Junk Car Ordinance Is Adopted By City Council

City of Tahoka has passed a new ordinance making it unlawful to store or leave junk cars or parts thereof on lots, streets, or alleys within the city limits except in certain cases, and setting a fine for such violation not to exceed $200.00.

The act does not apply to bona fide automobile dealers, garages, or properly fenced wrecking yards operating within commercial zones of the city.

Junk cars are defined as "motor vehicles or any part, fender or chassis thereof, not in operable condition and which have no current license plate or which have a license plate more than one year old."

Property owners with junked vehicles on their property, within the meaning of the act, will be given 10 days notice by City of Tahoka to remove them, and in the event that they fail to comply with this notice, the Chief of Police is authorized to remove such vehicles and declare such persons in violation of the ordinance.

Many people have complained, The News is informed, about junk cars detracting from the looks of the town. The City Council adds that such junk constitute a hazard to public welfare, safety and health.

The ordinance was approved Wednesday of last week, July 6, and is now in effect.

City Approves New Addition

Tahoka city limits will be extended by about 10 acres when the new Country Club addition being opened by Oscar C. Roberts at the west edge of town officially comes into the city after the necessary public hearing set for Tuesday, July 19.

Sewer and utility lines have been extended to the addition, and streets are now being paved. About 2,000 linear feet of paved streets 55-feet wide are involved as North Second and North Third streets are each extended 630 feet west, and about 700 feet of Avenue U is being paved from North First to North Third. However, a one-block gap is being left from North First to Brownfield Highway.

1930 Model Tractor Restored, On Display At J. K. Applewhite's

Jimmy Applewhite and force have restored to new-like condition one of the old original 1930 model regular Farmall tractors, and has the machine on display at the tractor house beside one of the late models.

"Old Farmalls never die—at least not for 36 years," bragged Jimmy Monday afternoon when Denny Poik cranked up the "new" 1930 model, which kicked off into a "cadillac" like purr on the second light yank on the crank.

Applewhite acquired the old tractor six or seven years ago and few weeks ago decided to restore it to original factory specifications. International Harvester sent him some original name plates and decals, the machine was cleaned up and repainted, but Denny claims he hadn't touched the motor. Originally, the factory claimed 18 horsepower at drawbar for the machine.

The tractor has steel wheels, front and rear, although lugs have been removed to keep from scarring up the showroom floor.

Some farmers say the 1930 tractor brings back some fond memories; others say the memories are not so fond—for fighting this iron wheel giant down a cotton row was not quite so easy as with the modern tractors.

Cotton Doing Fine, But Feed Burning

"Yard of Month" Will Be Selected

A "yard of the month" in Tahoka will be selected for a prize in each of the next four months to promote town beautification by Tahoka Garden Club, according to Mrs. D. R. Proffitt, secretary.

Selections will be made for July, August, September, and October by a committee of judges and announced in the paper. No formal entries are required, as judges will tour the town each month inspecting premises of homes.

A tree will be given each month as a prize, and two honorable mention selections will be made each month. However, the same person can not win first place but once.

Winners will receive their trees in time for planting on Arbor Day next winter.

Residence premises will be judged on overall landscaping and beauty but not necessarily on expensive or elaborate plantings.

Idea for this project to encourage town beautification was advanced last year by Mrs. E. R. Edwards, now of Temple, states Mrs. H. R. Tankersley, Garden Club president.

This winter, the club also hopes to promote the planting of more trees in Tahoka, and is suggesting that more rebud trees be set out since this tree does exceedingly well here.

Also, the club is encouraging the planting of crepe myrtles, since these also do well. This planting is part of a state-wide program of garden clubs in honor of the late Clarence Poe, who was until his death editor of Progressive Farmer.

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

E. R. BLAKNEY HAROLD PAYNE
ELMER OWENS BOYD BARNES
JIGGS SWANN

A large portion of the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District land has been diverted this year. Something must be done to protect this idle land from the hazards of wind erosion, says Fred Graff of the Soil Conservation Service.

Farmers have the opportunity to protect this land in a variety of ways. Where a skip row pattern is followed in planting cotton, such as 2-in-4-out or 4-in-4-out, forage sorghum can be planted in the late summer. If planted late they use little moisture when cotton is maturing out. They will produce needed residue to protect the soil and also aid in restoring organic matter. They have an advantage over cover crops such as rye, wheat, or barley because they are dormant in the winter and do not use moisture needed for the next year's crop.

Cover crops may also be sown to these blank rows in the fall. This is an ideal way to protect the soil from wind erosion and also aids in adding needed organic matter. In the spring when these crops begin to boot out and use large amounts of moisture they can be killed.

When managed on the soil surface, cotton burs may be used as an excellent means to retard wind erosion. They also reduce evaporation and act as a sponge in absorbing water. To aid in decomposition of burs or other large amounts of residue it is recommended that nitrogen be added.

The motto of the nation's more than 2.2 million 4-H'ers is "to make the best better."

Education Vital Factor In Income For Lifetime

(Special to The News)
New York—The average young man residing in Lynn County who is just starting out to make a living can expect to earn close to $195,000 over the next 45 years or so.

Such is his lifetime income prospects, based upon the amount of schooling he has had, the economic environment in which he lives, his probable life span and other factors.

The most important of these is education, according to the findings of various governmental and college bodies.

From that standpoint, the Lynn County resident is in a good position because the education level, locally, is higher than in many areas of the country and is constantly rising.

At the present time, the median amount of schooling being acquired by local men is about 9.8 years, 6.7 percent more than in 1960.

According to figures compiled by the Department of Commerce, some 12.7 percent of the local male population over age 25 are elementary school graduates, another 16.9 percent have completed four years of high school and 3.7

percent are college graduates. Studies by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center and others show that each added year of school produces greater income for the average person throughout his entire working career.

The current differential between an elementary school graduate and a high school graduate is about $60,000 in lifetime earnings. By the same token, the average college graduate has a $180,000 advantage over the high school graduate. These figures were quoted recently by President Johnson.

As a result, millions of adults in the United States have been returning to school in their spare time, taking courses to improve their basic skills and knowledge.

Some guidance is given to the parents of new-born children who want to start saving now so that they will have enough money at the end of 18 years to send their children to college.

By putting aside $25 a month in a bank that pays 4½ percent compound interest, they will have $8,300 for the purpose when the time comes.

Face the Music Show At Church

"Face the Music", a new teenage dramatic film spectacular by Gospel Films, Inc., will be shown tonight, Friday, at 7:30 in the First Baptist Church as the climax to a highly successful week of Teen Seminar programs the church has been sponsoring.

"Face the Music" tells the story of Sid Fox, trumpeter and leader of a night club combo, whose pathway to stardom is lined with failure. Sid, through deception and subterfuge, becomes a member of the country's outstanding traveling musical group and soon falls in love with "Candy", the beautiful blonde soloist, who until Sid's arrival had shown real interest in "Chuck" whose broad shoulders and bulging muscles spelled star athlete.

Pathless maneuvering for advantage brings Sid face to face with the truth of the Bible, "be sure your sins will find you out". Trapped before the crowd, Sid runs from the truth and even his closest friend deserts him.

Geared to modern American teenagers, this dramatic motion picture lays bare the materialistic phoniness that is characteristic of so many people today—but it doesn't stop there! In language that teenagers understand, "Face the Music" presents definite answers to the most important questions they face. It positively presents a personal faith in the Lord Jesus Christ as the only way to lasting happiness and peace with God.

In addition to the film, the Teen Seminar program tonight will include a humorous skit on smoking, a shaving cream fight, homemade ice cream, and a closing worship service. Because of the shaving cream "fight", youngsters attending should not wear their "best" clothes. Also, they should bring ammunition—a can of aerosol shaving cream.

"We have had some outstanding speakers this week and the response of the young people in the community has been far beyond expectations. Attendance has been high and the young people have been very responsive to all the program," stated James Hollar, minister of music and education at the church.

Well that's about it, I just don't know what else to say except, "thanks. Sincerely yours, Sgt. Gerald P. Lavecchia."

Dear Mrs. James,
Received your get-well card this date.
It was very inspiring to receive a card such as this one from a person whom you have never met. Thank God for, and may God bless each and every member of organizations such as your "Young Homemakers of Texas."
Thank you a thousand times over. A Lucky Vietnam Veteran, SSG. Aora P. Howell, Jr., Ranger, Texas.

Mrs. Lela Mae (Kuykendall) Green of Lubbock and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roy Green of Hobbs, were here last week end on business and visiting friends.

The Women's Society of Christian Service met in the church Monday for luncheon and program. Mrs. G. M. Stewart was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. H. W. Carter and Mrs. R. M. Stewart.

The Draw Club and Wesleyan Service Guild were guests. Guest speakers, Mrs. Wilmer Smith of New Home, and Mrs. Roy LeMond of Grassland, told the ladies of their trip to the National Assembly held recently in Portland, Oregon. Theme for the assembly was "A Call to Revival in Service". It was indeed an inspiration to hear these ladies speak.

Mrs. Hugh Daniel and Mrs. James Brookshire sang a duet as part of the program.

Little League All-Stars Are Named, Meet O'Donnell In Post Tournament

Tahoka Little League all-stars have been picked and are set for the Area IV Tournament at Post the week end of Friday and Saturday, July 22, at 5:30 p. m. in the Post tournament, and the same night Post meets Lamesa at 7:30 p. m.

Losers meet Saturday evening at 5:30 and winners at 7:30 p. m. Winner will advance to the Little League District Tournament which will be held in Lubbock the following week end.

All-star players selected are: Ricky Gurley, Ricky Gandy, and Gary McCord from the Yankees; Lee Green, Satch Burleson, and Bruce Spruiell of the Cardinals; Mitch Browning, Jeff Atwell, Ladd Roberts, and Phil McClendon from the Cub team; and Antonio Gutierrez, Rayford Gage, John Thomas, and Lamar Clay of the Giants.

First alternate is Rux Hensley of the Yanks and second alternate is Tommy Martin of the Cards.

The Cubs were the first half season winners, and the Cards and Cubs were tied for the second half

Cliff Thomas Wins Hurdles In Jaycee Sports Spectacular

Three local athletes were entered by Tahoka Jaycees in the state-wide Sports Spectacular sponsored by the Jaycees of Texas in Lubbock last week end.

Cliff Thomas, THS junior, placed first in the 180-yard low hurdles, intermediate division, with a time of 20.2 seconds. He could have easily won the broad jump but he unfortunately "scratched" on all three tries.

Mike Lanford, senior, was entered in the 880-yard run but ran into stiff competition.

Michael Glenn, sophomore, was entered in the golf tournament, likewise tough and won by a Fort Worth boy. Michael toured the Meadowbrook course in rounds of 84 and 75, however.

Leonard Dunn, chairman of the local Jaycee committee, said top boys from all over Texas, including many state champions, were entered in the meet, and Tahoka took away one first place.

Local Jaycees paid entry fees and other expenses of the local boys. With Dunn on the committee were Clifton Clark and Billy Davis.

White Sox Will Play Their Dads

The Tahoka White Sox of the Lynn County Pony League will put the final wraps on the 1966 baseball season with the playing of the annual Father-Son game at 8:00 p. m. tomorrow, Saturday, at Little League Park. Much to the surprise of the boys, the fathers won the game last year. With a full year to recover from all the sore muscles developed in last year's game, it is expected that the dads will be in top physical condition and will be "heavy" favorites to win.

J. Anson Coughran, a pioneer of Tahoka but living at Abilene, left Friday following a visit here with his daughter, Mrs. Robert Harvick.

with the deciding game possible this Thursday night.

O'Donnell Elects Brown, Hopkins

Jerry Don Brown, assistant coach at O'Donnell the past two years, has been promoted by the school board to athletic director and head football coach. Brown is a former assistant at Tahoka.

Glenn (Moose) Hopkins, former Tahoka High player, will be his assistant.

Brown is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, where he also played football, coached his first year at New Home the 1959-60 season. He was assistant-coach at Tahoka the next two years, then became head coach at Nucla, Colorado, where he remained two years. Next year he was freshman coach at Lamesa High School, before moving to O'Donnell. Mrs. Brown, also a former Tahoka and New Home teacher, teaches in the O'Donnell Elementary school.

Hopkins, who is the son of Mrs. Wanda Hopkins and her late husband, Ray, graduated from Tahoka High in 1962, was an outstanding lineman and was selected to play in the Greenbelt Bowl that year.

He has attended West Texas State University since and will graduate in August this year with a major in physical education. Along with all others who participated in the Greenbelt Bowl that year, he was ruled ineligible for amateur athletics because his expenses to the game were paid and the game had not been approved as an amateur event. Therefore, he could not play in college games, but nevertheless participated in intramural and other events while working most of the time for much of his college expenses.

Glenn's wife is the former Donna Copelin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Copelin, and she is also attending college and expects to get her degree next year.

Brown says O'Donnell needs a basketball coach who can also assist in football and teach math.

Fred Pendleton Is Seminole All-Star

Fred Pendleton, former player for the Tahoka White Sox, has been selected to play in the Seminole Pony League's annual all-star game tonight, Friday. He is a member of the National team and will play shortstop.

Making the all-star team is quite a thrill for the youth since he underwent heart surgery at the age of four years.

Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pendleton who moved from Tahoka to Seminole last October.

Charles left Tuesday of this week for Pleasanton, Calif., where he will receive his training.

Gerry Sherrill Is Airmen First Class

Hahn, Germany—Gerry K. Sherrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Sherrill of Rt. 2, Tahoka, has been promoted to airman first class in the U. S. Air Force.

Airman Sherrill is a radio repairman at Hahn AB, Germany. He is a member of the Air Force Communications Service which has units deployed world-wide to provide communications and air traffic control for USAF operations.

The airman is a graduate of O'Donnell High School.

His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mitchell of 501 W. Seventh, Post.

If You Have Been Looking for Facts About Foliar Feeding

Here Is What An Expert Says!

Dr. Paul E. Aebersold, Director, Offices of Isotopic Research Development Center, U. S. Department of Agriculture Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D. C., says—

The application of mineral nutrients to leaves, stems, trunks as well as fruits and flowers was well known empirically before radioisotopes, but it has only been with the advent of isotopic tracers that the real effectiveness of this method of fertilizing has been realized.

Studies have shown that with many crops, foliar feeding can supply crops with their major nutrient requirement and can also utilize fertilizers more efficiently than of soil applications. For example, as much as 95% of Nutrients sprayed on to plants (Phosphorus) can and will be utilized by the plant. In fact, the application to leaves using Phosphorus represents the most efficient method of fertilization yet devised.

Tracer studies have now proved that many of the mysteries are being untangled relative to nutrients availability to plants and therefore are allowing for greater yields. . . . TRACER STUDIES have proved their usefulness and since more than $1.25 billions of dollars are spent annually for fertilizers; it is obvious that increasing the efficiency of use will mean a savings of many millions of dollars to the agriculture industry.

We also refer you to these farmers who have used TRI 40—

Doyle McFerrin, Dimmitt, Texas: Cotton fertilized with Tri-40 had yield of 213 pounds per acre more than cotton not fertilized, an increase of $55.00 per acre for a small investment of about $5.00 per acre. I will certainly continue to use TRI 40.

Jerry Wilhelm, Nazareth, Texas: After spraying maize with one gallon TRI 40 per acre, in the boot stage, really too late for maximum results, we increased our yield 700 pounds per acre on a 55 acre test plot over that not fertilized with TRI 40.

Harold Rogers, Lovington, N. M.: Best maize we have had in years. TRI 40 is a good product, friend!

J. D. Shamburg, Seagraves: Harvested 130 bu. peanuts per acre on TRI 40-fed peanuts, an increase of $25.00 per acre. Also had amazing results on my cotton. From here on, I am going to use TRI 40 all the way.

Tom Birchfield, Dodson, Texas: You won't believe the results—and I got an earlier maturity on my cotton.

Kenneth Hudson, Dodson, Texas: I will recommend TRI 40 to anybody, anytime, anywhere.

We can refer you to many other farmers using TRI 40.

Biggest problem of the Plains in the foreseeable future is water. Recently, several new ideas have been proposed in Texas for future use of the water we have—and the High Plains is destined to get "what the little boy shot at" unless we put up a successful fight.

Our state officials have come up with a $4-billion 50-year Texas water plan that leaves Northwest Texas out in the cold. The plan would benefit mostly the mushrooming Gulf Coast area, a part of Central Texas, and put into cultivation hundreds of thousands of acres of present near-desert land south of San Antonio to the Rio Grande.

Plains people contend this country up here is already highly developed, and we should have first consideration in raising surplus water to this section from the East Texas rivers. But, the Plains is not asleep. There's the grandiose NAWAPA plan to bring water from Canada and Alaska to the Plains, to bring surplus water from the Red River up here, and others. Such men as G. H. Nelson, formerly of Tahoka, and others, including High Plains Underground Water District experts, and West Texas Chamber of Commerce, are studying every angle of the water problem and are already holding meetings on various proposals.

The News has received three books from Texas Water Development Board, with maps and tables, presenting three proposed plans for development of water resources, the Brazos River Basin plan, the San Jacinto - Brazos Coastal Basin and the Brazos - Colorado Coastal Basin plans. Anyone interested may see them at The News.

Claude News: One of the greatest gamblers of all time was Lady Godiva. She put all she had on a horse, and although she didn't win, she showed.

Our old friend Edgar Hays, who learned to operate the Linotype in The News plant but who has been owner and publisher of The Lockney Beacon for 24 years, has sold his major interest in this fine paper to Jim Reynolds. Jim's dad already was a partner in the business. Edgar suffered a heart attack about two months ago and has to take things easier for a while.

Some of our business folks fear Tahoka is on the decline as a trading center. We don't think this is exactly true, but it will become true if we all just fold our hands and quit going out after business. Wide awake towns do not die. We can cite you a lot of examples.

There's Lockney, for example, 15 miles from Plainview and 12 miles from Floydada, the county seat. Lockney is twice as good a town as it was 20 years ago, much better than five years ago. Some think Tahoka is too close to Lubbock, but what about Slaton? And Abernathy? And, there are Lorenzo, Ralls, and Crosbyton going after new business, new industry, and growing.

Incidentally, both Lockney and Crosbyton have fine hospitals, each staffed with several doctors, and both are enlarging. We believe Tahoka can have a successful hospital if these two towns can.

Rev. John Onda, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Wilson, thinks it will be a disgrace if Tahoka doesn't do something to get a hospital. Referring to plans of Lynn county to reduce the tax rate, the Pastor thinks our county ought to raise taxes instead of reducing them, build a hospital, improve the library substantially, institute bookmobile service, do more to raise the educational standards of our people. "When you increase educational standards of the community and services to the people, you build population and trade," he declares.

Pastor Onda just recently returned from his home town of Chicago, and he says he finds that his dad pays more taxes on his home there than some farmers pay on a section of land in Lynn county.

The good Pastor also jumped right in the middle of The Printer for our criticism of Rev. Martin Luther King. He is convinced Rev. King is a fine Christian man, one of our greatest leaders, and is doing a great service to secure just rights for oppressed Negroes. He may be right in his belief. We just don't believe it is right to generate hostilities and to deny others rights in order to right a wrong. One wrong does not justify another. What we mean is, we don't think it right for King or the Ku Klux Klan or the John Birchers or Union Labor, or any other group to interfere with the rights of others by marches that stop traffic on highways, sit-ins, lie-ins, door-blockings, etc., thereby abridging the freedom of the general public, the right to do business, the right to choose one's associates. We believe Pastor Onda will have to admit some of Rev. King's actions and programs have created ill-will, hatred, and even violence. But, as Voltaire once said, "I wholly disapprove of what you say but will defend to the death your right to say it."

Sometimes The Printer overlooks a news item in his own paper. We didn't know until last week end old Charley Ellis, who has been up between Abernathy and Hale Center a long time running a gin, had returned to Lynn county and is manager of the Producers gin at Grassland. Years ago Charley used to be right in the big middle of most every baseball, then softball, contest around here.

Mrs. Thelma (Dock) Dewbre, now of Dimmitt, writes: "I enjoy the News very much. Usually read every column. Just keep the News coming!"

Ernest Joiner in Sebastopol, (Calif.) Times: "Ah, the soft American! Buddhists in Vietnam are setting themselves on fire to protest government policy. Over here, demonstrators burn their draft cards. Big deal. Nobody questions the sincerity of the Buddhist nun who turns herself into a torch. But bearded Americans in dirty jeans who boycott soap and water convince us of nothing except they have an abiding affinity for filth. If they really want to convince the nation they have deep convictions about this ghastly world they never made, why don't they put their matches where their beards are?"

Maybe this was you? The husband had a little fuss with his wife. Trying to square things he bought a box of candy and a bottle of perfume. Reaching home, he presented his wife with the gifts without a word, rushed out and mowed the lawn, washed the windows, then came in and started preparing supper. His wife burst into tears. "What's wrong?" he asked. She answered between sobs, "It's just too much; the children fought all day, the washing machine broke down, the dog bit a neighbor and now you come home drunk!"

Sharon: "Jim, right before last you came home yesterday, and last night you came home today. If you come home this afternoon tomorrow, I'll go home to mother."

Lynn County News:

Your response to our recent letter asking for a subscription to your newspaper for the patients' library was very gratifying. News from a patient's own home town newspaper keeps him aware of life outside the hospital, which is a step toward better mental health.

We appreciate the subscription and on behalf of the patients and staff, thank you for your interest in our hospital.

Finney Speaker At Rotary Club

(By The Printer)
 "The Signs of Our Times" was the subject of a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon by C. Edmund Finney, local photographer, a self-admitted individualist and soldier of fortune who has become philosophical in his "old age."
 Finney mixed humor with philosophy, observations of the times, things to come, and the strangeness of our national and personal thinking.
 He claims to be an old-fashioned American who still believes in the individual, the free enterprise system, fireworks and flag-waving on the Fourth of July, decries the trend of government but maintains it is still the best form of government ever devised.
 He explained how our form of government came into being more or less by accident, that we are not really very much of a democracy because we are approaching the idealistic Communist form. He said Communist governments are not really Communist but Fascist or dictator nations.
 He doesn't think every person should have the right to vote. He declares a person is not qualified to vote unless he is 21, has at least a high school education, sufficient interest in public affairs to read and take part, not be on any kind of public relief, and be self-sustaining.
 He takes a dim view of most modern politicians who will continue voting more benefits for more people to do nothing in order that they may stay in office and retain political power.
 But, Finney declares we must face facts, as we are entering a new age, the age of automation and computers and Union Labor and more Government interference. There will be more people doing less and more people depending on the government.
 Finney claims to have little interest in making money, but likes people, especially kids, and Tahoka because it is a small town where people retain some individualism, a big-hearted Irishman, a bit radical, but so soft-hearted he cries at every school graduation. But, he laughs at himself as quick as he laughs at our strange ways.
 As a photographer, he is an artist, but he also tinkers with all kinds of mechanical devices, raises flowers and a garden, takes organ lessons, reads scores of books in a year's time, dishes out philosophy to anyone who will listen, and dotes on his wife, aged mother, and a cat.
 Born on an Arizona mountain-top ranch, he grew up in Los Angeles, has been a newsboy, a streetcar conductor, a fireman, a policeman, served in but deserted the Mexican Army, was a Pathe news photographer, a movie photographer, once operated a large Hollywood studio, worked as a photographer on the Los Angeles Examiner, married a Texan and moved to Tahoka. He says he has done a little of nearly everything—and he has newspaper clippings to prove it.
 Charles Brock was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker. Naturally, his talk was an entertaining and unusual one.

Methodist Youth Activities Week Is Beginning Monday

The Junior and Senior High youth of the First Methodist Church will begin their Youth Activities Week Monday night, July 18, at 6:00 o'clock with registration in the Fellowship Hall of the church.
 Monday night's recreation will consist of a "hootenanny." This night has been designated as guest night and there will be youth attending from the Spearhead Sub-District and many other surrounding towns. All youth are invited to attend and share their talents in the hootenanny.
 Guest speaker for the week will be Rev. Max Browning from Wilson. Throughout the week he will speak on the theme "Let Go, Let God"—at home, at school, at church, at work and in your life. The youth have chosen this theme so that they may, through this week, see how God can work in their lives to help fulfill the purpose in living.
 Other activities for the week consist of:
 Progressive supper starting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Short; Wednesday, hamburger supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hamilton; Thursday, swimming party at the City Park; Friday, hayride and communion service beginning at the church parking lot.
 All activities begin at 6:00 o'clock each night. The MYF is looking forward to a successful week and want you to have a part in it also. Be sure and come every night, July 18-22.

Major Bob Boyd In Freak Accident

Major Bobby Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Boyd and reared in Tahoka, was injured July 4 in a plane accident at Fort Benning, near Columbus, Georgia, but is evidently recovering nicely.
 His father received a letter from him Monday. Major Boyd had been here recently visiting his mother, critically ill in a Lubbock hospital.
 The Columbus newspaper, a clipping from which was sent Mr. Boyd, said Maj. Boyd received concussions and lacerations of the face. The student pilot in the plane with Boyd received minor injuries, but two pedestrian soldiers also received injuries. Evidently, none were serious.
 Maj. Boyd was flying a light plane in a Fourth of July flying formation as part of a demonstration in connection with the Fort Benning Youth Athletic Club annual carnival.
 The plane apparently hit an upright pole and crashed into a parking lot, where it hit an automobile, a motor scooter, and the two servicemen.
