

City Budget Boost Eyed

Tahoka City Councilmen Monday night gave tentative approval to a projected budget for the fiscal year which began Wednesday, reserving formal approval of the budget for the next regular meeting April 6.

Monday's called meeting was primarily for the purpose of conducting a public hearing on the proposed budget, but no one appeared to discuss it other than the council, a newsman and a candidate for the council in Saturday's upcoming election, Cap Wharton.

The general fund budget calls for expenditures of $256,538 this fiscal year, up some $49,000 above the budget for the year just ended. All expenses were not in for that year as of last Monday, but it appeared the city would just about break even for the year just ending.

Noting that the budget is "very tight," City Manager Carl Reynolds pointed out that the anticipated revenues for next year are about the same as projected expenses.

Separate budgets are made out for the water and sewer fund, the sanitation fund and for the revenue sharing funds. This year the city expects to receive $19,500 in federal revenue sharing money, compared to $28,000 received last year.

Also discussed again at Monday night's meeting was a new franchise for General Telephone Company to operate the phone system in Tahoka. One of the points of contention was whether to make the franchise renewable in five years, as the city would prefer, or 25 years as suggested by the phone company. This and other items in the proposed franchise contract are being negotiated. The franchise is to expire this month.

Mayor Pro Tem H.B. McCord Jr. presided in the absence of Mayor Mel Leslie. All councilmen were present.

TO PRESENT CONCERT--Presenting a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church will be the Joy Ringer Handbell Choir shown here. There will be no admission fee, but an offering will be taken to raise money for the heart monitor fund for Lynn County Hospital, so the entire community is invited. Bettye Green is director, Macky Turner president, and Betty Owens is secretary-treasurer. From left to right, in front are Margaret Carter, Becky Davis and Nancy Montgomery. The others, from left, are Mrs. Green, Mrs. Owens, Nell Cotter, Shirley Holloway, Beth Huffaker, Chloe Jan Wells, Mrs. Turner, Judy Holden and Alth Thomas. Ann Hamilton also is a member.

Daylight Burglars Strike Farm Home

Another major burglary of a farm home in Lynn County was reported this week, with more than $2,400 worth of items stolen from the residence of Ray Ehlers 3 miles southeast of Wilson in a daylight burglary Saturday.

The door of the home was forced open. Missing items included a Whirlpool microwave oven, portable TV set, AM-FM stereo, Polaroid and Kodak cameras, Kirby upright vacuum cleaner and other articles. Sheriff Stanley Krause said the burglary occurred between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Only a week earlier the home of John Roberts north of Tahoka was burglarized with many items taken, including an antique clock.

Four miles north of Lakeview an unoccupied house owned by Ronnie Dulin was vandalized, with 10 windows broken, a door damaged, light fixtures and sheet rock smashed and a diesel pump outside damaged. It was reported to the sheriff's office last Thursday.

E.R. Blakney of New Home lost an unknown quantity of gasoline to persons who broke the lock on a storage tank control at the Blakney home Saturday.

In county jail during the week was one person for truancy and two for driving while intoxicated, one of whom was released to Midland officers on drug charges.

Perhaps the most unusual accident here recently was the collision of two parked vehicles last Friday at the Lyntegar warehouse. A city-owned flatbed truck which had been parked near the warehouse rolled into a parked van owned by Johnny Corona. Damage was light. Eight persons were indicted on criminal charges by a 10th District grand jury here Monday, including Thomas Calvin Parks, 54, of Slaton, charged with involuntary manslaughter in the collision which killed Bert Stevens of Tahoka here March 20. Others indicted: Brant Williams of Lamesa, theft, accused of appropriating $12,137 from Wade Farm Implement on Jan. 28.

Jody Morris Hill, criminal mischief, accused of an incident involving a tractor owned by Weldon Bailey Feb. 25.

Benito Moya and Victor Herrera, attempted murder, accused in connection with an attack on Martin Liendo and Anita Liendo March 15.

Benjamin Canas Lope and Jesse Ray Gutierrez, burglary, accused of burglarizing a building owned by John Montgomery on Jan. 24.

Trinidad M. Gutierrez, theft, accused of taking irrigation pipe owned by Zane Curry on Jan. 29.

C.E. Ford was foreman of the grand jury.

WOODWORK

BY NOW every newspaper, radio and TV personality in the nation will have said something about the latest attempt at assassinating a major national figure, President Ronald Reagan.

The list of well-known controversial leaders who have been shot, fatally or otherwise, grows longer as more and more the climate of violence in the nation appears to increase. Some will blame guns and try again for gun control ordinances which would take all the guns away from the law-abiding people. Some will blame television and newspapers for playing up violence.

The real tragedy pointed up by the shooting of the President and the others Monday is that so many people in this country have adopted the attitude that violence is the solution to every issue in which there are more than one point of view.

There was a time when Americans would read about assassinations in Europe and other places and shrug with the comment that "Those crazy people in Italy and France (or wherever) are always doing something like that." But now there are crazy Americans doing the same things.

Billy Graham and Jerry Falwell and religious leaders in almost every local church in the nation are right when they say the only hope for this country is to return to Christian morals and values. And although millions of people have done just that, sadly there are millions more who operate on the "agree-with-me-or-I'll-shoot (hit or kill)-you" philosophy.

HOW MANY three-cent stamps would you guess were sold at the Tahoka Post Office the first week after 15-cent stamps went up to 18 cents? If you guessed a couple of thousand as I might have, you missed it badly. Postmaster Jim Lummus informs us that the local office sold 12,000 three-centers that week.

That's a bunch of stamps for one week.

THIS WEEK a new series of advertisements sponsored by local businesses begins in the News on page 9. With some very good art work and copy, the 13-ad series will point up some valid reasons for people shopping at home instead of going off somewhere else to buy the same things, sometimes at higher prices. The ads won't run every week, but there will be two or three each month.

We would urge everyone to read what they say, because they make sense.

KNOTHOLES: Probably a check of the records wouldn't bear this out, but it sure seems like the bad weather always comes on weekends and the sunny, calm days on workdays...A Colorado man pulled his vehicle up to the roadside park north of Tahoka one day last week as the highway department crew was sawing up a pine tree which the wind storm a few days earlier had blown down. The man wanted to know why they were doing that to a pine tree, a relatively rare tree for this area. THD workers explained that the wind had broken the tree and the man exclaimed "You mean the wind blew harder than it is now?" On that day, the wind was about 20 miles an hour, barely noticeable after what the area had just been through...A hunch, says the 6th St. Sage, is a feeling that makes you certain about something that you know absolutely nothing about.

Cancer Fund Drive Slated

April is Cancer Crusade month nationwide and the Lynn County unit of the American Cancer Society will have its county drive the week of April 7-10, according to Mrs. Kenneth Turner, county crusade chairman.

The drive is two-fold, in that its primary purpose is to distribute educational material along with raising funds for cancer research. "Our main concern as volunteers, is to educate the public to the fact that cancer can and is being cured if detected in the early stages," said Mrs. Turner.

"We want every person in Lynn County to be aware of cancer's seven warning signals and to realize the importance of having a yearly health check-up. Lynn County has always been very receptive to this drive and most generous in donations. Volunteers will be conducting a business and residential drive during the week and it is my hope that they will continue to support us in our effort to save lives from cancer," says Mrs. Turner.

MRS. DAVID QUISENBERRY nee TAMMIE MCKIBBEN

McKibben - Quisenberry Exchange Vows In Double Ring Ceremony March 28

Miss Tammie La Rue McKibben and David Dean Quisenberry exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening March 28, in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Gardenhire of O'Donnell. Rev. Don Cass, pastor of First Baptist Church of Tahoka, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McKibben of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Denny Quisenberry of Lockney. Grandparents other than the Gardenhires are the late Mr. and Mrs. Pat McKibben Sr., Mrs. E.A. Bonner of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Quisenberry of Plainview.

A prelude of traditional and popular wedding selections were provided by pianist Mrs. Norman Patton of O'Donnell. Mrs. Floy Ash of O'Donnell, aunt of the bride, sang "Twelfth of Never," "Time In a Bottle," and "God, a Woman and a Man."

Matching candelabras entwined with emerald greenery flanked the fireplace. The mantle and hearth were decorated with emerald greenery and leather leaf featuring two white doves in the center.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white gown of Chantilly lace flowing into a chapel length train edged with a mushroom pleated flounce. The moulded bodice was accented with lace and pearls featuring a Victorian neckline trimmed with Chantilly lace and pearls, a sheer illusion yoke seeded with pearls, full skirt, full bishop sleeves with fitted cuffs of Chantilly lace. A layered finger tip veil of silk illusion was attached to a capulet of beaded flowers. It was edged with scalloped lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of spring flowers consisting of daisies, cushion mums, and baby's breath. The shower of bridal satin streamers were tied in love knots and accented with pearls.

Following tradition, the bride chose as something old a pearl seeded handkerchief which belonged to her Great-grandmother Brewer; something new, her dress; something borrowed, a diamond pin given to her Grandmother Gardenhire by her grandfather; something blue was the traditional blue garter and a six pence in her shoe.

Jerri Beth McKibben attended her sister as maid of honor, Mary Evelena, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid and Shannon Ash of O'Donnell, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

Candlelighters were Tana Gardenhire of Boerne and Laura White of Idalou, cousins of the bride. The attendants wore gowns of yellow organza, fashioned with ruffled neckline caplet sleeves and flared skirts with flounced hem. They wore hairpieces of spring flowers.

Best man was Robert Murdock of Lockney and groomsman was J.W. McKibben of Snyder, brother of the bride. They wore blue suits.

Tommy Gardenhire Jr. of Tahoka, cousin of the bride, ushered guests. Cindy McKibben of Snyder, sister-in-law of the bride, registered guests. Guests from Amarillo, Hereford, Lockney, Lubbock, Tahoka, Brownfield, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Snyder and Boerne were registered.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Serving at the bride's table were Judy Haire of Lubbock, Cindy Goldston of Brownfield and Penny Witt of Tahoka. Serving at the Estate Planning Subject of Talk

When the speaker failed to appear for the Farmer's Day Program at Rotary last Thursday noon, Calloway Huffaker filled in with a talk on "Wills and Estate Planning."

No two estates are alike, he said, and because of this extreme care must be taken in planning to prevent excessive inheritance taxes, especially if a couple's community property amounts to more than $175,800.

He gave specific examples of legal methods of planning an estate so it may be passed on to survivors without a disastrous tax. Some people may be surprised to learn there may be a $42,000 inheritance tax on a $300,000 estate, which could include a farm, vehicles and machinery, a home and furnishings, and cash. With proper planning, this tax could be greatly minimized.

Prior to his talk, Mrs. Leslie Paris sang several songs she had composed, and received a big round of applause.

TEXAS 4-H CENTER TO BOOST 'SUPER BARN'
 Plans are underway for indoor horse and livestock facilities at the Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood. A multi-purpose development, the new facilities will feature a covered arena and 50-70 enclosures for animals, according to Brent Drennan, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. More than 1,000 Texas 4-H'ers will receive training annually in the various horse projects of the Texas 4-H program in the new "super barn." It will provide needed facilities for volunteer-leader training programs, horsemanship schools and the State 4-H Roping School. In addition, the new "super barn" will open the door to leader training and short courses for youth and adults in dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep and swine. In the past, all livestock activities were subject to cancellation due to inclement weather, because most activities have been held outside. With the "super barn," weather will not affect livestock programs. Other outdoor projects can also move into the barn if the need arises due to weather or other problems. These include shooting sports, archery, arts and crafts, and recreation training programs-- whenever scheduling permits. Steering and planning committee members for the new 4-H "super barn" will meet this spring. The facility should be completed in about 18 months.

Treflan Users May Aid Girls

Farmers who use Treflan can join a drive to buy a pickup for Girlstown by providing their invoices on Treflan purchases. The pickup is described on pages 4 and 5 of the Treflan catalog, "More Value to the Gallon."

Points earned by purchasing Treflan would be credited to the Girlstown project and after a copy of the original invoice is made it would be returned to the farmer for his records. He also would be sent a receipt for a tax-deductible contribution to Girlstown.

Those wishing to take part should call Bettye Green, 998-4080, and she will pick up the invoices. The project is headed by Willie Gene Green of Olton. The deadline for getting the required points is April 15.

Mrs. Green said proof of purchase of a total of 4,525 gallons from the area would be needed to obtain the pickup.

INSUR-MATION

By JOEY MEADOR

Lynn County Farm Bureau

Q. One of the few voices I really haven't heard join the chorus singing the "Inflation Blues" is that of the life insurance industry. How is life insurance faring under the weight of the double-digits?

A. The life insurance industry has been and remains unique among service-oriented businesses. Life insurance companies have taken their own advice when it comes to pre-planning and thinking ahead through the use of automation and modern business methods, streamlined procedures, reduction of administrative costs per policy and the use of a smaller, more professional, sales staff. The end result is a bonus to you as life insurance has the ability to meet a long-range need and to go down in price per thousand at any given age. Additionally, people are living longer, and insurance companies continue to make better and wiser investments.

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm told members of the House Agriculture Committee that the Free Enterprise System had been "redefined as it applies to agriculture," causing problems with both domestic and foreign marketing efforts.

legislation, Stenholm said, "When we face the situation squarely on, we must admit that past farm policy--and therefore the authors of that policy--have redefined the Free Enterprise System as it applies to agriculture. As a result, the American farmer faces the world market not only unaided by its own government, but restricted in its ability to compete against other farm exporting nations who are aggressively supported by their own government policies."

On the domestic side, Stenholm said the farmer has been consistently penalized "by a warped marketing system that forces him to accept an 'end of the year sale' price on his production before one bushel or bale of that crop has reached the elevator or gin."

"In both domestic and world market issues," he continued, "this committee must be willing to investigate the obstacles to the Free Enterprise System and to decide how best to meet the needs of American agriculture through that proven System."

Stenholm told committee members that the new farm bill would be judged "by the American farmer and the American taxpayer--not by how far we proceed from the starting gate, but how close we come to our final goal." That final goal, he continued, was "profitability for the American farmer from the market and an insured supply of fairly priced food and fiber for the American public."

He pointed out that estimated returns to equity for all industry in 1980 totaled 16.1 percent, compared to agriculture's 6.9 percent return. "That's an unfair balance that cannot continue if the American farmer is to stay in business," Stenholm said.

"I am convinced that the farmer, with fair treatment by this committee and other lawmakers, needs only a fair price from the market to survive," Stenholm added.

The committee hearings are the first step in the months-long process of formulating the 1981 Farm Bill, which Stenholm called "one of the most far-reaching pieces of legislation that will go before the House this Session."

Sherry Etheredge Says . . .

Is coloring eggs an Easter tradition at your home? This festivity is rooted in pagan celebrations of the arrival of spring. Eggs, the symbol of renewed life, were colored to imitate the brilliant hues that came with spring.

Christians adopted the colored egg as a symbol of spiritual rebirth. The Easter tradition spread as Christianity developed.

In 1810 Dolly Madison brought the English tradition of rolling colored eggs to the Capitol grounds. The practice proved to be so hard on the Capitol lawn, that the egg roll moved to the White House.

If dyeing eggs is a "hard boiled" tradition at your house, here are some tips on preparing and handling eggs from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Use only clean eggs with sound shells, says USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service. Simmer at low to moderate temperature for 20 to 25 minutes. Too much heat toughens protein making the eggs taste rubbery. Run cold water over eggs after cooking.

To dye the eggs to place them in one cup of water with a teaspoon of vinegar and food coloring. Other types of egg decorating materials may be purchased, or you can make your own.

Keep eggs refrigerated until you can plan to use them. Do not leave them sitting in the sun during an Easter egg hunt. Hide eggs in the shade to keep them fresh and refrigerate as soon as possible. If you plan to eat the eggs be sure to keep the egg hunt short.

To remove the shell, crack and peel it from the large end. You may want to place the egg under cold running water to ease off the shell. Hardcooked eggs can be refrigerated either in the shell or out. If the shell is removed, the eggs should be protected in film wrap. They can keep for one or two days in your refrigerator.

You don't have to eat all these colored dainties as is. Plan to use them in a potato salad or stuffed for a special Easter dish.

Incidentally, pagans weren't the only people who held a high opinion of the egg. Modern pseudo-scientists claim eggs can detect personality types. According to the unsupportable "theory" if you like soft-cooked eggs you are likely to be the gentle, patient and kind type. Medium-cooked eggs indicate a calm, cool and collected composure, and hard-cooked eggs are the benchmark of a persistent, dynamic and sincere person.

ality. How do you like your eggs?

Texas is the nation's third largest honey producer, with more than 200,000 colonies of bees producing more than 9 million pounds of honey annually. Did you know that it takes approximately 556 worker bees flying 1 1/2 times the distance around the world to produce one pound of honey?

Honey contains simple sugars and requires little digestive change for absorption. It also contains small amounts of vitamins, minerals, and proteins.

Honey never spoils, when pure, and needs no preservatives. It keeps best in a tightly covered container stored in a cool, dark place; in an uncovered container, honey loses flavor and aroma and absorbs moisture. Color in honey varies from light to dark, with the lighter honey usually having a more mild flavor than the darker colors. Aroma and flavor are due to the predominate floral source of the honey.

Try these recipes:

Honey Orange Tea

2 c. water, divided
10 whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon, broken
1/2 c. honey
1 c. orange juice
4 tea bags
Aromatic bitters (optional)
Combine 1 c. water, cloves and cinnamon. Simmer, covered for 10 minutes. Add honey, 1 c. water and orange juice; bring to a boil. Remove from heat; add tea bags. Let steep, covered, 5 minutes. Remove tea bags and spices. Dash in bitters to taste, if desired. Serve in cups with floaters of quartered orange slices. Yield: 4-5 servings.

Honey Glazed Carrots

1 lb. sliced carrots
1/4 c. butter
1/4 c. honey
1/4 c. chopped pecans
Cook carrots until tender. Drain. Melt butter in skillet and add and blend honey. Add carrots and pecans and stir until carrots are nicely glazed. Yield: 4 servings.

Baked Honey Custard

1 qt. milk
4 eggs
4 T. honey
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
In a 2 qt. saucepan, scald milk and let cool to room temperature. Beat eggs well and add other ingredients. Add milk gradually to egg mixture. Pour into baking dish or individual custard cups, set in pan of cold water, and bake in a 350 degree oven for 30-40 minutes or until custard is set.

Honey Baked Apples

6 baking apples
Orange juice
6 T. pecans, coarsely chopped
1/2 c. shredded coconut
12 T. honey
6 tsp. butter

Wash and core apples without cutting through end. Cut through skin in a spiral around apple to prevent bursting. Pare a 1 inch strip around the top. Dip exposed apple in orange juice. Fill center of each apple, dividing equally, with mixture made of other ingredients. Cover with foil, bake in a 375 degree oven for 45 min. or until apples are tender. Baste occasionally with orange juice. Remove foil and return apples to the oven for 5 minutes to brown the coconut topping.

Honey French Chicken

6 whole broiler-fryer chicken breasts, halved, skinned deboned.
1 tsp. Monosodium Glutamate
1/4 c. corn oil
1/4 c. honey

1/4 c. cider vinegar
1/4 c. chili sauce
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 envelope dry onion soup mix
1/4 tsp. seasoned salt
Sprinkle chicken breasts with monosodium glutamate. Place other ingredients in a jar and shake well. Place chicken in single layer in large, shallow baking pan. Pour sauce over chicken. Bake, uncovered, in a 350 degree oven about 40 min. or until fork can be inserted with ease. Yield: 4-6 servings.

Honey Wheat Muffins

1 egg
1 c. milk
1/4 c. oil
1/4 c. honey
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 c. whole wheat flour
1 c. white flour
3 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
Grease 12 cup muffin tin. Beat in medium bowl eggs; add and blend in milk, oil, and add honey and vanilla. Combine together in separate mixing bowl flours, baking powder, and salt. Add dry ingredients to egg mixture. Stir until moist and lumpy. Spoon batter into muffin cups 3/4 full. Bake in 400 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes and muffins are lightly browned. Cool slightly. Yield: 1 dozen.

Honey Hints:
Substitute equal amounts of honey for sugar, reducing the total liquids used in the recipe by 1/4 cup for every cup of honey. Lower baking temp. by 25 degrees to prevent over-browning when honey is substituted for sugar. Moisten the measuring spoon or cup with water or oil before measuring honey. Two tablespoons of honey added to your favorite cake mix will make the cake more tender and less crumbly. For best results, add the honey in a fine stream to the batter as you beat. Honey often crystal-

What If All The Stores In Our Town Closed Up?

It could happen. In some towns it already has happened... because local people did most of their shopping OUT of town. We all know of communities with lots of empty stores. And, empty stores mean less tax support... a lot less!

Did you ever stop to think about how much of our community's taxes are paid by our businesses? If they were no longer paying their share, think how much MORE your taxes would increase to pay for essential local services.

If they no longer made charitable donations to groups to which you belong, how much MORE would YOU have to pay?

A healthy business community benefits everyone. Shop here at home.

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital

Question: "I've read some things about asbestos causing cancer. Now I find that hot water pipes in my basement are covered with it, and the local hardware store sells asbestos in sheets. Just how dangerous is it?"

ANSWERline: Asbestos can be dangerous if the dust is breathed even for short periods. It can cause asbestiosis, a crippling lung disease, or lung cancer, or mesothelioma, a cancer of the chest or abdominal lining. However getting cancer from exposure to asbestos is relatively small unless you are a heavy smoker. If you smoke, your risk becomes 90 times greater. Since the link between asbestos and cancer was first made in the 1950's, it is quite possible that water pipes in older houses were covered with asbestos before the hazard was recognized. Although restrictions have been placed on the use of asbestos since, the main hazard is allowing it to break down into dust that can enter the lungs. If you have asbestos on your water pipes, it is better to wrap them with heavy tape to confine the asbestos, than to stir up its dust by tearing it off the pipes. Asbestos sheets, when they must be used, should be covered with a protective material. Remember that a simple dust mask is not sufficient to filter out asbestos particles. The important thing is to have a tight fit between mask and face, and for the filter to be disposable. Special asbestos masks are available at safety supply stores. It is also helpful to wet down the asbestos with a fine mist or spray while you are working with it.

Question: "What are the latest figures on cancer? Is anything changing?"

ANSWERline: In women, breast cancer is still the leading cause of cancer death. This year lung cancer for the Helen Collins is typing teacher.

Spelling and plain writing contestants are Denise Dodson, Karen Stewart and Suzi Stringer.

Journalism entries will be Marci Raindl, Danette Phillips, Amy Porterfield, Cindy Lawson, Connie Chambers, Debby Gwin and Denise White. Mrs. Taylor sponsors these events.

130,000 of those deaths probably could be prevented by earlier treatment.

Question: "Is the Pap test really no good for detecting uterine cancer in older women?"

ANSWERline: The Pap test is helpful for all uterine cancer, but mainly for that affecting the uterine cervix. It is only about 40 percent effective in detecting endometrial cancer, which affects the body of the uterus, and tends to develop in women 50 to 64 years of age. For them, physicians recommend a complete pelvic exam as well as a Pap test.
