DRIVER EDUCATION CAR BURNS

School Bus Repair Garage Is Destroyed In Monday Nite Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the school bus repair building Monday evening, located on the grounds of Muleshoe high school between bus barn and the vocational agriculture building. Firemen answered the call at 5:50 p.m., but the building was a total loss despite efforts of the fire crew. The building contained a quantity of oil, tires, tools and housed the 1958 Buick automobile being used by the driver education class. The car was a total loss also.

Fire chief Earl Ladd told The Journal Tuesday morning that the fire was the first in city fire loss since July 1958. He also pointed out that the car loss will not count against city fire experience figures nor affect the fire rate here.

Ladd also said the fire department was hampered by spectators, and that one 50 foot joint of hose was ruined when run over by a spectator's car. Running over a fire hose is punishable by a $25 fine under state law, and Ladd warned spectators to be careful in future. He asked for the cooperation of the public in giving the fire engines and firemen plenty of room at fires.

There was some delay in turning in the fire call due to lack of knowledge of the proper number to call. The Muleshoe Journal has a large supply of cards bearing emergency numbers, including fire numbers, which may be had free of charge at The Journal office.

Miss Puckett Weds Mr. Brantley In Sanctuary of Methodist Church

MR. AND MRS. CURBY J. BRANTLEY

In an impressive double ceremony Saturday evening in the sanctuary of the First Methodist church of Muleshoe, Miss Mary Janice Puckett became the bride of Curby J. Brantley.

Vows were read by the Rev. Edwin L. Hall, pastor, before the altar decorated with red and white gladioli. Lighting the scene were white tapers held by red bows; a white taper was placed in each window.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Puckett, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Brantley. They are all of Muleshoe.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, D. W. Puckett, the bride chose a floor length gown of imported Chantilly lace fashioned with a portrait neckline, outlined with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The voluminous skirt featured a back panel with alternate tiers of lace and pleated illusion. Tiny lace-covered buttons extended from the neckline to the waistline in the back. The long fitted sleeves ended in petal points with tiny buttons at the wrists.

Her veil of illusion, attached to a tiara of iridescent sequins and seed pearls and outlined in lace, extended into a cathedral train. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis on a white ribbon.

For something old, she wore a ring which belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. G. E. Stevenson. Her gown was something new, she carried a white handkerchief borrowed from the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. N. C. Eldridge of Mort, Texas. She wore the traditional blue garter, and a lucky penny was in her shoe. Her pearls were a gift from the bridegroom.

They were attired in identical red brocade taffeta dresses, fashioned with fitted princess lines and flared skirts. They carried colonial nosegays of white carnations.

These specific common sense features are the big reasons why Ford is the best seller.*

1. Six passengers, not just four, ride in comfort. Yes, even the man in the middle. Because Ford's full-depth seats are extra thick all the way across—there's no hard spot in the center as in some cars.
2. The doors are wider for easier entry. Compared with Ford's major competitor, they open wider . . . and have two-stage front door checks.
3. Ford's styling is sensible. It's clean and simple like the Thunderbird. No useless wings that are easy to dent.
4. Ford's frame is safer. In its field, only Ford has a wide-base frame that seats all passengers within the protection of its husky side rails.
5. Ford's spacious luggage compartment is easier to load and unload. High rear trunk wall on Ford's nearest competitor makes loading difficult.
6. Ford's got the most sound and weather insulation—everywhere. No other low-priced car compares.
7. Ford is economical. You save up to a dollar a tankful with Ford's standard Six or Thunderbird V-8 engines—for they thrive on regular gas. You need change oil only after each 4000 miles. The muffler is aluminized to last twice as long as ever. And Ford's new Diamond Lustre Finish never—ever—needs waxing.

IN TEXAS
What's behind the big switch to FORD?

And here's good news for the economy-minded . . .

With all these exclusives, and with the usual optional equipment, Ford prices are as much as $100 lower* than the nearest major competitor.

W. A. Elmore Is Honored Sunday At Birthday Fete

W. A. Elmore celebrated his 75th birthday Sunday, January 11, in his home with a family reunion dinner with 63 members of his family attending. Those attending were his son, Lester Elmore and three children of the Needmore community; his brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elmore and son, John, Haskell, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Elmore, Chino, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Alice Davis, West Monroe, La.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Durrett, M. C. Durrett and children, A. G. Durrett and son, and Toby Durrett and children all of Lubbock.

One sister-in-law attended, Mrs. Isa Fielding, Haskell; also Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Fielding and children, Littlefield; V. L. Green and Linda, Big Spring; Mrs. Pauline Kent and Timmy, and Mrs. Peggy Baker and children, Sudan; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kent and son, Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Ernie L. Several of those attending were hospitalized with food poisoning, but they are now recovering.

Caldwell presided over the business session with the secretary, Mrs. Harold Griffith, calling the roll. Recreation was led by Mrs. Barry Lewis and Mrs. C. H. Gillis. Mrs. Harriett Jackson made a talk on "Family Planning and Spending". Refreshments were served to Mmes. Harriett Jackson, S. L. Robison, T. F. Maddox, M. L. Oswalt, M. T. Hukill, C. H. Gillis, C. E. Briscoe, H. G. Griffith, S. C. Caldwell, J. E. Day, and C. R. Mayhew. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. E. Day on January 27 at 2 p.m.

MISS EVELYN BRATCHER

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bratcher of Muleshoe announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Evelyn to Mr. Wayne Smith, son of Mrs. J. E. Baker of La Peunte, Calif. The wedding will be February 1, at 2:30 p.m., at the Muleshoe First Baptist Church, with Rev. E. K. Shepherd officiating.

Mary Martha Circle In New Study

The Mary Martha circle of the Muleshoe Methodist church met in the Youth Chapel January 13 at 2:30. Mrs. Bill Moore presided. After the business meeting, Mrs. H. Jay Weyer announced the Sub-District WSCS meeting will be at Oklahoma Lane January 20. The theme of this meeting is to be "A Commandment" from Matthew 28-13. "Go ye into all the world and teach every creature". Each society in the District will take part on the program. Mrs. Edwin Hall will give "Doing His Command Through Youth Work." Sub-District leader is to be Mrs. Dean Bishop. All members are urged to attend and bring a sack lunch. Ladies will meet at Mrs. Bishops at 9:30. A new study was begun on "Understanding Other Cultures" with Mrs. Moore giving the introduction. Mrs. O. N. Jennings gave Chapter 1 on "What Is Culture" and "Culture and Society". Mrs. Brick Whit told of the work of three ladies from other countries who are over there studying not only our churches and women's organizations but their culture as well. Mrs. Moore explained the differences in foods and their preparations and why we don't all eat alike. She pointed out that food was not plentiful in many countries and they had to eat just what was available; in contrast to in America where there is an abundance, which we should share.

Mental Health Theme For Study Club Meeting

"Service Through Knowledge of Mental Health" is to be the theme of the program of the Muleshoe Study Club for their meeting on January 22. FHA Class To Study Childcare Has Play School

A Play School was conducted by the freshmen girls of the Homemaking 1A class of Muleshoe high school on Tuesday of this week in connection with their study in child care. This study includes the care of the pre-school child, baby sitting, selection of toys, and discipline. This is the first attempt to conduct a program of this nature in several years and from all indications it was a big success for all concerned.

The Play School was held from 10-12 and was entirely for the pre-school child from 2 to 5 years of age. 23 children were in attendance to benefit from the games, toys, books, puzzles, color books and records that were provided for their pleasure. A delicious mid-morning snack was prepared and served by the girls and the children were also taken on a walk around the swimming pool, which they enjoyed very much.

FHA Interest Rate Boosted

Farmers Home Administration has increased its interest rate to private lenders under the insured farm loan program from 3½ to 4 percent.

Walter T. McKay, the Agency's State Director, advised that this change was made to encourage more lenders to advance funds for insured loans in order to meet the needs of qualified applicants throughout the nation.

The insured farm loan program encourages the use of private capital in place of direct Government loans. Through this program private lenders can advance funds to eligible farmers for the purchase of land, for building and land improvement, and for domestic and irrigation water systems. In addition to the 4 percent paid the lender, the borrower pays the Government 1 percent for insuring and servicing the loan.

Although the amortization period of the loan may be up to 40 years depending on the purpose for which the loan was advanced, the lender, at his option, may have the note redeemed by the Government at any time after five years. The note, held by the lender, is negotiable and may be assigned to another investor at any time.

"The insured farm loan is an attractive investment for private lending institutions and individuals and has not been well received here in Texas", McKay stated. "In fact, 928 of our more recent real estate loans totaling $8,926,000 were made from funds provided by private credit sources. We anticipate that raising the rate of interest to lenders to 4 percent will result in a substantial increase in lender participation and thereby enable Farmers Home Administration to meet the credit needs of more farm families."

NOTICE! TO PARENTS of School Age Children

The school census is being taken during the month of January this year. All children who are six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1959, but will not be 18 or older on or before that same date should be counted in this census. It is very important that all children six to 18 years be counted in this census. The child should be counted even though he may not be in school and even though he or she may be married.

If you, as a parent, have not received and filled out a school census blank on or before January 21 you are being overlooked and should do one of the following:

1. Phone Supt. Jerry Kirk at No. 7300 or the School Tax Office No. 6720 and ask for a census blank
2. Call in person at the school Tax office and get a census blank and fill it out

Remember, if your child will be six years old next Sept. 1st he should be counted in the census now, even though he is not in school now. If he is six but not 18 or older on next Sept. 1st he should be counted now. All children from six to 18 should be counted. The six years old who start next September to school are the ones most often overlooked in the census. Failure to count them costs the school and taxpayers extra money. Please help us not to overlook anyone.

Please read the census blank carefully, fill it out completely, and return it by your child next day to the teacher. Thank you.

DON'T WAIT 'TILL FEB. 1st To Turn YOUR BLANKS IN — AS THAT WILL BE TOO LATE

Today's Meditation

Read John 14:8-14

Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself; but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. (John 14:10.)

Keen-minded, thoughtful Soon Woo Lee, from Korea, became a much-loved member of our home and family. This young man was alert to new truth and ever seeking new meanings. In speaking of my husband, he remarked to me one day, "I know in my heart I'll always try to be like him. He does not say to us, 'Do these things,' or, 'Must not do those.' He just shows us by the way he lives. Long time I know God to be honored and worshiped, but never before do I know God to love. Now, I know and feel love."

By the way He lived daily, Jesus showed us His faith in His Father. Jesus' constant companionship with God was evident in all Jesus did. Let us do all we can to increase our faith in God so that we will share all our daily doings with Him. When our love for Him expresses itself in all we do and say, our influence points others to Him.

PRAYER
Dear Father, we thank Thee for Jesus Christ, who taught us to love and trust Thee. Continue to work in us and through us that those who know us best may see the glory of Thy face and come to know the joy of loving Thee and following Christ in His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I would live so close to God that I may always be conscious of His presence with me.
Wilna Winttingham (Ohio)

BABSON DISCUSSES...

A SUMMARY OF AFRICA

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 15—So many readers of my column have written to me questions about South Africa, that I have selected sixteen of the most important and am answering them here.

(1) Population The population of Africa is estimated at 135 million. Of this total, about 5 million are Mulattos, about 3 million English and other Europeans, and about 2 million Dutch, known as Afrikaners. This leaves about 125 million Blacks, which speak nearly two hundred different languages. This language barrier prevents the Communists from now getting any hold in Africa.

(2) Cost of Living This is high for all groups. Black labor is very cheap, but it is very inefficient. Most articles, textiles, etc., are imported.

(3) Large Retail Stores These are very attractive and well stocked, equal to the best in any American city of similar size. There are probably too many small retailers. The merchants are mostly Jewish, Malayan, and English.

(4) Building The Blacks live largely in thatched-roof mud huts, while most of the white-collar people live in very attractive four-story apartment buildings built of brick and covered with cement.

(5) Hotels, Churches, and Clubs These are the same as in any American city of similar size, but much more segregated as to race and inheritance.

(6) Farm Land This is very high priced, at $500 an acre and upward, and can be equalled at $100 an acre in the United States. This high price is due to the fact that agricultural land lies only in the small valleys between the highlands and mountains.

(7) Weather South Africa has its hottest months in January and February; and its coldest in July and August, with practically no freezes except in the highlands. South Africa is fast becoming a winter resort for Europeans.

(8) Rainfall Long periods of drought are followed by terrible floods. Someday the floods will be controlled, but not yet. The weather is fine for citrus, with no freezes and much sunshine. Drought is overcome by irrigation.

(9) Banks There are several local banks scattered throughout Africa; but South Africa has only four. Each of these banks has hundreds of branches. I like Barclays Bank the best, but all are equally good. Banks pay 4½% interest on deposits; bank stocks yield about 9% to stockholders. I believe these bank stocks offer the greatest opportunity for growth in any of the world.

(10) Large Cities There are only a few large cities in Africa; but all are having a marvelous growth. Johannesburg had only a thousand people, all living in tents. Today the population of this city is over 600,000, and there are dozens of skyscrapers. My favorite cities are Cape Town, Durban, and Salisbury.

(11) Fisheries These are very prosperous, and mostly on the Southwest Coast. Frozen fish and so-called "lobster tails" (crayfish) come into the United States free of duty; but a 45% import duty must be paid on canned fish.

(12) Local Investments When the South African people sell out their mining stocks, they use the profit to build apartment houses for rent. They believe that average, business blocks, and apartment houses are the best hedges against inflation.

(13) Highways These are wide and well tarred. Most white-collar workers have automobiles, which are mainly American-made. No oil of commercial grade is now found in Africa. Soft coal exists in great quantities. This is being distilled, and the distillate is being used for gasoline for autos and trucks; the residue is used for tarring the highways.

(14) Minerals My reason for visiting Africa was to investigate the diamonds, gold, chrome, and copper mines. I was interested only in the richest and longest-lived mines, of which there are not too many. I especially like those whose stocks can be bought by the purchase of American Depository Receipts and that are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Too many African mines are short lived and very speculative.

(15) Water Power Africa leads all continents in undeveloped water power. Three of these possibilities are now being developed. I am especially enthused about the one at the Kariba Gorge on the Zambezi River. This will be three times the size of our Hoover Dam, and has the world's largest man-made lake to supply water in the dry seasons. It will supply power to the copper mines.

(16) Wild Beasts Africa has the greatest number of wild beasts now remaining on this earth. There is a huge collection in the Kruger Reservation, 300 miles by 50 miles in area. I was unable to visit this reservation, where they all run wild and have equal opportunity to follow their natural pattern for survival; but Mrs. Babson had the courage to go by herself, with a guide. These wild animals offer a suggestion for world peace—namely by giving equal opportunities to all creatures. If all men and beasts have sufficient opportunities to eat and to develop, there will be no Communists.

A PICTURE OF PROGRESS

U.S. PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES AVERAGE 9,360 MILES A YEAR, AND CONSUME 645 GALLONS OF GASOLINE. IF YOU EQUAL THAT AVERAGE THIS YEAR, YOU'LL PAY ABOUT $56.76 IN DIRECT TAXES ON GASOLINE ALONE!

GASOLINE IS A COMMODITY THAT ALL OF US DEPEND ON... YET THE TAXES ON EVERY GALLON ARE FOUR TIMES AS HIGH AS THE FEDERAL TEN PER CENT ON "LUXURIES".

FOR EVERY DOLLAR PAID FOR FUEL AN ADDITIONAL 40 CENTS GOES TO THE FEDERAL AND STATE GOVERNMENTS—

REMEMBER: THE REAL PRICE OF GASOLINE... EXCLUSIVE OF TAXES... STILL REPRESENTS ONE OF THE BEST BARGAINS ON YOUR FAMILY BUDGET.

Sandhills Philosopher Says... If Russian Politician Stops By His Place, He Wants The Cash

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is off on a weighty topic this week.

Dear editor: I noticed in the papers that another Russian visitor, a man by the name of Mikoyan, second in command over there, has been touring the United States and I read in a copy of a newspaper which I borrowed out of my neighbor's mailbox in the interest of furthering the good neighbor policy and will return if he acts unreasonable about it that Mr. Mikoyan says one trouble with U. S.—Russian relationships is that we don't trust Russia enough.

What puzzles me about this is why should it puzzle Mr. Mikoyan? He knows the Russians better than we do and I doubt if he can trust his home folks to be 100 per cent sure he'll have his own job when he gets back home.

As I understand Russian politics, over there, you don't get elected for any definite term, you just stay in office until you get to trusting your assistants too much, at which time you wake up on a train to Siberia and one of your assistants is occupying your office.

Probably what Mr. Mikoyan meant was we ought to trust him since nobody at home would. As everybody knows, whenever there's a change in office over in Russia, the number of funerals picks up. This is because the Russian politicians have found it's hard to get a man you've just kicked in the teeth to trust you to any extent you can depend on.

I guess maybe it sounds reasonable for the Russians to tell us to trust them when they say they won't build any more hydrogen bombs and wouldn't think of using the ones they've got, but I sure prefer to keep some lying around handy on our side just in case.

I don't know how I got off on this weighty subject, when actually I ought to be thinking about a new crop year for 1959. In the meantime, if Mr. Mikoyan happens by my place out here and wants to buy a dozen eggs, I'd just as soon he paid cash.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Donald and Joy, Jerry, Clay, Jeanene and David Barnett, Mrs. Barnett's mother, Mrs. Jack Priddy of Clovis kept their children, Donnie and Ronnie. Dut to bad weather, Richard and Vera Lou were forced to land somewhere in Oklahoma, but arrived safely, slightly off schedule. They returned to Muleshoe Tuesday night and reported a wonderful trip.

Social Security Representative Here January 22

How and when farm operators should file social security reports of wages paid their hired hands is a familiar question at this time, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office. Hutton further stated that some farm employers are not sure of their obligation to report the wages paid to their farm workers.

$150 or more in cash wages during 1958, his wages must be reported to the Internal Revenue Service. Or, regardless of the amount of wages—if you paid a worker on a time basis for his work on at least 20 days during 1958, the amount you paid him must be reported. Work by the hour, week, or month is on a time basis. Payment of the social security tax on those wages must be made with the report.

The social security tax is 4½%. The farmer deducts 2½% from the employee's cash wages and adds 2½% himself. He then reports the worker's name, social security number and total wages to the Internal Revenue Service in Dallas at the end of each year. The report for 1958 is due by January 31, 1959.

As a reminder Hutton said, "If a farmer hires groups of employees through a crew leader, the crew leader may be the employer". For additional information farmers and crew leaders contact the local social security office at 2878-34th St., Lubbock, Texas.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe on January 22 at 9:30 a.m. at the Courthouse.

TAX FACTS #2 Don't Pay Tax On Non-Taxable Items

This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.

YOU may think that listing your income is the easiest part of preparing a tax return. Actually, according to the Internal Revenue Service, this is where taxpayers make the greatest number of errors.

Not all of the money that may have come to you during 1958 needs to be reported on your tax form. For example, don't report:

- (1) "Dividends" received on an insurance policy. They are considered merely a refund of part of the premium you paid.
- (2) Social Security benefits, Railroad Retirement Act benefits, or payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.
- (3) Property or cash gifts received from other people, although the giver may have to pay a gift tax. Tips and other compensation for services must be reported, however.
- (4) Inheritances and bequests. The estate may be taxed, but not the recipient.

If you were injured and received damages, this is not considered taxable income and it makes no difference whether your damages were awarded by a court or settled out of court.

When listing income you can also forget about most government benefits to veterans and their families. Dividends paid on a veteran's Government insurance is not considered taxable income, but non-disability retirement pay and the interest on terminal leave bonds must be included.

Sick Pay Benefits
If you were absent from work due to injury or sickness and received payments from your employer or his insurance company, these payments are non-taxable within these two limitations:

First, the maximum amount is $100 per week, plus any amounts which came from your own contribution to the plan.

Second, unless the absence was for sickness during which you were hospitalized for one day or for a personal injury, the payments are not tax free until after the first 7 calendar days of absence.

If these payments are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the official instruction book. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize deductions.

Rules on Prizes
There is an interesting rule on prizes. Generally all prizes and awards are taxable. However, prizes awarded for scientific, literary or other achievements without any action by you to bring about your selection, are not considered as taxable income to you. Most scholarships granted to college students are not taxable, and the value of the award does not have to be included in the student's contribution to his support.

The official instructions contain a list of the types of income which should or should not be included in your tax return. It is important to check this list carefully.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

The community property law of the State of Texas is one of the most important points for Texans to remember in filing their Federal tax returns. In Texas the husband and wife must each file on one-half of all community income and on one-half of all the expenses of the community if they file separate returns. It is much better in Texas to file a joint return with all the husband's and wife's income on one return. Now for our annual joke—In Texas a woman cannot have all of her husband's money, she is only entitled to half. It says so in the law.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

DRIVING GRAIN WITH SOLAR ENERGY

A practical way has been found for drying grain with energy from the sun. It is a relatively simple method of converting an unheated-air grain-drying system into a heated-air operation without the necessity of artificial heat. Here's how:

Begin by fastening plywood to the underside of the grain bin roof rafters, leaving an open space about five inches thick. Then paint the bin roof black. The roof absorbs the sun's heat and the 5-inch thick area collects it. Next, reverse the bin fan, pulling the warm air down through the wet grain.

What are the results? On a 70 degree day, with bright sunshine, temperature of the air drawn through the roof "heater" was about 85 degrees. The 15 degree difference is the key to the whole system. Each cubic foot of the 85 degree air takes about twice as much moisture out of wet grain as the same amount of 70 degree air.

If the sun doesn't shine, keep the fan running to cool the grain until it does. In tests, engineers dried shelled corn down from 21% to 14% moisture content with only 3 sunny days out of 23 that it was in storage.

Hauling Milk In A Bag

A giant rubber-fabric container resembling an oversized tooth paste tube offers big promise of cost saving for dairymen. Called "Sealdtank", it has been developed by joint effort of the rubber, trucking and dairy industries, and measures 56 inches in diameter, 35 feet long and holds 3,800 gallons of milk. When empty, the container lies flat or can be rolled into a compact package.

Sealdtank means that for the first time a dry-liquid two-way haul can be accomplished transporting dry cargo in one direction and liquid cargo on a return trip—in the same standard trailer or truck. The shot is that it converts thousands of trucks, railroad box cars and gondola cars into a potential liquid carriers of milk.

"Bagged milk" may mean a saving in cost of getting milk to market. Since the milk can be hauled on the regularly scheduled run of a common motor carrier, rates need only cover the actual cost of the milk haul, an estimated saving of 20% or more.

Farmers Union Report

by Bill Wooley

Howdy friends, in case you didn't notice this column has been absent from this paper for nigh on to three weeks now. We've been on a little vacation out California way, but we are glad to be back with you again.

This being a new year we want to wish each and every one of you a prosperous one. Looking back over 1958, Farmers Union is proud of its part in the fight for a parity of income for the family farmer, for a way of life which is basic and the very heart and soul of this great agricultural land. Through adverse legislation Farmers Union Programs have been at a disadvantage and have been hampered by those in high office who by their actions want this way of life destroyed in favor of the big corporate farms.

Some have gone so far as to say that the only real surplus in America today is a surplus of farmers. Farmers Union has long advocated that the farmer through cooperation with each other hang onto and control their commodities through at least one or two of the processing steps from production, thereby having some say as to what they are to be paid for this commodity.

Someday, if the present trend isn't halted, when the farm land is either owned or controlled by big business such as Safeway, Humble, and other giants who are now getting into it, this will be the case, they will control the selling price.

Farmers Union is proud of the growth it has sustained during 1958, it is an indication that more people are becoming aware of the current situation and are wanting to do something about it. Parity of income is the issue and if it requires acreage adjustments then that is the feasible method.

As a result of the last elections, Mr. Benson has lost some of his allies. No longer can he wield the threat of veto with such confidence every time a good strong farm bill is proposed. No longer can he crack his whip over congress to the delight of his city-dwelling friends, who as a direct result of Mr. Benson's ef-

Stage Set For Lower Prices On Beef in 1959

It appears that beef prices in 1959 may not be greatly different from those of 1958, though the average price in 1959 could be a little lower, predicts John G. McHaney, extension economist.

However, he adds, increases in cattle inventory are setting the stage for a price decline some time in the next few years. Any increase in cattle numbers sets the stage for a future price decline and one is very probable in some early year after 1959. But if the rate of expansion can be kept within bounds the drop will not be too severe.

McHaney says the average price received for slaughter in cattle in 1959 may be slightly below that of 1958 and profits from feeding cattle may average less than in 1958 when returns were the largest of recent years.

The greatest price strength in 1959 will be in feeder and breeding stock, just as in 1958, the economist points out. The bumper 1958 feed harvest, the second in consecutive years, should keep the demand for feeders at a high level. The strong demand for young cattle, both for feeding and herd expansion, also will help keep the price of feeder and breeding cattle high relative to slaughter and fed cattle.

Consumers will have more meat to eat in 1959 than in 1958, McHaney says. It has been estimated that about six per cent more red meat will be produced in 1959. Most of the increase will be in pork and a sizeable increase in pork supplies will tend to hold down cattle prices.

Higher grade beef from fed cattle will remain fairly abundant but lower grades will continue scarce. The price spread between grades will continue to be unusually narrow as cattle feeders bid for the lighter, unfinished animals.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

A or B? That is the question being pondered by most cotton farmers right now as they try to figure which plan will net them the most for their efforts. So far as we know, no one has come up with a definite answer as to which is the best. It seems to depend on a great many factors. If acreage controls are going to continue, say some, there is no question that acreage planted under this program will have some effect on future allotments, even though it is not supposed to be considered.

Others say they have as much cotton as they want anyway, so naturally they will stay with plan A. It seems to us that the important thing that can be expected to result from cotton produced under the B plan, is that it will go directly into the channels of market with no government participation. That, of course, is dependent upon the market price being above the lower support price. Time alone will reveal the wisdom of the program, and choices made by producers.

ASC manager, Prentice Mills, speaking to the directors in their last meeting suggested that revision needs to be made in land measuring on acreage allotments. He said he and other managers believe it would be well to let each farmer do his own measuring and reporting, with the ASC spot checking at random ten to twenty percent of them. Mills said this system would save two hundred thousand dollars in this district on cotton measurements alone. Since about forty percent of administrative funds are being used for measuring, it seems that ports think the farm support prices are bankrupting the government.

They don't know that his administration is costing the people twice as much as it was before Benson or that old demon surplus is three times what it was. Another thing they don't know is that it is taking 6,000 more people on the government payroll to accomplish all this. Mr. Benson refuses to admit that the results of the last election is any dissatisfaction with the farm situation, and his program which is supported by one of the largest farm organizations in America.

Farmers Union is now in the process of planning its annual Washington bus trip, which is one of the most effective ways of carrying the Farmers Union story to the legislators and to the people. Each local in Parmer county is required to send at least one man on this trip which is scheduled to leave later in the month.

Wedel-Nesbitt Landrace May Be Sure Fire Combine In Hog Race

owned by Kenneth Nesbitt and which is part of his registered Landrace strain which he is breeding for sale purposes.

flanked by Kenneth Nesbitt on the left and Jimmy Wedel on the right, owners of Elvis the 18 months old purebred Landrace boar.

Imagine a hog that is actually bred to produce more hams, bacon and porkchops, and less lard and undesirable cuts of pork. Such a hog is now being raised in large quantities throughout this country and certain European countries under the registration name of Landrace.

Originally a native of Denmark, the breed has been improved through crossing with a Large White hog of Denmark, for importation to this country for the first time in 1934.

Further improvements have been made by the American Landrace Breeders Association, and the breed is rapidly climbing in popularity with both the pig raisers and the pork packers as well.

Two Bailey county pig farmers who have had some experience with the Landrace breed are James Wedel and Kenneth Nesbitt, of the West Camp community.

They own equal shares of interest in a five foot, eight inch long Landrace boar with the unassuming name of Elvis. Elvis, it is estimated will weigh about 550 pounds, and he is typical of the Landrace breed, with a long body, sharply rounded ham, swiftly tapering jowl, the long eye-shading ears and the pink skin under white hair. Elvis is 18 months old and is gentle as a lamb.

Both Nesbitt and Wedel have made some crossings of the Landrace breed with Duroc and Poland China sows to get what they believe is a thrifter pig. By this is meant that the pig produces more marketable weight on less food.

The Landrace-Poland China-Duroc hybrid hog has some of the better characteristics of all three breeds and is meeting with good response at the market.

Nesbitt, however is keeping a pure strain of Landrace and has sold some registered stock already.

The Landrace has two extra ribs on either side to give extra length, as well as four more pork chops for those who are interested. Unfortunately, either Wedel or Nesbitt noticed when crossbred hogs were butchered to see if they had four extra ribs, only two, or in fact none at all.

Wedel, who has been raising hogs for 12 years, and Nesbitt, who is somewhat newer at the game both agree there is money to be made in hogs, but both are equally cautious about advising anyone to get into the game at this time.

Thoughtful farmers both, they agree that under proper management, hogs fed on home grown grain will make money. But both also urge anyone considering the prospect to investigate it thoroughly before investing in either hogs, grain or equipment.

Joe Sooter Named President Agricultural Employers Group

Representatives of Farm Labor organizations throughout the High Plains of Texas banded together January 8 and formed the West Texas Agricultural Employers Ass'n., to present a united front on farm labor problems.

Officials, representing 25 associations that handle approximately 40,000 braceros annually, elected Joe Sooter, Muleshoe, as president; Wright Boyd, Sr., Lamesa, vice-president; and Clyde Paschal, Lubbock, as secretary-treasurer.

The January 8 meeting was called by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. George W. Pfeifferberger, executive vice-president, explained the PCG's own bracero committee, with W. T. Millen, Muleshoe, chairman, would work closely with the new labor organization.

"This meeting was called because many of our members felt the need for such an organization on an area wide basis and we were interested in helping get this group organized because we know it can be of immense help to our own cotton producers", Pfeifferberger said.

Details of the Association are still to be worked out, but one of the key functions will be to give High Plains farmers more strength in legislative matters and other developments pertaining to farm labor.

The new organization will be financed through dues of 5 cents per bracero used annually by member associations. Approximately $2,000 was raised by representatives at the first meeting. Those attending the first meeting were acting as temporary directors and each association will elect its own director to the group.

First job for the association will be to represent labor users of this area in a meeting in Kansas City January 14-15, called by the U. S. Department of Labor. Sooter, G. K. McDonald, Lamesa, and J. M. Rankin, Ralls, were named official delegates. W. G. Boyd, Lamesa, also will attend as will W. T. Millen, Muleshoe, I. T. Fulford, Brownfield, and Pfeifferberger, all representing the PCG.

A. L. Buldrow, Brownfield, a member of the Department's subcommittee on Mexican Braceros, attended the January 8 meeting and told the representatives that it is imperative that this area's farmers have a strong organization and present a united front in connection with the labor situation for agriculture.

The group named three committees, finance, by-laws and constitution, and legislative and policy. Sooter said each committee would work on its respective job and report back to directors at the next meeting.

Sooter also announced that letters inviting other labor associations not represented at the January 8 meeting, outlined here last week, is a good method, but again point out that good management practices must be carried out or confusion will run rampant.

Both also are aware of the drastic changes occurring in agriculture today, and both are like many other farmers, anxious to find means of combatting low market prices, in order to live off the farm economically and soundly.

at the January 8 meeting to join were being sent out. All labor associations, ginners and farmers, who use farm labor in West Texas are eligible for membership. He also said copies of the minutes of this first meeting would be mailed with the invitation letters and would give officials a better idea of the goals and future plans of the new association. For the present, the mailing address and headquarters of the West Texas Agricultural Employers Ass'n., will be in the PCG office, 220 Lubbock National Bldg., Lubbock.

Good Records Save Dollars For Farmers

Farmers may save several dollars on income tax by keeping good records, reminds C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Small leaks are the ones that sometimes prove costliest, Bates points out. An oversight of only $25 in expense items may cost an additional $5 tax. So, records should include all items of expense and income that will help determine net profit or loss from the business.

To simplify filling out the tax form, Bates recommends classifying various items in categories corresponding to the various headings used in tax forms. For recording sales, the following groups are recommended: (1) sale of livestock raised, (2) sale of produce raised, (3) other income, (4) sale of items purchased for resale and (5) sale of assets that may receive capital asset treatment.

A depreciation schedule should be kept on farm buildings (except dwelling), fences, machinery, equipment and purchased livestock used for dairy, breeding or draft purposes. These items depreciate each year and this loss is deductible for income tax purposes at the end of the year in which it occurs.

Bates advises consulting your local county agricultural agent about your tax problems. The county agent also can provide a copy of the 1959 Farmers' Tax Guide which should be helpful in your tax management this year.

Cotton Disease Cost Farmers $156 Millions

Disease took a $156 million bite out of the 1958 Texas cotton crop, report 15 cotton specialists located throughout the state.

"Cotton diseases kept at least 930,000 bales of cotton from being marketed," said Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, who compiled the information for the Cotton Disease Council.

Besides the $156 million cash loss to producers, there were losses of business to farm labor, railroads, trucking companies, suppliers, compress companies, storage facilities and other phases of the industry. Diseases also were a major factor in grade reduction and a limiting factor in yield.

This loss occurred even though 1958 growing conditions were generally good as record yields were harvested in many areas, Smith said. Major diseases and estimated loss due to their effect on yield were: bacterial blight, 7.31 percent; root rot, 3.18 percent; verticillium wilt, 3.06 percent; seedling diseases, 3.0 percent; and boll rots, 0.92 percent. Other diseases causing losses were root knot nematodes, fusarium wilt and ascochyta blight.

These average figures don't give the true picture because in areas where diseases struck the hardest losses ran into ruinous figures, pointed out Smith. For example, root rot was estimated to have caused a 25 percent loss in the Central Blackland area. Seedling diseases were especially damaging in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and in some North Texas areas. Bacterial blight caused damage throughout most of the state.

The Man who Appreciates the Finest...

BUYS HIS WIFE GAS APPLIANCES!

Brahms and Brubeck... an unlikely combination? Not to the man who recognizes the "best of its kind," be it arpeggios or appliances. That's why he insisted on a new GAS Clothes Dryer for his wife. He sees the advantages of instant heat (turn it on and it's on), and no heat hang-over (gas off, heat's gone!). He's observed how gentle Gas heat blows moisture away instead of baking it out. Clothes come out fluffier, more wrinkle-free and easier to iron! They last longer, too. Yes, in every way—economy included—GAS gives you more. And where the finest is truly appreciated... GAS belongs!

Mrs. Christine Rutherford Tells
What Teaching Means To Her

WHAT TEACHING MEANS TO ME
 by Mrs. Christine Rutherford

I am a classroom teacher and rejoice that I am! Again I say, "I rejoice," because I am teacher of our Maker's highest creation—boys and girls—the creation that has the highest potentiality of mind development. While I am working with these young lives, endeavoring to guide their powers of thinking into correct channels for good citizenship in academic achievement, I am blessed with an excellent opportunity to live a rich and fruitful life in service to others. I love it and I feel that I am needed.

This "labor of love" brings its own reward in the satisfying knowledge that I am doing a job that is important and meaningful. There are many other rewards that prevent themselves, ranging from those that are intangible to the concrete and the material. Teaching, to me, is more than a profession; it is an art—a creative art of the highest degree. I teach more than the three "R's". I teach children. It is through my actions, my thoughts and my encouragement that small children are made to dream, to realize, and to wish to accomplish.

What can be more thrilling or what can give a brighter inner glow of satisfaction than to see little children developing onto a higher plane of understanding, and of growing in the ability to appreciate the better things of life? What can give more genuine joy than to see their eyes sparkle with interest? What is more rewarding than to note a reaction that indicates, "Oh, I know now?" This interest, or the response, may have been the results from a period of observation. These sparks of interest and the genuine fire of knowing are highly contagious. Then we notice that this torch of knowledge has been transferred to others—so on and on it goes and grows. The creative art of teaching, alone, can give these experiences; and to practice this art gives me joy unspeakable! Oh, yes, sometimes there are pangs of deep anguish for mistakes that I have made. Sometimes there is a piercing grief for failures to kindle sparks of interest where they were needed, but ever in my rebounding thoughts come these words of encouragement from the pen of Apostle Paul, "Be not weary in well doing for in due season ye shall reap if ye faint not." Then I am encouraged to try again. Thus far, there has always been a significant harvest in relation to the child's own potentialities.

Closely knit with the opportunity of teaching, I feel keenly, a responsibility of taking God's supreme handwork as clay in my hands to hold and to mold. There must constantly be the awareness that one mold must not be used for each individual. These "little charges" must be recognized as individuals with personalities peculiar to each his own. Therefore, many different molds must be created so that no child's self-identity will be destroyed. We want children related to their inner selves and to one another.

Parallel with this, I must enter into each personality with love and patience. This love must be poured into all situations without expecting any recognition from any source. As grass, trees, and flowers grow, bud, and blossom with the aid of sunshine, rain, and rich soil, so little children grow, bud, and unfold as blossoms, through love, trust, and confidence that teaching inspires.

Teaching affords me an extended opportunity to live God's word which is summed up in the Golden Rule: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." This practice will necessitate the "pouring in" of love, trust, and confidence.

Teaching provides the opportunity of training the future citizenship of our country how to think and what to think—not indoctrinating them in, or with, my way of thinking, but training them in the principles of right thinking because it is right. The Master Teacher teaches: "As man thinketh, so is he." Clear, critical, and right thinking is the heart of education; and educated society is a must if our American way of life is to survive; therefore, training in right thinking is necessary for the preservation of our Democracy. I rejoice to know that I am a soldier in this effort.

I rejoice, also, to know that I am having a part in placing in children's hands the keys that will enable them to open the world's treasure chests of knowledge—a source from which they may find contentment, joy and encouragement.

Teaching is intellectually challenging in many ways. When those children, who experience more difficulty in learning than some others, come to me for help, I am challenged to exercise my utmost ingenuity to invent ways in which they can learn in their own best way. When I see their improved responses to these new methods of teaching, my profession is rewarding. Certainly, imparting learning effectively, improving our methods, our skills, and our materials present worthy challenges.

Added to the satisfaction and the challenges that teaching affords is the enjoyment of an association with youth. Where could anyone find a near comparison with the effects of the mythical "Fountain of Youth"? Children's lives are fresh, fruitful, and purposeful. They have the most implicit faith, the most humble forgiveness, and the purest love radiating from their hearts. They see the world through rose-colored glasses, that is, if their little minds have not been warped by older people. All of these qualities give anyone a lift. They tend to keep one fresh, invigorated, and young at heart.

Teaching has other social advantages for me. In the profession I meet some of the finest people in the world—pupils, parents, co-workers, and college colleagues. The association with the parents is pleasant and rewarding. I am eager to know these parents as friends. This association in friendship affords me an opportunity to lend a helping hand, or to receive help in solving some of the problems that our children present to us as a parent and as a teacher. This rapport is necessary in a successful educational endeavor.

My co-workers are a source of help and encouragement.

Our interests, aims, and procedures are similar, but each personality is spiced with varied accents that lend color to the atmosphere of this living together in our profession. When I am in association with those who have a mutual interest in giving unrestrained service with love to others, social ties are strengthened.

The schoolroom has been a "Haven of Refuge" for me many times. While I am within its walls, I am lost to all of the cares, worries, disappointments, and responsibilities that often cast a shadow over our lives. Self is forgotten; then our hills are soon cured.

I would not minimize the value of the financial help that has been realized in return for my services. As measured by many professions, the pay has been small. Let that be as it may; but the financial returns from my profession has meant a comfortable living for my family and me. A modest security after retirement has been built up. What more could one ask, when viewed from the material standpoint?

One of my most coveted desires is to be the kind of teacher, who, by my life in word and deed, will influence others to follow in my steps as a teacher of children. Those who are so influenced will be in a profession that is vital and one that is meaningful. Their responsibilities will be great; but if they will indulge their curiosity, stretch their imagination, devise ways and means of imparting knowledge, and train young minds how to think effectively; then they will enjoy a useful, challenging, and fruitful life.

Yes, I say again, "I rejoice because I am a classroom teacher. I love this "labor of love".

Matching potholders have a sugar bowl-cream pitcher motif. The apron was sewn by Mrs. E. L. Robbins of Pelahatchie, Miss., who received honorable mention in the 1958 Cotton Bag Sewing Contest.
