Miller, look over the progress at the S&K Implement building on Hwy. 380, where renovations are underway to house the Lynn County Law Enforcement Center, including a 48-bed jail. County officials report the work is going well, and is expected to be completed in two months. (LCN PHOTO)

Budget, Tax Rate Approved By Commissioners

No county employees, including elected officials, will receive salary increases in next year's budget, Lynn County Commissioners decided in approving a $2,265,978 budget for 2002. The unanimous decision was made in regular session Monday morning, and was followed with a unanimous vote to keep the current tax rate of 64.5-cents per $100 of property value for the upcoming year.

A motion to increase the county's portion from 5 percent to 6 percent for employee retirement benefits was approved, with the employee's portion of 5 percent to remain the same.

The new law enforcement center renovation project was discussed, and it was reported that progress is on schedule, with a completion date of the end of November.

Voting boxes in O'Donnell, New Home, Wilson and Tahoka were consolidated for the November special election, which will offer voters an opportunity to consider 19 propositions for constitutional amendments.

Present at the meeting were all four commissioners, including J.T. Miller, Don Morton, Mike Braddock and Don Blair, as well as Judge J.F. Brandon and other county officials.

Local Law, Fire, EMS Services To Coordinate Fund Raiser

Lynn County Sheriff's Department, all police departments and volunteer fire departments within the county, and all EMS organizations in the county, are joining together to coordinate a fund-raiser to help with disaster relief in the wake of the terrorist attacks on the United States.

A hamburger supper is being planned for 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13, to be held in the Lynn County Showbarn, with all proceeds to go to the New York Fire Department Disaster Fund-Bank of America, according to local organizers in Tahoka.

Meals will be served on a donation basis, and entertainment for the evening is being planned, with more details available at a later date.

Anyone who cannot attend the event but who desires to contribute a donation may contact any member of the sheriff/police/fire/EMS departments within the county.

W. CALLOWAY HUFFAKER Huffaker Announces Judicial Run

W. Calloway "Cal" Huffaker, a lifelong Tahoka resident and fourth generation West Texan, announced today his intention to run for the 106th Judicial District Bench.

"With years of legal and trial experience combined with my dedication and love for community service, I believe the time has come to offer my skills, background, and conservative philosophy as judge to the voters in the 106th Judicial District," Huffaker said.

Huffaker has practiced law in rural West Texas since earning his law degree in 1988. He has extensive courtroom experience in both civil and criminal matters. Additionally, he has wide-ranging experience representing governmental entities including cities, schools and hospital districts.

While he is a lifelong Democrat, Huffaker said voters should decide based on the person who is running, not partisan political affiliation. "In my experience West Texans vote for the person not the party, and that's a good thing - particularly in a judicial race," said Huffaker. "I've been encouraged to run by both Democrats and Republicans, and I hope to earn everyone's support regardless of party ties."

The son of a farmer and housewife, Huffaker was born and raised in Lynn County, and graduated from Tahoka High School. He received his undergraduate degree from Texas Tech University and his law degree from St. Mary's University. His grandfather, Calloway Huffaker, founded the law firm of Huffaker, Green & Huffaker over 50 years ago. Currently, Cal practices with his own law firm of Huffaker Furlow.

Community service is nothing new to Huffaker. He has been involved in Lynn County Pioneers, the Tahoka Housing Authority, the Lynn County Child Welfare Board, Rotary Club, West-Tex Resource, Conservation and Development, the Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary, and Friends of 4-H. He's a Texas Agricultural Lifetime Leadership graduate, and an active member of the First United Methodist Church.

"I know our rural, conservative, agricultural roots because they are my roots. I have the necessary courtroom experience to be fair, impartial, and decisive because I've been there day-in and day-out," said Huffaker. "That's what I'm going to offer the voters in this district, and I hope to earn their support."

The 106th Judicial District includes Dawson, Gaines, Garza and Lynn Counties. (PAID ANNOUNCEMENT)

Shallowater Zaps Bulldogs 36-14

The Class AAA Shallowater Mustangs were just a little too much for the Tahoka Bulldogs to handle last Friday, and the Dogs went down 36-14, after making it close for a half.

Kiel Kitchens scored three times and Eric Morris added a 99-yard touchdown return of the second half kickoff to lead Shallowater. The Mustangs led 7-3 at the end of the first period after Kitchens went 36 yards, and Tahoka came back with a field goal of 25 yards by Odilon Granados.

Kitchens scored again in the second quarter, a score that was answered by Tahoka's Stephen Solorzano with a 1-yard touchdown run. Granados kicked the point and it was 14-10 at halftime.

Solorzano, who gained 142 yards on the ground, scored again in the fourth period. Bulldog QB Brandon McCord completed 9 of 28 passes for 130 yards in the game.

This week Coach Bryan Gerlich's charges will go to Seagraves, which has lost all three of its games so far, all against highly rated opponents. Last week Seagraves lost to unbeaten Idalou 12-0.

RECENTLY someone mailed me a copy of a publication called Senior Care, which I thought at first glance had something to do with Mexican men, but a closer look revealed that the heading said Senior, not Señor. Anyway, it contained a disturbing report that as we get older, we lose height.

That's right; we get shorter every year after the age of 30. A study of about 2,000 Caucasians, conducted by the Baltimore Longitudinal Study of Aging, showed that both men and women lost height as they got older. Between the ages of 30 and 70, men lost 1.2 inches and women lost 2 inches. By the age of 80, men had lost 2 inches and women 3.2 inches.

Well, for women this may not be so much of a problem, because society considers shortness as normal in women. But for men, especially in Texas, a guy really needs to be 6 feet tall, or close to it, to be considered as someone of importance.

Losing a few inches in height as you grow older is not a problem if you already are over 6 feet tall by the time you are 30. But for guys my size (there are about four of us in Lynn County), it can make it tougher to be taken seriously out in the public. In public hearings, for example, I may voice my opinion on some major topic, only to be interrupted by the chairman: "Please stand up, sir, and tell us what you think." (I am standing up, you jerk.)

I never realized that I was losing height as I grow older. I just thought everybody else was still growing taller. It's not fair. I can't afford to get any shorter (the charts on scales already say that I am 6 inches too short for what I weigh).

I'm afraid that if I keep getting shorter, one of these days I will be just like one of the Seven Dwarfs (Grumpy) in both size and disposition.

DUH DEPT.: Boxing trainer Lou Duva is credited with this comment on the strict training schedule of one heavyweight boxer: "He's a guy who gets up at six o'clock in the morning regardless of what time it is."

And a North Carolina State basketball player, explaining to his coach why he was so nervous at practice, reportedly said, "My sister's expecting a baby, and I don't know if I'm going to be an uncle or an aunt."

A PEEK AT THE INSIDE - Interior finishing work continues at Lynnwood Assisted Living Center adjacent to Lynn County Hospital District. This photo shows the fireplace surrounded by oak bookcases in the dining area of the facility. Hospital officials had hoped the work would be completed by the end of September, but some interior work still remains, with opening date now extended several weeks. An Open House will be held for public viewing when the center is complete. (LCN PHOTO)

Harry Howell Wins Football Contest

Harry Howell and Juan Luna each turned in near-perfect entries in last week's Lynn County News Football Contest, but Howell came closest in the tiebreaker score to claim the $10 prize money for the week. Both missed only one game in the weekly contest.

Secret Sponsors for the week included Cowlicks Barber Salon, Walker & Solomon Agency, Poka Lambro Telephone Coop, and Pebsworth-Southwest Real Estate. Howell missed naming one of these sponsors to double his prize money.

Contest entries are due by 4 p.m. each week at the News Office, and all entries are entered in the grand prize drawing for a TV at the end of football season.

PATRIOTIC TUNE - Tahoka second grade students, under the direction of Vivian McAfee, performed on stage in the high school auditorium last week, including songs with patriotic messages. The Slaton High School Junior ROTC Color Guard presented the American and Texas Flags during the program. (LCN PHOTO)

Tahoka Trinity wishes to express our deepest appreciation to those who voluntarily assisted us in getting our new facility under construction.

Tahoka is a great community and is to be commended for this caring, compassionate legacy that is very much evident today. We owe a debt of gratitude that will never be repaid with just a simple "thank you." Words cannot express what we feel. Those that have labored and freely sacrificed their time have impacted our lives in a way that will never, never, be forgotten.

Juanell Jones printed this Bible verse in the July 26th edition of The Lynn County News and is appropriate now. "For God is not unjust to forget your work and labor of love which you have shown toward his name..." (Hebrews 6:10).

People with tax issues related to the attacks can call 1-866-562-5227.
 "This special number will help people cut through the red tape and get their tax questions answered quickly," IRS Commissioner Charles O. Rossotti said. "We don't want lingering tax questions to burden anyone during this challenging time."
 Beginning today, taxpayers can call the number Monday through Friday during the following local times:

In English, 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.
 In Spanish, 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.
 Because of the unusual nature of the tragic events of September 11, it is impossible for the IRS to know every circumstance affecting taxpayers. The IRS encourages taxpayers whose ability to meet their obligations was affected by the terrorist attacks to call 1-866-562-5227.
 The IRS has reached out to help taxpayers during this time. For more information on tax extensions and other tax issues visit www.irs.gov.
 Taxpayers with questions not related to the terrorist attacks should visit the IRS web site or call the regular IRS toll-free number at 1-800-829-1040.

Many people will have the heaters and fireplaces checked but they forget to have the vents and chimneys checked and cleaned. Birds and other critters often will build nests on top of or in the vents or chimneys. Please take time to check to make sure they are clear and open.

Our regular meeting Monday night was productive and enjoyable. Coach Mantle showed the film from the Cotton Center game. Questions were answered which proved very helpful to many of us. You won't want to miss these game films if you are a Mustang fan!

We decorated the streets to prepare for Homecoming. We plan to help decorate the field Friday after the pep rally. All who are interested are welcome to come out and help.

Also, anyone interested in helping at the concession stand please contact any booster member. Our concession will be featuring pizza Friday night so plan to bring your appetite.

Our next booster meeting will be Monday, Oct. 1. We will begin watching the film at 6:30 in the library and have the meeting at 7:30. We are having great turnouts for these meetings and enjoying the time we spend together. Remember, door prizes will be given!

"Farm Safety For Children" Program Given

Barbara White, representing Women Involved In Farm Economics (WIFE), presented a "Farm Safety For Children" program to kindergarten and first grade students at New Home Independent School District last week.

The children colored picture posters depicting farm safety, and Mrs. White judged the entries, concluding that "all were winners" in the contest.

She also thanked New Home/Lakeview Coop Gin for purchasing the Farm Safety kits for the school presentation.
