In the final games of the season, Muleshoe will play Littlefield in Muleshoe in a doubleheader at the Babe Ruth Ball Park on Saturday, July 11. One of the games will be a makeup game from a rained out game on June 20.

With stars in her sparkling eyes, as well as shining in her crown, Miss Muleshoe, Treena Bryant, prepares to go to Fort Worth Sunday for the Miss Texas competition next week.

Accompanying Treena to Fort Worth will be her official chaperone, Mrs. Kenneth Henry and Miss Texas Committee Chairmen from Muleshoe, Clarence Christian and Mrs. Christian. Miss Muleshoe is sponsored in the Miss Texas Pageant by the Muleshoe Jaycees and Treena is the first Muleshoe girl to ever be entered in the annual contest.

The trio will drive to Fort Worth for the week of rehearsals, preliminaries and stage competition and Mr. and Mrs. Don Bryant, Treena's parents, will make the trip to the competition on Thursday.

Treena is a 1970 graduate of Muleshoe High School where she had a distinguished record in the musical field. She was in the high school 'Mighty M' band for four years and was in the All-Region band for two years. For four years she was a representative in the UIL Solo and Ensemble contests and served as vice president of the band. She also was in the musical orchestra for the 1970 school musical, 'The Unsinkable Molly Brown.'

A member of the National Honor Society, the 18-year old beauty was official representative of Muleshoe during the past year.

Earth Rodeo Parade Top Area Activities

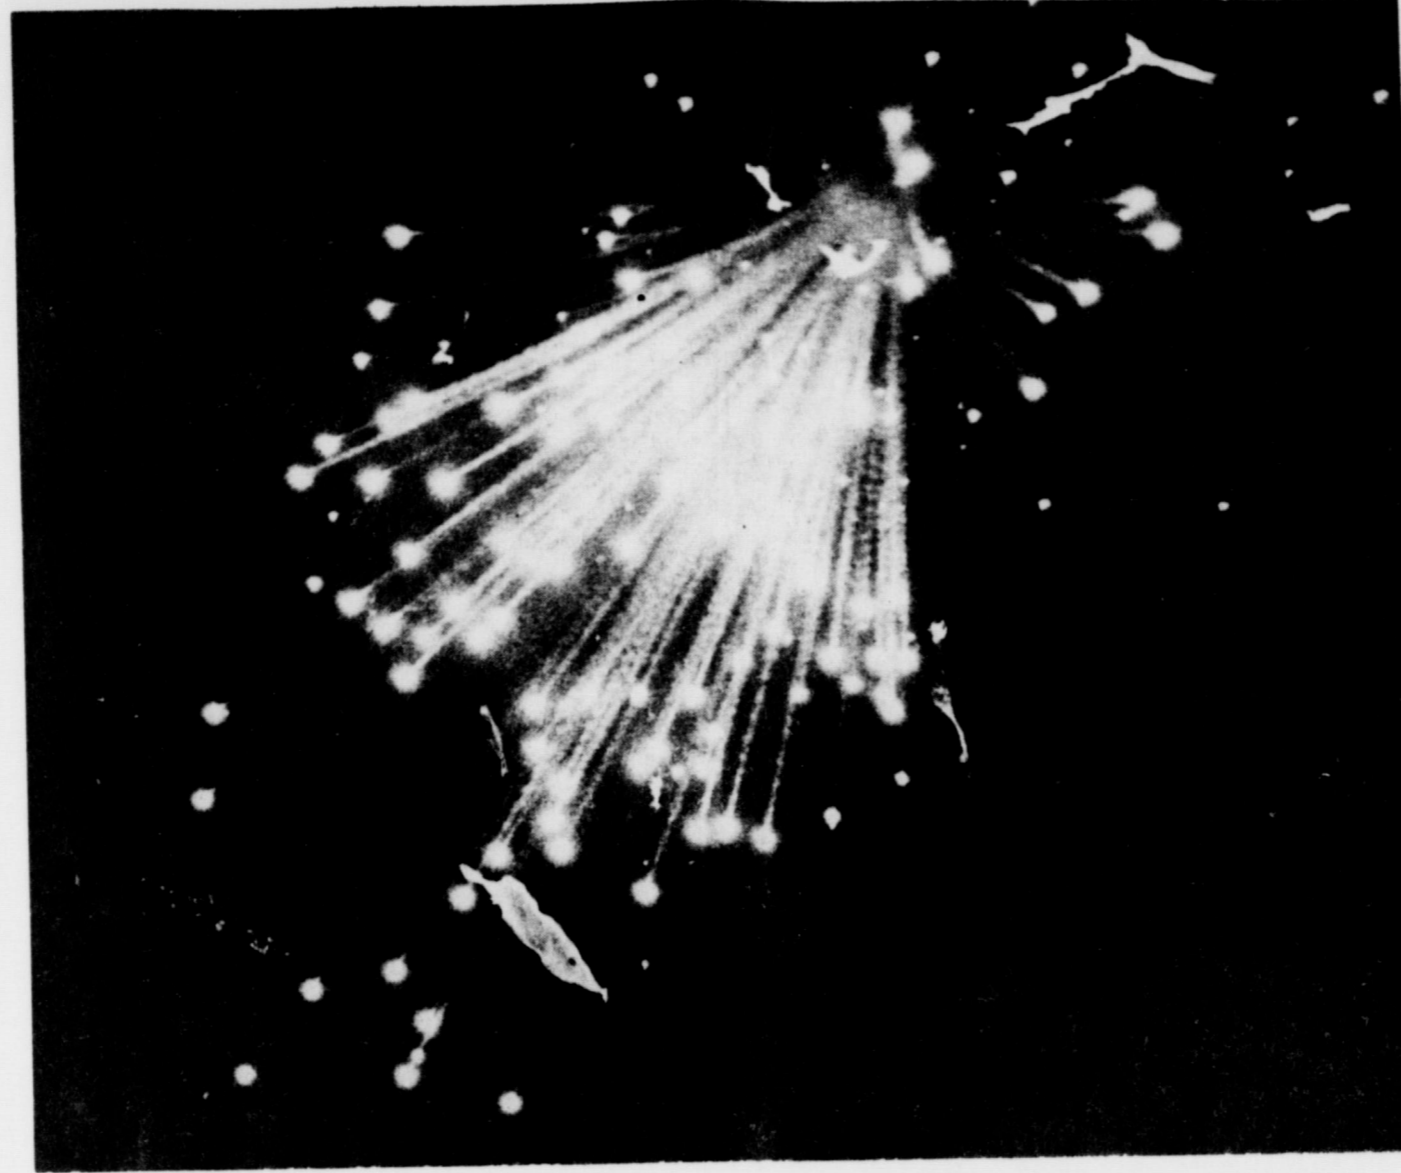

Thursday will be the beginning of the 26th annual Earth Rodeo and frantic preparations have been underway for the event. At 5 p.m. on Thursday, July 9, activities will get underway with a gigantic rodeo parade through the downtown streets of Earth. This year, the theme 'Americanism' will be used and floats of every description will be entered in the colorful parade.

Riding clubs from several counties surrounding Earth have indicated they will participate in the parade. The thirteen beauties who have announced for rodeo queen will be featured and the queen will be chosen and reign during the rodeo. She will be presented during the first performance of the rodeo Thursday night.

There will be several first and second place trophies presented following the parade. Included will be prizes to junior and senior riding clubs and first, second and third place cash prizes for the floats judged to most adequately depict the 'Americanism' theme.

A barbecue will follow immediately after the parade and will be served at the livestock barn. In charge of the barbecue are members of the Earth Lions Club. Cooks for this year are Gene Templeton and Johnny Murrell.

THE BIG BLAST--Lighting up the early darkness Saturday were gigantic skyrockets as large resounding booms cascaded in the background. This is just one of the displays seen by hundreds of people when the members of the Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department shot off the fireworks to conclude the annual Fourth of July Celebration in Muleshoe. Streaking skyward until they exploded in brilliant displays, an entranced crowd watched the annual firework presentation.

Miss Muleshoe To Miss Texas Pageant

The five foot, four inch 115 pound beauty was active in several school organizations and was installed in June as Worthy Advisor in the Order of Rainbow for Girls. She was named recently as pin-up girl for a group of servicemen from Texas who are serving in Korea.

Listing her favorite sport as swimming, with an alternate of basketball, she said she enjoys playing the piano and plans to major in math at the University of Texas and teach on a secondary level.

The Muleshoe Jaycees have been attempting to acquire a Miss Texas franchise for some time, but there was no opening available until this year. Once the Jaycees acquired the franchise, they began immediate preparations for the first Muleshoe entry in the state contest.

Projects for raising money to help finance the contest have been held by the Jaycees. Funds raised will pay for sponsor fees, clothing, room and other necessary expenses involved with Treena's trip to Fort Worth.

BAC Discusses Celebration; New Projects

Chairman R.A. Bradley was in charge at the Businessmen's Activities Committee meeting Tuesday morning when several verbal commendations were given for 'workers' during the preparation and presentation of the 4th of July Celebration and events preceding the celebration.

He commented, "We owe a lot of thanks of everyone who worked on the Fourth of July program as it took lots of work and lots of people, it didn't just happen."

Olan Burrows said more people should be encouraged to stay home and work in their own hometown during celebrations instead of going away to other towns to avoid helping.

According to co-chairman Tommy Black of Cobbs, the Sidewalk Sale was successful although only a small number of merchants participated. Only 11 merchants participated in the afternoon sale, he commented.

St. Clair's received the award for the best participation and Wylie Bowers of Dot's Shop was awarded for being the most appropriately dressed. He was dressed in a patriotic theme.

Golf Tourney Draws Entries During Fourth

Thirteen teams entered a partnership golf tournament on Saturday, July 4, Golf Pro Pearl Ward reported.

First place winners in the tournament were a team of Pearl Gunstream and Lorene Ward, Gene Paul Jarman and Stanley Wilson were second; S. C. Arnett and Tim Campbell, third and George Chapman and Bruce Chapman were fourth.

Ward said winners were decided on a point system.

On Sunday, Claude Riley made his second hole-in-one, added the golf pro. He said the hole-in-one was made on the ninth hole as Riley was playing with Irvin St. Clair, Earl Schmitz, Myron Pool and Red Johnson.

Upcoming at the Muleshoe Country Club is a one-day partnership tournament for the ladies said Ward and further details will be released on the July 15 tournament.

City To Define Airport - Golf Boundary Lines

At a meeting Tuesday morning of the Muleshoe City Council, city officials decided to establish boundary lines between the Muleshoe Airport and the Muleshoe Golf Course.

The line is to be located 70 feet south of the center line of the present paved east/west runway to its intersection with the present north/south runway. Then, south along a line 70 feet west of the center line of the present north/south runway to the south line of the tract covered by the airport and golf club leases.

This is the result of congestion between golfers and airport operations.

The city, as well as interested parties, received recommendations from the Federal Aviation Administration which, in part, recommended that a boundary line between the golf course and airport be established.

Two parachutists from Amarillo, Marvin Koenig and Steve Douglas, joined parachutist Ron Luginbill from Clovis in several jumping exhibitions beginning around 8:30 a.m. and at different times throughout the day.

Clarendon Hospital Closes Its Doors

Sixty year old Adair Hospital in Clarendon has closed its doors for the final time. At midnight on June 30, the old city-county hospital was closed leaving Clarendon without hospital facilities.

Dr. George W. Smith, Clarendon's only doctor and the administrator of the former hospital said, "We had to close because the hospital has never met the physical standards as set out by Medicare. We were open only conditionally as it was, with inspectors for the federal programs letting us remain open as a borderline operation."

"After the Donley County Hospital District and Bond issue were voted and passed in March of this year, no operating budget was set up by the city or county for the coming year. According to the hospital district bill, no governmental agency has the authority to budget any amount or provide funds for the operation of a hospital in a hospital district."

Donley County voters passed the hospital district election in March and voted 806-549 to create the district and 756-529 on the $500,000 bond issue. Preliminary approval has been given by HUD (Housing and Urban Development) for the $1, 100,000 hospital which is expected to be constructed in Clarendon.

The runners-up will receive trophies and scholarships in graduated amounts. Miss Congeniality, the five semifinalists and the two nonfinalist talent award winners also will receive scholarships to the colleges of their choice.

The Miss Texas Pageant and its local preliminaries will award more than $33,000 worth of scholarships this year. Christian said everyone was urged to back Miss Muleshoe, Treena Bryant, as she attempts to capture the coveted beauty crown for her hometown.

Winners in the spot-landing contest were: Private, first, Gail Morris of Lazbuddie; second, Ronnie Spies; third, Bill Bruce; fourth, Weldon Bradley, Dimmitt and fifth was Ted Harrison.

In the commercial division, Jack Cobb of Smyer was first and Kenneth Powell, second. Two events began at 10 a.m. They were the World Champion Mule Shoe Pitching Contest just across the street west of the Bailey County Courthouse and the Arts and Craft Show at the Muleshoe High School cafeteria. Following a lengthy elimination in which the interest was high and entries from all walks of life, the finals were held at 2 p.m. for the champions in the mule shoe pitching.

One onlooker, who was obviously delighted with the contest was Leo Dannenburg of Amsterdam, Holland, who was in Muleshoe for the celebration, along with his family. Mrs. Don Cihak downed Rosemary Pool for the women's division winner in the pitching, then took on Doug Bales, men's champion, who had defeated title holder Ed Neutzler. Bales won the competition to take the world title for the next year. Steve Monasco, 13 years old, became the first second year winner in the youth division. Steve captured the youth title in competition in 1969.

Varied works of art and craft displays were set up in the MHS cafeteria. Craft workers and artists displayed their styles and methods throughout the day for interested onlookers. Winner of the painting presented by the Muleshoe Art Association was Mrs. Phil Garrett and Ruth Briscoe was winner of an award by the Hobby Club.

An Old Settlers Reunion was held July 4 from two to four in the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Approximately 180 guests registered.

Music was furnished by Wayland Ethridge. After he presented several selections, the invocation was given by Bill Moore, then the pledge of allegiance and the welcome address. Jaynie Calloway presented a skit and special music was provided by Mrs. Ruth Rocky, Omak, Washington, and Mrs. Pat Bobo. A patriotic reading was given by Jaynie Calloway and then everyone sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Awards were given to Mrs. Thelma Hogan and Mrs. Lulu Gorrel for best dressed women and Wayland Ethridge and Spencer Beavers for best dressed men. The persons who traveled farthest were: Kim Kees, Lincoln, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rockey, Omak, Washington; Dr. C.E. Williams, Clinton, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snyder, Eugene, Oregon; Hap Bearden, Washouqui, Washington; Mr. J. L. Alsop, El Paso, Texas and Elsie Bailey, Fresno, California. States represented were Nebraska, Washington, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, California and many towns in Texas.

Buttoniers were given to 60 people over 70 years of age. Muleshoe Mules ceramic ashtrays were given to all the award winners.

Punch and ice cream were served to the guests by Miss Gayla Hooten and Miss Susan Head.

Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Rudolf Morrow, president; Spencer Beavers, vice president and Mrs. Calvin Embry, secretary and treasurer.

At 5 p.m. it was parade time, and downtown Muleshoe was jammed with people from the entire surrounding area. Parade Marshal Jeff Smith had a long, smooth parade lined up. It got off with a bang, right on time, and proved to be one of the longest parades to ever traverse the streets of Muleshoe.

Featured in the parade were the Kwahadi Indian Dancers from Amarillo and a team of matched Percheron horses pulling a large wagon, also from Amarillo. The Kwahadi Indians are a troop of scouts from the Panhandle of Texas and the wagon and horses are owned by Quentin Jenkins, an Amarillo auctioneer.

Riding clubs, sheriff's poses, beauties, floats, farm equipment, antique cars and riders all moved along the parade route to the delight of youngsters from babes in arms to young in hearts past 60.

To wind up the parade John Fried lead the grand entry at the Boy Scout grounds just north of the Babe Ruth Ball Park. Jack Bates, Peggy Bates and Sig Kimbrough were flag bearers, along with Jimmy Henderson, Danita Throckmorton and Janice Head.

First place in the youth riding clubs went to the Progress 4-H, with the Y-L 4-H being second and the Hart 4-H club third. Sheriff Posse and senior rider trophies were presented Lamb County Sheriff's Posse, first; Bovina Roping Club, second and Farwell Riding Club, third.

In the non-club riders, Carlos Contreras was first and Sharla Farmer, second in the best-dressed for the occasion. Antique car winners were Carl Freeman, Levelland, first; and Andy J. Tipton, Clovis, second.

Persons donating food for the barbecue July 4 were: bread, Cook Book, Rainbow, Mrs. Bairds and Baldwins; ice cream, Borden's and Bell; meat, Morton Packing Company, Swift and company of Amarillo with Glen Browning as representative, Jim's Pay and Save, Piggly Wiggly and King's Feed Lot; beans, Cashway; potatoes, Barrett Produce; and pickles and onions, Progress Home Demonstration Club.

The Muleshoe Study Club cooked the beans, the Jayceettes and the Llano Estacado Civic Club cooked the potatoes, Larry Hall and Ben Gramling cooked the meat, the Ladies Auxillary over looked the cooking and provided the tea and the ice. Members of the Lion's Club served parade participants and their families.

Over 500 people were served at the barbecue. Despite a brief, heavy shower between 8 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday, a large crowd congregated on the football field at Muleshoe High School for the annual family picnic and entertainment. A patriotic reading was given by Jaynie Calloway of Spearman. She is Lions Club sweetheart there.

Following the shower, a mule calling contest was hosted by Gil Lamb. After warm-up hog calls by several bystanders, Lamb called for the contestants in the contest. According to audience applause, the winner was a young girl, Nora Gonzales. Second was M. H. Laney and third place winner was Mayor St. Clair.

A jampacked crowd watched the Kwahadi Indian Dancers in their colorful costumes perform from 9:30-10:30 p.m. Indian lore was recited preceding the dances, and the response was considered tremendous by the crowd, both on the football field and the full stadium seats.

The windup for the year, the fireworks, were set off in a precision manner by the members of the Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department. They have acquired a professional manner in fireworks and the display, which received audience o-ohs and a-aahs, was colorful and loud. Several ground displays, including a waterfall, spinning wheel and other displays were presented. The display concluded with a display of the American Flag.

The Businessmen's Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is already beginning preliminary plans for the 4th of July Celebration for 1971.

He also reported on the carnival which will be held in Muleshoe in the near future. It will be here for six days, and the tentative beginning date is July 20.

Jeff Smith reported on the Parade, and thanked everyone who had a part in making it successful. Mildred Howell reported on the art and craft show and the food for the barbecue. Jerry Hutton reported overall and Burrows reported on the Kwahadi Indian dancers. Roy Dyer spoke about the old settlers reunion and a report on the junior rodeo was given.

Several other reports were given about the 4th of July activities, with the group being in agreement that it was the 'biggest' ever.

Hospital...

The 50-bed hospital would have 20 beds for acute cases and a 30-bed ECF (Extended Care Facility) for patients such as elderly persons who have a hip fracture, persons recuperating after a coronary or a stroke.

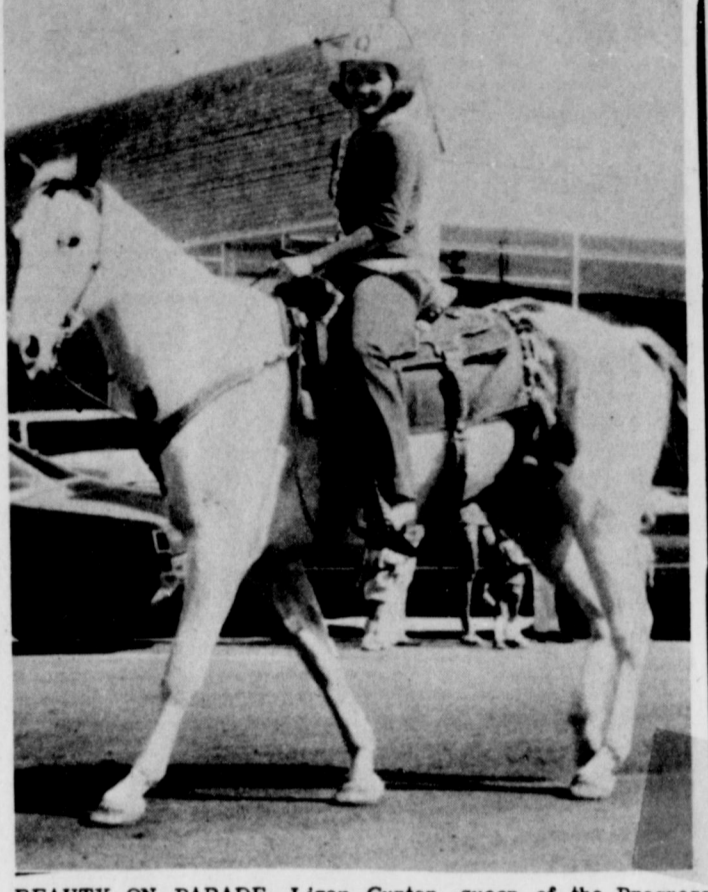

The 30-bed ECF facility is a 'special breed' nursing home, according to Doctor Smith. He said it will be licensed by the Social Security administration under almost as stringent laws as hospital licensing with practically the same rules as far as nurses, facilities, and other hospital regulations.

"We have the best people in the world here," continued Doctor Smith, "and we do expect to eventually get a hospital. It will take time to get everything worked out, however."

He said the hospital district has taken an option on land to build the new hospital and they are now 'treading water' waiting for further approval of their plans.

Laws are passed to be enforced but some people seem to have forgotten that they especially if it applies to them.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer who regularly returned thanks to God for the harvest of the year?

He further recommended that signs or notices be erected along the golf court and boundary line to warn golfers who may be utilizing the "rough" between the line of trees and the airport boundary.

In other council action, Bill Jim St. Clair requested permission from the city council to construct a hangar on the airport premises. The council deferred St. Clair's request to the Airport Board for their recommendation.

Rev. Walter Bartholf, chairman of the Muleshoe Park and Recreation Board, reported on prices for picnic tables for the existing City Park. The council referred purchase of the park equipment to the park board and authorized the purchase of six picnic tables for the park.

City Police Chief Harold White was authorized to lease radar equipment for a period of three months.

A discussion was held on paving downtown alleys. It was reported that the city would participate the same as street paving, which is approximately 10 percent.

A group of city officials said

Tax Man Sam Sez

This week is our Nation's birthday. If you are pessimistic, and look at the fraction of one percent of Americans who act like idiots on the college campuses instead of pursuing their education, or those who try to reason with us with riots over every imaginable cause, you will probably conclude that our country has had it. If, on the other hand, you remember our government's Astronauts' accuracy, if you remember the wide margin we have in education over every other nation (in spite of the present college ruckus) and if you remember our fabulous economic power, you will recognize that in spite of thousands of defects, we have national, state and local governments that have unequalled capability. (In spite of the over-emphasis of nonsense by loud-mouths, we are a people of unequalled ability.)

Inflation Control To Take Joint Public Effort

It will take a joint effort of public and private interests to bring inflation under control, Congressman Bob Price said Monday.

In remarks before the Downtown Kiwanis at the Amarillo YWCA, the Panhandle Congressman noted that inflation results when expenditures for services is much greater than expenditures for production goods.

"During the 1960's we saw gigantic government deficits which fed the flames of inflation because government spending expands the Nation's money supply more rapidly than private spending," Price said.

"The President is trying to stop inflation by slowing the upward spiral of Federal spending. From 1965 to 1969, the average annual increase in Federal spending was 13 percent. President Nixon has cut it in half to 7.5 percent in his first 16 months in office and plans to cut this to 3.7 percent during the Fiscal year which begins this July 1. This is difficult because an irresponsible Congress keeps increasing government workers wages and increasing government programs above the President's requests," he added.

Price noted that the private sector can assist in the control of inflation by keeping wage and price increases consistent with increases in productivity.

"Recent wage increases have been from the 7 percent received by truckers to an average 10 percent received by chief corporate officers. Combined with price increases the so-called 'wage-price spiral' is created and inflation continues ever upward," Price said.

"The government's red ink budgets and the resulting inflation have also caused higher interest rates. In an inflationary boom, all types of borrowers—business, agribusiness, individuals, State and local governments—are anxious to borrow. When added to the Federal government's borrowing to pay for deficit budgets and the $19 billion interest on the $365 billion debt of our government and the demand pressures simply pull interest rates up," he added.

"Now is the time for everyone to practice a little belt-tightening if we are to get the national economy back on the right track," the Congressman stated.

New wonder-wigs, wiglets and falls in next-to-no-care synthetic fibers are worth saving allowance or baby-sitting money for. Ideal: own a wardrobe of different styles. 'Texas' Draws Crowd During First Week

The first week of the "TEXAS" production of 1970 drew 7500 people to the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park, Paul Green's musical drama of early Texas life attracted many members of the families of the cast during its first days. On Friday alone, July third, relatives came from Colorado and New Mexico, from Irving, Texas and El Paso to visit various cast members and see the performance. Steve Garms of Plainview had the largest number of relatives - twenty-two. His brother Bradley and a friend, Kelly Baker, made it a special occasion by riding their bicycles to the theatre from Plainview, sixty-four miles. They arrived in good time for the production. This is the most unusual way of reaching a show noted so far.

Most of the performances moved smoothly, though a sudden small gust of wind sent the stage one night long before it was due. It was held back only by three cast members who happened to be standing near and grabbed it. The box office crew is wondering whether the man who bought tickets to the "skit" was surprised when he saw the show.

For further information, write Box 268, Canyon, Texas or call 806-655-2182. The Box office in Canyon closes at 5:00 and then reopens in the Canyon at 6:00. The telephone in the theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon is 806-Hu8-3100. Barbecue is served from 6:30 p.m. until 8:15 p.m.

It Suits Him, if he is a man with real fashion-savvy, to wear one of the new "casual" suits consisting of trousers plus vest, tunic, or sleeveless jacket. They're a great way to show off those jazzy new shirts; a smart way to bridge the gap between sportswear and dress-up wear.

Supreme Court Rules All Voters Have Say In General-Obligation

From the Wall Street Journal
 WASHINGTON--The Supreme Court threw out as unconstitutional state laws that limit voting on general-obligation bond issue proposals to real property owners and taxpayers.

In throwing out the bond issue vote restriction, the Supreme Court said 14 states restrict voting to property owners or taxpayers in some or all general-obligation bond elections. They are Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Louisiana, Michigan, Montana, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Texas and Utah.

The high court's five-to-three decision was the latest extension of its "one-man, one-vote" principle, forbidding dilution of the value of a person's vote. The principle originally was applied in 1964 to voting for state legislatures and subsequently was extended to various other types of elections such as school district elections.

In 1969 the principle was extended to elections for the approval of revenue bond issues. The High Court held unconstitutional state laws that restricted voting on revenue bond proposals to property owners. Revenue bond obligations are met from revenues of the local improvements built with the bond proceeds and the High Court reasoned that "the benefits and burdens of revenue bonds fall indiscriminately on property owner and non property owner alike."

ARIZONA TEST CASE
 The question of whether that reasoning applied also to laws restricting general-obligation bond voting was raised in Arizona. General-obligation bonds are backed by the full taxing power of the issuing city, school district or other governmental unit.

Property-owning voters in Phoenix voted on June 10, 1969, on a proposal to issue $60,450,000 of general-obligation bonds to finance various municipal improvements including parks, playgrounds and libraries. A majority of those voting approved the bonds.

Six days after the election, the High Court handed down its decision on the revenue bond issue. On Aug. 1, 1969, a Phoenix resident who was otherwise qualified to vote but didn't own real property filed suit challenging the Arizona law and the June 10 election. The suit claimed that the Supreme Court's decision on the revenue bond issue applied also to state laws restricting voting on general-obligation bond issues.

A three-judge Federal district court agreed that there was little difference between revenue and general-obligation bond elections. Consequently, it held the Arizona law unconstitutional and declared the June 10 bond election in Phoenix invalid. Further, it enjoined Phoenix from issuing the general-obligation bonds.

The Supreme Court affirmed the district court. Justice White, writing the majority opinion, acknowledged that property taxpayers have a special interest in general-obligation bond issues because "most municipalities rely to a substantial extent on property tax revenues" to pay off such bonds. But he said that voters who rent rather than own property contribute through their rentals to property tax payments also. "The differences between the interests of property owners and nonproperty owners are not sufficiently substantial to justify excluding the latter" from voting, he concluded.

DISSENTING OPINION
 Chief Justice Burger and Justice Harlan joined in a dissenting opinion by Justice Stewart, which argued that the court in extending its one-man, one-vote principle should distinguish between elections for public officials and those for other purposes, including bond issues. Mr. Stewart said that, although the Constitution doesn't permit the states to dilute a person's vote for public officials, voting policies on bond issue elections should be left to the states.

The majority said its decision throwing out the state voting restrictions wouldn't have retroactive effect. It said the decision would apply only to voter approvals of general-obligation bonds that aren't final as of June 23rd. In general, such approvals aren't final until the expiration of a period of time, usually fixed by state law, during which elections can be challenged in a state court.

The issue arose in connection with a suit brought by Clyde A. Perkins against Standard Oil Co. of California. A federal district court jury awarded Mr. Perkins triple damages of just over $1 million plus attorney fees, covering the trial stage of the litigation, of $289,000.

An appeals court reversed the district court award and the Supreme Court in 1969 reversed the appeals court and ordered the jury verdict reinstated.

The new issue was whether Mr. Perkins could recover from Standard his costs in taking the case to the appeals court and the Supreme Court. The district court ruled that the Clayton Act didn't authorize recovery or such costs and the appeals court also denied Mr. Perkins recovery.

The Supreme Court unanimously held that the Clayton Act does authorize recovery of attorney costs at the appellate stages, as well as the trial stage, of successful antitrust damage suits. The High Court said that, as a general rule, such appellate costs should be fixed by a Federal district court and it remanded the Perkins case issue to a district court for further proceedings.
