New IRS Book Available From Office

Dallas, Texas -- North Texas residents without retirement benefits at work can learn about the tax advantages of having their own programs by reading a new Internal Revenue Service (IRS) publication now available free from IRS offices.

A. W. McCanness, IRS district director for North Texas, said that the brochure, "Tax Information on Individual Retirement Savings Programs," explains portions of a new law that permits employed and self-employed taxpayers who do not participate in pension, profit-sharing or similar programs to make tax deductible contributions of 15 percent of their earnings, up to $1500 a year, into an individual retirement program.

The individual pays no tax on the contributions, interest or other income earned until the money is withdrawn from the program--normally at retirement. At that time, chances are the individual will be in a lower tax bracket than during his or her earning years.

The new IRS publication provides details on eligibility, how to start a program, investing funds for a program, tax benefits available and program limitations and restrictions.

Mr. McCanness said that North Texas residents can telephone or visit their nearest IRS office for a copy of Publication 590.

 with the judges at the same time. Judges will be Mrs. Linnie (B. M.) Simms of Wellington, Former Congressman Bob Price of Pampa and Mrs. Jack Geddes of Lubbock. Entrants will ride in the parade Saturday morning that marks the start of the last day of the celebration.

Nationally famous and drawing entrants from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado, the event is closely tied to the history of the high plains and the phenomenal wheat harvests grown there in the 1940s. The earliest event of this type was the National Wheat Show held in Perryton in 1941, the first good crop year after the dry dust bowl days of the 1930s.

Planned to raise money for the USO in the face of a pending war, the Wheat Show was broadcast across the state by radio and carried across the nation by the Associated Press and United Press International. One per cent of the nation's wheat crop was raised in Ochiltree county in 1944, and after the 1947 wheat crop of 11 million bushels of grain, the first "Wheatheart of the Nation" pageant was held along with the Perryton Birthday Celebration that year. The two events have been held at the same time ever since.

This year the winning candidate in the contest will receive a $1,000 college scholarship to be used at the college of her choice. First runner-up will be presented with a $250 scholarship. Other top contestants will receive prizes for their participation in the event.

Reigning "Miss Wheatheart", Kim Higgins of Guymon, will present the new queen with the crown she will wear for the coming year and a bouquet of flowers.

Week long festivities in Perryton for their annual Birthday Celebration will kick off Monday night with "World Championship Goat Roping" at the rodeo arena when over $600 will be hanging on the horns and hooves of Spanish and Catalina goats. Only the first 32 entrants in this event will be accepted.

Other action will include a donkey baseball game between the Perryton Jaycees and YMCA Men's Club on Tuesday night. All week there will be a carnival at the fairgrounds near the rodeo arena with rides, games and local booths to entertain the whole family.

Wednesday night the Jaycees, who organize the celebration each year, will sponsor a three-ring motorized circus that will include a demolition derby and a motorcycle rodeo.

High school cowboys and cowgirls from across the plains area will take part in the Perryton High School Tri-State Rodeo both Thursday and Friday nights at 8 p.m. and again Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas high school students will compete in all regular rodeo events in the three day competition.

For both local and out of town participants, Saturday will be the big day in the annual celebration.

A free breakfast of fried eggs, homemade biscuits and coffee, all cooked over an open fire, will be offered to the first 1,500 people to come from 5-8 a.m. at the United shopping center parking lot.

A re-enactment of a gun-battle that occurred in the early 1890s will be staged in the adjoining city park at 7:45 a.m., and the old timers reunion will be held between 8-10 a.m.

The annual parade featuring the Wheatheart contestants will start down Main Street at 10 a.m. Also in the parade will be a wide variety of floats from both the Texas and Oklahoma panhandle communities.

After the Saturday night Wheatheart Pageant, there will be a Jaycee sponsored dance at the VFW for everyone who came to the celebration and beauty contest. Music for the evening will be by Charles Phillips and his band.

In the past, money from delinquents was applied first to the state's claim and only after that was totally paid off did the city get its money.

"It was wrong for the cities to be playing second fiddle," Bullock said. "In more than 800 cities the five per cent sales tax is a four-and-one split, so that's exactly how we are going to rebate it."

Bullock said he doesn't look for the new plan to bring significantly more money to cities but "it will get them their share a lot faster than when they had to bring up the rear."

The City of Austin is one example of an immediate beneficiary of the new plan, Bullock said.

An Austin tire company shut down by Bullock last week owed $37,102 in state taxes and $9,936 in Austin's city sales taxes. The business was allowed to reopen after paying $12,000 cash toward the delinquency and agreeing to pay $2,000 a month on the balance plus keeping future taxes current.

The City of Austin's $2,400 share of that initial $12,000 payment will be included in Austin's rebate next month and its $400 share of the $2,000 monthly payment will be paid every month until the full city liability is paid off.

This month's $19.9 million in rebates to the cities is significantly higher than the $11.4 million rebated last month. August is the second month of the three month rebate cycle which includes two months of relatively small rebates followed by a large "clean up" in the third month.

"Kiss Your Baby Week"

COLLEGE STATION -- Parents and environment are the greatest influences on a child's mental development. Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist, said this week.

"A parent can make learning fun and challenging if he has some insight into how children grow and develop, and if he is willing to provide the help and encouragement a child needs."

This specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, pointed out that children expand and refine their mental skills through daily experiences.

"Learning to observe and to remember are some of the first mental skills a young child develops. Later he learns to compare objects and can distinguish between likenesses and differences.

"As a child matures, he learns to group items, ideas and information that have something in common--for example, bananas and lemons are both yellow fruits. Even more difficult mental skills to master are the abilities to solve problems and make choices," she explained.

It takes time and repeated experiences for a child to develop these mental skills. Children need opportunities to explore their environment and to seek their own solutions. They need some freedom to explore and learn how things work.

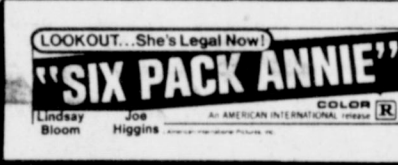

Parents can help by keeping the environment safe for children to explore, Mrs. Miller said.

"Remove dangerous household items, which could cause injury or death for young explorers. Put valuable items out of a youngster's reach until he is old enough to leave them alone."

Being naturally curious, children ask endless questions. Parents who take time to answer questions simply and honestly help promote learning.

"Even questions that seem foolish to an adult are important to a child. Taking time to listen to and talk with children about their experiences, ideas and feelings helps a child to learn," she said.

A History of Bailey County Pioneer Families

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Berry

T. W. (Tom) Berry, former owner and operator of Berry Electric in Muleshoe, was born on October 26, 1906 in McComb, Oklahoma, known then as Indian Territory. It wasn't until a year after his birth that Oklahoma became a state.

In December of 1923, the Berry family chartered a railroad car and came to Muleshoe. Tom was 16 at the time and had worked to buy his family tickets and chartered the car for the move. There were three girls and two boys in the Berry family.

They rode the train to Sudan, taking a wagon to Circle Back, bringing with them the wagon and team, chickens, milk cows, turkeys for market and some hogs. They also brought with them a one-row lister, planter box, go-devil with disk and knives and a one-row riding cultivator.

They moved to Jeff Berry's farm at Circle Back and lived there farming the land for a time. Jeff Berry was living in Fort Worth at this time. They farmed 177 acres there and 142 acres in La Bours, where they planted cotton, gooseneck maize and soy-bean. The first year their cotton made about three quarters of a bale to the acre. They planted around 65 acres in cotton, had some pasture and about 100 acres of grain, gathering around 2,000 pounds of grain sorghum to the acre.

During this first year of farming, they purchased a binder for bundling grain. After picking the cotton, they put it in a wagon and tromped it. They had to hand pick the cotton out of the burr. They just stacked their maize crop in the stack lot and neighbors would come by and buy it for their horses. The maize heads were cut off with knives and the grain ricked. They arrived on the farm in December while snow was on the ground. For fuel, they burned cowchips and a little coal.

For entertainment, once a week, usually on a Saturday, everyone would get together and have a party, playing games and visiting. The children of all the families in the area met at the schoolhouse on Sunday and attended church there. After church services, all the young people would go to someone's house for dinner and in the evening they would gather for singing. Around 15 to 20 children were in the group each Sunday.

"Living right on the road to Sudan and Circle Back, we could watch everybody that came in new. There would be wagons in lines passing by our house. This was in the 1924's and during 1925," said Mrs. Berry.

During their trainride to Sudan, Tom was just riding free and dodging all the conductors. He was riding in the car with his father, got caught at Farwell when he was changing trains and was told by the conductor to "get off." Tom just wanted to know what town he was in, according to his folks, and the conductor told him, "it doesn't matter, get off here." Tom was pretty close to where he wanted to get off so he slipped off and went around the car and stood by his father as he, Berry, stepped off the train.

Tom married in August of 1926. The other children married one right after the other soon after Tom was married.

Leaving Muleshoe, and going to Arkansas City, Kansas, Tom worked at an oil refinery until May, 1928, when he and his family moved back to Muleshoe. They started farming on their own during May of 1929, on land located two miles south of Circle Back. They made a fair crop and got a good price that year. After their first year of farming, the owners sold the farm out from under them. They were just renting the land. The Berry's sold everything they owned and bought a 1929 Chevrolet coupe, put their cotton trailer on behind their new car and hauled cotton and grain to market.

After selling their crops, they took off to Chicago where both Tom and Mrs. Berry went to an Electrical School. In March of 1930, they moved to Ponca City, Okla., where he worked as an electrician, until 1932, and returned to Muleshoe. Their first son, Glen E. Berry, was born on October 31, 1932.

During the year 1932, the government started plowing up cotton and after a good crop in the fall of 1933, they moved to Windfield, Kansas and from there back to Arkansas City, Kansas. In 1936, their son Robert Allen was born. Tom was an electrician at this time.

Coming back to Muleshoe in the fall of 1938, Tom started working for the Rural Electric Association where he wired houses for three or four months. He was a lineman for three years and had 500 miles of line to serve.

He started his electric shop, Berry's Electric in the year 1944 and had this business for 26 years. Mrs. Berry did the bench work while Tom did the electric work. Tom retired from the business in 1971 and his son Allen took it over and is presently running the business.

Remembering back to the dust bowl days, Tom said the sandstorms in 1926 covered his cotton crop completely on Thanksgiving Day after they had just picked a couple of bales. During this time, while sitting in the kitchen, eating, they heard a loud noise outside and went outside to see what it was. They found a big tank in their back yard, 10 to 15 feet from the kitchen door. The tank had originally been two miles west of their place and the wind blew it against a fence row, got the fence between the posts and the barbwire and pulled the wire loose for a quarter of a mile, jumped the fence, angled across the cotton patch, jumped the lane, broke a post and landed bottom up, by the door. They remembered some days there would be three or more days at a time that the sandstorms would be so bad you couldn't even see out the windows.

Though they moved about quite a bit during the early years of their married life, the Berrys are considered a pioneer family of Muleshoe.

WINNER OVER ALL . . . Clyde Dever was the highest out of everyone in the Summer Reading Program. He read 110 books and received a ribbon certificate and a book, from the library. He was the first out of the sixth through the ninth graders.

New Rules For Aircraft Crossing Mexican Border

All private aircraft crossing the U.S.-Mexican border will have to follow new guidelines announced today by the U.S. Customs Service.

Customs Commissioner Vernon D. Acree said the new guidelines are made necessary by a "soaring" increase in air smuggling of narcotics and other contraband.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975, Customs' Air Support Units accounted for 188 arrests, seizures of 46 aircraft, 70 vehicles, 114,443 pounds of marijuana, and more than 8,500 rounds of ammunition as well as scores of weapons.

Since then, the units seized three aircrafts, three vehicles, more than 3.5 tons of marijuana and arrested 9 persons. Effective September 8, 1975, Acree continued, non-commercial pilots must report to Customs or the Federal Aviation Administration at least 15 minutes prior to entering the U.S. air space along the border the following information:

*Their point and time of penetration.

*The airfield adjacent to the border where they will land to undergo Customs inspection and their approximate time of arrival there.

*The commander's full name and the registration number of the craft.

*The number of U.S. Citizens and aliens on board.

*The aircraft's point of departure.

Multiple entry exemptions-- requests for several overflights-- may be obtained by applying to U.S. Customs 30 days in advance. Fifteen days notice is required when applying for a single entry exemption. The exemptions are good for a one-year period. A record of all exemptions, approved or denied, will be maintained.

Special permission to overfly designated border airfields will also be granted when weather conditions do not permit landings; when an aircraft develops engine trouble or has navigational problems; when a particular airfield is congested, or when the size of the airfield prevents a craft from landing safely.

Failure to notify Customs or failure to arrive at an airfield within a stated time will result in follow-up investigative action.

Violation of the aircraft reporting requirements will also subject plane commanders to a $500 civil penalty and possible seizure and forfeiture of their craft.

Customs inspections will be carried out at the following designated facilities:

*Brownsville International Airport, Brownsville, Texas; *Calixico International Airport, Calexico, Calif.;

*Del Rio International Airport, Douglas, Arizona; *Eagle Pass Airport, Eagle Pass, Texas;

*El Paso International Airport, El Paso, Texas; *Laredo International Airport, Laredo, Texas;

*Miller International Airport, McAllen, Texas; *Nogales International Airport, Nogales, Arizona;

*Tucson International Airport, Tucson, Arizona; and *Yuma International Airport, Yuma, Arizona.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Governor Dolph Briscoe has assigned top priority to curbing soaring state governmental spending and thwarting predictions of a major state tax bill in 1977.

At the same time, the governor said all his political options for the future remain open, although he emphasized he is making no present plans for a third term.

Briscoe's predictions that the state can avoid a tax bill in two years fly in the face of forecasts by Texas Research League and Comptroller Bob Bullock. TRL only a week earlier said the legislature may have to raise $750 million to balance the next budget in view of 1975 spending levels.

However, Briscoe stated: "I am optimistic that we can meet the fiscal needs of the state for a third time without new and additional taxes. We can't do it unless we try. That is our No. 1 priority. I will work toward that end."

Briscoe said he is hopeful the new Joint Advisory Committee on Government Operations will point the way to how to economize, increase efficiency and reorganize government effectively.

As for his own plans, the governor said it's too early for serious talk about a third term. But he acknowledged the subject has been discussed in private conversations — "just passing the time of day."

Hospital Savings

A new $1.8 million state-federal program aims to save Texans who have to go to hospitals $14 million a year.

Three centers will be established to make group purchases and collections for hospitals — the statewide center in Austin, with regional offices in Abilene and Texarkana.

The centers will participate in a proposed THA-backed hospital company. Texas State Insurance Board set an August 21 hearing on the Texas Hospital Insurance Exchange application for charter.

Appointments

Six new State Parole Commissioners are Edward Odus Johnson of Austin, Gilberto de Leon Jr. of Uvalde, Helen Copitka of Houston, Don R. Stiles of Grapevine, Paul F. Cromwell of San Antonio and Paul J. Mansmann of Fort Worth.

Reagan Houston III of San Antonio is the sixth gubernatorial appointee to the Joint Advisory Committee on Governmental Operations to study governmental economy, efficiency and reorganization.

R. Doug Lewis has been named executive director of the Republican Party of Texas, succeeding Zack Fisher of Memphis.

John Barclay Armstrong of Kingsville was appointed to a vacancy on Texas Animal Health Commission created by death of John Biggs of Vernon.

Philip K. Maxwell of Dallas is the new chief of Atty. Gen. Hill's Consumer Protection Division. Lee Clyburn of Conroe heads Hill's new Anti-Trust Division. Mike Barron of Groesbeck is assistant chief of Anti-Trust.

C. A. Dickerson of Rosenberg was appointed criminal district attorney for Fort

Democrats Moving

Texas liberal Democrats are getting organized for the 1976 presidential preference primary, while, at the same time, challenging legality of the primary.

Democratic National Committeewoman Billie Carr of Houston and others are inviting Democratic presidential candidates to a September 20 meeting here. The group calls itself "Texans for Somebody Else"—somebody else, that is, besides U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen or Alabama Governor George Wallace.

Ms. Carr and others filed a challenge with the national Democratic Compliance Review Commission, contesting the 1976 presidential primary act, passed by the legislature this year, was largely to help Bentsen.

Robert Camp Gets Degree

UNIVERSITY, Miss., -- Forty-two men and women received doctoral degrees Sunday during Summer Commencement ceremonies at the University of Mississippi, where 322 masters and 400 bachelor degrees were also awarded.

Presiding at the 3 p.m. graduation in the C.M. (Tad) Smith Coliseum was Chancellor Porter L. Fortune Jr., Earlier Chancellor and Mrs. Fortune entertained graduates, their families and friends at a coffee in the Chancellor's Residence.

Gene Payne's Granddaughter Buried Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday, August 17, for Tonya Danielle Rush, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Rush of Abernathy. The graveside services were held at 4 p.m. in the Muleshoe Cemetery, under the direction of Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home with Rev. Curtis Cadenhead of Andrews officiating.

Cotton, Sorghum Up 26 Per Cent . . . Corn Up 57 Per Cent . . . Wheat Up 248 Per Cent . . . Rice Down One And A Half Per Cent.

Texas farmers this year doing what they like to do best in agriculture—produce, produce, produce.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service shows moderate to major increases for production of major crops this year; rice is the one exception with a slight decline. Here are the projections for this year:

Cotton: Production is expected to be 26 per cent higher than last year with 3,100,000 bales anticipated which would be an average of 372 pounds per acre. Acreage this year for harvest is set at 4,000,000, down 400,000 from 1974. The 1974 cotton production for Texas was 2,462,000 bales.

Sorghum: Production is expected to be 26 per cent higher this year with an increase in acreage of 800,000. A total of 394,400,000 bushels of sorghum is forecast for 1975 in Texas. This compares with 312,000,000 bushels produced in 1974. Expected yield is 58 bushels per acre compared with 52 bushels last year.

Corn: A 57 per cent increase in corn production is expected this year compared with 1974 for the state. A total of 115,500,000 bushels from 1,100,000 acres is anticipated. This would give Texas a 105 bushel per acre average. Last year, a total of 73,600,000 bushels was produced in the state from 800,000 acres.

Winter wheat: Final estimate is 131,100,000 bushels, a 248 per cent increase over last year. Average this year is set at 23 bushels per acre from 5,700,000 acres. Last year, only 52,800,000 bushels were produced from 3,300,000 acres.

Oats: Production this year will be more than double a year ago. A total of 17,500,000 bushels is anticipated for 1975 compared with 8,100,000 bushels in 1974. Acreage for harvest this year is set at 650,000 compared with 374,000 acres a year ago.

Rice: Production will be down slightly from 1974, about one and a half per cent. A total of 24,885,000 hundredweight is expected this year compared with 25,258,000 hundredweight a year ago.

CROP HARVEST CONTINUES at a good pace throughout the state. Cotton harvest percentage-wise is about on schedule with the past three-year average. About five per cent of the crop has been gathered thus far, and Blackland area harvest is just beginning. Prospects on the High Plains continue good despite some insect problems. Cotton root rot is also a problem in Central Texas.

Sorghum harvest for the state is about half finished. A number of areas in Central Texas are turning out yields considerably lower than expected. Rains have slowed harvest in some southern sections, and insect problems are prevalent on the Plains.

Rice harvest is at the 50 per cent completion mark. Harvest is making satisfactory progress along the Upper Gulf Coast and in South Central Texas.

Peanut harvest is about five per cent complete and is about on schedule with last year.

Soybeans are making good to excellent progress across the state.

Sunflower harvest is fast approaching on the High Plains; harvest of this new crop is finished in Central Texas and the Brazos bottoms. Yields generally were not up to expectations, but observers still believe that sunflowers offer a good potential as an alternate crop.

Halfway Field Day To Highlight Crop Rotation

HALFWAY -- A crop rotation system utilizing soybeans, triticale and sunflowers allowing all three to be produced within two growing seasons will be one of the premier attractions of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway Field Day set for Thursday, Sept. 11.

J. Joe Wright, who heads up the small grains Halfway research program, says that in the system, soybeans would be planted in early May for the first year of the rotation system.

Soybeans would then be harvested in late Sept. in order for triticale or wheat to be planted by mid Oct., says Wright. The small grain crop would then be harvested in mid to late June of the following year.

Sunflowers, final crop of the rotation system, could then be planted no later than mid July.

Such a rotation system would allow three crops to be produced under adequate to ideal cultural conditions within two growing seasons, the TAES scientist notes.

The small grain crops could also be utilized as a forage both during its production and as the volunteer triticale or wheat that would remain following sunflower harvest, he adds.

Halfway Field Day visitors will be able to preview a number of crops scheduled for exhibition in the comprehensive review of research developments. Tests which can be observed are cotton, sorghum corn and sunflower varieties, weed control and insect studies.

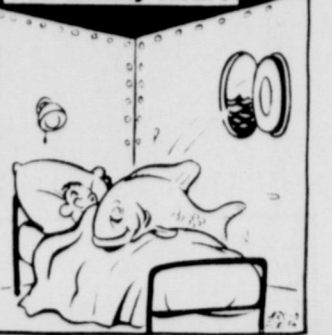

Guests will also have the opportunity to examine a large display of farm machinery and experimental equipment.

Field Day activities begin at 1:00 p.m., continuing until 5:00. The Experiment Station at Halfway is located 14 miles west of Plainview on Hwy. 70.
