

SCOOP SEZ

By J. M. Forbes

Things may be in the doldrums elsewhere but apparently we're moving along at a decent clip in Muleshoe. For instance, our barbers seem to be lining the customers up, for I observed this sign in one shop:

"You Leave Shop, You Loose Place".

A sign like that dont mince no words, it means what it says: you come back, you go to foot of class, you start through line again. Reminds me of the roaring twenties during wheat harvest time on Saturday night, here on the Plains. In the barber shop you had to get a number; and your turn to use the one bathtub in the place would come up after Sunday school the following day. To some of us, that was too good an excuse; we skipped it altogether!

Those were the days. After the haircut, we'd bump around, drink a saparilly, then head for the place where we left the thrasher. Morphew would summon soon, and we'd flop around the cook shack on piles of wheat straw. One night two of the crew's brass had done the town a little and rolled in, about 3 a.m., an hour or ten sleep hung the heaviest on our eyelids. They grabbed up a couple of sets of those old chain harness, went running about excitedly yelling "Whoa".

If I would have moved one-tenth as fast out on the harvest fields as I did in the next few minutes, my wages should have been tripled. They said I made it around the straw stack four times before they could stop me, and that all the time I was ejaculating "Whoa!" and using other suitable expressions. I was some surprised to learn that not a single team with harness on was running wild through our straw stack sleeping quarters.

Those days were soon gone, and the big wheat farms were busted up. Now we are dismayed to find, however, that this didn't stop the swing to less farms.

In the morning paper we read that the long-time downward trend in number of farms in operation in the U. S. continue in 1957, and decreased from the previous year by 2.3 per cent, and is now 17 per cent under the number 10 years ago. In 1958, the number likely will be reduced by 100,000 more.

I believe it was Mr. Benson who said we could run our farms, produce just as much food and fiber, with several millions less Americans on the farms.

On the Plains the hard facts of economy probably will cause less farms; for large scale operation nowadays seems more likely to pay a satisfactory return.

Some corn may be planted in the area this week. Farmers I've talked to say they'll plant cotton as soon as they can get around to it.

Most irrigation farmers have been pumping water the last few days in preparation for planting. It seemed advisable, for although we've had some moisture, and there is moisture in the ground, the seed bed might not be moist enough.

We probably had cotton about to come up at this time in April last year, but cotton planting this year is still at least two weeks away.

Cubs Donate To Fire Victims

The Flats homes of Luberta Walters and her son, and of the John Lyons family were totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin at noon last Saturday. Muleshoe Cub Scouts are collecting food, clothing and household goods for the families. Some articles have already been delivered to the families, and other items are to be taken today. Anyone wanting to donate to the cause should contact Mrs. Alex Wilkins or Mrs. Raymond Green.

Keen Interest Prompts Good Turnout In Area School Trustee Elections Held Last Saturday

Unusually keen interest prompted a record turnout of voters in the school trustee elections held in this area Saturday, and voters went to the polls in large numbers despite a blowing sandstorm.

Edgar Martin Killed, Two Hurt In Car Accident Monday Night

Funeral Services For Edgar Martin Held Wednesday

Edgar Thomas Martin, 17, popular Muleshoe high school senior, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Martin of Baileyboro, died instantly in a head on auto collision 2.6 miles south of Muleshoe on the Morton highway at 10:15 p.m. Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Watson, of Route 2, Muleshoe, were taken to West Plains Hospital, where Mrs. Watson was declared seriously injured, with a possible fracture of the skull. Mr. Watson's injuries were not believed to be serious.

Investigating officers reported the cars met almost head on, and that they believe a mechanical defect or failure with the Martin boy's pickup truck may have caused him to lose control. Martin was driving a 1954

Chevrolet pickup proceeding south, and Mr. and Mrs. Watson were in a 1957 Mercury, north-bound.

The body of young Martin was taken to Singleton Funeral home pending final arrangements for funeral services.

He was a member of the 1957-58 Muleshoe football squad, and had a part in the senior class play scheduled to be presented tonight (Thursday). He was returning home after play rehearsal when the accident occurred.

The pickup was almost totally demolished, and the car sustained extensive damage also.

The accident brought the death-by-accident score in this area to 3 for the year. Two persons died in an auto accident at a rail crossing here in February.

Mrs. L. C. Gilbreath Funeral Services Held In Springtown

To Petition Postal Service For Home Delivery Of Mail Following Survey

Members of Muleshoe civic clubs will make a house to house survey this week to determine the wishes of local people concerning possible home delivery of mail.

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the survey, and will present a petition to the Postoffice Department, asking that home delivery be instituted from the local office.

The Chamber last week circulated a bulletin, outlining the service possibility. According to the bulletin, mail would leave the postoffice by carrier at 11 a.m. daily. All houses to be serviced must be numbered, and sidewalks from the street to the door must be in place. Every home receiving the service would be required to have an approved mail box up by the time service begins.

The bulletin also points out some disadvantages of the proposed service, such as if the morning train is late, that mail would not be delivered until the following day. Only one delivery day would be made in the residential section, and two in the business section of town.

Boxholders would be allowed to keep their boxes, but mail not addressed specifically to the box or business foot delivery.

A similar petition was presented to the postal service two years ago.

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

There are many reasons why Washington officials are confident that the current business recession will not result in a collapse comparable to the 1929-33 crash that led to the closing of all banks for a time.

Two of the main reasons are the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. which, combined, insure more than $165 billion in bank deposits and savings & loan association accounts.

Officials of both insurance corporations with whom we have talked emphatically emphasize that your savings are safe up to the insured limit of $10,000 on deposit in any one bank or savings and loan association covered by either of the corporations.

This includes several thousand banks with insured deposits and savings totaling about $125 billion and some 3,800 Federal savings and loan associations insured with the FS&LIC covering accounts totaling about $42 billion.

There are, however, significant differences between the insurance provisions applying to banks and those applicable to savings & loan associations. Those differences are not generally understood by many who have put their money in the associations.

Both advertise that accounts are insured up to $10,000, and that is true. The main difference, however, is in provisions covering withdrawal of your money. Many associations have neglected to make the difference clear in their literature.

The difference, however, would become significant only in the event of an extreme national emergency. As a matter of practice in normal times the two—banks and savings & loan associations—make immediate payments upon demand.

The FDIC requires that any bank failing to pay deposits or savings in full within 30 days may be declared in default, at which time the FDIC steps in to make good in full on insured deposits or savings accounts up to $10,000.

Since the FS&LIC was created in 1934 only 38 insured savings & loan associations have required assistance. In 28 instances the FS&LIC supplied cash to restore the association to a sound position and in three others it purchased assets. Seven were declared in default and investors were paid in full.

There is, however, no specified time limit in which a savings & loan association must be declared in default after failing to redeem all certificates in full. It may, if unable to pay all withdrawal requests, establish a numerical listing and apply a portion of receipts over an indefinite period of time until all requests are paid in full.

When unable to pay immediately and in full all demands the association is required to make a partial payment to the extent that receipts are available, but not to exceed $1,000, to applicants in the order in which they apply. After each partial payment the applicant goes to the foot of the list and awaits his next turn. This procedure is repeated over and over until the payment is received in full.

Congress should enact legislation to provide for more prompt repayment, or it should require that the savings & loan associations make this waiting period provision perfectly clear to those entrusting their money to them.

Newest 'Split' Has 2-Story Look

The luxury of space, privacy, and good looks at the lowest possible cost was the architect's goal in planning this unusual split-level house.

Its designer, Rudolph Matern, of Jamaica, N. Y., calls it a "split level in reverse." The house has a luxurious 2-story appearance from the street, yet it incorporates such split-level advantages as compact space, lower building and maintenance costs, and more convenient room arrangement.

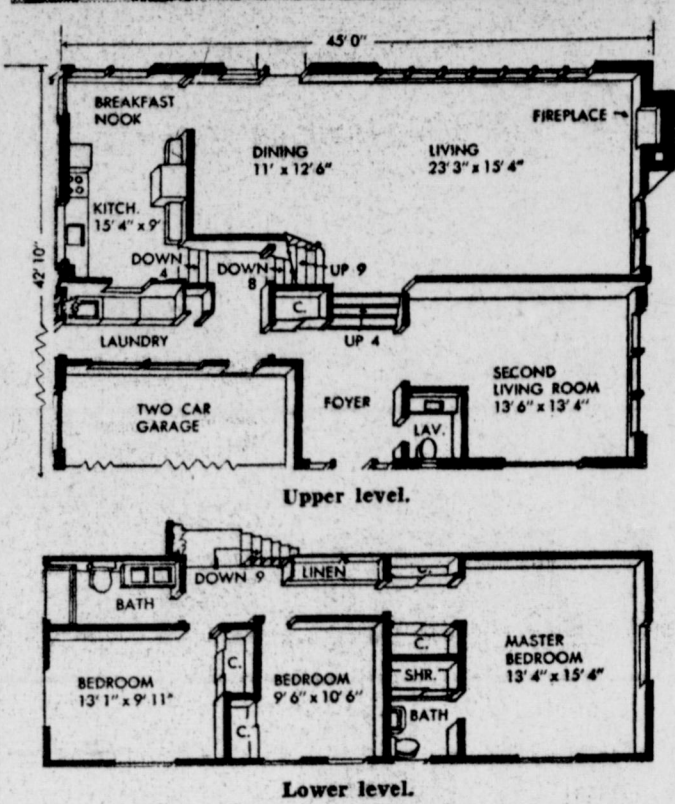

On the outside, Matern has given the house an appearance of greater length by combining a low-pitched roof with broad clapboard siding and by flanking the windows with louver shutters of ponderosa pine.

The architect specified asphalt shingles to give the home-owner economy and dependability, plus a wide choice of colors. In addition, the asphalt shingles can be applied safely on the low pitch of both the "hockey stick" roof over the main house and the hip-style roof on the combination garage-entryway.

Inside, the house is full of surprises. It has a big living room with exposed-beam ceiling, a fireplace hollowed out of a wall of bricks, a room-long wall of windows at the rear, and a floor-to-ceiling window at the side.

There are two full bathrooms, a lavatory off the entrance foyer, a 15-foot kitchen with breakfast nook, and an extra living room that can be used as a den or TV room.

It's a house designed for comfort, and in keeping with this theme Matern has specified thick mineral wool insulation throughout—four inches in ceilings over the upper level and in the sloping ceiling over the lower level areas at the rear, plus three inches in walls. As the plan shows, a portion of the unheated garage is located under the sleeping level. Here the floor directly over the garage would be insulated with a 2-inch thickness of mineral wool.

If the foundation slab is built at ground level, a special type of mineral wool should be installed around the edges of the slab.

The house may be built on a lot as small as 65 by 100 feet. Additional information, blueprints, and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, L. I., N. Y. Refer to Plan No. 9435.

Precautions:
Avoid spilling EQ-53 on the skin. If it should come in contact with the skin, wash it off IMMEDIATELY with soap and water. Wear rubber gloves if you put your hands in water containing EQ-53.

Treat infants woolens only if they are to be stored. Dry clean before putting them in use. Drain and rinse washing machine immediately after using EQ-53. Rubber agitators may be injured by long contact with the solvent in the EQ-53 mixture. Cheese or sheath dresses should be lined.

Versions of the sheath dress are popular again this spring. Slim lines present several problems. The dress may lose its shape across the back if the material you choose has a tendency to stretch, and wrinkles may develop across the front.

To guard against this, line the dress. Use a light weight rayon lining or other material that isn't too heavy and doesn't cling. Cut the lining one-eighth inch smaller than your dress pattern and bring it eight to ten inches below the hip line. Machine-baste to the front and back pieces of the dress before putting the seams together. This keeps the fabric from slipping and puckering as you stitch it in place.

TAILORED

Simple lines and shimmering stripes characterize this little boy blouse and matching swimsuit by Jantzen. The ensemble is made from a Galey and Lord blue and gold striped cotton.

REMEMBER WHEN?

It seems there's nothing really new in women's fashions... because the experts can always point to a fashion twenty years ago... or a hundred years... that was really the same idea.

But this was a big, abrupt change, and it swept the country by storm. They called it the "New Look". The phrase caught on... and so did the long skirt which was its chief feature. There had been a time when women's skirts crept up as high as the knees... but now they were many inches lower.

Even men knew all about the New Look. They couldn't help it. Their wives' dresses were all suddenly too short and out of style. Nothing would do but a new wardrobe with the new length of skirt. And there was many a man who would have liked to tell off an upstart French designer named Christian Dior.

But the women loved his New Look, and overnight Dior became the fashion arbiter of the western world.

Remember the year? Cars were scarce that year. There were long waiting lists of prospective buyers. A buyer had to take what he could get in model, extras and trade.

Times have changed in the car market since then... and today's buyer is in the driver's seat. You can pick up your exact model and accessories when you buy a new 1958 CHEVROLET from us... and you'll get real savings in trade and terms. We're ready to do business your way at—

MRS. JOE ROARK

Double Ring Ceremony Saturday Evening Unites Miss Quineil Elliott and Joe Roark

Rev. Edwin L. Hall, pastor of First Methodist Church, Muleshoe, officiated at the double-ring ceremony Saturday April 5, uniting Miss Hattie Quineil Elliott and Mr. Joe Cecil Roark.

The new Mrs. Roark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott of Muleshoe, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Roark, of Route 2, Muleshoe.

The church was decorated in pink and green, the chosen colors of the bride. Church windows were lighted with pink tapers, and green bows decorated the altar rail. A fan arrangement of pink calla lilies was on the altar table. Two tall three tiered circular candelabra with pink tapers and calla lilies accented by fern trees completed the church decorations.

Don Copley at the organ played wedding selections before the ceremony and accompanied the soloist, Miss Karlyn Hulce, of Littlefield, as she sang, "I Love You Truly", "The Twelfth of Never", and "The Lord's Prayer". During the ceremony he played "O Promise Me".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original model wedding gown of imported French lace and silk organza over taffeta. Designed with a portrait neckline outlined in scalloped lace embroidered in seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The fitted lace bodice and short sleeves complimented by matching lace gauntlets and terminated with a long torso waistline outlined in scalloped lace.

From this stemmed a magnificent billowing skirt of silk organza over net and taffeta cut on circular lines, flowing into a chapel length train. Her double tiered veil of French imported bridal illusion, was fingertip length and fell from a jeweled crown. She carried a bouquet of pink baby roses and frenched green carnations.

For something old she wore a gold ring of her grandmother's; for something new, pearls given her by the bridegroom; something borrowed, a handkerchief from the mother of the bridegroom; and a blue garter.

Roberta Elliott, sister of the bride, wore a full skirted waltz length dress of white nylon organza with pink flowers embroidered over the entire dress, beginning thinly on the scoop line bodice and becoming denser on the eyelet trimmed hemline. A face veil of pink tulle was attached to a headband of folded nylon accented by tiny pink flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were LaVon Copley, Doris Fields, and Shirley Mathiesen all of Muleshoe, and Billie Ann Tidwell of Salina, Kansas. They wore dresses designed as the maid of honor's in light green. Their headbands were of folded nylon accented by tiny green flowers. Their colonial bouquets were of green carnations, and all wore white wrist length gloves.

Susan Roark, niece of the bridegroom was flower girl, and wore a dress designed after the fashion of the maid of honor's. She wore a headband of pink satin and carried a white straw basket filled with roses.

Ushers were Ray Precure, Darrell Stephens, Beverly Mardis and Don Alexander.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elliott chose a blue embroidered organza dress with blue hat, white kid gloves and shoes, and carried a pearl clutch bag. The mother of the bridegroom wore a navy dress with white accessories. Both wore pink gardenia corsages.

A reception was held in the Elliott home following the ceremony. The bride couple was assisted in the receiving line by their parents. The reception table was covered with a pink net, sprinkled with silver, cloth over pink satin. Green punch flowed from a lions mouth of silver three tiered punch fountain. Pink roses decorated the three tiered wedding cake. Bell shaped mints, pink net bags of rice tied with green ribbons, and the bridal bouquets completed the decorations.

Misses Anne Broyles and Helen Henry of Littlefield served the cake. Others in the houseparty were Miss Karlyn Hulce; Mmes. Dick Rokey, Sammy Donaldson, A. W. Copley, Charles Roark, and Buck Wood.

Guests were present from Shamrock, Wellington, Lubbock, Pampa, Munday, Knox City, Canyon, and Pampa.

For a wedding trip to Carlisbad the new Mrs. Roark wore a grey two-piece wool suit with chemise type jacket and orange accessories.

Both are graduates of Muleshoe high school, and the bride attended West Texas State College. They will make their home in the West Camp community where the bridegroom is associated with his father in farming.

Three Way FHA girls observed FHA week March 23-29. On Friday, March 28, Brother Hardgrove, pastor of the Three Way Baptist Church, gave a speech on "Marriage and Divorce". Official FHA opening and closing ritual were used in the program.

It was held in the library with the chapter sponsor, five mothers, and 22 chapter members present. Three members were unable to attend due to the Interscholastic meet at Pep.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to the group by the freshmen. Chairman for observing FHA week was Jane Garvin.

How to maintain a lasting peace . . . how to preserve full employment . . . how to ward off recession . . . how to keep our high standard of living. These are problems which continually face the Government of our country. Tomorrow they may blaze into issues that must be solved by the factions and interests that make up our democracy. Each of these factions and interests will demand to be heard — and they will be heard. The press of America will report and comment on what each and every party to an issue has to say. The public will know what is going on. It is only thus that the best interests of America can be served over and above the interests of any one faction or any limited-interest group. This vital function can be performed only by a press that is free to write and free to publish the story of national issues, unfettered by dictation from any source. Today's freedoms can be secured and tomorrow's freedoms guarded only by a press that owes allegiance to no ogre of tyranny bent upon shaping our destiny to suit its own ends. If the press of America is, in a real sense, to remain the guardian of our future, we must preserve the freedom it possesses today.

Labor Department Urges Employment Of Domestic Laborers Over Braceros Locally

Recruitment for farm labor will be intensified and expanded this year in a major effort to make full use of the nation's domestic farm labor supply, provide jobs for unemployed workers, and curtail the use of foreign workers in agriculture.

That's the word the U. S. Department of Labor's regional offices in Dallas have received from the Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

"I have directed Assistant Secretary Newell Brown and Bureau of Employment Security Director Robert C. Goodwin not to approve employer requests for foreign workers, through additional recruitment efforts of employers and the state employment services, domestic workers can be obtained to meet farm labor needs," Secretary Mitchell said. "Because of the current labor supply situation, employers will find workers available in areas which have not been sources of labor supply in recent years."

"I anticipate that in some areas the need for foreign workers can be eliminated. There will be areas, however, which will continue to need foreign workers to meet seasonal demands, and requests for such workers will be filled in accordance with approved procedures. Even in those areas it should be possible to effect some reduction in the number of foreign workers because of the increased number of avail-

One Accident Mars Perfect Holiday Weekend In Area

One minor accident was reported by officers over the holiday weekend, with no injuries sustained, and only a small amount of damage done to the vehicles involved.

Highway patrolmen investigated the accident which occurred at 6:30 p.m. Sunday on US 84 at the West Camp road turnoff. Involved were Earl Ewayne Ealy, 19, of Clovis, and Alton W. Coker, of Muleshoe.

Officers said Coker was attempting to turn onto the West Camp road, and while waiting for approaching traffic to clear, was struck on the left side by Ealy's car.

The Ealy vehicle sustained about $150 damage, and the Coker car was damaged about $50 worth, officers said. Charges against both parties were filed by the officers.

Officers reminded parents they are responsible in case of violation or accident, and that charges may be filed for permitting unauthorized minors to drive.

Today's Meditation

I Am the Resurrection and the Life

Read John 14:1-7.

"And when I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, that where I am you may be also." (John 14:3, RSV.)

A minister friend was conducting a revival far from home, when he received this brief telegram from his sister: "Daddy with Christ, 10:30 a.m. Thursday." Their beloved father had left them for another world, but there was no feeling of regret or doubt, only affirmation of victory.

This simple message expresses features of the Christian belief in the immortality of the soul. It affirms that those who live in Christ never really die, but live on after this present life. We have this promise from Jesus' own lips: "Whoever lives and believes in me shall never die."

The message contained in the telegram affirms also that when we leave this world we do not go to some strange, foreign place. We go to be with Christ. Did not the resurrected and living Lord say He would go to prepare a

CAN MAKE YOU MONEY WITH HIGHER QUALITY COTTON IN 1958

Production practices govern quality and yield. Do your best to see that your land preparation is adequate. Check your soil fertility needs now so that maximum production of quality cotton will not be hampered by lack of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or organic matter. Sub soil moisture may be adequate — but check to be sure.

Planting time is almost here. Optimum planting dates on the High Plains are May 5-20. Later planting usually results in lower quality. Before planting be sure the minimum soil temperature averages 60 degrees for 10 days at an 8-inch depth from the top of the bed. Use delinted, treated seed and check for germination. A uniform stand of approximately four stalks per foot in 40-inch rows is recommended. The method of harvest to be used should help determine the variety planted.

BABSON DISCUSSES ... MIDDLE EAST OIL

Babson Park, Mass., April 10—Usually I do not comment at length on foreign affairs. However, recent developments in the Middle East could have far-reaching effects upon U. S. business. Therefore, I think readers may be helped to know my reaction to these happenings.

NASSER'S STOCK IS RISING

The formation of the United Arab Republic, consisting of Egypt, Syria and, eventually, Yemen, is a feather in the cap of President Nasser of Egypt. It will enhance his bargaining power with both East and West. The new Republic is born of the traditional Arab hostility to the State of Israel and of Nasser's fear of the power of the feudal Arab Kings of Iraq, Saudi Arabia, and Jordan.

This new Union means that Nasser may have nearly absolute power over both Egypt and Syria and perhaps over Yemen as well. It means that he can exercise a greater control over shipments of oil and other goods through the Suez Canal and that he can stop, at will if it becomes desirable, the flow of oil through Syrian pipelines to the West.

WILL THERE BE A SINGLE ARAB OIL EMPIRE?

Many observers believe Nasser's dream is to create a united Arab oil empire. To do this, the Egyptian leader must break the power of the feudal Arab Kings. Nasser is still a popular figure in the Arab world. He has tangled with Israel, Great Britain, and France and come out fairly well. Although he has not been able to better the lot of the average Egyptian, he has captured the imagination of the masses. It is just possible that he may break the power of the Arab Kings and effect, for a time at least, a single federation of all the Arab states. This would be due to their common interests in oil and their common fear of the State of Israel.

However, for the moment, Nasser's dreams of an oil empire have been jolted by Iraq and Jordan, whose Kings have proclaimed a separate Arab Federation. To such it is possible that King Saud of Saudi Arabia may eventually adhere. In agreeing to form this federation with Jordan, Iraq may defect from the Baghdad Pact which binds her to the West.

NO EARLY STABILITY IN THE MIDDLE EAST

Nasser will drive hard bargains with European and American oil interests operating in those areas over which he can exercise some control. During the next few years, tensions in Arab lands will be high. The flow of oil to Europe may again be cut off or be slowed to a trickle. Certainly, it will cost more!

There will be no early stability in the Middle East. The two chief Arab factions will jockey for position, versus each other and Israel. If Nasser should come out on top in his struggle with other Arab interests currently resisting his climb to power, he could become a most important oil dictator. However, much will depend upon how long it takes the world to develop an economically feasible means of harnessing nuclear power. I forecast that we will sometime find a cheap way to produce power thru fusion or through harnessing gravity. Then Nasser's, or his successor's power, based on control of stra-

EGYPT COULD BE A RICH LAND

Studies show that Egypt's soil contains elements which would favor vegetation if only her fields could receive sufficient irrigation. Unlike European countries and much of our own farm land, Egyptian topsoil is still intact and the life-bearing minerals remain in her good earth. On the other hand, her people are very ignorant and poor.

Some day, Egypt will have her Aswan dam and other vast irrigation projects which will assure her sufficient water for good farming; but there first must come an entire change in her people's character. They are not yet using properly the water now available. Only then can the now arid lands of her great deserts bloom.

I forecast, however, that the time will come when Egypt can be a most important country, but this is many years ahead. Don't now buy Egyptian land. Readers are justified in investing a reasonable amount in oils; but let us confine such investments to companies which do not depend too much on the Middle East. Furthermore, electric power will someday take "house heating" away from the oil companies.

Clean Up Farms Is Spring Campaign

"Swing out with spring and clean up things", is the advice to farm families from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Disorder ranks second only to poor judgement as a cause of farm and home accidents, according to records supplied the group by the National Safety Council.

The records show that one out of every five people contacted in a survey of hospitalized home accident cases to be the victim of an accident caused by disorder. Cluttered, untidy surroundings are breeding places for accidents, points out the Council and are also responsible for other hazards which are a threat to the health and well-being of the family.

Fire finds a breeding place in papers, rags and rubbish trucked into closets, attics, or corners. Volatile fuels, paints, cleaners, insecticides are other fire hazards if not properly stored. Check the farm and home for overloaded electrical circuits; lubricate all electrical motors in accordance with the manufacturers recommendations and take a good look at the home ventilating system.

Eliminate fall hazards by keeping stairs, halls and alleyways clear of obstructions. Check light bulbs and clean lamp shades for better lighting in hall and on stairways. Remove from the premises, advises the Council, broken glass, nails protruding from boards, scrap metal and loose wire. Too, they point out that rodents don't like a clean farmstead.

The Councilmen suggests a spring paint-up as part of the spring cleaning job. Hazards which often go unnoticed may be found during the cleaning and painting operations. The Council members believe that a clean and orderly farm will produce more at lower cost for there will be a place for everything and everything will be in place on the well-kept farm.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Lydon Johnson

Dear Friend:
In vetoing the farm bill, which proposed to freeze farm price supports and acreage allotments at last year's levels, the President said, "What the farm economy needs is a thaw rather than a freeze."

The farm economy has already showed out to the extent that farm income is melting away—from $14.3 billion in 1952 to $11.5 billion in 1957. The farmer's share of the consumer's dollar has melted down from 47 per cent in 1952 to 40 per cent in 1957. During the same period that the consumer price index was moving upward from 114.6 to 115.4.

What can the veto mean except that the Administration plans to force farm prices down even lower than they are now?

This is no time, in my opinion, to lower the buying power of any group in the country. We are trying to find jobs for between five and six million people who are out of work. If the farmers are made less able, rather than more able, to buy the products of labor and industry, we are going to find it difficult to reduce the unemployment rolls.

More jobs would be provided by a Senate bill to make additional funds available to the Community Facilities Administration. These funds would be lent to cities, counties, states and political subdivisions for sewer, water, and other needed public improvements.

These are projects that provide jobs. The jobs are needed and so are the projects. This kind of legislation is wise and constructive.

The approach of Congress in fighting the business slump is not characterized by a spirit of gloom or panic. It is marked, instead, by a sober conviction that the way to make business better is to take sound steps to make it better.

We show faith in the future of our country in a solid, substantial way when we build roads, when we expand our home construction program, when we plan needed public improvements, when we move to put a floor under farm prices.

These are matters we have been working on in Congress during these last three months.

We are looking ahead with a strong vision. And we see in the future a better life for all of us as a result of the constructive work we are accomplishing in the present.

This mode of action has always been the story of America.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER TACKLES THE FARM PRICE ... Situation Without Reaching Satisfactory Conclusion

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes up the farm price situation this week, but he never does make clear what his ideas are.

Dear editor:
Like a bunch of Congressmen, me and my neighbors have been arguing the pros and cons of the farm price situation lately, which was brought on by President Eisenhower's vetoing a bill Congress passed to keep price supports on farm and dairy products at the same level this year they were last year.

Personally, the problem is too big for a long-range standpoint for me to figure out, but you can get some pretty hot statements on the matter from other farmers.

For example, when Ike vetoed the bill, he said what the farm situation needs is not a freeze but a thawing out.

One of my neighbors said: "The trouble with a thawing out is that generally what it amounts to is that prices don't just thaw out, they melt and run down to practically nothing."

Another neighbor said he understood a lot of Congressmen admitted that maybe from a long-range viewpoint it would be ideal to have no acreage restrictions and no fixed prices, but that a lot of farmers don't see it that way and when a Congressman faces a choice of taking a long-range view and getting beat, or a short-range view and staying in, it doesn't take much mental raveling to come to a conclusion.

Another neighbor said it's a lot easier for a farmer with a job in town to take a long-range view of low prices than it is for a man living altogether off the land. That is, he said, "maybe I could wait for the situation to right itself over the next few years and tough out low prices a while, but my wife and kids don't see it that way. There never was a woman satisfied with being in style five years from now, and very few kids who postponed their education and ever went back to it." He also added that you've got to remember Ike is a farmer who has a job in town.

Personally, the problem is too big for me, and I hereby turn it over to you. Give it some thought, and I hope you'll solve it before the month is out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Highway Patrol To Begin Check On Stickers

An effort to rid Texas highways of unlicensed and unsafe drivers was revealed today by Major R. A. Crowder, Region 5 Commander of the West Texas Department of Public Safety.

At the same time, Crowder pointed out that sixteen per cent of all rural fatal accidents in Texas during 1956 involved an unlicensed driver.

Officers of the Department will begin conducting driver's license checks in the immediate future on all traveled thoroughfares throughout the State. All motorists that are stopped will be required to exhibit their licenses to the officers.

Crowder said that thousands of Texas motorists are operating ing these last three months.

Major Crowder is requesting all City Police Departments and county Sheriff Departments to assist in this effort.

Any questions concerning driver's licenses, including date of examinations should be directed to the nearest Sheriff's Office, Police Department, or Department of Public Safety facilities, Crowder concluded.

A stage presentation that annually vies with the best Broadway productions and which boasts a longer "run" than any other, soon will be given in Amarillo by a group of professional actors who maintain the traditional realism of the 325 year old vehicle. The famed Oberammergau Passion Play is scheduled for April 24 through 27 at the Municipal Auditorium according to the Amarillo JayCees who are special sponsors. All proceeds will be used for the combined JayCee charities.

Starring the renowned Val Bal-four in his memorable role as the Christ, and supported by a large cast, the Oberammergau Passion Play brings to Amarillo the world's greatest story, presented by a group of eminent and famous players. The story of the last seven days in the life of Jesus of Nazareth unfolds in twenty-five scenes. Unusual lighting effects give to the spectator the feeling of actually being present at the time when these immortal events took place 2,000 years ago.

That old common-grade oil I used to use in these irrigation engines sure did let the dirt and dust and rust cake up in those engines! But worse than that, with butane or propane, it thickened up when it looked almost like gear-grass! Man, what a change with this AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!

AMALIE L. P. G. is more than just a good oil, it's a super oil. When you burn butane or propane (Liquid Petroleum Gas), ordinary oil won't do. It must be ENGINEERED for L. P. G. And AMALIE L. P. G. is just that. 100% pure Pennsylvania — no other crude like it on earth. Special additives, to hold that dust, grit, etc. in suspension — so they filter out. And above all, it holds its viscosity — its "flowing" qualities. Give YOUR engines — and your bank balance — a break!

D. Russell of St. Louis Consistory, H. H. Hodge, member of Dallas Consistory. Altogether, six Consistories were represented.

Here's a house designed to be built for a modest price, yet which would be a welcome addition to most any neighborhood. Its designer, architect Rudolph Matern, of Jamaica, N. Y., conceives it as an ideal "first house" for a young couple with small children.

The house has less than 1,000 square feet of floor space, yet looks bigger from the outside. This is largely due to the gently sloping roof of white asphalt shingles that covers the house, breezeway, and garage in a single sweep.

Matern specified white for the roof because a light color gives an appearance of greater height and width, and white asphalt shingles help make a house more comfortable in summer by reflecting much of the sun's heat.

Other exterior features are the board and batten siding, covered entranceway, and the broad fieldstone chimney that gives the house a "solid" look.

Careful interior zoning keeps entertainment and activity rooms away from sleeping quarters. The living, dining, and kitchen areas have "open planning" and are handy to the covered breezeway with its own fireplace for barbecues even on rainy days.

The house has a full basement, fireplace with raised hearth, and double lavatory in the large bathroom.

Architect Matern specifies thick mineral wool insulation in the walls and ceiling to insure year-around comfort and heating economy. Recommendations are a thickness of at least 4 inches of mineral wool in the ceiling, and a minimum of 3 inches in walls. For air conditioning or electric heating, ceiling insulation would be 6 inches thick.

The house, with breezeway and garage is 62 feet long. The plan can be turned lengthwise to fit on a narrow lot.

Further information, blueprints, and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, L. I., N. Y. Refer to plan 9491.

When Distance Is Always Tempting!

Take a new Cadillac—point its hood toward some distant destination—and watch what happens!

We would be willing to wager that day's end would find you far closer to journey's end than you could ever have imagined!

We say this because we know how wonderful the miles are when they pass beneath the wheels of a new Cadillac—and how tempting distance is when seen through the windshield of the "car of cars".

First of all, imagine how comfortable and rested you would be! The seat-cushions are soft and deep and perfectly contoured. The steering wheel is ideally positioned... and the car is wonderfully spacious.

Then consider how easy the car is to handle! It is incredibly agile and responsive—and wonderfully smooth and level of ride. In fact, if you have selected the extra-cost option of Cadillac's air suspension, you can scarcely detect the presence of the road.

And think of your pride and contentment! The very knowledge that your motor car is so highly admired and so widely respected adds its own reward to each and every mile.

You ought to try it soon. Your dealer will be happy to explain the virtues of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and to give you the facts on every model, including the exclusive Eldorado Brougham.

Bailey County Farm Bureau News

by Ewing L. Mathis

I came into the office and cleared the dust off my desk this morning and found a notation that it was time to write the news article again.

I've been out in the field since last week and have contacted several of the members. M. D. Meyers over near West Camp, who is working with other members of the vegetable growers here, said the vegetable processing shed has been given real good support by almost everyone contacted and that the operation looks like a success. You vegetable growers show the kind of energy and thinking it takes for farmers to manage their own affairs and still do a good job in creating additional money crops and obtaining their own markets for them, without government help.

The petition to put Sorghum Alum back on the list for approved permanent grasses for the Conservation Reserve Program brought good response. It was signed by almost every farmer and many who were not farmers who came into the Farm Bureau office the last few days. It was generally agreed that Sorghum Alum was a easily established and furnished excellent cover for conservation reserve land. In addition it was pointed out that ruskia bushes and other noxious weeds could be controlled much easier if planted in 40 inch rows so that standard row crop equipment could be used for cultivation.

The present cost of seed for establishing Sorghum Alum is also much less than the average native grass seed. Bill Millen came by this morning and wrote the following: I sent a telegram addressed to George Mahon, Ralph Yarborough and Lyndon B. Johnson which read:

Bailey County Farm Bureau wishes to protest the House appropriations committee's cut of agricultural research as very unwise, as it is the farmers' main hope for new crops and markets, also I believe that the Conservation Reserve was cut too deep.

In a recent speech given by Gene Leach to the Bailey County Farm Bureau he explained that a farm organization could not truly represent the farmer when married to a labor union, such as some existing farm organizations that are going about over the country causing strife and hard feeling between farmers are doing. They cannot work for a Bracero program, that is so vital to our farmers here in raising and harvesting crops, because the labor unions are against the Bracero program. So they call a farm that needs quite a bit of help, a corporate farm, also they have to go along with labor and ask for $1.25 minimum wages, even for farm labor. Organized labor is for the Brannan two price system because it would make cheaper food for the Union man.

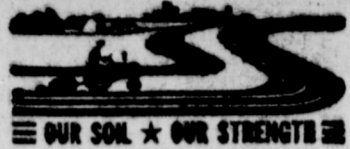

This is one of the many reasons why there cannot be an effective farm organization working for the farmer when tied to labor. He brought out that many things affect the welfare of the farmer besides running to Washington and hollering for higher support prices. Right here in our own State issues are going on at our Legislature that will affect the farmer very adversely if we don't band together and fight them. Such as losing our farm to market roads.

Redistricting the commissioners precincts in our counties so as to give the cities the control of commissioners courts, etc.

SHIRLEY MATTHIENEN RETURNS TO DRAUGHONS

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

DEFERRED GRAZING

Deferred grazing is the practice of postponing grazing of grassland during all or part of the growing season. Benefits from deferred grazing vary with the purpose for which the practice is applied. Deferment may be used to improve or maintain the vigor of the stand, to insure seed production, to accumulate forage for winter use, to improve soil condition and to facilitate management of livestock.

The deferment system used should be consistent with the design of the overall ranch program. The length of the deferment period varying with the size and system of operation.

Deferment is often associated with other conservation practices such as range seeding, brush control, and rotation grazing. It should not be thought of as a necessary evil, but as a system of grazing that will enhance the production of saleable livestock through increased forage production.

Forage that is left on the ground at the end of the growing season is not wasted as it supplies good winter grazing, especially if a mineral supplement is furnished. No single pasture should be deferred to the extent that other pastures are seriously damaged.

Check with your local SCS technicians if additional information is needed for setting up or improving your system of grazing.
