Roy Cowan Is Killed In Accident Near Albany

Entire Line Will Be Energized By Weekend

Body Is Buried In Tahoka Cemetery Tuesday Afternoon

Sudden and tragic was the accident Monday night which resulted in the death of Roy Cowan of Tahoka when, in some way, he lost control of his truck loaded with cattle as he was rounding a sharp curve in the highway going down the long slope of one of the hills a few miles this side of Albany, the machine swerving to the left and jutting into a stone wall or embankment on the left side of the road.

The truck did not turn over, but when it struck the embankment the main body of the truck jambed into the cab, crushing the driver so badly that he died soon after reaching a hospital at Stamford, to which he was taken hurriedly in a car. It is said that he was never conscious after the wrecked truck was discovered with the driver still in the cab. At the hospital, it was found that the bones of the head and face had been crushed, most if not all the ribs broken, both legs broken, and other injuries inflicted.

Just ahead of Mr. Cowan was E. L. Smelser with another load of cattle, the two being on their way to Fort Worth. Mr. Smelser detected that something had happened and went back to investigate, finding the wrecked car and the injured man. The cows had been thrown from the truck but, strangely enough, none of them had been seriously injured.

The body was brought back to Tahoka Tuesday morning for burial here. Funeral services were conducted at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in the Church of Christ here, Elder J. L. Nisbett officiating, assisted by Elder R. P. Drennon of O'Donnell, Elder Albert Smith and Elder Kelcy of Lubbock. Elder Liff Sanders of Lubbock also was present.

Burial in the Tahoka Cemetery followed, under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home.

Roy Cowan was born in this county a few miles south of Tahoka on (Continued on back page)

Whole Family Is Burned To Death In Home In Silverton Fire Sunday

Herbert A. Street, 42, and his father-in-law, Capt. Edgar Wilson, were burned to death early Sunday morning in a fire which destroyed the Street residence in Silverton, and Mrs. Street and their little six-year-old daughter, Mary Mildred, were so seriously burned that they died Tuesday, the daughter at noon and the mother at midnight, in a Plainview hospital to which they had been taken after being rescued from the burning building.

The bodies of Mr. Street and Captain Wilson were buried in a Lubbock cemetery Sunday afternoon following funeral services at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Street, in Lubbock. Mrs. Street and Mary Mildred were buried at Lubbock Wednesday afternoon.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The bodies of Mr. Street and Mr. Wilson were found in the burned building. It is said that gas connections had just recently been made and it is possible that the fire started when escaping gas was ignited, though this is a mere matter of conjecture.

Mr. Street had been employed by the state highway department the past two years but had resigned and the family was preparing to move back to Lubbock, where they had formerly resided. A portion of their household goods, it is said, had already been brought to Lubbock.

Mr. Street was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Street of Lubbock, and a cousin of Blanton Street of O'Donnell, Blanton having lived in Tahoka at one time. The Streets had other relatives at O'Donnell and were well known there. They were also distantly related to Mrs. N. M. Wyatt of Tahoka by marriage.

Mrs. Street was the former Miss Frances Wilson and was a sister of Vaughn E. Wilson, former county attorney of Lubbock county. Prior to her marriage to Mr. Street in 1929, she had been assistant cashier and bookkeeper in the business office of the Texas Technological College.

Cold Storage Plant To Open Soon

Carpenters are busy remodeling the interior of the north compartment of the Larkin building, lower floor, at the southwest corner of the square, preparatory to the opening of a cold storage plant by the Plains Cooperative, Incorporated.

Various rooms are being provided, including the office, a cream-buying station, a processing room, cooling room, quick-freeze room, locker room, ice vault, and engine and storage room.

The quick-freeze room is for the preservation of such items as fruits, vegetables, roasting ears, fish, oysters, etc.

F. T. Thorpe will be in charge of the plant. It is hoped to have it ready for operation within the next three, or four weeks. It promises to be a great convenience for its patrons, particularly farmers who raise their own farm produce and meats.

New Home Gin Destroyed By Fire

The farmers Cooperative Gin at New Home was completely destroyed by fire at an early hour Thursday morning. The fire was discovered in the cotton house at about 2 a. m. and had made such headway that it was then impossible to extinguish the flames. The gin plant, the cotton house, and the seed house were all consumed. Several bales of ginned cotton were also destroyed. There were many bales of unginned cotton on the yard at the time but none of them were damaged. The gin was running at the time the fire was discovered and many people were in and about the plant.

The gin was owned by an association of farmers, L. N. Hancock being the chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Barron was the manager. About 1370 bales had been ginned this season.

The amount of insurance carried was not available. It is presumed that the plant will be rebuilt before the next ginning season.

P. T. A. Hold First Meeting Of Year

The Parent Teachers Association held its first meeting for this year last Wednesday, Sept. 27.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Harley Henderson, president; Miss Ida Mae Harris, secretary; Mrs. H. C. Story, historian.

The president appointed the following committees: program committee, Mrs. J. K. Applegate, chairman, Mrs. Loyd Edwards, Lee Dodson; social committee, Mrs. Irvin Stewart, chairman, Mrs. W. T. Hanes, Mrs. Skip Taylor; publicity chairman, Mrs. Dean Nowlin.

A forty-two party is being planned for a near date. This paper will carry announcement of the next meeting. Members and those who should be members are requested to watch the paper for the date.—Publicity chairman.

Joe Boles has accepted a position as shoe salesman in Cobb's Department Store here. He has had previous experience in stores in Lubbock and elsewhere and is said to be an adept in his line.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Collins of near Tahoka are the parents of a 9 1/4 lb. baby boy, born at 8:45 Tuesday night. Mother and babe are doing fine.

Mrs. F. Sutton Died Wednesday

Death came soon after 12 o'clock noon Wednesday to relieve Mrs. F. Sutton of New Home of the intense suffering which she had undergone the past several weeks from cancer. She had submitted to an operation on June 29 this year in an effort to check the ravages of the incurable malady. After a month's time following the operation she was able to be up part of the time but grew worse again and was seriously ill for about six weeks preceding death.

The body was brought to the Harris Funeral Home here Wednesday afternoon and prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements had not been completed at the time this was written but it was practically certain that funeral services would be held at New Home by Rev. E. J. Cobb either Friday or Saturday. Interment will be made in the Tahoka cemetery.

Mrs. Sutton's maiden name was Georgia Mae Renfro. She was born in Alabama on October 28, 1886, and was therefore almost 53 years of age. She was married to F. Sutton at Carter, Oklahoma, in November, 1904. After living in that state and in Colorado, the Sutton family came to Lynn county, Texas, in the spring of 1921, and deceased had made her home there ever since.

Mrs. Sutton had professed faith in Christ and expressed a desire to unite with the Baptist Church at New Home but illness in recent months had prevented her doing so. The people of that community speak in the highest terms of her industry and character in general.

She leaves surviving her husband, F. Sutton, who came in from Arizona just a few hours after her death, two sons, Olan Sutton of Superior, Arizona, and A. B. Sutton of New Home, and one daughter, Mrs. Jeffie Fay O'Dell of New Home.

She also leaves two brothers and four sisters: A. M. Renfro of McFarlane, California, W. G. Renfro of Carter, Oklahoma, Mrs. Ida Dunford of Albany, Texas, Mrs. Vanda Stewart of Premont, Mrs. Hester Davidson of Santa Paula, California, and Mrs. Cora Inman of Cliff, New Mexico.

Also surviving are two grandchildren, Geraldine and Aubrey Jr. O'Dell of New Home.

Child Dies Of Blood Poison

Funeral services were held for little James Massengale, 6, at the Harris Funeral Home here Friday afternoon, followed by burial in the Tahoka cemetery.

The little fellow died from blood poison in Mercy Hospital in Slaton at 9:30 o'clock Thursday night, September 28.

The last sad rites were conducted by Rev. J. L. Nisbett, minister of the Church of Christ.

James was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Massengale, who recently removed to Tahoka from Berger. He was born at Memphis, Texas, on February 3, 1933. The family first came to this county from Sweetwater in that year and lived here for some time. Then they moved away and only recently came back to the county.

Little James had had other attacks of illness. The fatal attack came only a few days prior to his death.

Besides his parents, he left surviving him one sister, Juanita, and one brother, Eugene Massengale.

The news extends condolences to the bereaved family.

Jyles Shaw of Wilson has entered John Tarleton College at Stephenville as a student for the 1939-1940 session.

Man Injured As Tractor Overturns

Lee Carnes was given emergency treatment at a local clinic Monday morning for severe injuries received when a tractor he was operating turned a flip on the Robert Spruill farm, on route 5.

Injuries consisted of serious bruises to his legs and abdomen, and minor burns from hot oil. Bruises on his right thigh were very severe.

The accident happened as Mr. Carnes was driving the tractor back and forth over the grain in a trench silo, for the purpose of packing the grain. The grain of course was slick, and the tractor skidded, causing it to turn a summersault backward. Mr. Carnes was thrown beneath the tractor and caught there.

While the softness of the grain under the tractor probably saved Carnes' life, it also made much more difficult the job of rescuing him from under the tractor, where he was trapped. About twenty men were present watching the experiment, but it took an hour to lift the tractor from Carnes' body.

The victim was immediately rushed to a doctor, who immediately dressed the wounds and made a thorough examination. No internal injuries were sustained so far as could be ascertained.

5,435 Bales Ginned Here This Season

At 9 o'clock Thursday morning, 5,434 bales of cotton had been ginned here this season, according to reports given the News by the five gin plants here. A little more than 2,000 bales have been ginned since the report was gathered last week. The weather has remained ideal for the harvesting of the crop. Practically all the cotton is being picked this year, none of it "pulled" as yet.

Most farmers are reporting better yields than they thought they would get when picking began early in September.

This crop, whatever it may be, has been made on a sub-normal amount of rain. In Tahoka, only 10.78 inches of rain has fallen since January 1. Considerably more than this has fallen in some sections of the county, however, particularly in July and August, causing the cotton stalks to grow rank and promising for a few weeks a bumper crop.

The price of cotton in Tahoka Thursday was about 8.10 cents per pound. Seed was selling at $25.00 per ton.

State Employment Man Moves Here

Mr. J. W. Martin has been recently transferred here from Lubbock by the Texas State Employment Service for the purpose of bringing together pickers and farmers. He speaks Spanish and can secure pickers for farmers who need them.

Mr. Martin can be reached by inquiry in the county agents' office in the court house. He requests that any farmers needing pickers come to him.

Larkin Laundry In New Home Soon

Work on Frank Larkin's new Help-Yourself laundry building is proceeding satisfactorily but Frank is not yet able to state just when it will be finished.

The structure, which is being built of hollow tile, will be spacious and commodious, equipped with all the latest and best laundry machinery. Frank says the laundry will be one of the best in this entire section.

Mr. Tom Garrard spent Friday and Saturday in Austin attending to business.

Many New Applications Pending; Adjoining Counties Seek Extension

The original Lyntegar electric light and power project, consisting of 330 miles of line, situated in Lynn, Hockley, Terry and Garza counties, has been completed, and it is believed that practically the entire line will have been energized by the end of this week.

Energizing of the western division, which includes all that portion of the line north of Tahoka and west of Highway 9, was completed some weeks ago. About fifty miles of the line east of the highway had been energized up to Tuesday, according to Edward P. Price, engineer.

Mr. Price says that applications are now pending for extensions in all of the above named four counties and for other extensions into Borden, Dawson and Martin counties, aggregating 290 additional miles of line. Extensions in Dawson and Martin counties, if granted, will cover 171 miles, and in Borden county possibly fifty miles.

If the Borden county extension is granted, there will be quite a number of subscribers above the cap rock in that county and about 30 to 35 in the town of Gall.

So far as we have been able to find out, all of the subscribers in this county who have been connected up are delighted with the service.

At New Home, both gins, the cooperative ice plant, the stores, the filling stations, the school building, the churches, and the residences are now being lighted with electricity, while the gins and the cooperative ice plant are being operated with electric power.

Mr. Price believes that in the course of time many of the farmers will not only use electricity for lighting purposes but also for power for many electrical appliances in the home and on the farm. As an example of the utility of electricity on the farm he cites the case of a Lubbock county farmer, Curtis L. Boyd, who lives six miles south and a mile and a half east of Lubbock, and who has complete house and farm equipment energized.

Boyd changed over from gasoline engine operation for his milking machine some time ago and found his (Continued on back page)

Weather Review For Year 1939

The year 1939 will go down in history as a remarkable one in the matter of rainfall and crop production on the South Plains. With a minimum of rainfall since January 1, there are thousands of acres of cotton in Lynn county which grew very rank during the month of August and for a few weeks promised record-breaking yields.

Then came two weeks of rather high, dry winds, and the crops deteriorated terribly, and for the next two or three weeks it looked as if the cotton crop was just about ruined. Then it gradually staged a partial come-back, and now farmers are gathering an average crop.

The rainfall in Tahoka by months this year as shown by the government rain gauge here is as follows:

Month	Inches
January	3.02
February	.14
March	.31
April	.33
May	2.91
June	.28
July	2.49
August	1.42
September	.08
Total	10.78

Charles L. Grunder arrived here last week from Cuero, to represent the entomology department of the U. S. Government in the control of pink boll worm. Mr. Grunder is a former newspaper man.

Educators To Have Meeting Soon

A meeting of the school people of District 2 has been called by Deputy State Superintendent E. Eston Day for 2:30 P. M., October 27, in the Lubbock Senior High School auditorium, Lubbock, Texas.

County superintendents, superintendents, principals, teachers, trustees, and school patrons are invited to attend. Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mr. H. E. Robinson, Director of Equalization, State Department of Education, and Senator Olan R. Van Zandt, Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee, of District 9, Tioza, will address the group. The new Equalization Law will be the principal subject of discussion.

Special guests will be the senators and representatives whose districts wholly or partially correspond to District 2. This District is made up of the following counties: Andrews, Borden, Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry, and Yoakum. The problems to be discussed are of interest to all school people of the South Plains. You are cordially invited to attend.

Teachers Association Elect Officers

The Tahoka Teachers Association met Monday night, and after a talk by Miss Nellie McLeroy on reading, officers were elected.

Officers for the year are: John Kirkwood, chairman; Mrs. Pete Hegl, vice-chairman; Miss Lucille Hall, 2nd vice-chairman; Miss Elisabeth McEwin, secretary; Miss McLeroy, treasurer; A. R. Bostick, parliamentarian.

Prisoners Enter Guilty Pleas

One of the prisoners in jail entered a plea of guilty on Monday before Judge Louis Reid to a charge of unlawfully selling mortgaged property. His punishment was assessed at 2 1/2 years in the penitentiary with sentence suspended during good behavior.

C. O. Burns entered pleas of guilty in three cases, one charging theft of property of over $50 value, one charging him as an accomplice to theft, and one charging burglary. His punishment was assessed at two years in the penitentiary, the first two to run concurrently and the third to be cumulative. He is alleged to have broken into a theatre at O'Donnell and also a service station, stealing some tires and other accessories.

Dale Hall confessed his guilt in two cases, charging burglary and theft. He is alleged to have broken into the City Park Service Station here and another service station in O'Donnell. His punishment was assessed at two years in the penitentiary in each case.

Another man was charged with being implicated with Hall in the burglary of the City Park Service Station, to which he plead guilty, and his punishment was assessed at five years in the penitentiary with sentence suspended.

The criminal jury docket will be taken up next week.

Elbert Rogers received painful but minor back injuries when struck by a keg while working at Orange Crush Bottling Works last week. He is back at work now, however.

 The Bulldogs will be put through a real test of their strength tonight as they invade Post for their first conference game of the season.

The Bulldogs are doped to be the underdogs in this battle. Post played the Lubbock Cowhands their first game and won over them 25 to 0. They then lost to Crosbyton 6 to 7. Then they defeated Ralls 26 to 7.

The Tahoka Bulldogs lost their first game to Lamesa 19 to 0. They then won over Cooper 25 to 0. The Bulldogs then walloped Southland 64 to 0. Then they won over the Lubbock Cowhands 26 to 7.

Lubbock is the only team that Tahoka and Post have both played this season. Post scored 6 more points over Lubbock than did the local team.

We are sure this will be the best and closest played game in any conference game that is scheduled in this district this year.

Come on down to Post and help YOUR BULLDOGS WIN tonight.

kicked the two extra points.
 Co-captain Alvin White also turned in a nice game.

Some of the boys are still a little green at this game of football. It seems to me that I heard someone say they learned how to keep from getting blocked out by making his opponent clip him. Clipping draws a 15 yard penalty and nearly every time one of the Bulldogs would start to throw a block on one of those Cowhands the Cowhand would turn his back to him and get clipped on purpose.

TECH DEFEATS WESLEYAN COLLEGE

The Texas Tech varsity team won over Texas Wesleyan College 33 to 0 last Saturday night. However the game was much better and closer than the score indicates. Tech uses the old famous Notre Dame system and Tech is liable to score from their own 35 yard line as they are from their opponents 2 yard line.

Texas Wesleyan has some fairly good players and they had the Tech boys dizzy two or three times but as I said Tech was just liable to score from any point.

CANYON DEFEATS BULLDOGS

The Bulldog "B" team was defeated on the local field last Thursday night 19 to 0 by the W. T. S. T. C. high school team from Canyon.

The Canyon boys outweighed our second string boys considerably, but it was a good show.

WESTERNERS DEFEAT BIG SPRING

The Lubbock Westerners defeated Big Spring last Friday night 18 to 0 on Big Springs home field.

The Westerners will play the Vernon Lions in Vernon tonight.

O'DONNELL LOSES TO CROSBYTON

O'Donnell lost their dedication last Friday night to the Crosbyton Lions 12 to 26.

There were two thousand people who attended the celebration.

The New Mexico Military Institute defeated the Texas Tech freshman team in Roswell, N. M., 30 to 12.

Breeder-Feeders of the Nation will be honor guests at a banquet under the auspices of the State Fair on October 10. It will be in recognition of the rapid progress of the industry in Texas and in honor of the bringing to the State Fair of the American Hereford Show, its first time south of Kansas City. The Fair is assured the greatest assemblage of livestock in its history.

Climax of the opening day of the State Fair of Texas, October 7, will be the coronation of a Queen of Queens chosen in an elaborate pageant from among fifty regional Texas beauties. It will be a free attraction in the Cotton Bowl.

FFA INITIATES GREENHANDS

The FFA held initiation services for its Greenhands Monday night. About 30 new members were initiated, leaving 6 or 8 to be initiated. The membership of the club has reached 60.

On Wednesday night the club went to Brownfield and held initiation services for a new chapter of the FFA just recently organized over there.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Eee Eye the Elder

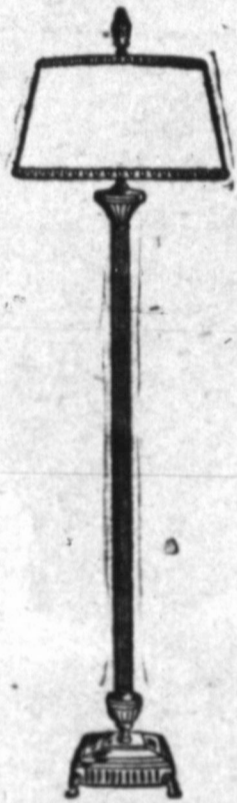

In the so-called "Gay Nineties" we had a war—possibly the most glorious and glamorous war of our history.

All our Indian wars were mere local affairs.

The Revolutionary War was a long-drawn-out and painful conflict, in which a few of the colonies played a rather unimportant and somewhat inglorious part. It was made glorious by the fact that in it, men were fighting for liberty and independence, for democratic principles, and as a result of it a new nation was born, a nation which has become the greatest in almost every respect of all the nations of the earth.

In the War of 1812, we were fighting what has been termed our second war for independence, fighting against the arrogance of a superior power, and we came very near losing. Our country was invaded, our capitol was burned, and our government officials were compelled to take to the woods for safety. There were battles on land and sea, however, that proved the stamina and bravery of Americans, and after the war ended we were not further harassed by British arrogance on the high seas.

In the war of 1846, we had a passage at arms with Mexico. Texas had gained her independence in 1836. Sam Houston had captured the Mexican dictator Santa Anna at San Jacinto, and some of the Texans, remembering the butchery Santa Anna had perpetrated at the Alamo, wanted to execute him, but the generous-hearted Houston sent him back to Mexico and set him free. But Santa Anna continued to give trouble. Mexico refused to acknowledge the independence of Texas, and when it was annexed as a state of the American Union almost ten years later, Mexico regarded that as an act of war. Furthermore, she claimed that the Nueces River was the boundary and took steps to hold the country between the Nueces and the Rio Grande by force. President Polk sent troops into the territory to enforce Uncle Sam's claims and the war followed. The Mexicans were so inferior to the Americans as soldiers that the war proved to be a mere breakfast spell for Uncle Sam. As a result of the treaty of peace in 1848, the Rio Grande was established as the boundary and a big slice of territory added to Uncle Sam's domain.

Then came the Civil War, the greatest tragedy of our history. Had it not been for the hot-heads, North and South, this war probably could have been averted. Brave men fought on both sides, and especially did the Southern soldier exhibit great valor and fortitude. We bow our heads in reverence to his memory.

Our next clash with the Spanish people came with Spain herself. This was in 1898, and like our clash with Mexico it was of short duration and brought complete victory to our country.

This was not a war of self-defense, neither was it a war of conquest; it was primarily a war for humanity.

For nearly four hundred years Spain had exploited and misgoverned Cuba. During the last half century, there had been a number of insurrections by Cubans against the tyranny of the Spanish government. The latest had occurred in 1895. Spain undertook to suppress it with the most harsh and inhumane methods. Captain-general Weyler, who was sent to Cuba in 1896 by the Spanish Government to quell the rebellion, was horribly brutal. He made war not only upon the men but also upon the women and children. He established concentration camps and herded thousands and thousands of men, women and children into them, where they were half-starved and lived in the most unsanitary conditions imaginable. Many of them in fact did actually starve to death while many others died from disease. Some were butchered with the machete and some shot down like dogs. Even the lives of American citizens in the island apparently became endangered.

Possibly to guard the lives of Americans and possibly as a warning against the atrocities of Spain, the American battleship "Maine" was sent to Havana harbor in January, 1898. On the night of February 15, the ship was blown up by a mine and 266 officers and men were killed. While proof could not be made immediately that the act had been purposely done, the whole country believed that it had been, and the whole American people became enraged.

After satisfying itself that this was an act of perfidy, the American Congress on April 19, passed a resolution demanding the withdrawal of Spain from Cuba, and declaring that the Cubans are and of right ought to be free. This was regarded as a declaration of war, and on April 24 Spain herself declared war on the United States. Both countries in the meantime had been marshalling their fleets for the conflict.

It was only a few days until the American fleet under Admiral Dewey won a thrilling victory over the Spanish fleet. With seven fighting vessels and two transports he was cruising along the Chinese coast when the war broke out. On April 26 he was ordered by President McKinley to capture or destroy the Spanish fleet which was then in Manila Bay, Philippine Islands. Dewey set out for Manila on the 27th and entered the bay under the cover of darkness on the night of April 30. On Sunday morning, May 1, he attacked the Spanish squadron of fourteen fighting vessels reposing peacefully under the shelter of the Cavite forts. Within eight hours after opening fire Dewey had sunk or disabled every one of the fourteen Spanish ships and silenced all the guns on Cavite Hill. He had not lost a man, only a few had been wounded, and only minor damages inflicted on his own fleet.

When the news reached America, the effect was electrical. The conductor of this column and a brother or two were chopping cotton one day when a neighbor who had been to town came riding by and from the road shouted to us the thrilling news. Well do we remember the episode, that being only a day or two after the big naval battle had taken place.

This brief war was full of thrills. When it broke out, it was known that there was a Spanish fleet at the Val Verde Islands a few hundred miles out in the Atlantic Ocean west of Portugal, but where the fleet went or in what direction it went from the Val Verdes was unknown to American naval officers. It was supposed that it had headed west and might show up somewhere on the American coast with a bombardment of some coast city. Rumors as to its appearance in various places created much uneasiness and some excitement in some of these cities. It became the duty of Admiral Sampson's fleet of sixteen vessels to find the enemy and destroy it if possible. Schley with a part of the fleet was sent to the west end of Cuba; while Sampson with the remainder of it guarded the east end. It was later discovered, however, that Cervera's fleet had already taken refuge in Santiago harbor on the south coast near the east end of Cuba. Sampson's and Schley's fleets therefore reunited on the outskirts of the bay, to await their chance.

At this juncture a daring young lieutenant, Richmond P. Hobson, made a novel proposal. He suggested that a coaling vessel be sunk in the neck of the bay, which was very narrow, in order to bottle up Cervera's fleet. He begged for the privilege of taking the Merrimac out into the strait and there blowing it up. His plea was granted by Admiral Sampson, and with six other men who volunteered to help him he undertook the daring exploit. To succeed he was compelled to steer the ship in the darkness of the night under the frowning guns of the Spanish forts on the shores that guarded the pass. He was discovered and fired upon just as the feat was being performed. He and companions sank the Merrimac all right but it did not quite block the passage. He was captured but later was surrendered to the American commander. While his exploit was not entirely successful it made Hobson one of the outstanding heroes of the war. He was feted and dined and acclaimed everywhere when he came home at the close of the conflict and was later elected to Congress for several terms from his home district in Alabama.

Cervera remained several weeks at the head of the bay with his fleet but finally on July 3 made a dash for liberty. Admiral Sampson happened to be away just at that time, having gone down the coast, leaving Commodore Schley in command. When Cervera's fleet was observed dashing out through the narrow passage to the high seas, Schley and his squadron gave chase. A running fight followed in which Cervera's fleet was almost totally destroyed. And Schley became the popular hero of that fight. This utterly destroyed Spain's power on the sea and she soon sued for peace.

In the meantime, however, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt had heroically led the Rough Riders up San Juan Hill, a feat which made him a popular hero and vice-president of the United States. When his chief, William McKinley, was later assassinated, he became President.

One of the finest sentiments that was expressed by any officer or any other man during this conflict was that which came from the lips of Captain Phillip of the Battleship Texas, while Cervera's fleet was being destroyed by Schley. At one point in the chase, the guns from the Texas disabled one of Cervera's ships and the men on the Texas spontaneously began cheering. "Don't cheer, boys, the poor devils are dying," Phillip admonished, and the cheering immediately ceased. Captain Phillip had a big generous heart underneath his uniform, and so had the brave boys under his command. How different their spirit from that of the brutal Weyler! How different from that of the ordinary Spanish soldier! How different from the spirit of Hitler and Stalin and their puppets of today!

William McKinley, who had defeated William Jennings Bryan for the Presidency in 1896, was President during this conflict and was re-elected in 1900. On September 6, 1901, while attending the Buffalo Exposition, he was shot by an anarchist, Leon Czolgosz, and died on September 14.

Prior to the Spanish-American War, the United States was not generally regarded as a first class power. Most of Spain's glory had already departed, but what was left of it was shattered by this conflict. Like a decrepit old man whose life has been illy spent she now gropes around among the nations a helpless and pitiful figure. Cruelty and treachery have marked her career. Poor old Spain!

Due to Uncle Sam's humanitarian spirit, Cuba and the Philippines

each has become both free and decent.

The war with Spain had its romantic side also, as well as its dramatic. Remember that song about the Battleship Maine that was on everybody's lips for a decade following the sinking of the ship? We never heard it without being both thrilled and touched almost to tears. Wish we could hear it again.

Mrs. J. R. Turner of El Paso arrived Monday morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Swan, and other relatives.

We heard a radio speaker assert the other day that if the United States had entered into the league of nations at the close of the World War, the present European war never would have broken out. We are inclined to believe that he was right. If the powerful United States had entered the league, there can be no doubt that the league would have functioned much more efficiently and effectively. As a member of the league this country could have led in ironing out whatever injustices may have been done in the Versailles treaty of peace, in correcting boundary lines between nations wherever they needed to be corrected, and in eradicating many causes of friction between neighboring countries. It no doubt would have had a powerful restraining influence on nations that were inclined to use bulldozing tactics and would have been a tower of strength in behalf of the smaller and peace-loving nations. In fact, it is entirely possible that no Hitler would have risen to power. But some powerful opposition Senators, like Lodge and Reed and Borah, led a successful fight against our entry into the league—and Europe today is again engaged in a terrible war. Which leads us to remark that of all the statesmen which this country has produced, none, in our humble opinion, was greater than Woodrow Wilson.

When we see a strong muscular man jump on a little weakling half his size, kick him in the abdomen, knock him down, stomp him into a jelly, and then take his money away from him, we find it utterly impossible for us to remain neutral in our sympathies at least. In the last two years we have seen the Hitlerites assault, knock down and rob Austria, Czechoslovakia, and Poland in quick succession. Yet we hear great men in this country still advising people to remain neutral and do nothing to help the fellows that are being beaten up and robbed. We know these statesmen are patriotic and yet it sounds to us either like the voice of a craven coward or a pusillanimous puppet of the big bully.

That skunk Kuhn, head of the Hitlerite Bund in this country, swore that he was perfectly loyal to America and that the chief purpose of the Bund was to stamp out communism in this country. Now since the head of the Communists in Russia has joined up with the head of the Nazis in Germany to stamp out democracy in Europe, we wonder where Kuhn's sympathies now lie. It is such traitorous cattle as he that blows up factories, wrecks railroad trains, and assassinates Presidents in this country. He and his followers have the contempt of every informed patriotic American citizen.

The size of Lynn county's cotton crop this year is difficult to forecast by reason of the fact that the yield is so varied in different localities, in different fields, and even in different portions of the same field. Here is a field with a few acres of very fine cotton, a few acres that will produce nearly nothing, and other acres of varying gradations in between. Evidently the yield will be far below what it promised in early August but considerably above what it promised at the end of that month. Certainly Lynn county will stand either first or second on the plains and not far from the top in the state.

Winston Churchill, famous English statesman and recently appointed as Lord of the Admiralty in Neville Chamberlain's cabinet, declared in a radio broadcast Sunday night
"Russia has warned Hitler off his Eastern dreams." It is still a question as to whether Russia invaded Poland through an understanding with Hitler or as a means of protecting her own interest and forestalling
Hitler's march to the southeast.
There is so much propaganda, stealth, intrigue, and plain lying among the heads of the European governments that it is hard to tell just who are in " cahoots" together.

No power on earth could keep Hitler from starting this war. Now that he has overrun and ravished Poland and has wiped it off the face of the earth, robbing and murdering her people and appropriating what is left to his own use and benefit, he is making proposals to England and France that the fight stop. Of course. The robber is always ready for the other fellow to stop after he has robbed and murdered his victim.

We admire the spunk of Secretary Cordell Hull. There is a real man, in our opinion—a man who highly respects right and justice and has no word of sympathy for a bandit, whether that bandit be an insignificant outlaw of the head of a great nation.

Women: "Build-Up"
To Relieve Pain
A weak, run-down, undernourished condition calls for attention!
Such a condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get its foothold. That's one thing which leads to much of women's suffering from headaches, nervousness, those cramp-like pains. A good way to relieve such pains, women by thousands have found, is by the proper use of CARDUL. It stimulates a lagging appetite, assists digestion and assimilation; thus helps build physical resistance to periodic pain.
Taken just before and during "the time," many women also report that CARDUL helps to ease the pain and discomfort of the period.

WELLS 4-H CLUB MEETS
"Clothes for the kitchen should be chosen with great care," said Miss Maurine McNatt, C. H. D. A., at the regular September meeting of the Wells 4-H Club.

Aprons should be chosen from cotton materials of small, all-over designs. Solid colors show soil readily, and large flowers or checks may clash with the design of the house dresses. All trimmings, such as rows of bias tape, are more pleasing when put on in uneven numbers. In the winter when a light wrap is needed in the kitchen a smock is more suitable than a sweater or a coat.

Officers for the ensuing year have been elected. They are: Vona Lee Simpson, president; Wanda Jean Tyler, vice president; Margaret Barrett secretary; Clota Rae Jones, reporter; Reba Watson, parliamentarian; and Neta Watson, recreation leader.

Miss McNatt will meet with the club again in its regular meeting on Thursday, October 5, 1939.

WAYSIDE H. D. CLUB WOMEN

"Are you helping your child to him?" asked Miss Maurine McNatt, home demonstration agent, at the meeting of the Wayside demonstration club at Mrs. I. L. Johnson's Thursday, September 28.

Every day a child finds out about something new. He wants to ask questions about it. If one tells him to go away and not bother or appears to be uninterested in what he is thinking or what happens to him, he will stop talking. He will like to talk about his discoveries if he thinks they could be understood. If one does not know the answers to his questions, he should try to find them. Get the attention before the answer is given and answer in words he can understand.

The Ball Jar Canning Contest for

WINTER'S DASTARD
90 HOURS

skipped by OIL-PLATING your engine today

Can you figure on your car's Daily Winter Starting Schedule being any briefer than this?...

- No. 1 Start * GOING TO WORK
- No. 2 Start * GOING TO LUNCH
- No. 3 Start * RETURNING FROM LUNCH
- No. 4 Start * GOING HOME FROM WORK
- No. 5 Start * GOING TO THE MOVIE
- No. 6 Start * GOING HOME FROM MOVIE

Could half-a-dozen starts or so get you through a day? Will your icy engine turn lukewarm in only 5 or 6 minutes? Even so, just think what that comes to, all through these bad months!... Total: 90 hours!

90 tough hours—and often more. A whole 90 hours when oiling that comes from "fast flow" alone lags far behind the sure lubrication that comes from changing today to OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATING is ready to lubricate sooner than any oil ever can flow—sooner than "instantly!"— because patented Conoco Germ Processed oil forces OIL-PLATING into a durable bond with the engine parts. OIL-PLATING becomes part of the parts!

They can't drain dry of OIL-PLATING. They remain "bathed in slippiness" all day, all night, in all weather, even with your car at a standstill.
That's why OIL-PLATING lets your engine slide into swift, safe, dragless action, instead of letting it suffer Winter's worst 90 hours—along with your battery. Slash starting time; stretch your time between quarts to the limit; by changing to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today for your right Winter Germ Processed oil. That's your way

MOTHER SINGERS

The Mother Singers met Thursday afternoon, Sept. 28, to organize for the coming year. Mrs. K. R. Durham was elected leader.

The meetings were scheduled for each Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

There were not as many members as expected for the first meeting, and the News is requested to urge all mothers who like to sing to come to the next meeting.

Health Dept. Man Speaks to Rotarians

R. A. Jones of the State Health Department was the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon Thursday. He is here in the interest of the establishment of a "Health Unit," to be composed of this and three or four neighboring counties.

If established, a director would supervise the work and a nurse would be sent to each county. The heavy end of the expense would be borne by the state and federal governments, Mr. Jones indicated.

Dr. E. Prohl conducted a quiz in the form of a contest respecting the nature, purposes, and aims of Rotary work.

Visitors, present were Judge Louis B. Reid of Lamesa and Messrs. Tom Boucher and Dean Robinson of Post.

On Thursday of last week, Judge P. W. Goad and County Attorney Rollin McCord were the principal speakers. Judge Goad recited some of the good things the Rotary Club has done for the county and the community while Mr. McCord explained the new "cold check" law.

The Business and Professional Women's Club recently organized here will render the program next Thursday.

Draw-Redwine Schools Open Again Monday

The Draw-Redwine schools, which have been suspended the past three weeks to allow the children to assist with the gathering of the cotton crop, will resume work again next Monday morning, according to announcement made by the superintendent, R. K. Green, who was here Wednesday.

Mr. Green and the faculty as well as the school board are hopeful that practically the entire scholastic population of the district will be in their respective places in the school rooms Monday morning.

There are eight teachers in the faculty of this district and it is one of the best consolidated rural high schools in this section of the state.

GRASSLAND 4-H CLUB
"A peasant apron should be made full with lots of gathers," said Miss Maurine McNatt, at the Grassland 4-H Club, September 28. The peasant apron, which has been very popular the past few years, offers an excellent opportunity to use a great deal of color. It is usually made of some bright gay print and trimmed with rows of bias tape or rick-rack on a solid background. The most attractive ones have an entire width of material gathered full to a wide band with a wide sash in the back.

New officers elected were: President, Billie Greer, Vice-President, Dolly Gatzki, secretary, Jimmie Lou Thomas, and reporter Beth Shepard.

The next meeting will be on October 6, at nine a. m., at the Grassland school house.

Headache, Bad Breath May Be Your Warning

The sea's thrilling S. O. S. means "Help is needed now!" And, so do most of those headaches, that biliousness, coated tongue, or bad breath which are often signs of constipation. To disregard these symptoms may bring on a host of other discomforts from sluggish bowels: sour stomach, belching, loss of appetite. See how much better you feel the day after taking spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. By simple directions, it acts gently, cleanses promptly, thoroughly. Its principal ingredient is an intestinal tonic-laxative; imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles. Next time try BLACK-DRAUGHT!

WORKERS CONFERENCE

Much To Learn Yet, You Fish

Austin, Texas, Oct. 5.—Should a 1939 freshman, 17 years old, decide to start in this fall and take every credit-course offered by the University of Texas, he would be 158 years old by the time he finished—and would still have four hours to "get off" by correspondence! Final announcement of Courses, just off the press, listed 4,234 semester hours of work, or the equivalent of 705 2-3 full courses.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and sincere appreciation to our many friends and neighbors, who were so kind and helpful during the illness and upon the death of our dear daughter, sister, wife, and mother.

We are so thankful for the beautiful floral offerings and every kindness shown to us.

May God bless each and every one of you is our prayer.—Sincerely, The J. L. Rumbo family, The J. D. Noble family.

Bert Swor and a troupe of twelve will entertain audiences in the Palace of foods at the State Fair, October 7 to 22. ## Over 10,000 Students Registered At U. of T.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 5.—Education-seekers continued to increase at the University of Texas this year, as 10,063 students enrolled, placing registration for the fall semester at the highest figure in the history of the institution.

Registrar E. J. Mathews predicted that registration of additional students during the term and new enrollment for the spring semester would boost the final figure for the 1939-40 session to at least 11,000. Last year at this time 9,996 students were enrolled.

Although there will be sixty-four separate county farm displays at the State Fair no two will be alike. New ideas in displays will put each county's idea over in a different way. Every Texas product grown in commercial quantities will be on display.

W. O. Robertson left Monday and returned Thursday from Oklahoma City, where he attended the national convention of Funeral Directors.

"Build-Up": Way to Ease Women's Pain

Many weak, run-down women are in a vicious circle. Their under-nourishment often leads to what is called functional dysmenorrhea and its symptoms—headaches, nervousness, irritability, intermittent cramp-like pains—from which many women suffer. Surest way to break the vicious circle is by building strength and energy, which so many find may be done with the help of CARDUI. It stimulates appetite, aids digestion, and thus helps in this "build-up" of physical resistance. Women also report that, if taken just before and during "the time," CARDUI helps to ease the pain and discomfort of the period.

Texas State Fair Bigger Than Ever

Dallas, Oct. 5.—A complete State Fair—more than that—a complete Southwestern Exposition, will greet the million visitors expected by the State Fair of Texas Oct. 7 to 22.

As the opening date drew near, officials announced that all exhibits were in place, livestock barns were overflowing, agricultural showings had been set, the free acts had arrived, the star production of Folies

Bergere was set up, the Holy Land was in place, and the 55-car Rubin & Cherry midway was ready for the opening gong.

The State Fair this year will present more of an educational nature than ever before, and yet it has in no sense overlooked the amusement feature.

For the first time it presents the National Hereford Show. For the first time it presents a complete chemurgic exhibit, and a showing of soil-less cultivation of vegetables and plants.

It has the best shows in its history—and more free ones, including aerial acts, performing lions and elephants, Ferdinand, the educated bull, and others.

More than 140 special days have been arranged, including a day devoted to Safety, sponsored by the Texas Safety Council on October 17. Opening Day is Press Day. Future Farmers Day, Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Day and many others.

An attendance of more than 100,000 is indicated opening day. Fifty thousand opening day keys have been sold.

the county would be greatly benefited with the erection of cooperative cold storage lockers, and appointed a sub-committee to work on the proposition. One cold storage locker plant is already in operation in the county and another is under construction.

These committees, if properly used will give farmers the means of making their planning more effective, whether applied locally or on a state and national level. Many problems can be solved locally, through effective local organization. There are many problems, however, which require the attention of state and Federal agencies. Local planning groups can now bring their thinking to bear on such problems with reasonable assurance that their ideas will receive consideration. The State Agricultural Land Use Planning Committee offers a means of consolidating farmer-judgments and bringing them to the attention of those persons responsible for the determination of agricultural programs and policies.

Headache, Bad Breath Tell of More to Come

Just as Paul Revere's famous ride warned of the Redcoats' coming, so Nature's messengers—headaches, biliousness, bad breath—often warn of faulty elimination.

Neglecting these signs may cause a host of constipation's discomforts: sour stomach, belching; no appetite or energy; mental dullness.

It's so easy to wake up your lazy insides. Just take spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. Its unusual help comes from its principal ingredient—an intestinal tonic-laxative which imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles.

Millions of packages used testify to BLACK-DRAUGHT'S merit. Try it.

Lynn County Land Use Planning Committee Makes Recommendations

Miss Jo Belle Milliken spent the week-end in Fort Worth, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mott and other friends.

A report presenting the findings and recommendations of the Lynn County Land Use Planning Committee has just been completed and copies of this report are available for distribution at the office of Donald Turner, County Agent, and secretary of the committee.

Agricultural Land Use Planning has two major objectives: (1) to obtain recommendations from farm people as to good land use in each type of farming area in the county; (2) to provide the basis for harmonizing the various state and Federal programs for the improvement of agriculture so that each such program will make the greatest contribution to the solution to land use problems and to the welfare of the people. These objectives are to be done by the agricultural land use committees in each county and state.

The Texas Agricultural Land Use Planning Committee consists of state heads of some sixteen state and Federal agencies having programs which affect land use, and a farmer representative from each major type of farming area in the state. The state committee, of which the director of the Agricultural Extension Service is chairman, is responsible for clearing the way for agricultural land use recommendations of county committees in the formulation of state and national land use programs and policies.

The Lynn County Agricultural Planning Committee consists of representative farm men and women from each type of farming area within the county. The committee also includes the county representatives of all state and Federal agencies conducting programs which affect land use. The committee is composed of the following members: R. M. Stewart, chairman; Mrs. R. W. Barton, Lester Browning, vocational agriculture teacher, J. H. Bulman, E. J. Cooper, Mrs. Sam Floyd, Mrs. Henry Heck, A. H. Hood, R. E. Lee, W. P. Lester, R. L. Littlepage, R. J. Maseker, Fred McGinty, Maurine McNatt, county home demonstration agent; R. L. Pirtle, J. H. Robbins, Donald Turner, county agent; Jack Welch, Farm Security Supervisor; and S. L. Williams. It is the responsibility of this committee to inventory the agricultural resources of the county, to outline the principal problems relating to land use, to set up recommendations as to adjustments needed in the use of the land in the area, and to make suggestions from time to time as to how the programs of the various local, state and Federal agencies can be altered to more nearly attain the objectives for which they were established.

Results of recommendations made by the Lynn committee can already be seen. At one of its first meetings the committee recommended that

 July operations of all his equipment cost him less than did the average operation of the milking machine for a month.

Milking 24 Cows
 The milking machine has two units and Boyd is now milking 24 cows twice daily. He uses a third of a horsepower motor. In addition he has a milk cooler for six cans, with a half horsepower motor.

A one and a half horsepower motor operates a hydro-ejector pump. During July he averaged 3,000 gallons of water daily, or over 90,000 gallons for the month, with the use of 45 kwh. The water, besides being used in the house, was used for the lawn, trees, garden, the 24 head of cattle, washing the barn and other uses.

Barn Is Well Lighted
 Outside the house is a 200 watt porcelain reflector for the yard, which lights up for about 100 yards. By its use the farmer can drive his cows from the pasture to the barn for milking. The barn has 5 electric lights.

Boyd told J. C. McWhorter of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., of which he is a member, that he was planning on a five horsepower motor for filling his silos. He has both sweet and grain sorghums growing and plans to cut them with a row binder and haul them to the silo where he will operate his ensilage cutter with the small motor. He expects to put away 400 tons of ensilage in this manner.

"I formerly used a 5-8 horsepower gasoline motor for the milking machine and a one horsepower motor for the cooler," said Boyd. "It cost me $14 a month to operate these and I figure it was worth $15 a month for me to crank them. I consider water pressure essential for the farm dairy and it makes the work much easier."

Boyd has lights, an electric iron, toaster and radio in the house. His July consumption for the entire place was 185 kwh.

ROY COWAN KILLED IN TRUCK ACCIDENT

 April 14, 1905, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cowan, and he was reared in this county. After he had reached manhood, his father and family removed to Lubbock, and Roy was married in Lubbock on June 18, 1930, to Miss Annie Mae Bowlin of that city, his wife being the daughter of H. C. Bowlin, who for long years has been principal of one of the Lubbock city schools. For two or three years he and his family resided in Lubbock and then moved to Colorado for a brief residence, after which they moved back to Tahoka. Roy has been engaged in operating a truck for the past ten or twelve years.

In August, 1930, he united with the Church of Christ and has been a faithful and devoted member ever since. Since coming back to Tahoka he has been one of the most substantial members of the congregation here. Of excellent character and of wide acquaintance in this county, he had hosts of friends here, and it was a great throng which overflowed the Church Tuesday afternoon to pay their respects to his memory and to mingle their tears with the tears of the bereaved family and relatives. Many friends and relatives were also here from Lubbock and other places.

Surviving him are the wife, one daughter and one son, Bobbie and Lewis Cowan; the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cowan; five brothers, T. Cowan of Tahoka, Ernest and Coleman of Idalou, Maurice and Sherman of Lubbock; and two sisters, Mrs. Joe Lane and Miss Christa Cowan of Lubbock; his grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Cowan, of Canyon, and numerous other relatives.

The News joins many other friends in condolences to all the bereaved.
