

Festival Offers Full Day Of Fun Saturday

A wide variety of entertainment is expected to lure county residents to the ninth annual Lynn County Harvest Festival Saturday, an event which offers games, contests and other activities all day long on the Tahoka Square.

There will be booths, drawing for merchant donated prizes every hour with Gary White as master of ceremonies for the drawings, a county fair, the featured Harvest Festival Queen contest, a princess contest, drawing for a Dallas Cowboy weekend and two bands.

The "Wooden Nickel" band of Lubbock will be on stage throughout the day bringing a variety of music.

Tahoka Rotary Club will sponsor the street dance in the evening from 8 p.m. to midnight. The Rotary Club pays for the band; therefore, the Club's sausage booth is the only booth open in the evening. The Rotary booth and many others will be open all day on the square, however.

Among scheduled activities are a fair at the old Department Store building on the west side of the square, a pet contest, frog jumping, turtle race, slipper kicking, big wheels, bicycle and sack races, "42" games, a miniature calf roping, square dance exhibition by the "Cloggers" and a sidewalk sale by many merchants.

The street dance on the east side of the square will feature the Jimmy Blakely band from Lubbock.

Judges for the Queen Contest will be representatives of the Robert Spence Modeling School in Lubbock. Contestants and sponsors are: seniors, Misti Cook and Susie Lara, Lena McKibben (annual), Maria Huffaker and Cynthia Payton (Growl) juniors; Janet Anderson, Brenda Chapa, Sarita Haney and Connie Spruiell (cheerleaders); sophomores, Sharla Miller, Dawn Teaff and Shawn McGruder; freshmen Marie Garcia and Lisa Carter.

The grand prize drawing, with tickets sold by the queen candidates, is a weekend trip for two to the football game between the Dallas Cowboys and the Washington Redskins on Dec. 8.

Other prizes to be given away are two bicycles and a Tech weekend for two Nov. 7-8. This package includes tickets to the Tech-SMU game at Lubbock, accommodations in the King's Suite at the Holiday Inn Civic Center and a brunch on Sunday morning with tickets being sold by the princess candidates. The candidate who sells the most tickets will be Harvest Festival Princess. The contestants from the 7th and 8th grades are Kim Ingle and Odette Morin.

An "early bird" prize, which is a 19" portable colored television, will be given away at 11 a.m. by the Harvest Festival Committee. Also the committee will give away a telephone clock radio sometime during the day.

This year's festival is held in conjunction with homecoming planned Friday night at Tahoka High School.

FIRST BALE IN COUNTY — Bill Williams, right, holds a $100 check presented by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce for the first bale of cotton ginned in Lynn County this year. Williams' bale was hand-gathered from approximately 2 acres located 3½ miles east of Draw on Sept. 7. It was brought to Woolam Gin in O'Donnell, represented here by owner Tommy Woolam, and the 425 pound bale was ginned about 6 p.m. on Sept. 7. Williams said the cotton was planted on April 17. The bale generated 1710 pounds of seed cotton and was sold at 85¢/lb. to Allenberg Cotton Company, a well-established shipment company located in Lubbock. This was also the first bale ginned on the South Plains.

Burglary, Vandalism Investigated

Burglary of a home four miles northeast of New Home and a case of criminal mischief near O'Donnell were crimes on which Crime Line, 998-5145, offered $300 rewards this week.

Betty Barton, Rt. 1, O'Donnell, reported three windows broken out of her residence four miles north and 1.5 miles west of O'Donnell on FM 213. The vandalism occurred between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday. She has had damage done to her car on two previous occasions, officers said.

Frank Lisenby, Rt. 1, Wilson, reported his home four miles northeast of New Home burglarized early last Saturday afternoon. Stolen were RCA 12-inch and 13-inch color TVs, a Sharp black and white TV, and a Sound Design cassette player. Total value of the missing items was set at $1000, and there also was damage to a wooden door.

In jail during the week were four persons for reckless damage and destruction, two for assault causing bodily injury, and one each for failure to appear, disorderly conduct and traffic warrant.

Police received more reports from residents receiving obscene phone calls during the past week and also investigated a couple of accidents.

Three residents in the city reported to police that they had received obscene phone calls last Tuesday and Wednesday nights. One resident said she had been bothered twice by the same person.

Police investigated an accident on Friday at the intersection of Ave. D and N. 1st that involved a 1973 Chrysler driven by Rafael Garcia of Tahoka and a Pontiac driven by Clayton Carter of Tahoka. No injuries were reported.

Another accident occurred on Monday at the Post Office parking lot that involved a 1984 Dodge Suburban driven by Jesus Martinez of Tahoka and a 1984 Ford pickup driven by Oscar Clint Sikes of Tahoka. No injuries were reported.

Teresa Ausbern of Tahoka reported three cases of oil were stolen from the carport from her residence last Tuesday.

Police also answered a prowler call and issued two tickets during the past week, including one for driving a motorcycle without a driver's license and one for running a red light.

Energas Rate Hike Approved For Tahoka

An increase in rates charged by Energas to customers in Tahoka averaging 4.3 per cent for all customers was approved by Tahoka City Council Monday, following the recommendations of a study group appointed for a number of West Texas cities after Energas had requested a higher increase earlier.

Originally, the gas company had asked for increases averaging more than 7 per cent per customer.

The council also approved several housing assistance applications, and discussed some possible changes in the scheduled use of some housing assistance under a federal program which stipulates that part of Community Development Block Grant money be used for that purpose.

Council members also discussed finances, noting that money generated from water and sewer and garbage collection fees has not been adequate to pay for operation of these services. They agreed that an increase in the basic rates for these services may be necessary, but took no action on the matter.

I READ SOMEWHERE that Lloyd Doggett and Phil Gramm were both a little upset that their television ratings on a debate were low; they seemed surprised that not many people tuned in. So here's the word, fellows, on why it was that way;

Most of us could care less about any debate between two opposing political figures. We already have our minds pretty well made up, and what the opponents say about each other face to face is unlikely to change anything. (I'm voting for Phil Gramm, no matter what Doggett says, or no matter what Gramm says, but I don't want to hear a lot of yakking about it).

So far as I am concerned, the same would hold true about Reagan and Mondale. If they have a TV debate, and I think they plan one, I'd rather tune in to something else, thank you. Now if they would wrestle on stage, or throw pies at each other, or something lively, I might watch.

AVERAGE PAY for a worker in Texas in 1983 was $18,133, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. This is above the average for the nation ($17,544) and only eight states and the district of Columbia had higher averages.

Highest of all was Alaska.

where the average worker made $28,720. Of course, you'd need more than that, because anybody who would live in such a climate on purpose would need his head examined periodically, and that costs money.

All of the other places where the average earnings were higher than those in Texas were up north, too, except for California, and we expect that living costs are higher in all of the places.

Spensible income, says the report (meaning what folks have left to spend after taxes and adjustment for inflation) is at a record average of $11,100 per year, a 10 per cent rise since 1982.

I'm trying to remember what it was I spent my $11,100 on last year.

IT'S A FACT!

Tree farmers in Washington State consider foam cups great containers for tree seedlings. The insulating properties of the cups protect the plant roots from sudden changes in temperature. The cups also maintain the necessary moisture while allowing the plant to breathe. A nurseryman says foam cups are easy to fill with soil-fertilizer mix, and easy to stack and store. Keep America Beautiful liked the idea so well, it sends booklets about it to concerned citizens and environmental groups throughout the United States.

Polystyrene foam containers keep hot things hot and cold things cold longer than any other type of disposable container, according to the Society of the Plastics Industry. What's more, the cups don't get soggy or lose their shape. That may be why so many fast food restaurants are fast switching from paper to foam cups.

FmHA State Directors Advise On Farm Credit Initiatives

All of the Farmers Home Administration's state directors and farmer program chiefs are reviewing plans to put into action President Reagan's farm credit initiatives to help farmers experiencing severe financial stress. J. Lynn Futch, FmHA state director for Texas said.

J. Lynn Futch and Robert Hopper, farmer program chief for Texas, returned over the week end from a day-long strategy session in Washington with FmHA National Administrator Charles W. Shuman and other national and state FmHA officials.

"There can be no question about the commitment of the Farmers Home Administration at all levels to put this plan to work to help those farmers with sustainable operations who are caught in a financial squeeze through circumstances beyond their control," Futch said.

Under the President's plan, FmHA will be able to set aside up to 25 percent -- to a maximum of $100,000 -- of a qualifying farmer's loan without interest for five years.

For farmers in financial distress who do not have FmHA loans, the agency can guarantee up to 90 percent of a new loan if their lender is willing to write off enough of the farmer's debt to put the loan in a secured position and achieve a positive cash flow. The key in both approaches is to restore the farmer to a positive cash flow situation. Essentially, that means to restructure the debt and reorganize the farming operation, if needed, to establish the financial strength needed to meet all farm operating costs; family living expenses, machinery upkeep and service all debts.

Futch said FmHA borrowers will be advised of their eligibility to participate during the annual review of their loans.

Bulldogs Seek Win In Homecoming Tilt

The Tahoka Bulldogs, who have certainly located their share of tough football teams so far this season, are gearing up for a big effort this week against the visiting Roscoe Plowboys, who will come here for Tahoka's homecoming.

Roscoe is the only Class A team on Tahoka's schedule, but that doesn't mean it will be any easier, although it should be a little easier than last week's 41-0 defeat at the hands of the Abernathy Antelopes, ranked near the top of all the teams in the state in Class AA.

Roscoe is ranked in the top 10 in the state in Class A, and last Friday suffered their first loss in three starts, a 24-6 loss to Hamlin, a team in the top 10 of Class AA.

Coach A.D. Shaver's team actually played a good game on defense against the talented Abernathy squad, but could do very little on offense.

Shaver said good defensive work was done by most of the team, except for breakdowns on a few plays. "Mostly, our kids did a good job on defense," he said.

Particularly good work on defense was turned in by Scott Isbell at middle linebacker, Johnny Morin at outside linebacker, Doug Lawson at defensive end, and Daron Norwood and Andrew Chapa in the secondary.

Pass defense was better than usual, with Abernathy completing just 4 of 11 passes.

In the first half, Abernathy scored on runs of 32, 5, 5, and 33 yards, plus a safety, to have a 29-0 lead. The Dogs' defense held the Antelopes to 12 points in the last half.

QB Randy Taylor and Norwood threw 15 passes, but completed none and had three intercepted.

Morin gained 35 yards on 15 carries and Jerry Alvarado was the leading ground gainer for Tahoka with 51 yards on 14 carries.

Tahoka's homecoming queen will be crowned at halftime of Friday night's game.

TAXES ON CROP INSURANCE RECEIPTS—Farmers who will be collecting on their crop insurance this year due to drought-shortened yields may be able to postpone taxes on those proceeds, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Farmers using the cash method of accounting may elect to postpone reporting crop insurance payments to the following year if they can show that they would have ordinarily reported the crop income the following year. To make this election, a farmer must attach a special statement to his tax

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

Highlighting TOMI discussions for October will be the peanut, broiler and cotton situations, '85 farm policy, consumer preferences for beef, quarterly cattle on-feed report, dairy set aside update, wheat and feed grain outlook and '85 production costs.

"TOMI" is the Telephone Outlook and Market Information program provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Information provided by the program is designed to help keep agricultural producers updated on commodity markets and other vital information useful in planning and managing their operations.

More detailed information on the October subjects is available by dialing (409) 845-8664 (TOMI), according to this schedule:

Oct. 2-4. Peanut Situation, Johnny Feagan

Oct. 5-8. Broiler Situation, William Black

Oct. 9-11. Farm Policy - '85, Ron Knutson

Oct. 12-15. Consumer Preferences for Beef, Dick Edwards

Oct. 16-18. Cotton Situation, Carl Anderson

Oct. 19-22. Quarterly Cattle on Feed, Ed Uvacek.

Oct. 23-25. Dairy Set Aside Update, Bud Schwart.
Oct. 26-29. Wheat and Feed Grain Outlook, Ed Smith.
Oct. 30-Nov. 1. Production Costs in '85, Forrest Stegelin.
Messages for TOMI are prepared by Extension Service economists, who provide latest information available to aid producers in making decisions.
The telephone information system operates seven days a week on a 24-hour basis, the agent adds.

CHOOSING IN-HOME CARE FOR CHILDREN--Choosing an in-home caregiver for young children is a serious matter for parents. Of the children in childcare, about 85-90 percent are cared for in their own homes or in small groups in a caregiver's home, says home economist Diane T. Welch. The caregivers are often friends, relatives or neighbors, she adds. When the in-home caregiver is a friend or relative, parents often feel awkward about asking for an interview, notes Welch. However, it's just as important to spend time talking with a friend or relative, she says, since you may find your views on child care are not compatible. "Don't take anything for granted and tell the person what you expect of the child and what you would like a caregiver to do for and with the child," she says.

Eagles Leading District Teams

The O'Donnell Eagles, 3-1 after battering Sands 34-8 last Friday, find themselves in the rare but happy position of being at the top among all district teams, although no district games have been played.

Klondike also has a 3-1 record, so they are tied with the Eagles for the best mark in non-conference play so far.

This week the Eagles invade the home field of unbeaten Forsan, which last week pounded Rankin 40-8.

Bobby Sanchez scored from the 1-yard line for O'Donnell in the first period against Sands, and Kyle Summers ran 20 yards for another score in the second period. Jay Edwards added a TD from the 6 in the third quarter, and Joey Santos scored twice in the fourth quarter, from 4 and 1 yard out.

Santos gained 91 yards in 15 carries. Sands scored a touchdown in the fourth quarter on an 80-yard run by Arnold Velasco.

FURROW DIKING IMPROVES CROP YIELDS—A new technique called furrow diking can significantly increase crop yields by improving the soil's storage of water and thereby lessening drought effects. Furrow diking is the mechanical placement of mounds of soil at intervals across the furrow to form small basins, explains and agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These basins trap rainfall so that it can be absorbed into the soil rather than running off. Maintaining water infiltration and storage in the soil is critical in areas where rain falls "hard and heavy" for short periods of time.

CIVIC, SOCIAL GROUPS MAY APPLY FOR TAX-EXEMPT STATUS

Many non-profit civic and social welfare organizations can have their tax exempt status recognized by the Internal Revenue Service by filing an application for recognition with the IRS.

The IRS says that an organization with subordinate chapters can apply for a group exemption letter, rather than having each affiliate apply.

COTTON TODAY

Cotton Exports Get Boost: Prospects for overseas sales of U.S. cotton were boosted by USDA's announcement of $380 million in cotton export credit for fiscal 1985.

Another $134 million in export credit guarantees is being made available for purchases of vegetable oils and protein meals which include cottonseed oil and cottonseed meal, the National Cotton Council reports.

Countries eligible for the credit guarantees includes Korea, Pakistan, Hungary, Portugal, Yugoslavia, Thailand, and Ecuador.

Grading For Cottonseed Oil: Some chemists have recommended that cottonseed oil be graded so it can compete better with petroleum oils and solvents for use in pesticide formulations.

The recommendation came at a special workshop sponsored by the National Cottonseed Products Assn. and the National Cotton Council. The chemists pointed out that cottonseed oil has the advantage of being a natural product that is in abundant supply and not harmful to plants.

Research Nominations In: Twenty-six nominations have been submitted to the National Cotton Council for the first Cotton Research Recognition Award.

Created to recognize the scientist who has made most beneficial contribution to the cotton-industry through production or processing research, the award is funded by a grant from Mobay's Agricultural Chemicals Division to the Cotton Foundation.

Winner of the award will be named in January at the Council-sponsored Beltwide Cotton Production Conference in New Orleans.

4-H: Building On Experience
"4-H: Building on Experience" is the year-long theme of the 4-H program in Texas and across the nation, and that theme will get special emphasis during National 4-H Week, Oct. 7-13.

A number of local activities and programs are being planned to support the 4-H theme, says Greg Henley, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Some of the activities for National 4-H Week for Lynn County include: 4-H Sunday, Oct. 7, Harvest Festival, Oct. 6, and the Lynn County 4-H Achievement Banquet to be held Oct. 10 at the Tahoka School Cafeteria.

"4-H: Building on Experience" highlights the educational projects which help young people gain practical skills, develop good nutrition and health habits, explore career opportunities, generate leadership capabilities, and become involved as citizens in their local communities, the state and the nation.

The 4-H program is built on experiences of an impressive past. By providing useful knowledge to help youths develop experiences in careers they would enjoy, 4-H has also contributed to international understanding through exchange programs with countries around the world.

Youths from all backgrounds and walks of life can enjoy the unique learning experiences that 4-H has to offer. Through their 4-H experiences, these young people can play an important part in a more satisfying and rewarding future for all Americans.

SWCD Slates Director Election

An election for a director to serve in Zone 1 on the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District Board is scheduled today (Thursday) in the school cafeteria in Wilson according to Norman Ledbetter, chairman of the board. The election will be held in conjunction with the Wilson Lions Club regular meeting. A film on conservation work in Texas and Lynn County will be shown.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 18 years of age and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district.

Zone 1 of the district includes the greater part of the northeast quarter of Lynn County.

Current members of the board of directors of Lynn County SWCD are: Norman Ledbetter, chairman, Draw Community, Zone 3; W.R. Steen, vice chairman, Wilson, Zone 1; Lit Moore, secretary, New Home, Zone 5; T.B. Mason, member, Tahoka, Zone 2; Paul Sherrill, member, O'Donnell, Zone 4.

Landowners in northeast Lynn Co. (Zone 1) are invited to come to this election at Wilson.

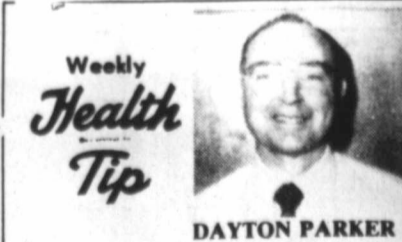

October Is Cooperative Month In Texas

Gov. Mark White has proclaimed October as Cooperative Month in Texas and urged the people of Texas to "give special recognition to the constructive and responsible roles of agricultural cooperatives in the economic progress of our State."

"Texas has more than 400 agricultural cooperatives operating and serving over 133,000 members," according to Billy Conner, Executive Vice-President of the Texas Agricultural Cooperative Council. "These cooperatives are doing business volumes of almost four billion dollars annually," he said.

Cooperatives in Texas range from farmer-owned gins, elevators and compresses to marketing, supply and credit organizations. Health, housing, insurance, electric, telephone and other service cooperatives are becoming more and more important to all Texas citizens.

Weekly Health Tip
OSTEOPOROSIS
Many middle aged and elderly persons suffer from softening of the bones called osteoporosis, due to a gradual loss of calcium in the bones. They become brittle, deformed, and easily fractured. Studies over several years show that nearly all osteoporosis patients had a low calcium level in their diet, and that by drinking more milk, the calcium level in the body improved. To prevent bone softening, a daily intake of at least one gram of calcium (3 glasses of milk) plus adequate protein, vitamins D and C, is recommended.

LEAN-BEEF POPULAR WITH SOME CONSUMERS--Some like it lean. That's the conclusion researchers at Texas A&M University drew from a nationwide study of consumer beef steak preferences. In the study, 25 percent of the consumers--mostly from Houston and the San Francisco area -- found USDA grade good loin steaks to be acceptable and indicated they would buy this grade of meat. Consumer acceptance of leaner meat could result from number of factors, says food and nutrition specialist Marilyn Haggard. Those consumers looking for ways to cut calories and fat from their diets may be more willing to trade some of the taste and juiciness of higher grade steaks, she notes. But cooking methods may have something to do with it, too. People who tend to use moist cooking methods, or prefer their meat on the rare side, will find leaner cuts more acceptable, explains the specialist. Marinating steaks before cooking on an outdoor grill, or slow cooking barbecue are also popular cooking methods well suited to leaner beef, and the warm-weather lifestyle.

Will the last family leaving rural America please turn out the lights?!

The Republicans and Democrats agree on one thing: The now-famous economic recovery is passing rural America by. The lights are going out in farmhouses across the nation at a pace unmatched since the Great Depression, and with 1983's inflation-adjusted net farm income hitting the lowest level of this century, hundreds of formerly-thriving businesses on Main Streets throughout America are being boarded up every week.

What's the answer? U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block says we should phase out farm price support programs and allow prices to seek "market-clearing levels." Democratic presidential nominee Walter Mondale says we must have more effective "supply management" measures to protect farmers' prices. But it's the Congress we elect this year that must actually pass the all-important 1985 Farm Bill.

Find out where the candidates stand and then make your vote count on November 6th.

The farm or business you save may be your own.

Good News Department

The next time you ride—or just admire—a beautiful horse, the chances will be better that the animal is a healthy one.

Horses can be healthier thanks to modern veterinary medicine.

Horse owners can now control gastrointestinal roundworms and stomach bots in their animals, including pregnant mares, thanks to a new antiparasitic agent available in the form of an oral paste. Marketed by MSD AGVET, a division of Merck & Co., Inc., the medication controls the arterial larval and adult stages of bloodworms, a major cause of colic, and the oral as well as the gastric stages of bots.

Called EQVALAN, it can be obtained from veterinarians. It is convenient to use and particularly suited for parasite control in any horse where other methods of treatment may present problems.

Packaged for administration by mouth, the tube plunger is notched and has a locking ring so that a precise dose can be delivered to a horse of any weight, up to 1,250 pounds.
