Libraries Observe Children's Book Week

Estimate Predicts 70,000 Bales This Year

Neal B. Dillman announces at the four Muleshoe School Libraries will be observing 'Children's Book Week' during this special week, November 12-18 by emphasizing the theme "Live! Read!" through bulletin board displays, mobiles, posters, and special book displays.

Each Muleshoe campus has a central library with a full time librarian. Students have access to these libraries through regularly scheduled periods, activity periods and other times during the day.

Mrs. Ellen Glover is librarian at Richland Hills Primary and guides children from Kindergarten through the second grade in their selection of books.

Mrs. Glover received her training from Eastern New Mexico. She taught Kindergarten and first grade for four years and has been librarian for three years at Richland Hills. Mrs. Glover shows filmstrips or has story hours for these children when they come to the library.

Mrs. Esther Marie Dillman has been librarian at Mary DeShazo Elementary for six years and instructs children in library skills, gives previews of new books, and helps children in grades three through five choose books relative to their interests.

Mrs. Dillman received her training from Western State College, Gannon, Colorado; Eastern New Mexico; and Panhandle State at Goodwell, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Pauline Griffin, Junior High Librarian, schedules all Junior high students at least once a week into the library and then they can return and check out books between classes or during activity period.

Mrs. Griffin has been Junior High Librarian for seven years and received her training from Eastern New Mexico, and Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Mrs. Judith Harlan, High School Librarian, helps over 500 high school students with their outside reading, research papers, and use of reference materials. Every high school student is scheduled into the library through the English Classes once a week. Students have freedom to browse through the books, use the card catalogue, read magazines and periodicals.

Mrs. Harlan received her training from Eastern New Mexico and has been a librarian in the Muleshoe Schools for seven years, two in Richland Hills and five in High School. Since the beginning of this 1973-74 school year the total circulation of books has been 15,388 for all four libraries.

The plant will be built in three phases. Initial construction will consist of a 6,250 square foot building. Initial employment will include about 30 to 35 persons with an annual payroll of $300,000. After completion of all three phases, total employment will be 90 persons with a total annual payroll of $1 million.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION -- Consumers will find the red meat and fryer chicken counters more attractive this week.

"Fryer chickens remain the number one bargain in many meat departments," Mrs. Wendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, pointed out.

"Watch for pork values on a number of fresh and smoked selections--with best ones on loin and shoulder cuts.

"Weekend bargains include end-cut roasts and chops, hams, picnics and shoulder roasts and steaks. Also be on the lookout for attractively-priced liver and sausage," she added.

Beef prices seem to have steadied, with features on some cuts, the specialist continued. "For best buys, look to arm and blade pot roasts and steaks, stew meat, ground beef, round steaks and roasts, rib steaks, and liver.

"When finding an attractive special on roasts, be thrifty and buy two--one to cook now and another to freeze."

Although priced considerably higher than a year ago, frozen turkeys are hitting the market in good supply, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Fresh fruit and vegetable items in ample supply at the most economical prices include apples, juice oranges, bananas, pears, Tokay grapes and cranberries.

"Also potatoes, lettuce, celery, sweet potatoes, cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, rutabagas, hard shell squash, collards, mustard and turnips and greens."

Many of the working girls, who travel a great deal, prefer pants and separates as their popular outfits. They can assemble blouses, sweaters and jackets of various styles and fabrics and in this way make changes as the occasion demands.

Suede jackets are good this season and another favorite is the plaid wrap around jacket with solid color pants.

Turtle necks are still popular but they are definitely not for everyone.

A History of Bailey County Pioneer Families

W.M. Dudley

W.M. Dudley who was born September 15, 1904 in Dalton Georgia came to this area from Roakoe, Texas; November 11, 1925.

The trip took two days in a 1922 Model T. Their first home was 13 miles south of Muleshoe. Dudley farmed for a living.

He was married February 1, 1925 to Miss Lee Owen at Gainsville, Texas. They attended Assembly of God Church, the Masonic Lodge and Rebekahs.

The Dudleys rode in wagons for their trip to town. Oil was used in lamps and cow chips burnt. Butter was wrapped in wet rags and set in the windows. They lived off of their farm and crops were fairly good. Sandstorms were a threat to crops because they burnt the crops so bad. Papers were put under the windows to help keep the sand out.

It was four miles to the closest neighbors. The Sandhills were a favorite place to play even with the threat of rattle snakes.

The Dudleys moved here because of their parents living here. Mrs. Dudley's parents were the first here. Mr. Albert Owen moved here from Hillisbore.

Man-that's Corn!

Mr. Farmer, before you book your Corn Seed this year, look at your neighbors' high yielding results after planting P-A-G SX-520, SX-98 or 344. He'll have high praise for the top yields, standability and threshability plus many of the other high quality characteristics found in P-A-G Hybrid Corns.

In 1973 tests conducted on the John Bridges farm 2 miles north of Earth, SX-520 yielded NUMBER ONE out of 16 hybrids entered with 10,449 lbs. (186.6 bu) per acre.

Bobby G. Free of Muleshoe plans to plant 100% of his 1,400 acres to SX-520 and SX-98 because of their extra yield, threshability and the way they stood.

On the Charlie Myers farm east of Friona, P-A-G's SX-98 yielded 11,215 lbs. (200.3 bu) per acre.

In a 1972 Briscoe County Agent Test, P-A-G 344 yielded 9,309 lbs. (166.2 bu) per acre making it the number one corn tested on the Ray Teeple farm near Silverton.

344
A 3-way cross highly recommended for farmers who want a Hybrid Corn just a little earlier in maturity. 344 features medium tall plants of dark green color, with large, girthy ears. This is a proven, consistent yielder.

SX-520
This P-A-G single cross is a fast germinating, vigorous, high yielding "new breed". It responds quickly to a heavy, balanced fertilizer program and it's adaptable to a wide range of conditions. P-A-G researchers have been impressed with its standability under the stress of high plant populations. SX-520 is an excellent combine corn.

SX-98
If you insist on "the very best", insist on this real producer. This distinctive dark green plant features relatively upright leaves for maximum light utilization. SX-98 has a bred-in "digestive system" that gives it the capacity to make full use of large amounts of fertilizer.

Find out, first hand, about the advantages of planting P-A-G Hybrid Corns and then contact your local Dealer. Order early and be sure you ask about the attractive booking bonuses available to all P-A-G customers.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Bill Boykin

AUSTIN, Tex.--Outlook for a bleak winter grew steadily worse as the energy crisis mounted.

Speed limit reductions and year-round daylight savings time, recommended by President Richard Nixon, may be some of the milder results.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, assessing the president's proposals and reaction of other states before announcing his own program, said gasoline rationing is an "eventuality that will have to be considered."

Grimmest of all was Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Langdon's forecast: "Some people in Texas are going to be cold this winter." Those who use butane, propane or electricity for their heating are the ones most likely to get the shivers, said Langdon.

Middle distillate fuels, used primarily to generate electricity--and of increasing importance due to the shortage of natural gas--may also be in short supply as much as 400,000 barrels daily, according to Langdon's estimate.

Meanwhile, the Nixon administration altered previously announced allocation policies to allow middle distillate suppliers to provide Texas customers diesel fuel, fuel oil and kerosene without limit through November.

Even in the reprieve from mandatory allocations, there was an implied warning to Texas electric utility companies; come December they may be running short of fuel oil, since allocation formulas are based on 1972 purchases. Most Texas utilities, used to plenty of natural gas, didn't use much fuel oil to fire their boilers in 1972.

Things apparently are going to get a lot worse before they get better on the energy front.

PAY AMENDMENT DEFEAT ASSESSED--For the fifth time in eight years Texans voted down a pay raise for legislators, and assessments of the reason why varied widely.

House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., and others concluded that the vote on the $15,000-annual-pay-annual-sessions amendment was due to "tragic events at the national level that have crushed public confidence in our political and governmental systems."

Not so, said Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Granberry, who maintained lawmakers asked too much salary and made an error in coupling the pay raise issue with that of annual sessions.

Granberry suggested voters will approve $8,000 to $10,000 salaries and limited annual sessions with proper leadership support and a clear presentation.

At any rate, Texans undoubtedly will get to ballot on the issue again in some form after next year's constitutional convention. Most-likely proposal will be creation of a commission of citizens, as recommended by the Constitutional Revision Commission, to set salaries of lawmakers and other state officials. Prospects for the kind of unlimited annual legislative sessions recommended by the Revision Commission dimmed with results of the November 6 election.

COMMUNITY AFFAIRS CHIEF SWORN IN -- In swearing-in ceremonies for Ben McDonald as executive director of the Texas Department of Community Affairs, Governor Briscoe promised that the department will stand ready with aid to local communities.

He said McDonald will have a team of experts ready at all times to go on-the-scene help in community emergencies. A special long-distance telephone will be available for calls to the department. The Community Affairs department encompasses the significant drug abuse program, as well as such divisions as housing, child development, youth services, public employment, model cities, local government personnel and a number of others.

In naming attorney McDonald, the Governor said the former Corpus Christi mayor represented the dynamic leadership the Community Affairs Department needs.

NEW INSURANCE HEARING SET -- Life insurance policy

price disclosure and cost comparisons will be considered at a public hearing here November 27.

The State Insurance Board is then expected to review a model rule covering "life insurance interest-adjusted cost comparison indexes."

While the Insurance Board does not set prices of life insurance policies, it does police misleading and deceptive sales practices. Board Chairman Joe Christie said calculation of life insurance costs through the cash-surrender value doesn't always show true cost to purchasers.

GOVERNOR WILL GET REPORTS--Gov. Dolph Briscoe talked about two important study reports forthcoming from the Texas Research League -- at that group's annual meeting last week.

He will soon receive a report on the impact of the federal welfare law on Texas' public welfare costs, and he revealed that TRL is working on a governmental reorganization study for the Governor's office.

Another study is being prepared by the research organization for the Legislative Property Tax Committee on "state school financing."

"The legislative committee has asked TRL to prepare a plan to estimate property values in all Texas school districts," the Governor said.

During his annual talk before the statewide group of businessmen, he discussed the need for a "zero" base budgeting system for the state, and changes in the constitution to strengthen local units of government.

Briscoe talked about the energy crisis -- blaming the shortage of natural gas on the artificial "price" set on gas by the federal government.

"The crisis can be solved best by industry -- not by government," he added. "The people of Texas are interested in 'less governmental' intervention into their affairs. And," he concluded, "they are not interested in any new taxes."

IN THE COURTS--The Supreme Court upheld an intermediate court decision that a Houston fireman's family was entitled to death benefits and disability payments following his illness and death in 1969. The High Court said a fireman need not prove the actual medical cause of his disability to establish his eligibility for such benefits.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for a man convicted and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment in the beating death of a woman at a Dallas shopping center two years ago.

A Lubbock murder conviction and 10-year prison sentence were affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals, which ruled admissible a Texas Ranger's testimony that the defendant confessed the shooting to him.

AG OPINIONS -- The attorney general's office, responding to an opinion request on political committee status, indicated that some news items that a board interpretation of the new campaign reporting and disclosure act may require newspapers to report cost of editorials endorsing candidates.

In recent opinions, Hill concluded: "The state can use federal funds deposited in the treasury for a program to aid pregnant women, nursing mothers, infants and children."

*Fayette County commissioners court is not legally required to furnish access roads to the Colorado River every two miles unless it is determined to be factually necessary.

"Average daily attendance of children in 'institutional' School district (like Boys' Ranch) must be considered in determining a new consolidated school district's eligibility for incentive aid on debts and buildings."

"The new open records law apparently contains no exceptions that could form the basis for withholding access to complete records on workmen's compensation rolls and sales tax permits. However, Hill concluded he could not address the problem of 'practical difficulties' presented by requests for the data."

LAREDO GRANT APPROVED--A $306,894 grant was approved by the U.S. Department of Labor to help Laredo ease unemployment problems caused by closing of Laredo Air Force Base.

The total includes $217,294 for institutional training of 90 in five occupations, and $89,000 will be used for on-the-job training of 160 in four different occupations.

APPOINTMENTS -- Kerry D. Webb of Teague will head a newly-created Office of Youth Care Evaluation.

Governor Briscoe named William C. Kleine Jr. of San Antonio, George R. Hall Sr. and John A. Heidman of Dallas and Robert F. White of College Station to the Texas State Board of Landscape Architects.

The Governor placed Dr. Williams J. Robinson of San Antonio; Mrs. John Hall of Weatherford; and Mrs. Earl Lockhart Jr., Dr. Clyde Martin and Ms. J. Beatrice Hall, all of Austin, to an interim study committee on gifted children.

Appointed to a Real Estate Research Advisory Committee by the Governor were Chester W. Kyle of Kingsville, Joe W. Loper of San Antonio and Glenn W. Justice of Dallas.

Dan M. Krause of Dallas was reappointed to the University of Texas Development Board.

PEANUT PROGRAM CHANGES OPPOSED--Proposed changes in the federal peanut price support program drew fire from Governor Briscoe and others.

Briscoe zeroed in on transfer of supervisory functions from the Peanut Growers Association to the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service state and local offices. He also criticized revision of sales policies so no sales could be made at less than 115 per cent of the loan rate.

SHORT SNORTS

The 1974 Southern Governor's Conference will be held at Lakeway resort near Austin September 8-11.

Attorney General Hill defended minimum requirements for candidates to get on the ballot in a hearing before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White warned of a four million ton agricultural fertilizer shortage next spring.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said a controversy between doctors and laymen over control of Health Maintenance Organizations must not be allowed to deny health care coverage under the proposed new HMO system.

Texans' estimated personal income declined three per cent in September from an August peak of a 177.5 per cent of the 1967 base value.

U.S. Beef To Keep Lead Over Imports

COLLEGE STATION--World demand for beef is increasing, so Americans will have to rely more on production in the United States rather than on increased imports from other countries.

That's the report from Dr. Don Farris and James Simpson with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, after a trip to five beef exporting countries in South America and an International Conference of Agricultural Economists.

"There's little chance that leading South American beef exporters will expand exports over the next four or five years," say the economists, also with the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology at Texas A&M University.

Despite high beef prices on the world market, the leading South American exporters--Argentina and Uruguay--probably will not expand production due to a heavy export tax, believe the economists. Expansion will be more rapid in Brazil and Paraguay, but the lower production response due to marketing of four-year-old steers combined with rapid population growth will generally hold exports in check.

"South American exporting countries could sharply increase exports in a few years if producer prices were to reach levels near those prevailing in the U.S. However, there is no indication that this will happen," say Farris and Simpson. "For example, the price for live cattle in Uruguay has not exceeded 17 cents per pound this year compared to 40-50 cents per pound in the U.S. The Uruguay market is generally the lowest price cattle market in the world."

South American beef goes mainly to Europe due to the U.S. embargo on uncooked beef from that continent. Canned and cooked-frozen beefs shipped to the U.S. and is not under the quota applied to fresh and frozen beef imports. However, their exports have a significant effect on available world beef supplies.

"Europe and Japan are competing strongly for Australian beef so imports from that country will be limited," according to the economists. "Although Australia has increased exports in recent years, it was partly at the expense of a depressed wool industry. Now that wool prices are high, beef production may not increase as fast."

All these factors are putting pressure on cattlemen in the U.S. to expand production, and this expansion is underway, believe Farris and Simpson. "We can expect the fastest production response in the U.S. due to the inherent production capacity and the high level technology used by American producers."

The two economists' work in South America involved research project in international beef marketing through a grant from the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Down and Up... Changes in Regulations... Fuel Problems... Red Meat Production Declines.

A seven per cent drop in the all farm products index of prices for Texas farmers was noted by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The livestock and livestock products was down nine per cent and the all crops index was down five per cent below a month ago.

Prices received by farmers for hogs, beef cattle and calves were down from a month ago. Corn and grain sorghum prices were also down from a month ago.

Ten commodities were above parity. Wheat at $4.23 per bushel was 73 cents per bushel above parity. Rice is almost $5 above parity. Potatoes are 54 cents above the parity ratio of $4.31 per hundredweight.

In livestock categories, hogs at $39.80 average are $2.80 above parity. Calves averaged $58.30 which is $4.30 above parity. Sheep at $17 are $4.50 above parity. Beef cattle are $2.60 under parity; lambs are $12 under parity.

Grain sorghum at $3.47 per hundred is 50 cents below parity. Cotton at 37.5 cents per pound is almost 30 cents under parity.

Egg prices averaged 57.9 cents per dozen which is almost six cents below last month and six cents below parity. Mohair at $2.40 per pound is about 90 cents above parity; wool at 97 cents is about 25 cents under parity.

REGULATIONS relating to cattle scabies and brucellosis are affecting some Texas counties.

Federal quarantines for cattle scabies were lifted from Parmer and Potter counties. Gastro and Deaf Smith are still under quarantine. Scabies are caused by tiny parasitic mites that puncture the skin of cattle and feed on the body fluids released through the wounds. Scabies does not affect the animal's meat, but can cause loss of weight and decreased feed efficiency.

Health regulations governing interstate shipment of breeding cattle from 11 counties in Texas have been changed.

The action was based on the counties' compliance, or lack of compliance, with state-federal requirements aimed at eradicating brucellosis.

Kenedy County regained its modified-certified brucellosis area status while Baylor, Bell, Cass, Henderson, Leon, Mitchell, Navarro, San Saba, Tom Green, and Uvalde counties lost their status for failing to meet certain minimum requirements of the eradication program.

FUEL problems continue to haunt Texas agricultural producers. Diesel at present appears to be causing the most concern. LP gas is in short supply in some areas. The general situation seems to be one of confusion, especially concerning the mandatory allocation of diesel.

Fertilizer shortages are also being reported as are occasional reports of lack of baling wire.

RED MEAT production in Texas is down four per cent in September compared to a month previous and seven per cent under a year ago.

Cattle slaughtered in Texas totaled 268,000 head, which is 2,000 below a month ago and 32,000 less than a year ago.

Nationwide, commercial production of red meat is 13 per cent less than a year ago. Beef production was 13 per cent less than September of 1972.

Water Inc. Launches Drive

LUBBOCK--Water, Inc., officials from throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico were in Lubbock today for the launching of a month long drive for new members.

Keynote speaker at the membership kickoff luncheon was John J. Kendrick, Brownfield banker and the first president of Water, Inc. Kendrick noted that the High Plains area has the capability of closing the gap between food, fiber and fuel needs and supplies, given adequate supplemental water.

"We must tell the nation and the world about our capabilities," he said, "but our voice can only be as strong as our undergirding membership."

"We are producing food, fiber and fuel now that are easing world shortages," Kendrick said. "With adequate supplemental water, not only will a decrease in production be prevented as our present water supplies dwindle, but we can, in fact, increase our production rates," he added.

Water, Inc., is a non-profit, membership-based organization and membership dues are income tax deductible as a business expense.

Fuel Retailers Must Obtain New Ceiling Price Stickers

Plainview, Texas --- "Because of recent changes in the Phase IV petroleum regulations, all gasoline and diesel fuel retailers must obtain new ceiling price stickers for each pump or grade of petroleum sold," Walter I. Perry, Administrative Officer of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) office in Plainview, said today. The new stickers will be available after November 21, 1973. New Pump stickers and instruction-computation forms may be picked up at the IRS office at: 1403 West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas 79072. Written requests for stickers and instructions may be made at the IRS office listed above. Retailers should specify the number of stickers they will need. "The new stickers should be posted on each pump in a prominent position to be easily seen by the customer. The old sticker should then be removed," Perry said. If more than one grade of gas is sold from a pump, a separate sticker must be posted for each grade. Stickers must contain the new ceiling price and the minimum octane of the gasoline. Anticipating additional changes, The Cost of Living Council (CLC) designed the stickers with four numbered blanks for inserting the ceiling prices for November 1973 through February 1974. Under revised CLC Rules gasoline and diesel fuel retailers are permitted to increase their May 15, 1973 selling price to reflect, on a dollar for dollar pass-through basis, their increased petroleum costs. This can be done no more than once a month. Whenever an adjustment is made to the maximum permissible price, each retailer must adjust his posted price. "On the reverse side of the posting instructions is a form which dealers must use to compute their ceiling price," Mr. Perry said. This sheet must be retained at the service station for IRS inspection to determine compliance with the new regulations.

WASHINGTON REPORT BY
Lloyd Bentsen,
United States Senator

The drug abuse problem has been overshadowed in recent months by successive revelations of wrongdoing in high places, continuing economic instability and the growing energy crisis.

But, although they are not at the center of attention, massive Federal efforts to eliminate the serious national problem of drug abuse are being maintained. And there are some hopeful, though preliminary, indications that the all-out effort may ultimately be successful.

Last year, I co-sponsored the Drug Abuse Office and Treatment Act of 1972, intended to coordinate all Federal drug programs; and in an orderly fashion, begin to systematically eliminate the problem.

The legislation has three major objectives. The primary objective, of course, is to reduce drug abuse in America. It is also designed to reduce the adverse social consequences of drug abuse and to concentrate the efforts of the Federal government on those forms of drug abuse which cause the greatest harm to society.

In an effort to place the program on a sound management basis, the measure divides Federal drug abuse activities into two broad categories. All activities related to the prevention of drug abuse are in one category. And all law enforcement activities, those relating to the prevention of drug trafficking, are in the other.

The fight is expensive and is growing more so every year. In 1969, the Federal budget included only $81.5 million for both drug abuse prevention and drug law enforcement. This year, however, we will spend almost $785 million on the problem; $528 million for prevention and $257 million for law enforcement.

FIGHT PAYING DIVIDENDS
This is a lot of money, but there are signs it is an investment which will pay rich dividends.

In the mid-1960's a wave of heroin addiction, accompanied by a corresponding increase in crimes such as theft and burglary, swept almost every major metropolitan area in the United States.

But, by early this year there were indications that the heroin epidemic was waning in at least one of the most troubled areas, Washington, D.C.

Dr. Robert DuPont reported the decline of heroin use in our nation's capital city in a recent scientific paper. Dr. DuPont is Director of the Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention, created by last year's legislation to oversee all Federal efforts to prevent drug abuse.

While stressing that it is too early to draw any firm conclusions, Dr. DuPont maintains that two factors were critical in curbing the heroin epidemic in Washington: the availability of treatment, which reduces the dependence of addicts on heroin; and vigorous law enforcement, which reduces the supply of heroin.

He says it is imperative that both treatment and law enforcement efforts be maintained if heroin abuse is to be kept at the lowest possible level. To back this up, he points out that when heroin is plentiful, inexpensive and of high quality there is little incentive for an addict to seek treatment. And, by the same token, when treatment is not available, even though heroin is scarce, the addict simply makes more desperate efforts to support his habit and we all pay the price in terms of increased crime and social disruption.

MUST NOT LET GUARD DOWN
DuPont warns that, even though there are hopeful signs the tide may be turning in the war against drug abuse, it would be a serious mistake to let down our efforts to eliminate this problem.

He illustrated the danger by recalling the disastrous results when efforts to control venereal disease were reduced because the epidemic seemed under control, and the incidence of VD rose alarmingly.

There are many other reasons it would be foolish to relax our efforts in the fight against drug abuse. For one thing, the decrease in heroin addiction may be only temporary. For another, Washington is the only city in which the decrease has been statistically demonstrated. And, for another, while heroin is the most addictive drug, it is only one of many drugs that Americans abuse.

So, we must not diminish our efforts in the fight to eliminate drug abuse. We must be cautious not to draw too much hope from the tentative conclusions of Dr. DuPont.

But, at a time when corruption seems to be pervasive; when the economy defies all efforts to restore a measure of stability; when the energy shortage threatens to make this a cold winter for some Americans, it is helpful to know that we are not powerless in the face of every crisis that arises. And the apparent progress in the fight against drug abuse is heartening evidence that this is so.

Cotton Market News

Spot cotton prices were stronger in Western cotton markets this week, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA. Supplies of "free" cotton continued to increase as harvesting became more wide-spread. Most current ginnings had been previously committed, however.

Foreign and domestic inquiries were more numerous than a week ago. Merchants in some locations began to actively seek cotton to fill earlier sales. Growers were offering a little more freely toward the last of the week. Demand readily absorbed offerings at most locations. However, in Texas and Oklahoma demand appeared to be restricted to cotton stapling 31 or longer. Merchants were reluctant bidders on shorter cotton and growers did not offer these qualities freely at prevailing prices. Harvesting and ginning continued at rapid rates in Arizona and California. Some fields were in the process of being second picked. According to some reports, many Arizona growers were waiting for the top crop to mature before picking for the second time. Harvesting efforts were increasing in New Mexico, Far West Texas, Oklahoma and on the Texas Plains. Portions of Oklahoma, the Texas Plains, Central Texas and Northern California received rainfall during the week. The final stages of harvest in South Texas were again delayed by rain during the week.
