Kitty's Korner By Kitty Montgomery

It is a sad situation when our military men are charged with crimes for doing what they were sent to do. When it is kill or be killed, as it is in every war, who is to say what act is criminal? The most pathetic part of the whole thing is the fact that nobody really knows. After so long a time, can even the most skilled investigator really know if the Americans were responsible for the massacre, or if it was another clever Communist trick or, if it even happened at all?

People are being killed everyday in this nasty little war and it goes on without end. It could have been done with several years ago with a few bombs dropped in the right places. Oh, I know we dropped tons of bombs, but never in the right places, and our military men are more aware of this fact than anyone else. The whole thing has become a farce and I can just see the day when men returning from Vietnam will be interrogated for days on their year in combat. If they have fired a shot at the enemy without proper identification, they will promptly be jailed. Those who wait to be sure will, of course, be dead. The Viet Cong have no gentlemen's rules about war.

Through a haze, dimly, I begin to see the side of the unwashed minority of draft dodgers. Horrors!

Well, I bought a wig and it changed my life. I've been walking across this street several times a day for years and have never been noticed by truck drivers. This week, I've been very frankly flirted with.

Even my husband, who has taken me for granted for so many years, has that gleam back in his eye.

I love it. I've never had so many nice comments on my appearance. I am going to buy several and never be caught wigless. I recommend it for all females. A new wig is better than a tonic for tired blood.

Even my picky teen-age son thinks its "cool". I only regret that I didn't do it years ago. I'm going to try false eye lashes next.

We get an occasional nasty letter, but this week we got two.

I got the biggest bang out of the one written on notebook paper and signed "An (area college) Student." I wish I could print it for you so you could get a laugh too, but the boss has a policy about anonymous letters and poetry.

It's handwritten in pencil and I wouldn't be at all surprised if it had been written by some third grader, trying to pull my leg.

You might call it a protest letter, since it was protesting my criticism of the couple with all the dogs camping out in Triangle Park. It also gives a definition of "park" which isn't in my dictionary, however, we only have Webster's, not a Funk & Wagnalls.

The letter-writer informs me that I have about as much sense as her dog (which isn't saying much for her poor pooch) and enjoins me to keep my mouth shut when I don't know what I am talking about.

It's really too bad the letter wasn't signed. I'm sure the garden club would have enjoyed a lecture on parks (Continued on Last Page)

Former Baseball Player For Ozona Dies In San Antonio

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stuart attended funeral services Monday in San Antonio for Alton (Butch) Lenz, 56, all-star third baseman with the semi-pro Ozona Giants baseball team of the thirties, who died of a heart attack near his LaVernia farm.

Lenz came to Ozona in 1935 with Stuart and Hans Mangold, all from San Antonio and all veterans of semi-pro baseball in the San Antonio area. He played with the local team in the hot Permian Basin League for three years.

Older baseball fans will remember the players of the era including Fa's Hatherly, Carl Dorley, Bob Weaver, Red Greer, Frank Russell, Slim Harris, Al Grossthwait, Lefty Bishop, Stuart, Mangold, Lenz, Rex Russell and others.

For the past 32 years Butch Lenz was employed as a bus driver by the San Antonio Transit Co. A San Antonio paper, The Light, in recounting his baseball prowess in San Antonio said "He achieved his greatest fame locally with the Amalgamated Transit Union Local 604 team." "He also played professionally for some time", the paper added.

Funeral services were held from a San Antonio funeral chapel at 1:30 Monday afternoon and at 3:30 from Immanuel Lutheran Church in LaVernia.

Ozona Junior Varsity Scores In Iraan Meet

It is unusual for a junior varsity team to pick up a point when they enter a varsity track meet, but Ozona's junior Lions picked up 7 points Saturday in Iraan. The 25 freshmen and sophomores competed against the varsity track teams in their own district and others, to bring home their 7 points.

Coach John Richey expressed pride in the boys and said they did a fine job at a varsity meet. They will travel to Crane Friday for a freshman meet and Coach Richey said he expected good results.

The JV picked up 4 points in the 440 relay, placing fifth, with David Sewell, George Allen, Timmy Evans and Cheo Vargas making up the team. The same group of boys placed sixth in the mile relay.

Dean Shaw and Eddy Beard placed tenth and eleventh respectively in the 880 yd. run. Mike Wellman placed 8th in the high hurdles and Gary Whitley placed twelfth. Timmy Evans placed seventh and George Allen eighth in the 100-yd. dash.

Wellman placed sixth in the intermediate hurdles event. David Sewell got an eighth place in the 220-yd. dash and in the pole vault. Wellman placed seventh in the high jump.

Clamp Embargo On Mail To New York Strike Zone

It was "neither snow nor sleet nor gloom or night" that stayed the New York postal "messengers from their appointed rounds" — it was a strike at midnight Tuesday.

And effects of the strike were felt in Ozona Wednesday when Postmaster Floyd Hokit received a call from postal authorities advising of embargoes on mail of certain zip code numbers bound for certain metropolitan areas of New York and New Jersey.

"An embargo is in effect on all classes of mail with zip code numbers 100 through 104 and 110 through 119", Hokit was advised. "No mail will be dispatched from the local postoffice to New York City, New York State or New Jersey." Hokit said. "Also there will be no registered mail dispatched to New York State or to New Jersey."

APO mail (bound for service men overseas) will be handled, the department advised.

County Selects Food Program Storage Center

The Commodity Food Distribution Center for Crockett County has been set up in the south part of the County road department building. Refrigeration equipment has been purchased and everything is in order for the county to participate in the program recently forced on the county by the federal courts.

Crockett County officials from Sutton and Edwards counties, along with representatives from the USDA and Texas Department of Public Welfare, official administrator of the program in the state. It was then decided that Sutton County would be headquarters for the tri-county operation.

Robert D. (Bob) Johnson has been hired by the State Department of Public Welfare to supervise the program in all three counties. The position pays $438 per month and 10c per mile for traveling time.

A story last week in the Devil's River news, Sonora's weekly paper, said "Johnson stated that schedules for receiving applications and for issuance of commodities will be announced later. However, he estimates that issues of commodities will begin in early April and be made each month thereafter."

Johnson will receive and process all applications. Announcement of his first visit to Crockett County will be made later.

WHOSE SIDE ARE YOU ON?

A Washington, D. C. newspaper columnist writes that he is unhappy to see more and more people flying the American flag. He complains that "Public reaction to the extreme left has been a proliferation of patriotic bumper stickers, flag decals for application to windshields, metal flag lapel pins, and buttons advising one to 'Tell It To Hanoi'."

He condemns such practices as "unfair". "The implication is that those who do not conform are unpatriotic. Indiscriminate use of the flag can only encourage false, useless, but none the less dangerous political polarization in this country." He attacks those who fly the American flag as "super patriots."

To all of this we reply with a plain, and we hope unmistakable, "Bunk". If it is wrong for people to proudly display the American flag today, then those who fought and died in the American Revolution were also wrong.

The record shows that in the early days of struggle for independence against England, the colonists carried dozens of different banners.

ners. On October 20, 1775, Washington's military secretary, Colonel Joseph Reed wrote that a flag should be adopted "by which our vessels may know one another." Clearly, a common emblem was needed to tell "whose side are you on?"

The first commonly recognized flag of America was the "Grand Union" flag. It had thirteen red and white stripes, representing the thirteen colonies. In the upper quarter were the red and white crosses on a blue field which make up the flag of Britain. The Grand Union flag was flown for the first time by John Paul Jones in 1775. It was hoisted over Washington's headquarters in Massachusetts on January 1, 1776.

Just because a tiny handful of communists and their collaborators choose to fly the Red flag of Moscow, representing tyranny, torture and slavery, are we supposed to hide the Stars and Stripes away, unhonored and unseen?

Let those who love America fly the flag as a sign to all: "I'm proud to be an American. I believe in liberty under law. I stand, as does my country, for freedom and justice for all people."

PICKETS FOR DECENCY

Most people, we believe, are becoming utterly bored with "news" stories that are no longer news, relating the antics of every handful of hate-America pickets and demonstrators. It is somewhat a welcome twist to read about a picket line demonstrating FOR decency.

But such is the case in Derry, New Hampshire, where all of the leading clergymen in town are picketing the Plaza Cinema to protest the showing of a film which has been held in some courts as obscene. The picture has a "condemned" rating from the National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures, and the film industry itself rates the movie "X", indicating that it is "for adults only" and that persons under a certain age are not to be admitted.

However, the ministers, all members of the Clergymen's Association in Derry, don't buy the argument that a different set of moral values should be applied after a person reaches the age of 17 or 18. They contend that what is bad for youth is bad for adults. They say that there is a real connection with the showing of hard core pornography and the increase in violence, major crime, and the breakdown of family life. Hence their demonstration for decency.

We are impressed that these men of the cloth who believe in America do not consider it "beneath their dignity" to stand up and be counted.

This talk about "a new source of revenue" simply means tapping the same old taxpayer in a brand new place. — Eaton (Colo.) Herald.

EDITORIAL

By David Hoover

It is all quiet at mid-morning in the halls of OHS. The only sound heard is that of a strange man in an office labeled principal. His voice rings out loud and clear in an effort to counter the tomblike silence of the outer hall. He and the other keepers have held down the noise successfully.

But is it really their doing that the silence of the dim hall is kept, or is it simply the sounds held back by inadequate students?

In the halls themselves, the lockers are standing in silent rows, hoping for some rebellious student to violate the quietness, slam a door, or drop a book, with the sound echoing down the hall and drowning out the silence. Every now and then, a dog or skunk will wander into the building, only to be chased away by the commanding silence which rules this long, silent hall.

Then from out of nowhere a revolution has begun! There are students shouting and running through the halls, breaking the iron will of the silence that once reigned. The lockers are happy once again — the sound of life is thriving once again. The halls are ringing to the sounds of feet and voices.

The stranger comes from his office to seek the intruders of silence, finds it to be the entire population. The cause of the revolt is the dismissal bell, which releases the confined students to the once silent halls.

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY EASTER HOLIDAYS

HI SCHOOL HOROSCOPE

By Elizabeth Jones

OHS students are just burning up with energy this week (or still senioritis). You can always tell because of that cheerful look on a person's face. There's a rumor that the cause of all this lack of energy is the last week-end's activities.

The track boys go to Eldorado for another win on Saturday and the golf team also has another meet.

The week may be long with all the research papers, tests, themes, and notebooks due, but when it finally comes to an end, we have the Easter holidays to look forward to. The rumor's going around school about the holidays are trips to the river, trips down south, lots of people getting together, lots of exes home, and lots of good times.

Are you going to go through another year thinking you can't afford an Oldsmobile?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money. It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars. So why settle for the ordinary when you can step up to an Olds and all the value that an Olds represents. Take this big, exciting Delta 88, for example. It starts out with a surprisingly modest price. Add to this the features that make it such an outstanding value—extras that are included in the modest price: Regular-gas Rocket V-8 Power Steering Power Brakes, front discs Nylon-loop carpeting Bias-Belted Tires Door Side-Guard Beams Hidden Radio Antenna Flo-Thru Ventilation Bigger, better riding 124" wheelbase. Check these extra values at your Olds dealer's today!

The topic was a teen center, or a place for teenagers to go in their free time and things for them to do. It was brought out that this could be especially needed for the younger high school students without cars.

Questions were asked and suggestions were made as to a building, furnishings, decorations, and supervision.

A poor lonely coat was found at the civic center while the junior were decorating for the Junior-Senior Prom. The lonely coat needs his owner back.

For a day it sat in Mrs. Hayes' car alone and dejected. It was obviously a popular coat because it was very worn.

Whoever owns this coat should have some respect for it. After all it probably kept its owner warm through many cold nights. Please come by the office and pick it up!

The Great Man Came

The crowd had been gathering for hours. From every corner of the town they came—from tall white houses on the hill and cramped row houses by the mill. There were bankers and housewives, students and salesmen, grandmas and grocers, all drawn by a common hunger to hear the word of God.

And then the great man came. He stood before a microphone, and his words spread over the gathering like a benediction.

Suddenly, the shadow of a bygone day spread massively from another crowd, another place, to those gathered here. A thousand differences were reconciled, as the congregation found a common bond under the spell of Good Friday, when God gave His Son in a wondrous gift of love.

So, in these troubled times, as crowds gather all over the world—sometimes with hate in their hearts—let us pledge our time and talents to our churches as they teach the brotherhood of men through the fatherhood of God.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

The Administration's new welfare plan will be debated in the House soon — probably before the Easter recess. While it will likely be approved, I plan to vote against it.

The new scheme would more than double the 10.1 million now on relief rolls, and would add, initially, some $5-billion per year to welfare costs — which now exceeds $20 - billion, not counting private charity.

The chief innovation is a $2400 per year guaranteed annual income for all families of four — whether they work or not. This figure includes $800 in food stamps.

Sponsors theorize that somehow the plan would create an incentive for low-income people to work harder, make more money, and rise above the $2400 "subsistence" level. But experience with both the Kennedy and LBJ welfare programs has proven it simply doesn't work that way. It has been demonstrated that welfare begets welfare and, after a taste of it, people tend to become beholden to welfare schemes are often saturated with politics. A guaranteed income, once on the books with approval of the concept, lends itself to demagoguery and vote-baiting. Signs of that are already in the works. President Nixon had hardly taken the wraps off his Plan when Senator Fred Harris, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, offered a bill to up the minimum to $3600. Then came the radical ADA, calling for $5500. Now, in the distance, we can hear the soothing call: "Who'll make it $6000? And who'll make it 7."

In any event, adoption of the income guarantee concept pushes the USA closer to the status of the total welfare state.

And — what about the taxpayers? And, also, what about the inflation caused by excessive federal spending?

All right-thinking people want to help the unfortunate who cannot help themselves. But welfare programs have a way of getting out-of-hand.

Sensing The News

By Thurman Sensing Executive V. P. Southern States Industrial Council

The NLRB'S Lack of Balance

President Nixon's nomination of Edward B. Miller of Illinois as new chairman of the National Labor Relations Board is a step towards restoring the fairness that has been absent from that controversial federal agency since its founding. Mr. Miller is a Chicago attorney who in years past has represented management in labor disputes.

The vacancy Mr. Miller will fill, if confirmed by the Senate, occurred when Sam Zagoria's five-year term expired in January. Mr. Zagoria is a liberal Republican, a former assistant to Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey, and one-time reporter for The Washington Post and member of the American Newspaper Guild, an AFL-CIO union.

Mr. Zagoria, like other members of the board appointed by Democratic administrations, was strongly sympathetic to unions in disputes before the board.

U. S. Rep. Albert Watson (R-SC), in a protest voiced last December, charged that Mr. Zagoria was "an extreme activist on the board who has contributed mightily to the breakdown in labor-management relations because of his participation in decisions which thwart the letter and spirit of labor law enacted by Congress."

Rep. Watson also asserted that "the NLRB was not created to make labor policy, only to help resolve labor-management disputes and enforce labor law. But Mr. Zagoria has served in an era in which we have witnessed untold labor law abuses by the board."

James J. Kilpatrick, the highly respected syndicated columnist, is among the writers who has cited the lack of balance on the NLRB. He recently observed that there is not a single member of the board who "has observed industrial relations from the management side of a table." Obviously, this is an experience gap that is intolerable if fairness is to be a characteristic of the board's work.

American business has never suggested that the NLRB should be devoid of representatives with understanding of the position of unions in industrial disputes. But the unions bitterly resist any nominee to the board who is understanding of management. No sooner was Mr. Miller's nomination announced than George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, declared that his organization will oppose Mr. Miller being seated on the board.

Hopefully, the nomination of Mr. Miller will be approved and that other fair-minded men will be nominated and seated when vacancies occur on the board. The NLRB's obvious bias toward unions deprive American employers of a fair shake when disputes arise. In other words, employers can't obtain justice from the NLRB.

Ideally, of course, the overhaul of the NLRB's membership should be the prelude to a thorough revision of procedures for handling major labor - management disputes. Rep. Watson, cited above, also is the author of a bill that would replace the NLRB with a 15-judge P. S. Labor Court. The judges would be appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. NLRB trial examiners, who wield excessive power, would be replaced by 90 commissioners appointed by the Labor Court.

One reason why the NLRB's functions should be turned over to a court in Mr. Watson's judgment, is that the board has failed to protect individual union members from coercion by national union leaders.

The Johnson administration bitterly opposed the Labor Court bill, but the Nixon administration presents a new opportunity for thorough overhaul of labor disputes procedures — especially if Mr. Nixon has a stronger base in Congress after next fall's elections.

Over the years, many members of Congress have pointed to the prejudiced character of the NLRB. U. S. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-SC) is on record as saying of the NLRB: "This board is a disgrace to our people. It should be abolished. We need a labor court to protect both labor and management."

The history of the NLRB since its establishment in 1935 is a chronicle of latent bias against management in the naming of appropriate collective bargaining units and in the determination of "unfair" employer practices. The NLRB, at the same time has done nothing to protect union members against domination by union bosses, many of them corrupt and violence-prone.

With the opening of a new decade it is time to open a new era in handling of labor management disputes. The first step should be abolition of the NLRB.

Mrs. J. M. Baggett and Mrs. Edna Dendy returned Tuesday from Floydada after taking Mrs. Lula Nelson, Mrs. Baggett's sister who had been visiting here for several weeks, back to her home there.

The News Reel

A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of The Ozona Stockman

From The Stockman Thursday, Mar. 20, 1941

It's bad but it might be worse. That seemed to be the general verdict of livestock men of the county following the sudden about-face of the weather man Monday which sent a freezing drizzle to this section, coating trees, shrubs, telephone and electric wires in a heavy coating of ice. Livestock men say losses are comparatively light, most losses being confined to newborn lambs and freshly shorn goats.

With a charter membership of 28, the first Rotary Club in Ozona's history was launched at the Hotel Ozona when representatives of the San Angelo Rotary Club, sponsoring club, were present to take the final step in organization. V. I. Pierce was elected first president of the club and Scott Peters first vice president.

It was a good year was 1940 but there's always a little of the bitter of bemixed with the sweet. Income tax paying time brought its chorus of groans as residents of the county are estimated to have shelled out a total of $150,000 in income taxes.

Junction Easter Pageant Will Be Presented Mar. 28

Twentieth Annual Easter Pageant in the natural amphitheatre below the ever-burning cross on Lover's Leap southeast of downtown Junction will be presented Easter Eve, Saturday, March 28.

Starting at 10 p. m., the story of the last week in the life of Christ on earth will conclude shortly after midnight with the climaxing scenes of the resurrection and ascension on Easter morning.

More than 100 amateur performers, most of them experienced in their roles, will pantomime the story in 13 acts on 14 stages of varying levels, supported by changing lights, script readers and background music.

Mrs. Hamp Johnston is director, the third in the history of the pageant, which draws spectators from over the nation and foreign countries. She and all other participants are volunteers.

Thousands of spectators will watch from their cars which will be parked in the valley under direction of Boy Scouts. Free programs will be distributed. No admission is charged.

Free coffee is served from the chuckwagon of the late Ranger Captain Gully Cowser, starting at 4 p. m. Sandwiches and soft drinks will be available at a concession stand operated by a service club.

The public is cordially invited.
