

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently needs a carpenter at his house, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
It used to be that people saved energy in order to keep their electric light bill down, not because it was patriotic or to prove something to a bunch of Arab oil barons.
I knew a man once who even turned the light off in his living room when he was listening to the radio, back in the days before television, on the reasonable ground that you don't need a light on to hear something. "What could be sillier," he asked, "than sitting in a brightly-lit room listening to the radio with your eyes shut?" If his bill ever went above the minimum of $1.35 he'd call the power company to see if the meter was leaking.

What brought this to mind was an article I read saying the government is working on some energy-use standards to be enforced by law, and among these would be one requiring buildings to have windows that open.

As I understand it, architects have gone wild in designing buildings with year-round "Climate control" and thought they were saving energy by including windows that are sealed shut and are never intended to be opened.
On the moon, where the nights are 40 degrees below freezing and the days as hot as an oven, such a building might be necessary, but on earth it seems a little odd. It's like the stairway of the eccentric woman I read about recently. She had one built in her 40-room house that went nowhere. Just wound up against a blank wall.

It seems we're in peculiar shape when Congress has to pass a law prohibiting us from doing such things.
Nonetheless I'm in favor of this open-window regulation, but it doesn't go far enough. It's one thing to pass a law requiring a builder to install windows that open. What I want is a law requiring a window to stay up when it's raised, I'm getting tired propping mine up with a stick.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Art Competition Set For "Texas" Opening

The Gala Opening of the musical drama, "Texas" in the Palo Duro Canyon on June 18, 1975 will be the occasion for the third art competition sponsored by the drama and the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum. The subject for 1975 will be "Openings".

The judged for the competition on the occasion of the tenth season of "Texas" are being announced today: they are Olive Vanduff Bugbee of Clarendon, Texas, art curator of the Museum; Clarence Kincaid of Lubbock, Texas, horn professor of art at Texas Tech University; Allan Brown, in charge of photography at West Texas State University.

Mrs. Bugbee is a distinguished painter who pictures hang in many galleries. To reinforce the formal training she received at the University of Chicago and from recognized artists, she has lived outdoors, working with animals, studying them and studying the geology of the land around them. Her passion for wildlife emerges in the vitality and clarity of her paintings.
Clarence Kincaid received his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in Art at West Texas State University and took his doctorate at the famous Pennsylvania State Art Department. He has held many shows throughout the region and specialized in water color and design.
Allan Brown is also a graduate of West Texas State University but in Political Science. He turned to photography after his graduation and is recognized as one of the best commercial photographers in the area. One of his specialties is aerial photography. As in previous years, the preliminary selections will be made from slides or small photographs of the originals. These must be in the "Texas" office by 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, June 4, 1975. Send them to "Openings", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or bring them to the "Texas" office, 2010 Fourth Avenue in Canyon, Texas. Final judging will take place on Wednesday, June 18, 1975. The prize for the ten winning artists in each class will be two tickets to the Gala Opening of the tenth season of "Texas" that evening.

The winning entries will be displayed at the performance and then will hang in the Museum from June 24 through July 30.

Entries in three classes will be judged: Painting including oils, acrylics, gouaches, tempera, water color and mixed media; Drawing including pastels, pencil sketches, pen and inks, felt tips and graphics; and photographs including color and black and white.

"Openings" of all kinds will be considered: eyes, ears, doors, windows, caves, tunnels, seeds bursting, - opening nights -

For information about the contest write "Openings". For information about the performance write "Texas". The address in both cases is Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 and the telephone number is 806-655-2182.

Vegetable Harvest In Progress... Still More Than Chicken Feed... Wheat Crop Increases.

If vegetables are one of your favorite foods, you will be happy to know that vegetable harvest is well underway in the Rio Grande Valley and other commercial areas of the state. Texas ranks number one and among the top three in many categories of commercial vegetable production, and this is the time of year when a number of crops are being harvested, cultivated, and planted.

Everything from watermelons to carrots to tomatoes is making good progress.

Cabbage harvest in the Valley is in its final stages, and supplies from the San Antonio-Winter Garden area will be available throughout the spring months. A small acreage in the Trans-Pecos should be harvested in May or June.

Carrot harvest will continue in the Valley through May. Supplies should also be available in other producing sections throughout May.

Sweet corn harvest is expected to get underway in the Valley around mid-May. Planting is underway in other sections of the state.

Cantaloups are making good progress with harvest expected to get underway in mid-May. At Laredo, the crop is reported to be doing well, and in the Winter Garden area, the crop is planted with seeds beginning to emerge.

If you like tomatoes, there's more good news. Spring tomatoes are making excellent growth in the Valley. Most growers report good stands with growth to excellent fruit.

Picking of some early fields is underway with the majority of the crop to be harvested next month and into June. Some replanting was necessary in Central Texas due to a freeze, and planting in north Texas and on the High Plains is currently in progress.

And early in May you can expect the first of the 1975 watermelon crop from South Texas. Most melons in South Texas are vining. Planting is underway in Central and East Texas as well as north Texas.

If onions are to your liking, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that the 1975 onion crop for Texas is now forecast at 17 per cent below last year's crop. The crop is also six per cent below the March 1 projection.

Peak movement of onions should occur from now through mid-May. At Laredo, onions are being harvested. In the San Antonio-Winter Garden area, the harvest is expected to be underway in the near future.

A RETURN OF THE BACKYARD FLOCK of chickens is picking up throughout the state as people search for ways to cut food bills. But the "pin money" days of bygone years for the small backyard hen flock have long since disappeared. Poultry production is big business now in Texas.

During 1974, gross income from broilers, eggs and chickens totaled $253 million. This is six per cent less than during the 1973 marketing year, however. Broiler production in 1974 was slightly above 1973 while gross income was four per cent under 1973. Egg production was down nine per cent from 1973. Cash receipts totaled $104 million, down eight per cent from 1973. Cash receipts from chickens (other than broilers) was 10 per cent less than in 1973.

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT, here it is again, and it is worth repeating. Texas wheat crop this year is forecast at 140 million bushels. That's up 20 per cent from the Dec. 1 projection.

That's a stark contrast to the puny 1974 crop of only 52,800,000 bushels of wheat produced in Texas.

On a stage of processing basis, prices for crude materials for further processing (excluding foods, feeds, and fibers) declined 0.5 percent, seasonally adjusted, from February to March. This was the sixth consecutive monthly decrease. Lower prices for bituminous coal more than offset increases for hides and skins and crude petroleum.

The index for intermediate materials, supplies, and components (excluding foods and feeds) rose 0.2 percent in March, about the same as in February. Prices were higher for agricultural and industrial chemicals, electric power, some iron and steel products, and fabricated metal products. These increases were largely offset by lower prices for nonferrous metals and synthetic textile products.

Prices for finished goods edged up 0.1 percent from February to March. Prices of producer finished goods were higher; however, consumer finished goods declined due to foods.

Consumer foods decline 1.6 percent in March, while other consumer finished goods rose 0.3 percent. Among consumer food products, prices dropped for sugar and confectionery, pork, fresh and dried vegetables, and processed poultry. However, prices rose for fresh fruits. Consumer finished goods other than foods were up 0.3 percent over the month compared with an increase of 0.1 percent in February.

Consumer durables rose 0.2 percent primarily because of higher prices for gasoline. Consumer durables rose 0.6 percent, as special rebates for passenger cars were reduced or eliminated.

for the Shell Oil Company, said governmental regulations fixed supplies, their costs and product prices leading to a big consumer "rip-off".

Terry Rice of Washington, D. C., director of governmental affairs for the Continental Oil Company, was even more blunt.

"We have a Congress that is hell bent on giving American business the business," he said, adding that four years of procrastination and lip service were a "poor substitute for a comprehensive national fuels and energy program that this country needs."

In addition to Peeler, new Association officers elected were: Ford Smith of Austin, senior vice president; Bill Wright of Abilene, second senior vice-president; and four regional vice-presidents: Willis Reed of Beaumont, Luther Glass of Tyler, Ben Ivey of Denton and George Lokey of Amarillo.

May, Older Texan Month, will see a variety of activities across the state in honor of people age 65 and older, according to Mrs. Robin Taylor, county Extension agent.

Theme for this year's celebration is "Bicentennial -- Heritage, Festival, Horizons," the agent said.

"The three-part theme points to past and present accomplishments of our older citizens through the rich heritage they've made possible for us, and it encourages us to honor them for it," she explained.

Maid Of Cotton To Model

Miss Diane Milliken, the reigning Maid of Cotton, will be in Sudan April 25 to model her cotton wardrobe in the Epsilon Sigma Alpha style show. "Cotton Country" is this year's theme for the annual style show. The activities will begin at 7:30 Friday evening in the Sudan community center.

Tickets can be purchased from Sudan ESA members or at the door. Each ticket entitles those attending to refreshments and a chance at door prizes. Tickets are priced: $2.00 per couple, $1.50 per adult, and $.75 per student.

Proceeds will go to the senior scholarship fund. Merchants from Littlefield, Amherst and Muleshoe will be furnishing the wardrobe for the style show. The Muleshoe merchants participating are Cobbs, St. Clair's and The Back Door.

Cut Flower Care Outlined

COLLEGE STATION -- Flowers that are properly cared for when freshly cut will make longer lasting, attractive arrangements, says Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He recommends the following procedures.

"Always use a sharp knife or shears to cut the flower stem," says the Texas A&M University System specialist. "A dull cut will crush the stem and plug up the plant tissue. This keeps the stem from carrying water."

Janne stresses using a clean container for the flowers. Used containers should be thoroughly cleaned with a household bleach solution to get rid of any bacteria.

"After the flowers have been cut, put them in warm water and make sure that several inches of the stem is below water," points out the horticulturist.

Remove any leaves that are covered by water.

Then cover the flowers with a plastic film to prevent moisture loss and put them in a refrigerator or cool room for four to six hours.

The flowers are now ready to be put in an arrangement. "Be sure the stems are covered by about one-fourth inch water and keep the arrangement out of hot or cold air drafts and away from direct sunlight," advises Janne.

Using chemical commercial preservatives in the water may help keep the flower in good condition. However, be sure to use these according to the manufacturer's recommendation, cautions the horticulturist.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Statistics and common sense indicate the 64th Legislature is heading for a wild and crowded finale, and that more bills will die than survive.

This is inevitable with more than 2,200 House bills and joint resolutions and nearly 1,100 Senate bills and joint resolutions introduced.

The system is overloaded, and the tabulations of unfinished business on legislative computers effectively turn on the warning lights.

Of about 2,400 House and Senate bills referred to House committees, fewer than 500 have emerged.

About 900 bills and important resolutions have been referred to Senate standing committees, and some 500 have come out.

With the exception of constitutional revision, which was effectively and promptly disposed of, most of the ses-sion's key business remains unfinished.

Budget bills are still in the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees.

School finance reform measures are in sub-committees, and seem likely to stay there awhile. Agreement is far from reached on public utility regulatory legislation.

Legislators have their hands full in the next six weeks, and the facts are stacked against any easy way out.

STANDARDS COSTLY

Federal water quality standards may cost Texas cities, towns and industries more than $6 billion before 1983, according to a Texas Water Quality Board inventory.

Federal requirements call for complete elimination of pollution discharges into waters by that date.

The Federal Water Quality Act specifies that every river, stream, creek, lake and coastal area is to be fit for swimming, boating and fishing in eight years.

Texas Water Quality Board estimates the cleanup of city wastewater discharges would cost cities $400 million a year if their part of the deadline is met. Industries would have to come up with another $3 billion, TWQB estimated.

and must be disclosed.

The College Coordinating Board and Vocational Education Board may refuse to renew approval of out-of-district junior college course offerings.

A statute which bans bringing a child into the state for purpose of placing him for adoption is an unconstitutional infringement on right to travel.

asked the attorney general to shut down 21 Houston businesses which owe $118,000 in city and state sales taxes.

Services Held Tuesday For M.P. Chandler

Services for Marvin Paul Chandler, 62, a longtime Littlefield resident, were held Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Littlefield with burial in the Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Officiating was Rev. Joe James, pastor of the church. Chandler died at 7:50 p.m., Sunday in Medical Arts Hospital.

He was a native of Shamrock and had lived in Littlefield since 1923.

Survivors include his wife, Edith; three daughters, Dolores Ottenhouse of Houston, Marcia Blomberg of Parkesburg, W. Va., and Beatrice Gian of Pasadena, Calif.; a brother, Orville Ray Chandler of Muleshoe; three sisters, Ruby Shueart of Amarillo, Bonnie Mae Niven of Norman, Okla., and Betty Jo Nixon of Poway, Calif.; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Keithley, Joe Krizek, Bob Taylor, Lawrence Macha, Otto Dibala and Charlie Ray Chandler.

EARLY EXPERIENCE

SANTEE, S.C.—A Patrolman, Willie Frank White, 21, was on night duty, when he saw a car whiz by, hitting an estimated 80 to 85 mph. Finally stopping the car he heard a woman screaming and found himself the chief midwife at the delivery of a baby boy. White had been a patrolman two and one-half months.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Tolbert Thurman Crowder of Port Arthur to the board of regents of Lamar University to succeed William Samuel Monroe of Port Arthur who resigned.

Briscoe named Durwood A. Sutton of Grand Prairie to the Texas Turnpike Authority board of directors.

Truett Smith of Wylie was elected chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission and John Turner of Houston vice-chairman.

Briscoe reappointed Houston H. Harte of San Antonio, Raymond M. Holliday of Houston and Joseph Zeppa of Tyler to the East Texas State University board of regents.

Nelson A. Clare is a new assistant attorney general in Attorney General Hill's San Antonio regional office, and John H. Richards is assistant chief of the AG anti-trust consumer protection division.

SHORT SNORTS

The Senate again passed a bill calling for a study to determine if state agencies are doing adequate jobs and if they should be continued.

A multi-million-dollar alcoholic treatment and rehabilitation program also received Senate approval.

A $150,000 rural development loan went to Corsicana Industrial Foundation to help finance a tool and rubber company expansion.

Fifteen model programs for handicapped children will be developed by school districts under a $1.3 million federal grant.

Comptroller Bob Bullock

SUBSTITUTION

Final concurrence by the Senate in House amendments to a proposed constitutional revision resolution sent the issue of a new constitution for Texas to a November 4 statewide ballot.

Campaigns already are shaping up for the eight-section article-by-article rewrite proposals, which are virtually identical to the final recommendation before the 1974 Constitutional Convention. Funds will be provided by the legislature for advertising the document and "educating" voters on its provisions.

ALLOWABLE WIDE OPEN

The Railroad Commission again set the oil allowable at 100 per cent for May in spite of a minor decline in crude requests from national buyers.

Next month will be the 38th of wide-open production. East Texas Field, restricted to 86 per cent, is an exception.

COURTS SPEAK

The Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 3-2 vote, upheld the 1973 Texas death penalty law which permits execution for several categories of murder. Thirteen men are on death row at Huntsville prison.

Texas Supreme Court held that a man who lost an eye in an oilfield accident can collect disability insurance only for that specific injury unless he can prove that other physical problems (including traumatic neurosis) are direct results of the eye loss.

AG OPINIONS

A county clerk has authority to issue a marriage license even though it appears applicants have been divorced less than 30 days, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: A bill permitting veterans to defer paying tuitions and fees at colleges while awaiting federal benefits is constitutional.

A county can spend money to maintain and operate parks without holding an election to levy a park tax.

look a little closer at your shopping dollar

Everybody wants full value for their hard earned dollars. When you buy, you also want service and satisfaction.

You get all of these when you patronize your local firms who offer a variety of goods and services. Now, we also want to know what happens to that dollar.

If it is spent at home — most of that dollar stays at home and makes the rounds. It makes payrolls, pays taxes that keep our community going, supports churches and charities, and adds greatly to the overall economy of our HOMETOWN.

So doesn't it just make good sense to SPEND IT AT HOME where it does the most good?

The Perfect Tomorrow

Cecil Mardis would probably help these people to reach their ambitions and goals.

In a perfect tomorrow there would be no war or poverty. People in this time would probably know no worry or distress. They would probably work to improve themselves or their society. There probably wouldn't be any pollution or corruption in the government. There would be no guns or war. All diseases and illnesses would not exist. People of this time would be happy. The people's jobs would be fulfilling and they would be prosperous. They would have jobs that they would enjoy. Their jobs might be to help others. They might help build a beautiful building or they might go to a college as a teacher. Civil workers would keep those who were handicapped - such as the deaf or dumb.

In their leisure, these people would do something they would enjoy. They would swim, fish or golf and see a play or movie at a theater. They might stroll in a park or a grassy lawn. The people could spend time with a friend or relative. Some of them might go hunting or skiing.

To make their fantasies come true these people would work hard and strive to reach their goals and ambitions. They might unite with a friend or group to reach their dreams. Religion

MHS Science Students Do Experiments

Mrs. Mary Scoggin's seventh grade classes are studying hydrogen and other gases. During their study, they have had five high school students demonstrate an experiment. These students are in Mr. Smith's Advanced Science Classes. They are: Mike Hunt, Paul Harbin, Bobby Henry, David Watson, and Ronnie Bullock. Mr. Smith advises each of the boys on what they will do for each of the classes. Each experiment is different, and each experiment teaches the students something new. The experiments are being done during April 11-29. The journalism staff is sure that the seventh graders are enjoying this very much.
