HON. HAMPSON GARY REFEREE AGAIN

Tyler Man Reappointed as Judge of Bankruptcy Court.

After a most creditable service for the past two years as referee in bankruptcy for the Eastern District of Texas, the Hon. Hampson Gary of this city has again been appointed to that position. Mr. Gary was sworn in two years ago, succeeding three referees, the Tyler, Jefferson and Texarkana divisions of the court being combined, and exclusive jurisdiction in twenty three counties being vested in Mr. Gary. His district has a population of nearly six hundred thousand inhabitants, and it is larger than any one of a dozen states like Vermont, Idaho, New Mexico, Utah, Montana, New Hampshire or Arizona. He has presided in nearly one hundred and forty trials, some of them notable ones. And it is claimed for Mr. Gary that he has given universal satisfaction as referee in this enlarged district, handling the immense amount of litigation and business with care and dispatch. —Tyler Paper.

Where do all these foolish theories come from? Strange to say most of them originate from distorted facts. For example, if you will inject enough salt into the veins of a guinea pig; or a man for that matter, death will result.

The trouble is that "facts" do not necessarily lead to "truth." Truth depends upon a correct interpretation of facts. In arriving at the truth from any given facts it is well to use a little of the old time Common Sense upon which the public has had to rely for guidance since the world began.

One of the latest fanciful theories of the alarmists was that Caffeine, as contained in coffee, tea, Coca-Cola, etc., was an enemy to health. The idea seems to have originated from the fact that if you will inject a barrel of caffeine into a mouse, the mouse will die.

The old wooden latch on the kitchen door
With its friendly time worn strings
Where memory lingers round about
Those old discarded things
Wakes up a softness in our hearts
A rest from care and strife
An humble spot in a corner there
Is a change from modern life.
The old neglected garden rails
From pride of paint was free,
And the sway backed roofs of the cabins old
Have sheltered you and me.
Before we joined the busy throng
We loitered by the way
A look to take, a hand to shake,
And beg to "come and stay."
The old time wheels are mouldering now
Beneath the modern wall
Together with congenial hearts
Are all beyond recall.
The days of rest when we think best,
Of all that's past and gone
The harvest of the true and blest
When days were sweet and long,
When spent without a care for strife
Without the price of pain
The old time waves, forever sways
The hurried race for gain.
The countless faces as we pass

Unique Leap-Year Party.

One of the most unique and enjoyable affairs of the summer months was the leap-year party given by Misses Grace, Sue and Beasley Denny on Wednesday evening of last week, complimenting Miss Virginia Gano of Dallas, Miss Caroline Peyton of Marlin, Miss Seawillow Johnson of Marlin, Miss Mary Lipscomb of Beaumont, Miss Eula May Riall of Commerce and Mr. Gayle Denny of Henrietta. Engagements for the evening were made by the young ladies, who called for the young men and escorted them to the Denny home in east Crockett. About thirty couples were present. The affair, so much enjoyed by all in attendance, was after the form of a street carnival. The front yard and lawn of the Denny home were utilized and made to present very much the appearance of a regular street fair. Mirth and good feeling ran supreme. Carnival shows were numerous, "spielers" and "barkers" vieing with each other in the effort to attract the most attention. Scattered over the lawn and in every corner were tents, each containing a show of some kind and presenting a scene of merriment. There, near the main entrance, was the moving picture show, (the picture was moved by pulling a string), the much-sought sad bird (a mirror) in the yard corner, the "spoon pair," (a pear stuck full of spoons) at another place and numerous tents containing as numerous sideshows. There were also outside games of chance, in which all took a chance, at least once. Nothing was left undone that could add to the carnival spirit and charm of entertainment.

A pleasing feature was that the young men were taken in charge by the young ladies and their way paid through all the attractions. Red lemonade, stick candy and peanuts, with all the recklessness of young thoroughbreds with money to spend, were bought and paid for by the fair escorts. Altogether it was one of the most enjoyable of the many social functions that have been given in the city this season.

News from Creath.

Water melons and peaches have been the order of the day for the past month. Mr. W. J. Patton and family spent last week in Alto visiting friends and relatives. To-day will determine the fate of a number of candidates. Quite a number will leave shortly for the eleemosynary institute as some will have to suffer defeat. Everything seems to be in good...

spirits, even the chickens, but cheer up, old "Dom" the worst is yet to come, as the big meeting will begin in a few days.

Misses Cassie Patton and Alice Montgomery have been visiting the former's sister, Mrs. W. O. Durham, for the past two weeks.

The last and best picnic of all was pulled off at Enterprise yesterday, July 26. It was ye scribe's pleasure to be present on this occasion. A nice and better dinner has never been spread in Houston county. The candidates seemed in perfect harmony and the day passed off without a harsh word or ill feeling from any one.

Mr. G. M. McClain's smiling face was seen in our midst Sunday.

Master Jack Sample Patton is spending the week-end in Crockett with friends.

Mrs. A. S. Lockey returned to her home at Creek after a very pleasant week's visit with relatives.

The beautiful high school building of Enterprise is nearing completion. The carpenters say it will be ready for use by the first of September. Prof. Rosser and Miss Newton have been employed for the coming term. The prospects are that this school will be better than has ever been known in the history of the district.

By wishing the Courier and its many readers much success, I will skidoo. Mike.

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution so as to Authorize the Grant of Aid to Indigent and Disabled Soldiers and Sailors and Their Wives.
(S. J. R. No. 9.)

Senate Joint Resolution.

Senate Joint Resolution to amend Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to authorize the grant of aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows, and to soldiers who served in the militia and in organizations for the protection of the frontier and their indigent widows, and to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for the indigent and dependent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers and sailors, and such women as aided the Confederacy, and authorize a special ad valorem pension tax, and making appropriations for same.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That section 51, Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 3. Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporation whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1900, and their widows in indigent circumstances, and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since January 1, 1900, and who were married to such soldiers and sailors anterior to January 1, 1900; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States served for a period of at least six months in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas, who were in active service for a period of at least six months during the war between the States, to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1900, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this section shall not apply to women born since 1861, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows, and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided for by law; provided, the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home.

The Legislature shall have the power to levy and collect, in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property not exceeding five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate Army and Navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations, or militia.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Texas at the general election of State officers, in November, 1913. At which election all voters favoring this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "For the amendment to Section 51, Article 3 of the Constitution relating to increase of Confederate pensions," and the voters, opposed to said amendments shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "Against the amendment to Section 51, Article 3 of the Constitution, relating to increase of Confederate pensions."

Sec. 3. The sum of $5,000.00 or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses of carrying out the provisions of this resolution.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution Authorizing Cities of More Than 5000 Inhabitants to Adopt Their Charters by Vote of the People.
(H. J. R. No. 10.)

House Joint Resolution.

House Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section 5, of Article 11, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for cities of more than five thousand (5000) inhabitants to adopt their charter by a vote of the people.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That section 5 of Article 11 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 5. Cities having more than five thousand (5000) inhabitants may, by a majority vote of the qualified voters of said city, at an election held for that purpose, adopt or amend their charters, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by the Legislature, and providing that no charter or any ordinance passed under said charter shall contain any provision inconsistent with the Constitution of the State, or of the general laws enacted by the Legislature of this State; said cities may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law or by their charters; but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful for any one year, which shall exceed two and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such city, and no debt shall ever be created by any city, unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and creating a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon; and provided further, that no city charter shall be altered, amended or repealed oftener than every two years.

Sec. 2. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation, submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of Texas at the next general election held in this State, or in case any previous election shall be held in this State for other purposes, then this proposed amendment shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State. At such election, those favoring the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words: "For the amendment to Section 5, Article 11, of the constitution, authorizing cities of more than five thousand inhabitants to adopt their charters by a vote of the people." Those opposing said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "Against amendment to Section 5, Article 11, of the Constitution, authorizing cities of more than five thousand inhabitants to adopt their charters by a vote of the people." The sum of five thousand dollars, or so much as is necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the Treasury of the State of Texas out of moneys not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of the publication of this amendment and the proclamation for the election.

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Providing That Members of the Board of Regents of the State University and Boards of Trustees and Managers of the Educational, Eleemosynary and Penal Institutions Shall be Elected or Appointed for the Term of Six Years.
(H. J. R. No. 9.)

House Joint Resolution.

An Act proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding a new section thereto, to be entitled "Section 30a"; providing that the members of the Board of Regents of the State University, and the boards of trustees or managers of educational, eleemosynary and penal institutions of the State and such other boards as have been, or may hereafter be established by law, may be elected or appointed for term of six (6) years, one-third of the members of said boards to be elected or appointed every two (2) years in the manner provided by law, fixing the time for holding the election, and making the appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 16 of the Constitution be amended by adding a new section thereto, to be known and designated as "30a," and to read as follows:

Section 30a. The Legislature may provide by the law that the members of the Board of Regents of the State University and Boards of Trustees or Managers of the educational, eleemosynary, and penal institutions of the State, and such boards as have been, or may hereafter be established by law, may hold their respective offices for the term of six (6) years, one-third of the members of such boards to be elected or appointed every two (2) years in such manner as the Legislature may determine; vacancies in such offices to be filled as may be provided by law, and the Legislature shall enact suitable laws to give effect to this section.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors for the members of the Legislature, at the next general election to be held in this State, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For the amendment of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, regulating the term of office of the Board of Regents of the State University, and other Boards of Trustees, or Managers, heretofore or hereafter established by law." And all voters opposed to said amendment shall have printed or written on their ballots the words: "Against the amendment of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, regulating the term of office of the Board of Regents of the State University, and other Boards of Trustees, or Managers, heretofore or hereafter established by law."

Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have same published, as required by the law of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of five thousand ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to defray the expenses of said proclamation, publication, and election.

COLQUITT GETS A SECOND TERM

Has a Substantial Lead and Gaining as Returns Come In.

SHEPPARD DEFEATS WOLTERS FOR SENATE

Returns From Other State Offices Come In Slowly and the Outcome Is Still In Much Doubt.

GOVERNOR O. B. COLQUITT.

The returns received up to Monday from Saturday's democratic primary election in Texas indicate that Governor Colquitt's majority in the final returns will be in the neighborhood of 49,000 and that Hon. Morris Sheppard, for the United States senate, will have a plurality of approximately 40,000 over Jacob F. Wolters, but may not have a majority vote over all of his opponents.

Governor Colquitt estimates his majority at 60,000, whereas Hon. Richard Mays, campaign manager for Judge Ramsey, insists that Ramsey has been nominated by a substantial majority. The face of the returns as received, however, indicate that Governor Colquitt has been nominated, but probably by a smaller majority than he himself estimates.

Account for 291,941 Votes.

The returns received now account for 291,941 votes, or probably 70 per cent of the total number polled, as compared with 285,000 votes reported at the same time two years ago.

The number of votes in the race for United States senator and governor are as follows:

Vote for Senator—
 Sheppard 128,447
 Wolters 102,323
 Randall 26,253
 Zollner 2,251
 Sheppard's plurality is 26,114, but hasn't a majority.

Vote for Governor—
 Colquitt 161,113
 Ramsey 130,828
 Colquitt's majority in the present returns is 30,285.

The returns from the state ticket except as to governor and United States senator are still far from complete and in many instances it is impossible to form a satisfactory conclusion as to results.

Complete returns may change the order of their standing, but the count now stands as follows:

Congressional No. 1 3,099
 Congressional No. 2 2,951
 Congressional No. 3 2,344
 Congressional No. 4 1,187
 Second 665
 Third 487
 Fourth 235

Rayburn, Bonham, Fourth district; Hon. Joe H. Eagle, Houston, Eighth district; Hon. Oscar Callaway, Comanche, Twelfth district. Each of the three congressmen above named who were candidates to succeed themselves were re-elected. These are Dies, Young and Callaway.

Close in Fourth District.

It appears that the most closely contested congressional race was that of the Fourth district, where Mr. Rayburn was opposed by Tom W. Perkins, McKinney, Robert Lovelace, Ravenna, Ivan B. Erwin, Honey Grove; B. L. Jones, Sherman; J. I. Gibson, Greenville, Tom P. Wells, Bell, and Dr. M. M. Morrison, Denison.

JUDGE W. F. RAMSEY.

Complete returns may change the order of their standing, but the count now stands as follows:

Minimum Carload Shipments. Austin, Tex.—The railroad commission Saturday issued a circular providing that the minimum weight on carload shipments of canned fruits and vegetables shall be 20,000 pounds.

Eagle to Succeed Moore.
 The two opponents for congressional honors in the Eighth district are both residents of Houston, both being well known attorneys and sustaining a reputation beyond the borders of the state as orators of note. Mr. Eagle will succeed Hon. John M. Moore of Richmond, who was not a candidate for re-election.

MORRIS SHEPPARD

In his race for re-election Hon. Oscar Callaway of Comanche received more than a majority over his three opponents, Hon. Oscar W. Gillespie and Hon. Lindley M. Brown, both of the latter being residents of Fort Worth, and Mr. Yeager of Cleburne. Partial returns from Tarrant County, the largest in the district, indicate that Mr. Callaway carried this by a majority of more than 500 over his two opponents. Partial returns from his own county, that of Comanche, show that his majority there was about 1,200.

Vaughan Seems Successful.

In the first congressional district Hon. Horace Vaughan seems to have carried seven and probably eight of the eleven counties, and with a good plurality of the popular vote.

Of the more than 16,000 votes accounted for Mr. Vaughan received 5,318, H. Bascom Thomas of Sulphur Springs 3,724, Fred Dudley of Paris 3,524 and Senator R. B. Sturgeon of Paris 3,513.

Mr. Vaughan made his first entry into state politics with his election to the senate of the Thirty-second legislature. He was soon recognized as one of the leaders of the prohibition forces on the floor of the senate, and upon the announcement of Hon. Morris Sheppard for the United States senate Mr. Vaughan became a candidate for congress. In the Second congressional district Hon. Martin Dies of Woodville has been renominated to succeed himself. The incomplete returns indicate that he carried every county in his district except San Augustine, which went for Brooks; Hardin, which went for Collins, and possibly Cherokee and Harrison, both of which are close. It is probable that he will have a majority over his four opponents, John H. Broocks of San Augustine, V. A. Collins of Beaumont, John L. Little of Kountze and George B. Terrell of Alto.

Young Has Majority.

In the Third district Congressman James Young of Kaufman has a majority over his opponent, Hon. R. M. Lively of Canton. While the returns are not yet complete from this district, they indicate that the respective counties of the two candidates were loyal to their ambitious sons, but a majority of the votes in the other counties favored the return of Mr. Young to congress.

Because of the incompleteness of the returns for congressmen at large, and the distribution of the vote among the large number of candidates, the result as to those two offices is in doubt. Daniel E. Garrett, Hattin W. Sumners, C. M. Cureton and Jeff McLenore lead in the order here named, and it seems probable that two of these four will get the offices.

Edwards as State Treasurer.

The returns indicate that J. M. Edwards will succeed himself as state treasurer. J. T. Robison as land commissioner and Nelson Phillips as associate justice of the supreme court, place No. 1.

It seems that William E. Hawkins has defeated Joseph B. Dibrell, the present incumbent of the associate justiceship of the supreme court, place No. 2.

The other races are very much in doubt, although in the returns Mayes seems to have the advantage for lieutenant governor, Lane for controller, Kone for commissioner of agriculture, Earle B. Mayfield for railroad commissioner, and Prendergast for associate justice of the court of criminal appeals.

Randall Has No Comment.

Sherman, Tex.—Colonel C. B. Randall said that at present he had no statement to make or comment to offer on the result of the primary.

Minimum Carload Shipments.

Austin, Tex.—The railroad commission Saturday issued a circular providing that the minimum weight on carload shipments of canned fruits and vegetables shall be 20,000 pounds.

SENATE PASSED WOOL TARIFF BILL

PROGRESSIVES HELP ROUT THE REGULARS.

The La Follette Bill Was Adopted by a Vote of 47 to 20. Amendments.

Washington—Ten progressive republicans overthrew the regular republicans in the senate Thursday and joined with the democrats in passing the La Follette woolen tariff revision bill as a substitute for the democratic measure, framed by the house of representatives. The La Follette bill was adopted by a vote of 47 to 20, less than two hours after the republican leaders had achieved what they believed was a victory, when a compromise submitted by Senator Penrose was passed in the committee of the whole.

The sudden termination of the wool tariff fight came as the climax of a day full of surprising events. The democratic house bill for a revision of the wool tariff was technically before the senate. The progressives first voted for Senator Cummins' substitute, the rates of which were slightly above those of the democratic bill. They were defeated here, 14 to 57. Led by the defeated Senator Cummins, who said he would accept the Penrose bill as a "step in the right direction," all but three of the progressives rallied to the support of the Penrose measure and it was adopted by the narrow margin of 34 to 32. This took place in the committee of the whole. The amended measure then passed into the senate proper.

In the meantime Senator La Follette, who, with Senators Clapp and Kenyon, had joined the democrats in voting against the Penrose substitute, saw an opportunity to again protect his bill of 1911, which President Taft had vetoed.

There was a quick rally of progressive forces and the La Follette bill was introduced as a substitute for the already amended bill. It became the substitute for the democratic house bill, and as such the senate finally passed it, 47 to 20.

The progressives who joined with the democrats in adopting the La Follette substitute were: Borah, Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Gronna, Kenyon, La Follette, Poindexter and Works. The amended bill goes back to the house of representatives and the resulting tariff situation is exactly what followed the adoption of a woolen tariff in the special session of 1911. The La Follette bill is the same as passed then by the senate with a raw wool duty of 30 per cent and an average duty of 55 per cent on manufactured goods.

TEXAS COTTON SEED CRUSHERS ADJOURN

Much Time Devoted to Question of Dirt in Material—New Officers Were Elected.

Houston, Tex.—After considerable time had been devoted to the question of dirt in cotton seed, a subject which seemed to be uppermost in the minds of the delegates who have been in Houston attending the eighteenth annual convention of the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, that organization elected officers for the ensuing year and adjourned Wednesday. Before adjourning the crushers officially indorsed the idea of establishing a cotton seed products exposition at Dallas. This idea was originally advanced by J. W. Allison of Ennis.

Claude Wiley of Taylor, Texas, was elevated from the position of vice president to that of president. Fred Pendleton of Farmersville was elected vice president. J. C. Underwood of Honey Grove was re-elected treasurer, and Robert Gibson was re-elected secretary.

80,000 Bushels of Peaches.

Bryan, Tex.—M. H. James, Jr., who graduated at the agricultural and mechanical college in June, has just returned from Scottsville, in East Texas, where he superintended the gathering of the crop from the largest peach orchard in the world. There are 1,300 acres, all planted in Elbertas, and 80,000 bushels were gathered. Five hundred hands were employed, but they could not gather fast enough, and several carloads were left on the trees. This was the banner crop the farm ever made.

Killed in Freight Wreck.

Beaumont, Tex.—An extra west-bound freight train on the Southern Pacific was wrecked about five miles east of Beaumont Wednesday, four cars being derailed in the middle of the train. Roscoe Lynn, aged about 25 years, who was one of five men on the train, was killed.

200 Houses Are Submerged.

Dunbar, Pa.—A devastating cloudburst rushing down the mountain side ruined throughout Dunbar into torrents. More than 200 houses were submerged and were swept away.

TEXAS VITAL STATISTICS FOR MONTH OF JUNE

Births Double That of Deaths—Forty-Six Sets of Twins—4,121 Births, 2,159 Deaths.

Austin, Tex.—R. P. Babcock, state registrar of vital statistics, has submitted his report for June as follows:

June proved to be a very singular month; in fact, it might easily be termed a month of oddities. For example: Tarrant County reports the death of a white man from eating matches; Howard County, the death of a little white boy, two years of age, from abscess caused by a melon seed; a male Mexican died in El Paso County from hiccoughs; a white man in Wood County died from sunstroke, and a colored man in Upshur County from lightning; a baby boy in Brown County died from a spider bite, and a 7-year-old colored boy in Coleman County from a rattlesnake bite. These old folk lived past the 100 mark.

There were 2,159 deaths reported—a decrease from May of 349, against 2,942 of the corresponding month in 1911.

Four thousand one hundred and twenty-one births were reported for June—an increase of 101 over May, and a decrease of 180 over the corresponding month last year. Of this amount 46 sets of twins were reported, an increase over May of 13 sets, and a decrease of 10 sets from the month of June, 1911. There were 1,962 more births reported for June than deaths.

It is of especial interest to find that meningitis is practically a thing of the past, there being only 69 deaths reported for June. This is a marked decrease of 47 over May. Pellagra, as has been proven, is a summer disease, 34 deaths reported, an increase of 11 over May and an increase of 8 over June, 1911.

It is more than gratifying to find deaths from tuberculosis reduced to 179, 85 less than May and 95 less than in June, 1911. At the same time, the heat of summer has placed diarrhoea and enteritis under two years at the head of the list of leading causes of death—246 babies having been reported as dying from this complaint, a gain over May of 18 and of 84 over the corresponding month of last year.

Nineteen suicides were reported; 5 food poisonings; 14 deaths from burns; 24 accidental drownings; 22 accidental firearm discharges; 4 accidental cuttings; 5 deaths from falls; 1 death in a mine; 19 crushed to death; 27 murders.

WIDESPREAD DEVASTATION FOLLOWS STORM

In Several States, and Many People Drown, Buildings Wrecked, Crops Ruined, Etc.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Dearth and widespread devastation from tremendous rains resulted Wednesday in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia.

From all sections come details of hundreds of buildings wrecked or completely washed away, streets torn up and bridges swept down, crops ruined, light plants put out of commission, while transportation, telegraph and telephone facilities are badly crippled.

At Evans Station, three miles north of Uniontown, Pa., a cloudburst sent waters raging into the mouth of the Superba No. 2 mine. Fourteen men were drowned, while thirty-seven others had miraculous escapes from a similar death.

A few miles away, at Lemont mine No. 2, three other men are reported to have been drowned in like fashion.

Up in the Red Stone Valley near Brownsville, Pa., it is rumored that at least ten miners were caught while at work by flood waters entering the mines and drowned.

At Millsboro, Pa., seventy-five miners had a narrow escape.

Three deaths are believed to have occurred in the vicinity of Wheeling, W. Va.

For a radius of 100 miles around Pittsburg there is a scene of desolation. Wrecked buildings are visible everywhere, while streets are strewn with debris. In some places the debris is piled twenty feet high.

Advocates of 3c Piece.

Washington.—Mayor Newton Baker of Cleveland has found many prominent advocates of Representative Baileys' bill providing for the coinage of a 3-c piece. Mr. Baileys gave the letters to the senate committee on finance Wednesday when he urged the passage of the measure. There are letters from Andrew Carnegie, Mayor Gaynor, Theodore Roosevelt and Governor Wilson.

Beveridge Temporarily

Chicago, Ill.—Announcement of Albert J. Beveridge's selection as temporary national Progressive party chief developed Thursday.

THE GREAT ENGLEWOOD ROBBERY.

Do you ever think how a burglar, who breaks into your house regards you? You play an important part in his scheme of things, it is true, but he hasn't a very high opinion of you, at least of your fighting abilities. The thieves who broke into the house of Banker Baldwin, at Englewood, N. J., a few years ago and perpetrated cruel outrages upon every member of the family had no fear of dogs or guns. They did their work with fending's precision and congratulated themselves that they left no clue. But the teeth marks left on one of the gang by a faithful bull dog who died defending his mistress, proved their undoing. Now let the principal actors tell the story.

DANNY M'BRIDE'S STORY.

In the days when masked burglaries were in vogue, and all the villages within one hundred miles of New York were considered by these special students of the dark lantern and jimmy as the proper places for them to visit, there was no more desperate gang in the world than that led by Danny McBride, who was a sort of a hero among the lower class of citizens in the old Second Ward.

Danny followed thieving on the bay and river front for several years, but the business was not very remunerative, as most of the stuff which was stolen was disposed of as old junk. It was about as safe a line of thievery as there was going, because Danny and his gang, which consisted of Ben Harper, "Simmy" Kelly, "Old Man" Dobbs, Pete Beller and Jack Opp, were such cold-blooded cut-throats and careless handlers of the knife and revolver that no one, not even the police, cared about running up against them.

They were known as the greatest collection of rough-and-tumble fighters, and many a bitter battle did they have single-handed or together with the champions of the Ninth, or American Ward, as it was known at that time. It was the toss of a cent who was the better man, Abe Hicks, the American, or Danny McBride. And, although they had a dozen fights in which all the work was done while they were lying in the street, they always came out about even. The last fight they had, John Morrissey was the referee, and he was in sympathy with McBride. Hicks seemed to be getting a trifle the best of the argument, and Morrissey interfered. Then on the Morton street pier occurred one of the bloodiest fights that ever took place in the Ninth Ward. McBride went to the hospital covered with wounds and glory, and it was three months before he was able to get out.

It was along about this time that Jeff Reynolds, whose life I saved when Billy Porter was trying to fill him full of lead, came down from Sing Sing after doing a stretch of ten years, and the first thing he did was to hunt me up. I was then under cover for a highway trick on Staten Island, but Jeff knew where to find your uncle. When I found out that the cops had no pipes on me for the Staten Island job I went in with Jeff, Ben Harper, Long Sam Wiley and Spanish Forbes. Forbes was a nigger. Jeff got up a scheme to do the towns on the East and Hudson River fronts, and travel in a sloop. I always liked the water, and this just suited me. We worked off the tricks in the houses on each side of the rivers one after the other, so as to throw down the police. All our sailing was done in the night, and Forbes, who traveled on shore as a beggar, planted the places for us. It was dead easy work, and more like a picnic than anything else, calling up people in the night with masks on and relieving them of their wealth. We had plenty of luck on the Hudson River front and ratted over forty houses. The game got so hot that committees went out at night with rifles to hunt for crooks and we pulled off for a while as it never pays to be a target even for a bad hunter.

While laying off I picked up a paper and read of a swell wedding at Englewood at the house of a man named Baldwin one of the wealthiest ducks in the neighborhood and some fellow had figured up the presents in jewelry and silver plate as being worth $200,000. I showed it to Jeff, and said that we ought to give the place a call before any of the presents were sold. He agreed with me and we sent Forbes to take a look at the place. He reported that the job was as easy as finding the stuff on the road, and the night after the wedding we landed in Englewood in a grocery wagon.

"When we got alongside of the house I was afraid of alarm bells, so I sent Wiley to the top of the piazza to try his luck. The window catch was a double-ender, which could not be worked with a blade, and he had to cut out a pane of glass with a diamond point. The window opened into a vacant room, and we all got into the house that way. We put on our masks and started through the house. We struck old Baldwin's room first, and he actually showed fight. He tried to get to a knob which probably was a signal of some kind, and Jeff put him to sleep with a sandbag. They were all fighters in the house, and a young fellow shot Jeff through the arm in the hall. He was put to sleep before he could do any more shooting. The women—three of them—had to be tied up and gagged to keep them still.

"When we thought that everybody was safe we divided up and went on a hunt for the swag. Forbes went to the front of the house, and in a few seconds I heard some terrible groans and a lot of things upsetting. I ran to the room, and there was Forbes having it out with a bull mastiff on the floor, with a young woman sitting on the bed and urging the beast on. She was a beauty and not scared a bit. The mastiff was getting the best of the fight and had a grip on Forbes' neck which was making him look sick. I pulled my gun and ordered the girl to call off the dog, but she defied me and told me to blaze away. I saw the bluff would not work, so I got out my old blackjack, an ugly-looking thing, and hit the beast a clip on the skull that knocked the life out of him.

"The girl flew at me when I banged the dog, like a wild animal, and I had all I could do to hold her without hurting her. I would not have harmed a hair of that spunky girl's head for a million, but I had to gag her for safety. I always felt sorry for her as she lay looking at the dog, which was probably her pet, and made a good fight to defend her.

"We had easy sailing after that, and in every room there was a lot of stuff which we put into bags. All of it looked good and was very heavy. There was any quantity of jewelry lying around, and in a small safe which we had no trouble in forcing with a wedge, there was a load of diamonds which had been described in the papers. We took our time in packing everything up in good shape, and after a good meal and a big draught of the old man's wine cellar, we quit the place. Harper was waiting down the road a bit with the wagon, and we loaded all the stuff into it."

DETECTIVE MALLON'S STORY.

"The dastardly treatment which the thieves," said Detective Mallon, "who did the work at Baldwin's mansion in Englewood gave the family caused great excitement, and the local police were paralyzed and did not know which way to turn. Mr. Baldwin lived part of the time in New York, and was a broker in Wall street. He requested us to give him aid in running down the thieves, and offered $20,000 reward for their capture. The case was given to me the second day after the robbery, and I went carefully over the ground.

"I found the family in a terrible condition, and Miss Alice Baldwin almost crazy over the loss of her dog, which defended her so gallantly, and was buried in the finest part of the lawn. The others were all suffering from concussion of the brain from a terrible blow on the head. The only member of the family who could give any clue, which was of any value was Miss Alice, who slept through all the early part of the confusion and was awakened by the growling of the dog. The light was burning in her room, and she saw a heavy built man standing beside her bed. She called the dog, who was lying at the foot of the bed, and set him on the thief. In the struggle the dog tore the mask off, and she saw the burglar was a negro.

"She said that she had seen the negro before in Englewood, and thought that she had seen him on a wagon loaded with garden truck going toward New York about two weeks before. Upon this information I made a tour all through the country to get a trace of a missing negro and wasted a lot of time in following the wanderings of a colored man who had worked for several days with a farm or near Lodi. I found him, but there were no wounds on his body, and this left him out of the game.

"When I returned to New York, I had a complete list of all the stolen goods, and made a tour of all the fences which were likely to give up information to the police, but learned nothing that would do me any good. A friend of mine who kept a liquor store in Greenwich street told me of a watch which he had bought from a fellow who looked like a tramp about a week before, and it had all the marks of one of the watches which had been stolen. I took the watch to Mr. Baldwin, and he said that it was his property.

"I made up my mind that the tramp did not have any hand in the robbery, and had got possession of the watch in some other way. I hunted high and low for this fellow, in the cheap dives, and finally landed a fellow answering to his description. I took him to the liquor dealer, and he was fully identified. I locked him up and squeezed him very hard for information. He persisted that he had found the watch in the street, but after he was put through the mill, and charged with killing a man to get the time piece, he admitted that he stole it from a man who was lying drunk in a hallway in Greenwich street.

"From the description that he gave me and the knowledge of crooks which I had, I concluded that it was probably Danny McBride. I dropped downtown, and after hanging around for a few days, I felt satisfied that Danny was in hiding for something. I could not find him in any of his haunts.

"One evening, while going through Bleeker street, I met Frank Carroll, and he told me an amusing story about a voodoo woman, who sold charms to the superstitious negroes. She was from Cuba, spoke Spanish and had wonderful powers. She could destroy witches who followed negroes, and could cure diseases by the laying on of her hands. Carroll said that there was a report going around among the negroes that she had healed the wounds and destroyed the evil spirit which was bothering a negro at a single sitting, for which service she had received a fabulous sum. Ordinarily, I wouldn't have listened to this story, but by some strange influence I associated this negro with the one who had been bitten by the dog at Baldwin's house.

"A good detective always runs down every idea, no matter how foolish it may seem, and I decided to have a chat with the voodoo doctress. She lived in a rear building in Wooster street, on the top floor, and received me with a great show of suspicion. I told her that I believed in her power to kill my enemies, and I offered to pay her liberally for one of her enemy-destroying charms.

"In a few moments she limbered up a little and made a statement that fairly caused me to jump for joy. She said that the voodoo had had this man in his power had bitten him all over the body, and his flesh was filled with deep indentations from the teeth. That was all she would say then, and she would not tell who he was or anything about him, except that he had gone to Cuba. I got a detective from the Mercer street station to watch the house and in the evening I got Al Pender, a colored man who could be depended on to play a part.

"He called upon the voodoo woman, and the first thing he did was to pull out a big knife and sharpen it. He said nothing while doing this and the woman became very uneasy. When he got through the pantomime he told her in very solemn tones that the object of his visit was to kill her. He gave her one alternative. If she would tell him who the man was who called on her with the teeth marks in his body, her life would be spared and she would get $1,000 in gold. Pender shook a bag full of metal and gave her three minutes to answer. She whispered the name of Spanish Forbes. Pender knew that he had the woman in his power, and pressed the question, under the same conditions, as to where Forbes was. She told him he was in a certain cellar in Wooster street.

"I had heard all she said from the hall, and at this point opened the door. I ordered her to take me to Forbes, but it took a prod from Pender's knife to make her move. She had told the truth. Forbes was in the cellar in a semi-delirious state from morphine. He talked all the time, and I made the woman sit on his bed. He seemed to be frightened when he saw her. I asked him who was with him at the Englewood robbery, and when I told him that the woman had told me everything, he gave the names of Jeff Reynolds, Danny McBride, Sam Wiley, and Ben Harper, and told where they could be found.

"That was enough for me, and I sent Forbes to a hospital under guard. The same night I captured McBride, Wiley and Reynolds. They were tried, convicted and put away for fifteen years in Jersey. I caught Harper two years later, and he got the same dose. Forbes, who turned state's evidence, got off with seven years.

The KITCHEN CABINET

EVERY task wrought out in patience Brings a blessing to the doer Joy comes to the waiting worker. But eludes the swift pursuer.

FROZEN DISHES.

There is no dessert which ever takes the place of ices and ice creams during the hot weather; they are not only refreshing but nourishing, and are so universally well liked that one cannot go amiss to serve them on all occasions.

The plain Philadelphia ice cream may be used as a foundation for any number of delightful combinations, for example:

Nougat Ice Cream.—Add a half cupful each of chopped filberts, walnuts and almonds with a teaspoonful each of almond and vanilla extract. One can buy the plain cream all frozen in many places so reasonably, and it can be repacked with any additions of fruit or nuts, making the work very light.

The flavor of peach is given by putting two cups of strained peach pulp and a teaspoonful of lemon juice to plain ice cream.

A delicious flavor of almonds is given to ice cream in this manner: Blanch and chop a cup of almonds, caramelize four tablespoonfuls of sugar and add the almonds. When cold grind to a powder, add to the cream with a teaspoonful of almond extract.

The most delicious of creams is made by adding two cups of squeezed and strained raspberries to the cream. The color is enhanced by the addition of a teaspoon of lemon juice.

A pretty and easy way to make fancy dessert is raspberry bombe. Line a melon mold with raspberry ice and fill with vanilla ice cream or with a pineapple ice or ice cream. Pack in ice and salt and let stand four hours. Serve with whipped cream or garnish with fresh berries and leaves.

Sultana Roll.—This is a great favorite and can be made without the use of liquor. Line one pound baking powder cans with pistachio ice cream (this is plain cream with the chopped nuts frozen in it). Sprinkle with candied fruit that has stood over night in sweetened and flavored whipped cream. Pack as usual. Serve with the sauce in which the fruit has stood over night.

TAKE your needle, my child, and work at your pattern; it will come out a rose by and by. Life is like that—one stitch at a time taken patiently, and the pattern will come out all right like the embroidery.

HOT WEATHER DISHES.

A fetching and appetizing salad is this: Lay a slice of chilled pineapple on a lettuce leaf, heap a nicely seasoned spoonful of cream cheese in the center and sprinkle with chopped pecans, peanuts or pistachio nuts. Serve with French dressing.

German Salad.—Boil a white, solid head of cabbage until perfectly tender; drain carefully and put to press between two weights until quite cold. Then slice and place in a salad bowl with half a dozen cold boiled potatoes cut in slices, a sliced beet, and half a dozen hard cooked eggs cut in slices, a finely chopped onion, and a quarter of a sour orange, mix gently. Have ready a cupful of tartar sauce, season with salt, pepper, mix again and serve with any cold roast. A drop or two of tabasco sauce is an improvement.

Tartar Sauce.—Mix a tablespoonful of vinegar, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce in a bowl and heat over hot water. Brown a third of a cup of butter in an omelet pan and add to the first mixture.

Fried Tomatoes With Cream Sauce.—Cut tomatoes in halves without peeling, season with salt, pepper and roll in very fine crumbs. Fry in hot fat until brown, then take up carefully with a pancake turner and arrange on a chop plate. Add a tablespoonful of drippings to the fat already in the pan, stir in a tablespoonful of flour and as soon as it bubbles add a cup of rich milk. Stir until smooth and pour around the tomatoes.

Oatmeal Drink.—Mix a tablespoonful of fine oatmeal into a smooth paste with water then pour over three pints of boiling water, stirring all the time. Place over the heat and boil until reduced to two pints. Set aside to cool, and pour the clear gruel from the sediment. Add to this the juice of a lemon and sufficient sugar to sweeten. Serve cold.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

In the age of research and experiment all nature was called by the scientific method to contribute its share to the progress of the human race. In the past century, and among them by no means least important, discoveries in medicine is that of Therapion, which has been used with great success in French hospitals and that it is worthy the attention of those who suffer from a direct, indirect, nervous diseases, chronic weakness, sleepless nights, general prostration, etc. There is no doubt, in fact it is recognized from the big stir created amongst specialists that Therapion is destined to cast into oblivion all those previous remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. It is of course impossible to tell, suffering all we should like to tell them in this short article, but those who would like to know more about this remedy that has effected so many a cure, might as well see, if they can, the original and addressed envelope for F. RICH book to Dr. La Caze, Med. Co., Harrogate Road, Harrogate, London, Eng. and decide for themselves whether the New French Remedy "THERAPION" No. 1, No. 2 or No. 3 is what they require and have been seeking in vain during a life of misery, suffering, ill health and unhappiness. Therapion is sold by druggists or mail, 110, Posters St., Beckman St., New York.

Expresses Appreciation.

To the Democracy of Houston County.

Words are inadequate to express my appreciation of the great victory gained by me on the 27th of July. I take it as a complete vindication of my business administration and not a compliment to my personal-ities. The time has come when people expect business attended to in a business-like manner and I have attempted to do this at all times. I shall try to show my appreciation of your support by a strict attention to duty. Respectfully submitted, O. C. Goodwin, County Clerk, Houston Co., Texas.

Arrested for Bigamy.

W. J. Lee, a printer formerly in the employ of the Houston County Times and the Weldon Enterprise, was arrested at Kilgore last week at the request of City Marshal LeGory, who went to Kilgore and brought the prisoner back to Crockett, where he is now in jail.

The officers claim that Lee has been married the third time. Lee stated that his first marriage was at Waxahachie and that this marriage resulted in a divorce. His second marriage was at Mineola and his third at Crockett and it was the latter that got him into trouble. While working on the Times he met and, on the 28th day of May, married Mrs. Mary Garner, a boarding house keeper of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. C. Payne, editor of the paper on which Lee was employed. Later he worked at Weldon and Palestine. The Mineola wife, learning of her husband's whereabouts and conduct, got into communication with the city marshal of Crockett with the result that Lee was traced to Kilgore and arrested as above stated. Lee told the officer that he thought wife No. 2 had also secured a divorce, as had wife No. 1.

Dr. C. H. Ellsworth, dentist, 16 Baldwin St., Rochester, N. Y., says Foley Kidney Pills gave him immediate relief and strengthened him wonderfully. "I have been bothered with weak kidneys and bladder trouble and suffered much pain. Foley Kidney Pills gave me immediate relief and strengthened me wonderfully. I am pleased to recommend their use." Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Creating the Office of Prison Commissioner and Making the Term of Office of the Board of Prison Commissioners Six Years.

(H. J. R. No. 22.)

House Joint Resolution.

A Joint Resolution proposing to amend Article XVI of the State Constitution by adding thereto Section 58, creating the office of Prison Commissioner, and making the term of office of the members of the Board of Prison Commissioners six years, and making an appropriation.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Sec. 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new section which shall be known as Section 58 and shall read as follows:

Section 58. (Article XVI.) The Board of Prison Commissioners charged by law with the control and management of the State prisons, shall be composed of three members appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate, and whose terms of office shall be six years, or until their successors are appointed and qualified; provided that the terms of office of the Board of Prison Commissioners first appointed after the adoption of this amendment shall begin on January 20th of the year following the adoption of this amendment, and shall hold office as follows: One shall serve two years, one four years, and one six years. Their terms to be decided by lot after they shall have qualified, and one Prison Commissioner shall be appointed every two years thereafter. In case of a vacancy in said office the Governor of this State shall fill said vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term thereof.

Sec. 2. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue and have published the necessary proclamation for the submission of this proposed amendment to the constitution of the State of Texas to the qualified voters for members of the Legislature of the State of Texas at the next general election to be held in this State. All persons favoring said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots "For a six years' term for Prison Commissioners" and those opposed to the adoption of this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots "Against a six years term for Prison Commissioners."

Sec. 3. The sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to defray the expenses of publication of the Governor's proclamation submitting this proposed amendment.

Assistant Traveling Auditor. Santa Fe, June 13.—Traveling Auditor and Bank Examiner Howell Earnest has appointed L. B. Wootters of Clayton, Union county, assistant traveling auditor and assistant bank examiner. Mr. Wootters a young man of family and is said to be well qualified for the position. He assumed his new duties today. He succeeds T. J. Guilfoil, resigned.—Morning Journal. Mr. Wootters is well known in Clayton and Union county, having been assistant cashier of the First National Bank during the past two years. Auditor Earnest could not have found a better qualified man for his assistant, and the News offers congratulations to both the traveling auditor and Mr. Wootters because of his appointment.—Clayton News.

The first day of July the topmost piece of steel work was riveted in place on the Woolworth Building in New York. This structure is notable as being the loftiest building devoted to business purposes in the world. From the sidewalk to the top of the cupola is 750 feet, which is 50 feet more than the Metropolitan Building in this city, and 138 feet more than the height of the Singer Building tower, also in New York. The building contains fifty-five stories in the tower. It is of the standard steel column and floor beam construction; but in order to take care of the enormous dead load and the great wind load, the columns are necessarily of unprecedented size.—Scientific American.

A. S. Jones, of the Lee Pharmacy, Chico, Cal., who has handled Foley & Co.'s medicines for many years, says: "I consider that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has no equal, and is the one cough medicine I can recommend as containing no narcotics or other harmful properties." The genuine in a yellow package. I. W. Sweet.
