Seagraves Plays Here Tonight

Tahoka Bulldogs entertain the Seagraves Eagles of District 4-A on Kelley Field here tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

For the first time this season, the Bulldogs may be fairly rated slight favorites to win. Seagraves has lost three starts and Tahoka has lost two of three.

The Eagles lost their opener to a strong Hermleigh Class B eleven 12 to 6 at Hermleigh, but they came back to hold the greatly improved Slaton Tigers to a close 18 to 12 score. However, last Friday they were overwhelmed by the mighty Abernathy Antelopes 62 to 0.

Tahoka's young Bulldogs won their opener against Sundown 14 to 12, the bottom fell out at Denver City with that team rolling up a 53 to 0 score, but the boys looked better last week even though they lost to Seminole 27 to 0. Denver City had previously lost to Seminole 24 to 18.

Coach A. D. Shaver's Eagles will field a team with a Freshman quarterback, Lawrence Barber, 145. Tahoka likewise has a Freshman quarterback, Gordon Smith, 142. Other Seagraves standouts include Jim Cain, 165, Senior end; Monroe Schmitz, 155, fullback; Bailey Cozens, 210, and Richard Dickey, 205, tackles; and other good boys. Most of the starters have two and three years experience.

Loss to Seminole

The Bulldogs lost a hard fought game to Seminole last Friday night 27 to 0, but the Tahoka boys gave the Indians a ball game most of the way. Fans who saw the game came home pleased with the progress being made by the boys of Coaches Bill Haralson and Bill Sharpley.

In fact, the Bulldogs played a real game the first half, holding the Indians to 7 points and making three first downs to Seminole's two. But, in the second half, a couple of long touchdowns (Cont'd. on Back Page)

Rotarians Hear Of Loan Agencies

Two interesting talks by local citizens were heard at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Ross Smith, secretary of the Tahoka-Post National Farm Loan association, spoke on "Farm Cooperative Credit." He outlined the history and purposes of the organization in a very interesting manner. He said the organization grew out of the National Farm Loan act of 1916 designed to permit loans on land. Following establishment of the 12 Federal Land Banks, and the 1933 Farm Credit Act, other types of credit were offered farmers through the organization.

Perry Walker told of the Farmers Home Administration, "one of the few Government bureaus that operates in the black." His organization makes loans to tenant farmers to buy a farm of their own, and also extends credit for irrigation, to returned veterans, for farm housing, and in some cases makes loans for operating expenses to disaster stricken farmers.

Miss Eubanks Gets Technologist Rating

Miss Elva Nell Eubanks, who has been an apprentice technician at Tahoka Hospital for the past two and a half years, this week became a registered technologist approved by the American Medical Technologists.

She has also received official approval by the State Department of Health to run blood tests to meet requirements for marriage licenses, etc.

Miss Elva Nell is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Honeycutt and granddaughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ben Hardy. She is a graduate of Tahoka High School.

O'Donnell Here Today Week

Friday night of next week, the O'Donnell Eagles will meet the Tahoka Bulldogs on Kelley Field in Tahoka in the annual Lynn county football classic.

So far, O'Donnell, like Tahoka, has not been too impressive. However, from past experience, all fans of the two teams know that past records count for naught when the two get together, and the game is certain to be a good one.

Last Friday, O'Donnell took an easy 40 to 0 victory over the Lubbock Pioneers in a game played at the Lynn county city.

Quarterback Benny Clark was almost the whole show of the game, passing for three touchdowns, running for two more, and kicking four extra points.

In the first quarter, Clark passed to Right End Roger Doss for two scores. In the second he ran 15 yards for one and 5 yards for another, to make the score 27-0 at halftime. In the third, he again passed to Doss for a TD. In the final period, Bill Mahur intercepted a Pioneer pass for the final touchdown.

The entire O'Donnell squad saw action in the game.

Liquor Charges Filed On Two

Charges of illegally transporting liquor through Lynn county were filed last week end here.

Joe Valdez of Slaton, arrested in Wilson Saturday night by Deputy Frank Henderson, was fined $500.00 and costs on appearance in county court before Judge W. M. Mathis Monday. He is alleged to have had nine cases of canned beer and two cases of quart bottles of beer in his possession.

Tommy Joe Sawyer of Lubbock was picked up Saturday night on the highway four miles south of Tahoka by the State Highway Patrol and found to be transporting 13 cases of beer. He is out on bond.

Three drunks were picked up over the week end by the Sheriff's department.

Employment Man Is Stationed Here

Claude Chapman is working with the Texas Employment Commission as the Farm Placement man in Lynn county beginning on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. Chapman will be located in Tahoka in the office of the Justice of the Peace in the court house, and will be charged with the securing of native workers for the farmers of this county.

Farmers needing cotton pullers should contact Mr. Chapman at the office in the west end of the court house basement.

Marksman Gives Shooting Exhibition

A large crowd turned out last Tuesday afternoon for the shooting exhibition of Ben Beegle, an internationally famous marksman. The free show was staged five miles south of town.

Beegle performed some amazing feats with all types of rifles, shotguns, and a revolver which brought round after round of applause from his audience.

He also lectured on the use of firearms and demonstrated their proper handling. His show lasted an hour and a half. He was assisted by his wife, also a clever marksman.

Mrs. Alice Jewel Florence and Miss Leeta Williamson, nurse aides at Tahoka Hospital, are medical patients in the institution.

Eisenhower Club Is Organized At Tahoka Meeting

Four Lynn county ladies were among the 14 from the 28th Senatorial district and the 500 from all over Texas attending the non-partisan "Womanpower for Eisenhower" meeting at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth Wednesday.

Those from Lynn were Mrs. Ola Belle Lamb of Tahoka, and Mesdames C. R. Burleson Jr., Sam Singleton and Daisey Singleton, all of O'Donnell.

Mrs. Lamb said the organization is headed by Mrs. Hal C. Peck of Midland, state Democratic vice chairman, and Mrs. Frank T. O'Brien of Amarillo, state Republican vice chairman.

She said that in answer to the New Deal Democrats' statement that the Tidelands do not mean anything to Texas, the fact was brought out at this meeting that the Tidelands do mean a lot to Texas. From 1947 until they were taken over by the Government in 1950, Texas schools drew almost 10 million dollars directly from proceeds from Tidelands oil land.

She said the meeting was non-partisan in that it is made up of members of both parties.

Methodist Start Unique Meeting

Rev. Jim H. Sharp, pastor, announces the First Methodist Church of Tahoka is starting a revival of an unusual type this coming Sunday night which he calls a "Preaching and Reaching Revival."

Revival-type services will be held each Sunday night for the next seven Sundays. The sermon topic for this Sunday night will be "Believest Thou This." Mrs. E. W. Patterson will direct the song services.

One unique feature of the series of meetings is the manner in which certain church members will become responsible for filling the pews.

Few captains have been appointed, and each captain is responsible for filling up his pew. After four weeks, new pew captains will be appointed for the remaining three Sundays.

All people of the area have a cordial invitation to any and all the services.

ON LUBBOCK FORCE

J. B. Florence, who resigned recently as Tahoka Chief of Police, has accepted a position on the Lubbock city police force.

425 At Annual District Scout Banquet Here

Tejas District Scouts Round-table annual banquet was held in the Tahoka school cafeteria Thursday evening, Sept. 25, with approximately 425 people present, the largest crowd ever to attend such a meeting in this district.

Visiting Scouters were present from Lamesa, Brownfield, New Home, and Seagraves. Four Scouters, Four Scouters were present from the Brownfield Colored troop. Several Scout officials were present from Lubbock to assist with the meeting.

Curt Wilcox, district Scout executive, was the principal speaker, his subject being "Forward on Liberty's Team."

Following the general meeting, the crowd broke up into groups. The Scouts went to the school gymnasium, where they saw an interesting movie, "Scouts of America."

Parents divided into three groups, Explorers, Boy Scouts, and Cub divisions, for their monthly round table training meeting.

Prior to the program, a chili supper was served the large crowd. Overseers of the food included Fred McGinty, chief bean cooker, Shorty Chestnut and Maurice Huffaker made the chili, and A. M. Bray was chief "pearl diver."

"We wish to thank and express our gratitude to every individual present and everyone else who had a hand in making this a successful banquet," stated E. B. Galther, district representative; H. B. McCord, Jr., Scoutmaster; Ray Hopkins, Cubmaster; and their assistants and the Troop and Pack committees.

Cotton Ginnings 656 Bales In City

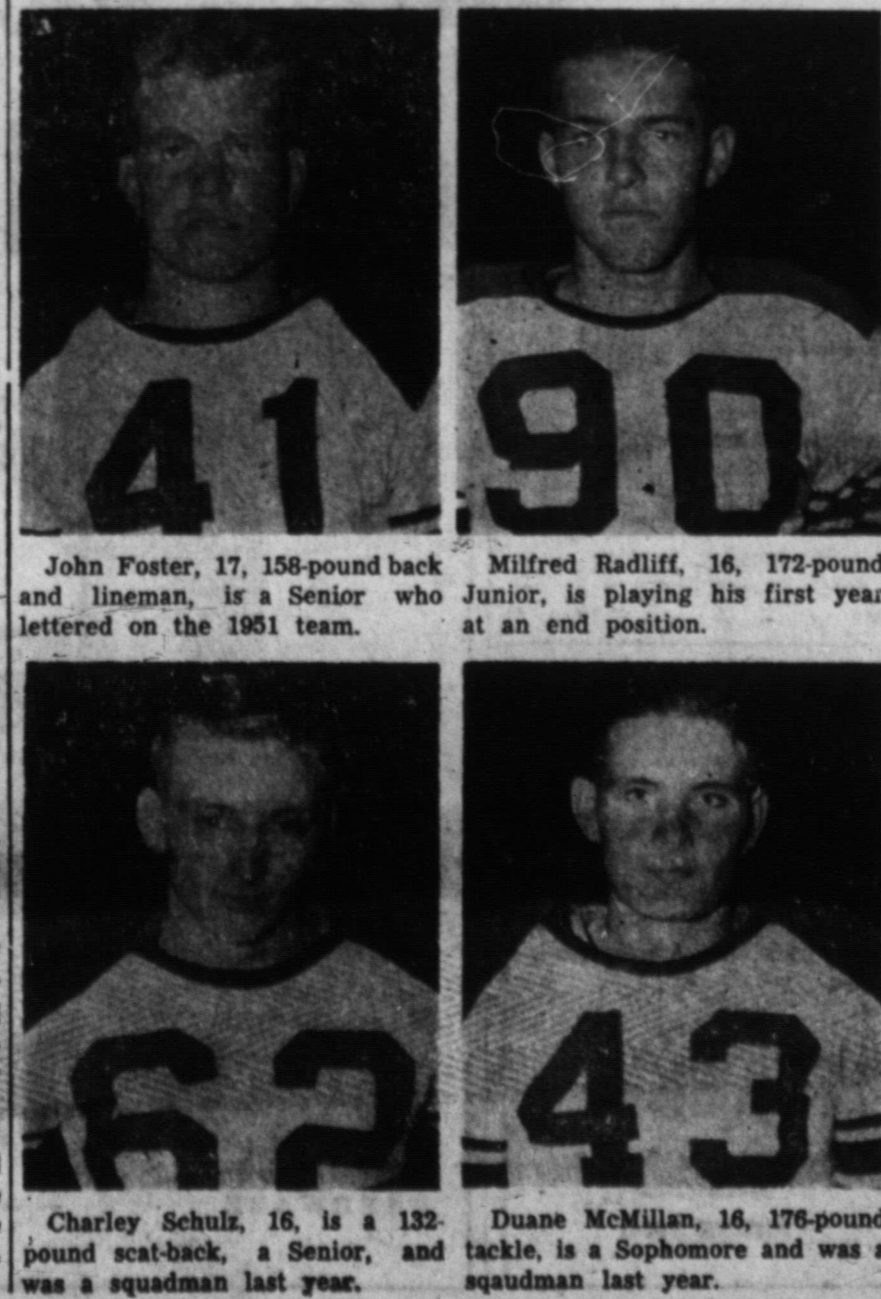

Lynn county cotton ginning has stepped up some during the past week but is still very slow in getting underway, due largely to scarcity of pullers.

Tahoka has ginned a total of 656 for the year, 444 for the past week, up to 11:00 a. m. Thursday morning.

Cotton is beginning to open up a little more rapidly now, but the ginning season will not get in full swing until more hands arrive here. Many of the farmers who need them have no hands at all.

Renew CROP Program For Needy In War Zone

Tahoka Will Join Move For Highway Designation Colorado City to Plains

Tahoka will cooperate with Colorado City and San Angelo in seeking designation of a new state highway between the three cities, directors of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce decided in a meeting held Monday night.

Most of the road between the three cities, by way of the new Colorado River dam and Gall, already is paved as farm-to-market roads.

Move for designation of the road as an alternate route to the Plains is being pushed by San Angelo and Colorado City chambers of commerce.

Tahoka Chamber of Commerce also laid preliminary plans Monday night for the annual Christmas program. Santa Claus and his reindeers will appear in Tahoka this year on December 15 at 10 a. m. Following the parade, turkeys will be given away as in the past.

The Chamber of Commerce directors also heard a talk by Sam Allen, manager of the West Texas Weather Improvement association. Mr. Allen revealed that Lynn county farmers still owe the association approximately $1400.00 as their part of the rain-increasing program.

The Inter-denominational Program for the relief of needy people overseas, known as CROP, which has functioned in Lynn county and throughout Texas the past two years, is preparing to function again this fall, in a larger way, it is hoped, than heretofore.

Rev. W. E. Fisher of the state office in Fort Worth met with a group of Ministers and laymen in the Methodist Church here Sunday afternoon and a partial reorganization of the Lynn County CROP workers was effected, with plans laid to perfect the organization as rapidly as possible.

CROP is an organization through which co-operating churches and committees of citizens gather or collect some certain product of each county's choosing to be sent to some particular country or countries of the world where the need is great and there distributed among the needy according to the expressed wishes of the contributors in so far as that is practicable.

Practical products to be handled through CROP include cotton, wheat, rice, and other farm products. Lynn county, together with many other counties in the Lubbock area, has been asked to contribute cotton. At the meeting here Sunday afternoon it was agreed that cotton should be the product handled in this county, and those attending the meeting set the goal at 40 bales.

With a very imperfect set-up last year this county contributed 22 bales and those present Sunday expressed the belief that 40 bales or more could be expected if the various communities in the county are thoroughly organized and the people adequately informed as to the purpose.

Each community in the county will be asked to select some per-

Workmen this week placed a new coating of asphalt and chat on Highway 389 from West Point east to Tahoka, the project being financed by the State Highway Department.

Lynn county people hope the Department will not wait too much longer before doing something about the rough pavement on the same highway east of Tahoka.

Band Honored By State Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—Tahoka High School Band has accepted an invitation to participate with bands, orchestras and choral groups from all over Texas in the fifth annual Cotton Bowl Music Festival Wednesday night, Oct. 15, during the 1952 State Fair of Texas, General Manager James H. Stewart has announced.

Paul Lvalle, famous conductor of the Cities Service "Band of America," broadcast Monday nights over the National Broadcasting company network, will lead massed bands and orchestras of approximately 4,000 high school musicians to climax the 1952 festival.

Twenty-two high school bands, 10 orchestras, and 10 choral groups will take part in the spectacular free show.

"We consider Mr. Lvalle to be the outstanding military band leader in the nation today," Mr. Stewart said. "His acceptance of our invitation to appear is an indication of the growing importance of the Music Festival as a fair feature."

Mr. Lvalle recently conducted a massed band of 2,000 at the Chicago and Music Festival, Mr. Stewart said.

At the State Fair festival, he will conduct the bands in the marching edition of his "Band of America March." Marching exhibitions by the bands will lend color to the spectacle.

The Texas Music Educators Association is cooperating with the fair to present the Music Festival. Continuous concerts beginning in mid-morning and presented simultaneously in three different spots on the fairgrounds by the bands, orchestras and choruses, will precede the Cotton Bowl festival.

Besides the Texas bands, at least one outstanding high school band from Oklahoma or Arkansas will take part.

Odds AND Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

Well, folks, as we start out this week for another day's journey, we are still on the banks of the beautiful and benevolent Rio Grande. It is about 2,000 miles from its source to its mouth.

In our narrative last week, as you may remember, we started out from Espanola, situated on the banks of the Rio Grande just below the mouth of the Chama, an old and picturesque town, started out before breakfast, in fact, and stopped in Santa Fe long enough to get that meal, and then struck out again for Albuquerque and points further south. We spent that night in Hot Springs, but we didn't get that far down with our narrative. We stopped with it at that booming town of Albuquerque. And so now, I am starting out from Albuquerque to go on down the River.

We crossed over onto the west side of the River at Albuquerque and followed on down on that side all the rest of the day, which took us to Hot Springs, and on down the same side of the river for some distance the next day. So, when we got ready to bid the "Old Man River" good-bye, we felt that we had gotten pretty well acquainted with him and he certainly had no nour plaudits as a most benevolent and public minded old gentleman. You will see why we thought so, when I tell you the story. The story in substance is just this: In addition to New Mexico's metropolis, Albuquerque, there are numerous other towns on the banks of the Rio Grande; such as Belen, Socorro, Hot Springs, Hatch, Las Cruces, and Mesilla, not a one of which would be in existence today, except possibly as a miserable Indian village, were it not for the fact that the Rio Grande passes right by the front door. He gives them all the water they need and some to spare, and thereby he gives them life, and vitality, and prosperity. That Rio Grande, temporarily speaking, is the River of Life. And he certainly is good to all his "chillun" and most assuredly they should be grateful to him, which means to a kind Providence, in fact, Who gave them the River. We wonder if they are.

Now I may not be able to tell you much about some of these towns, even if I knew all about them and had plenty of space, but I do wish to make some note of Hot Springs, though many Tahoka people have visited that health and pleasure resort and doubtless know much more about it than I do. It is a thrifty and growing town of nearly 5,000 population, however, consisting chiefly of Anglo-Saxon Americans, although the largest church in the little city is a Catholic church. It is a town of lovely homes and substantial business buildings. But the life of that town is the Elephant Butte dam, which impounds a great volume of water. The capacity of the lake is 2,219,000 acre feet, considerably larger than the Whitney lake will be and more than twice as large as any other existing artificial lake in Texas with the exception of the great Texhoma Lake near Denison, which is about twice as large as Elephant Butte.

Well, upon arriving at Hot Springs, we proceeded to procure a lodging place for the night and then bought a lunch and drove out to the Dam. There is a big grove, picnic grounds, and a spacious parking space at the docks near the east end of the dam, and a little while before sunset we drove out there to eat our lunch and to take a look at this great sea of Rio Grande water. Of course we first drove across the stream on top of the big dam; parked the car and made an inspection of the thing from different angles. It's a big outfit, folks. It backs the water 44 miles upstream and the lake is one to eight miles wide. Then we went around to the picnic grounds and the docks just to see what was going on. There must have been a hundred motor boats moored or being moored at the places provided for that purpose. It was all interesting, and the lake was a thing of beauty. That lake, 44 miles long, is touted as the Fisherman's Paradise, with various kinds of fish just eagerly waiting to get your hook.

I was most agreeably surprised at the general aspect of the town of Hot Springs, for somebody had given it a black eye to me a few years ago. Yes, the magnanimous old Rio Grande is furnishing a world of water for fishing, for bathing, and for irrigation at Hot Springs and for miles and miles along the adjacent valley.

Twenty miles further downstream there is another dam, the Caballo, which impounds a lake of considerable proportions, and say, folks, there is where the irrigation belt spreads itself. There is where the little Egypt really begins. All the way down to Hatch, some 15 or 20 miles down the River, there is cotton, cotton, cotton, lapping in the middle everywhere. The crop looked to be good for a bale and a half or two bales per acre all along the highway on both sides, unless a tornado strikes or somebody from Los Almos drops a bunch of atomic bombs on the crop. Hatch counts on 20,000 bales every year.

Then there seems to be a little break in the irrigation belt for a few miles and then you get into it again. All below that point is Las Cruces territory. Las Cruces gins and markets so much cotton that I don't know whether they have ever succeeded in counting all the crop or not. Las Cruces is a little city of nearly 15,000 people, and I guess that if it had another Rio Grande River running loose somewhere in its territory it would be twice that large.

Another claim which Las Cruces makes is that it has near that city the largest pecan grove in the world. Boy, how I would like to be turned loose in that pecan orchard a day or two this fall.

Old Mesilla is a community in the vicinity of Las Cruces, and a monument stands on the site of the old town, bearing this inscription, though we did not know about it at the time and did not go out to see it:

OLD MESILLA

Scene of many historical events; The Gadsden Treaty was consummated in its plaza July 4, 1854; It became the capital of Arizona in 1863, and here Billy the Kid was tried and convicted.

A folder issued by the Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce further states that the first white men to visit the site of Las Cruces were Cabeza de Vaca and his companions who "passed this way in 1536;" and that Juan de Onate brought a band of colonists through that place in 1598. Cabeza de Vaca was one of four men who came with Narvaez to Florida about 1528, got separated from their commander and the other soldiers, were later ship wrecked but finally landed on the Louisiana coast, wandered through Texas for several years and then made their way on into Mexico and eventually to the Pacific coast.

Juan de Onate was the promoter of the establishment of Missions among the Indians in New Mexico, Arizona, and California. Franciscan Friars of the Catholic Church were the missionaries. They were the poor friars, who prided themselves on their poverty, went everywhere ragged and barefooted, but they knew how to be kind to the Indians among whom they worked, helped them in every way possible, and thus won their confidence and esteem. They did their work so thoroughly that possibly nine-tenths of the Indians in America today are loyal Catholics.

There are four men whose tracks may be seen all over New Mexico today, Coronado, the great explorer, who passed through the state from west to east in his search for the Grand Quivira and the Seven legendary cities of Cibola, on through Texas and into Kansas and Nebraska, his search resulting in disaster; Onate the political leader and missionary; General Kearney, who subdued New Mexico in the war with old Mexico in 1848; and who also did effective work for Uncle Sam in the great Civil War; and Kit Carson, patriot, scout, and Indian fighter, who yet dealt fairly with the Indians always, and who is doubtless the most revered and honored one of the four today. But each of these left his imperishable impress upon the state and one runs across their tracks everywhere. There are many old Catholic churches founded under the direction of Onate still functioning and the ruins of others which give mute evidence of his work. There is the Coronado Trail passing through the heart of the state and connecting many cities and towns from west to east. There are numerous monuments to General Kearney, who played so prominent a role in the military history of the state, and there are the Kit Carson old home at Taos, and a number of Carson National Forests and Re serves in the state.

That is a sight worth spending a little money to see. It is one of the freaks of nature that constitutes one of the most extensive spreads of spotless beauty to be found on this continent. One may easily plant his footsteps on the sands of time out there but the sands soon shift and cover up his tracks. That is much like life. We may fancy that we are making imperishable footprints as we go along through life but it will not be many decades until only God can see them.

Getting out of those sandbeds, we came on hastily through Alamogordo and Tularosa and then headed into the Sacramento and the White Mountains, coming up through a valley that probably raises more apples to the cubic foot than any other locality in New Mexico. Not only apples but pears, grapes, and other fruits remind one of the Promised Land.

It was with a little tinge of sadness that we turned our backs on the good old Rio Grande at Las Cruces, for we knew that he went on down to El Paso, spreading his blessings every step of the way, from which city clear on down to Brownsville he formed the international boundary line between our country and Mexico, watered many a thirsty valley and plain, and furnished the grandest scenery to be seen in Texas.

But we were homeward bound and so we struck out northeasterly toward the Organ Mountains, which more properly might have been named the Saw-tooth Mountains, for they looked much like a big hand-saw with the sharp jagged teeth turned upward. Crossing over these mountains one goes into a broad valley and it is not long until he is at the gates of that great body of waste land known as the White Sands. We do not know how many square miles of territory the White Sands cover but a high way has been built out into them for a distance of eight miles.

That drive up through the mountains to Ruidoso is one of the most beautiful in that state of (Continued)

Juniors Lose Two To Post

Tahoka's two junior football teams lost a double-header here Thursday night of last week to the two junior Post Antelope teams. The Seventh Grade Bullpups lost 20 to 6, and the Eighth Grade Bullpups lost 33 to 6.

In the Seventh Grade game, Post scored early in the first quarter on a 50-yard run, on a 10-yard run in the second, and on a 2 yard line play in the fourth. Later in the fourth, Tahoka's Glenn Browning got loose on a long run to save Tahoka a whitewash.

Tahoka's Eighth grade team was outclassed by a crew that clearly had had much more time for work-outs. In fact, both visiting junior teams showed much more work on the practice field.

Post scored in the first quarter on a 32-yard run. Floyd Brasher got loose for a 33 yard gallop in the second to tie up the score 6-6. But in the third, Post scored another quick touchdown, then capitalized on Tahoka fumbles and an intercepted pass to roll up a 33-6 score.

This Thursday night, Tahoka Bullpups play at Slaton, while Spur Freshmen were playing the Tahoka Freshmen here.

Next Tuesday night, the Seventh Grade team goes to Frenship, and on Thursday night of next week the Bullpups meet O'Donnell here and the Freshmen go to Spur.

Rev. W. D. Atkins, above, is the new pastor of the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church of Tahoka, having been sent here by annual Northwest Conference for the year 1952-53.

"We appreciate your visits to Wesley Chapel any time you feel called upon to attend our services," the preacher states.

Ropes Winner Over Mustangs

Wilson Mustangs lost a 31 to 0 decision to the Ropes Eagles at Ropes Friday night, and they also lost their backfield ace, Thomas Autry, who received a broken arm in the game.

The Mustangs journey to Frenship this Friday night for another conference engagement. Frenship has won all three of its conference games, while Wilson has won one and lost two.

Ropes was just too much for Coach A. J. Sales' lighter crew, and with the loss of Autry the outlook for the remainder of the season became more gloomy.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

In a short time American taxpayers may make a major investment in Communism.

The Mutual Security Agency, the old Marshall Plan under a new name announces it will guarantee dollar returns to American investors in Tito's communist governed Yugoslavia.

MSA states this guarantee only applies on investments made in Yugoslavian enterprises. Americans cannot own any plants, C. W. Harder or facilities in Yugoslavia because everything is owned by Tito's government.

Here's the MSA guarantee. If American investors in Yugoslavia cannot get their money out in dollars, the MSA will dig them out of the U. S. Treasury, in the event the Communist Yugoslavian government follows the communist habit and expropriates all foreign investments. MSA is willing to discuss a guarantee against this with American tax dollars.

The Yugoslavian government has announced it is interested in investments in the nation's mining, cement, power, and export industries. As everything in Yugoslavia is state owned, it is merely a bid for American capital to aid Communist development of the country.

Thus while American men and dollars are being spent to defend against Communism, and to fight Communism in Korea, the MSA is now ready to use American dollars to build up the economy of one of communism's strongholds.

© National Federation of Independent Business

"Unless people watch out, the MSA will be buying a seat in the New York Stock Exchange for Joe Stalin."

But, MSA is doing a fine job giving away American tax money.

The total now stands at almost $15 billion.

Elsewhere in Washington, even supporters of the Office of Price Stabilization are embarrassed by some OPS actions.

An example of actions that have earned OPS the name of Office Plenty Screw is the filing of a treble damage suit for almost $1 million against 12 leading New York night clubs on charges they failed to pass along to their plush-lined customers substantial savings on food and drink costs. Somehow, somebody in OPS has decided that the prices at the El Morocco are putting a serious strain on the average American family budget.

But of importance to many family budgets is the consent judgment just won by the Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice against Luxene, Inc.

It was found Luxene had entered into agreements with dental laboratories over the country to fix prices on plastic material widely used in making dental plates. Newell H. Clapp, Acting Assistant General in charge of anti-trust enforcement states this judgment should result in lower prices to the public on dentures, as Luxene, through agreements with laboratories had been taking an artificially big "bite" out of people who need artificial teeth to bite with.

Tahoka Garden Club Members Take Trip To Beautiful Mountains of New Mexico

On Wednesday and Thursday of last week, nine members of the Tahoka Garden Club and two visitors drove to Cloudercroft, N. M., for their annual pilgrimage. There they were guests of Mrs. J. K. Applewhite and Mrs. H. W. Carter who have spacious cabins—Applejack Lodge and Hillside—in the pine trees at the foot of the Sacramento Mountains.

made trips to the White Sands, a national monument eight miles west of Alamogordo, to the packing houses of the fruit and vegetable farms, to the peach, the apple, and the prune orchards, to the truck farms, to the Cloudercroft Lodge, to the Cloudercroft Golf course, which is the highest in the nation with an altitude of 9,200 feet, to the Ski-Run, to the four huge hot-houses of the Burnett Wholesale Florists, to Lack Haven, a show place on the top of a mountain from which there was a perfect view of the beautiful country for miles around. At this place, the ladies were given some unusual plants.

One purpose of the pilgrimage was to gather dried wild flowers and grasses for winter arrangements. The ladies found these in abundance—the wild rose with its deep red seed pods and the dark brown dock being the prettiest. A choice addition to the flowers was the purple cabbage.

The drives through the beautiful scenery of the mountains were delightful. There the tall, stately pines, the blue spruces, and the quaking aspens with their golden leaves and white trunks made a picturesque background.

On Wednesday night, the ladies had a club meeting in front of a roaring pine fire in the big rock fireplace of Hillside. The next morning, the temperature was thirty-two degrees; a heavy frost made the scenery even more beautiful.

This pilgrimage to Cloudercroft was such a success that the club would like to make it an annual event. The members making the trip were: Mesdames J. K. Applewhite, president, H. W. Carter, vice-president; Emil Prohl, W. C. Huffaker, Calloway Huffaker, D. G. Cook, E. A. Thomas, M. L. Thomas, and R. W. Fenton, Sr. The guests were Mrs. Ernest Walker and Mrs. G. M. Stewart.—Reporter.

Burial Assistance For Service Men

When the body of a serviceman who died overseas after June 24, 1950, is brought to the United States for reburial, the Social Security Administration may repay part of the cost of the reburial in certain cases, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office.

Ordinarily, a claim for the social security lump sum for burial expenses must be filed within two years after death. Recent amendments to the social security law, however, provide an extension of the time limit in cases where the body of a serviceman who died after June 24, 1950, is returned to the United States for reburial. In these cases the reimbursement may be applied for within two years of the date of burial or reburial rather than within two years after the date of death.

Where the serviceman is survived by a widow this provision will not ordinarily apply, since in these cases the lump sum is paid to her regardless of who pays the burial expenses.

Those wishing to know more about this and other phases of social security should contact Mr. Gerald L. Schantz, field representative of the Lubbock Social Security office, who will be in Tahoka on October 8. He will be at the Post Office at 9:00 a. m.

passes and Seminole's use of the two-plateau system wore down the Tahoka squad, short on manpower and beef in the backfield.

Quarterback Smith was sensational on kick runbacks, returning four for 7, 15, 30, and 34 yards, while Hyles brought back one for 19 before he left the game in the third quarter with a sprained ankle that may keep him out two or three weeks.

Havens, Brooks, and Tong each intercepted Seminole passes, and John Curry hopped on two Seminole fumbles. Slover allowed few gains around his end and played a much improved game. Foster, Ables, Stice, Bartley, Schulz, Lee, Early, Bragg, Carter, Ratliff, Huddleston, and possibly others saw service in the game.

Indians Score Early

Seminole scored quickly in the ball game the first time they had the ball. After Tahoka had failed by inches to make a first, Halfback Hargrove on the first play carried the ball 30 yards to Tahoka's 7, and then Paul Sublett went over the goal to score. Sparks kicked his first of three perfect placements.

Late in the first quarter, Tahoka's Curry covered a Seminole fumble on the Indian 40. Passes of 11 yards to Slover and 9 to Hyles and two line bucks carried to the Seminole 8, where Tahoka had a first down. But the head linesman failed to see the Seminole right end charge offside away across the line before the ball was snapped, and Smith was thrown for a 16 yard loss. Hyles carried back to the 8, but the drive bogged down there.

Bulldogs Hold Well

Neither team could gain consistently in the second, with Curry covering another fumble, and Havens and Brooks intercepting passes in the period.

But early in the third, Quarterback Wilson heaved a 31-yard pass which Gothard took in the end zone for Seminole's second score, and again late in the same quarter, he hit Gothard in the end zone with a 28-yard pass. Midway in the fourth, Seminole set up its final score by making good on a desperation fourth down running play, with Sublett finally going over 8 yards for the score.

Even in the third and fourth quarters, the Bulldogs turned in a better game than the score indicates, holding the Indians on downs three times and a pass interception by Billy Tong, while Smith, Ables, and Schulz tried in vain to move the ball into Indian territory.

Both the Tahoka and Seminole bands put on colorful halftime shows. A fairly large crowd of Tahoka fans followed the team to the game.

New Ideas In Frozen Foods

COLLEGE STATION.—This is the day of trends, and the family food supply is keeping step with the general tendency to change and improve. Self-sufficiency, in providing meats, fruits, and vegetables for the family table, has always been the tendency for farm and ranch families in Texas. The methods of preserving these foods have definitely changed and improved during the past decade.

Louise Mason, foods and nutrition specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College says canning still retains a major portion of the food preservation budget, but freezing is catching up.

Home freezers came into use immediately after the last war, and consistently have increased in numbers since. The specialist says Extension Service reports show more families are helped each year in improving their food conservation by freezing. At the mid-century mark there were approximately 5,000 more home freezer owners than in 1949. This figure had climbed to nearly 33,000 by 1951 with many more thousands using community frozen food lockers. The 1951 report showed two and a half million quarts of fruits, vegetables and meat canner, plus nearly 400,000 quarts of pickles and relishes. The same report estimates that in addition more than 24 million pounds of vegetables, fruits, meat and poultry were frozen.

Miss Mason says, "Another measure of the increase is shown by the demand for the bulletin, 'Frozen Foods.' This information prepared by the foods and nutrition specialists is available to homemakers in Texas through county Extension agents' offices."

Grassland Ladies Redecorate Church

The Grassland Church of the Nazarene is being completely redecorated by the ladies of the community, Mrs. W. L. Gribble reports.

The auditorium and Sunday School rooms, in fact the whole interior, is taking on a "new look." The ladies also expect to redecorate the exterior to complete the job. Naturally, the ladies are proud of the improvement.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to the neighbors who prepared lunch, for all the lovely flowers, and to the nurses and Dr. Thomas who were so attentive during our husband and father's illness. The kindness and sympathy of all our friends and neighbors has made our burden easier to bear. —Mrs. James Greenwood and Children.

J. R. Strain of New Home reports that much of the dry land cotton in his community is turning out better than farmers expected that it would.

son in that community who is in sympathy with the movement and will agree to serve as a member of a county committee, which will serve in an advisory capacity with the other general officers, Pastors of the county, it is believed and hoped, will give the movement their encouragement and active assistance whenever possible.

In past years, the gins, compresses, railroads, and other processing agencies have gladly given their services free of charge. Of course it is not known as yet what their attitude will be this year as they have been heretofore. If so, the cotton contributed can be ginned, compressed, and shipped to Houston free of charge. The United States Government has been transporting it overseas also free of charge. So, the overhead expense will be negligible and will cost the do-nothing nothing.

It should be further stated that if any person desires to give money instead of cotton, or if he desires to give some other commodity, such money will be used to buy cotton to go into the shipment and such other commodity will be sold and converted into cotton. Only cotton will go into the shipment from Lynn county.

Now, how will the cotton be handled and distributed overseas? The answer is that it will be distributed as you may direct if you wish to indicate a choice, in so far as is practicable.

You will sign a card giving the name of your local church and the denomination, whether Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Disciple, Nazarene, or whatever it may be, which will be sent to a missionary or other representative of your denomination, if any, in the country to which the cotton will be shipped. There the cotton will become subject to the order of your denominational representative. If there is none it will be used where it is most needed.

Shipment will be made, doubtless, to one of the following countries or general areas: Korea, India, the Middle East, or Central Europe, but will be sent to no place where it is likely to fall into the hands of Communists or other enemies of our country.

It has been stated above that this county shipped 22 bales of cotton last year. It should be added that 16 bales of this number were procured through the efforts of Rev. C. C. Ehler, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Wilson. To do this, he visited many communities in this county. This year he will confine his work to members of his own church but has indicated that he expects to really work at the job.

much time and some money to the work. He has declined to serve longer as general chairman but has promised to assist his successor and the whole program wholeheartedly whenever and wherever he can.

Officers elected Sunday afternoon were as follows: Chairman, E. I. Hill of Tahoka; vice-chairman, Horace Lindley, Tahoka; secretary, Rev. D. W. Gossett, pastor of Wilson Methodist Church, Box 4, Wilson; publicity chairman, Frank Hill of The Lynn County News, Tahoka; treasurer, Pete Hegi, First National Bank, Tahoka; chairman of Speakers Bureau, Rev. Jim Sharp, pastor of Tahoka Methodist Church.

A. M. Bray, who did valiant service last year, will lend his active assistance again, though he declined to serve in an official capacity, is already serving on too many finance committees, he declared. It is believed that a number of the county committee members will also consent to serve again.

Competition is the life of the OIL BUSINESS

The demand for oil increases every year. Americans need more oil for more automobiles, for more airplanes, more ships, more high speed locomotives and more of many things besides. And just as one merchant competes with another for your business, oil companies compete for it, too—for the gallons of gasoline and quarts of motor oil you buy; to supply the ships, the locomotives, the industries, the airplanes. The competition is intense, and it spreads throughout the industry. Oil companies compete with each other to find and produce more oil. Pipe line companies vie with each other to develop low cost transportation. Refineries compete to supply more and better oil products. Salesmen compete on the basis of quality products and the service rendered. It's a good thing, this competition, a healthy thing. It is the life of the oil business; it keeps the industry vigorous, progressive, enterprising. But its chief benefit is to you and other Americans. Competition within the oil industry discovers and develops a natural resource necessary not only to modern living but to national defense. It supplies you and the country with continuously improved petroleum products; today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three in 1925, but the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

DONALDSONS RETURN FROM INSURANCE MEET

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Donaldson returned Wednesday from Dallas, where they were guests of the State Farm Insurance Companies, and Fort Worth, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Donaldson Jr. and their new son, Teddy. All of the 497 agents representing the State Farm Insurance Companies throughout Texas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma, were invited with their wives to attend special two-day seminars at the Texas office in Dallas.

According to Mr. Donaldson, the purpose of the seminars was to further improve the service and operations of State Farm in the interests of its policy holders. Being a mutual company, he explained, policy holders are the real "bosses" of the organization.

The State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company since 1941 has led all auto insurance companies in volume of business. Recently State Farm enrolled its 2,200,000th member, and in 1951 its premiums exceeded the $100,000,000 mark for the first time in the company's history.

Home offices are in Bloomington, Illinois.

Gilbert Lamb is in St. Louis, Mo., this week visiting the nearby factories of the Danuser all-purpose blade and the Red Giant battery factory.

Ladies Attended Eisenhower Meet

About fifty citizens of Lynn county met in the court house Thursday night of last week and organized a Citizens for Eisenhower club.

The body agreed to open a bi-party Eisenhower for President headquarters in the bakery building on Sweet street across from the Keltner Hotel, and volunteer workers will keep the office. The body hopes to open the office at an early date.

A. O. Curry of Lubbock, a Republican, and Judge B. P. Maddox of Tahoka, a Democrat, made brief talks. Curtis Traweek of Hereford, an organizer of Citizens for Eisenhower clubs, also spoke briefly.

There was also a roundtable discussion of the current political campaign participated in by most of those present.

Lester Strech was elected the local county chairman, and Eldon Gattis was named co-chairman. Meetings will be held on Monday night to which all interested citizens are not only invited but are urged to attend. The News is informed.
