Closing Services To Be Directed By General Secretary

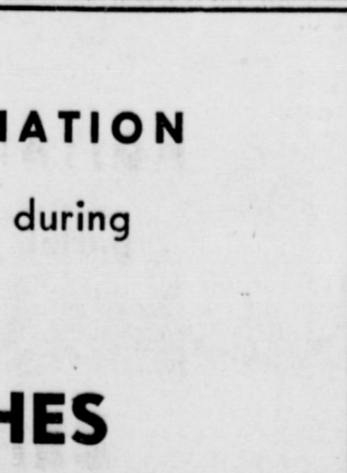

Chester Crow

The closing service will be Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock when the dedicatory vows will be taken by the members of the congregation.
 Chester Crow, general secretary of the Texas Board of Christian Churches, of Ft. Worth, will preach the dedicatory sermon.
 In announcing him, the minister said:
 "We will close the Week of Dedication with a man who is a friend of both ministers and churches, not because his official duties require that he be, but because he is one of the most gracious of men in spirit.
 "For years he has been interested in both the preaching and teaching tasks of the church. For nine years he was minister of the Hyde Park Christian Church in Austin where he influenced the lives of many young men and women attending the University of Texas. He had served a number of years of congregations in Texas prior to going to Austin, and was well equipped to become Director of Religious Education for the Christian Churches of Texas, which position he has held a number of years prior to being called to become general secretary of the Texas Board of Christian Churches. While serving as Director of Religious Education in the state he was president of the Religious Education Field Workers Association of the Disciples of Christ.

 "He comes as the dedicatory speaker with a rich experience of the full task of the church in our present day life, and the dedicatory vows at the close of his sermon will have an added meaning as the members of the congregation stand together and take them in the quiet restful sanctuary of the new building."
Mrs. Edwards To Speak Thursday Nite at Church
 Mrs. Bryan Edwards of Lubbock will be the speaker Thursday evening, May 3, at 8:00 o'clock, and comes in the place of Mrs. Pauline Thames, state director of Women's Work of the Christian Churches of Texas, who is unable to attend the Week of Dedication on account of previous engagements.
 Mrs. Edwards is a member of the First Christian Church of Lubbock and is not only active in the women's work of that congregation but also of the district and South Plains area. She speaks frequently on missionary programs when missionaries home on furlough are unable to fill all engagements.
 Mrs. Edwards filled such an engagement last year at the Young Peoples Conference in Ceta Glen near Happy leading a discussion group in mission and speaking to the assembly of world missions as a vital part of the life of the individual members of the congregation.
 Mrs. Edwards speaks in her own right as she will next Thursday evening. Mrs. H. E. Mitchell, president of the Christian Women's Fellowship, will preside at the service, and extends an invitation to the women of Muleshoe to attend and hear Mrs. Edwards. This will be one of the outstanding services of the Week of Dedication.

than four years as minister at Freepert, he served as district president, director of Chi Rho Camp (camp for intermediates), and was a member of the faculty of the Young Peoples Conference. He participated in the establishment of the Joint Board of the Gulf Coast Churches, and other church activities of the Christian Churches in Texas.
 "He also participated in community activities in Freepert, being outstanding in the establishment of a pre-school for Spanish speaking children, La Escuelita. Through this work he was selected as the outstanding citizen in Freepert in 1954."
 Prior to going to Freepert, Mabee was in the United States Navy during World War II, following his graduation from Phillips University, Enid, Okla., and has graduate seminary work at the University of Chicago.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE CHURCH... Church Congregation Begun in 1950

The congregation of the Christian Church was organized in June, 1950, at the close of an evangelistic meeting conducted by L. C. Reece, evangelist of Ft. Worth. The meeting was held in the M. & J. Feed Store on East Second St., and closed in the Drive-In Theatre.
 One month later his son, Frank Reece, came as the first full time resident minister, and the congregation worshipped in the chapel, formerly occupied by the Primitive Baptist congregation in the Gatlin Addition out in the Shadyrest neighborhood. He remained with the Muleshoe congregation approximately one year, and is now minister of the Lakeview Christian Church in San Angelo.
 Lots were purchased by the congregation at the corner of West Second St. and Avenue G, and the chapel moved from the Shadyrest neighborhood. Johnnie Moore, of Claude, Texas, was called as minister. During his ministry here he was married to Miss Amerina Aylesworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Aylesworth. After serving in the Armed Forces he entered the auditing department of the Santa Fe RR and is an elder in the North Amarillo Christian Church in Amarillo.
 For a period of time the pulpit was supplied on Sundays by Mr. Binell Larson, a lay preacher from Levelland. In May, 1954, Evangelist Harvey Redford of Dallas spent the entire month with the congregation, preaching each night and organizing the functional committees, raising the budget and otherwise preparing for a full time resident minister. Ike Stuver, a lay preacher of Lubbock supplied the pulpit on Sundays until the congregation called the present minister, James Todd.
 Todd had served the Christian Church in Stinnett for a period of five years prior to coming to Muleshoe. During his ministry Church in San Angelo. In ten years nearly one thousand new members were added to that congregation. A new $600,000 building completed in the spring of 1955, and a new congregation, the Lakeview Christian Church, was organized.

 "In 1950 Dr. Goldston was president of the Texas Convention of Christian Churches. He had served as chairman of the board of the former Texas Christian Missionary Society, now a part of the Texas Board of Christian Churches, and was chairman of the committee working for the unification of all missionary and educational agencies in the state in what is now the Texas Board of Christian Churches. He served on the state board of religious education for many years, and was active in the district and area programs.
 "We are glad to have him in Muleshoe not only for our own men, but for the men of the community."
 Dr. Goldston was given an honorary Doctor of Divinity by Texas Christian University, Ft. Worth, in 1955, from which he holds both B. A. and B. D. degrees. He also did graduate work in Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

James Todd Will Leave Church To Take Plains Post

James Todd, minister of the Christian Church, will close his work with the congregation as minister at the close of the dedication services next Friday evening, May 4, and will become minister of the Christian Church in Plains on Sunday, May 6.
 Regarding his leaving Muleshoe, Todd made the following statement: "All of my ministry seems to have been to serve small struggling congregations and help them to the status where they can have a younger minister and his family lead them. This has been done with three congregations in the Panhandle area, and now I leave Muleshoe so that a younger man and his wife may come and lead on to a fuller development. I have only been here about 16 months, but I have enjoyed the experience very much and have been profited for work that is yet ahead in other places.
 "In addition to leaving a modern building that is a credit not only to the congregation I have served but also to the community, the congregation has been increased in membership with many good substantial families added, and more given for missions and benevolences than at any time in the history of the congregation.
 "Although I have been quite busy with the affairs of the congregation I have tried to also make some contribution to the community at large, and I have been given the very happy privilege of adding the names of some of the residents of Muleshoe as friends to the long list I already have. In addition to the statement in the ad I want very much to repeat my deepest appreciation of the many kindnesses extended me and to give everyone my very best wishes in all that awaits them as they remain here."

Frank Mabee To Begin Services On Sunday Morning

Frank Mabee, Jr.

Frank C. Mabee, Jr., executive secretary of the Department of Christian Education, Texas Board of Christian Churches, begins the special services of the Week of Dedication, Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock.
 James Todd, minister of the local congregation, said:
 "It is quite significant that we have with us in the first of these five special services of the dedication of the new building our state director of Christian education.
 "The educational unit of our building is designed for the teaching program of the church, and as the Christ was preeminently a teacher as well as a preacher we want to place the emphasis on teaching in the first of these special services. We also want to extend an invitation to all in Muleshoe who are not regularly enrolled in the school of one of the other congregations to come and enroll with us and hear Mr. Mabee Sunday morning.
 "He was minister of the Christian Church, Freepert, Texas, when he was selected to head the Department of Christian Education of the Texas Board of Christian Churches. During more

Harry Purviance Speaks Wednesday At District Nite

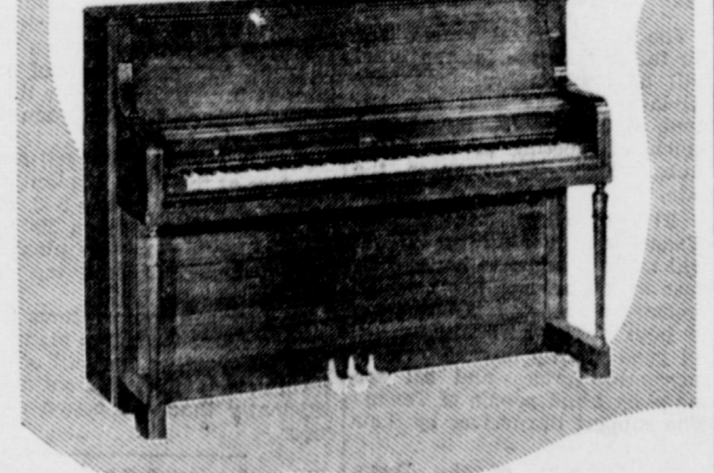

Rev. Harry Purviance

The service next Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Week of Dedication at the Christian Church will be known by the members of the congregation as District Night.
 Representatives of District II of the Christian Churches of the South Plains area will attend and participate during the service and members of nearby congregations will attend.
 The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Harry Purviance, minister of the Lubbockview Christian Church, who is also chairman of the Church Development Committee in the district.
 Rev. Purviance became minister of the Lubbockview Christian Church when that congregation was organized 7 years ago under the sponsorship of the First Christian Church of Lubbock. The congregation met and worshipped in the early years in a repurposed dairy barn out at the edge of Lubbock. As that section of the city grew and expanded the congregation likewise grew and expanded under the leadership of Rev. Purviance. An educational and social unit was erected and the congregation worshipped in the social hall. A few years later the sanctuary was erected and dedicated.
 A week ago the Bethany Christian Church dedicated their new building. This congregation was organized and supported under the sponsorship of both the First Christian Church and the Lubbockview Christian Church.
 In addition to aiding and assisting in the establishment of his own congregation and the Bethany Christian Church congregation Purviance is devoting a portion of his time as Chairman of the Church Development Committee to the establishment of other congregations in District II on the South Plains.
 The Muleshoe congregation cordially invites those of other congregations of Muleshoe to attend this service Wednesday evening, May 2, at 8:00 o'clock, to hear this young minister who is leading not only in his own congregation but in the surrounding area as well.

Dr. Nimmo Goldston Tuesday Speaker At Church Here

Speaker on Tuesday evening, May 1, 8:00 p.m., is Dr. Nimmo Goldston, Director of Men's Work in the Christian Churches of Texas.
 In announcing his coming to Muleshoe, Rev. Todd said:
 "Dr. Goldston has had an unusually unique training for his work as state director of Men's Work, and we are fortunate in having him with us for even one day.
 "He is past president of three men's service clubs, Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, and Rotary Club. He has served with the American Red Cross, Community Chest, Knife and Fork Club, Civic Theatre, Community Entertainment Association, which brought a series of better concerts to the city in which he was a part.
 "During World War II he served three years in the United States Air Force with nearly one year out in the Pacific Theatre. When he was selected to head the Men's Work of Christian Churches in Texas he was minister of the First Christian

Bridal Shower In Tate Home Honors Miss Nell Gholson

A bridal shower honoring Miss Nell Gholson, bride-elect of Roger Pool, Jr., was given in the lovely home of Mrs. Cecil Tate, from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 25.

Bouquets of spring flowers in shades of lavender and orchid, with white, chosen colors of the honoree, gave a spring atmosphere to the entire house.

The serving table was beautifully laid with white lace hand-made cloth, with crystal and silver appointments. Carrying out the theme of April Showers, the centerpiece was an inverted umbrella, made of lavender net, with nosegays of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley at the base and on the handle.

Streamers of orchid picotéd ribbon, with lily of the valley tied in lace knots, flowed over the table. Triple candelabra decorated with nosegays of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley completed the arrangement.

Miss Betty Shanks presided at the punch bowl, where lime punch was served with lavender flower mints and dainty bridal squares decorated with small orchid flowers.

The registry table featured a rose covered swan carrying identical sweetheart roses and bridal wreath. Miss Ann Gholson, twin sister of the bride-elect, registered over two hundred guests in the bride's book, which when opened, played Lohengrin's wedding march.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Cecil Tate, hostess; Mrs. Sam Gholson, mother of the honoree; Miss Gholson, and Mrs. Lee R. Pool, mother of the groom-to-be. Each of the above were presented with a corsage of gladiolus matching her attire.

Hostesses were: Mmes. A. S. Stovall, M. D. Gaddy, Ed Hicks, Verney Towns, Travis Reed, Alton Epling, Troy Wilkerson, Eddie Lane, J. T. Shofner, Cecil Tate, Clay Beavers, W. D. Moore, W. T. Andrews, Sam Fox, and Andrew Dutton.

Makes Friends with the Meanest Roads

(Have you tried Buick's great new ride?)

THE SWEET WAY a '56 Buick rides on all sorts of roads is something you find nowhere else on wheels.

Capricious roads that twist and turn—unruly roads that rock and roll—tired roads, battered and beaten—they all seem to wear company manners the moment a Buick approaches.

Why? Simply because Buick comes with what it takes to put any road on its best behavior—the completely ride-engineered combination of chassis, engine and automatic drive that is obtainable in no other car.

And that's gospel truth whether you drive a new SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

No other car matches the firm, true tracking of Buick's own ride foundation—buttressed by brawny X-braced frame and torque-tube drive—cushioned on coil springs and deep-oil shock absorbers.

No other has such width of tread and length of wheelbase within dimensions so trim and tidy that Buicks turn, park and garage more easily than smaller cars.

No other duplicates the assurance of steering, brakes and rear axle so precisely geared and gaited for the nimble handling that's a safety "must" in modern cars.

And certainly no other name plate promises the soaring sweep of power that wells from the big 322-cubic-inch V8 beneath every new Buick bonnet.

Nor does any other automatic drive put power to its car's rear wheels with the swift, unuffled pace of Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—and that goes double every time you "switch pitch" for whip-quick, safer passing.

But why stop to count reasons—when results are what you're after?

Wouldn't you rather really feel Buick's new "sense of direction" on straightaway, curves and corners?

Wouldn't you rather relax in supreme comfort while tooling this powerful performer over roads you always hated to travel?

Well, sir, we cordially invite you to drop in on us and do just that.

Make it this week, won't you? Sample the ride that has charms to win any old road—and get first-hand figures on prices that make Buick owning a more positive pleasure.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch, Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Cotton Export Sales Program Said To Be First Step In Market Plans

A cotton export sales program, details of which were announced this week by the Department of Agriculture, was hailed today as "the first step in regaining and maintaining a fair share of the world cotton market for the United States."

William Rhea Blake, executive vice-president of the National Cotton Council, declared that

"a realistic export program, under which U. S. surplus cotton is offered for sale at competitive world prices, deals with one of the most pressing problems facing the U. S. cotton industry. This was one of the main points in the program adopted by the Council at its meeting in Biloxi, Miss., in January to improve cotton's competitive position."

Mr. Blake's comment on the export sales program came in a report on recent legislative and administrative developments on cotton which he submitted today to delegates and members of the Council, which represents all segments of the raw cotton industry. In discussing the Department of Agriculture's announcement that the 1956 cotton crop will be supported at 82 1/2 percent of parity, based on 7 7/8 inch middling, Mr. Blake declared, "82 1/2 percent, based on middling 7 7/8 inch, indicates a support price for middling inch of approximately 32 1/2 cents per pound. This is 2 1/4 cents below the support price for middling inch last year. Based on these loan rates, the cotton support is approximately 87 1/2 percent of parity for the average of the crop. This 87 1/2 percent support for cotton compares with the support levels which have been announced for other basic commodities (all of which are based on the average of the crop) as follows: wheat, 84 percent of parity; corn, 86 percent; and rice, 83 percent."

Other parts of the Council's program which were in the vetoed farm bill include: authority for the President to negotiate textile import quotas with individual countries as one means of ending the threat of rapidly expanding textile shipments to this country; bringing with the extra long staple cotton import quota all cotton having a staple length of 1-11/16 inches and longer and a directive to the Secretary of Agriculture to sell CCC's surplus stocks of extra long staple cotton for export at competitive world prices; incentive payments to compensate farmers for voluntarily reducing their cotton allotments; and directive for Secretary of Agriculture to develop improvements for calculating parity.

"These legislative items are of great concern to the cotton industry. We will continue to press for immediate congressional action on these items that are urgently needed," Mr. Blake concluded.

Cotton Market News Service Is Available

The USDA has announced the procedure to be followed by cotton farmers in obtaining cotton classification and cotton market news services in 1956, says Howard W. Zueh, agricultural engineer, Texas A. & M.

Under the Smith-Dooley Act groups of producers organized to promote the improvement of cotton, which adopt a variety of cotton, file application, arrange for sampling, and meet certain other requirements as to membership are eligible for these services.

It is necessary for cotton producers to prepare and submit their applications as soon as cotton has been planted and well in advance of the ginning season if they are to receive the maximum benefits from the services as members. Applications must be on file by June 1 in the following counties in Texas: Dimmitt, LaSalle, McMullen, Live Oak, Karnes, DeWitt, Jackson, Matagorda, and all counties lying south of those named. All other applications must be in no later than August 1, and must be filed with a classing office of the Cotton Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

Samples submitted under this program must be cut from both sides of the bale by a bonded sampler or by an employee of a public warehouse or compress which issues negotiable warehouse receipts.

Instructions and application blanks may be obtained from county agricultural agents, from State and County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices, or from Agricultural Marketing Service Cotton Division offices.

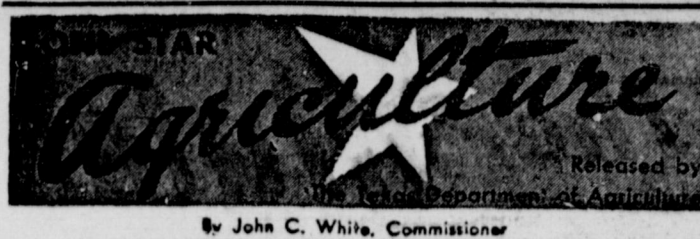

Grasshoppers May Be Plains Threat

Farmers should be alert to the possibility of severe grasshopper infestations this spring and summer and be ready if necessary to take the proper control measures in time to stop heavy crop damage, says Freeman M. Fuller, Jr., Extension Entomologist, Texas A. & M. College.

USDA reports indicate that farmers will need to be on the lookout for hoppers in Panhandle and southward along caprock and from the Red River into deep central Texas.

If conditions are favorable, young, wingless grasshoppers will begin hatching during this month, and during May and possibly June. Applications of insecticides should begin as soon as possible after hatching, and if the insects are numerous, several applications may be necessary. In applying insecticides, farmers should look for hatching grounds on roadsides, field margins, ditch banks and unused land bordering croplands. Treatment of these areas will prevent hoppers from moving into fields where such operations as plowing and disking may already have cut down the numbers of hatchable eggs.

In the use of any insecticide the instructions of the manufacturer should be carefully followed to avoid harmful residues on crops. County Agents are a good

A CLEAN HEALTH BILL FOR TEXAS CITRUS

After an intense survey of Rio Grande Valley and winter garden area citrus, Texas has been given a clean bill of health from the dread burrowing Nematode, microscopic parasite which gradually destroys its victim.

The burrowing Nematode (Rhopalosiphum Similis) is now clearly associated with "spreading decline", a gradual but fatal illness which has plagued the Florida citrus industry for 25 years.

Severe damage caused by the 1951 valley freeze is still apparent throughout most of the citrus area, and would mask spreading decline symptoms as they are known in Florida. Thus as a practical matter, Texas and United States Department of Agriculture plant experts conducted a spot survey all over the Texas citrus belt, with particular attention to stock originally imported from Florida. In final laboratory analysis, results were negative.

Similar tests will be conducted in other citrus growing states to determine if infestation has spread either from Florida or other possible sources. The burrowing Nematode is believed present in Fiji, Jamaica, the Hawaiian Islands, Phillipine Islands, Formosa, Southern India, Dutch East Indies, Java, Brazil, Puerto Rico, and Central America.

No means of combatting the burrowing Nematode is known other than complete destruction of infested plants. It is discernable only under careful examination under laboratory conditions and could become widespread before any decline is noted, particularly in plants suffering from any other natural setback.

Similar tests will be conducted in other citrus growing states to determine if infestation has spread either from Florida or other possible sources. FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Save the tags from certified seed you plant this season, so that in the event you find foreign plants in your field, state seed inspectors can check on the suppliers and avoid repetition in future years. This advice from Bruce Parr, chairman of the weed committee.

Members of the committee and other interested persons planned on spending Thursday at Amarillo Experiment Station where the Texas Weed Control Conference-Demonstration is being held.

We believe that if enough publicity is given the program, farmers will participate in the CROP program more this year than they ever have. Arrangements have been completed with USDA to ship to needy countries twenty bushels of wheat for each one contributed by producers. We hope the program will be extended to include grain sorghums, and that enough interest will be generated to make it an effective program of assistance and elimination of surplus production.

"Wear More Cotton" stickers are available free here at the of-ice. It may not seem important, but such things do step up purchases of the advertised product, and that is part of the need to keep markets active for our farm production.

Black community has earned an honor, by winning the community prize of this area, sponsored by Farmer's Stockman. We are sure you have noticed the attractive and substantial directional signs they have erected at intersections of the community, giving the location of Black resident farmers. We plan to attend the meeting out there in May when they compete in the state contest, and we hope they win, of course.

"So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as the guard is down we shall smash them with our clenched fist." This is from a quotation of the executive committee of the Comintern in Moscow of twenty five years ago, as related by Congressman Clarence Cannon of Missouri recently.

Researcher For West Texas Is Appointed by A&M

A coordinator for research conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in West Texas has been appointed. Dr. R. D. Lewis, station director announced. He is Dr. Gerald W. Thomas of College Station who will assume the new duties June 1.

"In a state as large as Texas, with widely varying types of agriculture and agricultural research, it is essential that there be more effective coordination within this and with other agencies, and especially with the people on the land and in related industries," Director Lewis pointed out.

Dr. Thomas will be especially concerned with Texas Agricultural Experiment Station activities and relationships west of a line running roughly from Wichita Falls south to Coleman, Menard and Sonora.

Some of the duties of the new coordinator pointed out by Director Lewis include determining from farmers and ranchmen and public groups the future problems and needs for research in the area, developing effective working relations and interchange of information with other agricultural agencies and public groups, cooperate with Texas A. and M. Agricultural Extension Service district agents on research and education problems.

A highly decorated World War II Navy torpedo bomber pilot, Dr. Thomas has been associated with the Texas A. & M. Range and Forestry Department and the Experiment Station since 1951. Prior to that time he had much experience in soil and water conservation with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Dr. Thomas has conducted much research in range grazing of livestock, grass reseeding, and rainfall as related to farming and ranching. He is author of 14 publications relating to agriculture in West Texas. He and Mrs. Thomas have three children.

Pleasant Valley Farmer Proves Value of Water Conservation Plan

Doyle Turner of Pleasant Valley, recent winner of the Texas 4-H Alumni award plaque, believes in conservation of both water and soil, and his records prove that both are worth while.

Last year Doyle totaled up the results of five years of experimentation with various types of irrigation practices, coupled with experiments in fertilizer types and application rates, and found that his overall production yields for both cotton and grain sorghum had increased yearly during the five year period.

Turner came to the Pleasant Valley community six years ago, and immediately began to experiment with irrigation and fertilizers on his cash crops.

During the five years, he found that his cotton increased in yield from 3/4 bale per acre to more than 1 1/2 bales in the fall of 1955. The same story is true of his grain sorghum crops. The yields increased yearly.

He credits planned application of water and fertilizer as being largely responsible for his increased production. He has varied the amount and frequency of water and fertilizer applications each year to take advantage of weather and crop condi-soil would best absorb and store. He is careful not to allow breaks so that tail water is lost in the barrow ditches.

This week he said that a combination of conservation and knowledge of soil types go a long way toward increasing crop production and money in the pocket at harvest time.

Farmers Entitled to Federal Gas Tax Refund Effective June of This Year

Farmers will be able to obtain a refund of the Federal excise tax on gasoline which is used on a farm for farming purposes under the law approved by President Eisenhower on April 2, 1956. The present Federal tax rate is 2 cents a gallon. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Russell C. Harrington announced that under the new law the first refund payments will be made after June 30 with respect to gasoline purchased and used during the first six months of 1956. Thereafter, refunds will be made for a one-year period from July 1 to June 30.

To get his refund, a farmer will have to file his claim after June 30 and before October 1. Claims are to be made on Form 2240 and are to be filed with the United States District Director of Internal Revenue for the farmer's district. The form will be available after June 1 at Internal Revenue offices, county agricultural agents, and many banks and post offices.

Refunds will be limited to the Federal tax on gasoline which is used by a farmer for farming purposes, in carrying on a trade or business, on a farm located in the United States. A farmer may also request a refund of the tax on any gasoline which is used on his farm by a custom operator or a neighbor in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity.

In general, the new law provides that gasoline shall be treated as used for farming purposes if it is used:

By the farmer or any other person in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity, including the raising of livestock, poultry, etc., on the farmer's own farm.

By the farmer in the operation, management, conservation, improvement or maintenance of his farm, or its tools or equipment.

By the farmer in handling, drying, packing, grading, or storing any agricultural or horticultural commodity in its unmanufactured state, but only if the farmer produced more than one-half of the commodity which he so treated during the period for which the claim is filed.

No refunds of tax are allowed on gasoline used off the farm, such as gasoline used on public roads or highways in transporting family members or workmen, equipment, livestock, crops, feed, etc. Also, no refunds are allowed for tax on gasoline used in processing, packaging, freezing, or canning operations.

Farmers are also given special relief from the Federal excise tax on diesel fuel and special motor fuels used on a farm for farming purposes.

Farmers who expect to file claims should keep sufficient records to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the amount claimed.

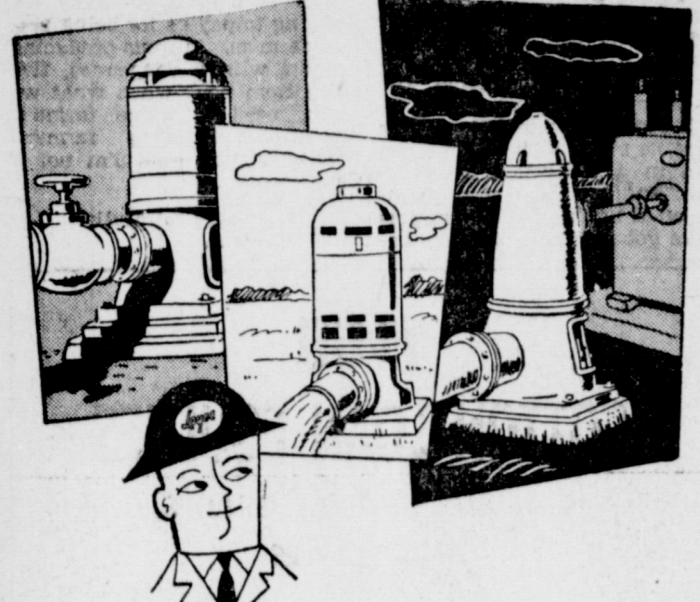

Commissioner Harrington said that regulations relating to the Growing with America for 125 years

In 1831, the first Savings and Loan Association in the United States was founded at Frankford, Pennsylvania. This first Association was founded to help its members save for and buy their own homes.

Today, more Americans go to insured Savings and Loan Associations for home financing than anywhere else.

6,000 new savers each day!

Today, the people of America are saving for many important things and look with special confidence to Savings and Loan Associations. The number of savers in insured Associations has increased in 125 years to over 15 million . . . and new savers are coming to these insured Associations at the rate of 6,000 each day! Assets of insured Associations have soared to $34.5 billion!

These savings dollars are not subject to market fluctuations and are protected by sound, forward-looking management and substantial reserves. Savings accounts are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—a U. S. Government agency.

Responsibility to public trust

Today, Americans are putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else. This tremendous vote of confidence imposes responsibility to adhere to the principles which have caused these Associations to grow with America for 125 years.

On the occasion of this 125th anniversary, the Savings and Loan Associations pledge themselves to the continuation of these principles which have enabled them to serve so successfully two of America's most cherished traditions . . . thrift and home ownership.

BABSON DISCUSSES . . . SMALL BUSINESS AND YOU

Babson Park, Mass., April 26— I was recently asked what was the most important thing I had learned during my fifty years in active business. The answer is what New England's famous surgeon, Dr. William Warren Babson, once said to me: "Remember, Roger, that no two people are alike—what's food for one may be poison for another and vice versa." This was brought home to me only recently when reading in the Reader's Digest an article praising aspirin for arthritis.

After finishing my reading of the Digest, I picked up an Encyclopedia of Health, by J. I. Rodale, of Emmaus, Penn., who has systematically collected what are recognized as the best opinions on a hundred physical ailments. This book lists aspirin as a very dangerous product, fifty million tablets of which are being consumed daily. I have great respect for Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Wallace, editors of the Reader's Digest, but I wonder if they realize the tremendous risk they run as their circulation becomes bigger? My purpose, therefore, this week is to further the urge of my friend Ernest Gaunt, and appeal for a subsidy to the small publisher, and small businessman, and the unknown genius. These may be the hope of America, and not "big business", which assumes all people to be alike.

EDUCATION AND LABOR UNIONS
After spending many years and millions of dollars educating young people, I am convinced of the great importance of small colleges, small schools and classes. Figures may show that costs of so-called education may be decreased by consolidated schools, state universities, and other attempts at mass education. Having learned, however, that all young people are different and are entitled to different instruction, I have concluded that the solution is to teach young people to educate themselves. When the "do-it-yourself" movement extends to education, we will begin to get good results and at very much less expense.

The Labor Union movement is fulfilling a need in combatting the misused power of employers; but it will some day break up of its own weight, due to the inherent differences in people. Its present program of paying every workman in a certain group the same wage is against human nature. I forecast that for labor unions to succeed, they must recognize that workers are entitled to different wages, based upon their initiative, energy, intelligence, and other qualifications.

SMALL BUSINESSMEN SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED
Some day the small businessman will have to be helped by a subsidy of some kind, especially to use for advertising. There is a demand for every product which has ever been found useful. More candles are sold today than ever before; more hard wood is sold for fireplaces; horses and sulkeys for racing sell at higher prices today than ever. There are buyers awaiting every product and service, if the public only knew where to get them.

THIS WEEK -In Washington

Clinton Davidson
Sitting on the sidelines and watching some 500 law-makers battle to get a farm bill through Congress is one of the most interesting, but nerve-racking, experiences you can imagine.

The process becomes somewhat hectic when there are hundreds of spectators, all shouting advice to the congressmen, doing the best they can with a complicated job and an urgent time-limit. The sidewalk superintendents giving advice range from the President, the Secretary of Agriculture and 50 or more of his assistants, through the farm organization leaders down to private citizens, some with an axe to grind.

The procedure is involved, complicated and time-consuming. Committee hearings last for weeks and no one who wants to testify is turned away. Tempers become short, and feelings are sometimes hurt. But everyone is relieved when it is over. The result seldom, if ever, satisfies everyone. It represents a compromise on many proposals. It may not be what a majority of Congressmen wants, but it is the best they feel they can do under the circumstances.

Most farm laws are part politics, part economics, a little philosophy and some philanthropy. It is like four cooks, each using a different recipe, trying to bake a cake.

Most congressmen are a mixture of politician, economist, philosopher and philanthropist. The politician in them wants a law that will help them, or their party, get elected, and if it also helps the farmer, so much the better. The economist in them argues that ours is a private, competitive system, under which the efficient survive and prosper and the inefficient fail and try something else. They say, let the farmers fight it out, and may the best man win.

There is at least a little bit of the philosopher in every congressman. That part of him sees farming as a way of life that has rewards that have no dollar signs on them. It sees the family farm, and the farm home, as something that must be strengthened and preserved at all costs.

The philosopher-congressman talks about farmers as the bulwark of democracy, a stronghold against communism, and the bastion of free enterprise. He regards smallness as a virtue and bigness as evil. The philanthropist talks about giving farmers a fair share of the national income. They advocate appropriating huge sums from the Federal Treasury to make up the difference between that fair share and what farmers get in the market for what they sell. The more generous the gifts, the better the philanthropist feels.

When you study carefully the farm laws as they are put on the statute books, you will find some of the results of the thinking of all four groups. There is almost always a little something in the laws for everyone, but not all that any one would like.

A 15th Anniversary

A product that has become an indispensable part of the American way of life will observe its 15th anniversary on May 1. It doesn't seem that long since the Series E Savings Bond made its debut on the American scene. But in 15 short years, this greatest of all thrift incentives has made a permanent place in our country's family life.

From the beginning, the E bond was a popular instrument of individual savings. Most sales in those earlier years no doubt were influenced by patriotism. But after the war years, the E bond did not pass from the picture, as most people thought it would. Instead, most of us found we liked this sure method of saving for our future needs. So, today, 40 million of us own more than $40 billion worth of E and H Savings Bonds — about $38 billion of which are E bonds.

Many of those E bonds purchased through the war years are now sending our children through college — or making down payments on our dream homes — or providing additional income for those in retirement. At the time we bought them, we probably felt that we were helping to win the war through our bond purchases. Now we realize that we ourselves are the real beneficiaries.

It's a strange thing about us human beings, but we are all too "human" in too many ways. Because of our lethargy, we need a special stimulus to make us do the things that are good for us and our families. In the E bond program, that special stimulus has been the Payroll Savings Plan. At least 30 million Americans have first-hand knowledge of this Plan because over eight million wage earners buy Savings Bonds regularly each pay day through this easy, automatic method.

The records show that thousands and thousands of people who never saved a penny in their lives, today own Savings Bonds which were bought for them by their employers, who deducted the cost from wages or salaries. It's all voluntary, of course. The employee agrees to the arrangement and specifies the amount he wants withheld for bonds. But from there on, it's completely automatic. He soon learns to live on his "take-home pay" and the E bonds continue to roll in.

In small businesses where management is not equipped to handle the bond-buying plan, the employee has an alternative. The bank will do his bond buying for him, and deduct the cost from his checking account. This Bond-A-Month Plan is just as easy and automatic as the other system. Both are wonderful for the great majority of us who

Sandhills Philosopher Likes Soil Bank Idea, But Wonders If Congress Is Thinking Far Ahead

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses soil banking this week, a subject he knows as much about as he does financial banking. Dear editor: I was out here wandering around over my farm yesterday speculating on where I'd put my soil bank if Congress passes one, as I understand it, if it gets passed, it'll be too late this year actually to take any land out of cultivation, but the government will go ahead and pay us on the basis of fifty percent down and the balance next year, so a thinking man ought to be figuring out now where he wants his idle land to be located. Now here's the thing—it looks like the proposed bill is liable to be discriminatory. You take a man like me, who foresaw the surplus coming years ago and let a lot of his land lay out, and seems to me I ought to get the full payment this year. If the purpose of the bill is to pay a man for refusing to contribute to the surplus, it seems to me the farmers who are already in the swing of the thing could be paid this year.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER TEAM ON T. V.
Mrs. Howard W. Harris, the former Miss Doris Sims, and four-year old daughter, Sherry Lynn, recently appeared on a program on Station K. G. N. C. TV, Amarillo, where they modeled for the White and Kirk Department Store. Prior to her marriage in 1950, Mrs. Harris had been employed by the Bailey County Electric Cooperative Ass'n. She attended Circleback and Sudan Public Schools.

I can show you pieces of land out here on my farm which haven't contributed to the surplus in years, and I believe I'm entitled to some back pay for my far-sightedness.

Furthermore, as I understand the bill, the idea is to take some land out of cultivation, then plant some soil-building crops on it, lock the cows out, and let the fertility accumulate, with the government footing the bill. Keep your crops in an underground soil bank instead of in a price-depressing warehouse, is the idea.

Now this is a fine program, but I hope the government is thinking ahead and is prepared to stay in the soil banking business for a long time. This can't be no fly-by-night scheme. You let farmers build up a part of their land to where it'll produce twice as much as it is now, and then in a few years close the bank and let them start planting on it again, and the surplus we've got now will look like the end of seven years of want in Egypt by comparison to the one we'll have then.

As I see it, either the country has got to learn to eat and wear more, or when Congress writes that soil bank bill it had better put in a requirement that the land still in use be farmed in the worst manner possible, rows running hill and the land exposed to washings, so when we switch over to the built-up land, we won't be right back in the surplus business. It looks like what we need is for half the farmers to be soil bankers and the other half soil bank robbers, if this thing is ever to come out even.

As it is, it looks like Congress is fixing to pay us for being better farmers, surplus-producing farmers with a vengeance, five years from now, when what we really need is worse farmers, non-surplus-producing farmers. Personally, I'm glad I'm not a Congressman.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Today's Meditation

COST OF DISCIPLESHIP Read Mark 10:28-31. Henceforth I call you not servants... but I have called you friends (John 15:15). In Australia transportation problems are very great because of the vast distances and small population. Australians know that good communications are vital to any community and so give full support to all plans to develop road, rail, and air services. The need is so urgent that the cost of such services is looked upon as a minor consideration. In Christianity, the cost of discipleship is not of prime importance. Expenditure of time and effort does not worry the true disciple of Christ. The outsider may say, "It costs too much to be a Christian." Such a thought never occurs to those who really know Christ. The joy of associating with Him, of knowing His presence and His power, is such a vital experience that no cost hinders the Christian from trying to accomplish the will of God. Companionship with Christ is of more value than the cost necessary to become and continue to be His follower and friend.

PRAYER Our Father, we thank Thee that we have the joy of knowing Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. May we live so close to Him that our happiness may make others want to share His friendship. In the Master's name, Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY To be Christ's friend is a privilege, not a sacrifice. John Rush (Australia) housed in this manner. Long-range planning provides for housing approximately 45% in individual cells.

As General Motors President Harlow H. Curdick has said: "There are no 'today's' at the Technical Center. This is our investment in tomorrows." The mid-May dedication is expected to draw world-wide attention.

Both the Prison Board and the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools have serious problems in dealing with the criminally insane who present real hazards to both systems, and neither has facilities for dealing with them. The mentally irresponsible create a majority of the problems which arise. Facilities and an adequate staff are lacking for proper care and treatment.

The courts are sending to the Prison System many men who are insane, have been in insane hospitals in the past, or who are seriously maladjusted from a mental standpoint. Prison is not the place for them, but the courts are in a dilemma, since there is no place available for their adequate custody or treatment.

At present, the Texas Legislative Council is making a study of the problem of caring for the criminally insane. There is need in Texas for a separate hospital for these people in order to reduce the problems of both the Prison System and the hospitals.

Since 1948, two governors and six sessions of the Legislature have accepted the recommendations of the Prison Board by appropriating monies to develop the Prison System. The press and civic and church organizations have also assisted in the rehabilitation program of the Prison System.

The Texas Prison System now rates with the best prisons in many respects, but it is sadly inadequate in housing facilities.

TEXAS POLICE ASSOCIATION

O. E. Ellis, General Manager Texas Prison System

OUR PRISONS FACE AN EMERGENCY

The two most serious problems facing the Texas Prison System are provisions for adequate housing for an ever-increasing prison population and those created by the criminally insane and the mentally irresponsible.

The prison population in Texas has increased more rapidly than that in most states due to the fact that the general population is increasing because of favorable economic conditions. Another factor is that there is a definite rural-to-urban shift. During the past eight years the population of the state has increased 20%, while the population of the Texas Prison System has increased 75%. Since 1947, the inmate population in Texas has grown from 5,098 to 8,000.

In the years before 1947, the Prison System of Texas was recognized as one of the worst in the country but now, due to better facilities, more efficient operation, and a better administrative setup, it is recognized as being among the first five or six of all states.

The facilities of the Texas Prison System are badly overcrowded. Stacking men too close together breeds trouble. There is every indication that the inmate population will continue to increase and at approximately the same rate. We have every reason to believe that by 1961 — only five years from now — the prison population will be 12,000. Housing units cannot be built overnight. Every good executive plans for the future of his business. We would not anticipate our problems of the future and try to devise ways to meet them.

It is the belief of the Prison Board members and the prison staff that provisions must be made for an immediate and long-range housing program. In this planning we have tried to make full utilization of existing structures and have kept in mind operating manpower and economies of operation. Land-man ratio has also been taken into account.

The space contemplated in the long-range program provides housing for 3,459 additional men. If the prison population continues to increase at the same rate as during the past three years — and every indication is that it will — it would be only five years and two months before the new facilities would be used to full capacity.

The additional facilities are not just desirable; they are imperatively needed.

Texas is very conservative in comparison with what other states are spending, both as a total figure and on a per-man basis. One of the states bordering Texas, with approximately one-third the prison population of Texas, has spent in the last four years $7,500,000 for a new prison. Another state bordering Texas, with a prison population 10% of ours, is spending $6,500,000 for a new prison.

Prison authorities are of the opinion that approximately 75% of the inmate population should be housed in single cells. At present only about 25% of the prison population in Texas can be
