

This Week In The Journal:

We have a plethora of advertisements in the paper this issue from candidates and from friends of candidates. I personally have handled some of these ads, and read proof on others, and find them interesting and giving food for thought. I hope ever last one of the people who seek office will be elected; however, I suspect that is impossible.

Many persons in Bailey county have dug into their pocketbooks to pay for advertising in the paper for people whom they would like to see elected. This is their privilege and a prerogative of the American citizen; to express his views and to support those who reflect his views on the conduct of government.

If you are a qualified voter, I say that you will vote Saturday in the Democratic Primary. Don't try to tell me how to vote, just you go vote your own convictions.

There is another advertisement in The Journal this week that I wish you would read. The implement dealers, banks, Farm Bureau, Electric Cooperative, and others, appalled at the loss of life, limb, and property in agriculture accidents, have paid for a page ad to call attention to the benefits of safety practices on the farm. Grimly, the doctors are kept busy fixing up people who have been maimed during summer work on the farm.

Hear tell that all the activity around the Ray Griffiths & Sons big storage elevator means they are nearly doubling their grain storage capacity. We will have the absolute dope in a few days.

Next week, The Journal will concentrate on Dollar Day for Muleshoe. Dollar Day brings more and more customers to the city on the first Monday of each month. In next week's paper, read how you and I can profit by trading at local stores on Dollar Day.

The next five or six weeks will be some of the busiest for us all. After Dollar Day, there will be back to school week, it appears, and Crazy Days, a special promotion of the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce. For The Journal, after that, comes preparation for beginning of the school football team's season opening game here September 5, printing of programs, etc. Like the man said, whose kin-folks kept visiting, remember: There ain't no end to it.

Joe Sooter In Washington To Confer With Dept. Of Labor and Bracero Users

Joe Sooter, President Bailey County Farm Bureau, and director of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., left for Washington Tuesday to meet with the National Farm Labor Users Committee on Wednesday and then with Department of Labor officials on Thursday.

The meeting was called by the Department of Labor and the Users group in an effort to settle the controversy between the Farm Labor Users and the Department of Labor over wage scales and other directives issued by the Department of Labor. Sooter, W. T. Miller and the Honorable Jesse Osborn attended the last such meeting about a month ago and came home with the feeling that it was the intent and purpose of the Department of Labor to institute a wage formula system that would automatically result in a continuous rise in farm wages. They hope that the Department of Labor officials will come to this meeting with more reasonable proposals.

American Marietta Co. has been named defendant in a $975,000 anti-trust suit filed this week in U. S. District Court in

Issue Warning On Forder Operating In M'shoe Area

The Muleshoe sheriff's office issued a warning this week for the public to be on the lookout for a tall blond man, known to have forged checks for varying amounts in Muleshoe, Earth, Sudan, and Morton.

Sheriff Dee Clements said the man is about six feet tall, wearing buckskin shoes, a knit shirt and khaki trousers. He drives a 1956 or '57 aqua and white Ford. His usual mode of operation is to purchase one or more head of cattle and pay for them with a forged check, using the name John Martin for endorsement of the check.

Clements said the man is also wanted by Plains officers on a similar charge.

Arrests during the past five days have included four drunks, two for possession for the purpose of sale, one disregarding stop signal and one for no driver's license.

Lubbock with Judge Joseph B. Doolley, Brown Supply Co. which has offices and plants in Lubbock, Muleshoe, Crosbyton, Levelland, Littlefield, Plainview, and in Kansas, filed the suit, charging American Marietta Co. with operation of a virtual monopoly and maintaining artificially high prices in New Mexico, resulting in increased cost of highways in that state.

In addition, Brown Supply Co. also charges that the defendant company made derogatory statements through its employees about the efficiency and integrity of the plaintiff firm.

American Marietta Co. manufactures reinforced concrete pipe, corrugated metal pipe, concrete irrigation pipe systems and metal highway guards. Concrete irrigation pipe and metal highway rails are made in American Marietta's Littlefield plant.

The plaintiff claims that approximately four years ago American Marietta acquired Teller concrete plants now operated in Albuquerque, Farmington and El Paso. This acquisition, claims Brown, gave American Marietta a virtual monopoly in the state of New Mexico for concrete pipe, creating artificially high prices for these items in that state.

Further claims by the plaintiff include the allegation that American Marietta and an unnamed pipe company entered into an agreement to start a price war against Brown Supply, in return for which, the other company agreed not to build plants in American Marietta areas. The judgement being sought by each of the defendants includes Brown Supply Co., of Muleshoe, $30,000 and similar amounts for several other Brown Supply establishments.

No date for a hearing has been set.

Auto Insurance Rates Go Up In Texas Effective August 1

The State Board of Insurance issues the following statement: "Automobile insurance rates for Texas will be raised effective August 1, 1958. These increases result directly from an increasing number of automobile collisions, higher costs of repairs, larger medical costs, and higher jury awards in actions for damages."

"The average rate increase, state-wide for all classes combined, will be approximately 19% for liability insurance and approximately 17% for collision insurance on private passenger cars. It is emphasized that these percentages are only the average increases, are based on Texas experience alone, and will vary widely among the different rating territories of the State and among the different classes of insureds, as required by law.

has set these rates after a public hearing in Austin on June 20, and their careful study of statistics collected on automobile losses in Texas.

"After these increases become effective, liability rates in Texas still will be below the majority of other states, and Texas will have the lowest rate among the eight states having the largest number of registered motor vehicles. The increase in rates is necessary because of the highest underwriting costs in history. Over the nation, leading stock automobile insurance companies last year paid out $116.70 for every $100 received in policy premiums."

MARTIN HARVEST HOARDER SYSTEM

THE MARTIN SYSTEM is a Drier and Storage Unit all in one. Yet it costs little more than ordinary storage facilities.

Large Farmer or Small Farmer — You can follow the 4 key steps to profits with A MARTIN HARVEST HOARDER SYSTEM.

1. Harvest early — at 33% Moisture Content. Gain 10 to 15 more bushels per acre because your crop doesn't stay in the field to dry, where it is at the mercy of the sun, wind and rain.
2. Dry with Low Cost Forced Air. Drying with forced air is cheap because the air is free and it takes only pennies a day to run the fan. Dry without danger of fire
3. Store in the Same Bin. Just turn off the drying switch and your crop is in storage. No expensive handling equipment or labor. Condition the grain at any time by turning a switch.
4. Sell or Feed More, Better Crops. Sell No. 1 corn or grain and you are free to sell any time of the year on better markets. Whether you feed or sell, the greater profits will soon pay for your Martin system.

Wayland Pioneers Begin Season With Seasoned Players

For the first time in three years the Wayland Baptist College Pioneers start their season with a majority of seasoned players on the squad. The plucky Pioneers made it to the district semi-finals last year despite lack of height and experience.

Five starters and four valuable reserve squadmen will be back this season, according to Coach Ed Billings. Reinforcement comes from Clarendon Junior College in the form of 6'2" Steve Jarnagin, junior forward from Silvertown.

Though average height for the pioneers still hovers around six feet this year, their superior speed, ball handling and team work make for predictions of a trip to the national NAA tournament in Kansas City.

Returning starters are: Nelson Moore, 5'10" senior from Artesia, N. M. guard; Paul Siebenmann, 6'2" senior from San Antonio, forward; Boyd White, 6'2" senior from Lelia Lake, forward; Rollie Rinker, 6'5" junior from Elmore City, Okla., center; and Dalton Morrison, 5'11" sophomore from Portales, N. M., guard.

Wilcy Moore To Rochester Club

Wilcy Moore, Bailey County's gift to baseball, left here early this week to join his new team, the Rochester, N. Y., club of the International League, at Columbus, Ohio. Rochester is a part of the St. Louis Cardinals organization.

Wilcy has played the first part of this season with Portland, Oregon, of the Pacific Coast League. The International League is, like the Pacific Coast League, graded AAA in baseball, next door to the major leagues. He was sold by Portland to Rochester.

An outfielder, Wilcy ran into trouble on June 26. Trying to snag a long fly, he ran into the concrete wall in deep center field and bruised his shoulder. Next, because he is so fleet footed, Wilcy was matched against a speeder on the Seattle, Wash. club for a 60 yard race in pre-game activities July 3, while he was still nursing the injured shoulder. Wilcy was ahead of his opponent and felt he could surely win when he pulled a muscle in the back of his right leg.

He is just now getting around to running and to getting into shape for baseball. Wilcy said he liked the west coast, liked the Pacific Coast League, his club management and fellow players at Portland. He regretted leaving them, but is eagerly looking forward to playing at Rochester.

Mrs. Moore, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Arnold of Baileyboro community, will join him soon at Rochester. Their children probably will stay here with grandparents. Wilcy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Moore of Longview community.

At the time of his injury, Wilcy was batting .260 for Portland. He had batted in 21 runs, hit 2 homers, 9 doubles, and 4 triples. In 62 games he had played flawless defensive baseball, having a 1.000 percent average in the field, a fact of which he is and ought to be very proud.

Basic Agriculture Courses This Fall At LCC For Frosh

Beginning with the fall term in September, Lubbock Christian College will offer basic courses in agronomy, horticulture, and animal husbandry, according to an announcement by Dr. F. W. Mattox, college president. R. L. Peters, who holds a degree of B. S. in Agricultural Education from Texas Tech, has been employed to teach vocational agriculture and shopwork. Sophomore courses in agriculture will be added in the fall of 1959.

Peters has taught Vocational Agriculture at Spur and at Antelope Valley Joint Union High School and Junior College, Lancaster, Calif. Recently he terminated a tour of duty with the United States Department of Agriculture (the Agricultural Research Service). During the Korean war and World War II he served with the U. S. Naval Air Force. Later he worked in the jet flight engineering test programs of Chance Vought, Boeing and Convair aircraft companies.

Civic Lubbock To Present La Traviata

Continuing its diversified presentations, Civic Lubbock, Inc., announced today that it had signed the New York Opera Festival Company to present Verdi's masterpiece "La Traviata" at the Lubbock Auditorium on November 14 at 8:00 p.m. They have already announced the hilarious Broadway hit comedy "Auntie Mame" to open their season on October 24 and 25, "Music With Mary Martin" on February 2 and the National Ballet of Canada on March 23.

Well known in this country as "Camille", Greta Garbo, Royce Taylor and Lionel Barrymore made the motion picture classic in the late thirties. "La Traviata" is not only Verdi's most dramatic and emotional work, it ranks as one of the all time "greats" in the whole of opera repertoire.

BILL BLAKLEY

Texans like a public official who is independent in his thinking and doesn't have to account for his actions to anyone except the voters themselves.

William A. Blakley is such a man. Of his race for U. S. Senate, the Fort Arthur News says: "He entered this race by his own decision. He is beholden to nobody. He doesn't have to promise special interest groups anything and he wants to represent all of Texas, not any political splinter or fragment or faction above the rest."

A vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 is a vote for returning to Washington a man who will truly represent Texas.

Plains Cotton Growers Vote Support To Best Cotton Legislation In Senate

Directors of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., voted Thursday night to support the principles and objectives of cotton legislation that would most nearly conform to those set forth in the American Cotton Producers Associates' bill, commonly called the Compensatory Payment bill.

The PCG directors vote came at that group's called July board meeting held in Lamesa. It was the largest attendance ever recorded at a PCG board meeting. Ninety-three directors, members and visitors attended.

W. O. Fortenberry, PCG president, in explaining the group's said it was the consensus among cotton producers present at the meeting that they would like to see the Senate bill introduced and brought onto the Senate floor.

Roy B. Davis, Lubbock county PCG director, expressed the opinion that the most important feature of the Senate bill was the abandonment of parity as the base for price support, and he warned farmers to consider this point before giving parity up. He also added that the proposed cotton acreage cut in 1959 if no legislation is enacted might not be as great as some cotton leaders fear. He explained that acreage allotments might fall between 14 and 15 million acres, down from the present 17.4 million acres.

Frank Moore, Hale county producer, suggested the PCG not endorse any particular cotton bill, but work toward the best bill possible.

Legume Value Told In New Bulletin

What is the relative value of legumes as soil improving crops? Will legumes furnish enough nitrogen for corn? Is there any differential response of spacing of corn plants to green manure and fertilizers?

The Department of Agronomy at Texas A&M College has done much work and experimentation to find the answers to these questions. Experiments were conducted with hairy vetch, Wilamette vetch and Dixie Wonder peas as soil improving crops for corn during 1949-55. The legumes were grown during the fall and winter between annual corn crops.

A bulletin reporting the results of these experiments has been released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. It is entitled "Legumes for Soil Improvement for Cotton and Corn." It discusses such topics as legumes and fertility treatments; effect of legumes and fertilizer; effect of spacing; effect of irrigation and many other related

Patrolmen Give Rotary Program

The two members of the Texas Highway Patrol who are stationed in Muleshoe, Bill Angel and James Freeman, came before the Rotary club last week to tell about the Highway Patrol and its work. They were introduced by Dr. W. F. Birdsong, who had charge of the program.

Mr. Freeman told the club that Texas has now 670 patrolmen, which means that to patrol the highways of the state would mean each patrolman would cover 300 miles per day.

He and his partner have been stationed in Muleshoe 28 months, and have investigated 178 traffic accidents, in which 110 were injured and 11 were killed. Property damage was $103,326. They patrol all of Bailey County, parts of Lamb and Parmer counties.

There is a violation of the law in all traffic accidents, he told his listeners. Largest cause of traffic accidents is speed, second is driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The patrol operates to make Texas highways safer for everyone who uses them and its members appreciate the cooperation

Special Finish Fabrics Require Extra Precautions

Special finishes now being used on many cottons, linens and rayons give wrinkle-resistance, extra sheen and body to these fabrics.

Problem now is, how to remove stains from fabrics that have these special finishes. Chlorine bleaches may be used on some, according to extension clothing specialists. Other finishes are damaged by such treatment because special resins in the finish absorb and retain chlorine.

Best rule to follow, according to the USDA Agricultural Research Service, is to look for directions regarding use of bleaches on the garment. If no information is given, avoid use of chlorine bleaches on fabrics with special finishes.

Some stains cannot be removed without bleaching. In such cases use sodium perborate or a powdered bleach that contains it. Soak washable colorfast fabrics for several hours, or overnight if needed, in a warm solution containing one or two tablespoons of sodium perborate to a pint of water. Another method is to sprinkle dry bleach on the dampened spots, then dip in a pan of very hot water for a few minutes.

This reminder from the clothing specialists. Always check garments for stains before laundering, and remove. Otherwise hot water may set stains.

Precautions Urged With Power Mower

A lawn mower can be a helpful and faithful servant. But it may turn into a dangerous machine unless a few safety precautions are observed, warns W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer.

Several injuries have occurred recently from objects being thrown by the mower, points out Ulich. Nails, wire, rocks and other objects can be picked up by the mower and thrown at tremendous speeds, causing serious bodily injury. To reduce the possibility of such injury, he advises going over the lawn before mowing to remove foreign matter and debris.

Start the mower on level ground, making sure your feet are away from the cutter blade or bar, cautions Ulich. Keep the machine firmly on the ground when starting by placing one foot on the deck and holding the handle with one hand. Don't leave the mower running unattended where it might be a temptation to children and others of all motorists, he said. Questioning by members brought the information that to increase the speed limits undoubtedly would increase the number of fatalities, although perhaps not the number of accidents, for the reason that the likelihood of fatalities is higher when vehicles in an accident were traveling at a fast rate of speed.

Babson Discusses Near East

Babson Park, Mass., July 24— I do not know Lebanon, but I have for many years studied Egypt. Although Russia may be aiding Nasser, the latter is the brains of the present Lebanon-Iraq troubles. As I explained a few weeks ago, Nasser is trying to form a federation of the five nations which sell huge quantities of oil throughout the world. Nasser wishes to be the selling agent for this oil rather than have these countries compete with one another.

History of Nasser's Program
Egypt is a very poor country although it is one of the oldest existing nations. Its people are very poor. It has been ruled by Farouk, a playboy king who never was interested in the welfare of the people. Nasser, who was a high officer in the Army, saw this condition and determined to rectify it. He first dethroned the playboy king and then started some constructive plans to get more money for his people. His first attempt was to build the great Aswan Dam on the Nile River and he thought that England, France and the United States had agreed to finance it. Suddenly this underwriting was withdrawn. This was a great disappointment to me although my friend, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, after a return from Egypt personally told me that our Republican Administration probably did the right thing by withdrawing. Nasser's next attempt to get funds was by raising the tolls of the Suez Canal. This again brought the United States into the picture in a way to get the will of all these countries—England, France, and even Egypt. Readers will remember how the canal was blocked and everyone lost money. Although our Administration agreed to Nasser's increasing the tolls, shipments declined so that Egypt did not get any more real money. Thereupon Nasser attempted to form the "oil empire" described above. The first nation to fall in line was Syria, which has since been followed by Iraq.

OH The Cause of The Trouble
Ever since the Crusades of centuries ago, every war has been claimed to have been started for some great moral purpose. All nations in the Near East conflict claim that they are fighting for freedom. President Eisenhower insists that if the people of Iraq had peacefully voted to depose their king, no U. S. Marines would be in Lebanon today. To have, however, a rebel band murder the king of Iraq and his friends is contrary to the Eisenhower Doctrine. Let me, however, say that if there were no oil in the Near East, there would be no Marines in Lebanon! This conflict will not result in a shooting war with Russia as Russia has all the oil that she needs. The kings of all these Near East nations are controlled by the world's big oil companies. These big oil companies will naturally despise Nasser for stirring up this trouble. It, however, might be much cheaper for the United States to provide some other means for Nasser to get funds for his poor people.

Readers have been wondering how this situation will affect their oil investments. The large oil companies are divided into two groups: The international oils, such as Standard of New Jersey, Socony Mobil, Texas Co. and Standard of California, which get large quantities of their oil from the Near East; and the domestic oil concerns, led by Phillips, Shell, Continental, and Union Oil, which get most of their oil from North and South America. Theoretically, the stocks of the companies depending on the Near East should decline, while the stocks of companies getting their oil from the United States, Canada, and Venezuela should increase in price, although this differential may

Sandhills Philosopher Wants New Farm Policy Every Year, New Foreign Policy Every Day

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is discussing either the foreign policy or the farm policy of this country this week. It's hard to tell which.

Dear editor:
According to a lengthy, thoughtful newspaper article I read last night, there more than likely won't be any new farm legislation this year, and I was discussing this with some of my neighbors this morning and one of them said it was a good idea. "That's fine," he said. "There's no use in passing brand new farm legislation every year. Don't hardly have time to get used to the one we got when they bring out another one."

I can't agree with this idea. In the first place, it's unfair to the farmer, or rather it's inconsiderate.

As I see it, the farmer is just as important, is not as expensive, as foreign countries, and you don't catch this country trying to have already been discounted. In view, however, of the Near East situation, it would be well for readers not to overconcentrate in the international oil stocks.

to get along on the same foreign policy year after year, do you?

I'm not saying the farmer is entitled to as many changes in the farm policy as the world is to changes in our foreign policy, which as I understand it changes on the average of once every day and twice on Sundays, but what kind of people would the world think we had in Washington if we wound up on the last day of December with the same foreign policy we started out with on the first day of January? The same thing even applies from Monday to Friday.

Anybody can lay out a satisfactory foreign policy on peaceful days, just as it's easy to have a satisfactory farm program when prices are high, the weather good, and you've got an unlimited market for all you can grow, but you have no idea how worrisome it is to lay out a foreign policy in the morning and have to change it by the time the evening newscast comes out. There's nothing wrong with our foreign policy, it's just that the rest of the world isn't made to fit Washington has already seen that what its intelligence agents told it today can be one hundred percent wrong tomorrow, and a friendly dictator who took a hundred million dollars today with a cordial grin can turn up the day after with an empty pocket and a scowl. Naturally we've got to be able to change our foreign policy to meet such a situation, or otherwise we'd naturally be accused of being caught napping. A foreign policy that can't be changed every time we make a mistake would be one of the most embarrassing things on earth.

The same thing is true with farm policies. You've got to keep changing 'em, year after year. I'm not suggesting day after day, or it'll only result in standardizing the confusion. Confusion isn't nearly as bad if it keeps changing.

We live in changing times, and we've got to keep our foreign policies and our farm policies changing too. Well, maybe times don't change really, but as long as Washington doesn't know it, and every day is a brand new one to it as far as what's happening in the rest of

ONE OF THE most vital races in Saturday's Democratic primary is that of State Senator. There is much more involved than mere personality. Since the issues have been clouded by gossip, slander, false rumors and even defamation of character, the voter has a tremendous personal responsibility to sift truth from fiction, prejudice from objective appraisal, and fact from fancy.

WE ARE NOT supporting Senator Andy Rogers, the incumbent, because we think he is perfect, because he has pleased us all the time, because we think he is the only resident of the 30th Senatorial district capable of serving with ability and integrity. We are supporting him because he towers head and shoulder above the two men who now seek his place in the Senate. So completely objectionable are the other two men, in our opinion, that we would have to scratch both names if the name of Senator Andy Rogers did not appear on the ballot.

HERE ARE SOME of our reasons for having to support Rogers. He is the incumbent, having served only one complete term in the Senate, and it is our belief that an incumbent deserves re-election unless there is a good reason why he should not be re-elected. In the case of a Senator, seniority is of utmost importance. It would be extremely unwise for a district to throw its seniority in the Senate to the wind. Senator Rogers already has the job. We owe nothing to a person, even a friend, who covets the job of his neighbor. Secondly, anyone who studies Rogers' record carefully will soon find that he thinks like the typical resident of the 30th district. We have not always seen eye to eye with Rogers on every issue that has come up, in fact, on occasion we have attacked some of his decisions editorially—but we have approved his actions in a huge majority of cases. In voting, our choice is not to select the perfect candidate, according to our own specifications—our choice is to vote for the man who most nearly reaches perfection.

While Senator Rogers' batting average in the Senate is high, in our opinion, the voting records of his opponents are completely unpalatable in too many instances.

ONE OF ROGERS' opponents has represented big business interests, including the utilities monopoly, much more effectively than he has represented the farmers and small-town businessmen of the 30th district.

The other man in the race, when he was in the Legislature, voted for exempting utility companies from the license fee (required of other appliance dealers) for the privilege of selling gas and electric appliances, parts and repairs in towns of 3,000 or less. He voted for a two per cent gross receipts tax on soft drink bottles which Gov. Shivers offered. It was adopted 15-14, so his was the key vote. Later, the Senate reversed itself and killed this tax. He also voted to table Alkin's effort to reduce this bottle's tax to one per cent. Then Alkin tried to exempt milk from the bottle's tax and this candidate voted not to exempt milk.

THIS CANDIDATE introduced a bill to give the state a first lien on any property owned by old-age assistance recipients and to require that it be foreclosed on their deaths and the state welfare department would get back all they had been paid. This idea has been pushed by anti-pension folks ever since. He also introduced a bill regulating sale, distribution or possession of oleomargarine which hurts every cotton farmer. And most objectionable of all, he supported a two per cent state income tax proposal.

This is to say that Senator Rogers, the incumbent, is much better qualified to serve an agricultural district than either of his opponents. Ask any informed farmer who is familiar with REA and other major farm problems. Ask informed leaders of any farm organization who have had occasion to make trips to Austin in the interest of farm problems.

IN THE THIRD place, we would have to vote for Andy Rogers because the special interests groups, the gas pipeline group, the utilities monopoly, the anti-farm group, those who would like to have federal and state control of underground water, those who consistently try to keep the lid on Austin scandals, those who do not want practitioners of the healing arts controlled or licensed by the state, those who have proved themselves enemies of the Farm to Market road program, those who abhor independent thinking, those who try to tell legislators to get on their team or else they will have to smear them, all have combined to try to move heaven and earth to defeat Senator Rogers. Rogers has been threatened by these interests which warned him not to run. He was told to be a good boy, go back to Childress and settle down, and he wouldn't be hurt by the character assassins and gangsters who have a great deal of influence in Austin.

Perhaps Rogers would have been elected to go back to Childress and make a living for his family had he not been threatened as he was. But there is something in a red-blooded American that causes him not to yield to gangster tactics. So Rogers defied the warnings.

We need more men like Rogers in Austin, men who will put principle above politics, men who will not sacrifice honor or expediency. Men like Rogers are and will be in a minority for sometime, but at least they will speak out against corruption so we can hear. To fail to re-elect Rogers would not be a step in the right direction.

AND FINALLY, even if we did not have the reasons mentioned above for supporting Rogers, even if we did not believe him to be the best man intellectually, morally, and spiritually, we would have to support him because of the campaign techniques used by his opponents or supporters of his opponents.

This race, from the time it started with the mailing of anonymous smear literature has been one of the filthiest races in the history of Texas politics.

We have had "Port Arthur" type stories in circulation almost weekly since early spring. Some of the false stories planted here and there have been petty. Others have been outright libelous. They include, for example, the testimony of a former medical doctor who lost his license, who has served numerous terms in penitentiaries in several states including Florida, Maryland and Oklahoma, who is at present under indictment for performing an abortion in a Dallas tourist court, who perjured himself when under oath he voluntarily made statements a week apart in direct conflict, who was convicted three times for being a confidence man.

Yet there are those having an interest in getting Rogers out of the Senate who produce a completely false statement signed by this character in trouble up to his neck which they expect people to believe in preference to the word of Senator Rogers, other members of the Legislature, official records in Austin, and even newspapers and public officials who have not been particularly friendly to Senator Rogers. And, strangely enough, one of the men attempting to unseat Senator Rogers served on the House investigating committee and would have had access to the official records which, had they contained information adversely affecting the senator, would have made a perfect rope with which to hang Rogers. Yet, instead of bringing about the prosecution of Senator Rogers, had there been any basis for doing so, he does nothing about it. Either this man is guilty of negligence of duty or the whispered charges against Senator Rogers are complete fabrications.

ALL OF THESE false stories, planted and distributed, appeal only to "the moron vote" because of their utter absurdity.

As a Tulia pastor told us when we showed him some of the smear literature now in circulation against Senator Rogers, "When I see something like that, it spurs me on to vote for the man who has been slandered and wronged."

ARE WE TO assume that Rogers' opposition has so little to offer the voters of this district that they must base their campaigns on such things as the testimony of an ex-con, and a several-times loser, and also other stories of equal veracity? Andy Rogers' life is an open book. If there exists adverse information concerning his character not available to the public, certainly it has been available to those trying so hard to discredit him. They have proved during this campaign that they have keys to many doors in Austin.

The issue in this race is Andy Rogers and his record vs. a cesspool full of slanderous accusations. Let all honest men and women of the district turn a deaf ear to vile gossip brought out during the closing hours of a political campaign. Don't fall for literature and whispered reports published for morons.

Texas Farmer and Friend

The man on the left builds and plows the soil of a family-size Texas farm to provide food and fiber with which to feed and clothe the people of this nation and the world. To do this, he must fight the weather, flood and drought, erosion and insects, high prices for what he buys and low prices for what he sells. To live and farm and provide for his family and the nation, he must also fight an antagonistic administration in Washington, which wants to drive him off the farm to the city—where the same administration has provided an army of unemployed for him to join. The man on the right cannot do anything about the weather; but he helps his friend fight that antagonistic administration in Washington—as hard and as effective as any living man. The farmer's friend is Ralph Yarborough, United States Senator from Texas.

Special Milk Bill Signed By Ike For Schools, Day Camps

President Eisenhower has signed into a law a bill providing for continued operation of the Special Milk Program, which makes more milk available to children.

The program will be available to the more than 5,000 summer camps, day camps, recreation centers and other child-care institutions, and schools which plan to participate in it this summer. It will serve three-quarters of a million children. This includes the schools which hold regular summer session as well as schools which operate during the summer to make up for time lost during the harvest season.

Enactment of the bill, which extends the program for three years, also makes it possible for school administrators to make orderly plans for continued participation when schools generally reopen this fall. Last school year, more than 75,000 schools and institutions took part in the Special Milk Program, serving nearly two billion half-pints of milk to children. This was in addition to milk served under the National School Lunch Program.

"This is a good program," Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said. "It's good for children, and good for our farmers. And I urge everyone who is eligible to make full use of this program."

CITY BLOC VS. FARM BLOC

Important turning points in history sometimes occur almost unnoticed at the time, only to be recognized much later as marking the end of an era and the beginning of another.

It was a month ago that congressmen from city districts and from farming areas marched down the aisle to the well of the House to give their names and be counted for and against debate on an omnibus farm bill.

When the tally of "yeas" and "nays" was announced by the clerk city congressmen outnumbered farm congressmen by 214 to 171, and thus was born a new and powerful bloc, the City Bloc, in Congress.

The Farm Bloc had been defeated for the first time in history, on an almost straight division of rural vs. urban votes. It was the day that the farm states congressmen knew would come sooner or later, but it nevertheless shocked them.

Balance of Power

The defeat of a farm bill was not unprecedented, but the division of votes was. Democrats from 52 urban districts had defied their party leaders to join 161 Republicans to kill the farm bill. Only 21 Republicans voted with 150 Democrats for debate on the bill.

The balance of power in the House now has followed the overwhelming population shift to cities. Although a minority for the past 50 years, farmers have continued to get favorable legislation because they had no organized opposition.

From an approximately even division between urban and rural population at the turn of the century, farmers have dwindled to only about one-eighth of the national total of 172 million. Within a few years the percentage of farmers will be about one-tenth.

An analysis of the 435 congressional districts shows that in 280 more than one-half of the voters live in towns of 5,000 or more population. In those districts consumer interests are predominant.

Less Political Influence

The farm vote is of declining importance in national elections, and it is decisive only in a few states and congressional districts. There is increasing recognition in Washington of the importance of the "consumer vote."

Many of the congressmen who voted against the farm bill had an eye on the coming fall elections. They knew that, on a national average, 11 out of every 12 votes cast will be by people more directly concerned by food costs than by farm prices.

The City Bloc is only beginning to form as a united force in Washington. Organized labor has, so far, provided most of the leadership, but Secretary of Agriculture Benson has assisted in the revolt against the Farm Bloc.

His contention that the omnibus bill was a "monstrosity" which would add to milk and bread prices played a decisive role in defeat of the omnibus farm bill, and cleared the way for legislation more acceptable to him and most consumers.

Storage Furniture May Be Answer To Problems of Space

Do you need more storage space in your home? If so, Charlotte Tompkins, extension home management specialist, suggests

"storage furniture" as a possible solution.

Bookcases are the simplest storage furniture. Available in many sizes, they can be decorative as well as useful. They provide storage for books, magazines, records, children's toys, and hobby and recreation materials.

Chests of drawers are versatile storage pieces. If simple in design, they will adjust to the

New Facilities At Fair For Showing Art Exhibits

First major exhibit of the 1958 Panhandle South Plains Fair to open its entry books is the South Plains Art Exhibit, co-sponsored by the Fair and the South Plains Art Guild.

The art competition, annually one of the most popular shows connected with the fair, will feature new facilities, additional classifications and a host of new area talent", predicted Mrs. A. R. Lawrence, superintendent of the exhibit.

Scheduled to run September 29 through October 4, during the fair, the art exhibit will be located in the newly air-conditioned Women's Building, Mrs. Lawrence said.

Exhibit features will include arts and crafts, sculpture and paintings entered in three major age classifications: Advanced adult division, for artists more than 18 years of age, amateur or advanced.

Youth divisions for artists 13 to 18 years of age, and Children's divisions for entrants under 12 years of age.

Top prizes for adult division paintings will be $100 first, $50 second and $25 third, and additional commendation awards and honorable mentions.

Amateur painting awards will include a scholarship to the South Plains Art Guild's 1959 Summer Workshop valued at $27.50, and cash prizes of $10 and $5 for second and third place awards.

Cash prizes for top awards in furnishing scheme of any room in the house, including hallways. Look for simple lines and good construction. Drawers should slide well. Shallow drawers with adjustable dividers are especially useful.

Cabinets are the other main type of storage furniture. They are made with doors and adjustable and/or vertical dividers. Doors on cabinets present the same problems as doors between rooms. Swinging doors work easily and allow for storage racks on the inside of the door. However, they get in the way when open. Sliding doors have drawbacks, too. They open only part of the cabinet at a time and make it impossible to use the inside of the door for storage racks or hooks. Doors that roll may stick.

Radios, phonographs and television cabinets are now taking their places as units of storage furniture rather than isolated accessories.

Whatever the storage piece, it should fit smoothly into the space assigned, match or blend with the rest of the furnishings, and meet your standards for use, economy, beauty and individuality.

Weekly Cotton Insect Report

Scattered light to heavy rains fell in the area during the past week. Where no rain or only light showers fell, irrigation of cotton has been started in many fields. Following the rather severe wind burn, cotton is showing satisfactory growth and fruiting in most plantings.

Insects were reported present in increasing numbers in most fields. In a majority of fields populations were not heavy. While scattered plantings have been recently treated for control of insects, no locality has reported general use of insecticides.

Trips were present in light infestations on cotton in a majority of fields. Aphids were present in spotted heavy infestations in fields throughout the area. Natural agencies reduced populations on cotton in some instances.

Fleahopper infestations were reported light to medium on cotton throughout the area. While numbers had increased in many fields, only a small percentage of the cotton acreage has been treated. Since infestations may develop rapidly, planters should make regular inspections for this pest.

Bollworm eggs were present on cotton in small numbers in most localities. Cotton square borers are causing square damage in restricted areas in occasional fields. Cabbage loopers were reported in light infestations on cotton throughout the area.

In isolated areas, false chinch bugs have developed to large numbers in weed fields, roadsides, etc. Reports indicate that these bugs are emigrating to crops. Marginal applications of dieldrin, heptachlor, toxaphene, or malathion will prevent damage to field crops.

Christian Science Services

Fulfillment of Jesus' promise "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32) is a present-day possibility. This is a theme to be brought out in Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural texts and correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth".

Among the selections from Science and Health will be read the following (312:17-19, 24-26): "Mortals try to believe without understanding Truth; yet God is Truth. A personal sense of God and of man's capabilities necessarily limits faith and hinders spiritual understanding."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (25:5): "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee I wait all the day."

The purpose of the camp is to acquaint youth with God and nature more closely.

We've had it now for over a year and a half. The freezer has our blessing on both counts — it does save work and it does save money. It's wonderful for making use of extra food. Safety Week Proclaimed July 20

"The health, prosperity and well-being of our rural families are vital to the strength of the Nation and accidents suffered by rural residents result in thousands of deaths and injuries each year and constitute a serious social and economic problem." The proclamation announcing National Farm Safety Week for 1958, said President Eisenhower in his proclamation announcing National Farm Safety Week for 1958.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council suggests that a little checking be done in every neighborhood for the purpose of finding and eliminating accident hazards. "How many persons do you know who have suffered crippling injuries and how many cause of an accident?"

"Only by finding the cause and then making sure the same mistake isn't made by someone else, can we cut the farm and home toll of accidents," say the Councilmen. "Safety," they point out, "works for you when you work for safety." Don't tempt fate in '58 but put safety to work on your farm. It will save you time and money, and could save your life or a member of your family.

That important, conclude the Councilmen.

Persons allied with agriculture to prevent needless accidents," the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council has pledged their support to this campaign and join the President in requesting all persons and organizations interested in the welfare of farm people to participate in National Farm Safety Week activities.

In the United States last year, almost 13,000 farm people lost their lives in accidents and more than a million suffered injuries. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council suggests that a little checking be done in every neighborhood for the purpose of finding and eliminating accident hazards. "How many persons do you know who have suffered crippling injuries and how many cause of an accident?"

"Only by finding the cause and then making sure the same mistake isn't made by someone else, can we cut the farm and home toll of accidents," say the Councilmen. "Safety," they point out, "works for you when you work for safety." Don't tempt fate in '58 but put safety to work on your farm. It will save you time and money, and could save your life or a member of your family.

That important, conclude the Councilmen.

Don't tempt fate in 1958! Stop farm machinery accidents! Machinery accounts for almost one-third of the fatal farm accidents in the United States. In Texas alone, farm machinery accidents accounted for 22.4% of all fatal farm accidents in 1957.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Senator Lyndon Johnson

American forces were sent to Lebanon for one reason only—to preserve the independence of a strife-torn nation. The action was taken on the appeal of the Lebanese government. It followed a tragic series of events in the Middle East—an area of the world that is crucial in the struggle to maintain freedom.

The armed forces of the United States have been committed. At the present time, no one can foresee the future clearly. But, whatever the future may hold in store for us, the American people will be united. We will make it clear to the aggressors that this country is determined to maintain freedom in the world.

Free men are capable of attaining the highest form of unity and of meeting any test, no matter how severe.

The cold war continues. The basic communist objectives in this cold war is the isolation of the United States. The communists have made frightening progress during the thirteen years since the end of World War II. If they now succeed in their aim of isolating the United States, we will have lost the cold war.

And if we should lose the cold war, we will have lost just about everything that is important to us, except life itself, without a shot having been fired.

World trade is a potent weapon in the cold war between the free nations and the communist areas. In addition, the two-way flow of trade between the United States and other countries vitally affects the economic well-being of our people.

The Reciprocal Trade Agreements Program, up for consideration in the Senate this week, was initiated in 1934 and has been extended at regular intervals since then. It is an important and necessary program, one of tremendous importance to the Nation and of particular importance to Texas.

Many jobs in Texas depend—directly and indirectly—on the buying and selling of goods between the United States and other nations. These jobs are in industry, in agriculture, in the important Texas ports, and in business organizations that sell products and services to Texans employed in foreign trade occupations.

The one purpose of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Program is to increase the flow of commerce between the United States and other nations. It is based on the simple fact that if we are to be able to sell to other nations we must be prepared to buy from other nations.

The trade program works. The United States is now selling some twenty billion dollars' worth of goods annually to the rest of the world. And Texas, as a State where export-import trade is of great economic importance, has a very large stake in continuance of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Program.

Lone Star Agriculture

A TIME FOR BEING GRATEFUL

This time two years ago Texas was writhing under the effects of prolonged drought. Sections of the state had not for at least six years known the feel of beneficial rains. July was a crucial month in which we asked for all possible assistance from the federal government for our suffering farmers and ranchers.

This year, July is a time for being grateful. For the most part, Texas pastureslands are covered with grass, and drought-depleted livestock herds are well on the way to being replenished. We have just come through a most successful and rewarding grain harvest, and conditions are right for this year's cotton crop to overcome last year's miserable failure. Other crops offer similarly glowing reports, and for many Texas farmers the smile has returned to the sun-squint of the drought years.

Even in a good year such as this promises to be, farming is not all smiles, though, and it can never be.

Mingled with our blessings, we have our problems. The rain brings insects and other pests, but had we no rain, we would have no crops to be infested.

Our pestilence problems this year range from the irritating imported fire ant in East Texas and hordes of grasshoppers in Northwest Texas to the pecan-scapping walnut caterpillar in South Central Texas and a loathsome scourge of rats in Southwest Texas.

We have to fight hard to protect our crops and our livestock from these and other menaces. But we must also be grateful that we have something worth defending from them.

INFANT DEDICATION AT NAZARENE CHURCH

The pastor of the Church of the Nazarene will dedicate infants the coming Sunday morning, July 27, at the 11 o'clock service.

There is one candidate for dedication, and if there are other parents who desire their child dedicated they may bring them at that time.

At the 7:30 p.m. service of the same day the pastor will conduct a communion service.

VISIT PARENTS

REMEMBER WHEN?

by JOHN CROW

In this day and age when breaking through the sound barrier has become commonplace, 400 miles an hour doesn't sound very fast. But when it's done on land, it's fast . . . and the first time it happened it made front page headlines.

The driver was John Cobb. He already held most of the world's speed records, and he had brought his sleek racing car to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, for another try. There was a flock of reporters and news-reel cameramen on hand to see if the world's fastest driver could break through the "400" barrier.

On the southward run, Cobb pushed his car over 385 MPH. Then, on the return sprint, he pushed his foot to the floor. The needle climbed until it hit the incredible speed of 403.1 miles per hour! Another "unreachable" mark had been broken!

Remember the year?

That was a year when there were long waiting lists of people wanting to buy new cars. When they came through, a buyer took the extras that were on the car, and took the deal he could get.

The year was 1947.

Times have changed. When you buy one of our new CHEVROLETS, you can almost name your own deal. You CAN name exactly the extras you want . . . and you'll get a higher trade-in that will make your monthly payments easy. Make your deal now at—

Peaches Lead August Plentiful Food List

This year's crop of freestone peaches is king size—the largest since 1947. Present indications point to a national crop of 4 1/2 million bushels, nearly a fourth larger than last year, and slightly more than a fifth above the 10 year average.

This abundant supply has placed peaches on the PSDA's plentiful foods list for August, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service as a featured food. Other fruits carried on the list are fresh and processed lemons and watermelons.

Abundant supplies of potatoes and summer vegetables are also forecast for August. Tomatoes, sweet corn, green beans, lima beans, green peppers, cucumbers, lettuce and onions are among the vegetables expected to be plentiful next month.

The early summer crop is estimated at nearly 10 million hundredweight, or 6 percent above last year. Harvesting of the early

THE STEAL OF YOUR UNDERGROUND WATER THAT FAILED

Records show that in 1953 State Senator Andy Rogers of Childress and Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo introduced legislation IN SENATE BILL 126, which would permit cities such as Lubbock and Amarillo to CONDEMN one acre of your land ON ANY FARM, including yours, Mr. Farmer, and drill a well.

They could suck the water from under all your land! And there would have been no legal way you could have stopped them.

Rep. Leroy Saul

of Kress and your own Representative of Muleshoe saw the danger, and removed this deadly provision from the bill. The conference committee backed them up.

AND THAT IS THE REASON THE SENATOR'S EFFORTS TO STEAL YOUR UNDERGROUND WATER FOR CITIES OUTSIDE YOUR DISTRICT FAILED!

A VOTE FOR LEROY SAUL IS A VOTE FOR A MAN WHO WILL REPRESENT YOU!

Highway Patrol In New Style Uniform

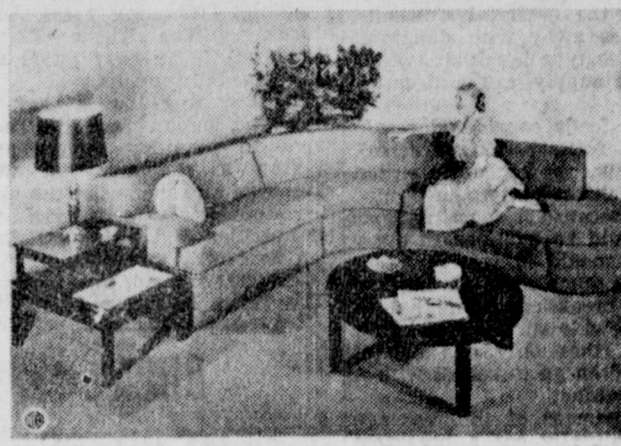

On July 1 of this year patrolmen in three divisions of the Texas Department of Public Safety appeared on our Texas highways in new uniforms.

Described as "Texas Tan" in color, the new semi-western dress for state law enforcement officers is a slight departure from the metropolitan look of the old uniform. The new dachon-wool shirts and pants, plus jacket for winter use, are currently worn by patrolmen in the License and Weight, Driver License and Motor Vehicle Inspection services of the Texas DPS. Texas Highway Patrolmen will make the change early in 1959.

For summer, the lawmen wear light weight straw hats with a western crease, and during winter you will see them in a western creased felt hat. Gun belts and shoes are black leather.

Up until the July 1 date, a variety of colors were noted in the uniforms of the various DPS officers. Highway Patrolmen currently have their blue shirts, beige trousers and short billed caps. License and Weight Patrolmen, in their old uniforms, wore western styled hats, light brown shirts and dark brown pants. Driver License Patrolmen wore billed caps with dark brown shirts and beige slacks. Motor Vehicle Inspection did not have a uniform. Along with this variety, there was an assortment of accessory colors.

The new uniform not only adds the Texas flavor, but gives a uniformity to the dress of state law enforcement officers that can be easily recognized by the public. The service to which the patrolmen is attached is named on the shoulder patch.

The need for a common dress became apparent when the Texas DPS adopted a modernistic plan of organization September 1, 1957 and law enforcement functions were integrated under six regional commanders and a field operations office. With this change, more emphasis was placed on unification for both efficiency and ease of the public.

The new gear is proudly enhanced by an attractive badge that was placed into use by all DPS officers in July 1957. The "Texas Tan" uniforms—a Texas product—adds a striking appearance for lawmen of the Lone Star State.

Today's Meditation

Read Mark 10:13-16. Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. (Mark 10:15.)

When my younger daughter was small, she used to say: "I want to wonder." Then she would ask about the things which were puzzling her.

When we grow up, we become so involved in worldly cares that most of us lose the capacity to wonder. We forget that Jesus said so definitely that only the childlike could enter the kingdom. Often we confuse the words childlike and childlike. It is with a mind full of wonder when confronted with the gospel and with simple trust in God's love that we find entrance into His kingdom.

The disciples must have been amazed when Jesus put such value on a child's attitude. Some of them were hoping for a good, safe job in the new kingdom. It was a long time before they understood what Jesus meant. But when they did, then they were able to live as Christ wanted them to do.

If we are to be converted and remain converted, we must have the childlike mind and heart. There is no other way.

PRAYER
O loving God, help us to become childlike in our daily living. May we never forget that this is the way of the Master. Let Thy love so dwell in us that we may be humble and content to let the Holy Spirit guide us in our Lord's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
May the childlike spirit be ours this day.

—Raymond W. Fenn (N. S.)

Attending the WSCS officers training school at Morton last week were Mmes. Tommy Galt, Cass Stegall, Leon Reeves, Cecil Cole, and Clint Everett. A salad luncheon was served by the Morton women.

the story of...

BILL BLAKLEY

LAWYER • RANCHER • BUSINESSMAN

Candidate for UNITED STATES SENATOR

The story of Bill Blakley is the story of Texas... the story of how a great State rewards the initiative, the faith, and the unlimited vision of a man who is willing to work hard. Born on the plains, he was a cowhand at the age of 14. Coming home from World War I he got a job as a bank clerk... studied at night to become a certified public accountant... and then trained himself for law. Today he is one of the nation's most successful businessmen... a farmer and rancher of the first rank... and a distinguished lawyer whose pioneer spirit of independence finds close kinship in the spirit of the State and the people he now seeks to serve.

BILL BLAKLEY BELIEVES THAT:

"The right to work — and the right to educate your children — without restraint, regulation or interference — from government, or private associations and organizations — must be re-established, protected and maintained — if this Nation is to continue to be the land of the free."

"The time has come when the people must regain control of the functions of government."

"Neither labor — nor capital — nor any private association or organization — should dictate the destiny of the American people."

"Bill Blakley has made an outstanding success of his own business affairs, and is the man in whom we can have the greatest confidence during these world-wide crucial times. This is no year for political ballyhoo."

DON'T SKIT BREAKFAST

Breakfast-skippers rob themselves of potential alertness and efficiency during the late morning hours. Dieters are wrong if they think missing breakfast is a practical way to lose weight. Research has shown that an adequate breakfast supply a fourth to a third of the day's total food requirements and make a good contribution of most of the essential nutrients. That goes away with doughnut and coffee type breakfast, which does not supply essential nutrients.

Basic foods considered essential are fruit, breakfast cereal, eggs, milk, bread and butter. This breakfast pattern is termed "basic" because it contains foods that should be included in every morning meal.

There's much room for improving our breakfast eating habits. A nation-wide survey reports, for instance, that only one out of five children go to school with a good breakfast.

Sixty percent of the teen-age girls habitually eat a breakfast entirely inadequate to their physical needs.

Boys need it too. Twice as many older teen-age boys have poor breakfast eating habits when compared with the younger teen-age group.

As for women, only about 40 percent of the women reported adequate breakfast; and only 56 percent of the men said they had good breakfasts.

Two of the reasons most often given for not eating breakfast are: "Not enough time" and "Have no appetite". Both are easy to overcome with practice. Go to bed a little earlier—in time to eat breakfast. Stimulate the appetite with a frosty glass of fruit juice or fresh fruit. If possible, prepare juice the night before, cover and chill.

Colorful table mats or dishes, a simple attractive centerpiece of fruit, flowers or a plant will also stimulate appetite and add enjoyment to this important meal. Arrange the table the night before and save time.

Start the day right... Take time to eat a good breakfast.

"Impulse Buying Is Costly"

Do you plan meals ahead and have a shopping list when you go to the grocery store, or do you buy whatever attracts at the moment? Impulse buying can be costly.

Here is why... Buying—because the food looks good, is attractively displayed, or suits your appetite at the moment, often rules out such considerations as price, nutritive value, amount needed, family preferences, and left-overs or other foods that you already have on hand.

Without a plan it is hard to resist tempting displays. But you can guard against costly impulse buying by planning meals ahead—at least several days to make best use of foods on hand and to stay within budget bounds.

Knowing the essentials of a good diet is necessary for meal planning. "The Texas Food Standard" is an easy guide for planning daily menus.

The shopping list is easy to plan after menus are made. Time spent in planning menus and making a shopping list will save time and money at the grocery store. It also will mean better nutrition and eating satisfaction for family members.

Call 2830 and ask for a copy of "The Texas Food Standard".

A Statement By W. T. "Bill" Millen

To The People of Bailey County:

Some people have wondered about my position in regards to the coming election. I have been called a Republican, and almost everything else. The truth is I have been neither a strict Democrat or Republican. I have always voted for what I thought was right, for the job.

But lately I have been increasingly aware of the grave dangers facing this state and nation as it accelerates with greater speed down the growing web of socialism. I have decided that we must choose sides in the two parties, and try to influence them in such a way as to promote good government for the people instead of dictatorial powers for a minority group. So I have chosen the Democratic party, as I think it represents the greatest sphere of influence in our great state of Texas.

This spring I have been to Washington twice, and have observed first hand how our states rights are rapidly being eroded into the muddy rivers of socialistic big government. I have seen the career Bureaucrats, that neither we nor Congress can hire or fire (but we, the tax payers pay their salaries) willfully misinterpret and administer laws directly opposite of the intent of Congress when passed. While we and our representatives stand helplessly by and wonder what to do.

Our only recourse seems to be only through the politics of getting through to the top men of the party in power the idea this is not good for the party and something ought to be done. Then the Bureaucrats will ease up for a few months only to continue their devious ways later on. The only ears that they have to hear is toward whoever has the most votes.

Who do you think has the most votes in the halls of Congress now? While most of us were electing a President the labor unions were electing the Congress. They now have over 190 representatives under their thumbs, and are spending millions to elect more. One Senator from Texas cost them $28,000. At the present rate of representatives and Senators to be elected to Congress, in a few short years we will have a labor government. With Socialistic liberal men such as Walter Reuther and Jimmie Hoffa calling the shots in our Government probably from the White House.

Study what a socialistic labor government has done for England. With its Social Security, Socialized Medicine, and Socialized Industry, with provisions from a benevolent government from the cradle to the grave, they have descended from a first rate nation to a third rate nation. Through taxation to carry out these starry-eyed pie in the sky propositions they have killed the goose that laid the golden egg, individual initiative and private enterprise.

You would think that in a country where agriculture was so small, that the farmers would be free, but not so. They can't eat their own eggs without government rulings, and if some government bureaucrat doesn't like the way you are farming your land, it will be taken from you and given to someone else to farm. You say it can't happen here.

After watching government bureaucrats operate I shudder to think what will happen to farmers when we have a labor government. Some farmers and farm organizations seem to think that you can play along with labor and get what you want, but they are sadly misguided. When we farmers went to Washington to ask relief from the unbearable formulas imposed on the bracer program through the manipulations of organized labor through the Government Labor department, such farm organizations' hands were tied.

Through the influence of labor their 1958 policies called for abolition of States right to work laws, create a minimum wage for agriculture, and to stop foreign labor from coming to the United States, an expansion of Federal Social Security benefits and the extension of unemployment compensations over a longer period. If these labor resolutions and policies are ever adopted, and they will be when labor gets control, the vegetable industry of the Hi-Plains will be nil.

When the domestics are Unionized and stoop labor from across the border is stopped, our era for raising vegetables is over. Farmers should face up to the fact that labor interests lie in cheap food and fiber. Whereas we as producers of these commodities want the highest prices consistent with a well balanced economy.

To this extent our interests are incompatible. We all know that the farmer is caught in a labor-led recession where everything he has to buy is priced out of the market by ceaseless demands for higher wages, and more fringe benefits at the expense of less productivity, which cost the farmer more, from farm machinery to silk stockings.

There is an organization in Texas, that I believe we should take a close look at. They call themselves the Democrats of Texas, or DOT's. The DOT organization was set up a little over a year ago by a group of liberal Democrats, labor leaders and staunch supporters of Senator Ralph Yarborough.

Mrs. R. D. (Frankie) Randolph of Houston, generous and outspoken contributor to Yarborough's political campaigns was made the first DOT chairman. Other officers include Alex Dickie, Jr., (Farmers Union), Denton, vice-chairman, and Creekmere Faith, Austin, Sec. Treas. Members of the DOT executive boards include Jerry Holleman, Austin, president of the state AFL-CIO, and Fred Schmidt, Austin, vice-pres. of the state AFL-CIO; also W. J. Durham, Dallas Negro attorney for NAACP.

This liberal-labor faction tried to take control of the last State Democratic convention by using labor union tactics, such as boos, rabble rousing, etc., but they were defeated. They are well represented in the counties of Texas, including Bailey. Many people are learning the truth, and many Yarborough areas have deserted the Senator because of his and the DOT's embracing of forced integration and the left wing of the Democratic party.

While in Washington I explained to Senator Yarborough, that organized labor had us over a barrel, and was denying us help from Mexico. He replied that maybe it wasn't labor that took our help for harvesting our crops, but it might be industry stopping our braceros, so we would have to buy more machinery to harvest our crops. How naive can some people get?

Therefore, it is the thinking of many people, including Gov. Price Daniels, that you, the qualified voter, are not fulfilling your citizenship obligations by merely casting your ballot. For unless you participate in your party precinct conventions Saturday, July 26, you may lose that vote, and all that it stands for. If you don't it is possible for a minority group or faction to grasp control of the entire machinery of the party.

In Texas, where the Democratic party is dominant, such a situation could be disastrous, so when you vote for a precinct chairman or nominate one, be sure of his political leanings.

A Real Tennessee Volunteer

The Volunteer State of Tennessee never produced a more attractive volunteer than Mrs. Dorothy Severance of Nashville—the "Mrs. United States Savings Bonds of 1958." She won the title over a levy of capable (and attractive) homemakers representing every state in the union at the "Mrs. America" finals in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. As an unpaid volunteer of the Treasury's Savings Bond Program, she will visit various cities during the year in the promotion of Savings Bonds and Stamps. Mrs. Severance needed no indoctrination following her coronation. She and her family have been regular buyers of Savings Bonds and Stamps over the years, and she's already one of the Treasury's best "salesmen." A graduate of Wake Forest College, she is author of two books. She is married to W. Murray Severance, a film producer for the Baptist Sunday School Board, and they have two small children.

Lone ★ Agriculture

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

How far have we come during the past seven years in Texas agriculture? I often ask myself that question.

And a series of impressions comes to mind all at once—recollection of the agency that was when I was first honored with this office and of the changes which have been effected since that time; a mental accounting of the new programs added to this department, of the work done, and of the work wanted; remembrance of the rough drought years just ended and of the efforts to secure and administer relief when no rain came; memories of other battles with weather and pestilence; and better memories of the other times when nature has been on our side.

A great deal has happened, then — both to us and for us. When it has happened to us we have fought it; when it has happened for us, we have been grateful. And while all this has been happening, we have been ad-

Chances are 18 to 1 that the driver of a tractor involved in a public road accident will die. With this poor chance of survival in mind, watch for approaching, fast moving vehicles in the rear. Pull off the right of way until they have passed, particularly if vehicles are also approaching in front. It is difficult to determine the slow speed of farm machinery on the road, and you may save the life of yourself and others. Be careful in operating machinery in the field, too, and be sure to caution your employees regarding these safety measures as well.

Farming is the most dangerous occupation in the United States. Only the farmer and his workers can change this, but we hope it will be done.

President Gilbert Kaltwasser came back from the commodity committee meeting held in Waco last week, urging Farm Bureau leaders and other farmers to wire Senator Lyndon Johnson immediately, supporting him, and urging passage of Senate Bill 4071. It was delayed a week, but it was believed that enough support could be gained to assure its passage this week. By the time you read this, the news will probably have revealed the outcome.

Texas, and other Farm Bureau leaders were in Washington, presenting petitions from farmers in an effort to gain this forward movement that would prevent drastic acreage cuts that would take place under existing legislation still in effect. Telegrams that we know about were sent by Kaltwasser, Hamilton, Bauer, Raymond and Walter Schueler, Patterson, Donald Christian, and Symcox. We hope there were many others, and believe there were, from this area.

We take this last opportunity to urge you and every other Services of the Texas Department of Agriculture have increased fully 300% over these years, services before unknown in Texas. Newer and better farm laws have been passed by our legislature until Texas ranks first among southern states in protective agricultural legislation.

Examples of this farm protection are the seed protective act, which requires accurate labeling of seed sold or offered for sale, the egg labeling and grading law, grain warehouse protection which provides for inspection and licensing of grain storage facilities, plant quarantine regulations to hold down blight and infestation, and numerous other equally important provisions.

So we have come a long way during these years toward betterment of Texas farming. But that doesn't mean that we have "arrived". On the contrary, there is still much to be done, and we ask only the opportunity to do it.

County Farmers Urge Action On Senate Farm Bill

Approximately 40 Bailey county farmers sent individual telegrams to Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough, Thursday and Friday, urging action on the Senate Agricultural Bill S-4071. This information was handed the Muleshoe Journal by Joe Sooter, one of the many farmers sending telegrams.

This intense interest was due to the fact that the Senate bill is the last hope for securing farm legislation this year. The House Agricultural Bill bogged down in controversy and was set aside. Congress is expected to adjourn by the middle of August and if Congress fails to reach agreements on this bill, then there will be no time to consider another new farm bill.

Without new farm legislation, cotton farmers will come under the old farm program which provides automatic cuts in acreage allotments of approximately 30% with an increase in price supports. The cotton farmers pointed out that this would be the ideal condition for the synthetic fibers to take over the textile industry and speed allotments further downward.

On the other hand, the Senate Bill provides an "A" plan and a "B" plan. The "B" plan is an optional plan, which the farmer may choose and, thereby, get a 40% increase in allotment over plan "A" but a 15% lower support price.

Many Bailey county farmers feel that, with an increase in acres, they can produce cotton more cheaply and keep synthetics from taking over their industry.

Weekly Cotton Insect Report

Cotton insects were generally reported in light infestations. The crop has made excellent progress in growth and fruiting in a majority of fields. No widespread use of insecticides was reported from any locality.

Trips were present in light infestations in all fields, but little recent damage was observed.

Fleahoppers were reported in light to medium infestations in all counties. Heavy infestations were reported in some fields in Hookley county. In a majority of fields the satisfactory set of fruit indicated little serious damage by this insect.

Cabbage loopers were found in a majority of cotton fields. Populations had increased over those of the previous week. In most cases infestations did not require control.

Beltworm eggs and occasional small worms were reported in most counties. Infestations were light, with no report of any necessary control measures.

Lygus bugs were present on cotton in small numbers in a majority of fields. The insects were reported in somewhat

I've been wondering what it would be like if there were no such thing as insurance. Not only would I be in a different business but most of our time would be spent worrying.

Some catastrophic events would befall us. Housewives would go about their work with their aprons pocketed filled with sand in case a fire broke out at home.

No one would dare drive their car on a public road... all the stores would probably close their doors... Maybe this is a slight exaggeration but it might not be... The person without adequate insurance wouldn't be at all foolish if he did the above things. It's becoming more important all the time to have a reliable insurance agent plan your coverage. To be sure... insure... CALL—
