

Narrow-Row Cotton

Info Is Revealed

A survey of cotton farmers in the South Plains who grow cotton in narrow rows in 1970 shows they are becoming more adept at this method of production but the learning process must be completed.

Following the 1970 crop season, Bob Metzger of Lubbock, Texas, agronomist with the Texas A&M University, is compiling the information. "Many producers tried narrow-row cotton for the first time last year," Metzger said. "They were not sure if it was worth the extra cost of fertilizer and insecticides. The survey covered about 2,000 acres of narrow-row cotton in the South Plains area. Such a survey is being conducted in other areas of the state. DUST BOWL DAYS?--Reminiscent of 'dust bowl' days in the 1930s are present conditions in this area. Here sand and tumbleweeds have all but covered fence posts as no moisture and high winds combine to shift the sand and create new sandhills in the area. Less than one-half inch of moisture has been received in Bailey County since October, 1970, and dryland farmers and ranchers are definitely beginning to feel the effects of the apparently long-lasting drought. Although clouds have teased from time to time, they have moved on out of the area without depositing lifesaving rain.

No Moisture Keeps Dryland Farms Bare

High wind and sand greeted residents in a large area surrounding Muleshoe and Bailey County when they got up Tuesday morning. With no appreciable moisture in the past six months, and high winds throughout the past several months, a full-scale drought is in progress. The last time Muleshoe recorded any measurable moisture was on March 3, when .05 was received. This was added to .10 on February 22, .30 on February 21 and .02 on January 3, to make the total moisture received during the first three and one-half months only .47. During the last two months of 1970, no moisture was recorded by the official weather reader in Muleshoe for the U. S. Weather Bureau. In October 1970, .67 was received to bring the 1970 total to 1.03, the second lowest amount of moisture received since weather records have been kept in this county. A year ago, on April 19, .44 had been recorded in April and added to the other moisture received during the year, the total was 1.41. Reminiscent of the 'dust bowl' days, hurried housewives have been fighting sifting sand while their husbands, sons and fathers scan the sky with hopes for moisture to enable them to plant crops, or salvage wheat and alfalfa. Unless moisture is received in good amounts in the near future, dryland farmers will not be able to plant their spring crops, and in the meantime, drifting sand is covering turnrows, roads fences and livestock producers are finding new problems with reduced pasture and water facilities for their stock. Across the plains, from Texas, through Oklahoma and into New Mexico and Colorado, the pinch of the drought is being felt, with some counties already out of the pasture.

Commissioner's Agenda Light For Meeting

Bailey County Commissioners faced no major items at their regular meeting Monday, and the meeting was spent paying routine bills; canvassing election returns from the Bull and Three Way Schools for their trustee election; and the county trustee for Bailey County, Three Way and Bull. Discussed was a local form of Community Action which was proposed during a recent community meeting. The local form of CAP would be handled on a county basis and no federal funds would be utilized. No action was taken pending further study.

Former Resident; Area Man Killed

Funeral services for Mrs. Joe Adair, the former Trava Sue Johnson, 36, were held at 1:30 p.m. Monday in Trinity Baptist Church, with Rev. V. L. Huggins, pastor, and Rev. Troy Walker, pastor of Eastridge Baptist Church, Amarillo, officiating. Burial was in Sudan Cemetery under direction of Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home. The former Bailey County resident was killed around 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the head-on collision of two pickup trucks two miles south of Sterling City. The crash in which Mrs. Adair died also killed two other persons and left four persons critically injured. The other two dead persons were from Crystal City. Trava Sue Adair was born March 16, 1935 in Bailey County and made her home here until 1963. On April 6, 1963, she married Charles Joe Adair in Lubbock. She lived in Tyler until two years ago when she moved to San Angelo where she resided at the time of her death. Survivors include her husband, Charles Joe; a son, James Adams of Odessa; a daughter, Vickie Sue Adams, Denver, Colo.; her mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Muleshoe; two sisters, Mrs. Bob Hardaway, Muleshoe and Mrs. Nick Bamer of St. Paul, Minn.; three brothers, Bill Johnson of Muleshoe; Kenneth Johnson of Roswell and Jimmy Johnson, serving with the Marines in Vietnam. Shortly before midnight Saturday, a two vehicle smashup nine and one-half miles north of the Nickles Gin on Highway 70, claimed the life of an Earth man and injured a man from Lubbock and a man from Muleshoe. Killed was Refugio DeLa Garza, 62, who had been a resident of Earth for the past 16 years. He was a passenger in a car driven by 34-year-old John Everett of Lubbock. The driver of the other vehicle was Alcario Revia 29, of Muleshoe. Cont'd. on Page 3, Col. 1

Betty Crocker Coupons Sought By Auxiliary

A project underway by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce is collecting Betty Crocker coupons to be used to help purchase a kidney machine for use in Plainview, according to Pat Keese, president. May 1 is the deadline date to turn in the coupons and Mrs. Harvey Bass at Harvey Bass Appliance has agreed to act as collector for the coupons. The coupons can be taken to her at the store or mailed to her before May 1. The Ladies Auxiliary president said that all Betty Crocker coupons which have not been earmarked for another purpose, be sent to Plainview to help obtain the kidney machine. He reported on the school programs and explained the consolidation. According to Dillman, less teachers will be necessary, the school can set up better programs than in past years and despite temporary busing problems, the consolidation should prove to be more effective. He told the Rotarians that special education, kindergarten, first and second graders will go to school at Richland Hills, and third, fourth and fifth grade students will attend Mary DeShazo. He also discussed the four amendments which will be voted on by eligible voters on May 16. Rotarian Jeff Smith was in charge of the program for the day. During the business meeting, the Rotary Club voted to continue the annual $200 scholarship fund. Visitor at the meeting was John Spearman.

Congressman To Be Honored

Congressman and Mrs. Bob Price will be in the Panhandle April 15-17 for three full days of activities. He will give the keynote address at the 53rd annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Amarillo's Quality Motel on April 15 and will report on activities in Washington of interest to the group. The 18th District Representative will spend Friday morning, April 16, in his Pampa office visiting with constituents and will be in his Amarillo office on Friday afternoon. The Prices will conclude the visit Saturday at Plainview where a Bob Price Appreciation Dinner has been planned. Congressman Gerald R. Ford, Republican leader in the U. S. House of Representatives, will be main speaker at the dinner. This will be Congressman Ford's second trip to the Panhandle to honor Congressman Price. Congressman Ford will arrive at Amarillo Air Terminal at approximately 4 p.m. Saturday. A press conference will be held at that time before the group flies to Plainview for the 7:30 p.m. dinner in the Alcove Restaurant Banquet Room.

Consolidation Is Discussed For Rotarians

Consolidation of the Muleshoe and Richland Hills Rotary Clubs is being discussed. The consolidation would result in a single club serving both communities. The proposal was discussed at a meeting of the Muleshoe Rotary Club. The consolidation would result in a single club serving both communities. Muleshoe City Police Officer Joe Albro was called to St. Clair's Department Store just before 8:30 Sunday morning, where the glass in a front door had been knocked out of the store. It was found that at least 28 men's suits had been taken from the department store, including were four size 36; five size 37; 15 size 40 and four size 41. The suits were reported to be blue, black and brown and were valued $50 and Forrester-Foster, all marked Tailored by Merit. Investigation continues in the Saturday night burglary of the store. Free Tuberculosis Test Slated Here

Bailey County has been selected as the site for a concentrated tuberculosis skin testing survey, according to an announcement by the TB Control Division, State Department of Health, in cooperation with West Texas Area, Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. All residents of Bailey County will be eligible to receive the free Mantoux skin test at West Plains Memorial Hospital between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Friday, May 7. These hours have been set so that everyone will have an opportunity to take advantage of this county wide project. Pat Keese, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, is seeking volunteers to assist with the skin test survey. She asks that any volunteer contact her at Tri-County Savings and Loan so a complete list of volunteers can be set up prior to the May 7 test date. Walter Bartholf, minister of the Muleshoe First Christian Church, is a member of the board of directors of West Texas Area, TTB and RD Association. Bailey County is the first county in West Texas area of TTBDA to have this community skin testing program, and the TTBDA officials hope for a major turnout for the free tests. Volunteer nurses, typists and clerks are being sought to help on May 7 and again on May 10. A meeting of volunteers will be held at the hospital on Thursday, May 6, at 2 p.m. This meeting has been set for 1970 information of the volunteer workers, so that everyone will be able to run through the procedure rapidly, said the TTBDA spokesman. Big Book Sale To Highlight Library Week

One of the highlights of National Library Week will be held on Wednesday, April 21 at the Muleshoe Area Public Library. The annual Book Bonanza Sale attracts buyers who purchase hundreds of good, used books at bargain prices. It will begin at 2 p.m. next Wednesday at the library. During the afternoon, the Muleshoe Study Club will again name the 'Library Family of the Year.' The family will be one who regularly uses the facilities of the library. The first year the award was given, it was presented to the Jimmie Pitcock family and last year, the Eugene Howard family was tabbed for the honor. An award will be presented to the family named by the Study Club. Members of the Study Club are presently accepting contributions of books to be sold during the Book Bonanza Sale. They are asking that all books contributed to the sale, paperback and hardback, be taken to the library before April 19. Monday from the project will be presented to the library for furniture and equipment for the new library. Muleshoe Area Public Librarian Anne Camp said the Book Bonanza Sale has been highly successful in the past. Cont'd. on Page 2, Col. 3

Parents should bring birth certificates and health records, if available, for Kindergarten children so that the school nurse can give the necessary shots.

Bill Taylor, principal of Mary DeShazo and Milton Oyer, principal of Richland Hills, ask the cooperation of all parents in this Round-Up of eligible five and six year olds for the 1971-72 school year.

Children who are not attending the Kindergartens and first grades in these two schools, will be dismissed from school April 30, so that the teachers are available to enroll the new students and talk to the parents.

The Kindergarten children who are now attending Richland Hills and MaryDeShazo Schools will not need to come to Spring Round-Up to enroll for first grade because they have been pre-registered and have received the beginning shots.

being designated disaster areas.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White has commented, "Pastures that ought to be lush and green at this time are brown and actually dying in some cases."

"At this time of the spring our total $4 billion income of agriculture is endangered. Every acre of pasture land, every acre of dryland farming is either retarded or just lying idle."

Fires have become a new danger, and the entire state of New Mexico has been declared a fire disaster area. Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department firemen receive constant calls to fight grass fires, especially along the railroad right of way where tinder dry grass catches quickly from the sparks from the trains along the rails.

Many lakes, which formerly were used for fishing and pleasure, as well as water supplies for villages, towns and cities, have dried up and the lake bottoms are cracked and abandoned.

"It is real bad, I don't think people realize how bad it is," said J. W. Potts of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Everything is dry except a small area in northeast Texas and another small area in southeast Texas. I have never seen a spring started worse. You have to go back 70 years to find so little rain."

But, through it all, a note of optimism can be found among the hardy people who make up the South Plains of Texas. In the southern part of the county where little crops have been harvested in the past two years, farmers are ready to try again, ...if they get some rain.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

A growing number of Congressmen and Senators in Washington are dead set on drastically altering employer-employee relationships in U. S. agriculture. And they have a pretty good start.

Beginning in 1967, for the first time in history, users of over 500 man-days of farm labor in any calendar quarter became subject to a minimum wage law. The minimum has now progressed to $1.30 an hour, which is the top under present legislation.

In December of last year Congress passed the Occupational Safety and Health Act, and it applies to agriculture as to all other industry. It empowers the Secretary of Labor to lay down and enforce health and safety standards on farm machinery, chemicals, buildings and anything else he thinks might pose a health or safety hazard to farm workers. Violation of a "standard" could bring a $10,000 fine and six months imprisonment on a first offense. The penalty could be doubled for a second conviction.

But, according to J. D. Smith, Chairman of the Labor Committee of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., these are just the beginning. In the mill now are bills which would (1) progressively raise the minimum wage in agriculture to $1.50 in 1971, $1.60 in 1972, $1.80 in 1973 and $2.00 in 1974, and (2) bring agricultural workers under The National Labor Relations Act, virtually assuring unionization of farm employees.

The bill raising the farm minimum wage, by Congressman John Dent (D-Pa.), Chairman of the General Subcommittee on Labor, is cosponsored by almost all the majority members of the full Labor Committee. Also, House Speaker Carl Albert has announced the support of the House Democratic Leadership.

Hearings on the bill are slated for April 20 and 22, and Smith says PCG will present a statement in opposition. PCG will also have a hand in development of the statement to be presented by the National Council of Agricultural Employers, of which PCG is a charter member. Ed Dean, PCG Field Service Director, is a member of the NCAE board of directors.

"Not only does the bill raise the minimum wage for farm labor," Dean said, "it would repeal the farmer's overtime exception along with the exemption of other seasonal industry workers, including gins, oil mills and compresses."

Several bills have been introduced to delete the agricultural exemption of the National Labor Relations Act. Probably the most comprehensive, and potentially the most damaging to agriculture, is entitled "Farm Workers' Bill of Rights." In addition to bringing agriculture under the NLRA, if passed this legislation would make secondary boycotts a legal union tool in agriculture; would make workmens compensation and unemployment insurance compulsory on farms, and establish farm worker labor standards,

In addition to bringing agriculture under the NLRA, if passed this legislation would make secondary boycotts a legal union tool in agriculture; would make workmens compensation and unemployment insurance compulsory on farms, and establish farm worker labor standards, farm worker manpower training programs and a National Advisory Council on Agricultural Labor.

"These pieces of legislation must be defeated if at all possible, Smith says. But he also told a meeting of the PCG Board recently "It is no longer practical for agriculture to take a simple 'no' position on all legislation that affects our labor situation. There is increasing evidence that we can no longer hope to remain totally exempt from the labor laws that have long applied to other industry, and our best chance now may be in having an influence on the kind or kinds of laws that are passed for agriculture."

The NCAE is working with Secretary of Labor James Hodgson toward an amendment to the NLRA which would establish a separate Agricultural Labor Relations Board, and provide protection against secondary boycotts and strikes at critical periods such as planting and harvest time.

The PCG Board has adopted a position in support of the NCAE in its efforts to guide any farm labor legislation to the inclusion of provisions "for the protection of the farmer, his employees, consumers, and agriculture's ability to produce food and fiber supplies to meet the needs of the nation and the world."

Stock Marketing Changes Noted During '69-'70

COLLEGE STATION—Auction markets and terminals are still the major sources of slaughter calves for packers, but the feedlot is providing most of their fed cattle in the west and southwest.

The 1969 report of the Packers and Stockyards Administration of the USDA indicated that Texas and California alone accounted for more than one-third of the cattle fed by packers.

In 1969, packers fed or had fed 1.6 million head of cattle and calves (seven percent of fed cattle marketings).

The concentrated feeding areas in the west and southwest make markets and terminals relatively unimportant in states such as Arizona, California, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas.

About 12 percent of the total commercial slaughter of sheep and lambs were packer fed even though only 15 firms were involved in lamb feeding in 1969, Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, pointed out.

More than half of the fed lambs come from Colorado, Utah, and South Dakota.

Packer feeding of hogs remained relatively unimportant as less than one percent of the total slaughter was packer fed.

The recently released report also indicated that in areas where auctions and terminals were important sources of cattle for packers the country points were leading sources of cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs.

According to Dr. Uvacek, the 10 major packers bought three-fourths of their cattle, hogs, and sheep from country sources.

He added that the smaller packers used the auctions and terminals to a greater extent for all livestock than the larger packers.

Dr. Uvacek noted that the numbers of livestock purchased by packers on a carcass basis showed upward trends. Almost 20 percent of the cattle bought by packers were on a carcass basis.

Four percent of the calves and seven percent of the sheep and lamb purchases were on carcass basis. Carcass purchases of hogs amounted to four percent of the total purchases.

Muleshoe Study Club Hears Book Review

The Muleshoe Study Club met Thursday, April 8, 1971, at 4:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John Agee.

The president, Mrs. G. L. Splawn, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Walter Bartholf led the club in saying the club collect. Mrs. Levina Pitts led them in giving the Pledge of Allegiance. The roll was answered with "My" Book.

Director Mrs. Mervin Wilterding introduced the program speaker which was Mrs. Ed Johnson who gave a book review of Pearl Buck's "The New Year".

The main character was Christopher Winters, a candidate for governor and a likely presidential contender. His wife, Laura, was a brilliant scientist with a promising career of her own. They had a perfect marriage until the letter arrived.

Postmarked Korea, it began: "Dear American Father", and gradually revealed a little boy's plight in a country that has no use for fatherless children. The little boy was Christopher's son, a shocking, but poignant reminder of a long-forgotten romance.

How his reappearance affects the lives of three people—Christopher, Laura, and his mother—makes for an unforgettable and profoundly moving human story.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. John Agee, Mrs. J. G. Arm, Mrs. Walter Bartholf, Mrs. Joe Costen, Mrs. Douglas Dubose, Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath, Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. C. M. King, Mrs. Levina Pitts, Mrs. G. L. Splawn, Mrs. Doyle

The nature of men is always the same; it is their habits that separate them.

NEW PLEDGES . . . Mrs. John Beil Agee, left, and Mrs. Jerry Don Haley are the new pledges of Alpha Zeta Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Their Pledge Ritual Ceremony was conducted by President Mrs. Tom Flowers at the April 6 meeting of the sorority.

We had a smaller crowd than usual Monday night—but everyone attending had a good time. The Jack Dunhams and children and the Bobby Nickels were there. Both of these couples are taking lessons on Tuesday nights and are progressing quite well. Also visiting were Mrs. Lewis Wayne Shafer and children of Muleshoe and the Davis' of the Circle 8 club in Clovis. Teenagers attending were Debbie Purcell, Dan Ellis and Marilyn Black.

Members attending were John and Lottie Bickel, Willie and Lavern James, Robert and Nelda Hunt, Eugene and Donna Shaw, Jim and Laura Presley, Curby and Mary Brantley, Carl and Evelyn Ellington, Bob and Ann Copeland and Ed and Betty Gunnels. The Presleys and the Brantleys served the refreshments.

The Presleys and the Brantleys attended the club dance in Portales last Thursday. Ed Gunnels also calls for the club. The Lubbock Festival was the first weekend in April. Those attending Saturday, April 3, were: the Brantleys and children, the Presleys and children, Joey and Curtis Carpenter, the Shaws, the Hunts, the Gunnels, the Jack Dunhams and children, the Ellingtons, Johnny Mac, the Arvin Strouds and the Tommy Sizemores.

All enjoyed dancing to callers, Don Franklin and Harry Lackey. As yet, no definite date has been set for graduation—but it's tentatively set for the first of June. We hope everyone will come and help our new dancers celebrate.

Our Spring Special is set for April 26. We will serve chicken, beans, potato salad and cobbler from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. From 8:30 on we will enjoy dancing to the calling of Wayne Baldwin of Kermit. Admission is $1.00 per person and $.50 for persons under 12. Be sure to be there on time so you won't miss out on the eats!

Young Homemakers Hear Harbin Speak

The Muleshoe Young Homemakers met Thursday, April 8, in the homemaking department of Muleshoe High School.

Joe Harbin, Power Youth Advisor of Bailey County Electric Co-op, presented an informative program on electrical safety in the home. He stressed the fact that people should not be afraid to use electrical appliances but should realize that caution should be taken in the everyday use of them.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Elmer Downing. Mrs. Roland McCormick, advisor, announced that Tani Murrah, the Area I FHA parliamentarian, will attend the national FHA convention in St. Louis, Missouri. The club voted to give her $25 toward her convention expenses.

An installation tea will be held May 13 with mothers of chapter members as guests. The installation of the 1971-72 officers will be conducted by Mrs. Mack Moore.

The annual "night out" for the Young Homemakers was discussed and plans will be completed and a date announced at a later date.

The Rural Electric Co-ops are sponsoring four activity days. The first will be April 20 at South Plains College; April 27, at Clarendon Junior College; May 4 at Wayland Baptist College; and May 11 at West Texas State University. The Muleshoe chapter plans to attend the Levelland activity day April 20. Mrs. Robert Hunt of Muleshoe, second vice-president of Area I, will be the hostess at Levelland that day. Other Area I officers of Young Homemakers will rotate as hostesses for the other activity days at other colleges.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Roland McCormick, Mrs. Elmer Downing, Mrs. Jimmy White, Mrs. J. C. Gatewood, Mrs. Robert Hunt and one guest, Mrs. Linda Harris.

Each of the 20 South Plains counties in the district may have one entry in each of the four food groups in both the junior and senior divisions, explains Mrs. Taylor. All participants in the senior division will prepare and exhibit a favorite food delicacy that is a "quick" dish.

Seniors participating in the various food groups from Bailey County will be Ruth Ramin, milk; Susan Head, bread-cereal; Pamela Vinson, fruit-vegetable; and Connie Floyd, meat.

Juniors will include Debbie Kennemer, milk; Alta Ramm, bread-cereal; Laveta Black, fruit-vegetable; and Nancy Ramm, meat.

In addition to their food specialties, the 4-H'ers will also be judged on their knowledge of food and nutrition, plan for a day's menu, table setting and record book.

According to Mrs. Taylor, the Gladiola Flour Milling Co. of Sherman will sponsor the awards program. The senior winner in each of the food groups will qualify to compete in the State 4-H Food Show to be held at Texas A&M University on June 2 in conjunction with State 4-H Round-up.

A $500 scholarship provided by Gladiola Flour will be awarded to the high-point individual in each of the four food groups at the state contest.

Man Builds Better Windmill

By Billie Harris

The wind has spread golden sand across the plains ever since Gus (Poppa) Parish came to Earth-Springlake community in 1923 where he operated a garage until 1927. He then established a hardware store and implement business and planned for a son, Gus Jr., to follow in his business footsteps, but the son was killed in the South Pacific while serving with the Marines during World War II. A heart attack slowed Parish down physically for ten years, but mentally he produced many worthwhile and profitable ideas, while taking it easy and was responsible for the family getting into the pump business. The farm where the company is located is one mile south of Earth on FM 1055. Although Poppa Parish is semi-retired he stays busy around the farm and quite often at the large workbench that Doug provided, Doug, his son is manager of the pump company, who with his father owns fifty one per cent of the stock. Seven other family members co-own forty per cent, making it quite a family business affair.

Poppa Parish has a popular exercise wheel on the market, and his boot jack has earned letters of praise from "Festus" of "Gunsmoke" and Gov. John Connally. The jack has metal prongs that are used as vises in putting on and removing stubborn boots. These boot jacks are made in Earth and are being used all over the nation. The pump company has a reputation for having one of the best pumps that can be obtained. Their all-purpose irrigation pump has a patented Parish flow switch as a feature. It's automatic mercury-actuated control cuts power immediately when water flow diminishes. The switch can be used on all electric and combustion engines and can be installed in about ten minutes. Their Earth made pumps are operating in thirty five states. The parts are obtained in a nearby city then they are assembled at the Parish place and the precision parts installed there.

As the wind has gusted across this part of West Texas through the years it has been quite common to see it playing havoc with almost everything. Windmills have been torn from their joints when not strongly constructed and spin full speed

Good Horn Fly Control Means Contented Stock

Contented livestock usually perform well on the range or in the feedlot, but often their contentment is interrupted by horn flies as warm summer weather makes the scene.

"Horn fly control is an important phase of any livestock program," points out Dr. Bill Clymer of Lubbock, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "An animal may lose as much as half a pound a day during fly season, and milk production may be reduced as much as 20 percent."

Numerous materials and methods of application are available for controlling horn flies, explains the entomologist. However, one of the most-used methods that has proved effective is the self-treatment dust bag. This method on control eliminates the time and labor required to collect, pen and treat the animals. Clymer, with the assistance of county agricultural agents, conducted demonstrations on controlling horn flies with dust bags in 42 West Texas counties last year. Insecticides used in the dust bags included coumaphos (Co-Ral), methoxychlor, methoxychlor plus toxaphene (Lintox) and ciodrin (Simax). Several other test materials were also evaluated. Where dust bag usage was adequate, all labeled materials gave good horn fly control.

"The key to controlling horn flies with dust bags is to locate the dust bags at sites where the livestock gather, such as watering and feeding areas," explains Clymer. Other insecticides approved for horn fly control are malathion, toxaphene, dioxathion (Delnav), cartaryl (Sevin), ronnel (Korlan), crufomate (Ruelene 25E) and trichlorfon (Neguvon). Application methods depend on the material used and include spraying, dusting, dipping, backrubbers and treated mineral or salt blocks.

The entomologist urges stockmen to check their herds regularly during the spring and summer months since horn flies reproduce rapidly. And he cautions them to read the manufacturer's recommendations carefully before using a particular product.

CONNALLY ON ECONOMY
Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally said recently he is not now overly optimistic about the nation's economy and sees nothing to relax about. The secretary said that we're just living in tough economic times.

from the forceful winds. It is very unusual to say the least, to see a mill on the Parish farm calmly turning only twenty strokes per minute during one of the well known windstorms, due to another one of Poppa Parish's ideas. He got the idea while watching a bed sheet on a clothesline being blown by the wind and added a revolutionary vane (tail) to their windmills. The vane works to control the position of the wheel and keeps the stroke at an even stroke, regardless of the wind direction or velocity. With the dry weather situation being as it is currently Parish thinks it's a good time to put his mill on the market and plans to do so in the very near future. Much interest has been shown by farmers and ranchers in the area, and inquiries have already started coming in all around the nation and the world.

At present there are approximately one and a half million windmills being used and about five thousand are replaced yearly. This number might well increase due to the Parish improvement and the dry weather problem becoming more and more serious. Since there are now only two windmill manufacturers in the United States, the Parish Plant should do a lot of business from all indications.

When Parish was asked about the future, he said "Who knows?", and with a twinkle in his eyes and a broad smile added "We might build a better mousetrap, we built a better windmill didn't we?" But knowing his reputation and past success it wouldn't be too surprising if he builds a better spaceship for trips to the moon, or something just as astonishing.

Consider Farm Resources For Sorghum Hybrids

What grain sorghum hybrid will yield the best or be the most profitable on my farm?

That's the question many producers ask each year as they prepare for the coming crop season. And they are fortunate to have a large selection of superior hybrids from which to choose.

"In selecting a hybrid, the key item to consider is the yield potential of the particular farm," points out Dr. Bob Metzger of Lubbock, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "By yield potential we mean all the available resources--irrigation water, soil fertility, soil type and depth."

Where adequate water and fertility are available, Metzger recommends that the producer select a late-maturing or full-season hybrid. In turn, under limited irrigation or dryland production, a medium or medium-late maturing hybrid will probably be the best choice since it requires less water. If circumstances necessitate late planting, then an early maturing hybrid should be selected, especially in areas where the sorghum midge is a problem.

In addition to selecting a hybrid on its maturity characteristic, other traits need to be considered. Such factors as standability, head exertion, and disease tolerance are highly

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

THE CALLEY TRIAL
The trial of Lt. William Calley has grasped the attention and concern of the public to a degree that I have not before encountered in my 10 years in the United States Senate. I have heard from more than 6,000 of you on this one important issue alone, and I know that the volume of telegrams, letters and phone calls which I have received is not unique on Capitol Hill.

I have said that I will not make any direct comment on the merits of the Calley trial, and I shall not do so here.

Although I have been accused by a few of political fence-sitting on this issue, I must continue to follow the course which I believe to be the most responsible. The Calley trial remains in judicial channels; and the matter affects not only Lt. Calley but others who have not yet been tried. I believe that comments by me on the merits of the case would not serve constructive ends but only add to the existing judicial difficulties.

Given the Separation of Powers concept embodied in our Constitution, it would seem to me that Congressional action on the merits of this case would be highly inappropriate. Even an expression as to the Sense of Congress might unduly jeopardize the case of justice.

But the Calley trial does bring to our attention a much broader issue -- that of the whole spectrum of war crimes and the military judicial procedures designed to deal with them. I do believe that it would be proper for the Armed Services Committee of the two houses of Congress to review these broader issues and possibly hold hearings in this regard.

The Senate Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, has already indicated that the Committee will continue close scrutiny of the Calley case as it proceeds through the judicial channels. I believe this attitude a most responsible one and eminently correct.

And I am encouraged that the President will review the case upon completion of the judicial procedures within the military. As Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces, the President has this authority and I believe he has taken a responsible stand.

The Calley case now goes to the Court of Military Appeals, composed of three judges, all of whom are civilians. This court has the authority to review the facts, to re-apply military law to those facts, and to endorse or set aside the verdict and to reduce the sentence.

I am particularly concerned about the effect this trial may have upon American soldiers in the field. I fear that it may serve to undermine morale. And I fear that it may serve to postpone the attainment of a zero draft posture. At the same time when we are attempting to make military service more attractive so that we shall not be forced to induct young men indefinitely, I fear that this case may serve to discourage would-be volunteers.

There are some important points which I feel proper for us all to remember as we watch the further judicial processes in the Calley case.

For one thing, Lt. Calley stands accused not of killing innocent civilians, but of murdering unarmed prisoners of war. For another, the military has already prosecuted some scores of other soldiers who have killed unarmed prisoners of war. Of course, we should not sanction offenses on the part of our own soldiers simply because the enemy is guilty of similar offenses.

But the Vietnam War is indeed a new combat situation for us historically. Our soldiers often cannot determine the enemy in combat situations. Incidents abound of American soldiers being shot from behind by women and small children who had appeared to be innocent by standers.

I repeat that, in making these remarks, I am not commenting directly upon the merits of the Calley case. I have not and I will not pre-judge Lt. Calley.

But the broader question remains. Is our current system of military justice capable of dealing with the new combat situations presented by the Vietnam War? Should our military training programs be broadened or changed in order to more adequately prepare our fighting men to deal with these new combat situations?

These are some of the questions with which the Congress should appropriately concern itself.

We have not broken much new ground in the fields of military justice since the famous Nuremberg trials after World War II. The time is apparently overdue for our consideration anew of many of the issues involving military justice.

STATE CAPITAL

AUSTIN, Tex.--Serious financial business faced the Legislators on their return to the capital after spending the Easter holiday with the home-folk.

A Senate sub-committee immediately began drafting a tax bill which is expected to exceed $550 million. That is the minimum amount needed to balance the upper house version of the budget -- from a smorgasbord of proposals already aired.

Both the House and the Senate are due to take up and pass their respective appropriations bills, already drafted, and move the issue of budgeting into a 10-member conference committee of top legislators.

Big battle in the Senate, over revenue-raising, may be on a liberal-backed proposal to levy a new corporation income tax. More than a dozen votes are regarded as firm for the corporate profits tax, with three or four more senators rated as "possibles."

Senators are cool toward the $492.5 million tax package sent over earlier from the House -- first, because they regard it as inadequate and, second, because it places the bulk of the load on consumers and students. Bill would raise the sales tax three-fourths of one per cent to four percent, hike college tuitions and mark up the corporate franchise tax 50 cents per $1,000.

Earlier, and for the first time, the Senate voted against permitting floor amendments on tax proposals which have not been subject to public hearing. Here are some of the major tax proposals which have been made to the Senate State Affairs Committee:

* A corporate profits tax of six per cent, which would produce an estimated $600 million in two years.

* A corporate profits tax boost, to gross about $39.5 million.

* Increase the sales tax to four per cent, to bring in $297.8 million.

* Two cents a gallon gasoline tax increase, to promote $92 million to the state and $30 million to cities and counties for highway matters.

* A beer tax boost to $10 a barrel, $95 million.

* Pipeline tax, $30 million.

* Requirement of a bill that that no county may alter, damage, destroy, sell or lease its courthouse without six months' notice to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee is not comprehended in the Antiquities Code.

* A bill to create a State Budget Commission of executive and legislative branch members violates the constitution in seeking to grant legiscreate a $100 million bond fund to assist local governmental units with sewage treatment plant construction.

AFL-CIO also announced opposition to an amendment creating a state commission to set legislators' pay and ethical standards for officials. Support was given to raising the welfare ceiling and the amendment which would allow constitutional changes to be proposed in special sessions as well as regular legislative sessions.

Governor Smith announced appointment of Richard D. Brown, executive director of Texas Municipal League, to head a Committee on Clean Water, promoting passage of the water bond amendment which would also raise the maximum interest rate on Texas Water Development Board bonds from four to six per cent.

A committee of 12 will serve as the coordinators of Texas Citizens for Welfare Reform, promoting passage of Amendment 3 to raise the aid ceiling. COURTS SPEAK--State has given notice of appeal in an historic federal court case at Corpus Christi where a three-judge panel held that Texas' annual voter registration requirement is unconstitutional. State Supreme Court revised the decision of a Dallas civil appeals court, directing a new hearing in the civil breach of contract action against Texas Rubber Supply Inc.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for a Texarkana man convicted of murder on grounds that the trial court did not rule correctly on whether a statement by the defendant was voluntary and that the man should be heard on the issue of accidental shooting.

Fifty-sixth district court of Galveston County has enjoined the Gulf Chemical and Metallurgical Corporation near Texas City, directing it to install specified air pollution abatement equipment by September 10.

Third Court of Civil Appeals was told, in arguments by attorneys, that the defunct Sharpstown State Bank did not adequately check the identity of a man who gave it $470,000 in surety bonds.

BONDS FAIL TO SELL--A $25 million offer of Texas Water Development Bonds failed to draw bidders. It was felt that the four per cent ceiling on interest discouraged buyers.

Board members said another offer will be made later in the month if a "favorable" market develops.

A representative of a Dallas bank was about to offer a bid, but moments before the opening he announced he had changed his mind. Board succeeded in selling $15.1 million worth of bonds late in February at 3.9984 per cent.

FREEDOM THREAT WINS RACE--Freedom Threat, owned by Jerry D. Gleason and trained by Bob E. Arnett, won at Sunland Park April 4. He won the six furlong race with a time of 1:12.4. Pictured on Freedom Threat is the rider, R. Young, while holding the reins is trainer, Bob E. Arnett. To the left of Arnett is owner, Dr. Jerry Gleason, members of his family and friends.

AG OPINIONS--Several domestic relations and juvenile court judges stand to lose retirement benefits if their courts are converted into state district courts of general jurisdiction, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* A bill providing for a county civil service system in counties over 300,000 is constitutional.

* Legislation seeking to prohibit State Board of Insurance members or employees from receiving compensation from any insurance company within six years after they leave their state posts is unconstitutional.

* Grayson County commissioners court may legally employ an attorney to make investigation for a grand jury.

* Petroleum products shipped out of state from F.O.B. loading points in Texas do not constitute receipts from business done in Texas under the franchise tax law, because physical possession occurs outside the state.

* Texas Fine Arts Commission may publish in its newsletter the text of legislation relating to fine arts and solicit comments; but it may not argue the merits of a bill, tell who supports it nor can a list of legislators be printed in their publications.

* Requirement of a bill that that no county may alter, damage, destroy, sell or lease its courthouse without six months' notice to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee is not comprehended in the Antiquities Code.

* A bill to create a State Budget Commission of executive and legislative branch members violates the constitution in seeking to grant legislative power to the executive department of government and executive power to the legislative branch.

CAR DEALER LICENSING DUE Governor Smith signed into law legislation establishing a six-member Texas Motor Vehicle Commission to license major new car dealers and manufacturers.

Consumers are assured by law that warranties will be performed by dealers and manufacturers. False advertising and misrepresentation of products and services are also prohibited.

SHORT SNORTS Former Texas Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner, 78, died last week.

Reduction and eventual repeal of the chain store tax, which produces about $5 million a year in revenue, was voted by the Senate.

A bill changing the Texas Unemployment Compensation System to conform with minimum new federal requirements was passed by the House.

Transfer of $6.8 million in welfare contingency funds to prevent a cut in aid to families with dependent children was ordered by the Senate.

A law just signed by Governor Smith allows city bus companies to provide lower fares for aged, blind or disabled.

A controversial code of ethics bill was passed by the House. Consumer groups and the AFL-CIO directed their wrath against the so-called uniform consumer credit code and its proposed steep increases in loan interest rates.

Do not envy the fellow who makes a success at an early age; usually he has paid for it, one way or another.

Milogard herbicide controls weeds in sorghum. Weeds that steal moisture and fertilizer and reduce yields.

One spray--at planting, or before weeds or milo come up--controls most weeds all season.
