WHEN YOU ARE a stranger in a strange land, meaning a tourist or a visitor, sometimes you need to take the statements of the natives with a grain of skepticism.

We have made a couple of trips to New England, famous for its beautiful fall foliage, but whenever we were anywhere up there, we were told that "you're a week early (or late) to see the change." Of course, lots of people tell us they have seen the beautiful fall foliage in New England, but I suspect they have been paid by the state tourist bureaus to tell all the folks back home that they saw things which really don't exist. Vermont and Pennsylvania and all those places have also commissioned artists to paint pictures from their imaginations and add to the myth that there really is such a thing as New England fall foliage.

The same thing happens to tourists everywhere. When we were in Ireland a few years ago, it was very chilly and rainy in June, and when our tour bus was stopped, a woman running a business catering to tourists told us that

Theft Of Ring, Wreck At New Home Reported

A wreck at the traffic signal in New Home Tuesday afternoon sent a young woman from the Petty area to a Lubbock hospital, although injuries suffered by Stella Nieman, 18, were not believed to be serious.

She was driving a 1984 GMC pickup which was struck by a semi-trailer driven by Donald Jones, 31, of Lubbock, according to investigating officers. The truck is owned by Byrd Sand & Gravel Co. of Slaton. Lynn County EMS ambulance took the woman to Lubbock Methodist Hospital.

Dept. of Public Safety officers noted, however, that there were no accidents on highways in Lynn County during the Labor Day weekend.

Lupe Ramirez reported to sheriff's officers that a diamond ring valued at $2999 and a gold wedding band valued at $100 were stolen in a burglary of her trailer home sometime between Aug. 26 and Sept. 2. Crime Line, 998-5145, has offered a $500 reward in the case.

Barbara Brown of Big Spring reported her car parked three miles north of Tahoka on FM 400 between 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. Aug. 18 was burglarized after a window was smashed. Stolen were papers, notebooks, a tan bag and two briefcases of Amway materials.

Tahoka police answered a disturbance call on Tuesday at Lynn County Pioneer Club between an elderly woman and a young woman who reportedly exchanged harsh words. No arrests were made, however.

Mark Davis of 1224 N. 7th reported that someone had entered her storage shed on Friday and had stolen an undetermined amount of dishes.

Police investigated a family disturbance call on Friday that involved two brothers reportedly fighting each other and one claimed that he had been cut with a knife. No charges were filed at press time.

Paul Jaco reported to police on Saturday that someone had stolen his license plate off his 1969 Chevrolet pickup parked at the north side of the Texaco service station in Tahoka.

Police arrested one Tahoka man during the past week for public intoxication.

In jail during the week were one person each on charges of burglary, unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, driving while intoxicated, public intoxication, traffic and public intoxication, DWI second offense and driving while license suspended, no seatbelts plus failure to appear, and driving while license suspended.

the weather was very unusual. "We never have such poor weather," they said.

Our bus driver, who was from Northern Ireland, told us later that statement was a bunch of blarney. "The weather is always like this around here," he said.

Bulldogs Win Opener, Will Try Cooper Next

By DALTON WOOD

The Tahoka Bulldogs started off the new football season on a high note last Friday night as they eased by the visiting Plains Cowboys 14-13.

It was the first opening-game victory for Tahoka since 1981, when the Dogs tripped Stanton 14-10 to start a season which wound up in the playoffs.

To the delight of the hometown crowd, Tahoka unveiled a new offensive weapon in the form of halfback Charles Jurden, 180-pound junior running back who is the son of new head boys basketball Coach Charles Jurden. The younger Charles gained 107 yards in 13 carries, averaging 8.2, and scored the first Tahoka touchdown by racing 32 yards into the end zone midway of the first quarter. Jurden's run followed a 10-yard run by Mike Ramirez. QB Ramiro Rodriguez kicked the point and Tahoka led 7-0.

Plains came right back with a mixture of passing and running, and scored on a 14-yard pass from QB Kyle Stephens to End John Harris. Anthony Asebedo kicked to tie the game at 7 just before the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was scoreless, as Tahoka's defense did some good work, with Stephens being hit for losses by Michael Isbell, Ronnie Dunn and Bobby Jolly. Biggest offensive play of the quarter was a 22-yard run by Kurt Bryan of the Bulldogs.

Tahoka regained the lead with 8:43 left in the third period on a long drive featuring a 23-yard run by Jurden and a great pass play from Rodriguez to flanker Thomas Glisson, who adjusted the ball and made a fine catch, going to the Plains 5 on the 47-yard play. The touchdown was scored by Shannon Clift, who dived in from Jess than a yard away. Rodriguez kicked the extra point which was to prove to be the margin of victory.

A long bomb of 52 yards from Stephens to Shawn Booth gave the Cowboys a score with just 25 seconds left in the third period, but the extra point kick was wide.

Good defense led by linebacker Cory McCleskey kept Plains in check in the fourth period, with the main offensive thrusts being a 23-yard pass from Rodriguez to Ramirez and 25-yard run by Rodriguez.

This week the Bulldogs will make the short trip to Class AAA Lubbock. Cooper, which opened the season last week by walloping Morton 35-7.

Tahokans Raise $1768 For MDA

Jolly Time Video, local headquarters for the Muscular Dystrophy Association's fund raising efforts in conjunction with the Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon, reported this week that area citizens raised a total of $1768.57 for MDA.

The majority of funds was donated by callers to Jolly Time Video, pledging a total of $859; and by Tahoka Boy Scout Troop 721, who collected $528.13 in a door-to-door campaign on Labor Day. Ernest Walker's hot dog stand proceeds for MDA amounted to $130.44 at the video store, and donations collected in a fishbowl inside the store amounted to $114.00.

Jolly Time Video sponsored a $1 donation drawing for MDA, where customers donated $1 for a chance to win 15 free movie rentals. The drawing brought in $137 for MDA, and the winner of the drawing was Vicki Summitt of Tahoka.

Tahoka Man Joins Team Helping Philippine Farmers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Tahoka farmer Wayne Huffaker recently returned home from a six-weeks trip to the Philippines on behalf of Agriculture Cooperative Development International (ACDI). He was part of a four-man team sent with the goal of helping to organize a marketing co-op for rice. Huffaker was selected because he is a farmer and because of his experience with farm cooperatives. Following is his account of the project.)

By WAYNE HUFFAKER

My trip to the Philippines was paid for by USAID through a contract with ACDI. These funds are provided by our government using one-half of one percent of the food for peace appropriations. Congress has funded some projects, trying to help third world countries become self-sufficient in necessary foods. I think the reasoning behind this is that our country shouldn't continue to donate food to these countries forever but should help them with their own agriculture.

My service in the Philippine Islands was for six weeks. We had a four-man team from the U.S. The program is designed as a farmer-to-farmer program, but not all projects lend themselves to a pure farmer-to-farmer approach. In our case, I was the only farmer. My title was "Farmer Organization Specialist." The three other team members were not farmers. They were Darrel Baker, a farm credit specialist from Georgia; Al Boulay, a feed mill engineer from Florida; and Jack Proctor, computer specialist from the farm credit system in Kansas.

Our job was to set up a marketing, milling, and storage co-op somewhat like what we have here on the Plains with our cotton co-ops. We were able to be pretty successful in our efforts. We left them with a new organization with a board of directors, a management team, a small rice mill in operation, a financial package to enable them to purchase the raw rice from the farmer, and a computer bookkeeping system to keep up with their individual farmers.

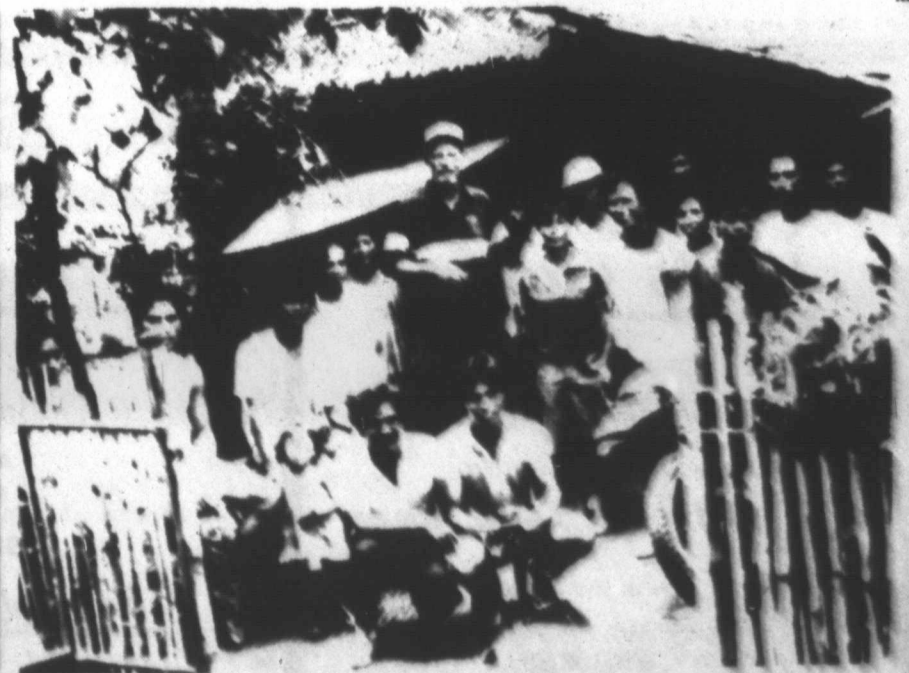

It remains to be seen if we had any lasting effect, but I am fairly confident that we got them off to a good start. Their most serious need will be the working capital required to expand their operations. We are hopeful that the Dutch government is going to infuse some risk capital into the operation.

We arrived in Manila July 13. After recovering from jet lag, we spent a couple of days in orientation, as well as calling on USAID and various officials in the Philippines Dept. of Agriculture. Manila, a city of an estimated 12 million, is a large, fairly modern city, but lacking many of the services we take for granted in the U.S. Public transportation is provided by the famous jeepney. There are thousands of them. One can ride anywhere for a peso, or 5 cents U.S. One of the great problems the Philippines government has is the squatters who have

Eagles Lose Opener, 19-12

A strong second-half performance by the Rotan defense and two touchdowns from Yellowhammer running back Joe Huitt made the difference Friday as Rotan outlasted O'Donnell 19-12.

Huitt also scored once in the first half when he scampered 9 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter. Lonnie Foster kicked the PAT.

The Eagles drew first blood when quarterback Ricard Ramirez scored with seconds remaining in the first quarter. O'Donnell scored again in the second period, but was shut out for the rest of the game.

Huitt scored on an 11-yard run in the third quarter and on a 3-yard run in the final period. Both PAT attempts failed.

Mustangs Knock Off Klondike

Michael Guzman rushed for 170 yards and Ruben Garcia ran for 110 yards as the Wilson Mustangs clawed their way to a 37-33 victory over the Klondike Cougars Friday night.

Wilson raised its record to 1-0 with the victory, while Klondike fell to 0-1.

Wilson jumped to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter on a 22-yard run by Guzman and increased the lead when Guzman broke loose on another 22-yard scamper late in the first quarter. The extra point attempt was good to give the Mustangs a 13-0 lead.

Klondike cut the lead in the second quarter when Gilbert Guerra crashed over from 10 yards out. The point after attempt was good to make the score 13-8.

But the Mustangs sacked the Cougars for a second-quarter safety and connected on a 15-yard scoring pass from Jeff Bednarz to Cody Means to keep Klondike at bay.

The Wilson tandem of Guzman and Garcia led the Mustangs to a total of 299 yards rushing, while Klondike ran for 234 yards, behind Guerra's total of 150 yards rushing on 17 carries.

DANGER—FALLING HAIR

If you are faced with the problem of losing your hair don't shrug your shoulders and say, "There's nothing I can do about it." Not only is this a negative attitude but it is a false assumption. Think positive. Immediately consult a physician, for many cases of falling hair are due to simple scalp conditions that can be cleared up. Even where baldness might be inevitable, the rate of fall can possibly be slowed down and controlled.

We carry many medicinal shampoos, ointments and lotions that physicians prescribe for hair and scalp conditions. We also compound special prescriptions for dermatologists.

Wilson ISD Board of Trustees met in special session on Tuesday, Aug. 30 for final amending to the 1988-89 school budget. The board also discussed possible ambulance services for the football games.

The First Baptist Church began fall activities for the children last week. The Children's Choir met on Wednesday, Aug. 31. The children "signed in" on a musical note and added the notes to the "grand staff." Each week the children will move their note up the scale. After singing, the 11 choir members were treated to ice cream at the Dairy Queen in Slaton. On Sunday, the GA and RA program was begun. Ronda Sams is leading the Ga's while Bro. Phillip Sams is leading the RA's. They discussed the goals and activities involved in these programs and then dismissed for special GA and RA cupcakes. Mission Friends for the 4-5 year olds will begin the first Sunday in October.

Friday night was our first official six-man football game. The Mustangs hosted the Klondike Cougars. The season got off to a good start with the 37-33 victory for the Mustangs. There were several men in the stands that had played on Wilson's six man team back in the 40s and 50s. The band sounded great and the majorettes and cheerleaders kept things going. The games start at 7:30. Fri-built shacks right on the curbside, in many cases in front of very nice modern buildings. The newspapers were writing about the problem almost every day but it didn't seem that anyone could do anything about it. The people in Manila seem to be pleased with the new administration of Cory Aquino but also speak of her as being naive and almost powerless in the face of such massive problems. Almost every day the newspapers broke another story about the corruption throughout the entire government structure.

Smog, Pollution Problems
We in the U.S. often fuss about the environmentalists and the rules and regulations we have to live with, but after seeing the pollution in Manila I now realize that without them we would be like so much of the third world. The smog in Manila was just terrible. At times one couldn't see two blocks. The river and streets are a giant sewer. We think our taxes are high, and they are, but when you see the results of only 28 percent of the population paying taxes, maybe they aren't too bad after all. The government simply doesn't have the resources to spend on public projects such as sewers and garbage disposal and I can assure you that the alternative isn't what we want in our country.

After spending four days in Manila, we flew to the Island of Negros, about a one and a half hour jet flight south of Manila. Our headquarters was the Sugarland hotel in Bacolod City, Negros Occidental. The city is located in the heart of the Philippine rice bowl but still they must import rice from time to time. The rice farms average about 3 acres, very small and very poor. One of the purposes of our effort was to enable the small farmer to escape the almost feudal system of financing their crop. The private rice traders finance the production of the rice for a small interest charge of 20 percent per month. I think this borders on the criminal but it is the system that has prevailed for years. The Philippine government is trying to help by establishing rural cooperative banks along the line of our Production Credit Associations but the banks are also starved for capital.

Not Enough Money
Because of the high cost of production money, the small farmer isn't able to apply the technology that is available to him through their extension service. The average production of rice is 100 bags of paddy "raw rice" per hectare. We saw model farms where proper fertilizer, insecticide, etc. was being used with yields approaching 400 bags per hectare. The farmers I visited with were well aware of the green revolution, but were not being allowed to participate because of the lack of capital.

I spent most of my time visiting small rural villages and individual farmers explaining about the benefits and structure of a co-op marketing system. We were able to show an individual farmer that by storing and milling his rice he could at least double the value of his rice. You understand that the private traders are financing the crop, then buying the production at his own price. We saw evidence of at least 100 percent markup in the rice after it left the farm gate.

I also found that because of some of these abuses, that the NPA "New Peoples Army" was active in these villages. We were warned not to be in the rural areas at night because of the danger from rebel activity. We were very aware of the rebel army operating in the area we were working. One night while we were there they took over the local radio stations and broadcast their propaganda for about one hour before retreating back into the mountains. Also they executed an Australian farmer near Bacolod while we were there. We met the lawyer from Australia who was in the Philippines trying to settle his estate. He was a very interesting fellow and I enjoyed visiting with him.

Food Is Different

Enough of my opinions, I would like to share some of my experiences with the culture, etc. I guess the biggest adjustment for me was the food. Most of it was pretty good but very strange. These foods ranged from strange fruits and vegetables to huge prawns, some of them almost a foot long. I at first would order three of these tiger prawns but soon discovered that two was about all I could eat. We had lots of chicken, very good BBQ on a stick and available from small street-side stands as well as in the restaurants. Also quite popular was whole roast piglet. These were available also from street-side vendors. I thought the roast pork like this was pretty good but it was pretty fat. Of course, rice three times a day, usually just steamed but sometimes they would prepare the rice with garlic and other seasonings. Another common food on Negros was the duck eggs, served just like we serve chicken eggs, as well as another bizarre way of serving them. I will not go into the rather gruesome method here but if anyone is interested I will be glad to describe it in detail. I guess the food wasn't all that bad, I lost 4 pounds as well as bringing my cholesterol level down to 188, the lowest since I have been tested.

We spent a month on the island of Negros, studying the structure of their cooperative system and helping to organize the new cooperative. I feel like we were well received and that the people were appreciative of our efforts. It would be nice to return in a couple of years, for a short visit to see if our efforts have any lasting effect.

After six weeks in the tropics it was really great to return to good old West Texas, even if the dryland cotton was burned up. One doesn't realize how lucky we are to live in this great country of ours until he has been to some of these third world countries and seen for himself the problems of these unfortunate people.

Leopards Rip Coyotes, 40-22

Darrell Paul rushed for 205 yards and four touchdowns as the New Home Leopards ripped the Borden County Coyotes, 40-22, in six-man football action Friday. Paul opened the scoring with a 1-yard blast with 6:35 to play in the first period, but the Coyotes blocked the extra-point kick and Chris Kilmer returned the kick and scored two points for Borden County.

Paul contributed 10- and 1-yard scoring runs in the final stanza to put the game out of reach.

Profitable Crops, Grapes To Be Field Day Features

Improved crop yields and increased profitability from conservation tillage and rotational systems will be featured here Tuesday, Sept. 13, at a stop of the 79th annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Grapes, a new crop of the High Plains will also be featured at a stop. Experiment station scientists will explain effects of various rootstocks on adaptability, winter survival, yield and quality.

Visitors will be transported by wagons to research sites at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center. The facility is located on FM 1294, just east of I-27 at the Shallowater exit. Tours will be conducted from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Conservation tillage and crop rotations are major features of the farming systems research at the center. Continuous cotton as well as wheat-cotton and sorghum-cotton rotations are being evaluated for effects on cotton growth, yield, quality and profitability, said Dr. Wayne Keeling, systems agronomist with the Experiment Station.

Keeling will disclose findings of weed control research studies in a conservation tillage system as well as experiments on weeds such as lakeweed, nutsedge, and lanceleaf sage. Keeling noted that there have been promising findings in work with experimental herbicides for johnsongrass control in corn and broadsleaf weeds in cotton.

Commercial producers and home grape growers can learn more about this popular area crop from Dr. William Lipe, professor of viticulture with the Experiment Station.

Lipe will discuss findings of research which is focused on minimizing losses from severe cold. The viticulturist will touch on such topics as matching variety to soil type, rootstocks, plant populations, and ground covers. Availability of moisture and nutrients, as well as vine vigor which result from these cultural practices will also be discussed.

Other stops on the tour will feature cotton developed for high fiber quality, sorghum breeding, oilseed improvement, and results of studies on the Russian wheat aphid.

The field day will also feature displays of equipment, farm supplies and information booths. The Texas Forest service will present red oak trees to 300 landowners who take the field tours.

A Salute to Youth Volunteers

Some adults have the idea there is little good found with our community's young.

It is a wonder that these critics can't relate to seeing a teenage girl serving customers in a restaurant as an excellent trait. Nor can they attach anything good to the high school boy stocking shelves and hustling groceries as a box boy.

While learning where spending money comes from is part of such entry-level work, it is often done by youngsters from families where there is no financial pressure for such extra effort.

The volunteering to enter the world of work early usually comes with a suggestion from an older family member, school teacher or individual interested in helping with the introduction to character building.

The best example of group volunteerism among the young is the car wash. With a worthy cause in mind, our community has countless times seen teens busy raising funds, using any number of such activities to get the job done. Not every young person is going to get involved in volunteer work. But then, not all adults find the urge to do so either.

It is our idea we need to think positively toward the youth. They need our encouragement and support for getting themselves pointed toward good citizenship.
