Baylor Coach Will Speak At Banquet

The annual Muleshoe High School Athletic Banquet will be held Thursday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria.

Master of Ceremonies will be Glenn Harlin and after a barbecue dinner, the speaker for the evening will be Grant Teaff, Baylor University Football Coach.

Tickets are on sale for $3.75 each. Dave Suddith is Ticket Chairman and they can be purchased at Gordon Wilson Appliance, Chamber of Commerce office, Baker Farm Supply, Pool Insurance Agency and William Bros. Office Supply.

The annual event honors all Muleshoe High School athletes.

Winning the Southwest Conference championship, putting Baylor into the Cotton Bowl for the first time and being acclaimed as National Football Coach of the Year and unanimous Southwest Conference Coach of the year makes one wonder just what Grant Teaff will do for an encore.

Christian Files For Re-election

A City Council election has been set for Saturday, April 5, in Muleshoe. Two seats on the council will be up for election. Those seats belong to Clarence Christian and Max King.

As of the present time, Clarence Christian has filed for re-election but no one else has filed for a position on the council.

Candidates wishing to run for the position must file at the City Hall before March 5.

New Pastor Arrives At Lariat Church

Herman J. Schelter has assumed the duties of pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church at Lariat.

He was installed the first Sunday in February and comes from the Hereford Immanuel Lutheran Church where he pastored for over seven years.

He and his wife, Phyllis, have two sons, one a pastor in Gross Point, Michigan and the other a senior at the University of Texas at Austin.

has accomplished miracles in his three years at the Baptist helm, taking over as a relatively unknown at a school that was admittedly at low tide in the football world.

The first year Teaff stunned the Southwest by posting a 5-6 record and being acclaimed Southwest Coach of the Year. In 1973 the Bruins suffered unsurmountable injuries and had bounces and wound up 2-9.

This year the Bears were picked last in the pre-season poll and became the darlings of the nation as they made the impossible dream come true with the first Southwest Conference championship in 50 years and the first Cotton Bowl berth ever.

Teaff's climb to the top of the nation's coaching ranks, as attested by his being selected head coach of the South squad in the 1973 Blue-Gray all-star game at Montgomery, Alabama, has been filled with roadblocks that would have sidelined a less dedicated person.

At 25, he was the youngest college head coach in the country at his alma mater, McMurry College. Taking over a team that had been at the bottom of the small college ranks, Teaff posted three strong seasons before the school dropped scholarships. A lesser person would

SNOW DRIFTS HERE . . . The 50 mile per hour winds that blew across the Panhandle Saturday drifted snow into four and five foot drifts in parts of Muleshoe and in the surrounding area. The drifts and poor visibility stranded motorists throughout the Panhandle. The snow storm was billed as the worst blizzard in several years in this area. Over six inches of snow were reported in some areas of Bailey County.

Civil Defense Aids Motorists In Storm

The Bailey County Civil Defense Unit met Monday night, February 24, at 8 p.m. in the City Hall council chambers. Between 75 and 80 people were present for the meeting. At the present time there are between 50 and 60 members in the Civil Defense with 10 or 12 volunteering to be members at the meeting Monday.

Civil Defense Coordinator

Cleve Bland reports that the local unit helped to place about 45 families in motel rooms or other shelter during the snow storm over the weekend. These people became stranded in this area after roads leading out of the area were closed due to the blowing snow. Volunteers also volunteered their homes to these stranded motorists.

The local unit is in the process of making a survey of the storm cellars located in Muleshoe. Bland reports that they are about 90 percent completed with the survey at this time. The storm shelter locations will be marked on the city map and the Civil Defense will keep a list of the shelter locations.

During the meeting, Bob Innes of the National Weather Service, gave a program on tornadoes, severe weather and explained how to spot tornadoes when they are forming.

Five members of the Morton Civil Defense Unit and a number of the Bailey County Fire Department personnel were on hand to hear this program.

Commissioners Considering Applications Amos And Sue Dodge Return To Muleshoe

Those interested may make application at the office of the County Judge.

Commissioners Court Set For Friday

The Bailey County Commissioners Court will meet in Special Session Friday, February 28, at 10 a.m. at the courthouse in Muleshoe. The meeting will continue until 5 p.m.

The following items are on the agenda for that meeting: Judge Glenn Thompson will meet with the court at 11:00 a.m.; Margaret Clements will meet with the court at 2 p.m.; court will approve depository contracts; approve county bills; and discuss other minor items.

Interest High In Annual Spelling Bee

Interest in the 1975 Bailey County Spelling Bee, sponsored locally by the Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals, is mounting with pronouncers and judges as well as the four participating schools' student-contestants studying up on "Words of the Champions", the practice spelling booklets issued by the National Spelling Bee.

School students in the county from Bula, Three Way and Muleshoe Junior High and Elementary who are not older than 15 and not past the eighth grade, are eligible to enter the event. The winners of the classroom bees are eligible to win white ribbons. School winners are awarded blue ribbons. Their spelling bees are directed by administrators of the area schools.

The County Bee, scheduled for March 20 at 2:30 p.m. at Blizzard conditions closed roads and kept people inside here Saturday as a massive cold front swept through the panhandle.

Snow began falling Friday night and by midnight had covered the ground.

Many local citizens awoke before dawn Saturday to howling winds and blowing snow. Temperatures plummeted combining with the gusty north winds to bring the chill factor to well below zero.

Soon the blowing snow had brought the visibility in Muleshoe down to zero. With the winds gusting to around 50 miles per hour, drifts began forming and many roads and streets were blocked by the high drifts.

Roads in the Clovis area were closed by 11 a.m. and traffic was brought to a standstill. All motorists were asked to stay off the highways as drifts and zero visibility made driving extremely hazardous.

Many motorists who were out on the highways and streets became stuck in snowdrifts and had to abandon their cars.

Cattle were found on the highways south of Clovis and motorists were warned that others could be straying.

Throughout the panhandle, travelers became stranded by the late winter storm and were forced to take shelter in several towns. Local townspeople took in stranded motorists here over the weekend while they waited for the storm to end and the roads to clear.

All-in-all, about six inches of snow was reported in the Muleshoe area with drifts up to four feet high in some places.

The snow continued through Saturday and Saturday night, but by morning Sunday, skies had cleared and the sun was shining.

Although temperatures lagged in the 30's Sunday, the warm sun began melting the snow making slush over the area. Although quite a bit of melting took place Sunday, snow was still on the ground Monday. A warm sunny day Monday added to the melting and by Tuesday, most of the snow had disappeared, leaving only memories of the 1975 blizzard.

Jaycees Hear Program On Girl Scouts

The Muleshoe Jaycees met Monday for their noon general membership meeting. The president Charles Moraw called the meeting to order. Gene McGuire gave the invocation; Ed Cox led the Pledge of Allegiance and Ted Barnhill led the Jaycee Creed.

Guests at the meeting included Duane Seay of Plainview, a former Muleshoe resident and Jaycee, Ronnie Bunch, Mac Ashmore and Leon Watson.

Kevin Tucker reported on the 12 Annual Volleyball Tournament to be held in Muleshoe, March 31 through April 5. Charles Moraw reported that Hereford will be presenting a clinic on child abuse Thursday, February 27, at the Hereford Community Center.

The program was presented by Sarah Terrell and Mrs. Jack Hysinger representing the Caprock Council of the Girl Scouts of America. Mrs. Terrell showed a film on what scouting is all about and expressed her concern over funds as the Scouts are usually supported by the United Funds. The Girl Scouts are sponsoring a campaign for funds that will be conducted later this summer.

Mrs. Terrell reported that Muleshoe has 56 registered Girl Scouts and 12 registered adults working with five troops. The troops meet once a week and the girls and their leaders plan troop activities. The troops participate in community service, badge work, and

Good Cotton Crop This Year Starts With Quality Seed

COLLEGE STATION - Quality cotton planting seed may be in short supply due to delayed harvest operations last fall caused by unfavorable weather. But producers should buy the best seed available to get this year's crop off to a good start.

According to Dr. Bob Metzger, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Blacklands and High and Rolling Plains areas of Texas were especially hard hit by adverse weather while better weather prevailed during the harvest season in the Rio Grande Valley, Coastal Bend and South Texas. "Generally good quality planting seed can be expected in areas where the cotton crop was harvested with less weather damage," notes the specialist.

"Maximum lint and seed quality occurs at open boll," explains Metzger. "Therefore, quality goes in only one direction -- down. How fast and how far quality drops in the field is determined by two factors -- how long open bolls remain in the field and the type of weather conditions during field exposure."

However, the specialist hastens to point out that seed quality can be further reduced if wet seed cotton is stored in trailers, ricks or modules. "Good seed can be ruined for planting purposes in a matter of hours if it heats in storage. Seed cotton should be ginned immediately and not stored if it exceeds 12 percent moisture."

Why is high quality seed so important in getting a crop off to a good start?

First, high quality seed tolerates cold, wet soil conditions that cause seedling disease. This means full early stands even with unfavorable spring weather. Secondly, good seed means rapid emergence and seedling growth with the advent of favorable weather after planting. High quality seed also contributes to uniform seedling growth and fewer abnormal seedlings.

"Due to the generally poor quality seed produced this past season, germination standards for certified seed have been reduced from 80 to 70 percent germination," notes Metzger. "So, producers in some cases may not have a choice and must use lower quality seed than desired."

If low quality seed must be used, the specialist offers these suggestions to help obtain an adequate stand. Delay planting until soil has warmed. Avoid planting too deep, as low quality seed cannot tolerate too much covering soil. Increase seeding rates, but not more than 25 percent.

"Current high production costs and low prices demand that producers get an early stand with a minimum of re-planting to produce a profitable crop," says Metzger. "Seed cost represents only five to six percent of the total production cost. So, investing in the highest quality seed available is essential in getting a cotton crop off to a good start."

Wheat Prospects... Planting Plans... Orange Harvest Underway... Remember March 17.

A record wheat harvest for 1975? No one knows yet, but the stage is set for what could be the third consecutive record wheat harvest. Winter wheat producers have expanded plantings by six per cent. In Texas, wheat on the High and Low Plains has made little growth due to cold weather.

Slow growth caused short grazing conditions. However, gains during the first 60 days of the grazing period have been good. Green bug problems are developing.

Nationwide, the 1975 wheat crop could reach more than two billion bushels. Wheat harvest will begin in Texas in May.

In order to give Texas wheat producers more information, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will issue a Texas winter wheat forecast on April 9.

Only estimated production for Texas will be published at that time. The early Texas wheat estimate will be included in the April Texas Crop Report. If you want a copy of it, write to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767.

WHILE some farmers are still making 1975 cropping plans, other producers in Texas are busy with planting chores. And while cotton harvesting operations are winding up on the High Plains, farmers in the Rio Grande Valley are planting cotton.

Primarily because of weather, only a small per cent of the cotton crop has been planted to date in the Valley. Estimates are that less than five per cent of the 1975 crop has been put in the ground. Projections that at least a 50 per cent reduction in cotton acres in that area continues to be valid.

Meanwhile, South Texas farmers are planting sorghum and producers in Central Texas are "chomping at the bit" to get started, too. Many areas of the state are still too wet to work for spring crops.

Farmers-as well as city dwellers-are also making big plans for home gardens this year throughout the state.

HARVEST of oranges in the Rio Grande Valley is approaching the final stages. Based on Feb. 1 conditions, the 1974-75 Texas citrus crop is forecast at 12.9 million boxes; this is down 25 per cent from the previous season. Overall, grapefruit harvest is down 27 per cent from last year.

And while citrus harvest is nearing its end, cotton planting is in progress in the Valley. Indications there still point to a 50 per cent reduction in acreage compared to last year. One of the reasons for this is that about two-thirds of the 1974 cotton crop in Texas is still unsold.

BE ON THE lookout for the March 17 planting intentions report. It will be issued on or about that date and will give producers a better insight into what the nation's farmers are planning in the way of planting projections for major crops.

Also included in the report will be Texas farmers' planting plans for 1975.

In 1966 he was hired as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Texas Tech and brought in many of the players who represented the Red Raiders in bowl appearances.

In 1969 he undertook another challenge, moving to Angelo State University where the football program was at low ebb. He had consecutive 6-4 seasons, then moved to a 7-3 including a win over National

2 Accidents Investigated In County

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of January, 1975, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and one person injured. The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first month of 1975 shows a total of two accidents resulting in no persons killed and one person injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for January, 1975, shows a total of 451 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 241 persons injured as compared to January, 1974, with 553 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 302 persons injured. This was 102 less accidents and 61 less injured in 1975 at the same period of time.

John Tower United States Senate

In my two previous radio reports, I have discussed with you different ideas for developing a national energy policy. This week I want to discuss two tax policies as they relate to energy.

The first is a tax deduction for the oil and gas producing industry; the second is a tax on the profits of the industry. Whatever you may call a tax deduction -- a benefit or a loophole -- it exists for a purpose. An example is the interest deduction. It allows homeowners to deduct mortgage interest in calculating their income tax. This deduction encourages American families to own their own homes. Many liberals would call this a subsidy. I prefer to call it an incentive.

The percentage depletion allowance is an incentive for the production of oil and gas. While the percentage depletion allowance is a term more people are familiar with, very few really understand what it means.

A principle of tax equity is that only income, but not capital, should be taxed. Included as part of the selling price of a good or service is an amount intended to recover the capital invested to produce that good or service.

The amount of recovery is allowed as a deduction because it represents capital which should not be taxed. In most cases, that deduction is known as depreciation.

Just as machinery in a factory is a capital asset, so is a reservoir of oil. However, unlike that machinery, the value of that reservoir cannot be determined precisely until all of the oil has been recovered. Neither can the value of that reservoir be divided up and recovered over a period of time in the same way depreciation is recovered.

Instead, a certain percentage of the selling price has been determined to represent recovery of the capital invested in the reservoir. That number is the percentage depletion allowance. The percentage allowed was 27 1/2 percent until 1969, when it was lowered to 22 percent.

Percentage depletion allowance represents the recovery of a real economic cost. That cost presently is borne by the general taxpayer. However, if the percentage depletion allowance is repealed, the additional cost to the oil and gas producer would have to be picked up by the consumer through increased prices.

The second result would be a decline in exploration and production of oil and gas. This is because loss of the depletion allowance would fall more heavily on the independent producer. Small producers find and develop most of our domestic sources of oil and gas. Many of these producers in Texas have told me that if the allowance is abolished, they cannot afford to stay in business.

The oil and gas industry is not the only industry which receives the needed incentive of a depletion allowance. Other extraction industries, such as coal mining and timber, receive similar tax treatment.

In my judgement, repeal of the percentage depletion allowance is a bad idea.

Engagement Policy

The same deadline applies to announcements as to wedding stories. Bride-elect should bring small black and white photo with announcement. The announcement will be published as a cutline beneath the picture. If no picture is available the announcement will be published in story form. Newspaper policy does not allow newspaper to take such pictures.

Engagements should be announced six weeks or two months before the ceremony, preferably by the bride's parents.

Newspapers do not invite persons or guests to social and private events. They do not mention in announcements as to whether invitations will be sent.

Upon announcing engagements, the Journal's wedding form may be obtained from the Society reporter. Our staff is available to assist brides-to-be and her family.

As with all copy, the Journal reserves the right to edit all stories to fit our standards and policies.

Any society story received after deadline will be subject to further editing or publication in later issues.

Wedding Policy

The Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals will hereafter print wedding stories and pictures under the following guidelines:

1. Preferably, photos should be black and white. Those taking pictures at the wedding should have at least one black and white picture taken of the bride before the altar as color prints will not be done in time to fall within the time limit.

2. Photos and stories must be in the office by noon Tuesday for the Thursday Muleshoe Journal and noon Friday for the Sunday Bailey County Journal, no later than two weeks after the ceremony.

3. All information will be printed as desired with the exception of lists of out-of-town guests. Only the immediate family of the bride couple will be printed as out-of-town guests, and only if relationship is designated in the story. If serving in some capacity at the wedding, names will not be repeated in the guest list.

4. Information preferably should be typed, either on a form provided by the paper, or in story form, in which case it should be double-spaced, on one side of the paper only. The paper will not be responsible for misspelled names taken from handwritten stories or forms.

5. Photos will be returned following publication. Local pictures may be picked up at the Journal office. Out of town pictures may be mailed if prior arrangements have been made with the Society Editor.

6. Stories without photos will be printed if received in time for publication within 14 days after the ceremony.

The deadline for all other society copy for publication will continue to be Tuesday and Friday noon unless prior arrangements have been made with the Society Editor. Anyone seeking additional information may contact the Society Editor.

As with all copy, the Journals reserve the right to edit all stories to fit our standards and policies.

Any society story received after deadline will be subject to editing or publication in later issues.

Rose Care For Beautiful Blooms

COLLEGE STATION -- A little extra care of those rose bushes in your home landscape can bring a season of beautiful blooms.

"Prune roses now and also plant new varieties," advises Everett Janne with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Plant bare-root rose bushes about four weeks before the average last frost date in your area. However, potted bushes can be set out at any time." Prune roses in early spring before active growth starts, suggests the landscape horticulturist. Cut off any insect damaged or diseased canes.

When pruning, leave about five vigorous canes 18-24 inches tall. For an abundance of small blooms on Hybrid Tea varieties, cut back about one-fourth of the plant. For medium-sized flowers, prune back about one-half of the growth and for exhibition-size roses, prune about three-fourths of the plant. Janne suggests pruning rambling and climbing roses after they bloom. However, some long stems must be left to produce flowers.

"After pruning, cover the cut end of the can with asphalt wood dressing or caulking compound. This will prevent larvae of carpenter bees from burrowing into the canes," notes the horticulturist.

To keep roses healthy, weed and fertilize the garden area regularly. Apply one-half cup of 8-8-8 or a similar fertilizer at least a foot from the

Soil Moisture Should Aid Crops

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. - With generally adequate soil moisture throughout the state, the 1975 crop season should get off to a good start, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Surplus moisture conditions over parts of Central, North Central, East and Southeast Texas have slowed land preparation work, he said.

Hutchison said livestock grazing is short over much of the state and most stockmen have had to use some supplemental feeding to maintain their herds through the winter. Numerous cattle have been lost because of malnutrition, especially in eastern counties, Hutchison said.

District agricultural agents gave these reports.

Panhandle: Soil moisture is still short north of the Canadian River. Small grains are beginning to green up. Range cattle are receiving some supplemental feed.

South Plains: Small grains continue to make good progress. Livestock are beginning to move off wheat fields to allow grain crops to be produced. Farmers are applying fertilizer and herbicides.

Rolling Plains: Small grains are making excellent growth. Greenbugs are causing some damage to small grains. Some early vegetables such as Irish potatoes are being planted.

North Central: A few small grain fields are being top-dressed with nitrogen fertilizer. Some early spring vegetables are being planted where soil conditions allow. Livestock feeding remains heavy.

Northeast: Some cotton still remains to be harvested. Small grains are providing grazing for livestock but supplemental feeding continues.

Far West: Livestock are in good shape but there is some feeding of range cattle. Sheep and goat shearing is in progress. Land preparation is active.

West Central: Small grains are providing good grazing for livestock. Some ranges are beginning to green up. Some early wheat is in the jointing stage. Lambing and shearing are active. Sheep losses from bitterweed poisoning continue in Sutton County.

Central: Small grains are beginning to respond to warmer weather but some fields need fertilizer. Home gardening activity is increasing. Pastures and ranges remain below average because of widespread overstocking. The lambing season is underway.

East: Excessive soil moisture is continuing to slow small grain growth. Some disease damage is apparent. May cattle are in poor shape because of malnutrition and parasites.

Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast: Milder weather has helped oats and flax. Some potatoes have been planted. Peach trees are beginning to bloom and pecan trees are budding.

MULESHOE, TEXAS

The 1974 cotton crop from the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. was characterized by the second longest staple average in history, reasonably good fiber strength, fair grades, a lot of bark and the second worst micronaire average since PCG began recording High Plains cotton quality in 1958.

PCG's 1974-Crop Quality Report, covering 1,070,000 running bales of a crop that now looks as if it will slightly top 1,100,000, has been completed and will be published soon, according to PCG Executive Vice President Donald A. Johnson. PCG makes the computer-compiled report available to PCG members, the cotton trade, the textile industry and others, providing a detailed account of quality and fiber relationships of High Plains cotton. USDA Cotton Classing Offices in the area and the Texas Tech Textile Research Center cooperate in making the report possible.

Staple average of the 1974 crop came to 31.7 thirty-seconds of an inch, well above the 31.06 thirty-seconds of an inch recorded in 1973, but somewhat below the all-time high 1968 average of 32.3 thirty-seconds.

Pressley strength of the crop measured an average 81,410 pounds per square inch, as compared to 81,940 pounds for the 1973 crop. All-time high pressley for the area was 85,000 pounds per square inch in 1970.

In grade, 50 per cent of the area crop fell in the White category, 43.9 per cent was Light Spot, and 5.8 per cent graded Spot. Corresponding 1973 figures were 74.7 per cent, 28.7 per cent and 1.5 per cent. The highest percentage of white cotton produced on the Plains came in 1958 when 71 per cent was in that grouping. The lowest percentage was 9 per cent White cotton in 1966.

Micronaire readings for 1974 averaged 3.07 micrograms, only slightly above the previous record low of 2.9 micrograms established in 1971, and far below the excellent 1973 crop when the micronaire average was 4.13. That 1973 figure was the highest ever achieved in the 25 High Plains counties.

Cotton classed as "Barky" in 1974 accounted for 34.6 per cent of the crop, which compares with only 4 per cent Barky cotton in 1973. The worst year in Plains history for bark was 1971 when 68 per cent of the bales carried that designation.

Prior to 1973, Barky bales were penalized 50 points in the cotton loan schedule in addition to being reduced in grade. The 50 point penalty was removed by USDA in 1973 after PCG presented evidence that the "double penalty" was not justified by loss of spinning and finishing utility. Thus, the 375,000 plus bales of Barky cotton in 1974 were valued at an additional $2.40 each by the loan schedule.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texans may be selecting their presidential nominating convention delegates in a special primary next year.

A presidential preference primary bill was voted out of the House Elections Committee in spite of heavy opposition from a parade of witnesses.

Significantly, perhaps, the Committee vote came on the same day U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Bentsen has acknowledged his interest in seeing a preference primary established in his home state, although he insists he is not making a major campaign for it.

Texans now choose delegates to presidential nominating conventions in state conventions of the major parties.

Under the proposal approved by the Committee, delegates would be elected on the primary election ballot. Presidential candidates would pick their own delegates in each of Texas' 31 senatorial districts.

Opponents assailed the bill advanced by Rep. Tom Schieffer of Fort Worth as a "winner take all" measure. Schieffer insisted that it is not, and claimed Democratic party rules authorize such methods of naming delegates.

Bentsen aides reportedly feel the primary will make it possible for him to get a bigger share of Texas delegates than he would win under the existing convention system, although this is subject to question.

MORE FUNDS DUE

Texas will get $64.2 million in recently-released federal funds to aid cities with building sewage treatment facilities.

The money, impounded by presidential directive, was ordered released last week by the U.S. Supreme Court. It is in addition to $111 million released immediately after the High Court's decision.

Water Quality Board members are working on a list of cities which will receive the $64.2 million.

WQB Executive Director Hugh C. Yantis Jr. said Texas will also be permitted to allocate separate funds to large cities and small cities. In the past, small cities have had to compete with large cities for available funds.

ing the court costs.

Texas Supreme Court held a doctor can be made responsible for medical bills of a defective child born to a mother who had German measles during pregnancy where the physician failed to give proper warning of dangers.

The High Court sustained a $5,117 jury finding for a woman who was hurt when another driver turned right at a "confusing" experimental red arrow signal in Wichita Falls.

In still another case, the Supreme Court agreed with Attorney General Hill that a Galveston proposal to issue $26 million in bonds to build a grain elevator in a city harbor should have been rejected.

OIL ALLOWABLE SET

Texas Railroad Commission once more set the statewide oil production allowable at 100 per cent for March.

For three years, the Commission has been directing all-out production, and at the same time imported oil is continuing to flow in.

Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said 4,023,000 barrels were imported the first week of February, a considerable increase over January. Buyers asked for 4,055,124 barrels of Texas oil daily, which represents a 8,946 barrel decrease from February.

SPEED LIMIT DEBATED

House members found extending the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit hard to accept, and sent the legislation to accomplish it back to committee.

Some want to levy a minor $5 fine (not attributable to insurance rates) for speeding offenses between 55 and 70 miles an hour.

When all the fussing is over, the Legislature almost certainly will extend the present limit. To do otherwise would risk loss of $303 million a year in federal highway funds.

COURTS SPEAK

An Austin district judge granted Atty. Gen. John Hill's request for a temporary injunction to stop a $45 million increase in Texas intrastate long distance telephone rates March 1.

Frances "Sissy" Farenthold's year-old campaign finance lawsuit against Gov. Dolph Briscoe and key campaign aides was dismissed at her own request. She had sought a $2.5 million civil recovery—and ended up pay-

AG OPINIONS

Counties may be granted limited zoning authority over parts of islands and other recreation territories within their boundaries but outside city limits.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- Statistics on juvenile crime may be furnished the Department of Public Safety by local agencies provided information does not identify offenders.
- Revenue in a county road and bridge fund can be transferred to the general fund and used for any lawful purpose.
- No funds are appropriated for research and management for protection of the white-winged dove, although money may be spent for acquiring a dove habitat.
- The Highway Department can spend state funds to match federal money for city street and county road projects.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

USDA Proposes Food Stamp Amendment

State agencies would be required to take effective "outreach" action, using a full-time State Outreach Coordinator, under an amendment to the Food Stamp Program Regulations proposed for comments today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). State now have Outreach Programs, and submit annual outreach plans. But court suits have been filed against 19 states and USDA, alleging that programs in those states are ineffective. Judge Miles Lord of the U.S. District Court of Minnesota or dered the Department to review all State Outreach Plans, assess their implementation, and provide remedial action where necessary. USDA's review and assessment of the States' Plans demonstrate the desirability of having a State Outreach Coordinator who spends most of his time on the Outreach effort. The proposed amendment to the regulations is scheduled for publication in the Federal Register of Wednesday, February 19. Written comments on the proposal should be sent to P. Royal Shipp, Director, Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Comments must be received by March 21, and they will be open for public inspection.

Nine Million In U.S. Reportedly Alcoholics

This article is part of a series on "The Progression of Alcoholism" produced by the Alcoholism Council of San Fernando Valley, Calif. The stories are made available locally by the Central Plains MH/MR Center. If a member of your family or a dear friend or a co-worker, is an alcoholic, he is not alone. There are 9,000,000 like him. If you, yourself, detect in your drinking behavior an abuse of alcohol that is affecting any part of your life on a continuing basis, you are not morally weak, but your life is controlled by a disease that the American Medical Association calls "the greatest of all drug abuses." Alcoholism is incurable, but the ravages of its effects on the victim and countless others can be arrested through abstinence. Help can be had quickly by visiting the office of Jerry Henderson, MH/MR Center, Plainview.

The council reveals some astounding facts about the disease. It is estimated that 80,000,000 United States citizens drink alcoholic beverages. Actually six of every 10 adults use alcohol. Only one out of 12 of them becomes an alcoholic. This nation is populated by 9,000,000 alcoholics. Taxpayers of this country surrender $75,000,000 annually for policing, court procedures, welfare and hospitalization caused by this disease. AA Helps Drinkers How many of them have done or are doing anything about the disease which can never get better, only worse? The most successful effort in all history in showing the way to necessary total abstinence is Alcoholics Anonymous.

A recent article in a medical journal credited AA with doing more to relieve alcoholism than all doctors, clergy and jurists in the nation. Yet only approximately 30,000 of those 9,000,000 problem drinkers are in AA learning how to avoid the incessant poisoning of themselves.

Something about the disease and what is done to society and individuals and about practicing alcoholics can be learned from a few facts gleaned from many studies and surveys.

Alcoholics are more susceptible than non-drinkers to heart attacks, high blood pressure, emphysema, diabetes and, of course, cirrhosis of the liver. Even though many death certificates credit the above or other alcoholism-induced maladies, alcoholism ranks a close third to cancer and heart disease as man's greatest killer disease.

A fourth of all who die from fires while smoking in bed are alcoholics. One out of every three who commit suicide are alcoholics, and the suicide rate for problem drinkers is 58 times greater than for non-heavy drinkers. He Dies Sooner

The alcoholic can anticipate a 24 percent chance of a violent death. Even more distressing is the fact that one-fourth of all emotionally-disturbed persons and half of all first-time admissions to mental institutes are alcoholic. For the alcoholic who is still working, such an employee averages a loss of 22 more working days a year and dies 12 years sooner than non-alcoholics who may be working at his side. There are more than 3,000,000 alcoholics working in industry. By contrast, there are only a half million known tuberculosis sufferers in the United States. Five percent of all employed males have serious drinking problems.

Forty percent of all family court-problems are the result of abusive use of booze. More than 40 percent of all delinquent youths come from homes where there is an alcohol problem.

Where do alcoholics come from? Surveys show that half of all those millions either attended or graduated from college, 87 percent completed high school, only 13 percent dropped out before high school. Alcohol is Drug

Forty-five percent are employed in professions or management, 30 percent do manual-labor, and 25 percent are in white collar jobs. Only 3 percent of our alcoholics are on any Skid Row. Actually only a fourth of all Skid Row derelicts are alcoholics, the rest being merely social misfits.

Fortunately most cases of alcoholism require from five to 20 years to become chronic, and help can come at any stage along the way if symptoms are heeded and assistance is asked for.

Some of these facts may be impressive enough to convince the public that alcoholism is a problem that commands attention and an open mind to invite problem drinkers out of the shadows to do something about their recovery. Nine million alcoholics affect seriously the lives of 30,000,000 other persons. Those numbers represent a national catastrophe.

THE SCIENTISTS TELL ME ...

By Robert L. Haney, Science Writer
The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

New Lawn Grass Resists Disease and Insects

Considerably more than half of the home lawns in Texas are estimated to be in St. Augustinegrass. And in the Gulf Coast area of the state, 96% of the lawns are in the popular St. Augustinegrass.

But a serious new disease of this grass, first observed in 1966 by lawn service operators in South Texas, has blighted many fine lawns. The disease spread to 62 counties by 1974 and has been found in Louisiana and Mexico.

In 1968 Dr. R. W. Toler, Experiment Station virologist at Texas A&M, found the disease was caused by a plant virus. Toler named the disease St. Augustine Decline (SAD) because of the symptoms produced. On the leaves, SAD produces a yellow mottling often called mosaic. Plants are reduced in vigor, and growth of both stolons and roots are retarded. The grass in diseased lawns declines in growth, has thin spots, and is invaded by weeds and other grasses. Some other grasses affected by the virus include Proso millet, pearl millet, foxtail millet and crabgrass. Two other viruses are known to invade St. Augustinegrass, but they are not a problem in Texas.

Research at Texas A&M revealed that the SAD virus was spread by transplanting infected grass into new lawns. A lawn mower can also spread the virus when SAD diseased grass is mowed and then the same mower is used to mow healthy grass.

There is no known chemical that will give practical control of plant viruses or virus diseases such as SAD. Control of SAD was sought through finding a St. Augustinegrass that was resistant to the virus. Using special injection techniques that exposed the plants to the virus, more than 250 breeding lines of St. Augustine were tested. Those that resisted virus infection were selected for further testing.

Of the materials that resisted SAD in the greenhouse tests, FA110, an experimental line supplied by the plant breeder at the University of Florida, proved to be the most resistant to SAD. The resistant material was then tested in known diseased lawns over a period of three years.

The SAD resistant line was then tested by Dr. Richard Duple of the Experiment Station and found to be resistant to chinch bugs, the number one insect problem of St. Augustine lawns in the state. The resistant grass, FA110, was then named 'Floritam' (the name comes from Florida and Texas A&M) and jointly released to certified sod producers in Texas and Florida in 1972. The new grass is available through the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Foundation Seed Service, College Station, Texas, or Certified Sod-Producers, Turf Nurseries and Home & Garden Centers in Texas.

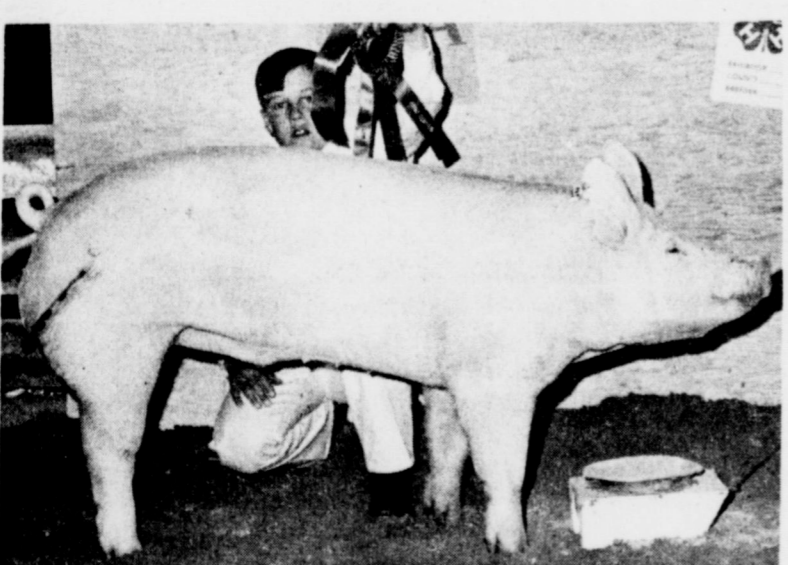

Floritam compares favorably with Common St. Augustinegrass in growth but is slightly less cold hardy. However, efforts are underway to improve its cold tolerance and maintain the high levels of SAD and chinch-bug resistance.

Research shows Floritam can be planted as sprigs, plugs or sod. Floritam will usually establish in one season when sprigged on 12-inch centers, plugged (4-inch squares) on 18-inch centers or planted as solid sod. In the absence of soil tests, a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 incorporated with the soil before planting or applied broadcast soon after planting, gave good results. It was applied at the rate of 2 lbs. of actual nitrogen per 1000 sq. ft. of surface area, or 20 lbs. of 10-20-10 per 1000 sq. ft. This complete fertilizer gives in addition to 2 lbs. of nitrogen, about 4 lbs. of phosphorus and 2 lbs. of potassium. After planting, to insure quick coverage, monthly applications of nitrogen alone were added at the rate of 1 lb. of actual nitrogen per 1000 sq. ft. and continued until sod was well established.

Once the turf was established it was mowed to 1½ inches to 2 inches in height. Research shows St. Augustine grasses are sensitive to herbicides; they should be used with extreme caution. After Floritam had fully covered and was well established, it was maintained by fertilizing twice a year, once in the spring and once in the fall with 1 lb. of actual nitrogen per 1000 sq. ft. per application.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

One of the most heartening success stories in public health is being written in Texas -- the dramatic, almost unbelievable decline of immunizable diseases.

In 1974, a combined total of 641 cases were reported to the State Health Department for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, (whooping cough), measles and rubella. And for the second straight year there was no polio reported in the state -- another milestone in itself.

While all preventable diseases may never be wiped out, the Texas State Department of Health -- along with private physicians -- is working toward that goal.

Last year, reports State Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy, was the best year in history in preventing the immunizable diseases. Provisional Health Department reports show no cases of polio, nine cases of diphtheria, four cases of tetanus, 99 cases of pertussis, 212 cases of measles and 317 cases of rubella. Compare these 1974 figures with those of had years. Contrast the zero level of polio with 1950 when 2,778 cases and 210 deaths occurred.

Place the nine cases of diphtheria alongside the 5,756 cases reported in 1933. Or the 212 cases of measles which is only a handful in comparison to the 86,086 measles cases reported in 1958.

The 99 cases of pertussis in 1974 is small indeed when you consider the 16,590 cases occurring in 1943. The four cases of tetanus reported last year is just a fraction of the 157 cases recorded in 1942.

Remember when rubella -- or German measles -- was so widespread? Highest total for this disease was in 1970 when 8,409 cases were reported, as opposed to 317 last year.

As immunizations have increased in Texas, the disease levels have moved steadily downward.

When the Texas Legislature in 1971 passed a compulsory immunization law, it contributed greatly to reduction of diseases in the school age group. Because of the success of the compulsory school immunization program, more attention is directed now toward the pre-schoolers in State Health Department activities. Statistics have shown that outbreaks have repeatedly taken the heaviest toll among children from one to four years.

With almost a quarter-million babies born in Texas each year, it would take only a few years for a giant disease reservoir to be built up -- IF these children went unprotected.

The State Health Department is making sure this doesn't happen, and its immunization program is primarily aimed toward the pre-schoolers -- that large group of youngsters who could be the target for disease.

Among the pre-school group, special emphasis is given the newborns. Federal and state funds have authorized the hiring of a group of Community Service Aides who are stressing the need for early immunization.

When a baby is born in Texas, the Immunization Division gets a computer printout showing the baby's name, parents' names and home address. The Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department provides this information.

Parents of newborns receive a card informing them of immunization schedules and recommending vaccination times. They are asked to return the card and indicate which immunizations have been started.

That's where the Community Service Aides come in. They take referrals from the Immunization Division and attempt to track down those who don't respond. Last year an average of 75 Community Service Aides were employed and assigned to regional and field offices to promote immunizations in the pre-school group.

They received 135,773 new referrals during the year -- about 1,800 per aide.

The aides show a high degree of self reliance. Often they don't wait for the computer printouts of new births but get them from local registrars, speeding their contacts with new mothers.

It has been taken the combined efforts of health-oriented individuals and groups in both the public and private sector to produce the immunization results which produced such low disease levels in 1974. The State Health Department is hoping for similar results in 1975.
