Commissioners asked to consider Hospital District

Bill Boswell, interim hospital administrator, Monday asked commissioners to place the establishing of a hospital district on their July agenda. The request followed a discussion by the hospital board at a June 5 meeting.

Creation of a hospital district would begin with the introduction of a bill in the State Legislature, which will meet again in January. The bill would have to be put forward by either Sen. Bill Sims or Rep. Gerald Geistweidt. Anyone, including the hospital board, commissioners or a citizen's group, can petition either individual to introduce the legislation.

Once a hospital district is authorized by the Legislature, an election must be held within the proposed district. The proposition of creating the district must then receive a favorable vote by a majority of taxpayers voting in that election.

"This is one way of saying 'do you want a hospital'," said Boswell.

Based on a tentative 1987 county valuation of $543,458,000, a tax of .15 per $100.00 would generate $782,580.00, with .20 per $100.00 producing $1,043,439.00 in revenue for a hospital district according to a chart prepared by Boswell.

Commissioners say they are looking at a cost of $800,000.00 to operate the facility in 1987. If only an emergency room was open, operation costs would still require "at least $200,000.00". Tax Assessor Tommy Stokes is waiting on a total evaluation figure following an Appraisal Board meeting in early July. The evaluation is set on $543 million now (tentative) compared to $638 million last year. Loss in tax base coupled with estimated losses of $150,000.00 in interest, $100,000.00 in revenue sharing and $50,000.00 in vehicle licensing will remove an estimated $120 million from the county coffers next year.

"There's not any way you can have the money you need to run that hospital and care center," Auditor Dick Kirby told the county fathers.

Monthly loss figures for the hospital are reported at $45,000.00 and $20,000.00 for the Care Center.

"It just looks pretty bleak all the way through. I don't see any money for paving at all," said Kirby during a budget discussion.

Departments have been given lists of employees and salaries to review as part of their budget preparation, said Judge Fields. County department heads were asked to look closely at what they need and have to have next year.

Costs of installing and operating a laundry at the hospital for hospital, care center and jail use was presented. Action on the matter was tabled until figures are available on the purchase of linens.

A recommendation by the hospital board that a Life Pac 8 and a patient monitor, Life Scope 6, be purchased for the hospital was passed over by the court. No equipment funds were requested for the 1986 budget, and several thousand has been spent this year. Further consideration of the $12,860.00 purchase was tabled until the July budget meeting.

The court was told that the hospital fire alarm system can be repaired at a cost of $5,056.00. An additional $3,750.00 for smoke detectors (40) and four bells and lights would be required to bring the system up to national and state codes.

State inspection of x-ray equipment revealed two problems which can be repaired. The board is interested in up-dating the x-ray equipment, Boswell said.

Other items mentioned by Boswell included the possibility of a third doctor locating here and a vote by the board to accept Medi-Credit cards at the hospital.

Easements for Highway 1973 right of way have been signed and approved by the Highway Department and filed in the Clerk's Office, Judge Fields reported.

Commissioners voted to pay landowners Pie Pierce, Cap West, Earl Acton and Demp Jones for the 14 miles of easements and consult with them to determine specifications for fencing.

County employees will lower water lines and clean right-of-way for the project. Only a few telephone lines will need to be moved, said Fields.

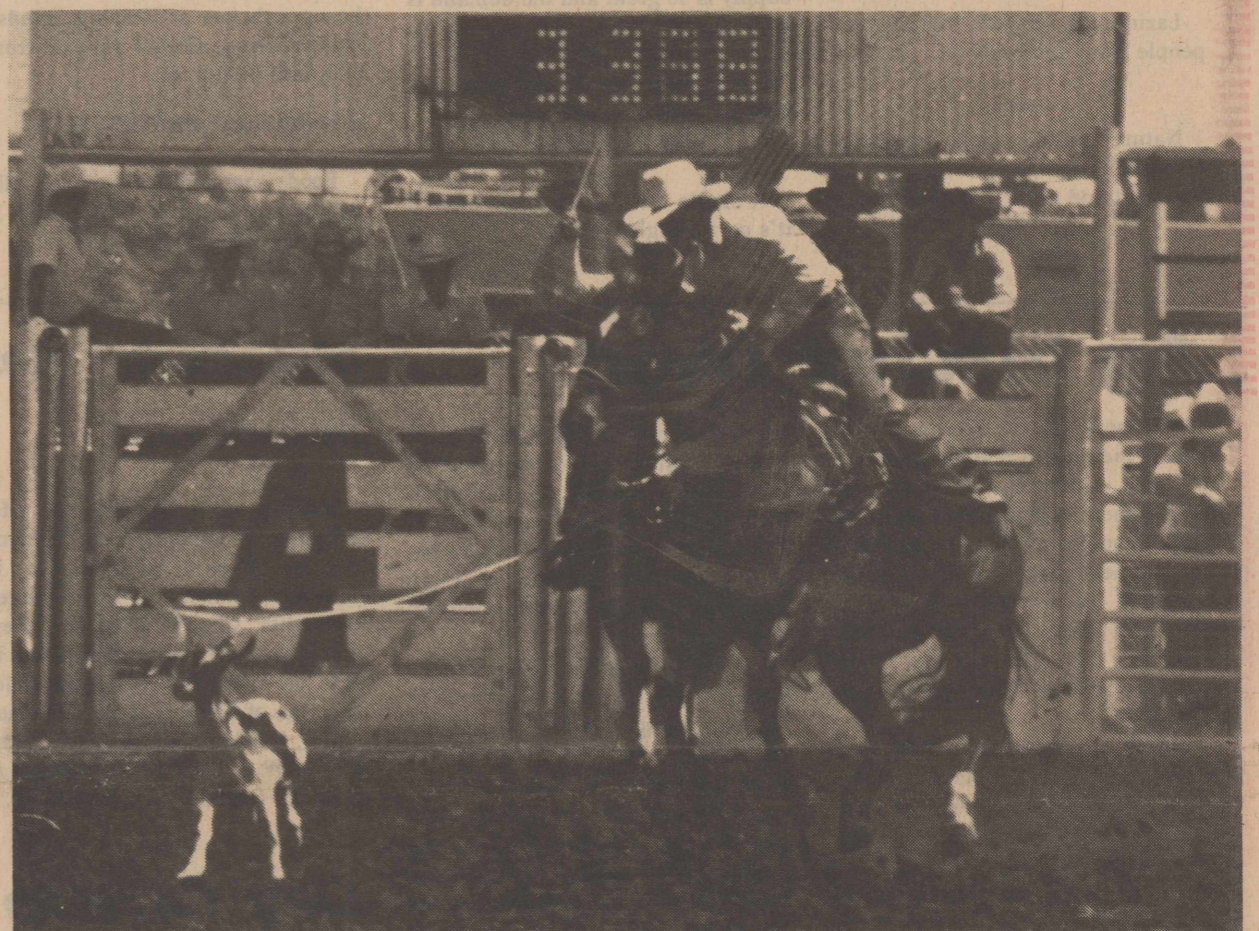

The fencing by Crockett County is a preliminary step in a widening project by the state. Val Verde County is expected to come to the county line with its portion of fence.

Reports from County Road Supervisor Eddie Moore, Parks Supervisor Onecimo Ortiz, Librarian Louise Ledoux, Youth Center Director Garland Young and Helping Hands Treasurer Janet Hill revealed no serious concerns in any of the departments.

Commissioners closed their fast moving session a few minutes past noon by canvassing the votes of the June 7 run-off.

A vote was taken and passed to pay Maxine Brown, who was appointed acting justice of the peace for the first five months of 1986, $100.00 car allowance per month for January through May.

The one that got away!

Ed Hale Jr. was runner-up to the champ in the 1985 World Champion Goat Roping competition in San Angelo.

World Champion Goat Roping contest Hale misses championship

The rodeo arena was dusty. The cowboys were tall, lanky and fast. The goats seemed to play cat and mouse with the men who sought to tie them down during the second annual World Champion Goat Roping contest in San Angelo June 9.

Ozona cowboy Ed Hale had honed his talents as a youngster in the rodeo arenas of West Texas. Now he led after six round in the contest. The seventh goat would not stay tied, and Hale lost his chance to advance from the runner-up position of 1985.

The blond cowboy was not looking at the goat that got away during roping Monday night. Instead he was looking forward to Super Goat II in Rocksprings this weekend.

Goat roping takes practice, as attested by Hale's wife, Laurie.

"He's gotten goats out of the pasture and practiced hard, especially this year. He's practiced a lot and it has showed during the contests."

The rough and tumble sport of goat roping requires a good horse, quick reflexes, a good pigging string, and lots of coordination between the horse, goat and cowboy. The growing recreational aspect of the contests has expanded this year to include up to nine competitions, up from the three scheduled in 1985. Hale has won every goat roping he has entered except the two World Championship events.

Money also entices the competitors. Hale won $1,800 for his efforts in the San Angelo contest. The winner, Will Adair of Gatesville received $5,000, a sterling silver trophy buckle, and a traveling memorial trophy given by the family of the late Karl Kinney Kothmann, who was the first winner of the championship goat roping.

For Hale, goat roping offers a chance to earn extra money and meet interesting people. For his wife, Laurie, the contests are an exciting, nail biting, nervous experience.

Hale hopes his three-year-old son Ed Hale III (Trey) and infant four-month-old son Clay Blandford can eventually follow in his footsteps as a champion goat roper. "There are worse ways to spend an evening."

Hale has competed in five contests this year, since first starting goat roping last April. He won the Junction contest, the Carlsbad, Sonora and Eldorado competitions. Aside from the silver belt buckles, the money, and the people, Hale also gets to travel and see different parts of the West Texas landscape.

He and team members Mike Hill, James Owens, Dean McMullan and Cliff McMullan took the trophy in the invitational ranch rodeo finals last weekend during the competition in San Angelo with a total of 36 points. This led runner-up Reagan County, who finished the event with 31 points. The Ozona team is coached by Jim Bob Bailey.

Davee and Hill take election

Election of the late Raymond Davee as justice of the peace in Saturday's run-off was what her husband would have wanted, said Christine Davee. Mrs. Davee was appointed by the Commissioners' Court May 22 to complete her husband's unexpired term.

Voters cast 513 ballots for Davee and 336 for Jerry Lay. The five person Democratic Committee will

Schneider completes 35 years with Ozona Post Office

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Charles Schneider recently received a 35 year pin for his service to the United States Post Office.

The post office and Ozona have both changed a lot since Schneider first started working there in 1951 under then postmaster Eddie Bowers, son-in-law of Mrs. Vera Baker.

Schneider was working in the oil and gas industry following his graduation from North Texas State University in 1950. Because he disliked moving, Schneider joined a former NTSU classmate, postmaster Floyd Hokit, as a master of all jobs at the post office. Hokit, Schneider and Bowers first met on the softball field, and Schneider applied for a position at the post office six months after Hokit had started working there.

Schneider and his wife, Gussie, have two grown sons, Ronnie and Michael, who both reside in Lamesa.

The postal system has changed and grown during his 35 year tenure. The number of postal boxes has grown from 600 in 1951 to approximately 1800 today. A first class letter cost $.03 in 1951, with in-town delivery being $.01 cheaper. Post-cards were still $.01, as compared to $.14 today and $.22 for all first class letters.

The job itself has changed little in 35 years, Schneider said. Families used to have just one box for grandparents, parents and children. That has changed, and today each individual family has a postal box.

The sorting system, while still done by hand here, is not quite as detailed. Mail used to be sorted here for each town. Now the out-of-town mail goes into one bag and is sorted by automatic machines in Midland.

As Ozona slowly grew during the 1950's, the need for a new post office building became apparent, and the present building was constructed and first used in 1961.

"I originally did everything from putting up mail to sorting. I still do the same thing today, but there is more bookwork," Schneider said.

"I have seen a lot of children grow up by working here. Many who were children in the 1950's now have children of their own."

Schneider has no idea of retiring. "I plan to work until they kick me out. I thought about retirement, but it depressed me."

The postal system in Ozona seems to invite and encourage continuity and security as witnessed by the following records: Floyd Hokit, 35½ years; Schneider, 35 years; Juanita Mills, 25 years; Sue Spoons, 20 years next May; and Mary Cantu, five years.

Helping Hands to have grand opening June 22

After much hard work, the Helping Hands Senior Citizens' Center will celebrate its grand opening from 3:00 until 6:00 p.m. June 22.

Helping Hands first organized on April 5, 1983, under the leadership of Helping Hands president Kathy Reavis. The program served its first meal on July 18, 1983. Government regulations forced the program to temporarily stop serving meals to the elderly on October 31, 1985.

Since that time, efforts have been underway by Mrs. Reavis and her board of directors to establish a senior citizens' center for Crockett County.

The reality of a building of their own came about earlier this year when Maudie Couch, Alleane and Glenn Sutton donated a former grocery store turned warehouse to the Helping Hands organization for five years rent free usage.

Board members Beth Boyd, treasurer; Rachel Hall, secretary; Savannah Wright, Jerry Hill, Louis Hall, Blanca Castro, Helen Wall, Margaret Porras and Elma Buchner then started fund raisers to acquire ematics section of T.E.A.M.S., 91% passed reading, and 78% passed the total writing section of T.E.A.M.S. The total writing section of T.E.A.M.S. consists of multiple-choice questions on English grammar, as well as a written composition.

In the fifth grade, 82% of the students passed mathematics, 91% passed reading, and 67% passed the total writing section. 79% of the seventh grade students passed mathematics, 82% passed reading, and 72% passed the total writing portion of T.E.A.M.S. In the ninth grade 79% of the students passed the mathematics, 87% passed reading, and 74% passed writing.

While the scores in several areas were somewhat low, Mr. Cotton pointed out that several learning objectives that students have consistently scored very high on have been eliminated and more difficult learning objectives have been added.

Mr. Cotton also gave an update on the recently administered Exit-Level the necessary kitchen equipment. Officers elected last week to serve with Mrs. Reavis are: Jerry Hill, vice-president; Margaret Porras, secretary; and Janet Hill, treasurer. Rev. Jim Gray replaces Louis Hall on the board.

Several individuals have donated their time to repainting, remodeling, wiring and plumbing the building to ready it for the grand opening.

The only paid employees of the program are Mela Flores, cook, and Juanita Delgado, volunteer coordinator.

Persons interested in receiving the hot plate lunches should call for reservations by no later than 8:30 a.m. Mrs. Reavis said.

Kelley Hicks receives degree

Day Care to close until August 18th

The Ozona Day Care Center will temporarily close June 11 and remain closed until August 18.

The Day Care Center board of directors met Monday and decided to take the drastic action due to declining summer enrollment.

"We have been having less than 10 children per day," board member Becky Childress explained. "Today (Monday) there were only two children attending the center and there were three full time staffers on duty."

The center, which had been losing an average of $200 per week since the end of school, will reopen. "We don't want working mothers to find other persons to watch their children this fall. This is just a temporary measure," Mrs. Childress said. The center depends to a large extent on school teachers and their support.

The Ozona Day Care Center, which is a non-profit organization related to the Ozona United Methodist Church, is governed by the following board of directors: Lou Haire, chairman; Lupe Sanchez, Beth Boyd, Elizabeth Upham, Becky Childress, Jeanette Robinson, vice chairman; Vickie Stokes, Helen Bean, Jan North and Dr. Gary

by JoAnne Marshall
Activities Director

Staying fit was the objective of Monday morning's exercise class. Improving circulation and muscle tone from top to toe was the purpose of the session. Residents participating were: Juana Hernandez, Lucia Rios, Tomasa Ramos, Manuela Perez, Moriamia Perez, Bertha Miller, Theo Burns, Doris Robnet, Pauline Clinton, Ola Mills, Edna Wallace and Elzy Bishop. A game of basketball followed with almost all of the residents making at least one basket.

The jewel boxes, started in April, were finished in Monday afternoon's craft class. Juana Hernandez, Ola Mills, Tomasa Ramos, Theo Burns, Pauline Clinton, Bertha Miller and Moriamia Perez all agreed that the time and effort that went into the making of these jewel boxes was worth it. Each one has a unique design and beauty of its own. These boxes are not for sale, but if you would like a new craft idea, come by and see them. They are on display at the Care Center.

Juana Hernandez won the first place prize of an El Chato's gift certificate in Tuesday's bingo. Tomasa Ramos and Charles Watson were back on their winning streaks. They won three games each. Grace Cotter, Maggie Crawford and Theo Burns also were winners. Volunteers assisting were Mattie Cooper, Dorothy Doll and Lillian Tambunga.

Tuesday afternoon was spent watching television and playing dominos.

Wednesday's ceramic workshop was assisted by Ruth Hester and Doris Karr. Residents putting their skills to work were: Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Ola Mills, Theo Burns, Pauline Clinton, Edna Wallace and Moriamia Perez.

Laughing, singing and visitation took place Wednesday afternoon during our Sunshine Hour spent on the front porch. Bananas and juice were served.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers were Clara Byrd, Vivian Hughes and JoAnn Williamson. As usual, residents left the beauty shop looking stunning.

Immediately following the beauty shop, Clara Byrd and our own Inez Biggs entertained residents with piano music. Clara sang several familiar songs, and residents joined in the singing.

Thursday afternoon, residents gathered in the lobby to listen to a Patsy Cline cassette. A game of dominos followed.

The Spanish Hour of Praise came next with Heriberto Guterrez playing the guitar and several visitors singing hymns in Spanish. Visitors included: Fr. Richard Altenbaugh, Cecelia Ramos, Anita Fierro, Lorenza Gutierrez, Victoria DeLa Garza, Maria Torres, Germana Onofre, Maria Vitela, Felipa Munoz, Norma Flores, Sulema Martinez and Mary Ellen Fay.

The winning pace was fast and furious in Friday's bingo. Fourteen games were played in an hour's time. There were several games in which two residents binged at the same time. Winners included: Tomasa Ramos, Maggie Crawford, Emma Taylor, Alice Ross, Ola Mills, Minnie Karr and Edna Wallace. The first place prize of a Clayton's Village Drug gift certificate was won by Tomasa Ramos.

Friday afternoon, a few residents matched their skills against volunteer Tiny Holmsley, in a game of dominos.

Sunday's worship service was presented by Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. Rev. Altenbaugh read scriptures and visitors sang hymns for the residents.

We would like to thank the volunteers who helped us this week. We appreciate you. We would also like to thank Clayton's Village Drug, El Chato's, Tropical Sno, The Teacher

VBS centers on "It's About Jesus"

Vacation Bible School at Faith Lutheran Church last week focused on the birth of God's Son, His substitutionary death on the Cross, His glorious resurrection from the dead, His ascension to the right hand of the Father, and His sending of the Holy Spirit to His people.

The theme of the school this year was "It's About Jesus", which deals with the meaning of these great acts of God and how they apply to our lives today in the 20th century.

Teachers were Charles Huffman, pastor; Ruby Olson, Marie Walker and Betty Huffman. Teacher assistants were Bryan Harms and John Babb Jr.

Students included Walter and William Babb, Amber Gibson, Terri Harms, Daphne Martinez, April Parker, LeeAnn and Micah Taylor, Kayla Turland, Jennifer and John Paul Usner, Tess Worthington,

Chris and Kylee Zimmerman. After His resurrection, our Lord Jesus Christ said: "I have been given all power in heaven and on earth. Go and make disciples of all people; baptize them in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, and teach them to do everything I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always, till the end of the world". Matthew 28:18;20.

'All Night Long' celebration draws record attendance

The all night graduation celebration was held May 30 honoring the Seniors of 1986. The attendance count of 177 was up over last year's count. A total of 21 seniors spent the entire night with several more attending the dance.

The main ballroom was decorated in a tropical theme complete with palm trees, beachcomber's hut, and Tiki statue. Teens received straw beachcomber's hats and leis at the door which were worn through out the night. A dance contest was conducted by Carol Hunnicutt of KRCT. The single boys' winner was John Tom Stokes. Sandra Ramirez won the single girls' competition. These teens both received door prizes for their efforts. The couples dance contest was won by Sandra Ramirez and Butch Gonzales, who both received trophies for their performance. Just for fun, a hula contest, complete with grass skirts, was won by Roger Flores. This contest proved to be entertaining for even the on-lookers. Gary Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Davis, made a surprise guest appearance on the stage with his pal Lee Roy and entertained the crowd with a very amusing show. Gary ended his performance with his rendition of "Friends" dedicated to the Seniors of 1986. Many thanks to Gary for his contribution to the celebration.

The game room, with tournaments and games throughout the night, was also very popular with the teens. Tournament winners were awarded trophies. The winners were: pool-Larisa Schoenhals and Willie Vargas; snooker-Paul Galan Ramirez; ping-pong, Amy Jones and Chy Flores; darts-Shane Cooper; foosball-Gerald Salavas.

The movie theater was in operation during the night with several door prizes being given away during the movies. The movies became more popular later in the night as they provided a place to sit and rest from the pace of the celebration.

The board members and parents who donated their night to the activities were: Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dews, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Van Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Sutton Mr. and Mrs. Brock Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Lopez, Mrs. John Denman, Jim Williams, Cliff McMullan, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Young, Mrs. Garland Davis and Mrs. Tommy Stokes. Many thanks to the breakfast cooks who came in at four o'clock and prepared a delicious meal. Our cooks were Billy Reagor, Jerry Lay, Gene Fowler, and Jack Adams. Many thanks also to Brenda Newton and Judy Probst who helped us greatly with the decorations.

The donors of food, money, time, and door prizes were very generous this year. We will be sending personal thank you notes to each of you. If we have forgotten anyone in all the last minute confusion of preparations, we apologize. The list of donors is too lengthy to publish, but we could have not managed without you. The second annual graduation celebration was a success due to each of you, no matter what the amount of your contribution. Due to your generosity eight $50.00 dollar savings bonds, and more than one thousand dollars in prizes were given away during the night. Many of the teens went away winners of portable radios and cassette players, car care kits, school supplies, hair dryers, cassettes, beach accessories, gift certificates for merchandise.

We feel that you have shown your approval of our celebration by your support of our effort, and the teens have shown their support by an increase in attendance over last year. In a sense everyone went away a winner, in that with the help of the entire community, each teen had been fun-filled way to spend a safe graduation night.

Thank you,

Steve Williams, manager of West Texas Utilities, added some excitement to his life recently when he and some friends, Arlen Williams and son Scott of Medina and Scott's friend, Rhett Johnson, floated down the Colorado Canyon rapids on the Rio Grande River near Lajitas.

Williams, a 10-year veteran floater, noted that the recent rains in the area had caused the trip, which usually takes between eight and ten hours, to be shortened to a five hour adventure.

All went well for the floaters and the 11-year-olds, Rhett and Scott, until the last series of rapids when the water "sucked Rhett and me out of the boat. Rhett was pulled back into the boat by Arlen, but I went down with the life jacket," Williams said.

The non-life threatening incident was the first such experience since his first time floating rapids 10 years ago. This was the fourth floating trip Williams has made this year.

Roger and Elizabeth Dudley enjoyed an annual mini family reunion with her sisters and their husbands this past week. Joining the celebration were: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Jennings of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Phenix of Crane and Mrs. Joyce Cooper. The Dudleys celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary June 7. Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Phenix also celebrated their birthdays June 8 and June 9.

Congratulations go to Guy and Barbara Glosson on the birth May 31 of their daughter, Sunny Lea.

Brad Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Thompson, leaves this week for Austin, where he will take summer classes at Austin Community College. The 1986 Ozona High School graduate plans to attend the University of Texas this fall and study engineering.

United Department Store to have new manager

Corina and Tom Diehl

Tom Diehl will take over management of the United Department Store June 16 from Lois and Herman Feltner.

The Feltners, who managed the store since 1970, plan on moving to Eden, their hometown. The store has grown since 1970 and is "altogether different," Mrs. Feltner said.

Diehl moved to Ozona six years ago from Pecos. He started work at United March 26. His wife, Corina, has worked at the store for the past three years.

Before working in the store with his wife, Diehl was employed by Texas Oil and Gas and Combined Insurance Company. "I was appointed to be manager. I enjoy the work because I meet people," said Diehl. The general lines of merchandise in the store will remain the same, he explained.

The store, which is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday, offers clothing from infant to adult. "We have a variety of everything, from luggage to stuffed toys," said Mrs. Diehl.

The United Department Store chain stretches from Texas to New Mexico to Arizona. "We are going to try and keep people happy with the different changes in fashions," said the new manager.

During after store hours, the Diehls enjoy a little bit of everything, from tennis, to fishing to playing cards.

Schneider tops tennis meet

Ronnie Schneider, son of Gussie and Charles Schneider, won first place in the men's singles competition June 7 at the West Side Optimist Tennis Tournament in San Angelo.

Schneider, who taught tennis the last five years in Lamesa, will attend a Tennis University Dennis Van Der Meer clinic at Sweet Briar College in Sweet Briar, Virginia later this summer. Upon completion of the clinic, Schneider hopes to qualify as a semi pro, and eventually a professional.

Jennifer Probst to be counselor

Jennifer Probst, 17, will serve as a junior counselor at Prude Ranch in Fort Davis for five weeks this summer.

The perky blonde, who is a member of the Ozona High School Class of 1987, will be attending the Prude Ranch camp for the ninth consecutive year. "This will be her 15th session at the camp," said her mother, Judy Probst.

Each camper learns the art of safe rodeoing. Mr. Prude, who is in his 80's, rides with the children each day and handpicks each camper's horse.

A camp rodeo provides fun and competition for the campers every two weeks.

The boys are divided into ranches and the girls are divided into tribes. Campers as young as seven may attend the program.

Participants remain in the camper program from ages seven to 14; 14-16 year olds are eligible for the ranch hand part work, part play program; 17-year-olds are eligible to serve as junior counselors; and those 18 and older may serve as head counselors, Mrs. Probst explained.

Ozona group attends Auxiliary meeting in San Antonio

The NEWS thinks fathers are special!

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Wanted: Someone who will wipe away the tears, gently change a baby's diaper and calm a child's fears. Someone who will apply a gentle, but firm hand in the discipline of the family. Person must work hard at job of his choosing, and yet have time for a special piano or dance recital, or ball game. Person must be soft spoken enough to were changed one day with the cry of an infant.

The years have slipped by since Ozona National Bank vice-president Pon Seahorn first held his children. His daughter, Terel, 14, will be a freshman, and his son, Will, 16, enters his junior year at Ozona High School this year.

The native Ozonan has seen changes since growing up here as a child of Ruth and Bill Seahorn. "I many other parents desire for their children: "happiness and satisfaction. I hope they are as fortunate as Jill and I are. We have been lucky as parents, in that we have never had to experience any great tragedy, other than the continuing day-to-day traumas that exist in any family."

Unity in dealing with family problems is important. Both parents need to "agree or at least compromise about certain situations."

but I wouldn't change a thing. I may look back in a few years and question things...But now I'm proud of your kids, my wife and my family.

While Pon can see the end of basketball games involving his children, West Texas Utilities employee Steve Bueno has just started down the road of parenting...

Bueno's son Steven celebrated his 2½ year birthday recently, and daughter Michelle is 11-months old. "I was there when they were both born. Childbirth itself is amazing," said the two year Ozona resident. "You realize the responsibilities are greater, and it gives you something more to work for -- a greater incentive."

For Steve and his wife, Deanie, the children are a constant source of enjoyment and amazement. "I like to do things with my kids. I don't get to see them enough as it is because of work."

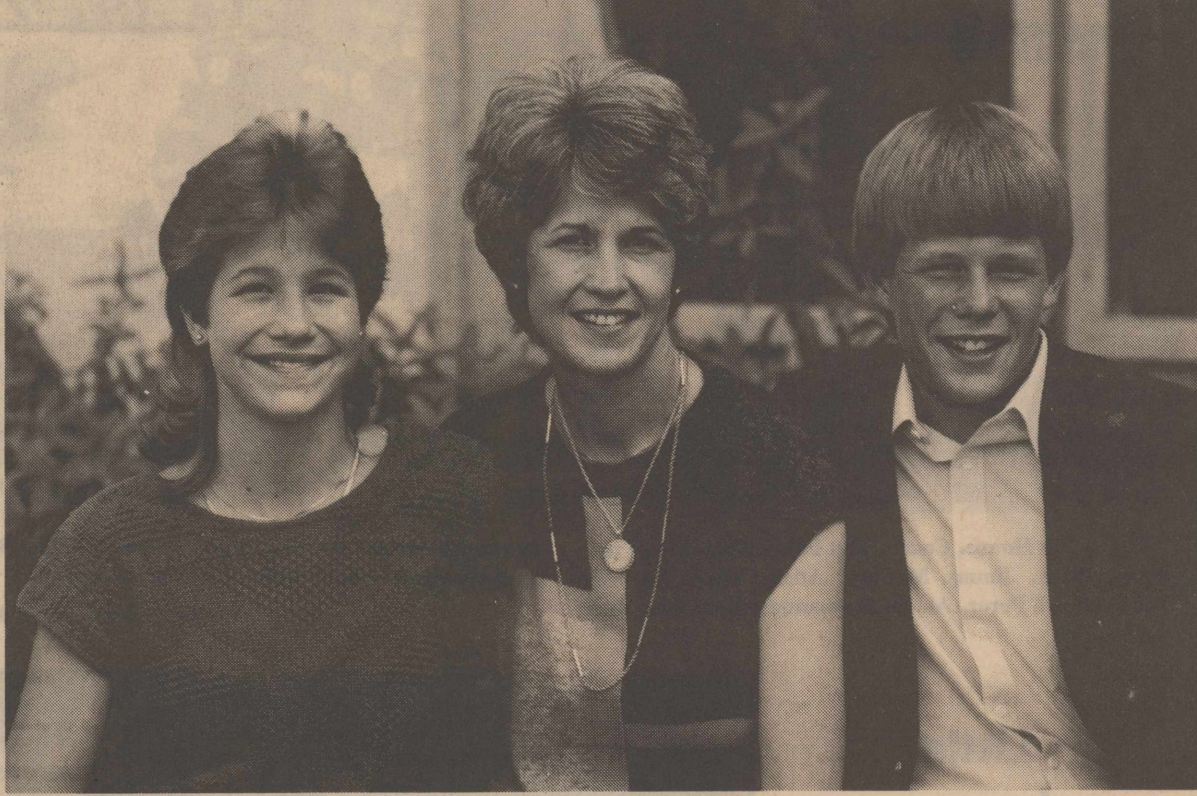

Like many parents, Bueno was a reluctant father. "I used to say I never wanted children. Now, I wouldn't trade anything in the world for them. Life would be sad without them."

The children constantly confound Bueno with their ability to quickly pick up new things, such as walking and talking. "It seems like they can do things overnight."

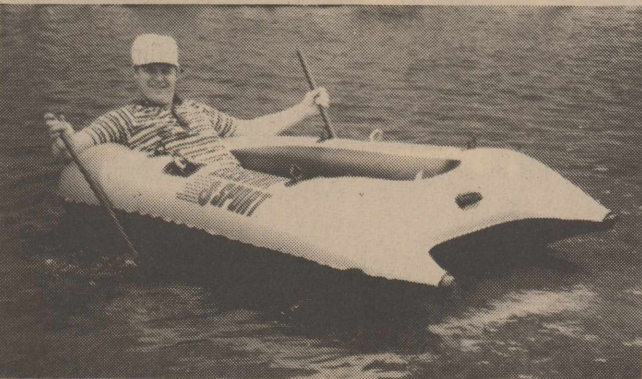

Though the tranquility of playing together often gives way to fighting, the two children each have learned to pull the right "heart strings".

"I want more than anything for them to be happy. I want them to be happy, to be what they want, to be their own person."

Each father offers something important to his children, grandchildren and family. Perhaps fatherhood will not benefit everyone, but for now, the world is a richer place because of the role fathers have secured as an anchor to the future.

Jill Seahorn and children Terel and Will

FATHER Pon Seahorn

The impact his father had on his life has just become apparent to Pon. "When I grew up, I thought whatever my father said was often insignificant, but time and efforts have shown now how important his words were. I didn't realize that my actions had so big an effect in our home life as I do now."

Parents need to have a lot of patience and understanding. "It also takes a lot of love." Church has, for the Seahorns, provided a spiritual base and guidance. "We enjoy our involvement in the church, and feel it has a real impact on our lives."

Life without children remains unimaginable. Looking back for an instant, Pon said, "I'm not saying we're perfect parents. We aren't, console a son, when he sits on the bench during a game, and yet have enough conviction to say, "No" to a daughter who wants to go on an unsupervised trip with friends. The job lasts a minimum of 18 years, but often the worries last a life time. The salary is non-existent, but the rewards are everlasting.

Father's Day brings a time of reflection and looking forward for all dads and would be dads whose lives think kids today have more pressures, peer, academic, and social, at an earlier age." The small town atmosphere offers children a more secure feeling than would a city.

For Pon and his wife, Jill, parenthood has been an integral part of their marriage. "We were married slightly more than one year, when Will was born. We have been parents always."

For his children, Pon wants what

THE HISTORY OF BARBECUING

The discovery of fire was the first and probably the single most important factor in the civilizing of mankind. In ancient Greece and in several other cultures, fire was considered one of the four basic elements, one of the substances from which all things were composed.

In sun-worshipping cultures, fire was considered a god, the representative of the sun, and to this day the sanctity of fire is universal. There is hardly a country that doesn't have an "eternal flame" somewhere, and every culture has a legend about the discovery of fire which involves a god.

But fire's true contribution to civilization was in the kitchen -- initially food cooked over an open fire. It took the development of the barbecue, however, to make it fun.

The origin of the word "barbecue" is hazy. It could have come from the language of the Arawak Indians, who lived on the Caribbean islands and cooked game over the "barbacoa", a frame of green sticks. Or it could have derived from French speaking pirates, who called this feast "de barbe et queue", which translates to "from beard to tail."

Whatever the source of the name, many cultures have their own style of barbecuing. Eskimos and Alaskan Indians, for instance, used a split-log grill for meat or fish filets, or grilled whole fish. East Coast American Indians cooked their seafood and vegetables over hot rocks in a hole dug in the beach covered with seaweed, and called it a clambake.

The French grill their foods over the clippings from, naturally, grape vines. In southern Asia, from the Indian subcontinent to Indonesia, barbecuers spice both the food and glowing coals to add taste to the meal and aroma to the atmosphere. Texans would light a fire in a hole in the ground and when there were lots of hot coals, they would start cooking on a spit.

PEPPERY HERB RIB STEAKS

Peppery Herb Rib Steaks

Potato Slices with Tomatoes & Onion Baked in Foil ♦ Green Garden Salad
Ice Cream Sundaes

- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1/2 teaspoon seasoned or cracked pepper
- 4 rib steaks, 3/4 to 1 inch thick

Mix all ingredients, except steaks. Arrange steaks in shallow baking dish and cover with peppery herb mixture. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Drain and save liquid. Grill meat over moderately hot briquets about 15 minutes or until cooked, turning and basting with marinade 2-3 times. Makes 4 servings.

Mrs. Stanton retires from museum

BY CYNTHIA HARRELL HODGES

The Crockett County Museum lost more than a familiar face and historical guide when Mrs. Violen Stanton retired a few weeks ago after 10 years of dedicated service.

"When I started in 1976, all I intended to do was to serve during the bicentennial year," Mrs. Stanton explained. Her love of history made her a natural hostess of the varied displays available at the museum.

The displays have tried to reflect every aspect of Crockett County life. The first large exhibit "I helped with was on toys." Other exhibits have ranged from quilts, to mohair displays, to musical instruments, to fashions, to hats, to plants and grasses grown here, to a veterans display, to special treasure items found on wagon trains going through this area, to a book party for the late V.I. Pierce to the present Indian display.

The museum helps "teach children the past history of the county. The educational aspect could be used more than it is," said Mrs. Stanton.

Each generation needs to remember that things change. "Many retired couples touring the museum mention things they used when growing up. We have things in the museum that most retired people had in their homes. I wonder if we are saving enough things today--things people might enjoy looking at in 50 years."

The new docent program, headed Mrs. Brock Jones, will help children touring the museum understand the displays and items more fully. "We tried to divide student groups into smaller groups. We can explain better if we have smaller groups."

Though visitation to the museum has slackened since the construction of I-10, 1,500 travelers and local citizens tour the museum annually. Some days, no one comes, and some days, 25 to 30 persons peruse the displays. "The days you work on improving the cases are the days you have visitors."

The present Indian display will not be limited to the normal six month to one year term, but will instead stay up longer. The Indian artifacts are hard and challenging for children to understand. "It is hard for children to understand the dating system--they can't understand how long ago 1,000 years is," said Mrs. Stanton.

Her interest in the history of things dates back to her childhood. "I have always been interested in helping preserve and protect things from the past."

Museum seminars in Sweetwater, Odessa and San Angelo have helped the former museum hostess hone her talents. The seminars had different speakers from all over the state discussing how to best present displays. One or two classes were held here.

Crockett County has shown that preserving history can benefit today's youth with the "marvelous preservation of the Heritage School" (former junior high building).

"Both the Crockett County Historical Commission and the Crockett County Historical Society have done wonderful work. We need more members. I hope Crockett County will eventually have a larger museum building. Then we could have larger displays and continue to carry on the work of historical preservation. Presently we don't have enough space to do things we want to do at the museum."

Crockett County has a wonderful committee. "We have placed a number of historical plaques here." Like many interested in the history of the county, Mrs. Stanton's initial interest dates back several years, to the time she served at Fort Lancaster as a hostess for 15 months.

Thank you!

Crockett County Hospital staff received a large gift of dried fruits and nuts from former patients, Mr. and Mrs. John Cromble of Aptos, CA. Happy to receive the thank you gift were: Dorothy Lane, Lella Tambunga, Laura DeHoyos, Nancy Whitehead, Sofia Machado, Mamie Galvan, Jacquie King and Zoe Green.

Mrs. Stanton plans to keep busy during her semi-retirement. "I needed to slow down on things I've been doing. I must have a family life." Her life here revolves around her son, Jack Stanton. They share an interest in making lovely latch hook rugs.

The museum will continue to provide a vital service to the community. One new aspect of the museum includes a small book store, with items for all ages. Continuing in Mrs. Stanton's footsteps by serving as hostess at the museum will be Mrs. Jim Gray. The museum will be open from 2-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mayfield, Martha and Sarah, Peter Shacklette, Candace and Slate Williams enjoyed a mini family reunion in East Texas last week. The grandchildren all got to ride on the steam powered train between Rusk and Palestine.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The Ozona Chamber of Commerce received the following letter from United Blood Services in San Angelo.

Dear Beth:

It is always our pleasure to congratulate Ozona Community for the positive response to the blood drive held May 14. There were 64 donations, with two deferrals, and this was just great!

We hope each of the donors realize the magnitude of the gifts they provided for hospital patients. The real thanks would need to come from the blood recipients themselves, but please allow United Blood Services to express gratitude for them.

It is always nice working with you, Beth, as coordinator for the blood drive. Things always run smoothly, and we appreciate you and your efforts.

Sincerely,
Janet Reed

Pandale Pannings

by Jonny Johnson

There was a 54 pound yellow cat caught below the Pandale Crossing on the Pecos River May 26 by Charlie Midgley, Mike Nicholas, Jacob Nicholas and Robert Sandel, all of Odessa, on a trot line. They also caught some other nice ones.

A few days later, a string of bass caught by Willard Wilson of Wickett and Larry Rimer of Monahans had two weighing more than 4½ pounds.

All the string were keepers.

Billy Lockridge just hatched off 700 baby quail and is "a waiting" for a batch of pheasants to hatch - ringnecks and golden.

Teena and Courtney Lockridge have gone to Albuquerque, NM to see her grandmother, who is very ill. Bill and Sharon Tiggart and sons, Sean and Ian, from Houston, are vacationing, camping and fishing on the Everett Ranch this week, and then they plan to go to Fort Davis and the Big Bend to finish their trip.

We had Robert Yarborough of Plano and Tim Sherrod of Gardendale for houseguests. They were here to play in the golf tournament. Robert and Calvin won their flight.

Our granddaughter, Connie Cowen, is with us for a few days.

Larry and Sue Arledge had a big weekend. They moved into their new ranch house, celebrated their anniversary and had all their children and their families there to help them celebrate.

Last, but not least, we have had more rain over the week - scattered showers over a wide area everyday. Some had heavy rain.

You have to see Pandale when it is Emerald Green to believe it.
