Mrs. Nancy L. Cundiff died at the home of her son, Robert, four miles west of town, last Friday morning at 7 o'clock. Deceased was born in St. Claire, Miss., September 5, 1830. On March 10, 1856, in Houston County, Texes, she was married to W. H. Cundiff. In 1881 she moved to Wise county. In the death of Aunt Nancy Cundiff the community loses an old settler and one of its strongest characters; she was a woman of remarkable will power and enerfriends she drew about her were time to make a critical study of isted. true. She was a member of the Episcopal church. This woman will be sadly missed in the community where she lived so long, and the good she has done cannot be swallowed up in the grave. She was the relict of Major Wm. H. Cundiff, at one time one of the most prominent and influencial citizens of Decatur, and in that day and time the handsome country home of the Cundiffs was the scene of some of the most brilliant social functions ever held in Wise county. Four children survive; Mrs. Mattie L. Armstrong of Hogs and Lambs on the Upgrade. Chickasha, Okla.; Mrs. Varina D. Potts of Spur, Tex.; Sidney J. and Robert J. Cundiff of Decater. The burial took place at the old Bethel cemetery Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Metsenger extends sympathy to the children and grandchildren and the large circle of warm friends of Aunt Nancy. - Decatur Messenger.

A Letter From Texas. To the Stanberry, (Mo.,) Herald.

Crockett, Tex., 1-30 '10. DEAR V. T.—It is said of Washington that he could make a dollar go as far as any man, by throwing it, so here is one that will go about 800 miles. We are having splendid winter weather. Just shipped 3 year old steers to Ft. Worth market, just taken from the pasture that did not cost $10 per head all told, received top prices for this part of the country, have about 100 head of calves frolicking in the sunshine.

Thank goodness I don't live where I would have to shovel snow this winter. We come to this state a peaceful invasion, they do not threaten the peace and welfare of those desirous of living with them. We people from the north carry no malice but come with kindest feelings. We come to till the soil, manufacture the product of the farm, dig in the ground for minerals. We come to live with, and make friends of these people.

We bring money and honorable traditions, are blest with health, energy, ambition and energy, ambition and a long succession of successes, reaching generations back. Nothing exactly like this was ever seen before. Texas has been discovered, and we of the north are coming inside her borders by the thousands, not leaving a land we hate, but cheap er lands and a land of sunshine and flowers attract us. Some predict a loss of ambition and energy for those who dare the sunny winters of South Texas, nevertheless it has been proven false, and will prove how to live happily and It is a rare privilege to hear with plenty, where no cold win-

The receipts for February, 1909, were $43,737,70, an increase of $13,737.70 for this year. "Our baby when two months old was suffering with terrible eczema from head to foot, all over her body. The baby looked just like a skinned rabbit. We were unable to put clothes on her. At first it seemed to be a few mattered pimples. They would break the skin and peel off leaving the underneath skin red as though it were scalds. Then a few more pimples would appear and spread all over the body, leaving the baby all raw without skin from head to foot. On top of her head there appeared a heavy scab a quarter of an inch thick. It was awful to see so small a baby look as she did. Imagine! The doctor was afraid to put his hands to the child. We tried several doctors' remedies but all

America's Opportunity in Turkey. Dr. George Washburn, president of Robert college, 1870-1903, writes:

"It is a great opportunity, a wonderful opportunity, and it is a call especially to Americans. They believe in us now in Turkey. They trust us. There is nobody they believe in and trust as they do Americans in Turkey. They know that we have no selfish ends in view there. We do not want any of their territory; we are not going to try to overthrow the Turkish government; and they understand fully that what we are doing there we are doing for their good. They may think we make mistakes, but they know we are honest, and they know we are doing it for their good. They trust us as they trust nobody else, and consequently it is a great opportunity, a wonderful opportunity, for us to go on and to try to make these people understand who Christ is and what Christ is to the world."

PINCHOT'S COUNSEL ANGRY

RESENTS NELSON'S IMPUTATION THAT HE HAD TRIFLED.

Purchasing Agent for the Reclamation Service Also on the Harriman Lines' Payroll.

Washington.-A sharp clash occurred between Senator Nelson, chairman of the Ballinger-Pinchot committee, and Attorney Pepper, counsel for Gifford Pinchot, near the close of Saturday's session of the inquiry when Mr. Nelson accused the lawyer with "trifling with the committee."

White with anger, Mr. Pepper demanded to know if that was the judgment of the committee, and when several members exclaimed "let it pass," he said a reflection which he resented had been cast upon him and he questioned the senator's right to make such an accusation.

Mr. Pepper was referring to several letters in the record in an endeavor to have Chief Engineer Davis of the reclamation service, who was on the stand, refute several statements attributed to Secretary Ballinger. Chairman Nelson thought it was a waste of time to go over ground already covered and objected to the ruling on the testimony. In each instance which the question was put the witness replied Mr. Ballinger had made a misstatement. "Now I have come to the point I was after," said Attorney Pepper. "At the conclusions of your direct examination this morning you said: 'I want it understood that I do not wish to insinuate in anything that I have said that Secretary Ballinger has intentionally or consciously done a wrong act. I do not believe he has.' Will you explain your statement more fully?"

Dr. Davis said he merely meant to disclaim any intimation that Mr. Ballinger had done wrong. He referred only to his acts, he continued, and not his statements, for many of them were wrong. He did not indicate whether he thought Mr. Ballinger had "intentionally or consciously made a misstatement."

He flatly contradicted Secretary Ballinger in several statements and said the two did not agree on many reclamation matters, although both had been and he hoped still were good friends. The so-called "black tent" affair figure conspicuously in Mr. Davis' testimony. He said that E. E. Perkins, purchasing agent for the reclamation service at Chicago, went through the West lecturing in a black tent to advertise reclamation work under orders of Secretary Ballinger. The officials of the service were later informed, he said, that Perkins was getting an allowance of $500 a month from the Harriman railway lines in addition to his $3300 salary. Mr. Davis said Perkins proved his fidelity to the Harriman lines by shipping 59 per cent of the material from Chicago to Mesa, Ariz, where the reclamation service has been engaged in a project by way of their lines, which made the longest and most expensive route, 4

"I am named after George Washington, and as George Washington's birthday approaches I want to register my faith in the people to whom he gave freedom.

"These people are worthy of freedom. They don't abuse it. This fact was brought home to me when, on one of the days when Biltmore was open to the public. I strolled unrecognized over my lawn.

"As I watched the orderly and polite visitors, a shabby young man hissed at me fiercely from a path:

"'Hey, git off that! It ain't allowed." "And he pointed to a keep-off-thegrass sign, and kept his stern eye on me till he saw that the order was obeyed."

Danger in Spitting on Sidewalks. In order to show that spitting on the sidewalks is dangerous to health, an investigation has been made by Dr. John Robertson, medical health officer of Birmingham, England, which shows that seven per cent. of the "spits" collected in public places contained consumption germs. On the other hand the dust collected from the floors of the cottages of the Adirondack Cottage sanitarium has been found to be free of tuberculosis germs, showing that a careful consumptive is not dangerous.

Book Companionship.

Books are a guide in youth and an entertainment for age. They support us under solitude and keep us from being a burthen to ourselves. They help us to forget the crossness of men and things: compose our cares and our passions; and lay our disappointments asleep. When we are weary of the living we may repair to the dead, who have nothing of peevishness, pride or design in their conversation.—Jeremy Collier.

WHAT'S THE USE Sticking to a Habit When It Means Discomfort?

Old King Coffee knocks subjects out tolerably flat at times, and there is no possible doubt of what did it. A Mich. woman gives her experience:

"I used to have liver trouble nearly all of the time and took medicine which relieved me only for a little while. Then every once in a while I would be suddenly doubled up with an awful agony in my stomach. It seemed as though every time I took a breath I would die. No one could suffer any more and live.

"Finally I got down so sick with catarrh of the stomach that I could not turn over in bed, and my stomach did not digest even milk. The doctor finally told me that if I did not give up drinking coffee I would surely die, but I felt I could not give it up.

"However, Husband brought home a package of Postum and it was made strictly according to directions. It was the only thing that would stay on my stomach, and I soon got so I liked it very much.

"Gradually I began to get better, and week by week gained in strength and health. Now I am in perfect condition, and I am convinced that the whole cause of my trouble was coffee drinking, and my getting better was due to leaving off coffee and drinking Postum. "A short time ago I tasted some coffee and found, to my astonishment, that I did not care anything about it. I never have to take medicine any more. I hope you will use this letter for the benefit of those suffering from the poisonous effects of coffee.'

The green frog (Rana esculenta) exists abundantly throughout France wherever there are marshes, ponds or sedgy margins of rivers or bays that contain fresh or slightly brackish water. Mistake Made in Carrying the Fashion of the Moment to Undue Length.

A grave protest should be made against the skirt that is narrow at its best and tied in just above the ankles at its worst.

It should be condemned and discarded by every woman who considers personal comfort and a graceful appearance. There is an independent quality of American women that refuses to walk with knees pressed together and a hampered Japanese manner of taking tiny steps.

After all, there is a great artistic delight in a flowing skirt that follows in soft, sinuous lines the motions of the figures. In Paris, and London women have accepted the inhibition of easy, graceful motion, but it is to be hoped that our fair ones will in some usual and clever way attain the best of these suggestions and at the same time keep the senseless tyranny at arm's length.

COL. ROOSEVELT IS AT KHARTUM

Ex-President Again in Touch with Civilization.

GREETED BY MANY FRIENDS

Wife and Daughter Among Those Who Journey to Egyptian Frontier City to Welcome Distinguished Traveler and Hunter.

Khartum, Egypt.-Col. Theodore Roosevelt arrived at this place on Monday, and was received officially by Gen. Sir Reginald Wingate, governor general of the Sudan, on behalf of both the Egyptian and English governments. The ex-president was met here by Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel and by a host of American and European correspondents and numerous delegations of political and other friends from the United States. In fact this historic town is literally filled with visitors brought here to greet the returning traveler.

With his arrival at this place, Col. Roosevelt completed one of the most notable journeys through the wilderness of Africa that has been undertaken since the days of Livingstone and Stanley. It was a remarkable journey both in number of animals slain and preserved as specimens, and because of its lack of accidents and sickness of every kind. Ordinarily a traveler, through the regions through which Col. Roosevelt has passed, comes out of the jungues loaded with malaria and fever germs. Up to the present time, neither Col. Roosevelt nor any of his party have shown any symptoms of having contracted any of the numerous contagious diseases.

Gen. Sir Reginald Wingate provided countless ways for the entertainment of his distinguished guest. Representatives of the many tribés of the desert have been gathered here into one great encampment, and for Col. Roosevelt's entertainment, have indulged in every possible form of native amusement, giving dances, races, etc.

The town of Khartum is a mass of color. Flags of Egypt, England and America are everywhere, and the expresident has probably appreciated nothing more than the opportunity of visiting this historical spot.

Khartum is virtually built around the grave of "Chinese" Gordon. The city itself is a gigantic monument to that soldier's deeds and his heroic death. In the center of it stands his effigy in bronze, mounted on a camel, gazing with fixed eyes out toward the desert which mocked him during the terrible year that he lay there waiting for relief. Behind the statue stands the British governor's palace, an imposing structure in the Gothic style, typical of British power and British permanence, Name Gordon Everywhere. Not far away is the Gordon Memorial college, a school built with funds raised by Gen. Kitchener by subscription throughout Great Britain, in which the Sudanese newer generation is trained for service in the government which conquered its fathers. Everywhere throughout the city the name Gordon appears. There is the Gordon hotel, the Gordon drive and up the White Nile the Gordon tree. Gordon's memory will live so long as Khartum exists. The British have consider."; transformed the city of his death into a memorial to his glory that can laugh at time.

The second item empasized by the experience of 1909 is the importance of picking up and burning the punctured squares. There never had been any question but picking up the squares in the fore part of the season would check the weevils, but it was proven in 1909 that it was effective after the field was fully infested if rapid cultivation was continued.

The third item demonstrat-The Courier is authorized to ed by the season of 1909 is the im as soon as the rain ceases. Under boll weevil conditions the heavy black land and the pooriy drained fields should be devoted to other crops, because intensive working of the crop is a necessity. There must be no weeds and no grass in the crop.

Fourth. The past season has added its conclusive testimony in favor of the plan for making cotton under boll weevil infestation which plan, approved by the Un-ited States Department of Agriculture, is as follows:

1. The destruction of the weevils in the fall by burning all rubbish and material in and about the field which might serve for hibernating quarters of the weevils, and breaking (plowing) the soil as deep as conditions will allow.

2. The shallow winter cultivation of the soil if no cover crop

3. Delaying the planting till the soil and temperature are warm enough to make it safe. 4. The planting of early maturing varieties of cotton. 5. The use of fertilizers.

6. Leaving more space between the rows, and on ordinary up-lands having a greater distance between plants in the row than is usually allowed. 7. The use of the section har-

8. Intensive shallow cultivation.

9. Agitation of the stalks by For Commissioner, Precinct No. 4 means of brush attached to the cultivator. 10. Picking up and burning the squares that tall under weevil conditions, especially during the first thirty or forty days of infestation.

11. Controlling the growth of the plant if excessive by deep and close cultivation while the plant is young.
