Three Car Smash Up Stops Wedding Tour

Texas Highway Patrolman Jim Freeman, reports that he and Patrolman John Bentley investigated a total of seven accidents during the past week, most of them over the weekend.

At 12:45 Saturday morning on Highway 218, 8 miles north of Muleshoe, Raymond Leldon Falvado, of Route 2, Morton, had trouble with his tandem stock trailer. An axle broke, and before he could get it stopped, he had lost three wheels, and his trailer had come loose from the car. Total damage to his trailer and car was estimated at about $200. Within 5 minutes, at the same location, Freeman reports, Vidal Chacon Trevino of Bovina came along in a 1955 Ford and ran into the trailer. It was raining and he lost control of his car on the slick pavement.

He suffered about $100 in damages, with no personal damage.

At about six o'clock Saturday afternoon, they investigated a 3-car pileup at Earth. A procession of Latins, moving from the scene of a wedding about a mile north of Earth, to another place where they were to hold a reception. One car stopped at a signal light, and a car rammed him, then a third car rammed the second, in a series of bumper to bumper crashes. The drivers of the two rear cars were given tickets for following too close. The three drivers involved were Flores Cortez, 55 Chevrolet; Raul Flores, 56 Chevrolet; and Roberto Cortez, 56 Ford. Damages were estimated at $100, $350, and $300 to the cars.

New State Law Provides Suspension Of License After Four Convictions

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety cautioned today that a new state law provides for the suspension of the license of any driver convicted of four moving traffic violations within a 12-month period.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said the new law, passed by the recent session of the Legislature and signed by Governor Price Daniel August 5, for the first time defines the term "habitual violator". The definition is as follows: "The term 'habitual violator' as used herein, shall mean any person with four or more convictions arising out of different transactions in a consecutive period of 12 months, or seven or more convictions arising out of different transactions within a period of 24 months, such convictions being for moving violations of the traffic laws of the State of Texas or its political subdivisions."

Garrison said if a justice of the peace or other designated magistrate finds a driver to be an habitual violator, the Department of Public Safety is authorized to suspend the driver's license for any period up to one year.

The law also establishes detailed procedures for appeals of persons whose licenses have been suspended and requires the courts to give priority to the setting of such cases. It designates local prosecuting attorneys to represent the state in such appeals cases.

Texas Criminology Makes Milestone, Millionth Person is Finger Printed

A milestone in modern-day Texas criminology was reached this week as the Texas Department of Public Safety filed its one-millionth criminal fingerprint record.

Fingerprint card number 1,000,000 was that of a 15-year-old Dawson County negro boy who was arrested for theft and later released.

Veteran fingerprint expert J. H. Singletary of the DPS Division of Identification and Criminal Records performed the chore of stamping the historic, round number on the card.

Collection on criminal fingerprints began on August 10, 1935, with the establishment of the Bureau of Identification.

In attendance for the ceremony were Lt. Col. Joe S. Fletcher, Assistant DPS Director, who was one of the first Department fingerprint experts; and Joel Tisdale, Chief of the Division of Identification and Criminal Records.

In addition to the one-million representing subjects who have run afoul of the law across the state, there are more than a half-million "repeater" cards representing extra contacts. These cards are received from local law enforcement agencies at a rate of about 9,000 per month. All are kept on file for reference by local enforcement agencies.

This valuable storehouse of identification information is a vital part of the State and local criminal investigation machinery which is combating daily the steadily-increasing rise in crime. During the first six months of this year, major crime increased more than six per cent, with a 20 per cent hike in both murder and rape.

Gardoza, and Manuel Rico and Cano Salvados Perry, passengers all escaped the aerial performance with their lives, but the car was a total shambles. Parts, including the motor, were scrambled all over the area. Gardoza suffered cuts and bruises, broken bones and possibly internal injuries. The other two had only minor injuries, Freeman said.

Again, at 7 a.m. Sunday, 2 miles east of Earth, on the Springlake school road, Antastio Hipilita lost control of a pickup truck belonging to Milton Welch, and it ended up in a heap in the ditch. Vehicle damage was estimated at $300.

Monday, at 3:15 p.m. Eva Phillips Alsop of Muleshoe lost control of her car on the wet pavement east of town. She attempted to pass a car, and her vehicle began to skid, losing control of it, and it overturned. Damage to her car was estimated by the patrolmen at $200.

THIS WEEK

by AFTON RICHARDS

If you have never visited a newspaper office about two hours before press time—take our advice and don't. Every body on the staff, editorial and mechanical, has a bunch of last minute things that must be done, and sometimes nerves are high and tempers short. If one person gets behind, or out of step, it affects all the others. Sometimes under adverse conditions, it becomes a mad-house. So far we have found it not as bad at The Journal, as in many other places we could name.

But last Thursday there was a happy diversion. About noon a couple of nice-looking young ladies brought in a delicious coconut cake, with a card saying "Thanks to the Muleshoe Journal staff for your efforts in behalf of the Bailey County Farm Bureau Queen Contest", and signed "Mrs. D. Burelsmith for the Queen's Committee." Our bookkeeper, Polly Ottwell brought down her electric coffeemaker, and while we put the finishing touches to the weekly edition of The Journal, we enjoyed coffee and cake. Pretty nice, we say. Thanks a lot.

Did you ever stop to think how much different things would be in this world if everyone was absolutely honest and trustworthy? As little as you might think, it would almost disrupt our whole economy.

First, there would be no need for officers. That would put at least eleven people in Muleshoe, directly out of a job, along with several others associated with them indirectly. There would be no need for courts. That would put at least three judges, and a number of attorneys out of employment. Also, the public records would be unnecessary, and here several other families would be out of work, including court clerks and abstractors.

Also eliminated would be jails, and their custodians, locks, safes and nightwatchmen.

When all of these people were put out of jobs, this in turn would slow down the sale of automobiles, auto service and repair, body shops, clothing stores, hardware stores, grocers, and just about everyone in town and the country. What a thought! If everyone in the country suddenly became honest and upright and dependable—our whole economy would have to be changed—but wouldn't you like to see it tried?

The first sign of fall is here. If you have been around the school grounds lately, you have heard the sound of the whistle, and seen the football flying around in the air.

Coach Callan, the other coaches and about fifty boys have been hard at it all week, twice a day, getting going on the new season. The time has been spent in conditioning drills, learning and brushing up on the fundamentals, and learning plays. No contact work has been done. The workouts so far have been done in shorts. This writer was out one morning this week watching the maneuvers, and everyone concerned seemed to have a lot of enthusiasm. The coaches were talking constantly to the boys, giving the elementary rules of blocking, throwing, running, shifting, footwork, and such like. The boys were listening carefully, and seemed to want to get it all down, and do it the right way. Soon they will be putting on the blocking pads, and the other gear, and getting down to the rough and tumble bodily contact, and on September 4, the wraps will be taken off and the new season will be under way.

We have been intending to write a news story for the past three weeks about the hot weather—but it has been so awful hot, we just have not felt like writing it. Maybe in a couple of weeks it will cool off. Reckon?

We caught James Freeman, local Highway Patrolman, on his day off recently, in his office catching up on his bookwork, and had quite a lengthy chat with him.

If you think the life of a patrolman is all roses consider his activities the past week. He put in a hard day Saturday, going home at 2:30 Sunday morning, tired and ready for the bed. At 4 in the morning he was called out to investigate a wreck. About the time he finished that one, he had to go to another one. While they are supposed to work a certain number of hours per week, they are subject to call 24 hours of every day—and many times are called. Actually he has no time he can really call his own.

Freeman was telling us, off the record, of some of the situations he is confronted with, in his official duties, where he has to mix in quite a bit of what we would call "common horse sense" in interpreting the letter of the law.

It seems to us that a great many people have the wrong attitude toward all types of officers.

If a person is peaceable, and law abiding, then an officer of what ever rank, or branch of duty he may be in, is your friend, and is on duty in your interest.

When we get in our car, and are driving down the road, obeying all traffic laws, we are always glad to see a patrol car, or any other type of officer. But most people seem to have a guilty complex. If we are driving down the road, and even see a car with a radio tower on it, we automatically let up on the gas.

The only time any person should resent the presence of an officer, is when he himself is beyond the limits of the law.

Highway Patrolmen will continue to have their hands full until people gain more respect for our traffic laws. Most people who drive too fast, are not worried with the fact they are breaking the law, but they are simply concerned with whether or not they might get caught. Our best citizens, as a group, violate the speed laws about as much as anyone else.—Which just proves to this writer, that perhaps we need to take another look at our laws.

Color Trends For Fall

Vivid color effects give way to subtleties this fall. "Muted" is the word often used in writing and talking of colors. Quiet, gentle, grayed, subtle, rich, deep and beautiful are other adjectives used to picture colors we'll be seeing in fabrics and ready to wear.

Yellow and brown are doing much influencing. A golden amber added to beige, for example, gives a warm vicuna. A faint touch of it in blue gives us the flattering Teal. In greens, it makes soft moss and lichen green, in reds it creates paprika. Muted gold, represented by Mustard Gold, camel, vicuna, and the nut tones (pecan shell, for one), are strong with yellow brown influence. Sun Gold, or sparkling gold, will be important for accents and for evening wear.

Gray makes the new colors smoky—taupe brown, heather green, mist gray. The grays are important in their own right and are seen in everything from medium or men's gray to oxford—and on to almost black charcoal.

Reds are influenced by yellow or blue. In the first category, we have paprika and brick. In the second, burgundy, plum, cranberry, mountain berry and candy apple. Some bright reds will be used in young clothes, bearing such vivid names as Red Hot, Scarlet and Fire Engine.

Greens are more muted than they were last year. There are new subtle versions of olive and forest green and loden; such greens are much used in the Ancient Tartans and in other plaids and prints. Deep blue greens are destined for dress wear, especially at holiday celebrations. One small note of brilliance in this category, parrot and emerald will make sharp accent trimmings and accessories.

Blue with a green cast, as in Teal, is very much in the picture. Sapphire blues, clear, sharp electric blues and inky blues will have a favored place in junior apparel. Purplish versions are high fashion, especially for dress wear.

It's going to be a great time for black, particularly combined with the burnished browns and golds. These will be important for formal wear.

Paula Jean Kindle Becomes Bride Of Bobby Merle Foley August 14

Paula Jean Kindle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kindle of Maple, became the bride of Bobby Merle Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Foley, Sr., of Littlefield, Friday, August 14 at 8:00 p.m.

Rev. J. W. Smith of Floyd, N. M., read the double-ring ceremony at the Maple Baptist Church before an archway entwined with green fern and wedding bells. Masks of White gladioli and orchid asters, and candelabra holding white tapers decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown, styled and designed by her mother. The bodice was chantilly lace over satin with a scalloped neckline that formed a V in the front and back. The long sleeves extended into points over the hands with small covered buttons at the wrists and also down the back of the gown. The skirt was floor length and gathered to the bodice to flow fantastically over crinolines. A knee length tunic of chantilly lace was scalloped at the hem.

The bride's veil of illusion was held with a crown of pearls, and came to a point in back and was edged with clipped lace from the wedding dress.

Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid on a white ribbon given to her by the mother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Jerry Damron, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore an orchid nylon chiffon over taffeta dress styled with a scalloped V neckline, short sleeves, and full street length skirt accented with pearl centered bows and ribbon streamers scattered over the skirt. She wore a picture hat of chiffon and tulle, white gloves and carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli.

Bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Klutts and Mrs. Freddie Parkman of Littlefield. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor.

Jimmy Foley of Littlefield, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Freddie Parkman and Paul Barker of Littlefield were groomsmen. H. L. Martin of Childress and Art Foley, Jr., of Littlefield, brother of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

Bobby and James Kindle, brothers of the bride, lighted the candles. Joey Kindle, brother of the bride, and Marsha Owens of Littlefield carried the rings.

Sarah Jo Wallace of Morton sang "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Gene Parkman of Littlefield.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kindle chose an orchid lace over taffeta dress with beige accessories and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Foley wore a powder blue silk linen dress, white accessories and also a white carnation corsage.

A reception in the home of the bride's parents followed the wedding. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over orchid and decorated with the attendants' arm bouquets. Grace Seals of Childress, aunt of the bride, served the cake, and Linda Stooksberry of Littlefield, poured punch.

Donna Shepard registered 95 guests in the bride's book.

Mrs. Foley is a 1959 graduate of Three Way High School and is now employed with the Littlefield Hospital. Foley graduated from Littlefield High School and served 24 months in the armed service. He is with the Ford Motor Company in Littlefield.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple will reside at 817 W. 3rd St., in Littlefield.

For traveling, Mrs. Foley wore a beige dress with red accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Christian Science Services

How the understanding of God as divine Mind brings health and harmony will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

John's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the impotent man at the pool of Bethesda (Ch. 5) is presented in the Bible readings. The Lesson - Sermon is entitled "Mind."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (339:25-28): "The basis of all health, sinlessness, and immortality is the great fact that God is the only Mind; and this Mind must not be merely believed, but it must be understood."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (147:5): "Great is our Lord, and of great power; his understanding is infinite."

JIMMY DWAIN IVY WILL ENTER LAW SCHOOL

Alfalfa A Many Purpose Crop

Alfalfa is a crop of many uses, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. It is important for hay, seed pasture, soil improvement and as a honey crop.

They says the supply of high quality alfalfa hay never seems to be adequate. It is an excellent pasture for hogs, but is used mostly in mixtures with grasses for cattle and sheep. It is one of the best soil improving crops and is used extensively for this purpose.

Alfalfa does best on fertile, well drained, neutral to alkaline soils of medium texture. With applications of lime and plenty of fertilizer it is being grown on some acid, sandy soils of East Texas.

The most widely adapted for Texas are the "Common" varieties—Texas, Southwestern and Barstow. They are the best forage producing varieties north of a line running east and west through College Station and San Antonio.

Ranger and Buffalo are grown in the Rolling and High Plains for seed production but have no advantage there over the "Common" varieties from the standpoint of forage production. The prostrate varieties of alfalfa have not been successful in Texas, he says.

Fall is the best time to seed alfalfa and the seedbed should be firm, clean, and moist. Seed may be planted in dead stubble in areas where wind or blowing sands are likely to damage young plants. Use plenty of phosphorus and potash and be sure you have enough calcium. A soil test will determine these needs, Trew adds.

When seeding alfalfa you should drill 15 to 20 pounds of good seed per acre. The seed should be certified and should be inoculated immediately before planting. And finally, Trew cautions, don't plant alfalfa on land infested with cotton root rot.

Today's Meditation

Read Psalm 92.
The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree... Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God. They shall still bring forth fruit in old age. (Psalm 92:12-14.)

Old Jamie was a man about ninety years of age. Son of slaves, he could tell a long, dramatic, and moving story of slavery. I met him in Luanda, when I was a student in the Evangelical Mission. Every Saturday afternoon Old Jamie would sweep the back yard of the mission or around the church building. Everybody respected and admired him. What a dedicated Christian life he led!

PRAYER

Teach us, O God, to dedicate our lives to Thee and to Thy work. Use us as instruments in Thy hands to bring help and encouragement to others. Renew our hearts for Thy honor and glory. We pray in the name of Christ. Amen.

Alva Lee Shofner, James Peeler Are Wed In Impressive Ceremony

Mrs. James Peeler

Alva Lee Shofner, became the bride of Mr. James D. Peeler Sunday afternoon, August 16 at 4:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church of Muleshoe. Wedding vows were solemnized before a kneeling altar centered between candelabras holding soft pink tapers; altar rails banked with greenery and an arrangement of fuchsia and pink gladioli placed on the communion table.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Clarence Stephens of Highland Heights Methodist Church in Sweetwater.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shofner of Route 2, Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Peeler of 406 Austin, Muleshoe.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of white imported illusion featuring a bodice of imported chantilly lace, sweetheart neckline outlined with iridescent sequins and seed pearls, and short sleeves complemented by mitts. The full skirt, with rows of lace, fell into a graceful chapel train. The bride's shoulder length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a tiara of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She also wore a tiny pink cameo belonging to her grandmother Kemp, a gift from her grandfather Kemp on their wedding day 44 years ago—as "something old." For "something blue," Miss Shofner wore a garter made by Mrs. W. H. Awtry of Hereford; and a new penny in her shoe given to her by Mrs. Lula Peeler of Wilson, grandmother of the groom. The bride also carried a lace hankie belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. H. M. Shofner, as something borrowed.

The bride carried a triangular designed bouquet of phloxes accented with dainty pearls and diamond dust, designed for her by Rita Peeler, sister of the bridegroom, of Lubbock.

Miss Jeanette McGuire was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Misses Sandle Weeks, Melba Johnson, and Sandra Briscoe. These attendants were attired in soft pink gowns of silk organza over taffeta fashioned with portrait necklines, shirred sleeves, and full pleated skirts, complemented by dyed to match satin shoes and shorty gloves. Tiny pink tearas attached to nose length veils of silk tulle completed their ensembles. Each girl carried a single long stemmed fuchsia rose.

Misses Rhonda Ragsdale and Terri Hall, cousins of the bride, served as flower girl and ring bearer. They were dressed identically to the bridesmaids. Parents of the children are Mr. and Mrs. Mack Ragsdale and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hall. Jerry Blaylock served as best man. Groomsmen were Royce and Doyce Turner and Stanley Myers.

Candlelighters were Misses Polly Briscoe and Naomi Watson. They wore pink silk organza over taffeta dresses and wristlets of pink carnations.

Wedding music was played by Miss LaVon Copley at the organ and Mrs. Mack Ragsdale sang "Because," "Walk Hand In Hand," and "The Wedding Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Shofner was attired in a caramel colored lace dress complemented by bone shoes and bag, beige gloves, and sequined hat. Mrs. Peeler wore a beige dressmaker suit with bone accessories and matching hat. Both ladies wore a corsage of white orchids.

Be Sure Car Is Road-Worthy Before Taking Off On Long Trip

AUTSIN, Aug. 20 — "Going on a trip during the Labor Day weekend? Has your car been safety checked?" These questions were asked of Texas motorists, today, by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, who added: "Remember this: Drivers who check first... leave from the best drivers can have an accident with a car that is in poor mechanical condition." Musick said that people seem to get carried away in a "welter of carelessness" during holiday periods, thus making these the most dangerous driving times of the year. "With Labor Day just around the corner," he said, "it means that many Texans will be making short, vacation and trips before school bells start ringing." Musick pointed out that 49 persons died in Texas traffic accidents from Friday through Monday, during the 1958 Labor Day weekend. This doesn't include deaths from other causes such as drownings, airplane crashes, etc., which will come close to matching traffic accidents in total number of fatalities. For an all-around Labor Day safety check suggested the following precautions: 1. First of all, a good healthy feeling of common sense with a constant awareness that there is danger in nearly everything you are likely to be doing. 2. If you will be on the road, ways that the atlas you plan to cover in one day's driving and be prepared for heavy holiday traffic. 3. Get an early start and please do not occasionally. 4. Keep your speed down, but don't be a slow poke and, of course, don't drink and drive.

March of Dimes Emergency Drive

State March of Dimes chairman Gordon McLendon, recently reappointed by National Foundation president Basil O'Connor, has called for additional help for "broke" Texas chapters who now owe one-half million dollars, mostly to hospitals in the state.

Shown here at a recent March of Dimes meeting, he is explaining to Clara Foran of Corpus Christi and foreign exchange students Francoise Loup of France and Josette Thonnard of Belgium how American teens gain insight into community action by participating in the March of Dimes and National Foundation chapter activities.

"Texans will respond freely with dollars," he said, "to save lives and to help bring those crippled by paralytic polio back to meaningful living if they know the facts and know that the money is wisely spent."

McLendon is president of the McLendon Corporation which operates stations KLIF in Dallas, KILT in Houston, KTTA in San Antonio, and others.

Yarborough Bill Changing Korean G. I. Rights is Signed by Pres. Eisenhower

President Eisenhower has signed into law a bill by U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough which permits some 7,000 Korean War veterans to secure additional education or training under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Senator Yarborough's measure corrects a technical error in the Korean G. I. Bill to allow qualified veterans a change of program to secure an higher degree in their chosen field.

For example, qualified veterans enrolling in college to become teachers in many cases set a bachelor's degree as their educational objective. Other veterans planning the same course of study set their objective as a master's degree.

Under the original law, even though the veteran might be qualified for additional educational benefits, if he had mistakenly set a bachelor's degree as his objective under certain circumstances, he was not permitted to go on to college to work on his master's degree.

Senator Yarborough's bill, S. 906, gives veterans the opportunity to have a change of program in their original field of training or education.

Sandhills Philosopher Glad To See That He And Eisenhower See Eye To Eye On Nikita Trip

Editor's note, The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has discovered a similarity in his and the President's thinking, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I guess I'm just as human as the next man and I don't mind admitting it makes me feel good to see the President of the United States backing me up in one of my viewpoints.

Some thinker in Washington, probably the one who sent that refrigerator that scotsa around the kitchen floor at the touch of a push-button of he American exhibit in Russia, pertaining it's representative of America, came out with the idea that President Eisenhower ought to end the steel strike before Premier Khrushchev gets here for his visit. Said we wanted everything functioning smoothly when the Russian big shot gets here.

President Eisenhower scoffed at the idea, saying what would it hurt if Khrushchev saw a strike? Why pretend to something we're not? Besides, it might do the dictator good to see American workers can strike if they want to, it's something Russian workers can't do.

This is exactly what I've been saying for years, though not about visitors from foreign countries. I've been saying it about visitors from around here.

Who should I cut the weeds in my front yard just because some in-law who has managed for the downpayment on a new car is coming out Sunday to sponge a free meal off me?

Me and President Eisenhower see eye to eye on this thing, that is, I'm not saying his farm at Gettysburg has weeds in the front yard, he may have more time for chopping weeds than I have, but we both agree that we've got nothing to hide in this country. If my front yard suits me from Monday through Saturday, why spruce it up for visitors coming Sunday? If a man's kids aren't already pretty well behaved, combing their hair's not going to fool anybody.

Let ole Khrushchev come on over and see us like we are. I don't know why he's coming, some experts figure he has a deep, dark, sinister motive in coming, and maybe he has, but on the other hand, he may be just coming for the trip. A man can get bored with enslaving small countries and sending your fellow-countrymen to Siberia. If I lived in Russia, I'd like to get out as often as I could too.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Soil Bank Rate For Texas Set

College Station—Texas farmers will receive a basic rate of $12 an acre under announced plans for the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank for the 1960 crop season by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A tentative goal of 542,000 additional acres was also announced for the State.

Principal changes listed for the 1960 Conservation Reserve in the U. S. D. A. announcement include regulations relating to publicly owned land, tenure of ownership, method of setting payment rates and the determination of priorities are received than can be accepted.

Land owned by a state, county, town or local government will be ineligible for the program. This rule is already in effect on federally owned land. Land which has changed ownership (except through inheritance) since December 31, 1956 is ineligible to enter the program in 1960.

If land under a 1960 Conservation Reserve contract is sold, the contract generally may be assumed by the purchaser only after it has been in effect for three years.

The priority system of accepting applications has been modified to assure first consideration to farmers who were unable to participate in the 1959 program because of lack of funds.

Detailed information as to the application of these and other changes to individual farm situations will not be available in county ASC offices until mid-August, stated the USDA announcement.

This will be the fifth year of the Conservation Reserve program. If farmers contract for the expected 5 million additional acres in 1960, the total acreage in the program next year will be approximately 28 million.

Babson Discusses Old Furniture As An Investment

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 20—Many of my readers will be visiting their old homesteads during the summer. I urge them to go up into the attic and see what it contains in the way of discarded furniture. There may be something of value which was brought from New England by your grandparents or great grandparents.

Story of A Poor Teacher
 When I first met Miss Helen Terrell Cooke she had browsed $1,000 to start a small private school for girls at Wellesley, Mass., which she named "Dana Hall".

Around that time I started a small school for boys in Wellesley. Miss Cooke and I became very good friends, helping each other in many ways. She came to me one day and asked if I had any ideas about investments for a "poor school teacher". She added that she had been thinking of buying old furniture, of the proper periods, believing that this would gradually become more valuable. I agreed that her plan seemed wise. Thereupon she started to put her savings of a few hundred dollars a year into carefully selected old mahogany furniture secured from old attics, auction rooms, and wherever she could find something which could be properly restored.

Some two years ago Miss Cooke passed on to a better world and left this furniture to Dana Hall (which has become a very well known institution). As the school is now raising money for new buildings, the Trustees have decided to auction off this old furniture and other treasures—for which Dana Hall should get around $100,000.

Stuffed Furniture of No Value
 The fact that a thing is old does not necessarily make it valuable. Stuffed furniture—however old—is of little value; old books, in general, sell at auction for perhaps 20c each; and old pictures have little value. But if the furniture is made of mahogany and is of the right period, it makes little difference how badly it may be broken. An antique dealer can usually replace a missing part.

Another thing to look for is old glass. Unfortunately, copies have been made by modern glass makers which are now sold in the dime stores. Almost every grandmother, however, has a few pieces of actual Sandwich glass. A set of half a dozen of these goblets should be valuable even if your grandmother is still using them in her kitchen.

Certain kinds of old fashioned jewelry have a good market, but such items should be appraised by an accredited jeweler. Any diamonds acquired over fifty years ago would have to be recut in order to be salable today. Old gold and silver, however, always have a value, selling by weight. An antique dealer is usually interested also in old brooches even if they did not cost much at the time. Modern costume jewelers have not copied all of these brooches because of the labor involved.

Stamp Collections May Have Value
 Many young people collect postage stamps. I saw an album the other day which had only two stamps of any worth out of a collection of five thousand, but these two stamps are valued at several hundred dollars each. Foreign stamps are not often worth much. The World Wars have upset foreign countries; furthermore, some of the newer countries are constantly printing new issues in order to sell them to collectors, and this disturbs the foreign stamp market.

I advise interested young people to confine their collection to U. S. stamps. Old letters found in attics may have some old United States stamps on them that could be sold at a good price to an honest dealer. Probably your public library has a stamp catalog which will give you a price quotation for each of these U. S. stamps.

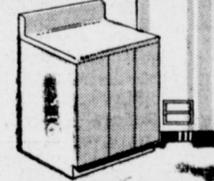

What Causes Inflation?
 The government can always print more money. Therefore money in the bank or elsewhere is not a good hedge against inflation as it may become slowly but constantly of less value. An inflation hedge should be something whose supply cannot be increased—such as oceanfront property and underground resources. The same principle applies to old mahogany furniture, Sandwich glass, and old U. S. postage stamps. This is a good test to apply when buying anything for your home.

Two Chevy middleweights prove their rawhide stamina!

Top hands on high-country hauls!

Ask any trucker who's been over Wolf Creek Pass, 10,850 feet up in the San Juans: a 9-mile pull to the summit and low gear all the way down. Mr. C. H. Phillips of Alamosa, Colorado, has a 6403 and a 6503 Chevrolet truck that are up over this route the year round, taking sheep and beef to pasture, later marketing the stock in Denver. In less than a year, his Chevy middleweights have averaged about 50,000 miles of this kind of treatment—and they're going stronger than ever!

Watch Chevy trucks at work out in range country. It's a sight to see the way they pack into high-up mountain pastures and handle through brush and rock like a cowman's favorite cutting horse. Take any truck work for that matter. Chevy middleweights probably handle a bigger variety of jobs than any trucks alive. About anything you name, including work that used to be reserved strictly for bigger rigs. When a truck's built the way a Chevy is, lean-muscled and rawhide-tough, it takes to ugly trails the same way most trucks roll over the highway. It just keeps going, without a big to-do, but looking good every mile of the way. How they do it is your Chevrolet dealer's department. He'll be glad to supply details and specifications on the type of models you need.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!
