As a result of further discussion it was decided for the Student Affiliates to meet on Saturday, February 27, for a work session on the Keyboard Magazine.

Members were reminded of the state convention to be held in El Paso in June, and were encouraged to take as many of their students as possible.

Mention was made of a Piano Workshop scheduled at Wayland College on March 15 and 16 with Dr. Thomas Reday of Texas Tech.

As his behavior becomes more appropriate, the patient finds increased acceptance, meaningful interaction with others, and improved self-esteem which will enable him to return to a more normal daily routine.

She gave a typical day's activities at the Day Hospital and said the group meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week from 8:30-3:15 p.m.

Install gas air conditioning now?

You should be so foxy

Installing GAS air conditioning now means you'll beat the rush that always comes with the first hot or dusty spring day. While everyone else is waiting for the overworked installers you'll be cool, calm, and collected.

GAS air conditioning cools your whole house quietly and efficiently. You'll save on repairs, too, because there is no compressor to break down or wear out. And, GAS air conditioning cools your whole house for what you might have been paying to cool just two or three rooms before.

So, be foxy. Call Pioneer and tell them you'd like to find out more about installing GAS air conditioning in the winter. A representative will tell you what it will take to include it in your present forced air heating system. You may be able to use the same ductwork for heating and cooling. It costs nothing to get a complete survey of your home or business.

A panel composed of future teacher, Miss Fain; a one-year teacher, Mrs. Banton; and two retired teachers, Mrs. Add Abernathy and Miss Anna Lee Neale, all from Littlefield, related their philosophies, experiences and reflections relative to teaching as a profession. A panorama of opinions was voiced from the enthusiastic young and the reflective, older educators. Mrs. Abernathy reviewed an article, "Twenty-eight Rules for a Happy Retirement", as printed in the January "National Retired Teachers Association Journal". A few of these rules are quoted: "(1) Respect your body as God's temple; (2) Keep regular hours; (3) Eat a balanced diet; (4) Watch your weight; (5) Don't smoke; (6) Thank God for health and strength; (7) Balance your day-eight hours sleep, eight hours work, eight hours recreation; (8) Keep up your morning devotionals; (9) Look your best; (10) Don't wear old, wornout clothing; (11) Vary your routine; (12) Read something worthwhile daily; (13) Avoid too much television; (14) Combine youth's vitality and age's dignity; (15) Stay current; (16) Smile; (17) Listen while others talk; (18) Respect other people's busy lives; (19) Pay your own way; (20) Give the world a legacy-Try to leave everybody and everything you contact better and more beautiful because you passed this way."

Pesticide Control Panel Discussed By Pesticide Control Panel

Recommendations made by the Governor's Advisory Panel on Use of Agricultural Chemicals can lead to the development and use of scientific facts as opposed to random opinion in regulating the use of pesticides by agriculture, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice-President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The panel, chaired by Dr. Perry Adkinson, head of the Entomology Department at Texas A. & M., was appointed at the request of the Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organizations.

Johnson said the objective is to obtain maximum usage of pesticides, herbicides and other chemicals in agriculture with minimum effects on the environment and non-target organisms, including man.

The panel's report states that without pest control, agricultural production would be impossible. It is doubtful that all other technology combined would be sufficient to provide the yield increases needed to feed and clothe the world's exploding human population.

But it is recognized that the entry of pest control chemicals into the environment has caused adverse effects on the environment, including air, water, soil, and food. The panel's report also discusses the need for a comprehensive regulatory program to control the use of pesticides.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.--According to a 14-month nationwide study by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, the Texas Legislature ranks 38th among all 50 states.

Study reported that the Lieutenant Governor has too much power and suggested that some of it be transferred to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

CCSL came out strong for annual sessions of the Legislature and found $15,000 a reasonable annual pay for senators and representatives (who now get $4,800).

Conference also suggested that Texas has far too many legislative standing committees (72 in all) and that 15 for each house would be plenty. A joint hearing by House-Senate panels would also save time, the study maintained.

Broad powers of the Lieutenant Governor, said CCSL, are a "hindrance to the Senate developing leadership of its own choosing." Powers include appointment of committee chairmen, assigning bills to committees and casting tie-breaking votes.

States getting the best rankings were, in this order, California, New York, Illinois, Florida, Wisconsin, Iowa, Hawaii, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Texas ranked 45th in ability to control its own activities, 43rd in the use of available information, 36th in accountability to constituency and 17th in being representative of the state's varied interests and population.

AUTO RATE REHEARING SOUGHT--Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office is seeking a rehearing on car insurance rates that were ordered by the State Insurance Board in December.

Counsel for TAISO and its 325 member companies filed official notice asking that the board re-examine the adequacy of rates it proposed to become effective January 1.

Insurance industry urged average overall 27.7 per cent increase statewide. Following hearings in Austin, Dallas and Houston, the Board agreed to grant a 14 per cent hike. Insurance Board staff had recommended 18 per cent.

Companies contend that "the use of a 25 per cent limitation on rate increases by coverage, classification and territory, without a specific allowance for catastrophes, results in confiscatory rates... which is not in keeping with the Texas Insurance Code."

REGISTRATION TO REOPEN--Voter registration is due to reopen for the month of February. Legislature passed a bill to extend the sign-up beyond January 31, and Gov. Preston Smith signed it into law.

Sen. Joe J. Bernal of San Antonio, who sponsored the measure, said that the bill shows the Legislature's good faith by getting in line with the Federal court decision. It threw out the annual voter registration requirement and criticized the gap between the end of the registration period and the election date.

A constitutional amendment proposal to wipe out Texas annual registration requirement by state action and other bills to authorize a registration-by-voting system are now pending in the Legislature. Main argument about the latter is over whether registration should be for a two or a four-year period.

AG OPINIONS--State Building Commission has authority to contract for equipment as part of a modernization, remodeling or building-construction project, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

* Duties prescribed by the legislature for a position classification officer, state auditor and a legislative audit committee, relating to a classification plan for state employees, are constitutional.

* Maximum compensation for the Grayson County chief deputy sheriff is $9,964; other deputies $8,737; and the base pay for two assistant county attorneys $3,600 and other assistants $2,400.

* Anthony Independent School District may select as its depository a national bank located in that part of town which is in New Mexico, but may not terminate the present contract until it expires.

* Woman's Club of Houston is not entitled, under facts submitted, to an exemption from ad valorem taxes as institution of purely public charity.

COURTS SPEAK--Texas Supreme Court held that the probate court of a county may not order a convict transferred from prison to a state mental hospital to receive treatment for drug addiction.

Jury trial was ordered by third Court of Civil Appeals in an insurance suit arising from a fire at the Atlas missile silo in Rannels County.

Supreme Court invalidated San Antonio zoning ordinance amendment which would have allowed doctors to build a clinic in a residential area.

APPOINTMENTS--Jack R. Stone of Wells was nominated

WELL...THIS ONE IS FOR ME--Adopting a watchful, waiting stance is Joe Young, left, as he waits to boost the volleyball back over the net as Steve Woodard, right slams it across in practice Monday night. The teams are practicing for the Jaycee-sponsored Volleyball tournament which will begin next week. by the governor to succeed L. P. (Pete) Gilvin of Amarillo on the State Parks and Wildlife Commission when Gilvin's term expired February 1.

Smith appointed Clyde Whiteside of Seymour to the Board of Pardons and Paroles, succeeding 18-year-veteran Jack Ross of Austin.

To succeed Whiteside, Smith nominated William H. Heatly, 26, of Paducah as district attorney of the 50th district.

Young Heatly is the son of State Rep. William S. Heatly of Paducah, chairman of the House of Representatives appropriations committee.

Smith selected Lealand W. Greene of Snyder as district attorney of 132nd judicial district, replacing Tommie J. Mills of Snyder who resigned.

Governor re-appointed Otha F. Dent of Austin to the Texas Water Rights Commission. He redesignated Randy Pendleton of Andrews as director of division of state-federal relations in Washington.

SPECIAL ELECTION MAY 18--Four constitutional amendments were passed by the Legislature in overtime sessions and a special statewide election set for May 18. Following amendments were approved for the May ballot:

SJR 5--To remove the Constitutional ceiling on aid to the aged, blind and disabled and fix a $55 million maximum on aid to families with dependent children. An $80 million ceiling now applies to all four categories. Unless it is increased (via the May vote), reductions in AFDC will be necessary.

SJR 15--To establish an official state commission to map ethical standards for state legislators and other officials and to set their pay. Critics lambasted the measure as a device of lawmakers to get a pay raise at a time when the public is demanding legislative reforms.

SJR 17--Authorizing a $100 million bond issue to finance state aid to local units of government on water treatment plans.

HJR 21--To permit submission of future constitutional amendment proposals in special as well as regular sessions.

First on the ballot, determined by public drawing, will be SJR 15. Second will be HJR 21; third SJR 5 and fourth SJR 17.

A key proposal of Governor Smith's, to tap school land mineral lease-royalty incomes for current spending, (dependent on for $80 million toward balancing the new budget) fell by the way-

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes strongly recommended that the Legislature write a single-year budget which would dilute the tax bill necessary for this year, but necessitate another one in 1972.

Barnes proposed re-alignment of priorities for the use of revenue flowing through the omnibus clearing fund as a way to avert an immediate welfare crisis without deficit financing.

House revenue and tax committee dusted off a sales and cigarette tax bill, just in case.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Water Development Board authorized the sale of $25 million in development bonds, with bids to be opened February 24.

Progress Note In Hog Cholera Eradication

COLLEGE STATION--Hog cholera has for many years plagued the swine industry however, due to an intensive eradication program, it is on the road toward extinction.

Texas is currently in Phase III of the hog cholera eradication program. This is the search and destroy phase with State Federal indemnities available for payment of hogs destroyed because of cholera.

"Isolation of new purchases is particularly important now as we close in on this dreaded and costly swine disease," says Dr. W.B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist. "A major number of the cholera outbreaks are a result of the interstate and intrastate movement of exposed feeder pigs and subsequent mixing of these exposed pigs with cholera free herds. The success of the eradication program depends solely on preventing the exposure of cholera free herds to the cholera virus."

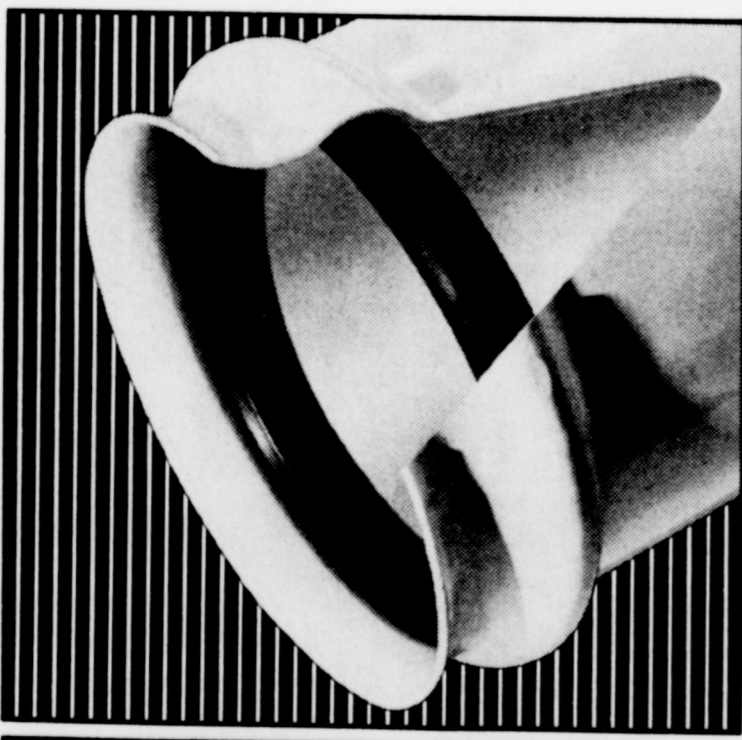

Swine producers should isolate newly purchased animals. This is sound disease prevention management. Not only will this help reduce the exposure of herds to cholera but to other diseases as well.

According to Thomas, to properly isolate newly purchased animals, producers should provide a special isolation facility located as far from the rest of the herd as possible, preferably downhill, with no chance for animal contact through fences.

New purchases should be isolated for 30 days, and additional care should be taken so that diseases from new purchases are not mechanically carried from the isolation pen to the regular herd. All footwear should be cleaned and disinfected, when entering and leaving pens; pigs should be observed daily for signs of disease and pigs should be inspected by a veterinarian before mixing them with the rest of the herd.

"It is of utmost importance that this disease be eliminated," Dr. Thomas said. "And, it can only be accomplished through the cooperation of every producer and the use of recommended management practices."

Here's a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket joint.

It won't leak

The idea of using a rubber gasket joint in Vanguard PVC plastic pipe was revolutionary. It meant no more bands or solvents. Easier, faster, trouble-free installation. But that was just a beginning.

Next we put the pressure on. We hydrostatically tested it. We put it through all sorts of temperature tests. We twisted it and turned it. Then we field tested it. We gave it more punishment than you or those inevitable ground shifts could ever hope to.

Just as we anticipated—the rubber gasket held. So, whatever your needs for plastic pipe, Vanguard is it. Bend it any way you want. We'll make a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket. It won't leak. Just be reasonable.

Vanguard is available in 1/2 to 15-inch diameters.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The recently announced sales policy of Commodity Credit Corporation will make it possible for government stocks of cotton during the 1971-72 marketing year to be sold at prices from 1.7 cents to 2.6 cents below the minimum prices in effect for 1970-71, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Grovers, Inc.

On learning of the announcement Johnson promptly requested Congressman Bob Price of Pampa to initiate through the Cotton Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture an investigation of both the loan level for cotton this year and the newly revealed sales policy.

Johnson's letter to Congressman Price said "In any but rare and highly undesirable circumstances this action, coupled with the two-cent drop in the loan level, will depress market prices and jeopardize the ability of producers to continue supplying their markets, while serving no useful purpose on behalf of government, the cotton industry or the consuming, taxpaying public."

The USDA announcement, released February 3, placed the "markup" on CCC stocks for August, September, October and November of 1971 at 245 points per pound (2.45 cents). The "markup" would be increased 15 points per month for the next five months, as follows: December, 260 points, January-

275, February-290, March-305 and April, 320 points. For May, June and July the markup would remain constant at 335 points. For each month the markup would be added to the 19.50 cent base loan price for Middling 1 inch cotton. Minimum resale prices for other qualities would be figured from market differences, with no quality sold for less than 120 points above its loan value. The letter included a chart showing minimum resale prices for the various months of 1970-71, the minimum resale prices that will apply for 1971-72, and the differences. The chart, with all prices figured for Middling 1 inch cotton, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire, net weight, follows.

MONTH	1970-71 MINIMUM	1971-72 MINIMUM	DIFFERENCE
AUGUST	24.55	21.95	260 points below 1971
SEPTEMBER	24.10	21.95	215 " " "
OCTOBER	23.65	21.95	170 " " "
NOVEMBER	23.80	21.95	170 " " "
DECEMBER	23.95	22.10	185 " " "
JANUARY	24.10	22.25	185 " " "
FEBRUARY	24.25	22.40	185 " " "
MARCH	24.40	22.55	185 " " "
APRIL	24.55	22.70	185 " " "
MAY	24.70	22.85	185 " " "
JUNE	24.85	22.85	200 " " "
JULY	25.00	22.85	215 " " "

The letter continued "Cotton economists have determined that competing fibers have had no significant price advantage over cotton with a 20.25 cent loan, basis gross weight and average micronaire. Put another way, cotton could in 1971 have a 21.50 cent, net weight, premium micronaire loan and still be competitive. By the same token there is no necessity for CCC, as USDA proposes, to sell cotton in 1971 from 170 points to 260 points cheaper than the prices at which CCC cotton was sold in 1970."

On the level of the loan, which USDA previously set at 10.50 cents per pound, basis net weight and 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire, Johnson pointed out that the law requires a loan for Middling 1 inch cotton at 90 percent of the previous two year world market average price for such cotton.

He went on to note that 90 percent of the "estimated" world market price for 1968, 1969 and 1970 was determined by USDA to be 20.25 cents per pound, basis average micronaire and gross weight. When converted to a net weight, premium micronaire basis, which requires adding 80 points and 45 points respectively, the figures for all three years would have been 21.50 cents as compared to the 19.50 cent loan established for 1971 on the same basis.

And Johnson's letter stated "It is impossible for producers to understand how USDA could estimate the world market price for Middling 1 inch cotton at 21.50 cents in both 1968 and 1969, then average the actual world market price for the same cotton over the same two years and come up with 19.50 cents," Johnson summed up the case by saying "Reduction of the cotton loan below the level at which cotton had already achieved competitive prices, to gether with lower CCC minimum resale prices, will cut producer income, endanger adequate and continuous supplies to meet market demands, and will cause CCC to lose money on the cotton it has on hand August 1 of this year."

NOW, I WONDER--seems to be on the mind of Leroy Medlock as he contemplates the distance of the basket and considers a shot over the arm of a Canyon Eagle at the Mules-Eagle game in Muleshoe Friday night.

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

In recent weeks, renewed concern has been expressed regarding this nation's involvement in Southeast Asia and I would like to take this opportunity to report on this situation as a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Over the past several months, the United States has taken steps both at the negotiating table and on the battlefield to bring our war effort in Southeast Asia to a conclusion.

At the negotiating table, we have offered the most comprehensive and generous peace proposals thus far. We have offered a cease-fire; an Indochina peace conference; a negotiated timetable for complete withdrawal; a political settlement which truly represents the views of the South Vietnamese people, and unconditional release of all prisoners of war.

Thus far, the North Vietnamese have not responded favorably to these proposals.

In South Vietnam, we have been moving steadily towards winding down the fighting. Our South Vietnamese allies have carried the fight to the enemy in his Cambodian sanctuaries.

The Cambodian people have tired of the burden of unwelcome Vietnamese communists on their soil and now are fighting against what has amounted to invasion of their land. American air power has been brought to bear in Cambodia and Laos.

Although terrorist activities continue to persist in South Vietnam, the main force war there has substantially diminished and the major ground battles have shifted from heavy U. S. involvement in South Vietnam to allied Cambodian and South Vietnamese efforts in Cambodia.

There has been concern expressed recently over the situation in Cambodia. Some people have wondered whether our actions in Cambodia are leading us into "another Vietnam". But it should be understood that the war in Cambodia and Laos is the same war as the one in South Vietnam.

I believe that thus far we have properly handled the Cambodian problem. The decision back in late April of 1970 to conduct operations in the Communist-controlled sanctuaries of Cambodia was a bold and courageous one. As it turned out, it was also a wise and timely one.

You will recall that in the 1968 Tet offensive, Communist efforts in South Vietnam were severely damaged. During 1969, South Vietnamese troops continued to pressure the enemy further into the countryside and indeed on into the Cambodian border sanctuaries.

We know that the Communists in April of 1970 were attempting to link up and secure all their base areas. Success in that endeavor would have turned the eastern half of Cambodia into a vast staging area for Communist attacks on South Vietnam. Such attacks would have resulted in increased American casualties and our ability to continue our troop withdrawal policy would have been seriously impaired.

Instead, the joint U. S.-South Vietnamese operations cleaned out the border sanctuary base areas and forced the enemy further back into Cambodia, away from South Vietnam. Since then, South Vietnamese ground forces have cooperated with the Cambodian Army to keep the Communists off balance. And U. S. Air Power has been used to support this effort.

Instead of the increased U. S. casualties which we might have suffered with out the Cambodian incursion, U. S. combat deaths in the last quarter of 1970 were 60 per cent less than in the same period of 1969. Instead of slowed troop withdrawals, we have been able to withdraw our troops at a rate more rapid than anticipated. It is now expected that by May 1 of this year that U. S. troop strength in South Vietnam will be about one-half of the peak level of two years ago.

Recently there has been concern expressed that our air operations over Cambodia and Laos have exceeded the limits imposed by the Congressional measure known as the Cooper-Church Amendment. But it is apparent to me that these actions have not deepened our involvement in Southeast Asia but instead have allowed us to continue our troop withdrawals and to continue our policy of disengagement. By preventing Communist supplies and personnel from reaching South Vietnam, we have already saved American lives.

A careful investigation of the Cooper-Church Amendment shows that U. S. actions in Cambodia have violated neither the spirit nor the letter of the law. The Amendment is, to a degree, ambiguous, but one thing is clear: It was designed to reduce the level of United States involvement in Southeast Asia.

Our operations thus far in Cambodia and Laos have not only been designed to keep us out of "another Vietnam", but they have also been designed to get us out of the one which we are presently in.

Culture, when you boil it down, is the act of being unselfish some of the time.

Pornographic Ban In Mail Is Introduced

A $50,000 fine, five years in prison, or both would be the punishment for using the mails to transmit pornographic advertising under terms of a bill introduced this week by Congressman Bob Price.

"In an effort to provide a focus for congressional action I have introduced this bill, which if enacted, would step up the tempo of Federal regulation, and would hasten the demise of the smut trade," Price said.

The Panhandle Congressman pointed out that legislation he co-sponsored last year became effective on February 1 which will allow individuals who do not want to receive offensive materials in the mail to complete a postal form which will prevent them from receiving "sexually oriented" mail.

"While this new postal regulation certainly should prove significant in terms of stemming the rising tide of pornography inundating the Nation, it does not go far enough. The Federal government must take stronger steps to halt the flow of obscene material into the homes of America," Price said.

The 18th District Representative introduced a similar bill in the 91st Congress which was passed by the House but was not acted upon by the Senate.
