Vegetable Growers Meeting Held Thursday

H. C. Mills-74; Died Last Night

H. C. Mills, father of Mrs. Roy Dyer of Muleshoe, passed away during the night Wednesday. He was found dead in bed by members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Dyer left for Fayetteville immediately upon receipt of the message.

Mr. Mills had lived in Fayetteville with his family for many years. He had been in poor health for some time but was able to be up and about. He was 74.

Funeral arrangements were not known at the time of going to press with this paper. Mr. Mills is survived by his wife and five children.

"The Texas Extension Service has a three prong attack on the vegetable problem in Texas", county agent J. K. Adams told a group of farmers Thursday morning, to begin a brief but intensive program of information for vegetable growers, held in the district courtroom here. "Our job is to help growers get top profits from their vegetables by top production; to assist them in marketing their crops, and to keep out the fly by night promoters who often flock to vegetable areas". Adams then introduced the first of several vegetable experts on the program, Buford G. Hancock, Extension horticulturist.

Hancock reviewed the vegetable crop in Texas for 1957, pointing out that there were 350,000 acres in vegetables in the state last year, with an income of approximately $72 million.

Texas ranks third in the nation in vegetable acreage and production, being outranked only by California and Florida in that order. Texas ranks above Arizona, Georgia, and New York state, but still needs great emphasis on marketing, Hancock said.

He pointed out that in California and Arizona, particular attention is paid to small details in both increasing production, and in better marketing plans, and urged that such emphasis be used in Texas.

Using slides to illustrate their points, other speakers discussed possible new crops for production on the Plains; plant diseases and their control; marketing, insects and control, and soils and fertilizers.

Speakers on the program included W. F. Bennett, soil chemist; Hancock; Dr. Harlan Smith, plant pathologist; Joe Cole, associate horticulture agent; and J. F. Rosborough, horticultural marketing specialist.

Approximately 30 farmers attended the meeting from Bailey, Cochran, and Lamb counties, and from Eastern New Mexico.

A similar meeting was held in Hereford Wednesday for farmers in that area.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

County Jail Facilities Inadequate

There has been considerable discussion recently concerning the need for additional facilities in the Bailey county courthouse. Among needed items are a new jail, more storage space, adequately protected storage for county records, jury rooms, consultation rooms, and many others, which the present building simply cannot supply. This article, the first in a series, will attempt to explain present conditions, and clarify the need for additional facilities.

"A medieval torture chamber", is the way one man described the Bailey county jail, after inspecting that place of confinement. Another man, who spent a night within its steel walls said he could think of no crime worthy of punishment by confinement in the jail in Muleshoe.

It's certainly not a pleasant place, as the accompanying photographs prove. And after visiting it on a routine photographic assignment, this reporter can testify to its grimness and air of insecticide and faulty plumbing.

Designed to accommodate 12 prisoners, it has held as many as 30 at one time, officers say, and at least two men have died in the jail here, unattended and alone.

One cannot forget for a moment the danger of fire in the cramped space above two flights of stairs, and surrounded by steel bars. Nor is it hard to figure out what would happen should a prisoner become seriously ill at night, when no officers are in the courthouse from evening 'til opening hours in the morning.

Entry is through one door only, and it is to be assumed, exit is the same way. Behind a glassed-in wood door on the second floor of the courthouse, is the first of two steel vault type doors which must be opened by combination lock.

Behind the first steel door is a flight of narrow concrete steps with two sharply angled turns, which leads to the jailhouse floor, where the second door must be opened.

Here is a room approximately 14 feet square, which is ordinarily used for storage of ballot boxes and old records, because there is no other place to keep them. But at times during the fall, the overflow of prisoners from the cell block are allowed access to this room, which also contains a shower and commode, both out of order.

To the left of this door are two other doors, one leading into a cell containing a double bunk, the remnants of a paperback novel, and some twisted bedding. This cell is supposedly for use of female prisoners and juveniles. But due to its lack of sanitary facilities, it is seldom used for that purpose alone.

Through the second door is the jail cell proper. A small anteroom contains the locking mechanism for the three steel-clad cells. The anteroom also contains a double bunk, since it must be pressed into service as a cell too, at times.

The cells, each with a barred sliding door, face a narrow passage containing the sole operating plumbing facilities, all in plain sight. Each cell has a barred window, and is bound by steel plates on all sides, making each one a veritable oven, should fire break out. All bars are of saw resistant steel, and the whole cell block is encased in heavy steel plates.

In order to feed prisoners in the three barred cells, it is necessary to open the doors to pass the food through, creating a chance for a break. New cells, Sheriff Clements feels, should have openings in the doors through which food could be passed.

Last year a prisoner escaped from the jail. He was in the store-room part of the jail, and climbed out the narrow window in the wash room, which has since been securely barred. Evidence of other attempts to escape are to be seen, including a sizeable hole cut into the wall. Officers discovered this attempt however, before the second layer of wall was breached.

Sheriff Clements feels that any new facility for prisoners should include quarters for a jailer, who could remain on duty during the night, in the event of sickness, fire or other emergency.

Clements also points out that much of the present equipment could be moved into a new building and by alteration be put to use with little expense.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Read John 11:47-54.
He (Caiaphas) prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; and not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. (John 11:51, 52.)
God has no grandchildren in a startling statement. By writing it, an editorial writer won my open-mouthed attention, just as

Candidate For Lamb County Precinct 2 Post

Woodrow (Woody) Powell has authorized the Muleshoe Journal to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct 2, Lamb county.

Woody made the following statement in announcing his candidacy:
I want to take this opportunity to solicit your support in the First Primary election in behalf of my candidacy for the office of Commissioner, Precinct 2.

I feel I am qualified for the position since I have had several years experience with the equipment and road work. I will do my utmost to please if I am elected.

I have been a resident of precinct 2 for 25 years and have a farm west of Earth where I have resided since 1947.
W. W. "Woody" POWELL

he knew he would. He went on to show that God has only children.

We are not foster children, or in-laws, or grandsons or granddaughters. We are not mere descendants of the heavenly Father; we are His children.

Sons and daughters carry certain privileges. The children of the household share in all the Father possesses — His insights into the meaning of life. His concerns about His other children.

As children of God we carry certain responsibilities, too. We strive for the mind of Christ, our brother, we have part in His sufferings. We find that there are exacting requirements for the spiritual gifts we receive. As children of God, we enter into a partnership for God's purposes.

My Father, and the Father of all men everywhere, teach me the meaning of sonship. Save me from self-conceit. Keep me from despair, for I fall short of a son's stature. In the name of Him who came to show me the dimensions of Thy fatherhood. Amen.

Short Term FHA Loans Best Buy

If a person is qualified from an income standpoint, it is definitely to his advantage to obtain a 20-year FHA mortgage rather than a 25-year, explained C. J. Hermann, Executive Secretary of the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program for Region XIII, covering the states of Texas and New Mexico. Mr. Hermann explained that the difference in the monthly payment is only 75¢ per thousand dollars, or $2.25 per year.

For this small increase in monthly payment, there is a saving of $207.00 per thousand dollars of loan amount. For example, if an individual desired a $10,000 loan, and could afford to do so, he would save $2,070 by making a 20-year rather than 25-year loan. It would increase his monthly payments only $7.60.

Mr. Hermann stated that he had received numerous applications from individuals seeking 25-year loans who later refused a 20-year offer from a mortgage lender, even though they were financially capable of making the increased payments. Although FHA in many instances was willing to insure up to 25 years, the lending institutions desired for the one reason or another to limit the term of the loan to 20 years.

Provides Small Town Loans
The Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program, which Mr. Hermann directs for Texas and New Mexico, is designed to provide the mechanism for private lending institutions to make available FHA loans in small towns and remote areas where they are not generally available. The VHMCP charges no fee or commission, and simply seeks to serve as a clearing house to bring together the qualified applicants and the willing lenders.

Mr. Hermann further explained that while VHMCP is certainly not the answer for every financing problem, it has enabled thousands of individuals to obtain an FHA loan, who, without the assistance of the Program, would have been unable to do so.

Paying losses is the best part of the insurance business. It's the time when a client remembers the pitch I gave him when I sold him his policy and it's the time he realizes that he didn't do any-thing except himself a favor when he bought it. Haven't had a client yet who was unhappy with a loss settlement—don't suppose I will as long as my customers tell me what they need and I tell them what they bought and we both follow the adjuster what we expect. Placing your insurance with someone who will go to bat for you in case of a loss is as easy as calling the fire department, all you have to do is call—

Mules, Mulettes Go Past Canyon; Play Tulia Teams Friday Night

Hitting 64 per cent of their shots in the second half, the Muleshoe Mules ripped the Canyon Eagles 79-63, here Tuesday night to stay hot on the heels of pace-setting Dimmitt in the District 1-AA basketball race.

The Muleshoe girls downed Canyon in the opener, 66-44, for their fourth district victory in five starts, same as the Mules. Canyon's boys and girls are 1-5 in loop play.

Four players hit in double figures for the Mules. Okie Alexander led the way with 25 points hitting nine of 13 field goal attempts and seven of 10 free throws. Bill Black hit 22, Bob Sanders, 16, and Derrell Oliver 10 for the Mules. Leonard Miller hit 20 points (nine of 15 field goal attempts) and A. L. Pruett had 14.

Canyon hit 55 per cent of its shots in the first half and Muleshoe 51 per cent.

Mary Jo Holt hit 12 points in the final quarter to up her score here, 83 to 52.

Bobby Nickels was high point man for Muleshoe with 13; Eugene Shaw had 11 and Elders scored 10. For Three Way "Slim" Warren tossed in 23 points, Ramsey got 17 and Mann had 12.

Monday night the Muleshoe lads went to Morton for a 71 to 28 win. Elders got 22 points for Muleshoe, Shaw had 16, Watkins 14, and Nickels 13. For Morton Curtis had 10, Dan Key got 8.

The Independents won over Friona Independents in the local gym last Thursday night, 68 to 27. Friona is not in the league, so this win does not count in the standings. Nickels scored 23 points for Muleshoe, Shaw got 17, Elders 14, and Watkins 17. Friona's Bandy got 13 and Reeves tossed in 6 points.

The Muleshoe boys will play Prim Drug at Wellman the coming Saturday night, Feb. 1.

Mules, Mulettes Gain In District Standings With Wins Over Olton

Coaches Mantooth and Taylor made a triple clean sweep Friday night when both the varsity and B boys teams and the Mulettes took decisive victories from Olton. The games marked the breaking of a long time jinx, which for many years has kept the hometown team from winning at Olton's gym.

The game marked the third conference victory for both boys and girls teams, each having three wins and one loss to date in district play, both having lost to Tulia here.

The Mules, sparked by Bill Black's 18 points, won by a score of 60-47, while the Mulettes, led by Mary Gross' 23 points, won over Olton 56-23.

Johnson Back In Action

Dickie Johnson, who was injured in the game at Canyon several weeks ago, added 16 points in the game against Olton, 14 of them in the second half. Bob Sanders was third in scoring for the Mules with 11. Elmer Houston led Olton with 11, and Jerry Moore had 10.

Jim Morrison On Freshman "5" At Wayland College

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 27 — Jim Morrison, Muleshoe, will see action Monday night, February 8, when Wayland College's Freshman Pioneers take on the West Texas State "B" team at Canyon. The former Muleshoe high student hopes to help the baby Pioneers to their fourth victory of the season. Wayland's "B" team holds wins over Panhandle A&M and Eastern New Mexico University. They fell in close games to West Texas "B" team, Clarendon Junior College and Reese Air Force Base.

The baby Pioneers, who are coached by former Pioneer Don Kinard, have a 19 game schedule with games in three states.

The eight member squad drills constantly on the Wayland "slip and roll" offense. Much attention is given to the fast break which Coach Ed Billings' varsity cagers rely on heavily.

Twenty-three County Cotton Production Passed 1.5 Million Bale Mark On Plains

Production figures from the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., 1957-58 cotton crop continue to climb upward as scrapping and clean-up harvesting enters the final stages.

Total production from the 23 counties has already passed the 1½ million bale mark. The U. S. Department of Agriculture classifying office in Lubbock has already classed 1,461,808 bales, W. E. Franklin, chairman, reports. This includes 1,276,919 bales in the Lubbock office and 184,889 in the Lamesa office. Franklin estimates there is another 50,000 to 75,000 bales yet to be classed.

If 75,000 additional samples were classed it would push the classing office total to 1,536,808 bales, a figure that comes close to the final production estimate made by the Plains Cotton Growers staff this week, which was 1,521,000 bales.

The total value of the 1957 crop has been placed near $204 million dollars. This compares with an estimated total value of the 1956 crop of around $300 million.

Thus while wet weather and other unfavorable conditions cost High Plains producers money on the 1957 crop, conditions are now said to be excellent in regard to prospects for the 1958 crop.

"We're going into 1958 with excellent prospects. The ground, moisture-wise, has never been in better shape for breaking," D. C. Prince, Secretary of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, said last Saturday.

Many farmers throughout the area already have ground breaking underway, and in contrast, some farmers still have cotton in the field to be pulled or stripped. Many gins are still operating.

The average quality of the 1957 crop shows a drop from figures compiled in 1956 according to George W. Pfeiffenberger, Executive Vice-president of the PCG.

Pfeiffenberger explained that the PCG has conducted a quality survey the last two seasons on High Plains cotton.

"Figures on the 1957 crop show that 40 percent of the crop was white cotton, while light spots accounted for approximately 44 percent and spotted cotton 14 percent with about 2 percent tinges and below grade.

"Last year, 1956, 50 percent of the crop was white, 47.1 percent light spotted and about 2.5 percent spotted.

"Staple length on the 1957 crop, however, has held up well, running 31/32nds of an inch, compared with 30.6/32nd for the preceding year.

"The average micronaire for 1957 averages 3.3 while in 1956 it was 3.9. Tensile strength for 1957 is 73,000 pounds per square inch compared to a 1956 average of 78,000 pounds," Pfeiffenberger said.

Turner Twins Show Top Senior Calf In Ft. Worth Saturday

Royce and Doyce Turner, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Turner of Pleasant Valley, and students at Muleshoe high school, showed the first place calf in the senior division Hereford classification at the junior stock show in Ft. Worth Saturday.

The showing was a part of the great Southwest Stock Show being held at Will Rogers Coliseum there.

The twins also showed third in their classification, but lost out in competition for grand champion honors.

The top calf, which also won first place in his division at the Amarillo stock show last Monday, weighed 1110 pounds, and about 1200 pounds.

The boys will sell their calves in the auction ring to be held tomorrow (Friday) at Ft. Worth at the end of the stock show.

Tree Seedlings May Be Obtained March 1 For Windbreaks

Some 210,000 tree seedlings are available to West Texas landowners for windbreak planting this spring according to Don Young, head, Forest Management Department of the Texas Forest Service.

"Landowners interested in planting windbreaks should get their orders in before March 1 deadline," Young said. "However, these trees may be used only for windbreaks; they are not to be used for ornamental or shade planting purposes", he added.

Red cedar, Chinese elm, Austrian pine, and ponderosa pine seedlings are available and will be shipped for planting shortly after March 1. The small trees will be sold for $3 per hundred.

"Cedar and pine seedlings have 6 to 9 inch tops while the elm tops range from 12 to 18 inches. All of the small trees have 8-inch roots. The seedlings are packaged root to root in moss and moisture-proof paper rather than being individually wrapped in burlap," Young reported.

procured from county agents and Soil Conservation District offices in the West Texas area. In addition, the forms are available upon request from the Director, Texas Forest Service, College Station.

Lone ★ Agriculture

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

BACK TO THE FARM — AND OF THE UNEMPLOYMENT LIST

The old and uneasy sign of business and production let-ups—unemployment—has reared its unwelcome head once more, and once again our government planners begin to wonder how to get around this problem.

Operating on so tight a production and employment schedule as has American business in recent years, the least sign of downward adjustment invariably throws thousands of workers out of jobs and cause us to wonder just what is wrong with our economic system, employment-wise.

The most feasible resolution of many of our unemployment problems is to reclaim many of the jobs back to the valuable post they left during trying times—agriculture.

There appears to be a close connection between rural population declines and recent increases in unemployment. Those farmers who left the land in times of stress, such as our recent crippling drought, found unskilled jobs in the labor market at a time when production, business and government spending levels were high. And when the slack appears between labor needed and labor available, it is the ex-farmers who are usually the first to be laid off. In the past seven years, our farm population dropped from twenty-five million persons to twenty-two and a quarter million. This means a loss of nearly three million rural citizens in less than ten years—one of the most rapid declines in history.

If we could re-absorb into agriculture all these people, it would take a tremendous cut out of our unemployment roles.

In Texas, the ratio between farmers lost and unemployed persons is even higher. In the closing weeks of 1957 we had 149,000 unemployed persons on the rolls. Since 1950, we have lost 231,000 persons off Texas farms. For that terrific loss, of course, we have the drought largely to blame.

But the prevailing attitude in higher governmental circles of "get rid of the small farmers" hasn't helped the situation any. If agriculture is to help relieve the unemployment situation—and it can—Washington has got to do an about-face and begin encouraging a return to the farm.

TEMPLERS TO MIDLAND

Mr. and Mrs. George Temple and family have moved to Midland, where he is employed by the city.

"IT'S TOO WET TO PLOW!" . . . Area Farmers Face New Season With Confidence It's Best Year Since '49

"It's too wet to plow!" "Best prospects for dryland farmers since 1949."

Comments similar to these have been made many times within the past couple of weeks by area farmers all of who seem to expect the spring season to be one of the best in many years, following almost perfect early-season moisture conditions.

One farmer, who lives near Circleback in dryland, told The Journal that his land was in almost ideal condition for the first time since 1949. He explained that the four snows that have fallen since harvest season began last fall, have added untold value to the tilth of the soil, and that water from melting snow is high in nitrogen-giving value to the soil.

He also explained that the alternate freezing and thawing of the soil acts to the same effect as listing would, by breaking up the surface of the land and putting it in good shape for planting.

Many area farmers report the soil on their places is wet to a depth of 24 to 30 inches. This much moisture, they claim, will be sufficient to retain growing moisture for plant roots in the spring, and given some light "cotton showers" later in the year, should be enough to carry the crops to harvest time.

Moisture in 1949 in the Muleshoe area measured 25.83 inches, with heavy rains in May, June and July, plus some additional moisture recorded every other month in that year.

In speaking of the brighter outlook for the 1958 crop, the same farmers will also firmly point out that 1957 was one of the hardest years in several, due to adverse weather conditions.

Early rains, hail storms, and then an early freeze that caught many immature bolls in the irrigated fields on rank growth, caused a considerable loss in quantity, although Bailey county gins processed more than 59,000 bales during the season.

But the biggest loss was in quality of the fiber. Wasty and barkly bales have been mentioned with increasing frequency this season as farmer after farmer has found the grade of his cotton far below that of other years. An attempt has been made to get Government loan approval for the wasty and barkly cotton, but thus far without success.

Another factor giving some cause for concern among cotton farmers is the possibility of a shortage of good planting seed.

Extend Deadline For Comments On Spud Grade Change

What changes would you make in the present U. S. standards for potatoes?

That's the question the Agricultural Marketing Service asked several weeks ago when it called for views and comments on its proposal to revise standards for potatoes.

The question evoked so much interest that AMS has extended the deadline until March 31, 1958 for submitting these written comments.

This new deadline will not affect the announced target date of July 1, 1958 for adoption of the revised standards, AMS officials explained.

However, any further extension would necessarily delay the action for a full year since early July, when only a few areas are marketing, is the logical time for making a change in potato standards.

Primarily, the changes would tighten the standards for four wholesale grades of potatoes, while dropping the U. S. Fancy designation, little used now.

Revised U. S. Extra No. 1 grade would provide the basis for wholesale trading of premium pack potatoes.

Copies of the proposed changes may be obtained from the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Washington 25, D. C. Comments should be submitted to the same address.

BABSON DISCUSSES

WASHINGTON

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 30 — It is not my place to discuss politics in this column. Most of us are Republicans or Democrats according to where we live or how we were trained as children. This means that the birth rate will largely be the deciding factor under a democracy.

Democracy and Economics
This further means that democracy, with everyone having a vote irrespective of character or education in government, is crazy and cannot long continue. There must be a shakedown sometime and a return to the republic which Washington, Franklin, and Hamilton established in 1788. We have drifted far away from our original ideals.

I am, however, allowed to discuss economics in this column. I do not know what the future holds, but I know that the present situation on business and investments is the "unemployment cushions" which have been devised to prevent another real depression.

Some Unanswered Questions
Will the insurance of bank deposits prevent a money panic when banks begin to fail? Will employment insurance give confidence to business and the stock market when millions are laid off and walking the streets? Can employers be forced to employ people at a loss? In short, will new laws which businessmen and investors are counting on really work?

I am not disputing the ability of these new laws to do some good. They will relieve much suffering and encourage some consumer buying; but will they create confidence, or will they, instead, make business more fearful? No one knows. These "pacifiers" have not yet been tried. No true business depression has occurred since these "humanitarian" laws were enacted. My point this week is to emphasize that no one knows whether existing legislation will create confidence or increase fear.

Reducing Stock Market Margins
Let us consider the recent reduction of stock market margins from 70% to 50%. This was done by Washington to make it easier to buy stocks; but stocks are very different from food. We buy food to eat; but we buy stocks to sell at a profit.

Instead of increasing confidence in stocks, this action by well-meaning Washington bureaucrats has frightened investors, who fear that the real inside conditions may be worse than the public expected. Therefore, this act, at this time, has done more harm than good. Now what will be the effect when the various other palliatives are put into force? They will relieve hunger, but will they cause investors to buy stocks or automobiles? I don't know—and no one else knows.

What About Economic Laws?
Economic laws can be temporarily ignored; but they cannot be long ignored. Economic forces cannot be seen; but neither can electric forces be seen. Even now, no one knows what electricity is, where it comes from, why it travels, or where it goes. Yet, we use electricity continually. Economic forces are just as powerful even though they cannot be seen. For Congress to try to ignore them is like legislating that "2 plus 2 must hereafter be 5."

Almost every Congressman believes in his heart that the present regulation of farm prices is a disaster. Some believe that Secretary of Agriculture Clark is basically right, and that the farmers vote. What will be the result will be, artificial prices will finally end our present form of government. We dare not say because neither I nor anyone else knows.

Certainly we are skating on ice of unknown thickness. One person whom I see is very bearish; another is optimistic. We are all toying with questions to which neither Congress nor the President knows the answers. Following the depression of the Thirties, Congress enacted many "cure-alls" to relieve pain. These should work for a while in relief of the pain.

Dear Friend:
Important decisions about our national defense have been made during the last two months. That is the period in which the Senate Preparedness Committee has been holding hearings on the Nation's defense status. A great deal remains to be done. But we are already able to report action along the following lines:

believing hunger, warding off failures of mercy; but in most cases they may serve only as mustard plasters or aspirin when our people need a change of character, almost a religious conversion. Previous depressions were allowed to last until selfishness was replaced by unselfishness; until inefficiency was replaced by efficiency; and dishonesty by honesty. Now Congress plans to bring back prosperity without restoring these fundamentals of unselfishness, efficiency, and honesty. Can this safely be done?

What Is Scientific Education?
Washington apparently thinks Science refers only to physics and chemistry. This is a great mistake: Economics, sociology, and merchandising are science of equal importance. Russia can give us some great surprises along these lines, far more important than "Sputniks". A nation progresses only by a balanced education, not by going off half-cooked on one line. What will the young physicists and chemists do if we enter upon a "workable disarmament program"? They will be "a dime a dozen."

Were I a young man or woman today, I should become an expert on the subjects taught at Institutes of Business Administration. The graduates of such institutions will be in great demand as we approach disarmament. Almost every sane man in Washington will admit that the ultimate choice is "Disarmament or Destruction." If World War III comes, all our schools may be laid low and their graduates killed.

Both Vanguard and Jupiter satellite programs assigned top priority, and Army authorized to proceed with launching a satellite by use of Jupiter-C test vehicle.
Authority given for production and operation deployment of both Thor and Jupiter missile systems.
Atlas program accelerated. Polaris development accelerated.
Army authorized to proceed immediately with development of a solid propellant missile to replace the Redstone.
Office of the Director of Guided Missiles established.
Advance Research Project Agency established.
Increased anti-submarine capability in new budget; research and development on anti-submarine warfare accelerated.
Strategic Air Command alert. Dispersal and relocation of tankers to northern bases.
Air Force authorized to proceed with program to install an early warning system for detection of intercontinental ballistic missile.
Army and Air Force responsibilities defined, and new emphasis given urgency for development of defense against ICBM; top priority confirmed for anti-ICBM and military satellite projects.
Full-time special assistant and group consultants named to advise the Secretary regarding the organization of the Defense Department.

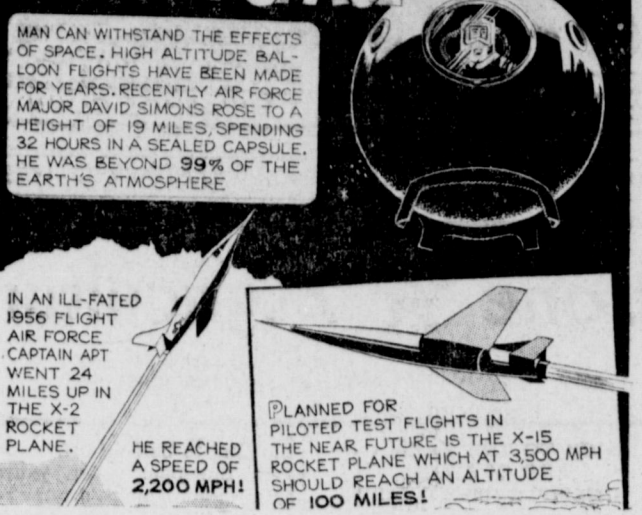

These are steps in the right direction.

Famed Paper Studies Vegetable Crops Here

Vegetable growing on the High Plains is being studied by the famed Wall Street Journal. Jack Hanicke, Dallas, reporter for the paper, was in Muleshoe Wednesday making a survey of what has been going on and what's in the future for vegetable crops. Making his headquarters in Lubbock, he has fanned out over the territory in his quest for the story. J. K. Adams, the county agent, and others helped him to see local people. Mr. Adams took him to the farms of several vegetable growers and marketing firms. Mr. Hanicke said it likely would be two or three months before the article appears in the paper.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER PUZZLED BY ARGUMENT Farm Program Should Be Dropped Because It Won't Work

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently is trying to write thoughtfully this week, but we can't tell whether he succeeds or not.

Dear editor:
Sometimes I get mixed up on the thinking that goes on in Washington, which is only natural, as I also get mixed up on the thinking that goes on out here on this Johnson grass farm. For example, I was reading in a newspaper last night, for your information, I walked up to a newsstand in town and paid a nickel for it day before yesterday, where an agricultural expert, testifying before a Congressional committee in Washington, said "Last year it cost over three billion dollars to carry out the present farm price support and stabilization program. If this had brought a solution to our problems, it would have been a bargain. Instead, the problem is still with us."

As a result, he was in favor of abolishing the program. I don't understand this type of thinking, on the grounds that it runs counter to all the other thinking that goes on in Washington and out here too.

For instance, take Foreign Aid. Last year we spent many times more than three billion dollars on foreign aid, but how many countries do you know of who didn't need aid as much this year as last? If there ever was a program that's still with us, after years of tackling it, it's foreign aid.

Or take national defense. We spend around 40 billion dollars a year on defense, but the problem is still with us, in a worse way than it ever was.

Or take education. Counting what the whole country spends, from the first grade thru college, we must spend many billion dollars a year on education, yet you don't even have to get off this farm out here to find a man who could stand some more, and it's my idea you can find plenty more without even coming this far, maybe without even leaving town, maybe without leaving your block, maybe, well, there's no use in narrowing this down any further, ain't that what you say? You reckon that Washington expert wants to abolish schools because some people are still ignorant?

Trying to permanently solve the farm problem is like trying to permanently solve the problem of a new car. You can buy a brand new 1958 model today because your family is hollering for one to maintain its social standing, but that won't solve your car problem, unless you can abolish the calendar. Manufacturers are already working on plans for the 1959 model to make your 1958 model look old-fashioned, and anyway, I've never seen a car, new or old, that didn't cost money to run.

If you're going to abolish a program just because it hasn't solved the problem, you'll be faced with the job of abolishing churches, marriages, police departments, hospitals, highways, schools, foreign aid, national defense, automobile mechanics, weather forecasting, radio, television, and possibly newspapers. We'd better change the subject. Yours faithfully, J. A.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL * OUR STRENGTH

STUBBLE MULCH FARMING

The mold board plow was the first tillage implement used in agriculture on the Great Plains. Breaking the sod lands of the Great Plains and farming them by clean tillage methods caused trouble almost immediately. At the sites of early settlements the soil became dissipated by drought and blowing dust.

This brought to light the hazards involved in growing crops in regions subject to low rainfall and high winds. Erosion control by field studies under conditions of severe wind erosion show that varying amounts of anchored surface residue are required to control wind erosion on representative soils. One of the primary functions of crop residues maintained on the surface is to decrease the force of wind on the soil itself.

Compiled data on the ability of crop residues to reduce the direct force of the wind from the soil, different amounts, types and orientation of residues have been found to remove 5 to 99% of the direct wind force from the immediate soil surface, therefore holding erosion to a minimum.

With the wind already removing our top soil this season we need to give a lot of thought to utilizing the residue that we have on the land at this time. It has also been determined that residues on the surface tend to receive the direct impacts of rain drops, lessen soil splash and provide roughness as an obstacle to flow of water over the surface, and tends to prevent compaction and sealing of the immediate soil surface.

This leaves the soil pores open and the soil absorbs more water with less runoff. It has also been found that stubble mulch farming has increased organic matter both on the surface and in the soil, creates soil condition favorable to the intake of water. The best known method to carry out stubble mulching, is with 30 inch sweeps. These are known as stubble mulch sweeps. They operate from the tool bar of tractors at a depth of approximately 3 inches leaving the residue on the surface. This is also effective for weed control. Some farmers with good stubble mulching examples are Dub Hardin, Clifford and Gene Hamilton along with several others.

With dry land farming and sprinkler irrigation on a lot of the sandy land soils in the Black Water Valley Soil Conservation District there are great opportunities for stubble mulch farming at this time.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

As most farmers are aware, railroad companies have petitioned for freight rate increases. American Farm Bureau has urged the Interstate Commerce Commission to deny the increase. The reason given, is that Farm Bureau members and other farmers would pay, either directly or indirectly, all or a substantial share of the proposed rate and services increases on farm products shipped to market by rail and on farm production supplies they purchase.

The railroad's request is that such increases should go into effect on February 1, 1958, without suspension. It also suggests the possibility of adjustments with possible refunds to those shippers who may have been overcharged. Such possible refund, says American Farm Bureau, would not help the farmer, even if it should be made, because the farmer would already have, in effect, paid the increase in a reduced net price for his produce, and the refund would be made to the shipper, who is not the farmer.

Such an arrangement would, in AFBF's opinion, create a "windfall" deal for buyers and shippers, who would have bought on the basis of a higher rate, and then received a refund, which should have been allowed the individual producer in the first place.

American Farm Bureau also, after considering recommendations from State Farm Bureaus, has made a recommendation for a change in arriving at the level of government supports for farm products, including grain sorghums, which would be priced in conjunction with corn, after consideration for differences in feed value. The recommended basis for supports is "90% of the weighted average market prices" of these commodities during the preceding three-year period. The recommendation would also "avoid the determination of support levels by any secretary of Agriculture at his discretion."

We suppose you have read the account elsewhere in Parmer County papers regarding the president's conference attended by president Gilbert Kaltwasser and director Donald Christian, last week in Waco. They reported a good meeting.

Quick loaf breads add extra energy and interest to meals. They are delicious served hot, cold, as toast or in sandwiches. Correction To Cake Recipe

I hope you didn't try to make the Orange Date Nut Cake from the recipe that was in the paper, under this column, last week. If you did I hope you figured out that the recipe needed 4 cups of all purpose flour. Please add this correction to the recipe if you cut it out of the paper. It is really a delicious cake but I have never tried to make it without flour.

Had Your Vitamins Today?

No one likes to take pills but everyone should take vitamins. Eating green salads is an easy way to "take" your vitamins. When we take vitamins in food we also get minerals which are also very important to the building of body tissues and the regulating of body processes. Dark and green and yellow vegetables are excellent sources of vitamins A and C. High on the list of vegetables are raw cabbage, carrots, asparagus, broccoli, and green peppers. All vegetables will give a greater return on your investment when they are served raw.

Good Shears and Scissors Deserve Good Care

To protect them, hang them up or keep them in a box away from dampness. An occasional drop of sewing machine oil where the blades join, is necessary to keep them working. If you have pink shears be sure to give the blades an occasional oil bath. Put them away with the oil on them. Wipe them free for oil when ready for use. Never use scissors or shears on paper, cardboard, wet cloth, flowers or heavy string. Keep a pair of inexpensive utility shears for such jobs.

Does Your House Sweat?

If your house sweats during the cold months when it is necessary to have heat, perhaps you are keeping the house closed too tight. Fresh air should be entering the house at all times. Open a window about two inches—preferably at the top, if you have the kind of windows that can be lowered from the top. This should eliminate the sweating. Of course, you may have to open more than one window.

Cure For Clinging

Though washable garments, such as slips, blouses, shirts, in the new synthetic fibers are tops in ease of care and length of wear, they sometimes tend to cling to the body in cold dry weather. Scientific research, which developed these fibers, has now come up with an effective, easy way of combatting this tendency—just add a small amount of LIQUID detergent, fabric softener, or a special anti-static agent to the final rinse water. Liquid detergent and fabric softeners—often marked as "laundry rinses"—can be purchased at most grocery stores. Liquid anti-static agents can be obtained at notion counters in drug stores or department stores.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the people of Bailey county for their kindness and thoughtful deeds shown us at the time of our recent bereavement.

Lions Go All Out To Produce Unusual "Gay Nineties" Vaudeville Show In April

The Muleshoe Lions club has begun preliminary plans for the production of an evening of entertainment in the mood of the Gay Nineties.

The club will produce a two hour show, featuring songs by barbershop quartets, choruses, two old time "inleddrammers", and other old time vaudeville acts, all done by members of the Lions club.

A committee in charge of the show is under the general chairmanship of Bill Gipson. Members of the committee are Edwin Hall, Gil Lamb, and T. W. Goar.

Gipson will also be in charge of the musical numbers, assisted by Gil Lamb, Edwin Hall will direct one of the melodramatic plays, entitled "Dark Doings At The Cross Roads". The other play, entitled "Innocence Triumphs", will be under the direction of Carroll Pouncy.

Although date for the extravaganza has not been set, the program is one that is sure to please every member of the family. Early plans call for the first performance to be in early April.

Further details will be announced as the program shapes up, Gipson said.
