"Impulse" Buying Is Costly
Do you plan meals ahead and have a shopping list when you go to the grocery store, or do you buy whatever attracts at the moment? Impulse buying can be costly!

Here is why. Buying—because the food looks good, is attractively displayed, or suits your appetite at the moment, often rules out such considerations as price, nutritive value, amount needed, family preferences, and left-overs or other foods that you already have on hand.

Without a plan it is hard to resist tempting displays. But you can guard against costly impulse buying by planning meals ahead—at least several days to make best use of foods on hand and to stay within budget bounds.

Knowing the essentials of a good diet is necessary for meal planning. "The Texas Food Standard" is an easy guide for planning daily menus.

The shopping list is easy to plan after menus are made. Time spent in planning menus and making a shopping list will save time and money at the grocery store. It also will mean better nutrition and eating satisfaction for family members.

The Texas Food Standard
For a good diet you need daily:

- 1 quart milk.
- 1 egg, 1 serving meat, including poultry and fish.
- 1 serving potatoes, 1 serving green or yellow vegetables.
- 1 other serving vegetables, 1 serving citrus or tomatoes, raw cabbage, strawberries or melons.
- 1 other serving fruits.
- 1 serving whole grain products. Other enriched cereals and bread.
- Butter or margarine. Some sweets.

More of the above or other foods—6 to 8 glasses of water.

Why Make A Will?
Do you know what would happen to your property if you died tomorrow? Would the settlement of your financial affairs cause family quarrels or dishonesty?

Besides avoiding quarrels and reducing the cost and time for settling financial affairs, a will has other advantages, according to extension economists and home management specialists. It means that an executor can be named, a guardian designated, if necessary, and a testamentary trust created if needed. It means, too, that your property can be distributed in line with your wishes.

Making a valid will is not difficult, but it must be drawn to comply with the requirements of the law. For example, two witnesses are necessary. They must be more than 14 years of age and should not be beneficiaries.

"ORTHOcide Soil Treater X gave me a perfect stand of cotton..."

says cotton grower Virgil Burnett of Brownfield, Texas

Referring to last year's conditions, Mr. Burnett adds: "This was in spite of cold, wet soil during planting. The soil temperatures averaged 56 to 59 degrees which is pretty cold for cotton. ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X more than pays for itself in stronger plants and more of them. It gave me strong early season growth and an earlier harvest."

ORTHOcide Soil Treater X is the best insurance against the high cost of replanting. It creates a protected zone in the furrow allowing the tender seedling to develop normally in spite of cold, wet, infected soil. The early maturity and better stands which result can bring greater profits from higher yields of top grade cotton.

Read why a Transite Irrigation System quickly pays for itself

Transite Pipe is quickly, easily installed using your own farm labor.

Save time. With a Transite Irrigation System, feeder and lateral mains are buried and out of the way of farm equipment. There's no needless moving of pipe from field to field. . . . and no pipe storage problems. You use every square foot of acreage for farming.

Save water. Transite's Ring-Tite Coupling is your best protection against costly leakage. The same Transite coupling used by so many U. S. cities and communities for water systems. Within the Ring-Tite Coupling, two hard rubber rings are compressed and locked in grooves — provide a tight, lasting seal.

Save fuel. Feel the interior of Transite Pipe and you see why water flows through it with no turbulence. This means fuel savings, no overworking of pump, to keep water flowing to your crops in full, steady volume. This fuel saving advantage continues year after year because Transite can't rust. Its interior stays smooth!

Informative, new booklet gives you the irrigation facts you need. In eight interesting pages, it clearly describes irrigation methods. Tells why some systems are more profitable, have more time. Describes advantages of Transite Pipe. . . . shows why it can be installed easily with your own farm labor. Please us for your free copy today!

TIPS ON DRIVING

Observance and Enforcement

Observance and enforcement of traffic laws are the keys of American highway safety.

A magic carpet that takes you anywhere you desire to go from New York to Chicago, Miami to Los Angeles. The traffic laws are for your safety.

Twenty-six thousand people were killed in 1956. Most of these could have been prevented by a little observation and perhaps some enforcement. Some of these were due to the weather conditions, but just a little judgement or courtesy could have prevented some of these accidents.

The American people are said to be the most traveling people in the world. Yet we also have the greatest death toll due to car accidents.

Some small things like checking rear view mirror or blind spots could mean the difference of having or not having a fatal accident.

Many people want more enforcement but when they drive on the highway, they seem to expect the police officers to say, "What difference will it make speeding. He's just one guy in all those hundreds."

A man once said, "When people begin to act on the open highway like people at a church social, the death toll will go down."

Many enforcement officers in some places let people get by violations because they have some personal dealings with them. Yet, these officers of the law are the very ones the people elected to keep their roads and highways safe.

Many people always seem to think it will be someone else that will have the accident, but it might be one of their friends or family.

When the American people realize that safety is their responsibility, they will slow down to live and let live. Then surely we will have the golden keys to a safer tomorrow.

Kenneth Powell Enlists In Air Force Here

Kenneth W. Powell, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Powell, Route 4, Muleshoe, enlisted in the Air Force recently.

Powell and his wife, Charlene, lived in Earth until recently. The past few months they resided on the Powell farm where Kenneth was farming with his father.

Powell's Air Force life begins at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, where in basic training he will learn military customs and courtesy, drill, the mission of the Air Force, aircraft identification and other related subjects.

He was enlisted initially in the "mechanical" career area and at some time during his first weeks of basic training he will be interviewed by a classification specialist. During the interview he will express personal desires and indicate whether or not he has had specific training. The aim of the tests and the classification interview is to "get the right man in the right job."

After basic he will be assigned to either a tech school or "on the job training" at an Air Force Base. In either case he is on his way to becoming a specialist in the Spage Age Air Force.

Mrs. Bill Culver, Mrs. Leo Faulkner and Sabrina have returned to their home in Truth or Consequences, N. M., after visiting in the E. K. Angeley home.

Christian Science Services

The spiritual relationship of God and man will be set forth Sunday at Christian Science services.

Selections to be read from the Bible, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement", include this from I John (4:15, 16): "Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God. And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us, God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (18, 1-5): "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage."

BUSINESS AND RELIGION

Abson Park, Mass., April 16 have recently received a letter entitled "A Look Into the Future", forecasting boom and inflation ahead. It is written by the editor and staff of the leading investment advisory services. One Subject Omitted This famous writer does not say any word about the moral and nonreligious conditions of the nations. This criticism applies to most of the writers on the future business outlook. President Eisenhower and his Army Chief of Staff are the only prominent people in Washington who are now doing so. Members of the Cabinet and Members of Congress act as if these great moral forces are now out-dated and only "fogies" worry about them. This is a serious situation. This subject is discussed in a book published by Fleming H. Revell Co., of Greenwood, N. J., entitled "Fundamentals of Prosperity". I have also discussed the matter in another book, "Religion and Business". When times are good, these books have a good use, but in times like today, when fundamentals, however, should not change with time. The Ten Commandments apply today as they did thousands of years ago. In substance, they are recognized by religions. Now, with radios, planes, and other means of quick communication and transportation causing a constantly smaller world, these Commandments must be more realistic. It may be we are entering a so-called "New Era" when morals are not counted and churches become social clubs; but I don't doubt it. I further believe that what has happened during the past 150 years should be known by business men, whether or not history is to repeat itself. So here goes! What Economic History Teaches In 1789 General George Washington was elected first President of the U. S. This country then consisted of only a few states, all very poor and constantly harassed by Indian Wars. There was much unemployment and considerable discontent. Conditions, however, gradually improved until 1812 when we again got into war with England. As usual this spruced up agriculture and general business. Following peace with England, our nation witnessed its first employment boom—which reached its height in 1827. This boom was under the conservative administration of Thomas Jefferson, the Adamases, James Madison, and James Monroe. During this first era of prosperity, there developed unemployment, dishonesty, graft, and inefficiency. This reaction was followed by the election of Andrew Jackson in 1828, the first "turn to the left". The moneyed interests lost confidence and business declined further until 1837 when we experienced our first real business panic. This caused a reform in government and economic conditions which continued until 1861, when the War between the States started. Following this war, U. S. Grant was elected President and prosperity continued, but with accompanying dishonesty, graft, and the ruthless "carpet bagging." This resulted in the panic of 1873 and the depression which followed. 1874 Until After The Spanish War The panic of 1873 brought people to their senses. Government became more honest, business more efficient, labor leaders more reasonable, and personal morals improved. Again the economic situation advanced greatly for about the Church. Since 1789, abnormal prosperity has always resulted in eras of godlessness; these eras have been corrected only by unemployment and a return to godliness. This is an example of Newton's Law of Action and Reaction. Perhaps the present-day brokers, bankers, industrialists and politicians can suspend this law. But based on all economic history (since Joseph's 7 years of plenty followed by the 7 years of famine) this economic law of Action and Reaction has been as dependable as the Law of Gravity. Let me also refer readers to their Bible's Eighth Chapter of Deuteronomy. For preaching on this text my incoester, the Rev. John Rogers, was burned at the stake in London in 1551 during a period of English speculation and so-called prosperity.

Today's Meditation

Read Acts 2:37-42. You shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. (Acts 2:38). One day I was walking across the famous Boston Common. I was somewhat surprised to see a building with this sign: "Holy Ghost Chapel—Air Conditioned—For Rent."

This temporary chapel had been abandoned for a more magnificent one elsewhere. Nevertheless, the abandoned chapel was to me a vivid expression of the attitude of our generation toward the doctrine and—what is more important—the experience of the Holy Spirit. Too often in our times we have left empty the place which the power and presence of the Holy Spirit ought to occupy in our lives and in the life of the church. Pentecost ought to be a major Christian festival in the church. Nothing would be more fruitful for these days than a thoughtful recovery of the experience and power of God's indwelling Spirit. How much needed He is if we are to carry out God's will and way for this generation!

PRAYER Come, Holy Spirit, come! Come as the fire and burn! Come as the water and cleanse! Come as the wind and refresh! Convict, convert, and consecrate my great good and to Thy greater glory." In the name of Christ. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY "We cannot go forward unless we go deeper in spiritual empowerment and dedication." —Clarence F. Avey (Mass.)

BLAST A HARBOR!

Sandhills Philosopher Alarmed Over New Trend Among Politicians To Destroy Science of Government

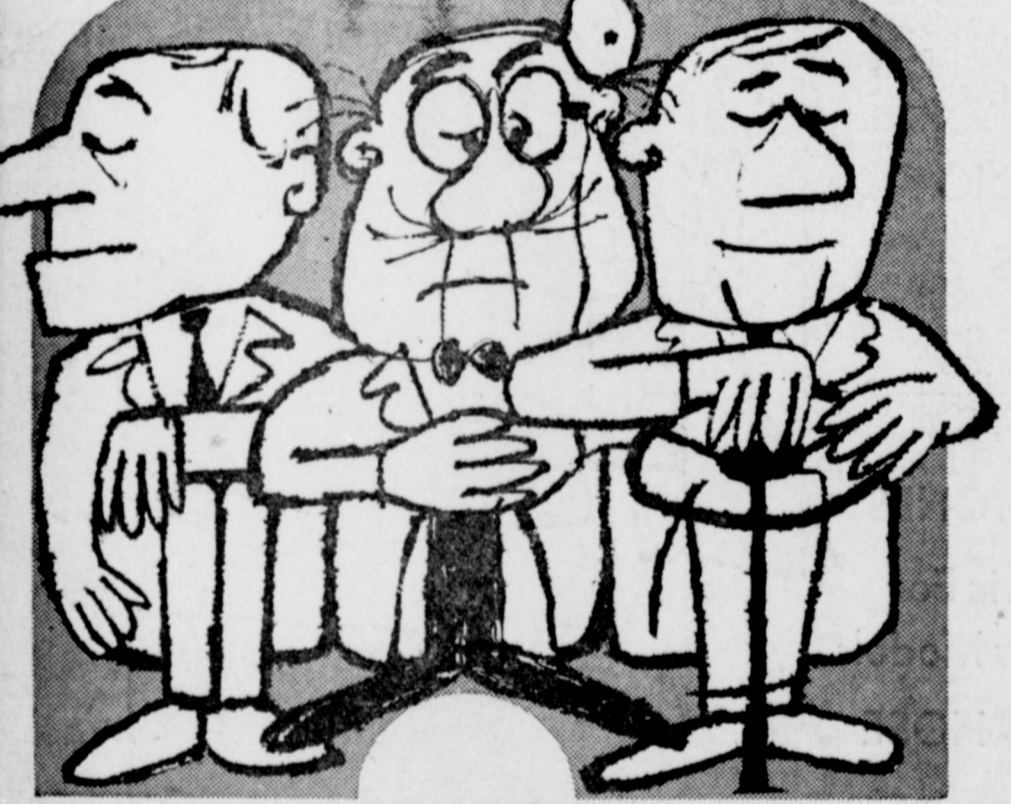

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may have his tongue in his cheek this week, although you can't tell. It may be his foot. Dear editor: A new fad is developing among politicians that has me worried and it ought to be worrying everybody else. If it keeps going, the science of government will be destroyed. It works like this: a delegation of citizens, say school teachers wanting a raise, a Chamber of Commerce wanting a new project, etc., goes before Congress or a state legislature committee or the city government or some other government outfit and lays out its requests. Then some official pops up and says all right, you want us to spend this money, we're willing, but where would like us to raise it? Name the tax you'd like us to vote to cover this new expense. As far as I'm concerned, this undermines the whole idea of democratic government. Thunderation! If we have to tell a politician what we want, and then tell him where to find the money for it, what's the use in having politicians in the first place? How many politicians do you think would ever get elected if the campaign promise was, Vote for me and if elected I'll give you anything you want if you'll show me where to find the money for it? It's sort of like telling a farmer he can have as high a price support as he wants for his crops if he'll deposit the money in the bank to pay for it. It's like telling an airplane you'll subsidize it if it'll increase its income tax enough to pay for it. It's like telling your son you'll send him thru college if he'll furnish the money. It's like going into a bank for a $500 loan and having the banker tell you he'll let you have it just as soon as you put $500 in the bank. Better make that $530 to cover the interest. The danger in this whole thing is that it strips an officeholder of all his magic. Government is supposed to be a science and who ever heard of going up to a scientist and asking him to make a car that'll run forever on one tankful of gas and then being told he'll be glad to if you'll tell him how to do it. If a government can't furnish more services than the people are willing to pay for, what's the government for? We've got to stamp out this new fad quick before it spreads any further. Govern-

AN IRONY OF THE CENTURY

This has been a century of medical milestones. Since 1900, life expectancy has risen from 47 years to nearly 70 years. Since 1900, the nation's population has doubled. But the number of Americans 65 years old and over has more than quadrupled—from 3,000,000 to 14,000,000. Among Americans 65 and over, most killing diseases of the past have been effectively controlled. Since 1900, influenza and pneumonia deaths have declined nearly 80 per cent in persons over 65 while tuberculosis deaths have been reduced by 85 per cent. The cancer death rate, on the other hand, has risen 91 per cent since 1900. And unless this rate is checked, the annual death toll from cancer will double within the next 50 years. The disease already claims 255,000 Americans a year, half of them 65 and over. By 1975 the number of Americans over 65 years old is expected to exceed 20,000,000. Must we be resigned to a formula which states that more life is equal to more cancer? Obviously not. The problem of cancer has a solution. This disease will be overcome as other dread afflictions have been overcome. If cancer has lasted longer, it is proof only that more must be done to conquer it. More research is needed. That means more scientists, more equipment, more centers for training and instruction. Public education must be stepped up. The cancer patient needs more and better care. Our doctors need more information on the best means of diagnosis and treatment of cancer. To achieve these objectives, the fight against cancer needs more money. How much more? As much as it will take to eliminate cancer as a major killing disease. That would be an attainment, cheap at any price. The goal of the 1959 Cancer Crusade is a vital one. The goal is unlimited. No price should be put on the lives of the 40,000,000 Americans who will some day get cancer. Let all of us give all-out support to the American Cancer Society for its unlimited drive against cancer.

Washington News Letter From Lyndon B. Johnson U. S. Senator

Dear Friend: The Nation's aged—those 65 or older—are increasing at a rate of 400,000 a year. For one thing, people are living longer. The life span of the average American has been increased from 49 years in 1900 to 70 years today. The potential length of the average American's working life is increasing also. But—for many people—the days ahead offer little but time on their hands. This is a squandering of one of the Nation's most valuable resources. It is a waste of talent, training, vast experience and needed skills. I suspect that only a fortunate few find real satisfaction in ending a lifetime of work. For most of us, there is no substitute for work as a source of personal satisfaction and a feeling of achievement. An honest day's work is the foundation of a lifetime of habit, and is the heartbeat of a person's skills and accomplishments. As a Nation, we recognize that work is a science and it ought to stay that way. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Plastic Measures Only Preventative New High In '59 Texas Traffic Toll

Governor Price Daniel told city and district attorneys and Attorney General Wilson's annual law enforcement conference in Austin this week that unless drastic measures were taken, the highway death toll for 1959 could reach a new high. Asserting that the Texas legislature has "a golden opportunity" to pass traffic safety and general law enforcement legislation of top-rank importance, the Governor stated that the 1959 highway death toll is already 13 per cent higher than for the period last year. With your help and the aid of all Texas law enforcement officers, our citizens and organizations, we saved 197 our legislators you need these additional tools to improve law enforcement in Texas," the Governor said. "I believe the Legislature will listen to you. In the past, the Legislature has given us better laws with which to prevent crime and improve law enforcement. I believe our legislators want to provide whatever we need, but it's up to us to let them know what we need." The Governor continued: "Laws alone will not solve the problem. We need strict enforcement, driver education and continued improvement in highway engineering. Above all, those of us who are parents must do a better job of training in our own homes, schools, churches, and communities." The Governor complimented the county and district attorneys on their cooperation with his highway safety crusade and told them this was one of the important phases of law enforcement which needed both immediate and continued attention. "There can be no better contribution to Texas," the Governor said, "than to take part in a campaign like this which saves lives in Texas."

Urgent To Find Cure for Cancer, Chairman Reminds Public At Drive

The number of lives saved by a cancer is directly related to the number of dollars raised by the American Cancer Society's Crusade which opened Monday according to M. Gunstream, chairman of Bailey County campaign.

An accelerated program to increase the number of cancer cases can succeed if given enough public support, Mr. Gunstream said.

He need is not only urgent, but critical, he said. "About half of all cancer patients being cured today but this rate could be improved by 50 percent, if enough effort is made," Gunstream said.

He explained that American Cancer Society authorities pointed out that at least half of all those who get cancer could be cured through early detection and prompt, adequate treatment.

This is a job the American Cancer Society can do," he said. "If enough funds are available."

Money raised in the Crusade, Gunstream pointed out, is put in three ways, to further the Society's nation-wide research program, to disseminate public and professional information about the disease, to provide service for cancer patients. The slogan of this year's Crusade is "Guard your life—Fight cancer with a checkup and a check." As in previous years, President Eisenhower has proclaimed the month of April as "Cancer Month."

Mr. Gunstream said that community volunteers will disseminate informational material through regular health checkups as the best protection against needless death from disease.

Our Crusaders will be ringing doorbells to give as well as ask," he explained. Foremost among the facts about cancer disseminated by the Society are the "seven Danger Signals" of cancer, which are: 1. Unusual bleeding or discharge; 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; 3. A sore that does not heal; 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits; 5. Hoarseness or cough; 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; 7. Change in wart or mole. If your signal lasts longer than two weeks, go to your doctor to learn if it means cancer.

New Information On Integration In Swine Program

"Vertical integration in Texas Agriculture—Hogs," is the title of a new bulletin released jointly by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Integrated hog production is in the experimental stages of development in Texas. Most interest in integration has been on the low-income farms of the feed-lacking East Texas timberlands. Broiler producers who are looking for other sources of income to offset the effects of narrow cost-price margins on broilers are greatly interested in integrated hog production. There has always been mild interest in integrated hog production. There has also been mild interest in integration among farmers who produce their own grain.

Vertical integration is defined as the linking together of two or more stages of production, processing or marketing activities under one management. The key feature of vertical integration is the centralization of decision-making, risk-bearing and supervision.

There are three types of hog integration. They are: the farmer owns or obtains his pigs, and the feed company finances the feed; if the farmer raises his own grain, the feed company finances everything, other than buildings and labor.

Plan A is the most common in Texas. Few farmers producing hogs under contract raise their own grain. Most feed dealers consider Plan C too risky. At the present time one to two percent of the commercial hog producers in Texas operate under some type of contract with a feed or packing company or both.

The bulletin also discusses future developments, precautions in making contracts and entering into integration.

Fiftieth Annual Cotton School At A&M In June

Each summer for the past 50 years a cotton school has been held at Texas A&M College. The 1959 school will again be conducted by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology during the six weeks between June 8 and July 17.

Professor J. M. Ward says the purpose of the school is to provide training for persons who expect to enter the cotton trade; to growers who desire to learn how to market their cotton more profitably and to buyers who wish to review grade and staple standards or become more familiar with the elements of quality in cotton.

Instruction will be given on cotton grading, stapling, determination of cotton properties and cotton trade procedures. Most of the time, points out Ward, will be devoted to actual practice work and discussions. A few lectures by visiting specialists will cover various phases of production, marketing and processing of cotton.

Ward says that an announcement booklet is now available on the school and that copies may be obtained by writing to him, J. M. Ward, Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department, A&M College, College Station, Texas.

Cotton Growers Advised To Cut Growing Costs

"Cotton Producers have made their final decision on their 1959 allotment, either plan A or B," C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist said, "and unless disaster occurs, growers know the exact acreage they are permitted to harvest."

He said proper fertilization, good stands, control of weeds, and effective insect control are some important considerations in getting the highest production at lowest cost from the cotton grown.

Plans should be made to use every practice that will help to reduce unit production costs, as lower costs per bale of cotton marketed will mean greater profit for Choice A and B producers alike.

In some areas the importance of certain practices rank higher than others. Cotton growers should check with their county agricultural agent for local practice recommendations, Bates suggested.

Like other enterprises, cotton deserves the best management that can be given, he said.

Extra attention to cost-reduction practices are especially important this year, advised Bates, since price support levels are below those for 1958.

Yield Programs Planned For Corn, Sorghum

Efficient farm production means getting the maximum acre yield at the lowest possible cost and that is what hybrid grain sorghum and corn producers will be striving for in 1959, says Ben Spears, extension agronomist.

Spears has just announced that production programs involving the use of Texas developed hybrids will be continued for another year. In the case of grain sorghums, they are Texas 601, 611, 620, 660 and RS 590, 610, 630, 650 and 608. The corn hybrids which must be used include Texas 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, or 17W.

As in past years, the Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will sponsor the production programs.

Spears said details on both programs have been mailed to all county agricultural agents in Texas. He suggests that interested producers pay a visit to the local county agent's office for the needed information.

Separate divisions have been included in each program for dryland and irrigation farmers. The State has been divided into five areas and awards will be made to the top producers in each. Special recognition and awards will go to the outstanding producers in the state.

Spears points out that some changes have been made in the programs and suggests that interested producers become familiar with them as soon as possible.

Know Your Seed Is Bulletin Topic

"Know the Seed You Buy" is the title of a new bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The bulletin points out that the use of high quality seed is basic to successful farming. Farmers may irrigate, use high rates of fertilizer, follow good insect control and other production practices, yet high yields will not result unless good seed of a well adapted variety are planted. Money invested in quality seed is good insurance since no crop can be better than the seed to which it is planted. Low priced seed often are of low quality.

The purchase of certified seed is the best guarantee of the purity of the variety that you want.

Seed with the Texas Certified Seed label and seal should mean that the seed has these characteristics: the seed were produced in fields properly isolated from other fields of the same crop, essentially all rogues or off-type plants were removed from the field prior to blooming, the seed are free from noxious weeds and essentially free from seed-borne diseases, that the seed trace back directly to the original seed of the variety, and have a satisfactory germination.

The bulletin discusses Texas Tested Seed Labels, Texas

Certified Seed labels, knowing your varieties, selecting the variety, how to buy quality seed, seed treatment tags, buying the seed on appearance, miracle varieties, and when to buy new seed.

The bulletin can be obtained from your local county agent or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. Ask for L-420.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

AFL-CIO Union Leaders have demanded that congress revise Federal wage and hour laws to provide a seven hour day, 35 hour work week for an estimated 20 million American workers. If labor insists that the 35 hour week should command the same income as the 40 hour week, the cost of manufactured items bought by farmers would increase approximately 12 per cent.

Texas Farm Bureau is sponsoring a farm labor meeting in the Town House Hotel in San Angelo beginning at 10:00 a.m., Friday, this week. The purpose of this meeting is to try to prevent extension of the wage and hours law to include agricultural and retail workers. Several Farm Bureau leaders from this area will be in this meeting, and you are urged to be there whether you belong to Farm Bureau or not. Chambers of commerce will be represented, too.

Gilbert Kaltwasser, who has served as Farm Bureau president since July of 1955, stated in directors meeting last week that due to health and other reasons he felt he must resign. He felt, he said, that he should step aside as president, although he would continue to be active in every way he could.

Kaltwasser has, without a doubt, traveled more miles in behalf of Farm Bureau people than any other president since its organization in Parmer County. Issues affecting the farmer are increasing and Gilbert was always present when a meeting was called anywhere in the country to try to solve a problem. Vice-president Jack Patterson was instructed to select a nominating committee to replace Kaltwasser. Patterson did not feel that he could fill the vacancy the balance of the year.

Roy V. Miller, chairman of the wheat committee took most members of the committee and others to Dimmitt Monday night to attend a meeting in the interest of wheat farmers.

Kenneth Neill contributed the hay for the stock show, and Roy Miller, FB Secretary.

Treasurer, sent his truck to bring it in. Farm Bureau has been securing bedding for these projects ever since we can remember, and sometimes it becomes quite a job. One year we had to go out and bale it from the wheat fields ourselves.

Vega, Texas, Man Reports— 5000-pound Maize, Using Ammonia

Dan W. Berger, prominent Oldham County farmer, says: "Even with what I consider a light injection of Phillips 66 Ammonia—80 pounds per acre—I averaged 5000 pounds per acre on my grain sorghum last year. On a De Kalb 5-acre contest plot, I harvested 6400 pounds per acre.

"This experience sold me on Phillips 66 Ammonia. I plan to use 120 pounds of ammonia on my grain sorghum land this year; 100 pounds on my wheat."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Children May Not Work On Farms In School Hours

With the coming of spring planting, Texas farmers were reminded today that while the Fair Labor Standards Act permits children of any age to work on farms after school and during vacation, it prohibits farm work by children under 16 during school hours.

This reminder comes from Dallas' William J. Rogers, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Public Contracts Division, the agency which administers the Act.

He said that the child-labor provisions apply to local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike. The only exception to the law is in the case of children working exclusively for their parent or legal guardian, he added.

To make sure of the age of any young worker he hires, the farmer should ask for and obtain an age certificate. These certificates, which serve as proof of age for purposes of the Act, can be obtained in Texas from the Texas Employment Commission, as a public service.

The child-labor provisions apply to farmers whose crops go either directly or indirectly into interstate or foreign commerce. Mr. Rogers pointed out that a farmer must observe the law if he has reason to believe that his crops—either in their original form or processed—will eventually cross State lines.
