Forty Cents Cotton Minimum.

New Orleans, Sept. 10—Following adoption of temporary minimum prices for the 1919 cotton crop at the closing session here late yesterday of the American Cotton Association Conference, the meeting got beyond control of Governor Hugh Dorsey of Georgia, presiding, when an attempt was made because of the absence of many delegates, to suspend the two-thirds majority voting rule of the organization, to permit action on a resolution endorsing the purposes of President Wilson's "swing around the circle."

The proposal to set aside the voting rule was defeated 46 to 41.

The report of the committee on minimum prices, which was adopted, recommended only a temporary scale, it was explained because the price could not "be based on supply and demand" and "until the peace covenant has been confirmed, the European markets will be limited, this condition practically eliminating all competitive buying."

The minimum prices adopted "until conditions warrant a higher minimum" range from 36 cents in September to 40 cents in May, advancing one-half cent a month.

The threatened gulf storm apparently has passed. The close hot weather for the past few days has given away to typical fall weather this morning. A cool Northeast breeze prevails this morning and the weather is clear.

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN MONDAY

All schools in La Salle will open Monday. The faculty of the Cotulla School will be practically the same as last year, headed by A. J. S. Steele as Superintendent. One other change will be in the Domestic Science Department. Mrs. H. C. Guinn will have charge.

$4,000.00 IS OFFERED TO SHEEP AND GOAT RAISERS

VARIOUS NATIONAL BREEDERS' ASSOCIATIONS OFFER MANY SPECIAL PREMIUMS

Sheep and Goat Raisers will be given a total of $4,000.00 at the Victory Fair at Dallas in October. There are also numerous special premiums in this department, including those of Swift & Company, who offer $125.00 to be divided between fine wool breeds and mutton breeds, and allowing $25.00 for the Grand Champion wether in the Sweepstakes.

For the first time, this year cash premiums are offered by the American Cotswold Registry Association for Leicesters, Karakules, and Karlines.

There are still large areas in Texas suitable for sheep raising which these premiums are intended to encourage. When it is realized that the people of the United States consume an average of only six pounds of lamb, as against eighty pounds of pork, and seventy-seven pounds of beef, it will be obvious that a large opportunity exists for raising mutton and lamb, especially if the quality and flavor be improved. This, experts say, can be done by proper care and feeding.

The American Shropshire Registry Association, American Hampshire Sheep Association, American Oxford Down Record Association, American Angora Goat Breeders' Association and J. V. Hardy, of Dallas, also offer special premiums.

SOUNDS NOTE OF WARNING.

On the twenty first day of last September, the first case of influenza in Texas was reported to the State Health Department.

No equinoctial storm ever recorded, reached such a fury or exacted a toll in loss of life comparable to this pandemic which made its appearance in our state last fall.

It is a well known fact among medical men, that one of the special characteristics of influenza is that it recurs in cycles, and with each return records a heavy mortality. In each cyclic outbreak in the past the disease has reappeared in the fall and winter for from one to three years following the initial outbreak.

The great epidemic of 1889 was followed by outbreaks in the fall and winter for three years following, and with an increasing mortality rate each year. The same history is recorded of epidemics of influenza in Europe, and in fact as far back as we have been able to gather statistics, each initial outbreak of influenza has been followed by recurrences in the next two or three years following. Since it is well known that history repeats itself, we may reasonably expect a recurrence of this dreadful disease this fall and winter, with a high mortality, especially from pneumonia.

I can not predict with certainty that we will have another epidemic of influenza this fall and winter, but I can with certainty say that if we do not, the history of epidemics of influenza in the past, will not hold good for the future.

In the light of past knowledge and experience, it would be nothing short of criminal to take no steps to protect the public.

A possible recurrence of last season's devastation. Based on incomplete statistics from rural and urban reports, it is estimated that there were approximately 450,000 deaths from influenza in the United States and approximately 25,000 in Texas, from the recent epidemic. The epidemic last year which swept over the country with hurricane like rapidity, found the country depleted of its doctors and nurses, many communities having neither.

At this time most of them have been released from the army and have come back to us rich in experience and trained in public health work.

The excessively heavy rains this year have caused an unusually heavy growth of vegetation which is apparent not only in the small village and towns, but even in places in our largest cities; while pools of stagnant water, and litters of garbage are seen in far too many places.

I am now calling upon you to begin an active campaign in anticipation of a possible recurrence of influenza, and as a matter of civic pride and health protection in general.

In every village, town and city, Health Boards should be organized, or re-juvenated, where they already exist, and "clean-up campaigns" put on, and every possible means taken to be prepared for any emergency.

Local health officers should at once call a meeting of their local health boards if they have one, or a meeting for the purpose of organizing one if they do not already have one, and then enlist the aid of the Commercial Clubs, Civic Clubs, Boards of Trade, Social Welfare Workers, Parent-Teachers Associations and all other organizations interested in civic advancement and the betterment of health conditions in their communities.

I am calling upon the newspapers of the State to join me in this note of warning and trust that every paper in the State will not only copy this article but add such comment as they feel will be helpful in promoting this deservive work in the interest of humanity.

If these preventative measures are not taken, then from past experiences with influenza, you may reasonably expect your community to suffer the penalty of your neglect.

OBJECTS TO ARMY OVER 500,000.

Washington, D. C. Sept. 10—Major Gen. Leonard Wood took flat issue with War Department recommendations for the army today before the Senate Military Committee, contending that there was no present justification for maintaining a regular army or more than 350,000 officers and men at most, as against the 500,000 limit proposed in the War Department's bill.

"I can find no reason whatever for the larger army recommended in the War Department bill," said General Wood, "unless we are to undertake new responsibilities of which I know nothing."

Universal military training should be embarked upon immediately as the national policy, he thought, but he favored the system proposed in the bill introduced by Senator Chamberlain, as opposed to that provided in the War Department plan.

An efficient regular army, backed up by reserve equipment for 4,000,000 men, and an officers' reserve corps of 120,000 men, General Wood said, should meet all present requirements of the nation. As the universal military training system developed, he added, the size of the regular army probably could be decreased.

Control of the Pacific he said, was largely a "naval problem," and there was no reason for increasing overseas garrisons.

BOUGHT CARLOAD TRUCK BODIES.

The weevils did not hurt them until late, they have an increased acreage and may really get more cotton this year than Devine; on the other hand, we understand that Pearsall will get only a few hundred bales, while Dilley is booming like Cotulla. —Devine News.

Total Ginnings 1,542 Bales.

Reports from all gins in the county of cotton ginned up to closing time last night showed that 1542 bales have been ginned up to date, with Millett leading.

The weather is clear and cool today and indications are that the threatened gulf storm will not strike in this section. Showers fell over the county in spots yesterday, but fortunately not much of the cotton belt was covered. At Encinal one and a half inches was reported which will delay pickers for a day or two but no damage was done to cotton in the fields.

Ginnings to date is as follows:

Millett	573
Cotulla	431
Encinal	430
Woodward	108
Total	1,542

More pickers are now being secured from the border and if the weather continues fair, the crop will be gotten out at a faster rate.

GIN SWAMPED TODAY

Twenty-five wagons loaded with cotton were standing on the gin yard at 8 o'clock this morning and probably 30 to 40 more will come in during the day, which means quite a few will have to hold over till Monday. Yesterday 51 loaded wagons came in, which is the largest number for one day since the season opened.

Cotulla is revelling in the cotton boom.

GIN RUNNING FULL TIME.

Cotton has been coming fine all the week. The gin has been running nearly every night till ten or eleven o'clock to keep up with the wagons. At one time Thursday there were 25 wagons standing on the yard.

Up to last night 431 bales had been ginned. The three weeks of dry weather has put the crop in the pink of condition and more than 75 per cent is sampling strict middling cotton. The turnout, the last week especially, has been splendid, practically all cotton thirthing itself and much of it doing better. With it running this way, the farmer is getting the cream. The price has been slightly lower this week, but with better cotton the grower is getting as much money as he did last week. The local market has never been below 28 cents and Wednesday and Thursday was 29 and 29 1/4. Yesterday 29 1-2 was paid. Farmers got $75 for seed loaded in car or $74 at the gin. This is $15 per ton more than any other place along the line paid. The local cotton market has daily ranged about 3-4 of a cent above other points, due to keen competition.

Cotton seed prices is controlled by oil mills to a great extent and another drop is due for next week when the price will probably be fixed at $50.00. Many farmers will not sell at this price, but will store their seed instead, for higher prices which are sure to come later.

Gins at Millett and Woodward are running night and day and far into each night at Encinal. The Harris Valley gin is ready for operation but has not been started yet because of trouble in getting a full crew, labor being so scarce. It is expected it will be in operation next week.

NO ANARCHIST FOR FORD

BISHOP WILLIAMS TESTIFIES IN THE $1,000,000 LIBEL CASE AGAINST TRIBUNE.

WONT TELL 'HALF-TRUTHS'

Noted Divine Says if Manufacturer's Theories Are Anarchistic Then He is in Danger of Becoming Anarchist Himself.

Mr. Clemens, Mich.—The Chicago Tribune rested its defense in the $1,000,000 libel suit which Henry Ford has brought against it after spending seven weeks and two days in attempting to prove that it was justified in calling the manufacturer an "anarchist."

The first witness for Mr. Ford was the Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, D. D., Episcopal bishop of Michigan, who appeared on the stand in rebuttal of the testimony of Prof. J. S. Reeves, professor of political science in the University of Michigan who had previously testified that Henry Ford's views were distinctly anarchistic.

Bishop Williams said that Mr. Ford's views were far from being anarchistic and were, in fact, Christian, common and old-fashioned.

The Bishop refused to be led by Tribune counsel in his answers and insisted on telling "the whole truth." Asked whether he thought Henry Ford's declaration that all armies should be disbanded, all navies destroyed and all material of war converted into commercial implements was anarchistic, the witness answered:

Would Be Good World.

"I could quote a half-dozen passages from Scripture that express almost that idea. I should say that the main theme of these statements by Henry Ford are distinctly Christian, commonly preached in Christian pulpits and that if they were lived up to this would be a pretty good Christian world."

"Bishop," asked Tribune counsel, "do you believe that Mr. Ford has quoted, 'patriotism is the last resort of a scoundrel'?"

"I have often said so," responded the witness, "I have often seen it so."

Concerning the doctrine of non-resistance Bishop

he did not believe in it, but that many Christians did.

"It is the belief of anarchists," said Tribune counsel.

"Yes and the belief of Christians," "Will you be good enough to answer the question," retorted counsel.

"Anarchists say that and Christians say that. I am afraid I am going to tell the whole truth."

"Now Bishop—"

Would Tell Whole Truth.

"I am going to tell the whole truth."

"You are telling something I have not asked you to tell."

"You have not asked me for the whole truth. I have to follow my conscience. I am a simple man."

"I am afraid," continued the Bishop, "that if this is anarchy I agree with it mostly."

Ford counsel then called William A. Dunning, professor of history and political philosophy in Columbia University, to testify concerning Mr. Ford's theories and utterances.

"When Henry Ford," said counsel, "said that we should stop talking about one factory, one state and one country and begin to talk about the world, was he preaching the doctrine of anarchy?"

"No that is the general thought of cosmopolitanism—human inclusiveness; it has permeated all speculation on political philosophy ever since there was such a philosophy."

"Is there anything peculiarly anarchistic about it?"

"No."

"Is it in any way essential to anarchism?"

"No."

"Mr. Ford also said that he believed humanity could make mistakes but could do nothing worse; he said he believed everything tended toward the good, and that even the terrible world war would result in blessing to the world. Is there anything anarchistic about those ideas?"

"They were commonplace before an anarchist was ever heard of. The idea that man is naturally good is the basis of Plato's morals. It has permeated moral philosophy ever since."

Prof. Dunning was then asked to run through the articles and interviews sponsored by Henry Ford and indicate the portions which would convince a critical examiner that Mr. Ford was not an anarchist.

The witness promptly pointed out numerous references to the government and to the use of the ballot which showed, he said, that Mr. Ford believed in the orderly processes of government and therefore could not be an anarchist. In no writing or interview, he said, could he find a single indication that Mr. Ford was an anarchist, either in the common or philosophical conception of that term.

COMMITTEE READY FOR CAMPAIGN TO RAISE S. A. FUND

Kirby Pleased With Organization for Pushing Drive Throughout State.

ELKS PROMISE HELP FOR STATE WORKERS

Soldiers Fall into Line When Asked to Head District and Local Units.

With the appointment of his executive committee complete John Kirby, state chairman for the $600,000 home service fund drive in Texas, September 29, outlined a vigorous policy to its members at Dallas Saturday.

"I am pleased with the success that has been met in perfecting a strong committee to get the money that is required for placing the Salvation Army on a firm basis in Texas for all time," Mr. Kirby told the committee. "In this work we have the cooperation of virtually every soldier who was 'over there.' We are getting the support of religious and fraternal organizations."

Elks Help in Drive

The order of Elks promised support of the campaign in the following telegram from Frank L. Rain, exalted ruler of the organization:

"I earnestly co-operate with you and the good people of my native State. We are behind you in your home service campaign.

"Commander Evangeline Booth told us in our recent convention at Atlantic City that if it had not been for the Elks the Salvation Army would not have achieved the success that it did in the great war.

"Great good is being done by the Salvation Army along a line that can not be accomplished by any other organization. We as an order have always aided the Salvation Army and the Elks from coast to coast are assisting them in their present drives. Here's hoping that you 'go over the top' in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana."

Chairman Kirby is expected to appoint the full number of his executive committee this week, according to Lieut. Col. George Wood, commander of the Southwestern District. Five members of the state committee have been appointed. The number probably will be brought to

County Units Are Formed

County organizations are rapidly swinging into line for the intensive week of work that is planned to cover the campaign work. Field men of the Salvation Army corps report success in each county in which they work.

"By far the most gratifying feature of the campaign is the support that the returned soldier is giving the Salvation Army," Mr. Kirby told the executive committee at its last session. "I find that this sympathy for the Salvation Army is deep and sincere. The boys really want to help."

Richard Burgess of El Paso who was one of the first Texas soldiers to go overseas, has been appointed to lead the campaign in the El Paso district. Burgess returned to America with the rank of colonel.

Soldier Ready to Help

"I am not too busy to show the Salvation Army the attention that is due it by every returned soldier," Mr. Burgess said in accepting the position offered him on the state committee.

Definite plans for the campaigns in each county are now in the hands of the state central executive committee. The state committee is the nucleus of an organization of workers that extends down to the last publicity man and county chairman in the state.

"There are to be no loafers on the state committee," Mr. Kirby said in announcing his appointees. "Each man nominated for a place who accepts will have a definite work to perform. Each district chairman will be responsible for the men in his district who are able to give substantial sums of money. Each county chairman will be responsible for the men who are able to give freely in his community. By this plan it is the hope of the Salvation Army that the drive may be brought to a speedy close."

Halls Built on Border

Construction work on two recreation halls for the Salvation Army at Santa Helena and Lajitas in the Big Bend district will begin at once according to a letter received last night from Colonel G. T. Langhorne of the United States cavalry by Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the southwestern division of the Salvation Army.

Colonel Langhorne acknowledged receipt of a check from Lieutenant Colonel Wood for $1,000. The money was sent the first of the week from the Dallas office of the Salvation Army.

"I take this opportunity to thank you," Colonel Langhorne wrote, "and express the gratitude and appreciation of the officers and soldiers in your consideration of them."

Mr. Rock sold his farm on the river a few months ago and with his family moved to San Antonio. He likes the city life all right, but likes to get back close to nature once in awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Cohenour and daughter Katharine, returned last week from a three months absence, during which time they visited in Missouri and Illinois. They made the trip by automobile and report a delightful time, passing through the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
