* New Tax Proposal Could Mean Change

Governor Dolph Briscoe this week said he is very interested in a proposal which could effectively reduce property taxes levied by Texas school districts. The proposal, as put forth by Representatives Jim Nugent of Kerrville and Lynn Nabers of Brownwood would dedicate one-fourth of the revenue from the State's general sales and use tax to reduce school ad valorem taxes throughout the state. Preliminary statistics show the proposal would have the following effect in Bailey County: Muleshoe Independent School District will have a 33 percent reduction in property tax and

$31,034 in "New" state funds; and Three Way Independent School District with 21 percent reduction in property tax with $3,674 in "New" state funds. "New" State Funds means the amount of additional State money to be received by a school district in excess of the amount the district currently is raising through ad valorem taxes for maintenance and operation purposes. "The Legislature currently is meeting in a special session to consider legislation and proposed constitutional amendments which would return a portion of the current and projected state surplus to the people of Texas," Governor Briscoe said. "I am extremely interested in any proposal which could result in a lowering of property taxes and particularly those levied by our Texas school districts."

Nugent and Nabers have expressed hope for a hearing early this week on their proposal. Nugent and Nabers explained that to be eligible to receive additional state funds, under their proposal, a school district must reduce the ad valorem taxes it levies for maintenance and operation purposes by $200 for each $220 it will receive. The maximum amount by which a school district would have to reduce its taxes would be 50 percent. The "new" state money, the two House members said, would be distributed to school districts on a per Average

Pioneer Resident's Funeral Held Here

Funeral services were conducted Sunday, July 16, for Bailey County pioneer resident, Lulu A. Kistler, 98, who was also believed to be the county's oldest resident. Mrs. Kistler was born September 22, 1879 in Topeka, Kansas, and died at 6:15 p.m. Friday, July 14 in West Plains Medical Center in Muleshoe.

She came to Bailey County with her husband, W.H. Kistler, in 1909, from Topeka, establishing a farm home two and a half miles from Old Hurley, the original Bailey County settlement. Mrs. Lulu Kistler, who was a former school teacher, remained alert and active all her life, slowed down only after she fell and broke her hip in 1978.

Jaycees Asking For Information From Parents

Because of a problem acquiring pictures made at the recent Miss Tri-County Pageant through one photographer, persons who paid a deposit and ordered pictures of their contestant, are asked to notify the Muleshoe Jaycees of their order. Although President Hugh Young explained that the photographer, Donald Turner Photography, Lubbock, was not sanctioned by the Jaycees, or the official photographer, they are trying to work out problems with the pictures. If you paid a deposit, please notify Clea Williams at 272-4536, see her at the Journal, or write her at P.O. Box 449, Muleshoe, Texas, prior to July 31.

Commission Proposes New Sign System

Following a lengthy discussion Monday evening, members of the City Planning Commission adopted several suggestions to be presented to the Muleshoe City Council regarding traffic in Muleshoe. Among the suggestions were removal or replacement of stop signs; a new traffic ordinance; possible removal of some traffic signals and the possible closing of one street at a school. Commission member Derrell Oliver tendered his resignation during the meeting. Attending the meeting were Chairman Curtis Walker; commission members Arlene Phelps, Jennie McVicker and Clea Williams; City Manager Dave Marr and Assistant City Manager Jack Eades.

However, she still read the daily papers and kept up with world events through television. She was fond of recalling early days in the county, and recounted many of her experiences for the younger people. Lulu A. Kistler was a member of the Church of Christ in Muleshoe; a life member of Eastern Star; member of the Half Century Club; charter member of Women's Society of Christian Service, First United Methodist Church; Epsilon Sigma Alpha Bicentennial Pioneer Woman for 1976; and an active contributor and member of the Bailey County Historical Society. She was also a life member of the LCC Associates at Lubbock, one of the highlights of her life. All her life, she was very active in civic affairs. Funeral services were at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Muleshoe Church of Christ with Royce Clay, Church of Christ minister from Big Spring, officiating, assisted by Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of the First United Church of Muleshoe. Eulogy was given by her grandson, Warlic Thomas. Interment was in Muleshoe Cemetery under direction of Singleton - Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe. Survivors included two sons, Gene Kistler, Huntington Beach, California; and Merle Kistler, Pomona, California; two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Arwine, Lubbock and Mrs. Beulah

Lazbuddie Duo At Convention In San Antonio

Area FFA chapter members attended the 50th Anniversary Convention of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, July 11-14, at the San Antonio Convention Center. Attending the convention from Lazbuddie were Mike Windham and Mark Mimms. More than 6,000 persons attended the four day convention, the highlight of the year's activities in FFA. Some 1,600 voting delegates representing 828 chapters in the state were on hand to elect officers for the coming year and to honor outstanding members of the organization. Texas is the state with the largest membership in FFA. There are more than 60,000 members and the national organization has drawn many of its national officers from the ranks of the Texas membership. At the convention, outstanding FFA members were recognized for significant achievement in FFA programs, included supervised farming, agribusiness and

Temperature Stays Above 100 In Area

People around Muleshoe have been 'losing their cool' and trying to find it with several consecutive days of 100 plus degree weather making it a little difficult.

Thunderstorm Drops Little Area Moisture

Thunderstorms which developed late Tuesday night left very little other than a brilliant lightning display, along with booming thunder.

The only area reporting much measurable precipitation was in the Lazbuddie area where Mrs. T. L. Gleason reported one inch of rain.

Robert O'Hair said he received almost one half inch and other reports included less than .15 in the Needmore area.

Bud Street said only a sprinkle was received in the Coyote Lake area and the same held true for the Maple-Goodland communities. In Muleshoe, only a trace fell, along with only a trace, or light shower in the Progress and Lariat communities.

The slow-moving clouds, which formed in Eastern New Mexico moved to the east and south, leaving very little moisture, light wind and no hail.

A continuation of the recent very hot temperature was predicted to continue through the weekend.

Progress Trio Attend Camp For Youths

Three Progress youth returned Sunday evening from a week at the Salvation Army Camp at Hoblitzelle, near Midlothian. Jeff Peeler, coordinator for the local Salvation Army branch, said attending the camp were Art Villalobos, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cruz Villalobos; Hector Gardea, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Gardea and Christopher Fonseca, 10, who resides with Fele Pena, all attended the week long camp.

The boys said there were 'lots' of boys there from everywhere and the entire group spent the week swimming, horseback riding, playing baseball; shooting rifles; playing volleyball; running obstacle courses and in Bible study.

They left Sunday, July 9, and returned to Muleshoe on July 16.

The fourth grader and two seventh graders said they thoroughly enjoyed their week in camp.

Treating Heat

Symptoms of heatstroke include very hot, dry skin, with no sweating, as well as weakness, dizziness, rapid breathing, nausea, unconsciousness and sometimes mental confusion. Body temperatures can go as high as 110, medical sources say. Onset can be very sudden.

According to medical guidelines, call a doctor, then take the following steps:

- *Apply an ice bag or cold cloths to victim's head or drench the victim's clothes with cold water.
- *If possible, wrap the nude victim in a wet sheet; use fans to blow on cold sheet and keep cold cloths or ice on victim's head.
- *The victim's arms and legs should be rubbed toward the heart, through the sheet.
- *Body temperature should be checked every ten minutes. Procedures should be repeated until temperature drops to between 101 and 102 degrees. If temperature rises again, repeat procedures.

Bouchelle At Houston Meet

Terry Bouchelle, minister of the 16th and D Church of Christ, returned last Thursday from Houston where he attended the 33rd Annual Meeting of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division held at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel, July 12-13. He represented the Bailey County unit as a voting delegate.

Dr. Gerald L. Woolam of Lubbock was elected President of the Texas Division at the meeting of the Division Board of Directors. Larry K. Fuller of Borger was elected Chairman of the Board.

Dr. Charles LeMaistre, Chancellor of the University of Texas System, was the keynote speaker at the Annual Dinner. Dr. LeMaistre will become President of M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in September following the retirement of Dr. R. Lee Clard. Dr. Clard was also present at the meeting and was recognized for his 32 years of service at M.D. Anderson.

According to Bouchelle, the Annual Meeting is held each year to elect a new Board of Directors and Officers; to recognize outstanding volunteer work around the state and to formulate program plans for the coming year. "The meetings were very worthwhile, and it is certainly gratifying to see more than 300 volunteers from all over the state get together for a common cause," said Bouchelle.

LL Winners Give Trophy To Sponsors

Not all the honors went to the winners! Members of the 1978 Little League championship teams, the Sox, sponsored by the Jaycees and the U-Bars, sponsored by Production Credit Association, turned the tables Monday.

Attending the noon meeting of the Jaycees, Monday, Little League President Sammy Gonzales introduced Buddy Embry, Sox Coach Eugene Shaw and U-Bars Coach Max King. The coaches presented trophies to the sponsors of the teams for their support. Receiving the trophy for the Muleshoe Jaycees was President Hugh Young, while Richard Kimbrough, manager of Production Credit Association, received the trophy presented by the U-Bars. Gonzales told how much the organization's support means to Little League, and expressed appreciation, not only to the two sponsors awarded, but appreciation to all the team sponsors.

David Gray, who was umpire during the entire Little League season, was also presented a plaque designating the appreciation of the Little League for his work during the season.

Discussed during the meeting were the Jaycee flag project, with Chuck Smith reporting the

The Sandhills Philosopher
Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek reacts to a horrible practice launched by the Russians.
Dear editor:

It goes without saying that Russian Communism isn't the form of government Americans and probably a good many Russians want to live under, but a new phase of it has developed that makes it even worse than ever.
I am not talking about its slogans, like "From everybody according to his ability, to everybody according to his need," which reads all right on paper but translates funny in practice, so that while the average Russian is told he needs no car, Dictator Brezhnev claims he needs six. While the average Russian family of four needs no more than a one-room apartment with the bath room down the hall, Russian leaders need elaborate town houses and a villa by the sea.
What I am talking about is an item making headlines a few days ago. Two American newsmen stationed in Moscow have been charged with the crime of inaccurate reporting.
That clinches it. That is going too far. A government that makes it a crime to get something wrong in a news story is no fit government to live under.

You set out to track down and jail every reporter guilty of it and the courts will collapse from sheer over-crowding. The right to get at least a few things wrong in a news story is as fundamental to journalism as high rates are to medicine, or promising is to politics, or gossiping is to neighbors.
And when it is the government, as in Russia, that decides what is inaccurate, all the fun is taken out of newspapering.
One of the pleasures in life is seeing if a newspaper, whether it is The Muleshoe Journal or The Lubbock Avalanche Journal, got something right or wrong in its account of a meeting you attended. The pleasure is intensified if you figure they got something wrong.
As for columnists, the right to be inaccurate is practically a Constitutional prerogative, employed daily right and left. I am too diplomatic to mention editors. If I were a Russian I would be writing this from Siberia.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
Military Now Volunteering
About 34 percent of soldiers now joining the volunteer Army are volunteering to save $50 or $75 a month for education.
According to the District Recruiting Command, the percentage of soldiers participating in the Veterans Educational Assistance Program (VEAP) has doubled since the program replaced the GI Bill in 1977.
VEAP provides matching funds for savings during an enlistment. For every dollar saved for education by an individual soldier, the government matches two dollars, up to a maximum joint total of $8,100. The money is available for tuition for approved college or vocational-technical courses after separation from the service.
The Army attributes the increase in soldier participation in VEAP to the fact that the Army has sold education benefits and has attracted new recruits interested in taking advantage of military opportunities for higher education.
In addition to VEAP, soldiers may also choose to attend college or vo-tech schools in their off-duty hours while in the Army. Under this program, the Army pays up to 75 percent of tuition for approved courses.

Cotton Growth Study Results Are Available

Medium-textured soils of the Rolling Plains, generally considered permeable, can deceptively restrict root growth in cotton crops.

What this means, says the Car Recovered

Willie Mae Rice's 1971 Monte Carlo was stolen recently and later recovered in Muleshoe. People need to take precautions to prevent car thefts. Unlocked vehicles and keys left in ignitions are temptations to potential car thieves. Help them and protect your property by taking necessary precautions.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's Dr. C.G. Gerard, is that "shallow reservoirs" of available water in these soil must be replenished frequently during dry spells when cotton is blooming and fruiting if high yields are expected.

Gerard found that similar conditions can exist in the vertisol or fine-textured, shrink and swell soils of South Texas.

The scientist, based at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Chillicothe-Vernon, points out that soils with shallow reservoirs are those with limited capacity to hold water. What moisture there is, is used quickly when the cotton plants are blooming and fruiting and the weather is dry.

Increased organic matter and improved tillage techniques will help boost the water storage ability of such soils, notes Gerard.

The scientist adds that the most important feature of root systems of annual crops is their rapid expansion into previously unoccupied soil. This process enables plants to grow for days or weeks without rain or irrigation. Such desirable root growth, however, can be hindered by the shallow reservoirs.

PROBLEM:
There are only 24 hours in a farmer's day.

SOLUTION:
Aerial application.

No matter which pest or fungus or weed you're fighting, no matter which seeds need to be planted, no matter which fertilizer needs to be spread, and with rare exceptions, no matter what the weather, an aerial application plane, like the Grumman American Ag-Cat, can get the job done fast.

An Ag-Cat flies low enough and slow enough to assure proper crop treatment. And yet, aerial application can get the job done up to 22 times faster than ground bound equipment without damaging crops and compacting surrounding soil.

Aerial application. Because there are only 24 hours in a farmer's day.

Call for quotes on a corn borer program, greenbug problem, foliar fertilizing, or any other Aerial Application need. We also will supply any agriculture chemicals at a substantial savings.

Debbie Ward Director Of Association

Debbie Word, West Texas State University admissions advisor, has been named interim executive director of the WTSU Alumni Association, according to Jerry Don George, association president. Miss Word, who will continue to work in her present position, was hired effective July 15. She is replacing Jim Edd Wines, who submitted his resignation for June 31. George said the action was taken because the association is "desirous of having a closer working relationship with West Texas State University" and was without an executive director. Miss Word will balance her time between contacting prospective students and area WTSU alumni. Last year in her work as admissions advisor, she travelled throughout Texas to visit students in 216 high schools in 165 cities. George described the association as "going through an interim period," in which the new arrangement will be evaluated after approximately six months.

"At the end of this time the board will evaluate the operation and see if we want to continue this arrangement, and maybe even add another director to work out in the field," George said.

Miss Word is a 1972 WTSU graduate and a 1969 graduate of Palo Duro High School in Amarillo. Before joining the WTSU staff in 1976 as an admissions advisor Miss Word taught physical education and coached for three years at Coronado High School in El Paso.
