THE LORD'S PRAYER.

(Sent by Past Commander-in-Chief Tanner.)

Thou to the mercy seat our souls doth gather
 To do our duty unto Thee Our Father;
 To whom all praise, all honor should be given;
 For thou art the great God Who art in Heaven,
 Thou by Thy wisdom rul'st the world's whole frame;
 Forever, therefore Hallowed be Thy name,
 Let nevermore delay divide us from
 Thy glorious grace, but let Thy Kingdom come,
 Let Thy commands opposed be by none;
 But Thy good pleasure and Thy will be done.
 And let our promptness to obey be even
 The very same On earth as 'tis in Heaven;
 Then for our souls, O Lord, we also pray,
 Thou would'st be pleased to Give us this day
 The food of life, wherewith our souls are fed
 Sufficient raiment and Our daily bread,
 With every needful thing do Thou relieve us.
 And of Thy mercy, pity And forgive us
 All our misdeeds for Him whom thou didst please
 To make an offering for Our trespasses,
 And for as much, O Lord, as we believe
 That Thou wilt pardon us As we forgive,
 Let that love teach, wherein Thou dost acquaint us,
 To pardon all Those who trespass against us,
 And though sometimes Thou find'st we have forgot
 This love for Thee, yet help And lead us not,
 Through soul or body's want to desperation,
 Nor let earth's gain drive us Into temptation.
 Let not the soul of any true believer
 Fail in the time of trial But deliver,
 Yea, save them, from the malice of the devil.
 And both in life and death, keep Us from evil.
 Thus pray we, Lord, for that of Thee, from whom
 This may be had For Thine is the Kingdom
 This world is of Thy work, its wondrous story,
 To these belongs The power and the glory,
 And all Thy wondrous works have ended never,
 But will remain forever and Forever,
 Thus we poor creatures would confess again,
 And thus would say eternally Amen.

June Brides Honored.

"It was the time when lilies bloom,
 And all the world was fair."

One of the most beautiful and delightful events was the reception on the afternoon of June 5th tendered the "bonny, blushing brides-to-be" by Mrs. W. B. Page and Mrs. C. N. Corry at the home of Mrs. Corry.

The stately, colonial mansion, with its picturesque setting of majestic oaks and velvety lawns, was never more attractive than on this happy occasion.

The door was opened for the guests as they arrived by Miss Elizabeth Adams. After being cordially greeted by Mrs. Corry, Miss Nodelle Jordan introduced the guests to the "sweet girl graduates" of 1915 Crockett High School, who received with Mrs. Corry in the hall.

Misses Hazel Long and Kathleen

Hail took charge of the guests, escorting them to the parlor, where underneath a great floral bell of sweet peas and ivy leaves Mrs. Page stood with the three charming brides-to-be and introduced them to the guests.

The reception hall, parlors, library and dining room were beautifully decorated with handsome foliage plants and cut flowers, the favorite sweet peas predominating in the parlors where stood the bonny brides-to-be, Misses Etta Hail, Yolo Kennedy and Brownie Collins.

After a little informal reception, Miss Hazel Long gave each guest a little "Floral Wedding Story" to solve, which proved a very pleasing feature of the entertainment and provided interesting souvenirs of the occasion. Mrs. Fisher Arledge was given the privilege of reading the correct answers.

After the contest Mrs. P. Jensen and Mrs. Frank Edmiston invited the guests to the dining room, where a delicious ice course of cream and angel food cake was served. Here, in honor of the brides-to-be, the white tones were carried out in every detail. In the center of the table, adorned with a rich cluny lace cover, stood a large crystal bowl of snowy magnolias—that typical southern bloom. From the electrolier streamers of white marine reached to the edges of the table ending in fluffy bows, and crystal vases of the waxen blossoms adorned mantel and sideboard. In the dining room Mesdames

Chas. Clinton, Sydnor Murchison, J. L. Jordan, W. A. Norris and Louis Bond took turns at assisting and seeing that all guests were properly served.

In the spacious library stood the handsome silver punch service from which that refreshing drink was served the entire afternoon by some of Crockett's daintiest and fairest little maidens, Misses Maude McConnell, Katie Chamberlain, Lily Belle Hail, Sarah Mac Crook and Ruth Warfield.

Mrs. Corry introduced Mrs. Jack Beasley as toastmistress of the day. Mrs. Beasley in her own happy manner gave a beautiful toast herself, then called upon others. Miss Stella Sheridan promptly came forward and gave a lovely toast to the brides. Miss Mack Burton, representing the graduates, gave a toast in most charming manner to the brides, followed by Miss Cary, who complimented the graduates in a splendid toast. The toastmistress then gave an original and beautiful little poem as a toast to our "Winsome Etta," written by Mrs. Ike Daniel as a lovely tribute to her little friend and neighbor, followed by a very sweet response from Miss Hail. Miss Bella Lipscomb in her own queenly manner gave a special and appropriate toast to Miss Brownie Collins, with a very touching response from Miss Brownie. Then came forward that little queen of expression, Miss Otice McConnell, in a special toast for her dear friend Yolo, who gave a graceful response. Then the hostesses came in for their share of the toasts, Misses Hallie Aldrich and Kathleen Hail thanking them most charmingly for the honors conferred upon the June brides. The last toast was given by Mrs. Page in her most winning manner to the brides.

Miss Long started the Victrola on "All Went Merry as a Marriage Bell." This was followed by a short and charming musical. Mr. Barker Tunstall and Miss Willie Meriwether gave a beautiful duet, violin and piano. Misses Minnie Wall and Clarie Elliott gave vocal numbers and Miss Virginia Foster gave some brilliant piano numbers.

Mrs. Fisher Arledge also gave valuable assistance in making the entertainment a success.

As the shadows were lengthening the guests bid these charming hostesses a reluctant adieu, expressing as well as words could the pleasure the hours had given them.

San Pedro Society.

The last regular meeting of our society was had on the evening of the 5th inst. A large number was on hand from Enon, Percilla, Augusta, Belott, Grapeland, Crockett, Jones' School House and perhaps from other places.

We had several recitations, all of which were successes, and among which we took notice in particular of that of little Miss Rozi Jones of Percilla. The song of Misses Hattie and Verna Covington was also a noticeable success. Next came an interesting dialogue by Gail and Irene Luce.

The question of debate was, Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine Should Be Abolished. The affirmative was represented by Master Julius Kent, the negative by Master Garrett Luce. Decision of judges for negative.

Following this was a recitation by Joseph Edwin Winfree Jr. of Crockett, his mother and father having come up with him. We are sure everybody enjoyed this treat and from his pleasing look Master Joe Ed found his maiden public appearance quite pleasant.

Next came an interesting reading and impersonation by Garrett Luce.

Hon. J. E. Winfree delivered a very interesting, eloquent and inspiring address on Jefferson Davis. The speech was the ablest we ever listened to on the subject. Following this our choir sang "Tenting On the Old Camp Ground," and then came the drill by a bevy of little girls.

A most interesting and successful feature of the program was a song, with music accompaniment, by Mr. and Mrs. Armie Lively of Percilla.

A dialogue by Miss Robbie Whitaker and Messrs. Willis and Tom Whitaker Jr. proved very successful.

Mr. Luther Lively of Grapeland and Messrs. Chas. Dickey, John Buckalew, Armie Lively and Garrett Sullivan of Percilla assisted our orchestra, for which favor they have our sincere thanks.

It will be impossible for our debaters to accept challenge to speak at the picnic on July 3 at Lovelady, or that community. Reports that we had done so have unintentionally got started. Our orchestra and debaters will also have to cancel their engagement with the Ephesus society on the evening of the 12th inst. We are sorry, but preparation for our next meeting has made these steps inevitable.

Next meeting of our society will be on the evening of July 3. For this occasion we shall have the very best program that we are capable of rendering. We mean to celebrate the "Glorious Fourth" on this occasion, and one of the best speakers in east Texas will deliver an oration. Make your arrangements now to be our guest on this occasion.

CROCKETT COMMERCIAL CLUB ORGANIZED.

The movement for a Crockett Commercial Club, as related in these columns last week, has materialized. Organization was effected Wednesday at a meeting of business men held in the court house. At this meeting nine directors were elected as follows: G. Q. King, J. S. Shivers, C. L. Edmiston, S. L. Murchison, Dan McLean, J. W. Young, J. C. Millar, Arch Baker, John LeGory.

Election of a president or chairman and the selection of a secretary were deferred until another meeting to be held this week. It is the desire of the directors to use no undue haste in the selection of their presiding officer and secretary. The success or failure of any organization depends largely on those at the head of its affairs.

While not minimizing the importance of deliberation in the selection of a presiding officer, for it is an office not easily filled, the hard task of the directors will be in the selection of a competent secretary. The Courier attempted to point out last week the absolute necessity of filling this office with a capable man. A good secretary must be a man of broad and liberal views. He must have nothing of smallness in his make-up. His single aim must be the general advancement of the town and country. He must be a man incapable of bias and uninfluenced by any political faction or business interest. To be a good secretary he must represent the best interests of the town as a whole and he must be a live wire. There should be no consideration here for a dead one or even a half-live one. He must be a good advertiser, for our natural resources must be set before the world in a way that will cause the world to sit up and take notice.

The directors are representative business men and will no doubt receive the co-operation of our people in their efforts to give Crockett a live commercial organization. They were elected Wednesday. On Thursday six of them went to Houston to attend the organization of the South and East Texas Commercial Club, which met Friday. Those in attendance from Crockett were J. W. Young, S. L. Murchison, Arch Baker, J. C. Millar, C. L. Edmiston and Dan McLean.

GO TO CHURCH The Church Is the Gateway to Real Happiness

GO TO CHURCH if you wish to be saved.

There is a hell. No doubt about that. Like heaven, it BEGINS HERE AND NOW. Recently the newspapers carried a story relating the suicide of a well known man. Ten years before he murdered his young wife and allowed another to be executed for it. He wrote: "I can endure it no longer. Each day the awful secret plunges me into the torment of the damned." For ten years he had lived in hell and then, like Judas, went out into the darkness and hanged himself. No writer, even with an inexhaustible vocabulary, can paint a literal fire equal to the one that exists in many a human soul. If there is no hell, why plan churches, missions, slum settlements?

THE MOMENT A MAN ENTERS A CHURCH HE FEELS BETTER. THE CHURCH IS THE GATEWAY TO HEAVEN. WHY DON'T YOU JOIN THE GO TO CHURCH THROUGHT? YOU'LL FIND THE BEST PEOPLE IN YOUR COMMUNITY IN CHURCH. IF YOU HAVE BEEN A BACKSLIDER GET BUSY NOW. IT IS NEVER TOO LATE TO MEND. YOU'LL FIND THAT IF YOU GO TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY YOU'LL WANT TO GO TO CHURCH THE FOLLOWING SUNDAY.

There are thousands who would not dream of staying away from church on Christmas day or Easter, but who Sunday after Sunday will miss GOING TO CHURCH. It is to these people that this appeal is particularly addressed. If it is wrong to miss GOING TO CHURCH on Christmas and Easter, why is it not wrong to do so on Sunday?

WHEN THE GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT GOT INTO FULL SWING A YEAR AGO THERE WAS A SPLENDID RESPONSE. THE CHURCHES WERE FILLED. DON'T LET THIS SPLENDID MOVEMENT DIE OUT. IT IS ONE OF THE BEST—IF NOT THE BEST—AGITATIONS THAT EVER WAS STARTED.

DO YOUR PART.

ANTIQUITY OF GLOVES.

In Some Form or Other They Have Been in Use at Least 2,000 Years.

When did people first wear gloves? It is impossible to say. We do know, however, that the practice dates back very far into history. In some of the Roman bas reliefs, for instance, certain persons are represented with gloves in their hands or attached to their sides. The Greeks used gloves, not for display, but for fist fights. Both the Greeks and the Romans wore a certain kind of mitten for manual labor, notably for the picking of olives. Again, we may assume that the wearing of gloves was brought to Greece and Rome from the orient, for we read in the Old Testament of a commercial custom of the Hebrews where gloves played an important part as follows: "A man removes his glove and gives it to his neighbor, which constitutes a testimony of exchange or purchase in Israel."

Man has used the glove, then, in some way or another for at least 2,000 years. The use was not popular, however, until the sixth century. At that time all the natives of Gaul, either for dress or for work, appear to have worn gloves that were called "ouants" or "wants."

In the middle ages gloves were adapted to a great variety of necessities. A distinction was then made between the ordinary glove, the military glove, the lady's glove, the glove of nobility and the glove of the liturgy. About the thirteenth century gloves came to be considered an expression of elegance. A little later they symbolized bribery and intrigue. For evidence of this fact we have only to study the work of some of the stone artists who decorated with statues the facade of the cathedral of Basle, represented the "seducteur" as the prince of evil. The wicked one is depicted wearing a crown, smiling bewitchingly, left hand neatly gloved and holding in the same hand the unused glove of the right.

But in spite of the fact that gloves seem to have acquired a bad significance, they soon developed into an object of luxury and remained so for a long period of time. Their use became limited to the rich, and it was not until the eighteenth century that it was considered good taste to put on gloves for all occasions. Since then the practice has greatly increased. Whether for show, for convenience, or simply to protect one's hands from the cold, gloves are now worn by all classes of society.—Springfield Republican.

The Socratic Method.

The professor of natural philosophy in Trinity college gave the class a problem to think over during the night and answer the next day. The question was this:

"If a hole were bored through the center of the earth from side to side and a ball dropped into it would it come to a state of rest?"

Next morning a student was called up on this philosophical problem.

"What answer do you give this question?" asked the professor.

"Well, really," said he, "I have not thought of the main question, but of a preliminary one. How are you going to get that hole through?"—Exchange.

Quite in Character.

The late William Terriss, who for many years was invariably the hero in the dramas produced at the Adelphi theater, London, seems to have been in nice accord with the characters he played. One day, writes Ellen Terry in her book, "The Story of My Life," he came into the theater soaked.

"Is it raining, Terriss?" asked some one, who noticed that he was wet.

"Looks like it, doesn't it?" said Terriss carelessly.

Later it came out that he had jumped off a steamboat into the Thames and saved a girl's life.

Not Catching.

Jane's sister was coming home from normal school.

"Why is she coming home?" asked the neighbor. "Is she sick?"

"Yes; she is very, very sick," said Jane.

"What ails her?" asked the neighbor.

"Well, I don't know exactly. Mamma has a letter from the principal, and he said it was lack of mental ability. I don't know if it is catching or not."—Exchange.

Papa Had a Grouch.

Nell—Jack, dear, did you call on papa today?

Jack—Sure I did, but he didn't appear to enthuse very much over my visit.

Nell—What did he say?

Jack—Why, when I asked him for permission to press my suit he simply answered, "Why don't you send it to a tailor?"—Judge.

Wonders at Dictation.

It was said of Julius Caesar that, while writing a dispatch, he could at the same time dictate four others to his secretaries, and if he did not write himself could dictate seven letters at once. The same thing is asserted also of the Emperor Napoleon, who had a wonderful capability of directing his whole mental energy to whatever came before him.

Ancient Rings.

Rings were given among the Romans on birthdays. The gladiators often wore heavy rings, a blow from which was sometimes fatal. The Romans had also their amulets and magic rings on which were engraved one or more stars, the head of Anubis, a sign of the zodiac or a human foot.

Veterans Have Big Day.

Confederate veterans had a big day in Crockett Thursday. They held a reunion at the court house during the morning, following which the D. A. Nunn Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, served them with dinner at Scarborough's cafe. Memorial services were held during the early afternoon and the day's entertainment was rounded out with a visit to the Royal theatre, where the moving pictures were seen.

DON'T WASTE TIME.

Many Men Have Accomplished Wonders in Their Spare Moments.

Great men are economical in their use of time. They not only work hard for hours together, but they also save the spare minutes, which most persons waste in profitless employment.

As the distinguished naturalist Cuvier rode from place to place he read and thought, and the results of his saving these odd quarter hours are seen in his books.

Napoleon, as he hurried over Europe in his camp carriage, was busy in planning for the government of conquered countries and in contriving new conquests.

Elihu Burritt learned no less than eighteen languages and twenty-two dialects by the economical use of time. While he worked fourteen hours a day at his trade of a blacksmith he found a few minutes each morning and evening to study Latin or French.

His Greek grammar would fit into the crown of his straw hat, and as he stood at his furnace, waiting for the fusing of the metal, he would catch it up and commit to memory a part of a Greek verb.

Many of Benjamin Franklin's hours of study were stolen from the time he should have given to eating his meals or to sleeping.

Sir William Jones, the oriental scholar and a judge in the supreme court of India, had so well improved his time that before he reached the age of twenty-one he knew Greek, Latin, several modern languages and had studied the Arabic and the Persian. His use of the spare minutes made him both learned and famous.

John Wesley said: "Never be unemployed; never be triflingly employed; never while away time."

So Goethe, the great German poet and thinker, said:

"Do not wait for extraordinary opportunities, but make use of common situations."

Be careful of the minutes, and the hours will take care of themselves.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Derivation of "Trolley."

A curious statement appeared in Le Figaro of Paris regarding the derivation of the word "trolley," which is said to be identical with the French slang expression "troller" (to drag along).

Le Figaro asserts that the word was first used by Berger, the French inventor, who installed the New York street car system with power transmitted through overhead cables.

Desiring to distinguish this system from the accumulator driven system, his cars being apparently "dragged along" by the cables, Berger employed the word "trolcars," remembering that the Paris street vendors were called "troleurs" because they dragged along handcars.

Guides to Success.

In picking out your career consider the things you like to do, the things you can do best. God gave you these aptitudes, and they are to be followed, not fought; though you may have to serve a long apprenticeship in doing things you don't like before you can swing out fully into doing the things you do like.

Do what you can do best. Go where you are most needed.

Start in anywhere, only get busy and keep busy.

But don't be impatient. God often takes a long time to get his servants ready.—Christian Herald.

The Climate of Arabia.

Of Arabia's climate a writer says: "The desert air is extremely dry and clear, always invigorating, and even the great heat in summer is not as insupportable as in a damper climate, where the thermometer is probably lower. Climate has without doubt a great effect on the human character and intellect, and the nervous, high strung temperament of the Arab is to a great extent the creation of his environment of desert, with its splendid mirages to fire the imagination and sparkling air to keep the nerves alert."

His Escutcheon.

"Papa, what is an escutcheon?"
"Why?"
"This story says there was a blot on his escutcheon."
"Oh, yes! An escutcheon is a light colored vest. He had probably been carrying a fountain pen."—New York Globe.

Model 80, 4-cyl. 4-cyl. Roadster - $725

This is the largest 4-cylinder Overland that will be produced this year

The Newest Overland

$325 Less Than Last Year

The 1916 Overland is essentially the same as the 1915 Overland—the famous Model 80 that sold for $1075.

But the price is $325 less.

The stream-line body is the same as the $1075 model of last season.

It has the same magnificent finish; that deep, rich tone of dark Brewster green with fine hairline striping of clear ivory-white.

It has the same powerful, economical thirty-five horsepower, four-cylinder motor, but weighs less.

It has high-tension magneto ignition.

It has the same underslung rear springs. It has the convenient arrangement of electric control buttons on the steering column.

It has the same easy-working clutch which any woman can operate; the same "easy to handle" shifting levers; the same "easy to steer with" wheels; the same positive brakes.

It has 33" x 4" tires which is unusual on a car at this price.

In detail, finish, mechanical fineness, comforts and conveniences, this newest Overland gives you all there was in the

Specifications

38 Horsepower motor	Under-slung rear springs	Left-hand drive, center control
High-tension magneto ignition	33" x 4" tires non-skid in rear	One-man top; top cover

Graduated With First Honors.

Charlie Culberson, the 17 years old blind son of Mr. and Mrs. Shink Rice, who reside in the country ten miles east of Crockett, returned home from Austin last Thursday, where he has been attending the Institution for the Blind, and where he recently graduated from the high school of that institution in its literary department and received his diploma by reason of proficiency, correct deportment and faithful discharge of all the duties required of him under the rules of the school.

He was also awarded the high school scholarship in the University of Texas by the officials of that institution, which is one of the scholarships offered annually by the board of regents to the student of the highest standing among the young men in the graduating class of each affiliated school. These scholarships entitle the holders to exemption from matriculation fee in College of Arts, the Department of Education and the Department of Engineering, so long as their conduct and standing are satisfactory to the faculty, and provided they accept the university before the end of the fall term of the second session after their graduation from the high school. Charlie expects to avail himself of the benefits of this scholarship in due time if he can find the means of defraying his other expenses.

Charlie was entered as a student of the Institution for the Blind when he was only seven years old, and has been a regular attendant at every session since then. He is an exceptionally bright boy and is hopeful of taking a complete course at the university before he finishes his education. He is a hard student and an inveterate reader, devouring almost everything he can get that is printed in the "blind language," and, among other books of interest and value, he has a complete copy of the Holy Bible, printed in what is known as the "New York Point System," and weighing one hundred pounds.

It is a great work that Texas is doing for her unfortunate blind and it is a pity that she cannot do more, thereby enabling them to become not only useful men and women, but also rendering them entirely self-supporting and independent of their misfortune. Charlie may rest assured that his friends and acquaintances everywhere wish him the utmost success in the attainment of his every wish and aspiration. Interested Friend.

Slumber Party.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Alfred Collins entertained the Embroidery Club with a slumber party, complimenting Miss Brownie Collins. The entire home was tastefully decorated with ferns and cut flowers, but the porch was converted into a Japanese tea garden. Smilax trailed the walls and screens as if nature had placed it there, and suspended baskets of pink carnations and ferns formed a background for the tea tables. Not a detail necessary to carry out the Japanese scheme was omitted. When the guests arrived they arrayed themselves in kimonos and were served a four-course lunch as they sat upon sofa pillows. The members of the club took advantage of this opportunity to "shower" Miss Collins and here also the decorative scheme was carried out. The gifts were placed in a pillow and when the tea garden was later transformed into a sleeping place this pillow was assigned to her. Those present were Misses Virginia Chamberlain, Nell Beasley, Alline Foster, Gladys Dawes, Grace Denny, Susie Carlton, Otice McConnell, Mary McLean, Yolo Kennedy, Mary Lee Benedict, Kathleen Hall, Mary Ellis and Lenore McConnell. Reunion of Confederate Veterans.

Camp No. 141 of Houston county met in annual reunion at Crockett on Thursday, June 3, commemorating the birth of the South's beloved president, Jefferson Davis. At ten o'clock Commander E. Winfree called the meeting to order. Adjutant A. M. Rencher called the roll of members, and there appearing so many absentees who had crossed over the river since the last reunion that the hearts of those left behind were made sad at the number who had preceded them in the "great march" and who are waiting under the shade of the trees.

The visitors were welcomed in a few words by Mark King Winfree, who eulogized the Southern leaders and Southern soldiers. Comrade A. M. Rencher responded with appropriateness. Col. N. B. Barbee paid a high tribute to the memory of Mrs. John H. Wooters, who had departed this life since our last reunion, manifesting much emotion. Dr. S. T. Beasley offered a resolution, which was approved by the camp, endorsing President Wilson in every way, and these resolutions were sent by telegram to the general reunion in session then at Richmond, Virginia, following with a resolution that the same officers of Crockett Camp be re-elected to serve in their respective offices for the next ensuing year and it was so adopted.

The morning session over, the D. A. Nunn Chapter of the Daughters took charge of the old soldiers and dinner was served to them at Scarborough's restaurant. At 2 o'clock they marched in twos, as in days of old, to the Royal theatre (but minus fife and drum), where the Daughters had already prepared music, with an interesting program of songs and recitations.

Attorney Jim Lipscomb addressed the large crowd on "The Heritage of the Southern Confederacy," being ably rendered and proudly enjoyed by the entire audience.

Miss Stella Sheridan gave a recitation, and little Miss Katie King also recited.

Roy Baker and Miss Clarite Elliott sang a duet.

The little girls of Crockett sang "Dixie" to music by Tunstall's string band and accompanying piano by Mrs. Meriwether.

The afternoon business session resulted in Grapeland securing the reunion for next year and a special invitation was given the D. A. Nunn Chapter of the Daughters to attend.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an order of sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Houston county, on the 5th day of June, A. D. 1915, in the case of Palestine Grain Company versus J. N. Wellborn, No. 5546, and to me, as sheriff, directed and delivered, I have levied upon this 5th day of June, A. D. 1915, and will, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. on the first Tuesday in July, A. D. 1915, it being the 6th day of said month, at the court house door of said Houston county, in the state of Texas, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, all the right, title and interest which said J. N. Wellborn had on the 5th day of June, A. D. 1915, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described property, to-wit: Situated in Houston county, Texas, being lots Nos. 1 to 8 both inclusive in block No. 19 and lots Nos. 7 and 8 in block No. 6, according to the map of the town of Lovelady, said property being levied on as the property of J. N. Wellborn to satisfy judgment amounting to $1,140.67, in favor of Palestine Grain Company, and costs of suit.

Given under my hand this 5th day of June, A. D. 1915.

St. Houston County, Texas.

A Butter Cure.

Servant Boy (to farmer's wife, noted for her thriftiness)—Well, ma'am, my eyesight must be getting bad. I can't see the butter on the bread this morning.

Next morning the farmer's wife put the butter a little thicker on the bread, and remarked:

"Well, Tom, I hope your eyes are better this morning."
"Begad, ma'am," replied Tom, "they're grand this morning. I can see the bread through the butter."

SNATCHED FROM DEATH.

A Perilous Rescue After an Involuntary Plunge Overboard.

While reefing a new pair of lee jib sheets on board a small schooner, the author of "My Vagabondage," then a lad of fourteen, dropped headlong into the seething foam about the bows. The next moment he was jerked to the surface, dragged along through the water for the space of thirty seconds and left gasping. He says:

Two parts of a patent link had separated. I had instinctively grasped, as I fell, the end of the stay that led from the topmast head through the iron loop at the outer end of the bowsprit. My unconscious hold on that had brought me to the surface, as the smack lifted her head to the swell, and I still clutched it.

Now began a game at which I had never before played. Every time the head of the vessel dipped between the pale green and mud tinged rollers I grappled up the slack chain for dear life, but when she rose again she tore it through my hands.

Whenever I saw the bowsprit descending I thought I might get hold of it and clamber back to it. Yet that means of rescue was denied me. On each occasion it uplifted when only a few inches beyond my reach. It was then that the cook came on deck. He came to the bow, saw me and ran aft to the companionway, shouting, "Ted's overboard! Ted's overboard!" Before he could say more all hands were on deck, almost pushing each other aside in their eager efforts to be first.

Little more than a second sufficed to bring the four to the weather bow. There the skipper seized a line and threw it to me, but I failed to get hold of it. Again he threw, and again I missed it. Brown clambered out on the bowsprit and tried to reach me with his hand whenever the spar descended, but could not.

"Let go," roared the skipper, "and we'll pick you up!" But I felt that to release my grasp was to sink at once, for my strength was almost gone. I dared not let go.

"Hold on!" yelled Brown. "Get hold of my legs!" and he slid head first over the rail by the fore shroud, as the other two seized his ankles. I floated near, the chain slipped from me, I was just sinking. Brown called out, "Lower!"

They let him down another foot. His arms and head came into the icy water. His clutch fastened on my clothes, and by one of those superhuman efforts that men are capable of at such times, we were lifted clear over the bulwarks into safety.

Fine Finish.

The man who writes thrilling melodramas rushed into the manager's office in a state of great excitement.

"I've got it!" he shouted triumphantly. "I've got it!"

"Got what?" asked the surprised manager.

"Why, the sensation of the year. In the third act of my new play there is a mill scene. Harold Headlight, the hero, casts the villain down into the yawning jaws of two great emery wheels."

The manager grinned.

"Emery wheels!" he chuckled.

"Then, I suppose, he has a fine finish?"

"Yes, very fine. In fact, he comes out a polished villain."—Chicago News.

He Fooled Himself.

A station master who had been taking a short holiday at some distance from his own station went to catch the last train homeward and on entering the station found a lady trying to turn the handle of one of the compartments. The station master rushed to her assistance, opened the door, bundled the passenger in, slammed the door to and then, by force of habit, waved his hand to the guard and stood calmly on the platform till the train had steamed out of sight. He had to walk home, and the other station master laughed.—London Standard.

For Hot Weather

One thing is necessary for the comfort of every one. That thing is Talcum Powder. Every family keeps a box or two in the house. Many people are careless in the purchase of it. The best is none too good. The cheapest is poor stuff and only irritates the skin. We sell the best in large boxes, the largest of any, for 25c.
