. Nickel, of San Angelo; and her mother, Mrs. G. W. Nickel, of Slaton.

Country Fair Friday Will Furnish Fun, Entertainment for Everyone

On September 24, at the Fellowship Hall, ladies of the Muleshoe First Methodist Church will hold their second annual Country Fair.

There will be a handwork booth, where early Christmas gifts may be purchased such as, aprons, crochet and novelties; food booth, containing pies, cakes, jellies, etc.; parcel post booth, where you buy a surprise package; fishing pond, for the kiddies, where balloons, snow cones, etc., will be sold; and a green thumb and white elephant booth.

In the kitchen of the hall, hot dogs, hamburgers, sandwiches, pie, cake, Coke will be on sale.

Proceeds of the fair will go to the building fund of the church. Watch the store windows for posters advertising the fair.

Nice Sum Raised In Pancake Event

A large number attended the pancake and sausage breakfast given in Fellowship Hall Tuesday morning, and the Rotary Club, which staged the event, raised a tidy sum for their public and community projects.

Those in charge of the Fellowship Hall surprised the Rotarians by refusing to accept any payment for it; milk used in the mix was furnished by Tennessee Dairy and Pillsbury Mills furnished the pancake mix free. Piggy Wiggly gave a discount on goods purchased there and Vance Wagon gave a nice discount on Vance's Country Style Sausage served with the pancakes.

Quite a few good cooks and waitresses among the Rotarians were uncovered in this event and some few members complained of "dishpan hands."

CofC Breakfast Tuesday Morning

A breakfast for members of the Chamber of Commerce and anyone else who is interested in the community will be held the coming Tuesday morning, Sept. 28, in Gerald's Cafe dining room.

Clyde Holt, president, said the meeting is to supply orientation to members on what their organization is doing and on some of its aims and objects. An interesting program is promised. Breakfast will begin at 7 o'clock.

Local Gins Are Getting Busy

Cotton harvest is underway in Bailey County and Muleshoe territory. Local gins have been turning out a few bales a day, and ginners are expecting that the tempo will increase in the coming few days.

However, the big rush will not be on until after frost. When machine gathering will be widely practiced.

Right now there seems to be lots of Mexican laborers. This morning a large crowd was gathered at the office of Mrs. Grace Benton, local representative for Texas producers, which brings the laborers here under contract.

Cotton today was worth several points more than the government loan, a cotton man told The Journal, and if things stay this way, the local buyers expect to be buying cotton right along. However, all are writing the loan papers for their customers are offering to buy outright. Several cotton buyers are operating here this year.

For middling grade cotton, 15/16 in. staple, the government loan is listed at 33:03; the local buyer said the actual market this morning was around 33.50.

Cottonseed prices have taken a tumble since the first bale was ginned here this season. This morning a ginner told The Journal the price is $58 per ton; price at the opening of the season was $63 per ton.

Roy Badgley of the First Methodist church of Corcoran officiated and burial was in the Hanford District Cemetery under the direction of the Bledsoe Funeral Home. Mr. Roach, a native of Rutledge, Tenn., had lived in Corcoran for 14 years. His wife died at Corcoran in 1942.

He is survived by six daughters: Mrs. Margaret Collins, of Muleshoe; Mrs. Lillian Hargrove and Mrs. Christine Wilkins of Corcoran; Mrs. Jean Ray of Lawton, Okla.; Mrs. Treva Hooper, of Los Angeles; and Mrs. Kay Mainer of Hanford, Calif.

Other survivors are four sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Bessie Davis of Muleshoe, others of Tennessee; two brothers living in Tennessee; five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. Roach operated a cafe in Muleshoe for several years in the building that is now the Lindsey Jewelry. The couple left here in 1940 and have lived in Corcoran since that time. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collins attended the services and returned home Wednesday, September 15.

Chorus Sings For High School PTA

High School PTA members and guests were entertained Monday night at their regular meeting by the newly formed High School chorus. Rev. Clarence Stephens, Methodist pastor, was the principal speaker for the program.

Under the direction of Norvil Howell, 35 boys and girls sang "Oh Jesus, Grant Us Hope and Glory"; "We Thank Thee, Lord"; and the Negro Spiritual, "Go Down, Moses".

So far the chorus has only 9 boys for members but Mr. Howell is expecting several other boys to start singing with the group in the next few days.

Disabled Vets Due For Big Cut In Govt. Benefits

J. J. "Jenks" DeShazo, Dr. France and Joe Vaughn with Plainview last Thursday attending Dist. 19 American Legion meeting and met with leading Legionnaires from Floydada, Lockney, Haly, and Hale Center.

Hilton C. Lambert, Snyder, Dist. 19 commander, gave a wonderful discussion on Legion activities of the District as well as an overall discussion of being done over the state and nation.

Commander Lambert discussed the many activities that are being pushed by the Legion in his district, including assistance in furnishing shoes and clothing as well as food in returning unprivileged youngsters to school, helping with the March of Dimes, Heart and Cancer drives, and working for and with the Junior and Little League ball clubs.

Ernie Davis, the American Legion representative from the regional office of the VA at Lubbock warned of becoming too careless about keeping posted on what is happening through legislation pertaining to our disabled veterans. He stated that restrictions now in effect will cut off from assistance about 500 of these disabled veterans this year in the Lubbock vicinity of which Bailey County is a part.

It was said that there are more disabled veterans than one might think here in Bailey County. These Bailey County disabled veterans are now, according to the records, receiving about $7,000 direct aid from VA each month, which with the 15 percent cut now in effect would mean a money loss for Bailey County of about $12,000 per year.

The Legion Post here is asking each and every veteran to come in and help to carry on and try to keep these veteran benefits secure now have and if possible to secure more for these disabled boys that gave their best to keep this county where the citizens may express their gripes, at least to each other.

School Band Puts On Show

Football Crowds See Fancy Stunts

Everybody in the district is proud of the Muleshoe high school band, shown in these pictures taken Friday night at the ball game by a member of The Journal staff.

In the smaller picture, band members pull their well planned "Merry Go Round", a between the halves feature that requires good timing, good marching and good playing. The youngsters have worked many nights to make this stunt go right and the crowds greatly enjoy it.

The larger picture was snapped at the very moment when Barbara Douglass, drum major, has turned to signal a change of direction or formation to the band. Drum majorettes are from left to right: LaVon Copley, Billy Ann Pence, Bettie Collins, Janelle Sedgwick and Doris Fields.

Norvil Howell, director, says there are now 46 members in this senior band. He says the cooperation extended to the band by the Band Boosters and by the citizens in general has been very encouraging, and makes it possible to predict a steadily improving band at the high school.

In half time activities the drum major and twirlers were presented and then the band went into the Merry Go Round. With field lights out the band formed a half moon using yellow cap lights and played "Shine On Harvest Moon."

Then they went in the "S" for Sudan and lastly they changed cap lights to purple and formed the traditional "M" for Muleshoe.

The band has been invited to take part in the parade and marching contest at the South Plains Fair in Lubbock. The parade and contest will be the coming Monday and Muleshoe's band will be there, Mr. Howell said.

Benson Suspends "Total Allotment" Provision Of Diverted Acres Ruling

The number one problem that has been concerned with for the past few weeks has been greatly alleviated by Secretary Benson's announcement Wednesday that the "total allotment" provisions of the diverted acres ruling has been suspended for the 1955 crop year.

TFB President J. Walter Hammond has been in frequent contact with AFBF and USDA officials in the past few days. He has repeatedly pointed out to them which the USDA announced a few weeks ago. AFBF President Allan Kline met with the USDA officials who were working on the diverted acres problem and pointed out the reasons given by Hammond for changing the rules. This undoubtedly had much to do with the Wednesday announcement that the "total compliance" provision was being dropped.

However, the USDA did not adopt the AFBF's plan for determining the overall overproduction of farm and ranch commodities and then taking a percentage of everyone's land out of production.

Here are the main points in Benson's announcement:

(1) The "total allotment" provision is eliminated, permitting unrestricted use of diverted acres. Except for the 1955 harvested acreages, potatoes and sweet potatoes and edible beans must not exceed average acres planted to these crops in 1952-53.

(2) The USDA will continue to require compliance with all individual crop allotments as a condition of eligibility for price support on any crop, cross compliance.

(3) The USDA will allow planting up to 15 acres of wheat without loss of price support on other basic commodities. If the wheat planting exceeds the acreage allotment, there will be no price support on that crop.

(4) Farmers must comply with all crop allotments including small wheat allotment, to be eligible for ACP payments.

At the press conference Wednesday at which Benson made his announcement, he said that the passage of the variable support program and the expected opportunities to export surplus under the new Trade Development Act of 1954 (Farm Bureau's), helped make the relaxation of the diverted acre control possible.

He also announced that the USDA is increasing the value of purchase orders issued in drought

FHA Loans Reach Record High In 1954

Farmers Home Administration lending operations reached an all-time high in fiscal 1954, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today. Loans made and insured by the agency totaled $292,452,800, an increase of about 28 percent over the $228,701,000 advanced in fiscal 1953, the year ending June 30, 1953. The 1953 total had been the largest amount loaned in any one year by the Farmers Home Administration or its predecessor agencies. Approximately 131,000 farm families received loans from the agency during fiscal 1954 compared to about 108,000 in fiscal 1953. Including farmers who already had loans, some 243,000 families worked their farms during 1954 with Farmers Home Administration credit. About two-thirds of the money advanced during 1954 was used by small farmers to improve their farms and farming operations. About one-third of the funds loaned were used by cattlemen and other farmers who had been hard hit by the drought and needed emergency credit to continue their operations. No loans of any type were made to farmers whose credit needs could be met by banks or other lenders. A large portion of total advances were made to veterans and other young families who are establishing better farm setups, and whose greatest needs were for adequate credit and some help in developing sound systems of farming and adopting efficient farm management practices. Farm water facilities and irrigation system loans limited until the end of the 1954 fiscal year to the 17 Western States but soon to be available throughout the country, totaled $6,500,000. In the future, this program will include loans for both water and soil conservation purposes. Despite the materially increased lending operations, the Farmers Home Administration cut its annual administrative costs by about $4,000,000, Secretary Benson said. Combining four area finance offices and the national finance division into one national office located in St. Louis accounted for a large part of the savings. Reorganization of the national and State office also contributed, as did other streamlining activities including elimination of duplicate forms and files. Administration of the Agency's program is being placed closer to the farmers by giving county supervisors the power of final approval on a larger number of loans. The local FHA office serving Bailey County is located in the Agricultural Building next door to the Post Office in Muleshoe. ESTERBROOK pens, points, pencils, at The Journal. FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

C. H. DeVaney, vice-president of Texas Farm Bureau emphasized in closing his talk to members at Lubbock last Saturday, that though we must give careful consideration to economically feasible elements of our farm and other industrial programs, there is a much more important phase of life we must remember. This phase is the moral and Christian responsibility of every American to protect and uphold the heritage that has been bought for us by our forefathers. There is no denying that there are active forces in this great country whose objective is the destruction, by any and every means at their disposal, of our democratic form of government and the freedom and opportunity it offers its citizens. "A man's life consisteth not of the things which he possesseth", is a statement that has been proven time and time again in the centuries and will hold true as long as time exists. Man cannot provide the necessities of a full, free life with the aid of a pencil and paper and a calculating machine. Our government officials, even when that is their earnest desire, cannot provide the kind of country men need unless they lean heavily upon God, who provides everything that is provided for His creation. By this same token, we believe it is equally or more important for us to listen for the moral ethics of our candidates for public office, than the dollars and cents promises they may use to gain our vote. Finally, but not by any means least, we should remember that we have a great responsibility to this same God, when we deal with our fellow man, in every vocation we pursue. The name, "Farm Bureau" means nothing if it does not indicate an interest in something much more important than material gain for its members and the nation and world as a whole. Phyllis Fairchild performed well in the district contest. Nobody seemed to think the judges would have gone wrong had they selected her for first place. We are still proud to call her Farmer County's Farm Bureau Queen for 1954. Consider This: He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity; and the rod of his anger shall fail. Proverbs 22:8.

Muleshoe Mules Bow To Sudan Hornets 27-6.

HE ALMOST MADE IT. Charles Waggoner, Muleshoe Mules speed merchant, here breaks into the open on a 25 yard run that almost produced a touchdown in the last moments of the Sudan and Muleshoe game last Friday night. Charles nearly got away. Earlier he had scored on a 61 yard gallop. Eugene Shaw, (112) head; downfield to help block while Wiseman, Sudan end, No. 87, Hill, end, No. 88, and No. 86 may be picked out among the defenders. Sudan won the game 27 to 6.

The Hornets from Sudan, who have been a permis to the Muleshoe football teams since 1938, made it another victory last Friday night, 27 to 6. Muleshoe beat Sudan the last time in 1952 to break the spell and most folks thought it would mean the end to the long victories Sudan has piled up against Muleshoe.

Sudan kicked off to the Mules and Muleshoe, operating from their own 22-yard line fumbled the very first play from scrimmage and the Hornets recovered. With the help of a five yard penalty, Sudan hit pay dirt on the third try. Hanna going the remaining 11 yards. He also tried to run the extra point over but was stopped short.

The Mules took the Hornet's kick on their own goal and ran the ball out to the eleven. From there the Mules got their offense rolling, gaining yards each try with Waggoner, Shaw, Rush and Howell carrying the mail. This drive covered 76 yards and it looked as though the Mules had what it took to drive for a score, but they got only to the Sudan 24 where the Hornets took over.

The Mules stopped Lynch, the highly regarded Sudan quarterback, but Hanna, a halfback for the Hornet eleven really ran for yards and racked up his second touchdown of the evening on a 2 yard plunge. He also ran over the extra point. Gore, a sophomore, scored again in the second quarter on a nice 30 yard jaunt. In the second quarter Charles Waggoner brought the Muleshoe fans to life with an electrifying 61 yard run for the Mules only touchdown for the night. Almost stopped at the line, he shook off tacklers and broke clear in the secondary to outrun the last defender to the goal. The try for extra point was low.

Green Gold To Be Flowing In The Muleshoe Country

Lettuce Harvest On 500 Acres To Begin In Few Days

A field of Muleshoe lettuce looks like and really is, "green gold", for it yields an unusually high per acre profit for the grower.

Here are pictured the results of a visit by several local men including the editor of The Journal, the photographer, R. C. Cline, and others to the Buck Gregory farm west of Muleshoe, out near the state line.

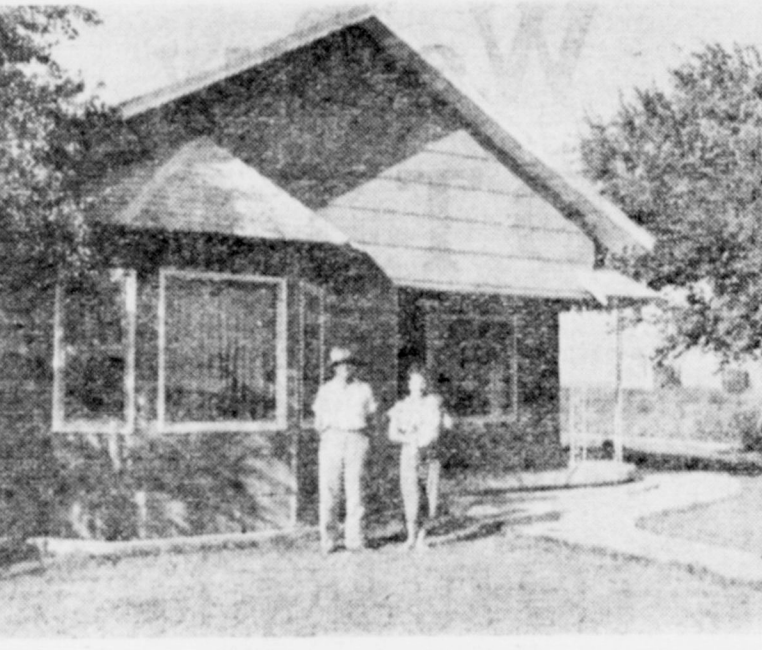

In the top photo Cline got a good shot straight down the rows of lettuce from a point near the Gregory home. Heads of lettuce may be distinguished in this close up shot. Leaves are curling in upon themselves rapidly and by next week there will be harvesting in this 55 acre field.

The middle picture, snapped by the editor, shows as its main attraction Eddie Lane, manager of Barrett Produce Co., vegetable handling sheds here, although quite a lot of lettuce may be seen about Eddie. One of the men of Tankersley Produce Co., which has leased the sheds for the lettuce harvest, is beyond Eddie, judging when the heads will be firm and ready for cutting.

Mr. Gregory earlier in the summer had harvested a fine crop of Irish potatoes from this same land. Lettuce requires less water than potatoes. Another dusting against bugs which sting the plants and stop a head from forming, was on the calendar the day after the local men visited the place.

In the bottom of the picture one sees the moving force behind this fine farm and home, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory and young son. (Two other youngsters hadn't got home from school.)

The Gregorays own 320 acres on which this house is located and farm another quarter section to the west of them. Visitors are always made to feel at home on the Gregory place and are always invited to come back again. Mr. Lane says there are some 500 or more acres of lettuce around Muleshoe this year, nearly the same number of acres as were planted to Irish potatoes, since it is common practice to follow the potatoes with this crop. The lettuce handling equipment has been taken out of storage and made ready to receive the "green gold" that will begin to flow next week.

BLACKWATER VALLEY Soil Conservation DISTRICT NEWS

Conserving moisture and soil, which will increase production, is very important to the farmers in the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District. One of the best ways this type of conservation can be done is by plowing the land with implements which leave the stubble and crop residue on the surface.

The advantages of managing your cropland like this are to protect the soil from wind and water erosion, cut down evaporation, let more water into the soil, and improve soil structure.

There are several types of equipment that are well adapted for this kind of work. The best type is a sweep or sweeps, usually 24 to 30 inches wide, and flat. This allows the blade to run under the surface of land. The sweep loosens the soil but does not turn it over or bury the residue and the surface is left without ridges.

Where residue or stubble is very heavy, it may be necessary to use a rolling coultter to prevent trash from dragging on the plow.

Experimental results in the 18-inch rainfall belt shows that where fields were plowed so as to leave the crop residue on the surface 54 per cent of the moisture was saved. On fields where crop residue was plowed under only 34% of the moisture was saved.

Crop residue management is one of our best weapons in fighting wind erosion in low rainfall belts. This makes it especially important to farmers in this area.

Today's Meditation

PRAYER
Read Matthew 26:36-41.
O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt. (Matthew 26:39).

In the perfect way Jesus lived the prayers He prayed. We, too, ought to live the prayers we express in words. To do so demands service on our part.

Many years ago, a small group of Christian men met for prayer, asking that God would open the way to build a cathedral. They saw the need for a building set apart for worship, where they could through quiet meditation renew their faith in God. They fully realized that if their prayer was to be fulfilled, they would need the hands of an architect, the hands of masons, and the hands of carpenters.

The same is true in every relation involving doing God's will. I think of a woman who every day prayed for missionary work. Then one day she realized that her prayer involved a contribution to missionary funds. Out of her earnings as a domestic servant she gave a sacrificial offering each year. Praying hands must be one with praying hearts.

PRAYER
Lead us, our Father, to those places of service which Thou hast prepared for us, and meet us there with Thy guidance and help. Take our hands and let them be consecrated. Lord, to Thee, in Jesus' name, Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
By God's grace we can live our prayers.

County Agent Adams Proves Good Soil Pays Off In Tomato Growing Tests

Not content with advising people how to grow things, J. K. Adams, the county agent has conducted a tomato growing experiment in the backyard of his home on West Seventh street to hear about and see.

He has more tomatoes than a canning factory on a plot of ground about the size of two wagon beds.

Adams planted two rows of three different varieties: a new variety, not even named yet, and called Yookum Experiment Step 193; Improved Pearson; and Rutgers Hybrid "Bounty".

All produced abundantly. One raises a vine and sees scads of tomatoes, ripe and getting ripe. The family has canned quite a lot of them and he has given friends a lot of them and still there are lots of tomatoes in this little patch.

Adams is particularly pleased with the new variety, for he says it appears to him it will make a real shipping tomato.

The Adams place is up in what once was thought of as the sand hills, so he had plenty of lime soil. He put a heaping pick-up load of cotton seed hulls on his plot of ground, then covered that with sheep manure to speed rotting. After that he put three pick-up loads of red sand over all and spaded the ground. In February of this year he planted oats and when they got up about so high he turned them under. In May the tomato plants went into the ground and they have always had plenty of water. Results, lots of tomatoes and a plot of ground that will grow anything.

Marion Harris Pledges Kappa Kappa Gamma

LUBBOCK — Rush Week activities for the seven social sororities at Texas Tech have ended, and 180 young women have accepted invitations to pledge. After a round of non-invitational open houses and three rounds of invitational parties, the rushes made their choice through a preferential bidding system operated through the Office of the Dean of Women.

Final Plans Made For Country Fair By Wesleyan Guild

Wesleyan Service Guild members of the Muleshoe First Methodist Church, met at the home of Mrs. Ray Edwards at 8:00 in the evening, September 13.

The group sang, "Have Thine Own Way Lord", to open the meeting. This was followed by a prayer by Mrs. Fred Johnson, president. Mrs. Johnson was in charge of the business meeting.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Mable Dowell, who used as her subject, "Jesus Concerns Our City". She closed with a prayer. Mrs. Edwards brought the lesson on "Christian Stewardship".

Final plans were made for the Country Fair, which will be held September 24 at the Fellowship Hall. The Fair is being sponsored ed by the W. S. C. S., Wesleyan Guild and Philathea Circle.

There will be a district Guild meeting held Sunday, September 26 at 1:45 p. m., at the Methodist Church in Olton. Several members from the church here are planning to attend. The Muleshoe Guild has been made responsible for the devotional, which will be given by Mrs. Ray Edwards, and also for leading one of the songs.

The meeting was closed as Mrs. Johnson gave the story of "Praying Hands", and the group sang "Take My Life".

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to two new members, Mmes. Clyde Bray and Jessie Wright, and to Elizabeth Harden, Mmes. D. Warner, Lois Schoenberger, Fred Johnson, A. S. Stovall, Clarence Stephens, Mable Dowell, and Jim Burkhead by the hostess.

Next meeting will be held at 7:30 in the evening, September 27, at the home of Elizabeth Harden. The new study, "Man And God In The Cities", will begin at this meeting.

Catch of Rainbow Trout Highlights Half Century Trip

The highlight of the annual vacation to the mountains of Ruidoso, N. M., September 7 through 11, for members of the Half Century Club, was the big catch of rainbow trout, at Rainbow Lake, a spring fed lake in a canyon, three miles southeast of Ruidoso.

Ten members of the club made the trip in two cars, one driven by Mrs. Hertha Walker, and the other by Mrs. George Johnson.

Only three ladies of the ten were interested in fishing. They bought poles, etc., and began fishing. They started catching fish so fast that the other seven ladies got interested and bought themselves some fishing equipment. The manager of the fishing camp lined up chairs on the bank and the ladies were catching fish so fast and putting on such a show that tourists began stopping and watching. Mrs. Witte, one of the ladies on the trip said one of the gentlemen was heard to remark, "I didn't know fish would bite with so much noise", and he also said, "They tell me those ladies are from Muleshoe, Texas."

Mrs. Witte caught the last fish, which Mrs. Carles said was the first "Flying Fish", she had ever seen in the mountains. When she looked up she said, the fish was about fifteen feet in the air. It went over six telephone lines and was just dangling in the air when the manager of the camp got it and the pole down.

The ladies said they should have taken a picture, so they could prove their fish story, but they just didn't do it.

Before leaving for home Friday morning, the ladies enjoyed a fish fry at their cabins. Mrs. Walker was chief cook, and the other ladies were dish washers. Everyone enjoyed telling childhood stories before the open fire place in the evenings. Mrs. Panter turned out the lights so that the "Old Goblin" story told by Lois Schoenberger would seem more realistic.

Ladies in the party were Mmes. Birdie Paul, Jennie Panter, Beulah Carles, Hertha Walker, Lois Schoenberger, Anna Moeller, Mattie Duke, Laura Gilbreath, Pete Witte, and Sweetie Johnson.

Luana Walker Watts met the group and had lunch in the Roswell park as they were going over. She and her husband are making their home in Roswell.

Here's hoping more members will be able to make the trip next year. The cakes and other food sent by members who could not make the trip, were highly appreciated. The watermelons given by Mrs. Willie Bullock were delicious.

13 Pct. Moisture Content On Grain Is Limitation Placed On Warehouses

All grain warehousemen have received copy of a letter written from the office of C. H. Moseley, director, CBS Commodity office in Dallas in which is cited new regulations concerning the 1954 grain sorghum price support. Hereafter warehousemen will be required to buy grain of not more than 13 percent moisture content.

Hitherto they have been permitted to store government loan grain having as much as 14 percent moisture content.

It is expected that country storage warehouses will be inspected because of this moisture content provision.

Mr. Moseley quoted section 421.528 (c), of the 1954 Grain Sorghum Price Support Bulletin, which provides that:

"Grain sorghums of any class grading No. 4 or better, or No. 4 Smutty or better, and containing not in excess of 13 percent moisture shall be eligible, except that grain sorghums represented by warehouse receipts which indicate that the grain sorghums are ineligible because of moisture content only, will be eligible if the warehouseman certifies on the supplemental certificate or on a statement attached to the warehouse receipt that the grain sorghums have been processed at the request of the eligible producer, and delivery will be made of eligible grain sorghums containing not in excess of 13 percent moisture content and no lien for processing will be claimed by the warehouseman, from Commodity Credit Corporation or any subsequent holder of said warehouse receipts."

Mr. Moseley's letter states that where examiners find moisture content in excess of 13 percent they will give the warehouseman a reasonable length of time to complete processing of the grain to warehouse receipt quality specification, and then re-examining will be made to determine that the grain stored in the warehouse complies with the moisture factors indicated on the receipt.

Bureau Protests Use of 1953 As Acreage Base Year

Bailey County Farm Bureau is studying the interpretation and administration of the new farm law that was enacted by the last session of Congress.

The organization is particularly concerned about the reported use of 1953 as the base year for determining total acreage allotment. "We can conceive of frequent situations in this area wherein one farmer would receive a total acreage allotment equal to 100 per cent of his cultivated acreage and his neighbor would receive a total acreage allotment equal to less than 50 per cent of his cultivated acreage."

The Bureau believes that if there is to be a total acreage allotment of cultivated acres this total allotment must be the same for each and every farm in percentage of total cultivated acres.

Also, that cultivated acres, over and above the total acreage allotment, must not be used to produce crops that compete directly or indirectly with crops grown on total allotted acres; but should be retired from production and used as a "Soil Bank" and rotated each year with allotted acres;

And, three: That in the use of total allotted acres over and above that used in the production of basic crops, the farmer should be allowed the maximum freedom in the selection of crops he desires to produce.

A copy of these suggestions has been mailed to Bureau national officials, members of Congress, the secretary of agriculture, etc.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Phyllis Fairchild, Farmer County's Farm Bureau Queen for this year, gives us reason again to hope we will have a winner in the district contest. The judges may view her differently, but we thought she rated at least a "place" among the eleven contestants appearing with her at Lubbock's KDUB-TV last Thursday night. By the time we write again we'll know more about this, because she appears this Saturday afternoon as a participant in the final district contest in the Hotel Lubbock. There will be a number of Farmer County people there hoping with and for Phyllis. Vogue Beauty Shop of Friona sponsored our queen in the county contest.

Please note that Farmer County and Texas Farm Bureau got the wheat acreage provision in the new farm bill. Your resolution last year asked, in effect, that wheat acreage allotments be handled in the same manner as cotton, in reference to acreage allotted but not planted. Lyndon Johnson was the Senator contact.

BACK FROM OKLAHOMA

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Awtrey, Sr., returned last week from a vacation trip to Oklahoma and Arkansas. They visited with friends at Childress, Mr. and Mr. Grady Parr, in Sulphur, Okla., they visited with his cousin, Mrs. Gertie Meaneer. Going on to McAllister, Okla., they attended the prison rodeo. They spent two days and nights in Heavener, Okla., with Mr. Awtrey's cousins, whom he had not seen in forty-nine years, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Crawford and Mrs. Gussie Ward.

Going on to Arkansas, they visited in Hot Springs, and enjoyed sightseeing there, but said it was really dry.

The best crops seen on their trip were on the plains, where there was irrigation.

ed by phone from College Station August 6 concerning this provision. Your county president, A. J. Ellison called the matter to J. Walter, Hammond's attention. Within a few hours, the amendment requested was incorporated into the national farm program that was being considered. To most farmers, this single accomplishment will mean enough in one year to pay their Farm Bureau dues for a life time, and much more. Do you know of a better place to invest $10.00 per year?

Here is a question for one of our congressmen: Why should he be "deeply disappointed" in the farm program just adopted when it is basically the program promoted under the direction of farmers in the history of America? Whom, may we ask, should it please?

Two or three that we know of are already making plans to go to New York in December on the Farm Bureau Special Train. This sounds like a very enjoyable eleven days between Ft. Worth and New York including a day and night aboard a ship and a tour of Washington, D. C. The rates are low, too.

October is convention time. Farmer County Farm Bureau is going to have a part in some legislation affecting farmers. If you want to be sure it suits you, be there and vote "yes or no". Consider This: If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, lay thine hand upon thine mouth Proverbs 30:32.

What Does It Cost You To Run Water In An Open Ditch

By W. L. BROADHURST

On July 8 and 9, 1954, a test was made on the Joe D. Unfried farm near New Home in northwestern Lynn County to determine the loss resulting from running water in an open ditch from his irrigation wells to his field. Two wells were used in the study: well No. 1 is in the southwest corner of the quarter section and well No. 2 is 1,250 feet east of well No. 1. Water from the two wells was discharged into the ditch connecting the wells and was diverted from the ditch to a field at a point approximately midway between the wells. Spouting flow meters were used to measure the discharge from the wells. A Parshall flume, which was furnished by the Soil Conservation Service, and a two-foot rectangular weir were used to measure the discharge from the ditch to the field. The wells had been pumped 7 days and nights continuously into this same ditch before the test was started.

Well No. 1 is equipped with a 6-inch deep-well turbine pump and well No. 2 is equipped with a 4-inch deep-well turbine pump. The pumps are driven by small Allis Chalmers engines using butane for fuel.

Well No. 1 produced 250 gallons a minute. The motor used 25 gallons of butane per hour. At 8 cents a gallon, cost for butane was 20 cents per hour or $4.80 for 24 hours. This unit used 1 quart of motor oil at 35 cents per quart and one pint of drip oil at 5 cents per pint. Total cost for butane and oil was $5.20 per day. Two hundred and fifty gallons a minute for 1,440 minutes in a day is 360,000 gallons a day at a cost of $5.20 equals 1.44 cents per thousand gallons.

Well No. 2 produced 185 gallons a minute. The motor used 2.18 gallons of butane per hour. At 8 cents a gallon, cost of butane was 17½ cents per hour or $4.20 per day. This unit also used one quart of motor oil at 35 cents per quart and one pint of drip oil at 5 cents per pint. Total cost for butane and oil was $4.60 per day. One hundred and eighty-five gallons a minute for 1,440 minutes a day is 266,400 gallons a day at a cost of $4.60 equals 1.72 cents per thousand gallons.

The combined discharge of the two wells (250 and 185) was 435 gallons a minute. Four hundred and thirty-five gallons a minute times 1,440 minutes a day is 626,400 gallons a day divided by 326,829 gallons in an acre-foot per day pumped. In other words, the pumpage from the two wells was sufficient to cover 1.92 acres to a depth of one foot.

The total flow from the 1,250 foot ditch at a point about midway between the wells was 366 gallons a minute. This indicated that evaporation and seepage loss from the ditch was 69 gallons a minute (5½ gallons a minute for each 100 feet of ditch). Three hundred sixty-six gallons a minute times 1,440 minutes in a day is 536,040 gallons a day divided by 326,829 gallons in an acre-foot equals 1.61 acre-feet per day delivered to the field. The difference between the amount pumped (1.92 acre-feet per day) and the amount delivered to the field (1.61 acre-feet per day) was 0.31 acre-foot. The loss from this 1,250-foot ditch was 0.31 acre-foot of 3¼ inches over one acre every 24 hours.

The cost of butane and oil was $9.80 per day to pump 1.92 acre-feet of water. The cost of pumping the 0.31 acre-foot that was lost was only $1.58 per day, but in 120 days it would amount to $189.60. This, however, is only an insignificant part of the loss.

Mr. Unfried reported that the two wells were pumped an average of 120 days a year. If each day he loses from this 1,250-foot ditch enough water to put 3¼ inches on one acre of land, in 120 days he will lose enough water to put 12 inches on 37.5 acres. If the 37.5 acres would produce ¼ bale of cotton per acre, that means a loss of 28 bales of cotton. If the cotton would net $50 a bale, it means a loss of $1,400 a year.

If we add the $189.60 for butane and oil plus the $1,400 we did not produce, plus the extra wear and tear on the equipment, plus the costs of maintaining the ditch, plus the inconvenience of not being able to cultivate the field while the ditch is full of water, plus the additional time required to irrigate the field, the loss of 69 gallons a minute from the quarter mile of open ditch may exceed $2,000 a year.

Wouldn't it mean extra dollars in your pocket and at the same time conserve water for future use if you would substitute a closed distribution system in place of the open ditch?

The homemaker who wants to "soak" her daily tasks, such as cooking and clothes-washing and drying, rather than having the tasks boss her, wants to use automatic electric appliances. See your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer now and find the electric appliance that will bring you homemaking freedom.

"I am a graduate home economist as well as a busy homemaker, and I really appreciate the value of electric appliances in saving time with everyday homemaking. I have owned my electric clothes dryer just a few months, but I've had time to appreciate the freedom which it gives me to enjoy my home and my family."

"I love to cook, and I chose electric cooking when we built our new home. We do a lot of entertaining, and I chose the two separate ovens in order to bake and broil at the same time for my guests."

"My washer and dryer give me more time for preparing food and the other things I enjoy doing. Convenience—and time-saving—just naturally follow when you use electric appliances."

"My laundry is so soft, even better than when drying in the sun. I often do my laundry after the children have gone to bed. Electric service lets me do my laundry at any hour, day or night."

Intensified Bond Drive In Bailey County Launched

A "Put Texas Over The Top 1954 Savings Bonds Drive" during the remainder of the year will be carried on vigorously in an effort to reach the state's 1954 quota of $199,300,000, according to Jesse M. Oborn, Bailey County Savings Bonds chairman. "While purchases of Savings Bonds have increased so far this year, the rate of increase during the past 8 months has not been sufficient to reach the goal and an all-out effort is needed during the remainder of 1954", Osborn said. "Texas always does its part and needs to do it again this year. Bailey County has only purchased about 35% of 1954 quota up to this time."

Importance of the Savings Bonds program to each individual, every community, the state and the nation is being stressed by the volunteer Texas Advisory Committee for U. S. Savings Bonds, the chairman emphasized. Governor Allan Shivers is honorary chairman. State Chairman is Nathan Adams, dean of Texas bankers and honorary Board Chairman. First National Bank of Dallas, while the co-chairman is Ed Gossett, Dallas, prominent attorney and former Texas congressman.

"Savings Bonds now have a most vital place in our country's sound money and financial program", the county chairman said. "They are an investment that is absolutely safe and one which guarantees the full principal, plus 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually when held to maturity. They can readily be converted to cash any time to meet an emergency, or for some planned project. Each individual is permitted to buy up to $20,000 Series E and $20,000 Series H Bonds per year."

The county chairman urged that everyone buy more Savings Bonds during October, November and December to help "Put Texas Over The Top" in 1954.

Russell Gleaves Spoke Sunday

Russell Gleaves, of Brunswick, Maine, was a guest Sunday in the J. E. Randol home, Sunday evening. Mr. Gleaves spoke for thirty minutes at the Church of Christ, relating some very interesting things about Maine and other New England states, and the church work there.

He said the city of Brunswick was about 325 years old, and was a beautiful place, with trees hundreds of years old lining its many streets. There is a large Naval Air Station in Brunswick, which the government plans to make a permanent base. He said the warmest day they have had in Brunswick this summer was no warmer than it was here Sunday. It gets very cold in the winter and there is a lot of snow.

Mr. Gleaves, a native of Tennessee, said the people of the New England states are not as church conscious as the people of the states in this section of the country. He said he was very impressed when he first arrived in Maine some six years ago, and saw some signs on a church building. One sign read, "The Way To Heaven", while just underneath it another sign read "Closed for the Summer". It is the custom of New England people Mr. Gleaves said, to close the churches during the summer months. Mr. Gleaves talk was greatly enjoyed, and was very interesting.

Atty. Gen. Shepperd Will File Brief With Supreme Court On Segregation

Austin, Sept. 15 — Attorney General John Ben Shepperd Wednesday announced that Texas will accept an invitation from the United States Supreme Court to file a brief segregation in public schools.

"After having given this matter several months of constant and exhaustive study, and having consulted with a wide cross-section of educators, teachers, legislators and State officials, we feel that we should file a brief in order to properly present the Texas position on this question," he said.

Shepperd pointed out that the only States having the issue of segregation before the Supreme Court at this time are Delaware, Kansas, South Carolina and Virginia and the mere filing of his "amicus curiae" (friends of the court) brief would not bind Texas in any decree resulting from these four cases.

"The Texas segregated school system is unique," he said, "and most Texas citizens think work out her own problems. We will urge this view in our brief."

"We don't want what is happening in West Virginia to happen to our school children," he declared.

West Virginia abolished segregation following the May 17 decision of the Supreme Court, and the opening of the fall term was marked by strikes, demonstrations and other civil disorders.

The Court held May 17 in the Delaware, Kansas, South Carolina and Virginia cases that segregation in the public schools of those States was unconstitutional.

The Court indicated then that it might set up machinery to hear evidence in individual States. Shepperd expressed hope that the Court would work out some such method for Texas, thus allowing this State to bring out all facts concerning her own school system.

"This would allow time to study the experience of the four States now before the Court," he said, "and would also permit a possible legislative solution to the problem."

Sorghum Harvest Brings Problems Of Soil Erosion

Now that grain sorghum harvest is about here, many farmers in the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District will start thinking about a way to handle their stubble and crop residue for the greatest protection of their land.

Farmers who plan to manage their crop residue will want to know about a conservation practice that lets more water into the soil, cuts down evaporation, prevents the land from blowing and washing, and improves soil structure.

These results can be obtained by plowing the land with implements that leave crop residue on the surface to form a protective cover.

This cover provides protection from many hazards. First there is the raindrop. Necessary as it is, and small in size it hits the earth with great force. The results of this powerful hammering is the clogging of the openings in the soil surface. This makes the soil act as a tin roof, letting the rain off. The raindrops blast bits of soil loose so it can be carried away by the water, causing both soil and water loss.

Then there is protection against wind. Cover is a sure answer to wind erosion. A good cover slows the wind down to a breeze at the soil surface where the blowing starts.

The next protection is against temperature. On a 100 degree day, bare soil will reach a temperature of 135 degrees. This will cause two things to happen: One, the top two inches will dry out very fast and two, soil organisms such as earthworms, fungi, bacteria, etc., will stop work.

A good cover on a 100 degree day will keep the soil at a cool 90 degrees, thus slowing down evaporation and keeping soil organisms busy.

Farmers who use these stubble and crop residues, by leaving it on the surface will greatly reduce wind and water erosion, increase bacterial action and cut down on evaporation of moisture.

Pastor Accepts Local Church Call

The local congregation of the Christian Church has extended a call to Rev. James Todd, minister, Christian Church, Stinnett, Texas, to become minister of their congregation.

Rev. Todd has accepted the call and tendered his resignation to the Stinnett congregation last Sunday morning. He will come to Muleshoe on November 15 and be in his pulpit here on Sunday, November 21.

The local congregation was organized in June of 1950, and have recently purchased four lots, 100x140 feet on the corner of West Second St., and Ave. G.

and moved to it the chapel formerly occupied by the Primitive Baptist Church. A cottage on the ground is being used for church school class rooms until such time as the congregation is able to build their first unit of a new modern building.

BABSON DISCUSSES—

BANK ACCOUNTS

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 23—When a young couple gets married part of their joint savings—after buying a little good furniture—should go into life insurance—simple and inexpensive straight life insurance. After this a couple should start to build up credit and get the good will of some local bank. I would even advise renting a small safe—deposit box for keeping important papers, good jewelry, etc.—and don't forget to make WILLS.

IMPORTANCE OF BANK ACCOUNTS

If business and market conditions were different today, I would probably advise the purchase of a few shares of some good stock with one's savings; but I hate to do so with prices so high. Hence, today the best investment is a small bank account. Some later years you will be able to use this money to buy good stocks for much less than they are now selling. But, when you put the money in the bank, don't withdraw it until that time comes. Consider this bank account sacred—not to be disturbed for anything.

Another reason I want you to start a bank account, with regular deposits, is to help you get a reputation for thrift, honesty, and hard work. Make it a point to get acquainted with some high officer in the bank and say "Good morning" to him every time you go in so that he will know you and be able to give you or your partner a good reference whenever you need one. The interest which you get on a bank account is only one-half of the value which you get from the account. The other half is the acquaintance of bank officials. I tell my grandchildren to put church attendance first and "bank attendance" next—although, of course, not for the same reason!

ADVICE TO INVESTORS

Although most stocks—yes, even good stocks—seem too high to me today, I think that local bank stocks are in a safe and profitable position. Since nearly all weak banks were eliminated in the Thirties, all banks are now being operated carefully. Most of them could be liquidated for more than their published assets, so that, as a stockholder, you would probably get more than you paid for the stock. More of my readers should own stock of the local bank where they have their account. In fact, perhaps one of the best investments for the young married couple would be five or ten shares of such stock.

BANK STOCKS AS INVESTMENTS

If an investor is to put considerable money into bank stock, he should get the reports of two or three banks and carefully study them. Any bank—whether or not you are a customer—will gladly give you a copy of its Annual Report. In most states this must be published in the local paper, once a year. When my father died, I found a scrapbook in which he had pasted the published Annual Report of all Gloucester banks, clipped from his valued Gloucester Daily Times.

Usually the bank with the largest deposits gets the most attention, but when bankers brag to me about their "large deposits" I jokingly reply, "You surely owe

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER—

Amazed To Learn It Took A National Poll To Find People Worry About Money

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm writes about worry this week, a subject he is no authority on.

Dear editor: Some people go to a lot of trouble to find out something nearly everybody else already knows.

The other day I was stretched out under a tree out here on my place admiring the September sky and not worryin' about anything when I pulled a newspaper out of my pocket I'd been savin' & glanced thru it and ran across an item about a survey the Gallup Poll has just taken.

According to this item, Dr. Gallup's men have conducted a nationwide survey to find out what most people worry about these days, and after a careful scientific sampling of opinion and adding up figures and preparing complicated charts they have come up with the discovery that the chief worry today is: money.

How to get in enough money to pay the bills, how to keep ahead of the collectors, how to make income meet outgo, that's the thing that Dr. Gallup finds most people are worryin' about.

You mean to say he went to all that trouble to find that out? I could have told him for a two-cent post card. There are some things in life you're supposed to know without having to be told, and the fact that keepin' ahead of the hounds financially speakin' is most people's worry is one of em. Furthermore, that was what most people were worryin' about last year and it's what they'll be

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

How understanding of the spiritual nature of reality brings enduring health, harmony, and progress—will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality" includes the following from I Peter (1:24, 25): "For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man is the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away: But the word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following correlative passage will be read (335:27-29): "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious or eternal."

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (1:31): "As it is written He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord."

a lot of money!" For a bank's deposits are money which must be paid back to the people some time. Therefore, when comparing bank statements subtract the deposits from the total assets and see what would be left for the stockholders.

THE VALUE OF BANK STOCK
The real value of bank stock depends very largely on the character, integrity and energy of the men who operate the bank. Are they church goers? Do they let liquor alone? Do they live within their salaries? A successful banker is a combination of good character, good health, and good judgment.

Directors also should measure up to the above requirements. But too many bank directors accept the position as an honor rather than as a responsibility. Always ask how much money the directors of the bank are borrowing. This question, however, as well as the quality of the bank's assets, is under the constant supervision of the bank examiners. Hence, I forecast that when the next depression comes, bank stocks will stand up better than any other group of stocks.

worryin' about next year. And also, it doesn't seem to make much difference what income bracket a man is in. Nature has some sort of system whereby it enables a man's wants to keep two jumps ahead of his financial capacity to satisfy em.

A man strugglin' to pay for a wash pot has a neighbor strugglin' to pay for an automatic washing machine. When some men finally get up in the class where they can write out a check for a new car, they find one car ain't enough, they need two and they're right back in the strain they was before.

Over-expansion causes more individuals and more businesses to go busted than anything else. I'll tell you, I'm not recommendin' that anybody follow my methods, but in the big scramble for success there ought to be something said for the man who starts out in business in a hole in the wall and stays there.

Yours faithfully,
