SWEET-N' SOUR

By A. Dill

Is there anything much lovelier than rain in summer, with droplets of water hanging suspended from emerald green leaves like myriads of dazzling, sparkling diamonds? Impressed world indulges in visions of grandeur and vegetable gardens become tropical jungles filled with exotic tropical vines and plants, quiet little country creeks are suddenly swirling, eddying rivers, filled with whirlpools and rapids - oh rains in summer can do marvelous things.

Hats off to our civic-minded and public-spirited Farmers Co-op and also to City Councilman Jerry Loper for the services they gave the community with their ant-eradication program at the Little League Park. The insects not only posed an unpleasant problem for spectators, but were a real menace to the young players - now thanks to the efforts of these people, the grounds are ant-free and safe.

Heartiest congratulations to the Jefferies - Rosemary, Jeff and David, for there's a brand new baby boy at their house. The baby, Spencer James, arrived Saturday, July 8th.

This was an extra special week for Mrs. Beck and the reason is a visit from her grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Grinder and son Ricky of Houston. Our friend Elizabeth Alexander and Franklyn embarked on a five weeks vacation trip this week. The Alexanders will visit in Muncie, Indiana, with Elizabeth's mother and other relatives, returning to Texas in mid-August.

Bob and Merle Neel's popular dining spot on Market Street is once more, after a three-closing for remodeling to take a fine place even more so. Can anything snuggle right up your heart like a child? So completely without guile they'll take you by the hand and lead you into beautiful lands of imagination where a funny lopsided stuffed dog can be a roaring mastiff or whatever you'd like him to be and that's what a little boy was doing in town one day. Carefully putting the toy on the walkway he'd hide like a pixie in a shop doorway and wait for a passerby to be frightened. Then the rescue squad, with incredibly blue eyes and a button nose, would dash out and put the beast under control. The next time a little boy wants to take you on a let's pretend adventure, travel right along and if the little fellow is Randall C. Jackson, he will think of quite a few things to give life a lift.

Glady Webster is home after an extended trip through the northeastern states and Canada, and even though she saw fascinating sights, nothing looked so good as home and those precious grandchildren, Brenda and Jay Webster.

Miss Isadore Grimes has returned from her vacation trip to Ontario, Canada, and counts it as one of her happiest excursions. Special birthday greetings to a very dear friend, Mrs. Mulligan, who celebrated July 12th. Mrs. Mulligan now lives with her daughter, Eva Fitzgerald in Wink, but who here can ever forget the dear sweet lady who was friend and neighbor to people in Baird for so many years? Birthday wishes too to Lana Pate, granddaughter of Mrs. Ethel Taber. The pretty little curly head was two July 8rd.

M. E. Fry Rites Held at Cisco

Marion Ellis Fry, 73, prominent Cisco rancher and oil operator, died at 1:15 p. m. Thursday in a Cisco hospital, following a short illness. He had been suffering from a heart ailment.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the Cisco First Methodist Church, with burial in Oakwood Cemetery.

Mr. Fry began raising registered Polled Hereford stock in 1927. He was a partner in the M. E. Fry & Sons ranch in Eastland and Callahan counties at the time of his death.

A native of Brown County, Mr. Fry was born Sept. 5, 1887. He and Mrs. Fry lived on a farm on Jim Ned Creek, near Grovesnor, in Brown County for a number of years before the Fry oil field was opened on their property.

After the oil activity began, they moved to a ranch on Pecan Bayou, 12 miles south of Brownwood. In 1942 the government purchased the ranch to become a part of Camp Bowie, and the Frys moved to Eastland County.

Mr. Fry was instrumental in organizing the Brown County Polled Hereford Association, and remained active in the group after moving to Eastland County.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white chiffon over taffeta, designed with a tight fitted bodice, short sleeves, sabrina neckline and a full chiffon tunic edged with lace. She wore lace mitts.

Her veil of illusion was held by a crown of iridescents and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible covered with lace and satin, topped by her bouquet of split carnations centered with pink rosebuds.

Her attendants wore sheath dresses with nylon organza over skirts. They wore white clip hats with short veils and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. Members of the houseparty were Jeanette Waggoner and Doris Kniffen, cousins of the bride.

For her wedding trip to Oklahoma, the bride wore a white taffeta sheath with pink accessories and a corsage from the bridal bouquet.

The good rains that came our way Saturday and Sunday were just in time to save the tender grain sorghum that was barely getting up, due to drying out of the top soil.
Yes, and the rains took away the excuses we might have offered for not attending the revival services at Oplin Baptist Church. Service will continue through Sunday. You know, we sometimes get too busy to enjoy the privilege we have in worshipping God, so let's forget the grass and weeds a few days they'll all be there when we get back to work.
Our friend, Charlie Yost, was bitten on the left hand by a copperhead snake July 4th. He was lifting a tarp off some feed when the snake struck. Charlie drove his truck to get someone to take him to a doctor. I suppose he is doing as well as could be expected, he says he doesn't feel very well. Talks of his arm being swollen and seems to have a rash to make it a little more uncomfortable. He stayed about 48 hours in the hospital, and is back at home.
Stanley Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Crawford of Abilene had a stay in the hospital last week with blood poisoning from a sore on his upper lip. Last report was that he is improving and got back home Saturday. I know he was more than anxious to get back home as his grandmother Edwards of California was due to arrive by train Saturday night.
Just glancing over the paper by the Texas Co-op Power, I noticed that Mrs. Finley Coughran had won a door prize. Your reporter is a bit curious to know what it was in the long package. Yes, and our old groceryman Thurman Roberts also won a prize; looked just like a giant size box of Post Toasties.

Mrs. R. F. Arvin and Mrs. Flora Lewis visited their father's grave, Prof. H. S. Varner, recently, and left donations for the Cemetery Assn.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weaver and family of Houston, visited in the E. E. Weaver home. They, with his father, made a trip to Missouri and Arkansas last week.

Ned Fairbairn, a son Paul, and Sonny Ayers of Littlefield, had breakfast Friday morning with Beulah and Hazel Respass. They were on their way to Lake Brownwood for fishing.
Rev. C. R. Myrick called off his Sunday night service at Sipe Springs, as they had a 4-inch rain there Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McIntosh of Andrews visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Maddox, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hurst, of Gustine, spent Monday and Tuesday nights with Bro. and Mrs. Ted Johnston and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hurst had just returned from a few weeks vacation in California, where they visited relatives and did some sight-seeing.

Operation Corn Planter

American agriculture is watching Greene County, Iowa, where a unique partnership between the corn and soybean growers and a farm equipment company has been started. All the farmers in Hardin Township have been offered the use of new Ford tractors and planters to seed their 1961 crops. At top, 31 Ford tractors and planters take the field as the planting season opens. The 84 cooperating farmers will plant 12,339 acres with the new equipment. At bottom, an "assembly line" in miniature was set up by the Operation Corn Planter crew to ready the equipment for the farmers' use.

Union Usuals and Unusuals

By Veda Yarbrough

Hi neighbor! How are you this beautiful Sunday afternoon. I am in Verhon. Roma McIntyre and Louise Isenhower brought me to Throckmorton Saturday afternoon, and Mildred Carter met me there. We were to leave home about 2 o'clock, so did Mildred, and believe it or not, we met in Throckmorton at exactly the same time to a split second. How can you beat that for timing.

Had a good rain here in Vernon early this morning. Was raining right down when we went to Sunday School. Still cloudy, but not raining.

We were made sad last week by the passing of Mr. M. E. Fry. The family of Mr. Fry has my deepest sympathy, in this hour of their loss.

Mrs. Clat McIntyre of Clyde spent Wednesday and Thursday with her son, John, and Roma. Bill and Retha Brown of Abilene, the Mark Burnams, and visitors of the Burnams, went to Cisco Lake in the afternoon of the 4th of July.

Out our way, the grasshoppers are still plentiful, and still able to eat John McIntyre's and others poison or spray nearly every day. Quite a bit of mowing and hay baling went on out around here last week.

Ped Yarbrough came to see D. A. Yarbrough Thursday and took him to see the doctor. He is feeling a lot better. He drove his car up to my house last Friday, the first time he has driven

Sweet and Sour . . .

Ethel Taber had a June birthday, by the way, had her special day last month on the 9th.

Pleasant guests were in our home this week and they were also visitors with the Larmer and Bill Henrys, the Gillilands and other members of the clan - Mr. and Mrs. John W. Forest, Sharon and Johnny of Atlanta, Ga., were here for a short stay. John is the youngest of Jim Lee Forest, longtime resident of this county.

It's been happy days for Melba and Sidney Foy, Fred and Suzanne - Melba's brother, Dick West and family of Washington, D. C. are visiting the family in Merkel and in Baird. The children, Becky and Forest, are favorites with our young set and quite as much at home here as in their own city. The West also brought exciting news for Dick's book, "The Backside of Washington," based on his work as correspondent in the Capitol for United Press, is due on the market in September.

Overheard in town that thunder-stormy day - a young man stood on the corner of Market Street and made an audible mental check of his shopping list - "Something else I gotta get - get - get - Get home before it rains" - set about it with satisfaction.

We were talking about one of our "favorite" people last week, Anna V. Snyder, who remarked on the many, many lovely yards in Baird, more, we agreed, than any place according to size. Some credit for this beautification should go to our ready supply of water, which makes it possible, partly to the excellent seasons, and perhaps some extra thanks to our very energetic Garden Club for the interest they stimulate in well groomed and attractive yards. But most of all we think it's due to people - good grass-root pioneer stock people who have a deep love and respect for the good earth and who give of themselves to make it bloom - at any rate, the hometown is beautiful and Mrs. Snyder, who holds it especially dear, is one of those who has helped make it so; however, yard or no yard, Anna V. is good for any town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paschick and children, of El Paso, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. John Owens of Abilene, visited Mrs. E. M. Wristen last week. They were returning from a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Bobby Owens and family in Garland. The Paschicks also visited Mr. and Mrs. Owens in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Talbot and sons, from Houma, La., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reynolds in Eula, and her brother, James Reynolds and family of Rowden.

Baird High School Cheerleaders Janet Ross, Kitty Ross, Janice Hatchett and Cheryl Sims are attending a school for cheerleaders at Schreiner Institute, Kerrville, this week. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ross took the girls to Kerrville Sunday, and Mrs. Hubert Ross will return them home Friday.

Ford Fund Gift To Restore Lee Memorial Chapel

Allen W. Merrell (right), vice president of the Ford Motor Company Fund, presents a check for the first payment of the gift to Dr. Fred C. Cole (left), president of Washington and Lee University, at traditional June commencement exercises. The Lee Memorial Chapel will remain open to its thousands of yearly visitors during the restoration period.

LEXINGTON, VA — Restoration of one of the South's priceless treasures, the Lee Memorial Chapel on the campus of Washington and Lee University here, has been made possible by a gift of $370,000 from the Ford Motor Company Fund to the university. The chapel was built by General Robert E. Lee during his tenure as president of the university from 1865 until his death in 1870. It is here that General Lee and his family are buried. The chapel also houses a museum of Lee battlefield and family mementoes and a valuable art collection including original portraits of Washington, Madison and Lafayette. Here, too, is the famous Recumbent Statue of Lee by Edward Valentine and Lee's personal office. Henry Ford II, president of the fund, said, "Our trustees believe it to be most important to maintain the Lee Chapel as a priceless spiritual and historic possession for the South and for the nation."

The Gleaner class of the Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Buster George last Thursday evening. An enjoyable time of visiting with each other was had before the meeting was called to order by Mrs. George, president.

Nine members answered roll call: Mmes. Virgil Jones, S. E. Settle, Rubye Berry, Elizabeth Alexander, Sallie Eastham, Ina Bruton, Pearl Ebert, Ellen McGowen and Mrs. George.

The hostess invited the group into the dining room, where not just refreshments, but a lovely feast was spread. Each member wishes to thank Mrs. George for such an enjoyable meeting.

Guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ross are their daughter and family, Mrs. James Nixon and children of San Angelo. During the 4th of July holidays the Rosses attended a reunion of the Ross family in San Antonio.
