County Spellers Ready For Bee

Top spellers in Bailey County schools are (or should be) practicing up on the spellings of more than 525 word changes in "Words of the Champions" practice book.

The up-coming classroom and school spelling bees will be taking place during the next two weeks, with school winners to compete at the Bailey County Spelling Bee March 31 at 1 p.m. at the high school auditorium. Fred Johnson will be pronouncer.

Bula, Three Way and Muleshoe's Junior High and two elementary schools are to send their spelling champions to the county bee.

The annual county contest is sponsored by the Muleshoe Publishing Co., in cooperation with the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's regional bee held for county winners on May 1 in Lubbock.

In addition to a plaque to the county winner, cash prizes amounting to $25 will be distributed to the three top county spellers.

David and his family attend the Assembly of God Church.

Qualifications for entrants are that they must not have passed beyond the eighth grade and must not have reached their 16th birthday. Study practice books may be obtained from Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, at Muleshoe Junior High School, or the Muleshoe Journal office.

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce kicked off its annual membership drive this week by signing seven new members. They are Blackwater Soil Conservation, J. G. Arnn, Dolly Cup Drive In, Muleshoe Auto Parts, Dale's Conoco, Imperial Barber Shop and Black Insurance.

The Chamber needs 100 percent participation from the businessmen, firms and individual persons in the Muleshoe area in order to carry out its activities during the year.

The following are highlights of a few of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce during 1970: The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet where the previous year's activities and accomplishments are highlighted; the SOS Telephone Chain System was initiated to alert businesses of hot check artist and shop lifters which might be working in the city; meetings and conventions help businesses in Muleshoe and the Chamber furnishes literature and name tags for these conventions; through the efforts of the Chamber, a successful city wide clean-up campaign resulted in a more attractive town; they worked closely with the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation in their efforts to secure new industry and expand the present industry in Muleshoe; much work was done toward forming the Bailey and Parmer Counties Fine Arts Council; aided the tornado victims after Lubbock; it conducts a Tourist Ambassador Appreciation Banquet, honoring the service personnel of the city to a night out before the tourist season commences; the Chamber made every effort possible to help the young people obtain summer jobs through its Youth Employment Service; they conducted the "Tourist of the Week" for ten weeks during tourist season; the chamber led the campaign with the Postal Officials in the restoration of Muleshoe postmark resulting in Muleshoe receiving nationwide recognition of successful efforts; the chamber organized and promoted the Muleshoe Area Farm Tour during fall for the businessmen to view the production of farms and livestock industry; the Chamber of Commerce, along with other Civic groups, hosted an annual Teacher Appreciation Banquet

The Chamber hopes to have a more active program in 1971 and needs the help of the local people.

Public Hearing Thursday Night

County Judge Glen Williams reports that the Commissioners Court has recently been requested to hold a public hearing relative to re-activating the Community Action Program in Bailey County.

Judge Williams announced that in response thereto, a meeting has been called for Thursday evening, March 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the District Courtroom in the courthouse.

The judge further stated that this is an important meeting and the public is cordially invited to attend. It is expected that the City Council and Boards of Trustees of the schools of the county will sit in, as well as other officials, businessmen and civic leaders.

A group of local citizens met with the commissioner's court on March 8 to ask for this public meeting to discuss the Community Action Program in Bailey County. Several interested persons, as well as officials from the Office of Economic Opportunity, have visited with Judge Williams and the commissioners during the past two months.

The county commissioners court authorized on Sept. 8, 1969, a survey in the county as to the advisability of setting up a Community Action Program.

Elementary Students Placement Changes Announced by Board

The most far-reaching decision of changing Richland Hills Elementary School to a primary school for kindergarten and all first and second grades and changing Mary DeShazo to an elementary school for all grades three through five was approved at Monday night's regular Muleshoe Independent School District board meeting.

Listed as reasons for the changing into combined schools rather than two separate elementary schools were that class loads can be more evenly distributed by having all sections of each grade in the same building, as well as a more sound curricular program can be developed by having all teachers in each grade in the same building.

"From the economic standpoint, fewer teachers will be needed to handle the same number of students. The preliminary projected enrollment for 1971-72 school year, plus combining grade levels in the same school show that we can operate with three less teachers next year in grade levels kindergarten through fifth grade, without increasing the class loads. This would be a saving of approximately $21,000 in salaries, "Superintendent Neal B. Dillman stated.

April 23 Date Set for Library Benefit Bridge

"Although it is over a month away, we of Friends of the Library organization would like to ask all bridge players in the Muleshoe area to mark their calendars for Friday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. for a Big Benefit Bridge party," FOL bridge chairman Mrs. Dick Chitwood announced this week.

Ticket Committee co-chairmen Mrs. J. E. McVicker, Mrs. Robert Hooten and Mrs. Irvin St. Clair are counting on members of various bridge clubs and other interested individuals in assisting in the contact of all bridge players.

The event, with all proceeds to go toward equipping and furnishing the new library building, will be a community event of first class, the chairmen say.

So mark calendars and be ready for the ticket chairmen. All bridge clubs are asked to hold their April meetings in conjunction with the big benefit bridge. Prizes, rules and other information will be released in the near future.

Appellants Overruled On All Contentions

Affirmed by the Court of Civil Appeals for the Seventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas at Amarillo Monday was the judgment of the trial court in upholding the Bailey County Hospital District election.

Chief Justice James E. Ellis answered all the contentions in his opinion and summed up by stating that "in all essential respects, the election was properly ordered and fairly conducted, and that any irregularities which may have occurred did not materially affect the result of the election."

The appellants Chester Seiff and some 300 other contestants, brought suit in the 154th District Court in Bailey County, Texas to set aside an election held on May 16, 1970 contesting the creation of the Bailey County Hospital District with authority to levy annual taxes at a rate not to exceed 75 cents on each $100 valuation of taxable property and the issuance by the Bailey County Hospital District of bonds in the amount of $950,000.

At this election each of the two propositions carried by a substantial majority of the voters participating. The trial court entered judgment upholding the election and the contestants appealed.

The appellants asserted five points of error.

The appellants challenged the legislative designation of all the original directors of the district and the failure to make provisions in the Act for the electorate to elect its own slate or original directors at the same time as the election on the propositions relating to the creation of the district and the authorization of the issuance of bonds.

Appellants further contended that the published election order failed to establish election precincts as required by law.

The appellants also contended that only those persons residing in County Election Precinct No. 1 (part of Muleshoe, Texas) and County Election Precinct No. 5 (Needmore) could actually vote in the precinct in which they resided.

Chief Justice Ellis' opinion points out that the evidence does not disclose any confusion on the part of voters as to the boundaries or polling places for each of the two precincts established for this election. Further, the evidence indicates that wide publicity was given to such election and that the turnout of voters was extremely good when compared to other elections held in the county. There is no evidence that any voter was deprived of the right to vote or that the results of the election would have been any different had there been a different establishment of precincts or designation of polling places. Neither is there any showing that any person did not vote because of lack of knowledge.

Fireman's Ball Held Saturday

The Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department sponsored its annual Fireman's Ball Saturday night, March 13, at the Catholic Community Center. Approximately 200 people from Muleshoe and the surrounding communities attended the ball and danced to the music of the Western Aces.

National NFO V-P Speaks At Bovina

The Parmer County Chapter of the National Farmers Organization was host to a regional barbecue and meeting of the National Farmers Organization Monday night, March 15, in the cafeteria of the Bovina High School.

Following the barbecue, Wayne Max, president of the Parmer County Chapter of NFO, introduced the state president and national director of NFO, Don Kimball of Deaf Smith County to the group of approximately 300 people. Kimball described NFO to the guests present and then introduced the special speaker for the evening, Erhard Pfingsten, national vice-president of NFO.

Pfingsten stated that "there isn't a business, professional, or a working man in the United states who could pay today's high costs and take for his goods or services what he received 15 or 20 years ago. It is an utter impossibility, yet the American farmer isn't receiving anywhere near what he received 15 or 20 years ago, and he can't take it either."

"The farm advisor on the President's Council of Economic Advisors told me personally that the family farm and individual ownership in American agriculture had to be eliminated, and within a few years."

Pfingsten also said "the U.S. Congress, as a result of direct pressure from the Administration and the Department of Agriculture, passed a farm bill that gives the forces that control farm prices all the tools they need to depress farm to such a level that the planned destruction of the family farm may well become a reality."

He stated that "the responsibility of solving this problem rests with the farmer himself and the solution depends on the NFO program of collective bargaining now set up in all 48 continental states."

The vice-president concluded by stating that the farmers could not survive without organization and that the only two professional groups left that were not organized were the farmers and the clergy.

Approximately 25 people from Muleshoe attended the meeting and the barbecue. Mrs. Leldon Phillips won a broiler for the doorprize and Mrs. Shirley Famin won a doorprize consisting of sheets.

Local Educators Attend Convention

Mr. Neal Dillman, member of the State Human Relations Committee, Mr. Wayland Ethridge, President Elect of the Muleshoe T.S.T.A., Mrs. Benny Pena, President of the Muleshoe T.S.T.A. and Mrs. James Jennings, member of the State Legislative Committee, attended the 92nd Annual Convention of the Texas State Teachers Association in Dallas, March 11-13.

Over 10,000 teachers, administrators, college personnel and guests attended these three action-packed days.

Mrs. Jewel Harris of Abilene, State President of T.S.T.A., presided at the three general sessions which were held in Dallas Memorial Auditorium. Her theme for this year, "Communication, Understanding and Unity," was stressed throughout the program.

At the first general session Thursday, March 11, 7:30 p.m., Nolan Estes, superintendent of the Dallas Schools brought greetings to the convention. Entertainer Art Linkletter gave the address of the evening and warned, "we are in danger of losing a generation of our brightest young leaders" because of drugs.

"There are a lot of pushers around," Linkletter said, deploring "seductive" television commercials claiming "you name it; there's a pill for it."

Linkletter, whose daughter Diane died while on LSD, urged drug education starting in the first grade.

Drugs should be taught "not as a big emotional no-no" but as "something used for the good only of sick, not well people."

Young people should learn "life is full of problems, disappointments, frustration and loneliness," he said.

"You're going to have to help," Linkletter told the teachers. "Teachers must recognize every kid in class is potentially a drug user. They (teachers) have to learn the language, what drugs are and what to do."

Linkletter also scored rock musicians singing songs about drugs. He said young people see these "idols" as "rich, popular and happy, leading drug lives."

He similarly criticized "the approval of intelligentia," such as Dr. Timothy Leary. "Our kids are caught up by all these forces and become lost," he said.

Linkletter was applauded when he said "marijuana is still an unknown, dangerous drug." He recalled being challenged by college students who criticize adults for drinking liquor. "I don't smoke or drink," Linkletter said. "I wouldn't have the guts to stand up and tell people not to use one drug when I'm using another."

The veteran of 37 years in broadcasting, Linkletter, now 58, said, "I was unaware anything as ugly as drugs could come into our family."

He said a minister told him his daughter Diane, who was 21 when she died a year and a half because the election judge at the polling place in Muleshoe, Texas, opened the polls on the date of the election at 8:00 a.m. instead of 7:00 a.m.; there were insufficient polling places established to adequately or conveniently serve the needs of clinics, opium dens, jails and the voters; and no machinery had been set up for prospective voters to render their property earlier than in his years of for taxation prior to the holding of the election on the issuance of the bonds.

The opinion stated regarding the matter of the opening of the polls at 8:00 a.m. instead of 7:00 a.m. as prescribed by the Texas Election Code, it was not shown by the evidence that such irregularity deprived any person of the privilege to vote or who did, in fact, not vote because the polls in Muleshoe opened at 8:00 a.m. instead of 7:00 a.m.

"Appellants' points or error are overruled and the judgment of the trial court is affirmed," Justice Ellis ruled.

ledge of the place he was permitted to vote in this particular election.

The appellants contended that the court should have declared void the results of the election because the election judge at the polling place in Muleshoe, Texas, opened the polls on the date of the election at 8:00 a.m. instead of 7:00 a.m.; there were insufficient polling places established to adequately or conveniently serve the needs of clinics, opium dens, jails and the voters; and no machinery had been set up for prospective voters to render their property earlier than in his years of talking with people on the air he has found "every human being is a unique individual, each completely different" and "kids" are inexhaustible; they never fail to surprise me."

The second general session on Friday, March 12, beginning at 9:30 a.m. included the presentation of School Bell Awards by President Harris, President Elect Archie Roberts and Director Lloyd Bell of the Public Relations Division, A.D. Holt, president emeritus of the University of Tennessee addressed the T.S.T.A. members.

Bob Crosby and his Orchestra highlighted the program of the third general session, Friday, March 12 at 8 p.m.

Special music and presentation of the colors from student groups of the Dallas schools were given at each session.

Special Events, included commercial exhibits by 98 exhibitors, District Delegate Caucuses and meetings of special committees.

Mrs. Pena was the official delegate from the Muleshoe T.S.T.A. and attended the House of Delegates Assembly at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, March 13.

Mr. Dillman, a member of the State Human Relations Committee, and Mrs. Jennings, Member of the State Legislative Committee met with their respective committees Thursday, March 11, at 10:00 a.m. Section Meetings included Mathematics, Music, Food Service, School Health, Science, Art, Education, Adult Education, Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading, Texas Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, Educational Technology, School Administrators, and Librarians.

Minimum Foundation Program. Therefore the decision reached Monday for the new plan changes will alleviate crowded classrooms while implementing the future goals of this program which was set by statutory state regulations.

The qualifying age limits set as of the beginning of this school year offered kindergarten to educationally handicapped children who reached the age of five years, five months; next year those who obtain the minimum age of five years, two months under the educationally handicapped qualifications will be eligible. The estimated number of eligible children in this category will be obtained following the Spring Roundup registration on April 30, school officials said.

By the school year 1972-73, all educationally handicapped children who are five by September 1 will be offered the kindergarten program.

During the next two years, 1973-74 and 1974-75 the Minimum Foundation School Program requires that all other children five years, seven months will be added to the local kindergarten program, with the next two school terms (1975-76 and 1976-77) adding all children five years, four months. By Sept. 1, 1977 and thereafter, all five year olds will be offered the Minimum Foundation Program Kindergarten.

Problems of the new program were discussed in detail, including the moving of classroom equipment and the dividing and moving textbooks and library books from one school to the other.

Under the problem of transportation of students, each bus route was considered separately and individually, the board report stated. The board report further said that "a feasible plan has been worked out that is flexible enough so that it can be adjusted if necessary".

Two fools meet when one runs another's life and the other permits it.

The radiation at 60 to 65,000 feet where the SST will fly generally is about the same as it is in New York City at ground level. Radiation dosage is a product of level of dosage multiplied by time of exposure. Therefore, the passengers on a 2.5-hour transatlantic SST flight probably would absorb less radiation than the passenger would during a 6.75-hour flight on the jets of today.

86 Teachers Contracts Renewed

Approval for re-employment of 86 professional personnel for the 1971-72 school year and acceptance of six resignations, as well as state textbook selections approvals, and the drawing for places for the upcoming school board election were items of business at the Monday Muleshoe school board meeting.

Ballot placement will be Walter F. Sain, first spot, with others in order of placement: Carl Bamert, Joe F. Gonzales, John Gunter and Fredrick Beversdorf.

Texas Trails Program For Muleshoe Club

The Muleshoe Study Club met Thursday, March 11, 1971, at 4 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Wayne Williams.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. G. L. Splawn. Roll call was answered with "My Heritage". Mrs. C. M. King gave the prayer and Mrs. J. G. Arnn led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance.

The director, Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath, introduced the program, "Symposium - Texas Trails", presented by Mrs. O. N. Jennings, Mrs. Douglas DuBose and Mrs. Joe Costen. "Texas is a land of contrast. She began with a walking plow. The planned tourist trails of Texas shows the contrast: The Mountain Trail, Forts Trail, Plains Trail, Lakes Trail, Forest Trail, Brazos Trail, Pecos Trail, Tropical Trail, Independence Trail and Hill Country Trail.

Texas is a leading state in the trails of industry. In 1962 the total value of Texas minerals more than equaled the combined total annual value of the minerals of 35 other states. Texas is the world's largest producer of sulphur. Almost half of all proved reserves of natural gas in the United States are in Texas.

On half of all U. S. synthetic rubber is produced in Texas. Although not of great commercial importance, one of the most unique industries in the world is claimed by Monahans. The type of desert fleas which grow there are the best for flea circuses and so Monahans is the center for the capture of these athletic circus animals.

Half of the world's supply of mohair is produced in Texas. Texas leads all other states in tonnage of ocean shipping. Texas is the only state with five of the major ports of the United States.

Texas was unique among all the states because in the treaty making it a state it reserved all of its public lands for the state. In all, Texas gave more than 38,000 square miles of public land for railroad building. Those present at the meeting was one guest, Mrs. Alex Williams, and members: Mrs. John Agee, Mrs. J. G. Arnn, Mrs. Walter Bartholf, Mrs. Joe Costen, Mrs. Douglas DuBose, Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath, Mrs. Jewel Griffiths, Mrs. O. N. Jennings, Mrs. C. M. King, Mrs. Levina Pitts, Mrs. Ed Manning, Mrs. G. L. Miss Wilterding To Be Honored On 80th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Wilterding and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Head will be hosts for a reception honoring their aunt, Dottie Wilterding, on her 80th birthday Sunday, March 21, from 2:30 until 5:30 at her home in the YL Community. Friends and relatives of Miss Wilterding are expected to attend the reception.

To some housewives, happiness is a virtue that just misses being a vice.

Happiness is inviting all your relatives down on a Sunday they can't come.

Sometimes, happiness is nothing at all—so long as it turns up the corners of your mouth and makes you grin.

Happiness is getting the kids so mad at you they don't speak to you for two straight hours.

Officials of an almost new administration setting out on the road to administering a brand new farm program are bound to step in some chugholes. And USDA officials of the two-year-old Nixon regime, devising rules and regulations to effectuate the two-month-old Agriculture Act of 1970, have been no exception.

Two examples of toe-stubbing by USDA, as cited by Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., are (1) dropping the loan level for cotton by two cents per pound and (2) lowering Commodity Credit Corporation's cotton resale prices. Endangered by these moves, Johnson believes, is the political legs of cotton farmers. Hearings on these issues have been called for March 15 and 16 before the Senate Subcommittee on General Legislation. Also up for discussion at the hearings, called by Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Senator Herman Talmadge (D-Ga.), will be the switch from gross weight to net weight trading.

PCG, either as an individual organization representing High Plains cotton farmers or through the statewide Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations, will present testimony at the hearings. Johnson said cotton producers, under current market conditions, see no reason for either a lower loan or cheaper CCC resale prices, both of which will tend to discourage cotton production and in some instances be injurious to producer income. The switch to net weight trading, he said, is in the best long range interest of producers and can easily be offset by an increase in the loan rate for cotton.

The most recent USDA action which brought protests from cotton producers, according to Johnson, was the issuance of additional regulations concerning the eligibility of land to be used as set-aside acreage. The base regulations which came down from Washington state "irrigable land within the farm's irrigation system shall be designated for set-aside when the established yield for the allotments or feed grain base from which set-aside is determined is irrigated. If an acreage which set-aside is determined is irrigated, if an acreage is designated which cannot be irrigated the payment for the allotment or base shall be made on the basis of 'dry land yield.'"

The responsibility for determining what land is "irrigable within the farm's irrigation system" is given to county ASCS committees, as is the job of establishing "dry land yield" for the farm. However, additional instructions on these two points may yet come from the Washington office.

The first interpretation of the ruling was to the effect that if non-irrigable land was used for set-aside from an irrigated allotment, the county committee would decide on a dry land yield for the farm and all payments would be made on that dry yield. Such a penalty, necessarily based on inexact county committee determinations, would have been badly out of line.

However, additional instructions on computing the "penalty" to be assessed under all conditions where "below average" land is used as set-aside were put in the mail to county offices from the State ASCS office on Thursday, March 4. And these greatly alter the effect of the base regulation.

As reported to PCG, the new instructions will read, in part "The difference between the yield determined for set-aside, and the established farm yield for the commodity shall be multiplied time the following applicable rates: wheat, 80¢ bushel; grain sorghum, 29¢ per bushel, and cotton, 5¢ per pound. This result shall be multiplied times the required set-aside acreage for each individual commodity."

As an example, as the instructions are not understood, assume a farmer has an established cotton yield of 500 pounds on a 100 acre cotton allotment. If the county ASCS committee determines that the 20 acres of required set-aside chosen by the farmer is capable of producing, because of non-irrigability or other reason, only 400 pounds, then the 100 pound difference between the farm's established yield and the yield set for set-aside acres would be multiplied times 5¢, giving a payment reduction of $5 per acre. That figure would then be multiplied times the 20 acres set-aside and the total payment reduction would be $100. On the total expected payment in this case of $7,500 (15¢ per pound times 500 pounds time 100 acres), the payment reduction would amount to 1.33 percent.

If the farm's set-aside yield is determined to be only one-half the farm's established yield, then the overall payment deduction would amount to 3.33 percent according to PCG figures.

Texas Cattle Count Continues Upward

COLLEGE STATION--Texas cattle numbers rose for the sixth straight year in 1970 while lamb and sheep numbers moved upward for the first time since 1961, according to livestock inventory figures from the Texas Crop, and Livestock Reporting Service.

In addition to this report, the 1970 Calf Crop, the 1970 Lamb Crop, and the Feb. 1 Cattle on Feed Report were also released.

Beef cow populations, cattle on feed, and the Texas calf crop also showed increases. Texas cattle numbers on January 1, 1971 showed a three-percent gain over year ago levels. Sheep and lamb numbers gained two percent in contrast to the continued decline of the national totals. Stock sheep recorded an even larger increase in the state, a three percent rise from last Jan. 1.

Beef cow populations in Texas reached 5.8 million head on Jan. 1, 1971, showing a four-percent increase over the revised 5.6 million head recorded last year.

Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, noted that for the first time heifers weighing 500 pounds and over being kept for cow replacement were also recorded. These numbered 754,000 in 1971--a gain of three percent over the 1970 level.

The Texas calf crop reached 5.4 million head in 1970, a two percent gain over the 1969 figure. Dr. Uvacek noted that the number of calves born as a percent of cows and heifers two years and older on hand the first of the year moved down slightly to 88 percent.

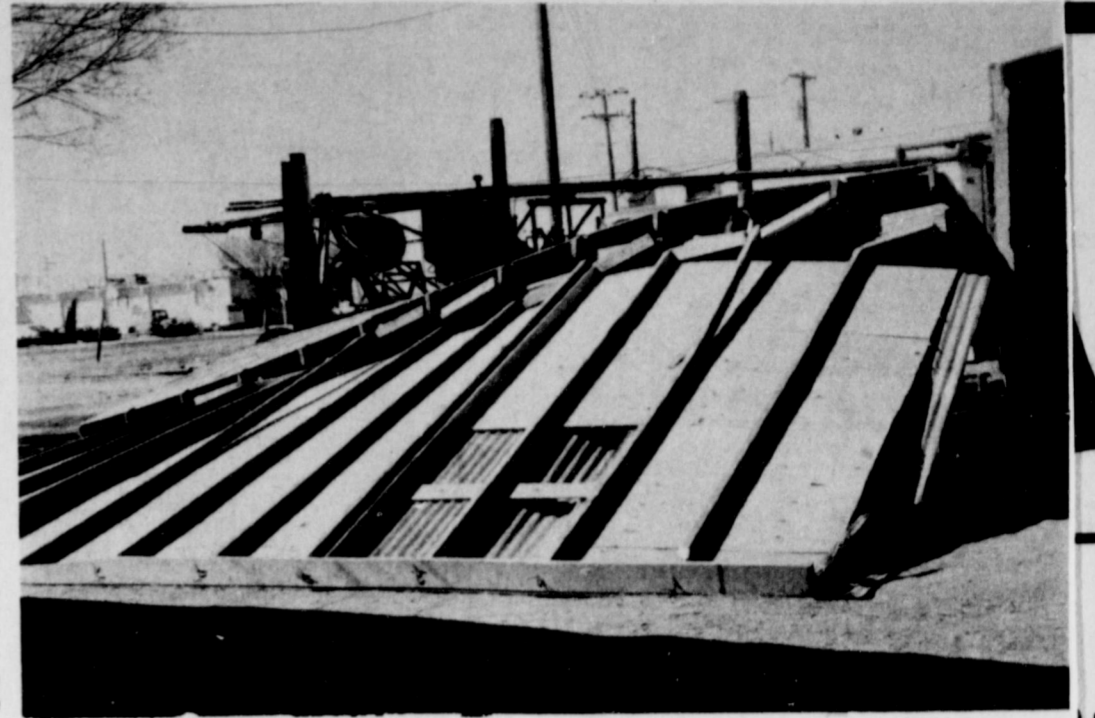

He added that for the first time this year, the USDA reported the number of calves born as a percent of cows and heifers that had actually calved.

This percentage was 91 percent for Texas and averages 94 percent for the nation.

Texas' 1970 lamb crop was estimated at 2.4 million head--a four percent increase over 1969. The number of breeding ewes, one year and older on Jan. 1, 1970 were down drastically, causing the percentage lamb crop to rise to 92 percent--a gain of 12 percentage points over last year.

Texas cattle on feed on Feb. 1, 1971 reached 1.6 million head, showing an increase of 12 percent from more than a year ago. Feedlots with capacities of 1,000 head or more held 97 percent of the cattle on feed on Feb. 1.

Dr. Uvacek said that of the 257 such feedlots in Texas, only 185 were operating while the other 72 lots were completely empty.

WIND DAMAGE . . . As a result of the high winds Sunday, the top of this garage belonging to Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Warren in Needmore was split in half and blown down on a boat that was inside. Warren reported strong winds and the sand was so thick in the air that he could not see across the street at times. Other reports of damage in the area were windows blown out, fences blown down and three telephone poles were reportedly snapped in the area.

Mrs. Richard Engelking

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Je Don Gallman, a nine pound, two ounce boy, Daylan Kent, Daylan made his arrival at 4:30 Friday morning, March 5, at Friona's Parmer County Community Hospital. He will join his three year old sister, Melanie, in making a happy home for Kitty and JeDon.

Grandparents are Mrs. Lorraine Gallman and maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Black of Friona.

May we add our congrats to ag teacher Scotty Windham and his FFA boys who did their usual 'bang-up' job at the Houston Livestock Show. The big win being Mike Windham's Reserve Grand Champion Poland China which sold for $3,050, making Mike's usual grin increase to a wide smile.

A judging team of Loy Dale Clark, Rickie Seaton and Glen Morris placed ninth in a field of 360 teams. Loy Dale Clark placed 10th highest individual in a field of over a thousand boys. For his fine showing he received a $200 certificate toward a registered heifer.

Boys attending the show were: Glen Morris, Loy Dale Clark, Rickie Seaton, and Dale Gallman. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Seaton, and Parmer County Agent Mack Heald also attended and helped with the stock of those who were unable to attend, Mike Windham went down on Friday.

Mrs. Fred Gallman is enjoying having all of her family home this weekend. They include Twila and Gary Albertson and son, Darren, who flew in from their home in Carson City, Michigan and were met at Lubbocks Regional Airport by Robert Gallman, a senior student at Texas Tech; Janice and Robert Edwards and daughter, Misty of Pampa, Texas; Leatrice, a student at South Plains College at Levelland and Dale and David of the home will complete the family gathering I bet'cha they will all be beating a path down the road to get acquainted with Master Daylan Kent Gallman.

Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Seaton were visiting in Houston last week with their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Don Roberts and Monica, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson. They also enjoyed attending the Junior Livestock Show which was in progress while they were there.

Everyone remember to attend the Volleyball tournament in progress this coming week, March 15 through 20. You'll see lots of thrilling action with teams entered from Amarillo, Plainview, Muleshoe, Clovis and Earth, besides local teams. There are 12 men's teams and 16 women's teams entered in the annual event.

Coaches in class 5B selected two Seniors and two Sophomores to the All-Star District squad in basketball. The boys honored were Senior Charles Lee and Sophomore Arthur Graves, Girls chosen, Senior Lee Ann Harlen and Sophomore Debbie Engelking.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Engelking spent a few days last week relaxing in the atmosphere of the Hotel Sahara, Las Vegas, Nevada. We encountered good weather in both flights and could see the beauties of the Grand Canyon and Lake Mead. One cannot help but realize the artists touch of the Masters hand in seeing these things for the first time form the air, of course it's also hard to beat its' country, too, I'm 'almost' ready for the next sand storm!

Miss Lanelle Spurgeon's English II class were recently requested to write poems with the subject being death. The following poem was given to me by some LHS students who thought it worthy of being printed and I am happy to oblige. It shows a good line of deep thought for a Sophomore student.

Death is so bitter, and oh so sweet,
It lies beneath each mortals feet,
When God calls down from Heaven above,
You must leave the ones you love,
The world can make it without you here,
Don't cry my friend, when death is near.
Come my friend, and don't be late
Your Wings are waiting at the Golden Gate,
Death is not bitter, but oh so sweet,
Now that you're sitting at God's great feet.

He pointed out that hedging is one of the most important features offered by a futures market. Hedging is the positioning of oneself to reduce the inherent financial risks in grain inventory ownership. Seibert said growers, handlers, feed manufacturers and cattle feeders are among those most likely to use hedging.

When hedging, a trade on the futures market is made which is equal to and directly opposite one taken or to be taken in the cash market. The object is to shift some price change risks to others. Texans involved in grain sorghum futures trading are not insured profits by hedging, but they can reduce risks. Country elevators considered as "feeders" of grain sorghum supplies to terminal markets, feed processing plants, shippers, and exporters can use futures pricing in determining their local prices, Seibert added.

Grain Sorghum Futures

COLLEGE STATION, FEB. 25 Texas grain sorghum producers will soon be able to take advantage of a new marketing tool--a new futures market.

The market was expected to be cleared for trading March 2, 1971, according to John Seibert, Extension grain marketing specialist. He added the delivery points for grain sorghum futures contracts will be Hereford, Plainview, and Amarillo.

Until now, futures trading has been little used by Texas producers, although it is a well established marketing practice in corn, soybeans, wheat, and oats.

Some of the benefits that Texas producers can claim by using futures trading are widely disseminated future prices determined by public auction, continuous markets, and a basis for determining price structures in tributary markets. Other benefits include hedging and an assessment of market predictions on future prices.

Seibert noted that futures trading would provide growers, elevator managers, feeders, shippers, and others with continuous flow of market information they could use as another tool in establishing local prices. He pointed out that hedging is one of the most important features offered by a futures market. Hedging is the positioning of oneself to reduce the inherent financial risks in grain inventory ownership. MORE FOR CANCER STUDY

A government official has reported that President Nixon plans to spend $28-million more for cancer research in the current fiscal year than was originally planned. Congress appropriated $230-million for cancer—$28-million more than the President requested—and the full amount will be used in fiscal 1971.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Dear editor:

One of those serious columnists had a column in this newspaper I found out here yesterday expressing righteous indignation over some people who were feeling sorry for the million high-priced white-collar workers who have been laid off recently.

"Why," he asked, "should you feel sorry for them? Here's a man who's been making $40,000 a year or more, he gets laid off, and immediately has to draw unemployment compensation because he hasn't got a cent in the bank and has a big mortgage on his home and three cars. Why hadn't he been saving his money all along?"

Why would a man with three cars still owe on them? Because if he'd paid cash he could have bought only one, what with payments on his boat and his $75,000 home and his trip to Europe, and that means two other cars went un-bought, and you multiply that by a million and you've reduced the national car output by two million, and you figure up how much the economy would lose by not making those two million cars, counting all the people and materials it takes to make them plus all the gas and oil and tires and repairs it takes to keep them moving, plus all the work to build and maintain the highways it takes to run them on, and you can see what trouble this country would be in.

It's all right for some people to save their money, looks like there's no way to stop it, but if everybody did, if everybody waited till he could pay cash for everything he bought, no telling what would happen to the economy.

Outside of groceries, I don't know of anything that's bought with cash these days. You'd be surprised at how many Cadillac are bought on the installment plan. Most daily newspapers are bought by the month, and a lot of them by the day. You name it, television sets, cars, clothes, washing machines, air conditioners, political office, everything these days is bought on time with borrowed money.

It used to be said, "getting and spending, we lay waste our lives," but you let enough people get and not spend and see what happens. The only reason I haven't been doing my part to keep the economy humming is that nobody has given me a $40,000-a-year job to fire me from.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

I am not satisfied with the way the Veterans, especially the members of the American Legion, V.F.W. and all ex-veterans are being treated. I'm not happy with the way the Health, Education and Welfare Department is allotting money, especially the General Hospital in Fayetteville. I would like to know how much money you have spent on the Veterans and the amount you have spent on our hospital at Fayetteville?

I believe the Senators, Representatives and President have given land and grants that will run into millions of dollars. Why hasn't some of that money been spent at the Fayetteville Hospital and V. A. Hospitals all over the country?

All over the country? Also, I question the clauses in the V.A. Administration that keep several thousand ex-veterans from entering V.A. Hospitals. House Speaker Sam Rayburn, President Roosevelt, Senator Tom Connally, Senator Dennis Chavez, Senator Symington, Senator Moroney and all other senators and representatives helped pass the original bill to build these hospitals for veterans of the first World War. The original bill has been changed, Veterans who need to be in can't be admitted because they don't have a disability clause on their discharge. We are being discriminated against by such senators and representatives that have been elected by millionaires that use these foundation funds, which are tax free. If the President, House of Representatives and Senate want to help straighten this country out they should pass a law that removes all foundation funds that are tax free and I believe the government could balance their budget.

The United States could make all foreign countries pay their debts. We have made France one of the richest countries in the world, but the United States doesn't know how much France owes this country. You are not going to do anything for veterans unless the veterans --- their fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters and wives get up and force the Senate, House of Representatives and the President to do something about taking care of ex-servicemen.

The American Legion, V.F.W. and First World War Veterans are not going to stop until something is done to help all Veterans, not just a chosen few. The rest of us are being discriminated against and have been for the last ten years. Minimum Wage Rate Unchanged For AG Workers COLLEGE STATION--- The minimum wage rate for farm workers has remained at $1.30 per hour since it reached that level on February 1, 1969, according to James I. Mallett, farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Wage rates for many occupations increased on February 1, he notes, but new legislation will be needed before the legal minimum can be raised for agricultural workers. Competition with other industries tends to increase farm wage rates and most farm employers are paying well above the minimum wage rate, he adds.

Agricultural employers who hired more than 500 man days of farm labor during any calendar quarter in 1970, must pay at least the minimum wage rate during 1971. Farm employers who are paying more than the minimum wage should keep adequate employee records as specified by the minimum wage law, points out Mallett.

The minimum wage law also included child labor regulations which forbid the employment of included child labor regulations which forbid the employment of children of 16 years of age and under, except on their own farm during school hours. Children under 16 years of age may not be employed in agriculture in what is classed as hazardous work. However, children 14 to 16 years of age may acquire an exemption certificate which will permit them to be hired for hazardous work when they have been adequately trained and qualified to perform these jobs, notes the specialist.

Additional information may be obtained from county agricultural agents or the Regional Director, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division, U.S. Department of Labor, 411 North Akard, Dallas, Texas 75201, Mallett said.

It's PIONEER again this year.

Here's why:

W.G. HARLAN, Muleshoe, produced 168.6 bushels of corn per acre last year from 14.6 acres of Pioneer brand 3306.

"This was as clean and pretty a corn as I've ever seen," Mr. Harlan said. Because of its excellent yield and profitability, he plans to plant 3306 again this year. Naturally, we're proud that good farmers like W.G. Harlan plant Pioneer year after year.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. -- A blue-ribbon committee has been formed to lead the fight against income taxation. Midland attorney Tom Sealy resigned from the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System to devote full time to directing the work of the state-wide group.

Texas Association of Taxpayers started with an advisory committee of 300 prominent citizens. Sealy announced that a membership drive is getting under way.

"Our purpose is not obstruction, but rather an honest and open effort to help the Legislature develop a reasonable tax program and undertake whatever economies are possible in order to resolve this situation in the regular session," Sealy said. "We are united on one broad principle -- that this should be done within the present tax structure and without enactment of either a personal income tax or a corporate income tax."

T.A.T. notes that business pays 34 per cent of the present sales tax and that 18 per cent of all state revenues come from natural resource taxes which many states do not levy. Our organization, says Sealy, feels that "this is no time to strap income taxes on the people" in view of unemployment and the shape of the economy.

It will argue a corporate income tax is "simply forerunner of a personal income tax." Meanwhile, the House-passed $492.5 tax bill, made up largely of sales levy increases, arrived in the Senate without a sponsor. It was referred to the State Affairs Committee.

Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, indicated that he will not lend his name to the bill and that he is in no hurry to schedule hearings. AD RULES SET--Advertising regulations for health insurance companies to follow have been drafted by the State Insurance Board, to take effect April 1.

Companies are instructed to stick strictly to the truth and to close loopholes that might deprive the policyholder of coverage. Special participating policies drew close attention and were termed "unfair, inequitable, misleading and deceptive."

Tough rules drafted earlier by a Board attorney were discarded in favor of uniform regulations recommended by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. Insurance men favored the latter.

in Texas is 1,033. National call by the Department of Defense is for 17,000 men, all for the Army. April call for pre-induction physical examination in Texas will be 4,001.

Glantz also said 51 Texas medical doctors, four osteopaths and 32 dentists will be included in a separate special induction call for doctors and dentists.

Selective Service announced reduction in its work force of about 15 per cent. Nationwide reorganization may require some local Texas boards in heavily populated areas to be merged.

APPOINTMENTS--Ron Jones, formerly of Dublin, was named interim executive director of Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Jones promptly relieved Robert G. Mauermann, who had been holding the position, of all duties at PWD.

Gov. Preston Smith in a letter to Transportation Secretary John Volpe protested the rating and said that Texas' efforts to comply have been "misjudged or ignored." He said the Legislature is now considering all aspects necessary to compliance.

National rating is based on such things as motor vehicle inspection and registration, licensing, codes and statutes, traffic courts, driver education, emergency medical services, highway design, construction and maintenance and alcoholic beverages in relation to highway safety.

In a special message to the Legislature, Smith asked for an end to the misdemeanor probation for drunk drivers. COURTS SPEAK -- Supreme Court in a Montgomery County school bond election case held one must render property (real or personal) for taxation to be eligible to vote in such elections.

High Court, in a seven-to-two verdict, reversed the lower courts in a Reeves County case and concluded that a rancher does not have legal title to 160 acres of land even though he maintained fences for more than 10 years and kept his cattle there.

Supreme Court declined to hear arguments over whether two socialist candidates should be placed on Austin's city election ballot. Two refused to sign state loyalty oaths.
