Garland Freeman, the new custodian of the courthouse and other county property, who is bringing the buildings to a high state of attractiveness, inside and out, and changing and improving the grounds.

If Garland is not working he has his nose in the air looking for something for his boys to do. The county lots across from the courthouse, where the labor office and the former voting booth are located have been treated to gravel, all rubbish has been removed and these premises are as neat and clean as any privately owned place.

The county is setting an example with their care of property located within the city. Owners of other property in the city which is presently occupied by junk, debris, and houses that haven't been used in the present century might take a cue from the county.

New use has been found for Muleshoe potatoes, or rather an old use has been revived. A local old timer showed me a potato he has carried in his pocket for a long, long time. From baking size it has dwindled to the size of a medium-size pecan.

He carries it to help ward off the ill effects of rheumatism and arthritis. Does it work? He doesn't know for sure but it's never, so far as he knows, done him the least bit of harm. And I figure it's a way to help reduce the Irish potato surplus if any. Only trouble, I got so much money, and stuff like that in my pockets.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association, composed of Plains farmers, has had representatives in Washington to urge passage of a bill that would provide $300 million for price support on feed grains. If Secretary Benson's proposals are adopted, support price for sorghum grains will decline about 20 cents a hundred pounds to about $1.57. Support prices on other farm products, such as cotton, also would be reduced.

Now comes Bill Millen, a dirt farmer, who has written a letter we hope to print in this issue, in which he argues that flexible price supports, more exports and the adoption of the soil bank will reduce surpluses and so tone up the real market for farm products.

Incidentally, Sec. Benson believes the U. S. can dispose of nearly all of the Government owned farm products now in surplus in the next two years. Everybody knows that ought to put a better tone to the market, and everybody would like to see the Government get out of the market.

But, this little reporter is too dumb to see how it could be done, that is abandon farm price supports, in view of the fact that we are living in an artificial economy, of which farm price supports is only one phase. Under the flexible price support plan, Mr. Benson now proposes to reduce price supports on several products, including cotton and sorghum grains, two mainstays here in our area.

We fail to see how it is fair to reduce the farmer's income and at the same time allow prices for everything the farmer has to use to produce his crops to continue to advance, and they are. Bill may be right in believing that the present course will result in benefit to all after a year or two. To me, it's about like some 200-pounder standing on my foot for a year, and at the same time telling me it will feel real good when he steps off.

Business people can view Mr. Benson's proposals with alarm, too. We hear Bailey county last year produced 72,000 bales of cotton. Price supports under the proposals would be $5 per bale less and if the farmer settled for this price, our income would be $432,000 less in this county on cotton alone.

Bi-District Game Tuesday Evening In Plainview Gym

The 2-AA bi-district basketball playoff game will be held at Plainview February 26 at 8 p. m. in the Plainview high school gymnasium, between the Muleshoe Mules, and the Floydada Whirlwinds.

Game starts at 8 p. m., with admission charges of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The west stands in the gym will be designated for Muleshoe rooters, and a large crowd of hometowners is expected to be on hand for the game.

New Phone Number

The night phone number for contacting county sheriff Dee Clements has been changed, he announced this week.

City Annexes Southwestern Area To Increase Population About 300

An ordinance, increasing the size of Muleshoe city limits by several square miles, and the population by an estimated 300 persons, was adopted on the second reading by members of the City Council Monday afternoon.

Last Friday afternoon, a citizens committee met with the Council in a called meeting, and presented a petition bearing the names of more than 90 per cent of the residents of an area south and west of the present city limits, asking that the area be annexed to the city.

At the request of one of the large land owners of unimproved property in the original section to be annexed, the lake area was omitted from the annexation, as was a strip along the Pool addition, where residents did not desire to become part of the city.

The new area of the city extends for one half mile west from the present city limits, taking in the north edge of the highway, extends south for seven blocks, then back north and thence east to the present city limits.

Seven New Business Buildings; Many Homes Under Construction Mark Growth of Muleshoe

Muleshoe's growth continues with the promise of spring, and new construction of both residential and business structures may be seen in numerous places all over town.

At least seven new business buildings are either in the process of being built or in the planning stage at this time, and more than that number of residences are under construction now.

Two new service stations are being built. One of them is a new Gulf products station in the location where Wellborn's Beauty Shop used to be. The other is a Texaco station on the Plainview highway, near the Friona cut-off.

Pool Insurance Company is building a new office between their present building, which will be moved, and the State Bank.

Pat Bobo has announced plans for an office building in the same block, near the present location of the Muleshoe Produce plant.

The Western Texas Farm Labor Association is progressing with a building to house its office and barracks on the Sudan highway near the Millen packing sheds.

White Pipe company has a site in the state of preparation for construction of a new building between the Sudan highway, east of the city dump grounds.

McGee and Burkett are building a new structure east of their present location. Their present building will be used for a drive-in restaurant at the foot of Main, and the intersection of that street with the highway.

New residences are going up all over town, with construction about equally divided between areas on the north and south sides of town.

D. L. Morrison is working on the first of five new homes in his subdivision east of the Lenau Addition. One new three bedroom house is already on location, about a block from the newly completed Catholic church.

Morrison plans to build 5 homes in the area in the immediate future.

The Catholic church, which dominates a hill overlooking the Morrison property, is presently being used for the celebration of mass each Sunday afternoon, and will be dedicated in High Church ceremonies on March 17.

Revival Begins Sunday Night

REV. JIM ANDERSON

Evangelist and Mrs. Jim Anderson will begin a revival meeting at the Muleshoe Assembly of God church on Sunday night at 7:45, according to the pastor, Rev. R. V. Luna.

Special singing will also be a feature of the meetings and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Felix Ray Oden Victim Of Accident At Railroad Crossing Here Tuesday

Funeral services were held this afternoon in Crystal City, Texas, for Felix Ray Oden, 56, who was killed Tuesday afternoon about 2:15 when his car was struck by a west bound freight train at the compress crossing in Muleshoe.

Mr. Oden was born in Batesville, Texas on March 3, 1900, and was a watchman at the compress, on his way from work at the time of the accident. He had stopped at the crossing to allow an east bound freight to clear the crossing, and when it had cleared, did not see the rapidly moving west bound train.

The train struck the car and carried it about half a mile before Mr. Oden's body was thrown out.

The body was taken overland to Crystal City by Singleton Funeral Home for services Thursday in the First Baptist Church of Crystal City. Interment, under direction of Vols Funeral Home will be in that city.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Minnie Oden, four sons, Maurice of Lubbock, James and Willis of Crystal City and David of San Antonio; his father, A. L.

Oden of Crystal City; two sisters, Mrs. Odessa Butledge of Crystal City and Mrs. Rosemond Engle of Alice, Texas; two brothers, M. L. Oden of Laredo, and Dennis of Crystal City; and five grandchildren.

Slow, Soaking Rains Break Drouth; Planting Prospects Looking Better

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM

By PRICE DANIEL
Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

Our system of public education requires the active interest of all our people, and it is the privilege and likewise the duty of every citizen in the State to cooperate with our respective School Boards, Superintendents, Principals, and Teachers in an effort to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation.

Every Texan has the opportunity and the right to attend our public schools and to acquire the necessary learning for making an honorable living, as well as an appreciation and understanding of the correspondent duties, obligations and rights of American Citizenship.

WHEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 4-9, 1957, as in Texas, and urge each and every citizen to visit a public school during this period so that all may become personally acquainted with the accomplishments and the improvements of our educational system.

In witness hereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of Texas to be affixed this 15th day of January, 1957.

Governor of Texas
PRICE DANIEL

Slow soaking rains which began near midnight Sunday continued until late in the morning Wednesday, bringing welcome relief from the drouth, and adding .55 of an inch of moisture to land soon to be planted.

Although there were no heavy rains, the slow drizzle, with high humidity, prevented any runoff of water, and also eliminated rapid surface drying. Most observers feel that very little of the rainfall escaped soaking into the soil.

General rains over the entire southwest, while not heavy, have brightened the spring planting picture considerably. Although the drouth cannot be considered broken, many feel there is enough moisture now in the ground to allow planting when the weather warms up somewhat.

The rains this week brought more moisture to this part of the Plains than any since October, of 1956, when a total of .89 of an inch was measured. Last year's total of 8.32 inches, aided by the February snowfall put enough moisture in the ground to assure a better than average crop in the fall of 1956, but offers little stored moisture for 1957 spring planting.

March 1 Deadline Nears For Renewing Subscriptions Before Rate Increase

Little more than a week remains for Journal subscribers to renew their subscriptions or enter orders for new subscriptions before a rate increase goes into effect.

The rate boost will become effective on March 1. At that time subscriptions to The Journal will become $3.00 per year for subscribers in Bailey and adjoining counties, and $3.50 for subscribers outside that area.

There is no limit to the number of years for which a subscription may be entered, and many longtime subscribers are renewing for two years and longer before the rate increase.

Whether your subscription is nearly due or not, by renewing now, subscribers may affect a saving before March 1.

'56 Cotton Crop $892,620 Over Previous Year

The U. S. Department of Commerce has announced that Bailey county gained 72,989 bales of cotton to January 16, 1957 from the 1956 crop, which shows an increase in the official figures of 14,877 bales over the 1955 crop.

The official ginning figure for the same period in 1955 was 58,112 bales.

The increase of the 1956 crop over the previous year amounted to about $892,620 in actual cash income for farmers and ginners in the county and adjoining counties.

Bar Association Asks Creation Of New District

Members of the Bailey County Bar Association met Wednesday afternoon and adopted a strong resolution urging that legislation be approved for the creation of a new judicial district out of portions of the present 64th district.

Such legislation has been introduced in the Legislature.

The local bar association feels that the need is particularly great for such a move due to many reasons.

They cite the fact that the present docket is crowded; that the district contains too much population for one district; that a new and smaller district would make the judge more available and hence speed up trials; and decreasing the problem of travel for lawyers trying cases within the new district.

An overheated light bulb in a clothes closet caused an undetermined amount of damage from fire Sunday night in an apartment in the south part of town.

Two Car Accidents Cause Damages, No One Injured

At 10:30 p. m. Saturday, sheriff's deputies Joe Hodge and Everet Talley investigated an accident on highway 70, involving Domingo Castillo of Earth and T. A. Escovedo, of Littlefield.

Officers said Castillo was fixing a window glass in his 41 model car when struck by Escovedo, driving a 51 model Ford.

Both the boys and girls teams of Bula were crowned basketball champions of District 5-B at Whitharral Saturday night as they defeated teams from Bledsoe in the district tournament.

"Most of us don't put our best foot forward until we get the other one in hot water!"

Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.—(II Corinthians 5, 17.)

To be given the opportunity of beginning life all over again, cleansed of wrong—of consigning the past to the past and of being, in all truth, born again—that is God's wonderful gift to those who accept Jesus Christ as His Son, our Savior and Redeemer.

1 3-ounce package lemon flavored gelatin
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup hot water (or cherry juice and water)
1 3-ounce package well-drained canned Bing cherries*
1 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
1/4 cup lemon juice
9-inch single crust graham cracker shell

Dissolve gelatin and sugar in hot water (or juice and water). Pit and dice cherries. Add to gelatin. Cool to syrupy, thickened consistency (about 40 minutes). Chill Carnation in refrigerator; tray until soft crystals appear around edges of tray (15-20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice; whip very stiff (2 minutes longer). Fold whipped Carnation into cherry mixture. Spoon into crust. Chill about 2 hours, or until firm.

For 9-inch single crust graham cracker shell: Mix 1 1/2 cups crushed graham crackers with 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/4 cup melted butter. Line sides and bottom of 9-inch pie plate.

*For maraschino cherry pie, use 3/4 cup (8 ounce jar) diced maraschino cherries instead of Bing cherries.

LESSON IN AUTOMOTIVE ECONOMY—A San Franciscan with a sense of humor demonstrates how the city's new electronically controlled parking meters might be beaten out of his nickel. He holds his hat over a light-sensitive electric eye imbedded in the pavement which automatically erases any time left from the previous coin when a car pulls away. City officials report over 37 per cent extra revenue from these "Traffic Master" meters.

1957 Acreage Reserve Program For Current Crop Is In Progress Now

Farmers can now sign agreements to take part in the 1957 Acreage Reserve program for three basic crops: R. G. Shrauner, Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today. The three crops are winter wheat, cotton and rice.

Taking part in the Acreage Reserve program is entirely voluntary. Each farmer will make his own decision, on the basis of the advantages offered for his farm.

Chairman Shrauner explained that the Acreage Reserve programs are one part of the Soil Bank, which is now entering its first year of full operation. The other part is the Conservation Reserve, which is a longer-range plan, offering farmers financial help in changing their use of general cropland from harvested crops to conservation uses.

The Acreage Reserve, on the other hand, gives farmers an opportunity to attack directly the accumulated surpluses of basic crops by diverting allotment acreage from basic-crop production.

"Farmers may not fully realize all the advantages of participating in the Acreage Reserve programs," Shrauner stated. "For one thing, participating farmers will earn special payments to protect their current income while land is in the Reserve and out of crop production; they will receive the program payments for the Reserve acres, even if they run into a bad growing season; they may rest the Reserve acres, or improve them with cover crops which may qualify for regular Agricultural Conservation Program assistance; they will be in position to reduce their overall investment in the year's farm operations; and finally, by cooperating with other producers, they may cut down burdensome

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mrs. Laura B. S. Cox, owner of farm land in the county and a yearly visitor here in the summer, has written us from her home at Excelsior Springs, Mo., the following letter:

Dear Editor:
Please find enclosed check for $15.00 for 5 years subscription to The Journal. You had just as well let me do this for the last time.

At the end of this subscription I will be not too far from 90, so you may not get too many more subscriptions from me. Anyway, I have been one of your faithful subscribers.

Note you are still having dry weather. So are we, we don't have underground water either. With very best wishes,
LAURA B. S. COX

IT'S UP FOR GRABS—When you and your girl are staring at that romantic moon some night, look carefully; somebody may be establishing a beachhead up there. This sketch by artist Ken Fagg shows the American flag being planted on the lunar landscape from a space ship. Proponents advocate this move before the Russians can claim the moon with radio-controlled rockets. They say the U.S. has a prior claim by virtue of radar contact with the moon in 1946. Sketch is from Mechanix Illustrated magazine.

Horace Hutton Plants 20 Inch Grain Sorghum To Control Wind Damage

Horace Hutton, who farms some of the new sandy land southeast of Muleshoe has had a very satisfactory year, by planting grain sorghum in 20 inch rows to prevent wind erosion, and at the same time making quite a creditable crop. With local SCS assistance, Hutton worked out a plan to make the best use of the sandy class IV land. He planted 20 inch rows of sorghum, seeded with a 10 inch grain drill, with every other drill plugged. Part of the place was put in Caprock milo at the rate of 7½ pounds per acre, and the balance was seeded to Martin milo at rates varying from 10 to 14 pounds per acre. The land was deep plowed to depths of 24 inches, which offered little in the way of protection from wind erosion. Not much heavier soil was turned up and the topsoil was buried deep. Hutton believes that the deep plowing may have contributed somewhat to delay initial growth of the crop.

Rotary Observes 52nd Anniversary

Rev. T. M. Goar was the principal speaker when Muleshoe Rotary Club observed the 52nd Anniversary of Rotary at its noon luncheon Tuesday with a special program prepared by Myron Pool.

Rotary, Rev. Goar pointed out, is a world fellowship of business and professional executives who accept the "Ideal of Service" as the basis for success and happiness in business and community life. In Rotary, thoughtfulness of other is regarded as the basis of service, and helpfulness to others as its expression.

Blackhawks Down Mules At Phillips; Meet On Local Court Tomorrow Nite

The Phillips Blackhawks, district 1-AAA champions, last Thursday night thrashed the Muleshoe Mules, District 1-AA winners, 81 to 61, in an exhibition game at Phillips.

Phillips jumped off to an early lead and kept it all through the game, leading 40 to 25 at half-time.

The Blackhawks, having the advantage of playing on their home court, were at their best. They hit practically everything they shot at. The Mules on the other hand were only lukewarm, hitting roughly 50% of their field goal attempts.

Just the reverse of the usual situation, was the fact that the Mules didn't control the majority of rebounds. Two big reasons for this were the Blackhawks' Ralph Smith and David Bennetfield, who each neared the six foot, six inch mark.

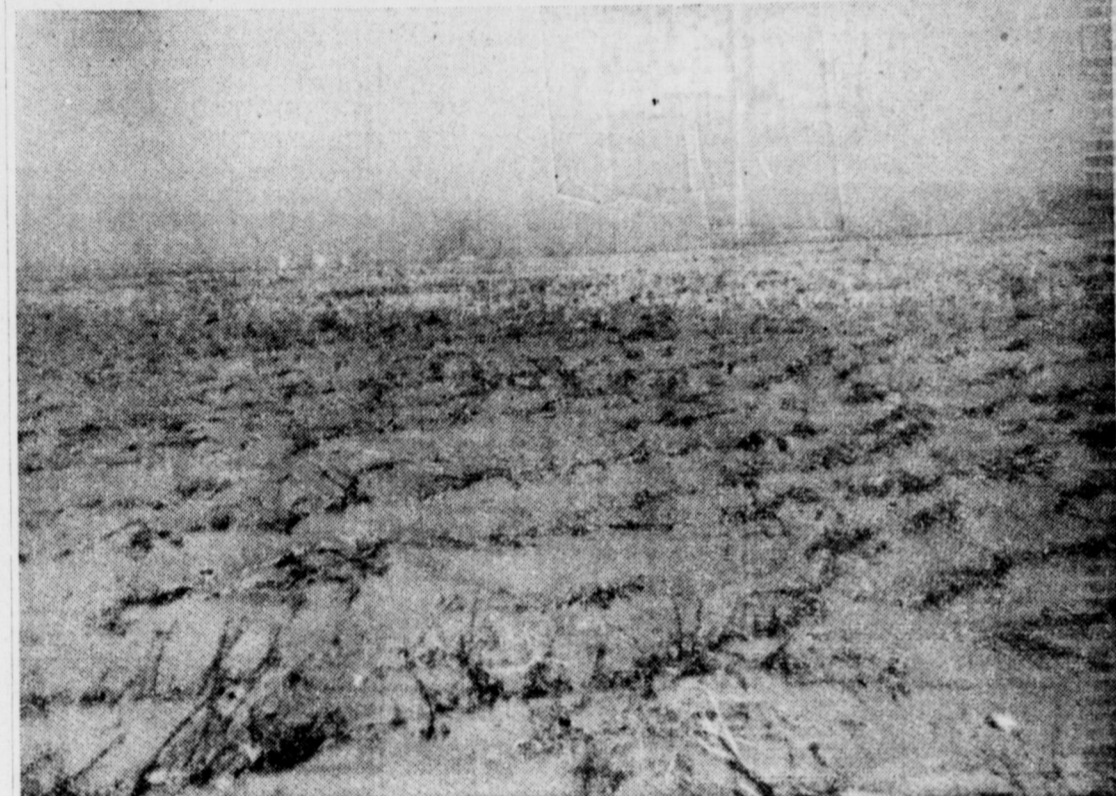

Charles Jennings and Eddie Wilt, both seniors at MHS, led the scoring for Muleshoe with 16 each. Bill Black had 14 and Oakie Alexander had 10.

For the winners, Ralph Smith had 24 and Gene Bennetfield had 21. Tommy Newman and Donnie Gains each made 12.

Mules did very well against a very good team, and are all looking forward to Friday night when they will have a chance for revenge. Phillips will play them a return game tomorrow night, February 22. Both teams now have "felt each other out" and spectators should see a game comparable to the Mules vs. Tulla contest.

These two games are preparation contests for the Mules before their Bi-District encounter with the Floydada Whirlwinds. Thus far the Whirlwinds are undefeated in their conference play.

RESIDUE USED AS LAND COVER

Aerial Map of TRF Hi-Plains Station

The half section is bounded by U. S. Highway 70 on the north, with the cemetery marking its northeast corner and the Baptist Church in Halfway, the northwest corner.

The west quarter section has been purchased by the Green Machinery Co. and will be repurchased by the Foundation at the original cost from funds being raised for the High Plains Station. The east quarter section has been purchased by the Harvest Queen Foundation and leased for 25 years at $1.00 per year to the T. R. F. for the High Plains Station with options to lease for an additional 25 years.

In this picture the station has been divided according to soil characteristics as indicated by the Soil Conservation Service, who supplied the picture. The key is:

1. This large section of the farm is deep, fine textured, slowly permeable Pullman clay loam soil with no to one per cent slope and no to slight erosion.

2. These two acres of the site are the same as No. 1, except they have one to three per cent slope.

3. This small area on the west side of the half section, which includes the irrigation well, has deep medium textured, slowly permeable Amarillo clay loam soil with no to one per cent slope and little or no erosion.

4. This area is the same as No. 3, except that the slope is one to three per cent.

Research plots will be located in the area along Highway 70.

Signs will indicate type of research being conducted.

The second irrigation well is to be located just south of the cemetery and it is planned to connect the two wells with underground pipe. Some dry land research will also be conducted.

A temporary office and a storage shed are located west of the Baptist Church on an acre that has been purchased by T. R. F. Permanent buildings, including an office building, processing and storage building, and a greenhouse are expected to be located just east of the Baptist Church along highway 70.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EJLER

We think Farwell Chamber of Commerce displayed proper judgment in securing a speaker for their banquet who is a farm and ranch man at heart, and who gives splendid continuous publicity to subjects of interest to farmers. We have never heard Cotton John make an address, and fully intended attending the meeting last Saturday night in Farwell, but it didn't work out so we could. There is probably no publicity man who devotes a much to the plains agricultural people as this good will radio and newspaper man from KGNC.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session Monday, January 21, 1957, at 7:30 p.m. in the office of the Bailey County Farm Bureau.

Mr. Walter Woodrum, of the Muleshoe State Bank presented to E. N. (Shorty) McCall the Texas Bank and Trust Company's annual award to the outstanding supervisor of the District. Shorty is an active supervisor and has done an outstanding job of conservation farming on his places at Enoch's. Congratulations to him on this award.

The board then discussed Soil Stewardship Week. They believe that with some personal effort on their part, the local ministers would become more interested in soil-saving work. The stewardship of the soil is everyone's responsibility and each year the Governor sets aside one week to bring attention to our soil and its welfare, ending with Soil Stewardship Sunday.

Next the board listened to a report by board member Dan Darsey on the trip to a meeting of the Texas State Association of Supervisors held in Tyler, Sherman Inman, chairman, Dan Darsey, member, and L. Duane Bartee, local SCS representative to the board, drove down to Tyler January 16 and returned Friday night, January 18. Dan reported that all had an interesting and informative trip. He said that he was surprised at the number of bankers at the convention. There was lots of interest manifest and they enjoyed the association with members of other districts. Next year they hope all board members and any other interested cooperators will be able to attend. They also plan to take their wives. An entertaining program for the women was held at the convention this year.

A special meeting was held ment and economy.

Jack Patterson and your directors again urge that if you intend renewing your membership, that you do so as soon as you are billed. That will save your Farm Bureau money, and your neighbor the time and money necessary to come and see you, and eat 34% of the world's consumption of meat. American capitalism, he said, serves the individual better than any other tested kind of world govern-

By John C. White, Commissioner

AGRICULTURE AND THE FIFTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE

The Texas Department of Agriculture owes its existence and operation to members of the Texas Legislature, past and present.

January 25 to discuss the land judging contest to be sponsored by the board in April. Those present were Duane Bartee and Ernest Rivers, Soil Conservation Service, Bill Bickel and Jerry Adams, Muleshoe Vocational Agriculture instructors, J. K. Adams, and Jim Ward, County Agents.

The board approved 15 new conservation plans with the district. These plans bring total plans for the district to 932, which is about 6070 of the total farm units in the district.

What Others Are Doing
Donald Patterson, west of Muleshoe, has completed benching a small tract. These are level benches. He plans to field level about 15 acres also.

Carl Pollard, north of Stegall, is building 4 diversion type terraces.

Dale Nicholas, east of Maple, plans to build two diversion type terraces.

Much interest has been evidenced in farmstead windbreaks. Several cooperators have signed up for Arizona cypress tree seedlings.

Conservation on the ground is being planned and installed throughout the District, and the board is certainly encouraged and pleased with this active evidence of good soil plant and water conservation.

The only major state agency created by statute, the Department's every function has been directly dependent on the state's lawmakers from its earliest beginning.

This year with the meeting of the 55th Legislature, important agricultural legislation has been set before the lawmakers either for passage, amendment and passage, or rejection.

The men whose direct responsibility is the consideration of these measures, which include a proposed egg grading and standards law, strengthening of seed controls and other regulatory measures, are the standing committees on agriculture in the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Agricultural committee members are in most instances legislators representing areas where agriculture is an important industry. They are directly concerned with helping the economy of their constituents and are vitally interested in and well-informed on Texas agriculture and its problems.

A cross-section of these legislators shows representatives from every section of the state. We are fortunate in the 55th Legislature to have the experienced and cautious as well as the young and aggressive on our agriculture committee.

Chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture is Sen. Moffett of Chillicothe, senior member of the upper chamber whose record stands out as one of hard work and honesty.

Assisting him as vice-chairman is Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo in the heart of Texas' vital rice belt. Other agriculture committee members include Senators Carlos Ashley of Llano, Neville H. Colson of Navasota, Frank Owen, III of El Paso, Andy Rogers of Childress, Jarrad Secrest of Temple, Preston Smith of Lubbock, and Doyle Willis of Fort Worth.

Heading the companion House Agriculture Committee is young and enthusiastic Rep. Harold Parish of Taft, assisted by L. L. Armor of Sweetwater, vice-chairman. Additional members include Reps. Paul Brashear of Cisco, Ed J. Cloud of Rule, Carl C. Conley of Raymondville, W. T. Dungan of McKinney, Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, L. L. Holstein of Pandora, J. C. Hooks of Livingston, John Huebner of Bay City, Moyne L. Kelly of Afton, Harold G. Kennedy of Marble Falls, Glenn H. Kothmann of San Antonio, Truett Latimer of Abilene, George W. McCoppin of Texarkana, Grainger W. McIlhany of Wheeler, C. T. Matthews of Yoakum, Walter C. Schwartz of Brenham, Hershel Sherrill of McDade, Sam E. Wohlford of Stratford, and Herman Yezak of Bremond.

Many thirsty Texas farmers and ranchers may be overlooking a potential water hole that's been underfoot all the time, namely the usually dry old creek bed.

In several instances, at least, Texans have managed to make tanks of water from mere trickles by proper treatment of nature's forgotten irrigation ditches which run through most everybody's land.

Use of small check dams is nothing new, but seldom have they taken so individual a turn as in the case of J. G. Brunson, Lamar County farmer who sub-irrigated 50 acres of corn and bottomland alfalfa from an old horse-shoe shaped creek bed on his place.

Brunson created his irrigation supply by damming up the lower end of the creek so that water stands 10 to 15 feet deep in the old channel, now by-passed by the Red River. The dam raised the water table in nearby bottom lands to within 10 to 12 feet of the surface, creating a natural situation for sub-irrigating.

Babson Discusses

INSURANCE STOCKS

Babson Park Mass., Feb. 21. I have recently been quoted as follows: "I believe if Jesus were here today, instead of being a carpenter, he would be an insurance agent." My explanation of this is that I believe the insurance business is a clear illustration of applied Christianity. If someone's home burns, the company does not usually use its capital to pay the unfortunate person. The insurance is paid from premiums contributed by the rest of us whose houses have not burned. If one of us dies and the wife receives insurance for $20,000, the rest of us, through our premiums, pay the wife these much-needed funds. Let me now give you some ideas as to my thoughts on insurance in general.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF INSURANCE
 The simplest insurance is life insurance. On these life company stocks I was bullish a few years ago when they were cheap; but since then they have increased threefold in price and, hence, are not so attractive. The health, accident, and automobile company stocks have never appealed to me; but are OK. The surety and bonding companies I know nothing about. The fire insurance companies I have studied for years and have invested considerable money therein.

MANY DISAGREE WITH ME
 The investment trusts have been doing considerable selling of insurance stocks, especially those of the fire insurance companies. They feel that the present "agency system" is becoming obsolete. There may be radical changes in the selling organizations of the fire insurance stock companies; but their executives do not now admit it.

Many investors also fear the mutual stock fire companies. Of course, there are no stockholders in the mutual life companies; but certain stock fire insurance companies use a mutual system for premiums. They offer to save the buyer of insurance a good part of the commission now going to the agent. My own feeling is there will always be a field for both classes, each one keeping the other on its toes.

DIVERSIFICATION AND MANAGEMENT
 The sensible investor will classify fire insurance companies with the best investment trusts. By buying such fire insurance stocks an investor gets the advantage of the dividends and, in addition, profits, if any, from the fire insurance business. This gives investors diversification of securities plus a cut in the fire insurance business. Can any mutual investment trust match combination?

In addition to diversification, investors in fire insurance stocks have the advantage of excellent management. Fire insurance companies employ experts for the selection of their securities, which are also most carefully watched by an investment committee. The record of the investment holdings of these companies is very commendable.

THE PREMIUM CYCLE
 Over a period of years the income from fire insurance stocks has been excellent. There are cases, such as that of the Home Insurance Company, where this record extends over one hundred years. There is, however, a cycle in the industry which I should mention. There will be a period of heavy losses and low profits, after which the companies get permission from the State Commissions to raise their premium rates. Then follows a period of good profits. After a few years, losses climb again, but the companies will again be allowed to increase premiums. In the long run, the State Commissions are fair with the insurance companies and allow them a reasonable average profit. Those who buy these stocks and consistently hold them should have safety, diversification, and good management, resulting over a long period in both capital gains and a fair income.

In addition, corporations such as the Game-well Company are constantly at work installing fire alarms, sprinkler systems, and other means of fire protection. Legislatures are constantly passing laws forcing fireproof construction. Dangerous slums which are breeders of fires are being constantly torn down. All of this works to the advantage of the insurance companies, their policyholders, and their stockholders. Just now the industry is in a period of heavy losses and most fire insurance stocks can be bought for much less than their book value. Hence, this seems to be the right time to buy good fire insurance stocks.

When the history of the failure of international communism to dominate the world is written it may record that the turning point was its inability to capture and dominate organized American labor.

Records now available prove beyond doubt that this was, and still is, a major objective of the Kremlin bosses. It sent its best agents and poured hundreds of millions of dollars into the effort. A few years ago there was a distinct danger that the campaign might succeed. We know now that some of the unions were communist dominated and directed. There still are communists in the labor groups, but they are being weeded out.

One man, more than any other, is responsible for failure of the communists in positions of responsibility to dominate the great mass of patriotic American workers. That man is George Meany, President of the 15-million member AFL-CIO.

It was 12 years ago, at the height of United States-Russian "friendship" that Meany told the British Trades Union Congress, in Blackpool, England, that the AFL, which he then headed, would under no circumstances accept membership in the Communist-dominated World Trade Union Congress.

That was not the beginning, nor was it the end, of his ceaseless and untiring efforts to kick communists out of organized labor in America. He has been, and is, one of the Nation's most out-spoken foes of communism.

Every American ought to read Meany's editorial in the January American Federationist, entitled "The Co-existence Myth." There is

The Kremlin, he points out, for many months talked to the Free World about "peaceful co-existence." That propaganda worked in parts of Europe and Asia, and even on some wishful thinkers in this country.

"Then came the Hungarian rebellion," Meany recalls. "Students and workers in Hungary began to talk openly about freedom. Attempts to suppress such talk led to an unexpected uprising, and temporary freedom."

"Here was the first crucial test of peaceful co-existence. The Kremlin rushed hundreds of thousands of troops, 2,000 tanks and fleets of planes to Hungary and attacked the virtually defenseless Hungarian people with a savagery unmatched in modern history."

"An official statement in Pravda explained that Soviet Russia had to crush the Hungarian rebellion or Hungary would have been permanently lost to communism. It is conceivable that this loss of a tiny satellite would be considered so insupportable by the Kremlin that it had to let loose its full military might to prevent it?"
 "No, Soviet Russia did not fear the loss of Hungary. The real fear of the Kremlin was freedom. They feared co-existence with freedom. They know there are more anti-communists inside Russia than anywhere else in the world."

"They feared that freedom in Hungary would give some of the Russian people ideas—that the Russian people might want relief from oppression; that they might want to elect their own leaders."

"There are two lessons that the entire free world should learn from these events. The first is that in dealing with the Soviets there is only one sin—the sin of weakness. The second is that those who created the co-existence propaganda slogan of 'peaceful co-existence' have now proved they consider it a one-way street."

Sand Hills Philosopher Says Way TO END SURPLUS IS TO SUBSTITUTE TRACTOR BANK

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm will get nowhere with his idea this week, but we don't guess you can blame him for trying.

Dear editor:
 Here of late I have been giving considerable thought to the Soil Bank, since nearly every newspaper you pick up has an article or two on it, and where there are several aspects of the Bank that suit me, for example, I have no objection to leaving land un-plowed and I never have objected to opening a letter and finding a check in it, it seems to me the Soil Bank idea hasn't been carried far enough.

What I mean is, putting a few acres in the bank may be fine, but like any modern bank it ought to offer more services.

For example, I can't find any provision for putting my tractor in it.

Now as I understand the purpose of the Soil Bank, it's designed to take land out of cultivation and reduce the surplus, and one of the worst surplus is as far as producing a surplus is concerned in the tractor.

What the government needs, if it really wants to wipe out that surplus, is to establish a Tractor Bank. The way I see it, this would be a lot simpler than the Soil Bank. Wouldn't require any measuring, any insecting, any complicated paper work. All you'd have to do is mail your tractor key to Washington, let them mail you a check back, and when the surplus was down to where the experts figured it was safe to return your key, let 'em drop it in the mail. If your tractor doesn't have a key, have one installed. After all, a man ought to be willing to do his part to end the surplus, without relying on the government for everything.

Now I know that somebody is gonna say, what about the man with two tractors, or the shady character with two tractor keys? Well, naturally the banking business is not all smooth sailing, you're bound to find dead beats in any enterprise, but on the whole, if the check was big enough to get you through the year, there wouldn't be many people who'd slip around and sort of bootleg a little plowing on the side and after dark. At least you sure wouldn't catch me doing it.

If you think this idea has any merit, I'd like to say I've got my key here in my hand ready to drop in the mail.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

JOY IN THE FAITH
 Read Romans 5:1-11.

Conclusion that the suffering of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed to us. (Romans 8:18.)

One evening three of us patients were sitting and idly chatting. One was a communist and another a vertine, and I was a Christian. The usual talk came around sickness. We had all been in a leproasarium for many years. Besides, we were in the tuberculosis ward.

Up to a few days before, another of the patients seemed to be recovering but he suddenly had a setback and died. On investigation it was discovered that he had somehow contracted meningitis. For some time we sat in silence, with bowed heads. Each of us recognized the seriousness of life and death.

In Christ alone we can find peace of heart and the hope of eternal life. But what about my two friends? They did not know the joy of salvation or have the assurance of eternal life. I prayed that my friends might believe in Christ and know the grace of God in all its fullness.

PRAYER
 Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the hope of salvation. What a magnificent salvation! Through the living Word may we be delivered from sin and the fear of death. Grant to us joy in the faith; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 Even though our suffering be doubled, we cannot be moved from our joy in Christ.

Beef and Eggs Top Plentiful Food List

Beef and eggs top the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list for March. These two popular and nutritious food items got the top spot after the regular monthly check on food stocks in local trade areas revealed that supplies of both were much heavier than usual for this season.

In addition to beef, good supplies of lamb and hens as well as frozen fillets of perch and halibut are also available.

The only vegetables on the March list are potatoes, canned sweet corn and pinto beans.

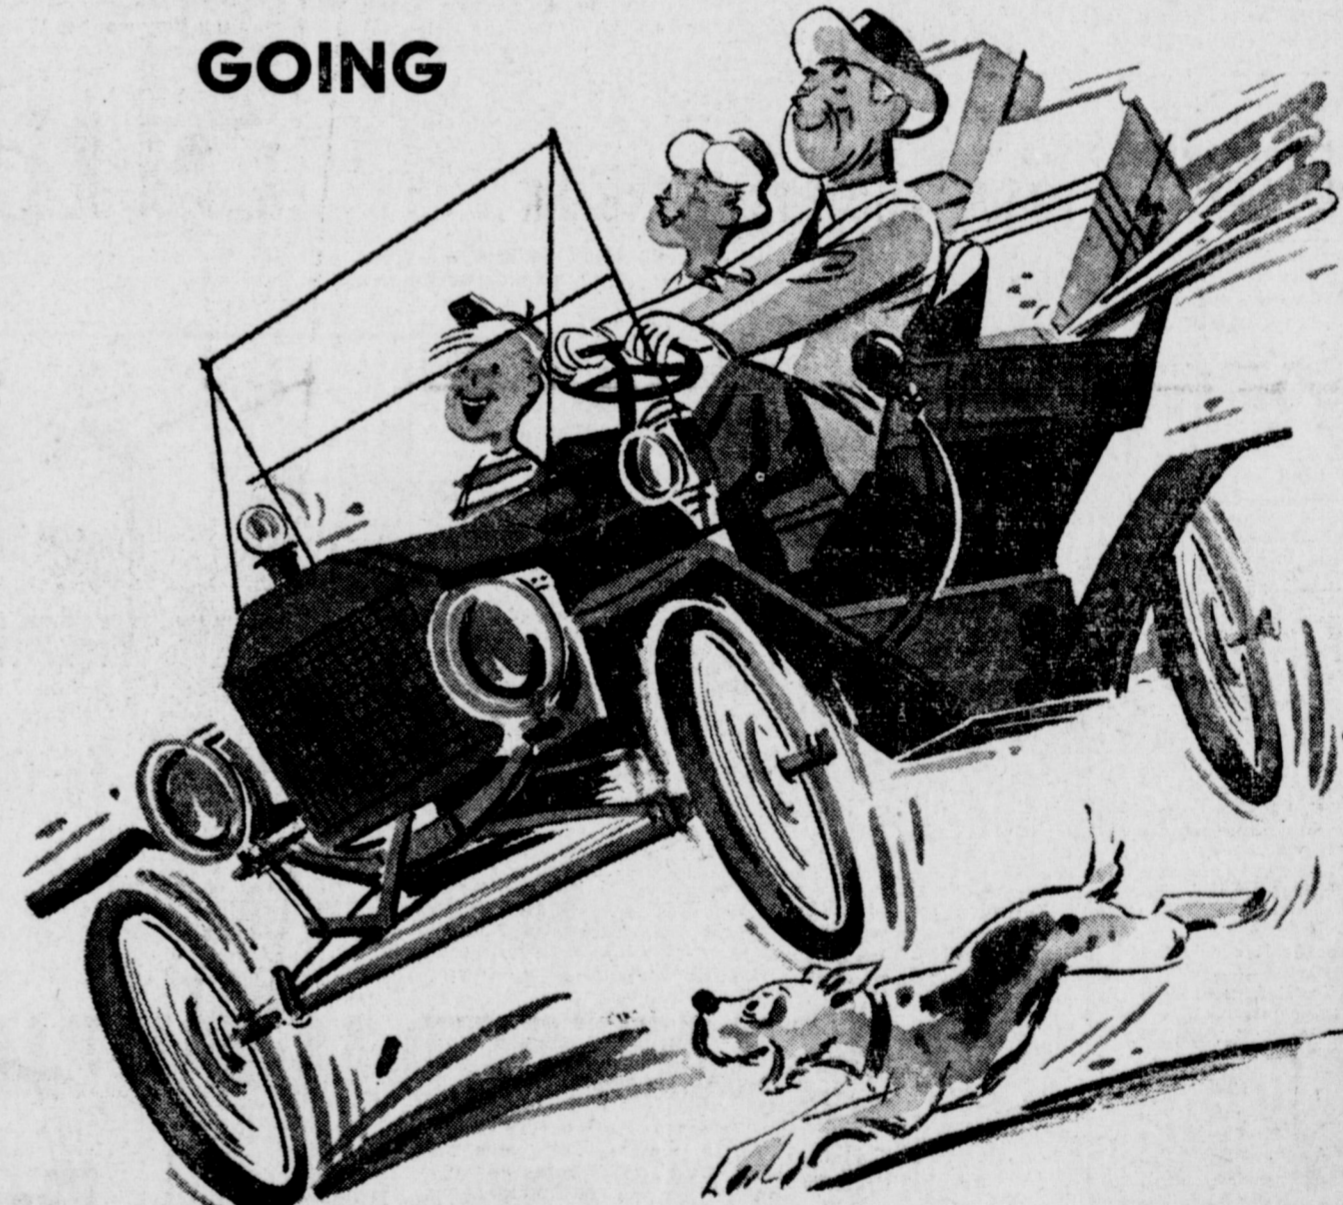

Rice, peanuts, peanut butter, dried prunes, milk and other dairy products round out the plentiful list for this area.

E. K. Angeley is receiving treatment in the Lubbock Methodist Hospital this week.

4 REASONS WHY STEEL PIPE IS YOUR BEST BUY

1. Steel Pipe Is Proved

Nothing is stronger than steel. No substitute has been found which combines the durability, strength, and lasting economy of steel. With steel pipe for your water lines and well casing there is no weak link. There is complete dependability.

2. Joints Are Welded

No joint can be as good as a welded joint. Welding is not a temporary connection, nor is it one that is "just as good". Welding forms a permanent bond between two lengths of steel pipe. A bond that is leakproof and maintenance free.

3. Permanent, Long Life

Properly coated steel pipe will last indefinitely. Protective coatings nullify the effects of moisture, soil chemicals, electrolytic action, etc. Not only is the protected steel pipe long lasting, but you know that you can depend on it to be trouble-free.

4. Steel Pipe Is Priced Right

You can get all the advantages of steel pipe; long life, positive joints, maintenance free for the same price as a competitive substitute and synthetic materials. Don't be caught with a poor piping job that can shut your irrigation down. Remember, the water comes all the way in a steel pipe. Make sure it gets to where you want it in steel. Play it safe with dependable, proved STEEL PIPE. Steel Pipe will stand pressure in connection with sprinkler irrigation systems. We are now equipped to install underground Steel Pipe and Sprinkler Irrigation Systems.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Millen Maintains Flexible Supports, Exports, Soil Bank, Will Aid Farmer

Editor's Note: The journal welcomes the following discussion of the farm products price support situation. The paper will print anything submitted pro and con on this vital subject.

Dear Scoop: I heard a man say the other day, "what has National Farm Bureau done for me? Does your president Charles Shuman really believe that the government should get out of the Farm Program?" My answer is this:

Yes, any farmer that cares for the fundamental importance of freedom and the love of individual liberty, (the freedom and liberty that our forefathers fought and died for when they signed the Declaration of Independence) would like to get the government out of farming and be free to plant and raise anything they so desire without government intervention.

Take cotton for instance. Five years ago we had twenty-six million acres of cotton with a 90% rigid support price. Four years later we were down to seventeen million acres and had built up the largest surplus of cotton in history. If the present trend had continued, by 1960 we would have had only ten million acres, and our domestic consumption is only nine million bales besides our diverted acres. This has had a disastrous effect on agriculture such as grain sorghums, vegetables, etc.

In cotton alone at least nine million acres have definitely gone into competition against other farm crops, which were not supported as the basic crops were. Some of the effects is an over production of grain sorghums and feed grains, which lead to an overproduction of livestock. What had happened to cause this deplorable situation? Government Intervention, with our rigid support price at 90%. Large cotton monopolies, and American Capital, with the blessings of our government, who sent along tractors, county agents, etc., were encouraged to go abroad all over the world and plant cotton in competition against us. Saying America will support the price of cotton all we have to do is develop new countries to undersell the United States a cent to take the world market and that is what happened. While these same people made millions storing our cotton.

In 1954 National Farm Bureau, realizing that the government is not a market insisted that we must have markets if we were to have a healthy agriculture, originated and through a Senator from Nebraska got Public Law 480 passed. So that we could sell our surplus abroad for foreign currency, trade or barter our products for theirs. We even got Romeo Short — National Farm Bureau vice-president to resign and take up a job with the Department of Agriculture to administer it.

Short went abroad sold and traded millions of dollars of surplus, and what happened? You guessed it. Government intervention. Dulles cancelled 90% of it. By January 1, 1956 cotton was in such a deplorable condition due to loss of markets, and inroads of the synthetic industry, which was underselling cotton and spending millions of our pennies for promotion and research. It looked like Old King Cotton was at last about toppled from his throne.

It was then that the Government Congress and the legislature, started using our Farm Bureau recommendations: 1. Public Law 480 was pushed. 2. Our proposal to sell surplus cotton on the world market was passed, exports of five million bales were set as a goal. 3. The Farm Bureau Soil Bank was passed to further help depress the surplus by taking land out of production.

What has this accomplished? In the last year we have exported more farm products than we have exported in 30 years, over three billion dollars worth, averaging $400 per farmer for all balfide farmers in the United

WHAT? NO TOAST?—A Springfield, Mo., creamery turns out nearly four million pounds of butter annually, aided by this giant aluminum churn. The churn, scientifically designed to insure rapid production as well as high quality, turns out butter in one-ton batches.

States. Where we had hoped to sell four million bales of cotton, it was as though exports will run seven million bales. If we can keep this up the next two years, with what the Soil Bank will reduce our surpluses will look small.

Due to the variable price supports as the surpluses go down, price should go up. There will be efforts made in the next Congress to do a little trading on this price support matter. This trading will seek to hold the price of cotton at the current, or a little lower level in order to continue to meet the competition of synthetics. In return for giving up the potential price advance, which seems inevitable, the farmer would be given additional acreage in order to make his farm operation more efficient. The increased acreage would more than offset the price advantage the farmer is giving up.

I think and Farm Bureau thinks this is right. What we need is markets so we can plant more acres. If we didn't help it we were getting 150% of parity for cotton if we had only a few acres. What Farm Bureau wants is for us cotton farmers to help ourselves, by each farmer paying so much a bale for research and promotion to create new markets, and gain back old ones from synthetics, also through competition, recapture our foreign trade. I think that if we could raise cotton from fence row to fence row that we could raise cotton on the Hi-Plains as cheap or cheaper than any other place on earth. In other countries their spray bill is as much as it costs us to produce our crop. Other sub-marginal cotton countries such as east Texas, with whom we fight for government allotments would be forced to quit.

Let's consider the Supreme Ass'n. of America. Several years ago the long staple farmers in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona were faced with the loan, no markets and acres being cut so they formed an organization and charged each member three dollars a bale for research and promotion. Then they went to Washington and asked the government to lower the supports to seventy-five percent.

As a result association spokesmen said, all of the 1955 and 1956 crops moved into commercial channels instead of government warehouses. In addition, these spokesmen said, the government sold out surplus stocks, and now they have no acreage allotments.

Hybrid Corn Supplies Plentiful For Planting

Corn planting time is just around the corner and that should mean, says Ben Spears, extension agronomist, giving consideration to the question of the best corn hybrid for your area. Corn yields in Texas last year on the average were down due to the drought but adapted hybrids made yields 25 to 30 percent above open pollinated varieties.

Since there is a difference in the adaptability of corn hybrids to the areas of the state in which corn is grown, Spears suggests that the local county agent be asked for recommendations on the hybrids best adapted to the area.

As for the best planting date Spears says that is a hard one to determine but soil temperature should be between 55 and 60 degrees F. at seed depth at planting time. Planting should be at a rate to give a plant spacing of 18-24 inches on most uplands and 12 inches is recommended for deep fertile bottom land or irrigated soils. Spears points out that it is the number of ears and weight and not the size of ears that determine yield and profits from corn growing.

Fertilizer is needed for top corn

Cutting the price has reopened "scores of markets" to the crop Association leaders said.

"The farmers want to keep on doing business," they said, "and they realize that runaway prices would jeopardize all that they have gained."

What do you say boys? We can do it with short staple cotton, if we only have the intestinal fortitude to try, and lots get government unfair allotments and politics out of our hair, and start running our own business, if we are to be a free independent nation, and save for our grandchildren.

We should back the cotton council, an organization that has done more for the promotion of cotton than any other organization, also our new Plains Cotton Growers Association, which with our backing has great possibilities and potentials. We should back our research foundations both United States Department of Agriculture and private.

yields and Spears says the best bet on determining what kinds and how much, is a soil test. Nitrogen is the plant food most needed but phosphorous and potash are also important and fertilizer requirements vary with soils and areas of the state. Local county agents can supply information on the local situation. Spears says corn doesn't need a lot of cultivation. Plowing should be shallow and only to control weeds. Deep cultivating will cut the feeder roots and actually decrease yields.

RECEIVES AWARD

Joe S. Damron, owner of Damron Rexall Drug in Muleshoe, is one of the nation's first Rexall druggists to receive the new Mortar and Pestle Trophy, presented by the Rexall Drug Company as an annual award to outstanding member-druggists.

The award is an authentic replica of a 16th century bronze mortar and pestle cast at Deventer, The Netherlands, in 159. It was presented last Wednesday by Rexall Representative J. C. Losch, Jr., at the store.

The historical mortar and pestle, still an important implement in the druggist's profession, is an ancient symbol of pharmacy. Its use for pulverizing medicinal herbs is recorded in the histories of ancient Egyptians, Hebrews, of Biblical times and the Roman era.

Paying losses is the best part of the insurance business. It's the time when a client remembers the pitch I gave him when I sold him his policy and it's the time he realizes that he did not do anyone except himself a favor when he bought it. Haven't had a client yet who was unhappy with a loss settlement — don't suppose I will have as long as my customers tell me what they need and I tell them what they bought and what I tell the adjuster what we expect — Placing your insurance with someone who will go to bat for you in case of a loss is as easy as calling the fire department, all you have to do is call—

TO INCLUDE BAILEY COUNTY Reprs. Osborn and Saul Propose New Judicial District For This Area

Representative Leroy Saul of District 89 and State Representative Jesse M. Osborn of District 96 have introduced a bill which will create a new judicial district, the newly created district will be District 154 and will be comprised of Bailey, Lamb, Parmer and Castro Counties, with a population of approximately 50,000.

The division will leave in the 64th Judicial District Hale and Swisher counties with approximately the same population.

As a division now stands, according to Representative Leroy Saul, District Judge E. A. Bills will be with the new 154th District and the new judge will be appointed by the Governor for the 64th District of Hale and Swisher. The measure is agreeable to the bar associations of all counties in the present 64th Judicial District, the proposers say. Saul stated that the study was started in 1955 due to the excessive load now being carried by Judge Bills with this proposed measure coming out as a result of that study.

CAR ACCIDENTS—Research and Results

This past week I read an article in one of the newspapers titled "Hidden Whiplash Injuries May Occur In Car Accidents". A panel composed of members of the International College of Surgeons and former White House physician to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, vice Adm. Ross T. McIntire, revealed a very profound discovery, this after exhaustive research of course. Their findings were as follows: Car accidents even of minor nature, particularly those bumped from the rear or at an angle many times cause rotation of the neck region, involving as the article explained, the unprotected back of the neck.

Symptoms may occur at a later date; namely, muscular spasms, dizziness, headaches, nausea, faulty vision and many other abnormal conditions. We in chiropractic have known this for many years.

At the present time there are several patients of the Chiropractic Clinic with case histories of car accidents and other accidents, some dating as far back as twenty years, and they are responding very well to Chiropractic care. The procedure here at the Clinic is to make a very careful examination of the spine, especially of the neck region.

Come in and take our "V-8 COMFORT TEST"

Trucks for every job, from the world's most complete truck line—1/2-ton pickups to 90,000 lb. models.

The real test for driver comfort is how you feel at the end of a full day at the wheel.

That's why we invite you to come in and take our Heavy-Duty V-8 "comfort test." We think it will convince you that the new INTERNATIONAL V-8's are not only the most terrific performers on the road today—but are also easiest on the driver.

Simply take a new INTERNATIONAL V-8 out on the road. Compare it with your present truck for driving comfort, cab roominess, visibility. Note how much less downshifting you have to do—how easy it is to handle on rough roads. When you bring the truck back, see if you don't get out of the cab a lot fresher and less tired than usual!

The proof of the comfort is in the driving. Come see us soon!

Over the years INTERNATIONAL TRUCKS cost least to own! (and owners' cost records prove it)
