Grain Harvesting Slowed By Weather

Light Freeze Not Damaging To Crops

A wet cold spell blew into the Muleshoe and panhandle areas last week, bringing freezing rain, ice to some parts of the area, and a 32 degree reading here in Muleshoe. The freeze was not considered a hard one by farmers in the area. Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley reported that it was not enough freeze to do much damage to the cotton. The wet weather did put a stop to harvest operations of grain sorghum in the area as the fields have been too wet to get equipment in them to harvest the grain. Although the wet, cold weather put a stop to harvesting, it did not actually hurt the grain. Tanksley also reported that the varied amounts of rain over the county were beneficial to the farmers with small grains such as wheat and rye as these crops really needed a rain. The rain will boost grazing in the area as cattle operations expand over the county. If anything, the freeze helped the cotton in this area because if it was hard enough, it would cause the leaves of the cotton plants to fall off. If the sun would come out now, the more exposed bolls will go ahead and mature more. Rainfall reports varied in the area from less than a half of an inch to over an inch of moisture. Farmers are now hoping for some hot, dry weather to clear up the fields so they can get the grain harvested and then start in on the cotton.

Ruth Malone Takes Second Contest Win

Ruth Malone took the top spot in the Football Contest this week for her second win of the year. Mrs. Malone won the contest week before last and now has 20 points in the contest. She missed two games this week, the Mississippi-Florida game and Colorado-Oklahoma upset that most of the entries also missed. She was only seven points off of the tie breaker.

Coming in second place was another previous winner, Amelia Gonzales, who won third place in the first week of the contest. She also just missed two games, Tulane and West Virginia and Colorado-Oklahoma. She was off 11 points in the contest. Third place this week went to Hattie Ray Jones, missing two games, Mississippi-Florida and Colorado-Oklahoma. She was 17 points off of the tie breaker. The three top entries were the only ones to miss only two with the other entries missing from three to eight games. The Oklahoma-Colorado game fooled the majority of the entries as did the SMU-Rice game.

Ruth Malone now takes the lead in the contest with 20 big points towards the two tickets to the Cotton Bowl and $50 expense money.

Crane Hunt Starts Here This Weekend

Mrs. and Mrs. Randy Cornelison of Borger, Susan Camp Kizer of Amarillo, and Cheryl Camp and children, Keila, Lisa, and Robert of Lubbock visited Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernis Camp. Mrs. Camp celebrated her birthday with the guests bringing a birthday dinner and a birthday cake.

The first weekend hunt of the annual Sandhill Crane Hunt will be this weekend, Saturday and Sunday will be the first two days of the hunt which will be held for the next three consecutive weekends. The annual hunt is sponsored by the Muleshoe Jaycees each year and annually draw a large number of hunters to this area.

The Jaycees have leased land adjacent to the Muleshoe Wildlife Refuge again this year. Each year there are as many as 100,000 sandhill cranes in this area, during the winter months. The Muleshoe population represents the largest concentration of this species in the United States. The Jaycees will also provide transportation to and from the hunting area. Shells and licenses will be available and the guides will leave the Dinner Bell Restaurant, 2100 West American Blvd., which is hunt headquarters, one and one-half hours before sunrise each day. The costs for the hunt will be $5.00 a day; $7.50 per weekend; or $15.00 for all three weekends. The hunter who kills the largest bird during the hunt will receive a twelve-gauge Browning automatic shotgun. For more information about the hunt, contact James Brown, 965-2375 or at Route 3, Box 90, Muleshoe, Texas, 79347.

Harvest-Aid Chemicals Should Be Avoided

Harvest-aid chemicals used on mature cotton will prepare the crop for earlier harvest states Spencer Tanksley, Co. Ext. Agent, but used on immature cotton it will reduce yields and reduce lint quality, especially micronaire. We must remember that a short growing season is the number one problem in producing cotton on the South Plains so unless cotton is 65-70 percent or more open for defoliant and 80 percent or more open for desiccants then we should not stop the growing season with harvest-aid chemicals warns Tanksley. Cotton with unopened green bolls is still making cotton and increasing yields each day during the recent weeks of warm, sunny weather states Tanksley. Remember we spend some hard cash for weed control and other production practices. Let's don't undermine our profits with too-early applications of harvest-aid chemicals.

Spring Forward-Fall Back

The sixth graders on the Cowboy and Packers teams will go against the sixth graders from the Saints and Chiefs teams. There will be approximately 18 boys on each team. Fifth graders who are in their last year with Youth Football due to their age will also be eligible to play in the Senior Bowl. TPWD Is Supporting Hunting Fee Increase AUSTIN -- Nine is a magic number to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The so-called "Fund Nine" was created by the Texas Legislature back in 1947 and is the source of money for the department's day-to-day activities devoted to wildlife services, special game and fish projects, the purchase of land for wildlife purposes and the enforcement of wildlife conservation laws. 58.6 percent of the revenue flowing into Special Game and Fish Fund Nine. The department estimates that by 1974, expenditures from the fund will equal income. Something has to be done. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department supports three bills now before the 62nd Legislature, fourth called session, proposing an increase in resident and nonresident fishing licenses from $2.15 to $5.25 and the resident hunting license fee from $3.25 to $5.25. Nonresident hunting licenses would also be increased from $25 to $50.25. Texas sport license fees have remained static while neighboring states have raised their fees to keep pace with the cost of good conservation projects. The national average for resident hunting licenses is $7.48; for nonresident fishing licenses, $8.93; for nonresident hunting licenses, $33.24. Total license sales in Texas for fiscal year 1971-72, which ended Aug. 31, 1972, were $5.7 million. In fiscal year 1970-71, total sales of fishing and hunting licenses amounted to $5.5 million.

A History Of Bailey County Pioneer Families

EUGENE HUTCHINSON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson

Frank Hutchinson and his son, Frank Jr., each bought quarter sections of land from the YL Ranch early in 1908. The families moved to Bailey County in April of 1908 from Hebron, Nebraska, where they had moved in 1899 from Chicago, Illinois.

Frank Jr. brought with him to Bailey County his wife and their five children, Cora, Charlie, Eugene, William and Raymond.

Frank Jr. also brought a well machine with him from Nebraska and put down the first artesian well in the area. Eugene related, "There were no roads. We built our own roads to our place. I don't know how Dad ever found the stakes marking off our land to know exactly where our place was. Dad built a 14' x 16' one room building for our family of seven. The boys slept in beds we brought with us and laid across the cross beams. We climbed up the wall to get to our beds. Later Dad built a small addition to our house so my sister could have a room.

"The place had a windmill and pond on it. Dad was paid by the YL Ranch for the use of the pond water for their cattle, and received enough money to pay the taxes on the land. We picked up cow flap, which was used as fuel for heat and cooking, and stocked it up for the winter months.

"Later Dad moved in a school building that was not being used any longer. He added it to the house so the boys could have a room. I remember prairie fires in the area. The head fire often moved faster than a horse could gallop.

"We raised good crops in 1908, medium crops in 1909, and no crop at all in 1910. Dad, who had learned the carpentry trade, moved us to Farwell where he helped build the school. In the spring we moved back to Illinois."

Cora Hutchinson taught school while the family lived in Bailey County. She received her teaching permit in Dimmitt. She later became a Sister in the Dominican Order and now resides in Wisconsin. Charlie and Eugene both settled in Waukegan, Ill., and William in Calif. Raymond, who became a Priest, died in China with the black pox in the 1930's.

Bill Clayton Appointed

AUSTIN -- House Speaker Rayford Price today appointed an interim committee to study Land Use Management in Texas.

Representative Bill Clayton of Spring Lake was appointed Chairman and will be joined by Representatives Ray Lemmon of Houston, Bill Braecklein of Dallas, Frank Calhoun of Abilene and Tony Dramberger of San Antonio.

In releasing the appointments at the close of the Fourth Called Session, Speaker Price, "I feel it is necessary that this committee be activated immediately because of the short time remaining before the next regular session. I can foresee the need of a state initiated program to operate in conjunction with the federal and local governments in the area of land use management."

This committee is created by the Speaker's initiative and will report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session to convene in January.

Ideas are a dime a dozen: what makes success is the ability to put an idea across.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON OWNERS, INC.

Cotton producers and many others in the industry were astounded and highly disappointed at USDA's recent announcement that the 1973 cotton loan would not be raised from the 1972 level of 19.5 cents per pound basis middling-inch, 3.5 to 4.9

micronaire at average location. It is beyond our understanding that the Secretary would leave the U. S. cotton loan seven cents a pound or more below the average world market price," said Ray Joe Riley of Hart, President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The average world market price for middling-inch cotton for the 1970 and 1971 marketing years was determined by USDA to be about 26.5 cents. Current law provides that the U. S. loan shall be set at 90 percent of that average, except that the Secretary may adjust the figure downward if he deems it necessary to keep U. S. cotton prices competitive.

It was under this latter authority that Secretary Earl Butz announced the 1973 loan at 19.5 cents, less than 74 percent of the world market average.

"The announcement was especially disheartening," Riley stated, "in view of the wide agreement among industry leaders that a higher loan would not seriously affect cotton's competitive position and it badly needed to help stabilize U.S. production, supplies and prices."

Cotton market prices across the Belt have declined about a third from price quotations of a year ago, and producers fear a further drop to just above this year's "disaster-level" 19.5 cent loan.

"If prices continue to decline,

Riley said, "and with no greater price protection from a higher loan, producers in 1973 will be forced to severely reduce cotton acreage and we'll go right back to the short supply conditions of 1971. And when this happens we can't even hope to hold the line against market competition from man made fibers, nor will we have sufficient supplies for export markets."

Producers are backed up by leading cotton economists in their contention that a loan of around 24 cents for 1973 would maintain competitive prices for cotton, and perhaps even more important, would prevent further erosion of U. S. and foreign markets by stabilizing the year-to-year ups and downs in U. S. supplies and prices.

An extensive study undertaken by the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council shows that a price of 25 cents a pound—one cent above the producer-recommended loan level—would hold markets for U. S. cotton both here and abroad, Riley pointed out.

"In view of this study, made by our most eminent cotton economists, and considering that individuals and organizations representing all segments of the cotton industry have advised the Secretary of the need for a higher loan, Riley continued, "we have to believe that the low-loan decision was based on some factor or factors not concerned with the best interests of cotton producers and the cotton industry."

It is noteworthy that the Federal Register notice of USDA's intention to make the loan determination gave interested parties until October 16 to submit views and recommendations; then the announcement of the 1973 loan was made early on the morning of October 17.

Close on the heels of the loan decision came news the Department was "discussing" a government purchase program for cotton. At the moment no details of USDA's plans in this direction have been released, making it impossible to assess any potential effect on cotton prices.

"If the government bought enough cotton of the right qualities at the right price," Riley commented, "and if the acquired cotton were kept out of competition with producer-owned cotton, there could be some beneficial effects. PCG will support and encourage any USDA action or program that might improve the market outlook," he added, "but by the same token we will reserve our support until we are convinced the program is in the best interest of cotton growers on the High Plains."

Riley doesn't believe, though, that any government purchase program, however well conceived, will avert the grave consequences that await the U.S. cotton industry unless producers are given the price protection of a higher loan for 1973.

"A 19.5 cent loan for next year will foster even greater instability in U. S. cotton supplies and prices, thereby jeopardizing both our domestic and export markets," he concluded, "and we will make every effort to get the Secretary to rectify the serious mistake of announcing the loan at such a low level."

Southern Cal Is At Top Of List

We're coming into the eighth week of the college football season, and for the first time this season we have a new name at the top of The List. Southern California is now riding high as the nation's number one team with two one-time losers, Nebraska and Oklahoma—both with fantastically high power quotients—breathing hard in second and third. That Big Eight show-down between the Sooners and Cornhuskers, as last year, will take place on Thanksgiving Day... another day of cold turkey! And before that little fracas, Nebraska has a date with Colorado one week hence. Big things cooking!

Alabama, beating off all challengers in the Southeast Conference so far, is still in the number four spot, with unbeaten Michigan 5th and upsetter Colorado 6th. L.S.U. is 7th, and the Alabama-L.S.U. confrontation is just two weeks away. Ohio State, still with a spotless record, is #8 with U.C. L. A. and Texas rounding out the top ten. They're all familiar football powers, and the odds are good that most of them will still be up there when the season closes in just one month.

Looking ahead to this Saturday for possible trouble for any of our top group, there doesn't appear to be very much. However, there didn't appear to be too much trouble last weekend either, and the roof literally caved in!! Arizona State moved back into the Top Twenty this week, and immediately runs into an ex-member, the Air Force. The Falcons were upset by Navy last week, but could be real trouble for the offense-minded Sun Devils, ranked #18. We'll pick Arizona State by seven points.

Another team in the top group that will have its problems is Penn State, ranked 14th. The Nittany Lions meet West Virginia, and in a series that goes back 39 years, Penn State has won 29 times. The Lions are favored by only 7 points.

One of the top games has to be the match-up between unranked Florida State and 17th rated Auburn. Each has been beaten just once, the Seminoles by Florida, the Tigers by L.S.U. There's just a 5-point difference, and Auburn is favored.

Rather than draw any attention to many of the one-sided contests, we'd just like to restate the basis on which all our football teams are rated. Every team is rated by a power quotient which is simply the average of its past performance against all opposition. Games won and lost do not enter into a team's rating.

King Attends WTCC Annual Board Meeting

Glen King, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture attended the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Mid-Year Meeting of the Board of Directors Thursday and Friday, October 19 and 20, in Lubbock.

King attended the State Affairs Committee meeting at 1:30 p.m., Thursday in the Kenghis Kahn Room at the First National Bank Building. Fred Cohn, chairman, presided at the meeting.

On Friday he attended the "Business and National Affairs Luncheon" at the Koko Inn.

During the meeting, the 14 proposed amendments to the state constitution were discussed.

King stated that "everyone should look at the amendments closely before they go to the polls to vote and that they should know how they will vote on the amendments before they go to the polls."

To a child, a Halloween costume is a ball of fun—but it shouldn't turn into a ball of fire.

Clothing Specialist Roxanne Schnorr with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University reminded parents that while "trick or treating," children can be exposed to many direct sources of fire which could easily ignite a costume coverup.

Lighted pumpkins, colorful candles and open fires for roasting wieners or toasting marshmallows are examples of this hazard.

"Since most costumes are made for temporary use, inexpensive and often highly flammable materials are used in their construction," she explained.

"Because of this, the parent should read all labels on the box and garment before selecting a costume with a child," the Texas A&M University specialist continued. The fabric's flame resistance should be described in the labels—the safest stating the material meets the Department of Commerce Standards for flammability safety.

In addition, Miss Schnorr pointed out that some flame retardants are only temporary—washing the costume will remove them. So, consider the warnings—especially if the garment is to be used again and will be washed between uses.

"Careful selection of costumes should provide a safe and happy 'trick or treat' Halloween," she concluded.

Boosters To Sponsor Halloween Carnival

The annual Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the Fine Arts Boosters, will be held Saturday night, October 28, in the Muleshoe School Bus Barn. The activities are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Doug Bales is general chairman for the Carnival. A. V. Woods is booth chairman and Mrs. Don Cihak is chairman for the Queen contest. Mrs. Owen Jones will be in charge of the Bingo stand and Mrs. Kenneth Precure will run the concession stands for the Boosters.

Other booths and their sponsors are: Cake Walk, Junior Class; Dunking Board, Spanish Club; Gambling Casino, Distributive Education Club; Bucking Barrell and Calf Roping, Future Farmers; Marriage Booth, Student Council; Dart Throw, Future Homemakers; Muleshoe 500 Race, Freshman Class; Kountry Kitchen, Choir; Picture Raffle, Art Club; Saloon and Stage Show, Sophomore Class; and T-Model Ford Wheel, Bottle Throw and Barrell Pitch, Lions Club.

Other organizations interested in sponsoring a booth may do so by contacting A. V. Woods.

The Queen and Princess will be crowned in the Muleshoe High School Auditorium at 10 p.m. Queen contestants are Debbe Coleman, choir; Sharon Kelton, band; Rhonda Stevenson, art; and Linda Mason, speech.

Princess contestants from Junior High are: Cynthia Wilson, choir, to be escorted by Randall Hamilton; Kim Small, band, with Erron Lee as escort; Tammy Bruns, art, to be escorted by Kevin Smith; and Shawnda Turner, speech, who will be escorted by Tony Vela. The Boosters met Monday night and completed the Carnival plans.

Snacks which feature meat are appealing, satisfying, and nutritious. Meats provide high quality protein, important B vitamins, iron, and phosphorus. They combine well with many fruits and vegetables and are ideal when served with a satisfying milk drink. Snacks which feature meat make a substantial contribution to nutritive needs.

The Boosters express their appreciation to Randy Johnson for the use of the building for the Flea Market and to the many merchants who donated items. They also express their appreciation to Chester Yerby who donated his time to paint the newly acquired band bus; to Roy Wrinkle for building instrument and uniform racks in the bus, and to the band students for sanding the bus in preparation for painting.

Mrs. Owen Jones, general chairman, and Mrs. Dan Throckmorton and Mrs. Roy Wrinkle, co-chairman for the Flea Market, also express their appreciation to all the workers and students who contributed to the Flea Market, Max Buhrman and Gary White, working as a team, brought in the most items for the Market.

AMERICAN GRAIN AND CATTLE INC.

A NEW CHARTER COOPERATIVE IN GRAIN

and CATTLE

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE IN AGRICULTURAL MARKETING . . . in fact it's past time. The present agricultural marketing system has only worked at the local and national level to the advantage of the huge international grain corporations; not for the farmer.

AMERICAN GRAIN AND CATTLE, INC., a new Marketing Association, through its integrated Grain Producer-Cattle Feeding program will feed part of your grain through feedlots for more grain profit. For instance, a two cents (2¢) per pound profit per finished animal should bring you fifty cents (50¢) per cwt. for your milo.

IN ADDITION YOU WILL SHARE IN THE PROFITS of fat cattle, feedlots, and grain handling locations. This is a well rounded program with plenty of capital to producers of grain and cattle . . . A FARM PROGRAM FOR FARMERS.

DON'T BE LEFT OUT . . . Join now with you neighbors who have already made membership agreements. Bring you present crop to American Grain. One price for in and out handling and storage — eight cents (8¢) per cwt. Check your storage and handling cost anywhere else. Are their prices competitive? Any grain stored at this rate may be transferred to the new grain and cattle feeding program.

CALL OR COME BY AMERICAN for further details and help make this the greatest program in America for farmers.
