Application To Be Made For Civic Center

Miss Loretta Flores Named Fiesta Queen

Funds raised by queen contestants for the 16th of September Festival held Sunday, September 14, in Muleshoe, exceeded expectations reported Rev. Tim Schwertner, minister of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. "This was the second year for the queen's contest," said Father Tim, "and the queen contestants themselves raised $10,360 to be used to pay for the Catholic Center in Muleshoe." "We will now be able to pay off the Center, or come very close to it," said the Father, "and make some improvements to make the Center more attractive." Plans are to do some paving in front of the building and for parking.

Four girls were in the Queen's Contest, and each girl did various things to raise money, which counted as votes for the contestants. The girl who raised the most money was named Queen.

Miss Loretta Flores was crowned Queen with Elva Lozana, first runnerup; Lidia Gonzales, second runnerup and Patricia Favela, third runnerup.

The Queen's Contest was started two months ago and each contestant planned and carried out various events such as dinners, dances, raffles, with the sponsors helping the girls by selling tamales. Sunday was the climax of the fund raising and a typical Fiesta was held. Such activities as a carnival with a dunking board and Father Tim taking his turn on the board; Mariachi Band, roving and playing throughout the crowd,

Through PWI Funds Administered, EDA

Following the latest City Council meeting held Tuesday, September 16, the City Dads met in joint session with the Bailey County Commissioners Court and members of the Community Agricultural - Civic Center Committee to discuss the proposed building.

Also present for the meeting were Truitt Maiz, representing the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) and L. w. "Bear" Curfman, Economic Development Representative.

Mayor Alex Williams turned Tuesday's meeting over to Bailey County Judge Glen

Williams, who explained the purpose of the meeting was the fact that there is a need in this community for a building such as the one they proposed.

He said the preliminary work on the project was started 18 months to two years ago but was delayed to allow work on the hospital which now seems to be resolved.

Judge Williams explained that the Agricultural-Civic Committee initiated this meeting to explore various types of funding.

Muleshoe C Of C Has Busy Month

The membership Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday, September 9, to discuss membership growth and dues changes. After studying the budget and finding that expenses have been exceeding the income due to increase in operating expense (as in every business) the committee recommended the minimum dues for business firms be changed from $60 to $70 annually and individual minimum dues changed from $30 to $36.

The membership committee also reevaluated members and some changes were recommended. The recommendations were submitted to the Chamber Board on Thursday, September 11, 1975, and approved. It was noted that even though there has been an increase in membership, it has not been sufficient to cover the increase in expenses. This is the first dues increase in the Chamber in over five years.

Mules Meet Chieftains Friday

Mule Coach Chuck Stout says he should have a healthy team this Friday when the Mules travel to Friona to meet the Chieftains. He has no boys out with injuries illness at this time. "We're looking for a tough football game, Friona always has a good solid football team," said the coach. "We hope to eliminate some of the mistakes we made against Olton last Friday," he said, "and play a little better football game."

Chieftan Coach Mike Garrison says, "we return three starters from the 1974 club, Dave Carthel, all District full-back and middle linebacker; Kenny Stowers, All-District Tackle and Danny Campbell. We have only seven lettermen returning, so we will be young and lacking experience. We have average size and average or below speed. Probably our strong suit is aggressiveness, tradition and strong leadership from our seniors. Our biggest weakness is lack of varsity experience and lack of speed. Our Non-District schedule is very tough and chances in our district depend on how well our young players develop."

The red and white Chieftains have an 8-2 1974 record with a 2-2 District or Conference Cont. on Page 3, Col. 4

Rains Good, Bad For Area

Spencer Tanksley, Bailey County Extension Agent said Monday, after a tour of the south part of the county, that as a whole the rains have been beneficial because they have given moisture for wheat and small grains. He pointed out that it is starting to get late for planting wheat. The farmers are needing moisture so they can get the wheat acreage planted before frost, so they could get some growth on it," he said.

Tanksley reported the Stegall Community received about one and a quarter inches of rain; Bula, 1.8 and Maple, 1.7 inches. "The south part of county received very beneficial rains for the dry-land wheat and late grain sorghum as well as sunflower crops," said the county agent.

"The rains did delay the harvest of corn and sunflowers around the Muleshoe area," he said.

Tanksley also reported some hail damage in spotted areas across the south end of the county. There was hail damage north of Needmore, in Maple, Enochs and Bula as well as some reported in the Westcamp area. "The hail roughed up some cotton and it will be 10 days before the damage can be Cont. on Page 3, Col. 3 publisher of the Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals, was served throughout the day. Tacos and beans accompanied the barbecue.

During the evening a march, called the Ceremony of Flags was held. The parade of flags was led by two girls and the queen's court as well as the queen contestants and last years queen, Linda Hernandez. The flags honored both countries and opened the festivities of the night.

The parade was followed by the crowning of the queen. A grand march was led by the contestants and their escorts, followed by a dance. First on the dance floor were the Queen, her court and their dads. The Queen, her escort and the contestants and their escorts had the next dance and then there was open floor dancing by everyone.

Music was furnished by a typical Mexican band who played all kinds of music, including waltzes. A large crowd attended and the hall was full, according to Father Tim. There were about 140 paid couples attending the dance, the father reported.

Last year was the first year for the queen's contest. Before that, the church held other events to help raise funds for the Center. They also received some help from local civic groups who rent the building for functions of their own.

In the future, they plan to bring in more of the Mexican cultural during the 16th of September Festival. The festival is held each year to celebrate Mexican Independence, similar to our Fourth of July celebrations. The festivities are in honor of Sept. 15, 1810, which officially began the Mexican War for independence from Spain.

The first spark for freedom in Mexico began in the village of Dolores, Hidalgo, Mexico, when a parish priest, Father Miguel Hidalgo Castillo, rang the church bells at dawn on September 16. When his parishioners gathered, he shouted, "Long live Mexico! Long live the Virgin of Guadalupe! Death to the Spaniards!"

Father Hidalgo was caught and hanged after he set out for the capital of Mexico at the head of an unorganized mob armed only with clubs and machetes. They won a few battles against the Spaniards, but his cry for freedom stirred the nation and 11 years later Mexico won its war for independence against Spain's rule.

continue to have warm weather, "it's looking real good."

"The whole key to having bumper or above average crops this year," he said, "still lies with when we have our first frost." "Things look pretty good, and the rains have helped us," he said.

The county agent said he didn't know about the area north of this community, but he doesn't feel they got as much rain as the south part of the county.

Dr. James Supak, area agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock, pointed out that the cool weather has been of some concern to area cotton farmers, indicating they have been most affected by weekend temperatures in the 40s and 50s.

Dr. Supak stated that when the temperature drops below 60 degrees, cotton's cellulose producing function stops. He said cotton subjected to long periods of 60-degree weather will be low micronaire cotton, or lower quality.

"If the weather continues like it has," Supak said, "it could affect the crop. In addition, there's some young cotton in the area, planted after it got hailed out, that needs all the time it can get."

Dr. Supak said farmers could expect these kinds of things to come along at this time of year. Supak said he felt that if seasonal temperatures return to the area, last weekend's cold snap shouldn't have any appreciable effect on this year's cotton crop.

Normal temperatures for this time of year are in the area of 85 degrees with lows in the upper 50s and low 60s. Dr. Supak pointed out that the rains and cool weather hasn't damaged other crops, but said that if we continue to have a rainy season, some damage might occur. He indicated sorghum in particular might suffer some deterioration of seed heads.

Temperatures in the 70s and 80s are expected this week according to the National Weather Service office in Lubbock. However, next weekend, NWS forecasters said, may bring another cold front into the area. Drier air moving into the area from the north and west should begin to replace last weekend's cold, damp weather soon.

Application...

 that he liked the idea of the building, however, he said that long-term permanent jobs are needed to substantiate Economic Development Agency funds for the project. He pointed out that EDA funds do not cost the public, that taxes on the jobs created, pays the government back, he said that he did not feel Bailey County could show a need for long-term jobs on this project and did not feel this was the direction to take for funding.

Curfman stated that if they were able to create a district and work with SPAG then they could get 60 percent funding, if the city was in an Economic Development District.

He also stated that the Public Works Impact Appropriation could fund 80 percent of the project and the community would only have to come up with 20 percent of the project and the community would only have to come up with 20 percent of the funding. He suggested the community wait 2-3 weeks to see if EDA gets the appropriation and then proceed in that direction.

Curfman also told of the Title 10 Program but said because Bailey County does not have a high unemployment rate, Title 10 money would not be available, explaining it was geared for the east coast where they have up to 50 percent unemployment.

He told the group that he feels there is a good possibility of getting the project approved through the Public Works Impact Program. Curfman suggested the group go ahead and get their proposal ready to submit so it would be ready to "shoot it right in" as soon as the appropriation is available. He handed Mayor Williams a form to get filled out as the first step that needs to be taken.

Several questions were asked of Curfman, one concerning the use of the building after it is constructed. He answered the question by saying that when the project is completed it is up to the community as to how it is used, pointing out that the government is not interested in funding a building that will sit idle and not be put to good use.

Judge Williams again took the floor and explained that he feels the first step would be for the community to make a judgement as to whether or not they want the project. "Then," he said, "we need to hire an architect and get his assistance to design a facility fitting the needs of the people."

The judge said he feels the project will have to be placed on the tax rolls, as he sees no other way it can be funded, maintained and operated except through some tax monies.

Mayor Williams stated that as soon as it is decided if the people want the project, then it must be determined who would put in the application. Whether it be the City, County or a joint effort on both their parts.

Judge Williams pointed out that the county has purchased an 18 acre tract of land which is available for the project if the people want it to be used for that purpose.

It was decided they must first decide who would be the applicant they could go to an engineer or architect for his help.

Truitt Maiz, SPAG, urged the group to proceed as if they had the funds available, explaining that through the EDA program more projects were getting funded than any other program that he knows of. He further urged them to get everything ready so they could be the first in line when the appropriation is made available.

A meeting was then set for 9 a.m. Wednesday, September 17 in City Council chambers for the councilmen and Commissioners Court to make a decision as to who would be the applicant.

The meeting adjourned until Wednesday.

Hospital And Nursing Home Auxiliary Donates Proceeds

The first meeting of the new year of the Muleshoe Hospital and Nursing Home Auxiliary, was held Sept. 3rd, with Mrs. Dorothy Green, the new incoming president, presiding over the business meeting.

Various reports were given on the progress of the different committees set up within the auxiliary. Mrs. Clara Crain reported that the beauty shop in the Nursing Home continues to be a busy place on Tuesdays and Thursdays, when the ladies who reside at the Home are given shampoos, sets and permanents. She reported that the expense has been small, because many of the supplies have been donated, and are appreciated. Mrs. Duane Stevens is chairman of the Baby Photo project and is the person who takes the pictures of each new baby born in the hospital. She then sells as many of the photos as the parents want, making a profit, which goes to the auxiliary.

In the past year, the students from the Homemaking Department at High School have decorated the Nursing Home, for the different holidays, throughout the year. Under the Christmas decorations, which usually are put up the first of supervision of Mrs. Doreen Harbin, they will do that again, and this will include the Christmas decorations, which usually are put up the first of Dec, so the residents may enjoy them longer.

Mrs. Kenneth McGehee, Project: Christmas Card chairman, was given permission to use proceeds, to buy a Flamphotometer, for the hospital Lab. This equipment checks the electrolyte cells of the blood. It is used for surgical, cardiac, and acute ill patients. The cost is $3,000.00 and the equipment will be used along with the Blood-gas analyzer, which was purchased last year with the proceeds, from the Christmas Card Project. Mrs. McGehee stated that donations for the Christmas card project may be left at White's, Poyner's Auto Store, the First National and Muleshoe State Bank, or given to any Auxiliary member.

The Thrift Shop report was made by Mrs. S.M. Ethridge For the month of May, June, July and August, the total taken in was $4383.01. The Auxiliary's Thrift Shop has been in operation for over 2 years. It is located in the old Green Hospital building. They are open every Saturday and sell all sorts of items, including clothing, junk, furniture, books, carpeting, curtain rods, bedspreads, and curtains, all of which is donated to the auxiliary by the community. The proceeds from the Thrift Shop have been used to buy extra things for the Nursing Home.

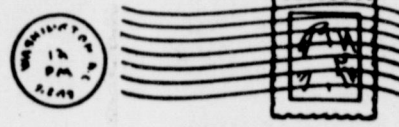

Recently, it has all gone to the Hospital Action Fund to pay off their $10,000.00 pledge to the building, of the new hospital.

It was reported, that the Auxiliary helped with the Blood Bank, sponsored by the Lion's Club and the T. B. Clinic, sponsored by the Texas Dept. of Health.

The newest project to be promoted by the Auxiliary will be a Raffle. Chances will be sold at $1.00 a ticket, on a jeweled Christmas tree, framed like a picture, made and donated by Mrs. Delbert Watson. The date for the giveaway, will be in November. The Area meeting for Dist. I, Area 2 will be held in Lubbock, at the Methodist Hospital, Sept. 24. The Muleshoe Hospital and Nursing Home Auxiliary will go in a group, for the day's meeting.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

There is a great deal of talk going on that women should get out of the home and work.

When my children got to school age and I found that I had some time on my hands I did some part time work that was very satisfying. I have the reputation of being a good cook so I started a catering service. I began by making cakes and sandwiches for people who were entertaining. My business grew and my daughter helped after school.

I make a tidy sum every month and have made many new friends among the nicest people in this town.

I feel that this work is creative-in fact one lady said she considered me an artist.

I write this to let women, who do not like to work out of the home, know that this is one answer to the problem.

L.B.-Miss. This would be a good idea for a person who has to be home for the greater part of the day.

Anything that a person does well is a source of satisfaction and if one can be paid for doing so, it is even more satisfying.

Address: Louisa, Box 532 Orangeburg, S.C. 29115.

Agricultural Products In England

When we were on the way home, we stopped by the Baltic. The Baltic was the biggest attraction of my trip. We spent two days in London, England. Six of us ex-farmers took the bus tour over in the middle of England and visited a nine-hundred and sixty acre farm, most of the day.

Massive stone buildings had been erected many centuries ago. A middle aged man, his wife, and ten age daughter, plus two dogs and four cats lived there. He was born on the farm and all of his ancestors, as far back as he could remember.

Three hired hands were used the year around. Eighty cows were being milked with a lot of them giving more than ten gallons of milk each. They were large cows. Many more were in the pastures with two or three calves. At weaning time, the bulls were fed rolled barley and oats, trucked in from Scotland, along with grass and wheat pasture. When they reached one-thousand pounds they were sold to the butcher; about one year old. They were sold as bulls, not steers.

His bull weighed twenty-three hundred pounds. A new born calf we saw weighed two-hundred pounds.

The land was hilly with some low valleys. The valleys were in timber. All the rest of the land was in wheat and grass. Ever three years he plowed up the grass and planted it into wheat, for three years. After the wheat is combined and the straw baled, a thick stand of grass comes up at once. He turned the cattle in on the grass; mows and bales the surplus. He was proud of a sixty acre field of grass.

It was very good; dense and about a foot high. The middle of the field was full of deer; "fallow deer," he told us. They were tall and graceful and most of them were black. There were more than fifty. They ran into the timber when we got close. Also there were a lot of rabbits that ran into the timber as we approached them. He called them,

Birdsong Intran For Festival

Jon Birdsong of Amarillo will be among over 100, accomplished artist participants featured in the Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival. A native of the Panhandle area, Birdsong is well-known for his expressive paintings that depict the area in which he lives.

With both wet and dry-brush technique he creates in his water-colors striking pictures of the Panhandle area, with its feelings of vastness and isolation. Visitors to the festival will find his pictures on interesting display of West Texas scenes, with clustered houses, sparse vegetation, and nostalgic windmills, for Birdsong's paintings portray both the historic beauty and the weathered strength of the Panhandle area.

A former public-school art teacher, Birdsong now devotes his time to his paintings, many of which have won distinguished awards in the past few years. He will join other artists and craftsmen in the Festival, which will be held October 17-19 at the Hale County Agricultural Center in Plainview, Texas. Inquiries concerning the Festival, which is under the co-sponsorship of the Plainview Rotary Club and the Llano Estacado Museum, should be directed to Dr. C. Gwin Morris, Box 20, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas 79072.

"hares." They had long hair with big ears and black tops like the jackrabbits we have here.

He didn't like the deer, "they eat too much grass," he said. "We like to eat beef, it's better."

His favorite gripe was Government. "They should stay in politics," he said. "It's something they're good at. We can produce agricultural products efficiently; if they'll leave us alone. The paper work is awful, and only hinders production. Now they're taxing the farmers more and more, to take care of the deficiency they are having in many businesses, they have taken away from the corporations. Even higher wages with less work is no way to compete in the world's markets."

He was a little sore about it. I am on his side. No one would sell a farm, because the tax would take too much of it. A tax on growing trees, he thought was wrong. The tax should be when the tree was harvested. The big tax was on petrol, or gasoline, which they use a lot of. The price of petrol is much more expensive over there, than here. Because about three fourths of the price is taxes. They were people, doing a good job. Big Government is hurting them, though.

Sam Yates Sculptures At Festival

Sam Yates of Plainview will demonstrate his craft, the art of metal sculpting, with welding equipment. His sculptures, primarily of western scenes of wildlife, will join the artwork of other Festival craftsmen, in portraying the Western heritage, to be found in many crafts today.

Verda Harper of Follett, will display paintings and hand-crafted, miniature windmills and her unique banks made from antique, post-office boxes. Joining these craftsmen at the Festival will be Jerold Elliott and Lubbock whose hand-crafted guitars and other non-electrical musical instruments will be for sale, as well as for demonstration. Visitors to the Festival will find that these craftsmen will make up only a part of the large group of craftsmen and artists, at the Festival. Inquiries about the Festival should be directed to Dr. C. Gwin Morris, Box 20, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas 79072.

Arts And Crafts Festival Schedules Square Dancing

The Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival, to be held October 17-19 in the Hale County Agricultural Center, will feature three nights of square dance demonstrations in addition to the numerous booths of artists and craftsmen. Square dancing performances Friday and Saturday night will be held from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m.; Sunday's performance will be from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The Belles and Bows, a local square dance club, will host the Friday night performance. Their caller will be Buddy Jones of Albuquerque, N.M., formerly of Lubbock. The Promenaders, another local square dance club, will perform Saturday night, with caller, Jerry Rash of Roswell, N.M. Sunday's performance will be in Round Dance, a square dance choreograph, of a popular tune, Dave and Nina Smith of Lubbock, who have worked in Round Dance Festivals from Louisiana and Mississippi, to Texas, will cue the rounds.

Square dancers at the Festival will be following a 300-year-old tradition of dancing in the United States, using some movements that evolved from traditional folk dancing and European dances. Square dancing, no longer considered exclusively a Western dance, is widespread in the United States, as well as in the world. The dancers at the festival will celebrate the Western flavor of square dancing, however, with their traditional, western, square-dancing attire.

The square dancing performances will be another way Festival participants can celebrate the bicentennial and will provide full family entertainment. One square dancers' motto is "Friendship set to music," and visitors at the Arts and Crafts Festival are invited to share in that friendship and music. According to Weymon Box, spokesman for the square dance clubs are not performing.

Admission to the Festival, co-sponsored by the Plainview Rotary Club and the Llano Estacado Museum, will be $1.00 for adults and 50¢ for children, per day. A three-day festival pass will be $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. Inquiries concerning the festival should be directed to Dr. C. Texas cotton interest organizations caucused in Lubbock September 5 and selected fourteen farmers, twelve of them from the High Plains, to fill or serve as alternates in important positions in the national cotton industry. The High Plains area was represented at the caucus by W.B. Criswell of Dalou, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.; PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson; and J.D. Smith, a PCG Past President, of Littlefield.

Three members and three alternates were named as directors to Cotton Incorporated (CI), the company which conducts the dollar-a-bale program for producers under the Cotton Research and Development Act.

Two members and two alternates were nominated for a single position on the Cotton Board, the administrative body responsible for collections, disbursements and project approval in the CI program. The Secretary of Agriculture is required by law to appoint one of the "pairs" submitted by interest organizations and normally chooses the one for whom the organizations express a preference.

Three men and three alternates were named as producer delegates to the National Cotton Council (NCC), the industry's research, promotion and service organization which embraces all seven segments of the cotton industry.

On the CI governing body the group placed J.D. Smith, L.C. Unfred of New Home and Donnell Echols of Lamesa. Echols is also a Past President of PCG. Alternates on this board were named as Robert Warren of Lamesa, Clifford Hoelscher of St. Lawrence, and Don Marble of South Plains. Marble is current Chairman of the PCG Board.

Nominated for members and alternates, respectively, on the Cotton Board were Dan Davis and Donald Johnson, both of Lubbock, Wilmer Smith of Wilson and Lloyd Cline of Lamesa. Davis is General Manager of the regional Plains Cotton Cooperative Association and Smith is another PCG Past President. Cline is current PCG Vice President.

For the NCC Board of Directors to represent producer interests, the organizations selected PCG President Criswell, Cline, and Bill Reid of Lamesa. Respective alternates to the three were named as Joe Pate of Lubbock, Echols, and J.G. Dobbs of Grandview, Texas.

In addition to PCG, six other regional cotton producer associations and the Texas Farm Bureau take part in the naming of producer representatives on the board of the National Cotton Council. All of these, plus the Texas Farmers Union, the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Texas Cotton Growers Cooperative, Southwestern Irrigated Cotton Growers, and Greenbelt Cotton Growers, Inc., are certified by the Secretary of Agriculture as interest organizations for the selection of Cotton Board and CI Board members.

Texas Leads In Farmland Owners

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas boasts more farmland owners than any other state in the nation, according to an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Of the 3.3 million farm-land owners in the United States, Texas has 267,000 of them followed by Iowa and Illinois," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga. Texas also leads the nation in the number of nonfarm land owners, or landlords who lease their land to others, with 87,500 in this category.

"About three out of four farmland owners in the U.S. are active farmers," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Some 28 per cent of all farmers are nonfarm landlords."

According to Hayenga, the average amount of land owned by all U.S. landowners, both active and non-active in farming, totals 320 acres, but the Texas average is much higher at 584 acres. Nationally non-active operators have more acreage on the average than the active farmers.

"Size of land holdings varies over different parts of the country," says the economist. "In the East, most landowners own less than 180 acres while landlords in the West have larger holdings in terms of value and acreage."

The distribution of ownership among landlords also varies considerably, depending on the type of farming enterprise and land tenure pattern in the particular area, says Hayenga.

There were 398 million acres of farmland rented in 1969, adds the economist.

Fifty-nine per cent of this land was cash rented and 30 per cent was rented under share agreements.

Rent received in 1969 averaged $6 per acre in Texas compared to $16 for the nation.

Duck, Goose Populations Favorable

Several significant changes in this fall's waterfowl hunting regulations have been adopted by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, it was announced today, as scientists predicted the numbers of ducks and geese flying south nationwide this autumn.

The changes include the opening of snow goose hunting in the Atlantic Flyway for the first time since 1931. A fall flight of 200,000 snow geese is expected. Also Atlantic brant hunting will be allowed in the Atlantic Flyway for the first time since 1972. Here again an increase in bird numbers is expected to bring on the order of 150,000 brant south from the Arctic. A harvest of redhead ducks has been authorized in a few selected areas of the country where local populations do not include many canvas-backs. The closing of Canada goose hunting in parts of California was adopted to protect the endangered Aleutian Canada goose on its wintering grounds.

The Fish and Wildlife Service also adopted "frameworks" for season length, shooting hours, and bag limits on migratory waterfowl hunting. Earliest and latest season dates for conventional seasons are October 1, 1975, and January 20, 1976. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Maximum season lengths for ducks and geese were set for each Flyway.

The outlook for geese is good to excellent. The production and fall flights of Arctic and subarctic nesting geese are expected to compare favorably with the outstanding flights of 1973. Population increases should be particularly evident among birds nesting in the high Arctic where snow melted 2 to 3 weeks early this year. Good production is expected among the various Canada goose populations, lesser snow geese, Ross' geese, and Atlantic brant nesting in Arctic and subarctic Canada. In contrast, average or less production and fall flights are expected for Alaska nesting white-fronts destined for the Central and Pacific Flyways. The disappearance of snow from Wrangel Island was again late and below average production of snow geese is anticipated from there.

The outlook for ducks is improved over last year. Although the number of ponds in prairie Canada where ducks nest and breed each summer was not as high as last year, water conditions remained excellent. A slight increase in duck breeding populations from 1974 and good production prospects indicate a favorable fall flight in 1975 that will be near the 1969-74 average.

The 1975 duck breeding population of 41 million was 2 percent above that of 1974 and 3 percent above the 1955-73 average. Increases in breeding populations, compared to 1974, were recorded in Montana, Colorado, South Dakota, and California. Smaller increases, in terms of percentage changes, were recorded in the Northwest Territories and southern Saskatchewan. Alaska was the major survey unit reporting a substantial decrease in breeding duck numbers because of weather.

Increases in continental populations from 1974 were indicated for all species except widgeon, green-winged teal, and pintail. Substantial increases were indicated for redhead, canvasback, and blue-winged teal.

The fall flight of ducks by Flyways is estimated as follows:

Pacific Flyways: Duck flights from southern Alberta will be similar to last year while those from northern Alberta and the Northwest Territories will be slightly larger than last year. Although increases are expected from California and Montana, the overall fall flight of ducks to the Pacific Flyway will be similar to that of 1974.

Central Flyway: Fall flights of ducks from the Northwest Territories, northern Alberta, Montana, Colorado, and the Dakotas will increase significantly this year. A slight increase is expected from Saskatchewan. Decreased fall flights are expected from Wyoming and Alaska. The resulting fall flight in the Central Flyway will be larger than that of 1974.

Mississippi Flyway: The fall flights from the Northwest Territories and northern portions of the Prairie Provinces will be greater this year than last. These increases and improved conditions in the Dakotas should lead to a larger fall flight than last year. A slight increase is expected from southern Saskatchewan. As a result the 1975 fall flight of ducks to the Mississippi Flyway should be greater than in 1974.

Atlantic Flyway: Fall flights of ducks from northern survey areas will be increased from 1974 with the exception of Alaska, where a decrease fall flight is expected. The 1975 fall flight from southern Saskatchewan will be slightly greater than in 1974, but the fall flight from the southern Prairie Provinces will be similar to last year. The 1975 fall flight of ducks in the Atlantic Flyway is predicted to be similar to last year.

Forecasts for geese are made by species and populations units rather than Flyways because these birds follow specific migratory patterns from diverse areas of the Arctic and

Veterinary Warns Of Coccidiosis In Cattle

Dr. Jim Wilson, of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association Public Information Committee, warns of a costly disease present in our Texas cattle industry.

Coccidiosis is a protozoan disease which attacks the intestinal lining causing severe bloody diarrhea, especially in one week to six month old calves. Coccidiosis, also called Red Dysentery or Hemorrhagic Diarrhea, causes an estimated ten million dollar loss yearly in poor doing, stunted, and dead calves. There are ten different types of Coccidia that cause disease, but the two major types are Eimeria zurni and Eimeria bovis. Thriving in a warm, moist climate, coccidiosis is mainly a problem in the southern and western states. It is transmitted by the reproductive form, the oocyst, being passed in the stool of an infected animal and being picked up and swallowed by a following animal. Because of this type of transmission, coccidiosis is usually a problem in situations with unsanitary management practices, and/or crowding of animals such as a feed lot or dairy situation.

This disease can infect cattle as young as one week or as old as two years. It is usually most severe in baby calves and weaning calves (400# - 600#). Following exposure to the coccidia, it takes about two weeks for the calf to show signs of illness.

The initial sign is usually a watery diarrhea that soils the rear legs and tail. The diarrhea will initially be streaked with blood while three or four days later the diarrhea may be pure blood with pieces of intestinal lining and lots of mucus. By the third or fourth day the calf will be off feed, drawn, weak, anemic, listless and have a rough hair coat. There may be severe unproductive straining, arching the back, and enough pressure to prolapse the rectum in the worst cases. In many feeder calves (250# - 400#) you may see stiffness in the hindlegs, incoordination and maybe even a down calf.

Death in acute cases comes on about the fourth or fifth day. Animals that survive two weeks without developing a pneumonia or some other secondary problem will recover spontaneously and will be immune to reinfection for 2-4 months.

There is not anything in an autopsied carcass that would absolutely pinpoint coccidiosis as the cause of death. Generally there will be erosion and deterioration of the intestinal lining. The lining that is left will be thicker than normal and the cecum and colon may have a whitish membrane coating them. The intestinal track may be full of blood. Any sudden, unexplained death in the herd should be autopsied by your veterinarian immediately.

If the calf is autopsied shortly after it dies, your veterinarian can find the oocyst form by taking scrapings of the intestinal lining and looking at them under the microscope. In the live calf, the oocyst can be found when your veterinarian runs a test on a fecal sample from an infected animal. Unfortunately, a calf may show severe clinical signs of coccidiosis for three or four days before oocysts can be found in the bowel material. In such cases it is wise to go ahead and treat calves showing bloody diarrhea and stifle-legged incoordination even if oocysts can not readily be found, providing other diseases with these same signs are ruled out.

Fortunately, there are many drugs that are useful against coccidiosis, and your veterinarian will know what is best for your situation. In severe cases, some form of an injectable blood clotting agent may be called for. An epidural anesthetic may be used to stop severe straining. Blood transfusion may be indicated to combat anemia.

To stop an outbreak, the Texas Veterinary Medical Association recommends isolating sick animals in a clean area, treating healthy animals to nip mild infections before they become severe enough to cause clinical signs. The control and prevention of coccidiosis largely involves improvement of sanitation and early diagnosis and treatment of clinical cases. Check with your local veterinarian concerning his recommendations in your area.

WOMEN & ASPIRIN
LONDON -- Women who take aspirin regularly during pregnancy run more risk of losing their babies in the first four weeks after birth, of having stillbirths, of complicated deliveries than those who don't, two Australian women doctors report.

The 16 traffic deaths for the month of August, 1975, occurred in the following counties: three in Castro; two each in Potter, Wheeler, Hale, and Palo Pinto; and one each in Archer, Parker, Yoakum, Hardeman, and Wilbarger.

Highway Patrol Gives August Accident Report

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of August, 1975, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and no persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1975 shows a total of 34 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 15 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for August, 1975, shows a total of 596 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 292 persons injured as compared to August, 1974 with 542 accidents resulting in 30 persons killed and 314 persons injured. This was 54 more accidents, 14 less killed, and 22 less injured in 1975 at the same period of

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - A big state land trade has been proposed to obtain a scenic new park on 30-mile-long Matagorda Island.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong suggested the swap of 18,000 acres of state-owned land near Fort Bliss in El Paso County for the federally-owned share of the island.

A joint House-Senate committee unanimously decided the state should own the island which lies south of Port Lavaca.

The U. S. Air Force has decided it will not continue use of Matagorda as a bombing range, but the U. S. Interior Department wants it as additional refuge for the whooping crane.

Armstrong said Matagorda offers among the best sports fishing and hunting in the country, and it is within easy auto range of Houston, San Antonio and Corpus Christi citizens.

Matagorda's beach is growing rather than expanding, the committee was told.

Federal holdings on the island total nearly 19,000 acres. The state owns 16,369 acres and private interests 15,570 acres.

Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman Pearce Johnson questioned wisdom of the trade, however.

Rates Set
The State Insurance Board has set medical malpractice rates in the state's assigned risk pool 40 per cent lower than the industry asked for. Doctors insured through the risk-sharing pool will pay 18 to 20 per cent more than the highest rates charged by companies writing insurance voluntarily.

Temporary and part-time state employees accrue sick leave, but leave for the part-timers is acquired on a proportionate basis.

The Employees Retirement System of Texas may grant credit for service as a county attorney to a qualified member of the System.

The Teacher Retirement System can purchase insurance for liability under the Texas Tort Reform Act. Insurance for the System's building, contents and papers may also be purchased, but workmen's compensation coverage may not be.

Appointments
Gov. Dolph Briscoe named William N. Allan of San Antonio and William D. Parish of Weslaco to Texas Air Control Board and reappointed Fred Hartman of Baytown.

Other recent Briscoe appointees included: Arlyn Kloesel of Austin and Doyle Harrell of Fort Worth (reappointment) to the State Board of Pharmacy; Tully Shahan of Brackettville as 63rd district attorney; Carroll C. Curry of Itasca to the Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators; Dr. William Thomas Arnold of Houston (reappointed) to Gulf Coast Waste Disposal Authority; Hyden A. Albert of Austin and Gene R. Danish of San Antonio (reappointments) to the Polygraph Examiners Board; Mrs. Blake Sparenberg of Austin to the State Board of Canners; John H. Kultgen of Waco (reappointment), T. J. Richards of Paducah and Talmadge D. Steinke of Waco to the Board of Regents of Texas State Technical Institute and William L. Connell of Wichita Falls, R. Edmonds Palm of Fort Worth and Abelardo Villarreal of Alice (reappointment) to the Governor's Committee on Aging.

Rex C. Cauble of Denton, Lucien Flournoy of Alice and David Witts of Dallas were selected chairman, vice-chairman and secretary of Texas Aeronautics Commission. Cauble and Flournoy were re-elected.

No Gas Shortage
Texas should not have a severe natural gas shortage this winter, Governor Briscoe said after an organizational meeting of his new energy council.

The Governor said he does not believe Congress will allocate Texas gas to other states.

Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby urged more emphasis on developing new sources of energy—including solar, wind, geothermal and waste material burning.

Constitution Aired
Secretary of State Mark White announced a program to encourage voter registration for the November 4 constitutional revision election.

White also said an all-out effort will be launched to encourage voters to study the proposed document.

Proponents and opponents of revision will outline their views at a conference sponsored by Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters here Sept. 19.

AG Opinions
Texas Department of Public Safety may provide criminal history information to the State Bar of Texas and Department of Public Welfare to assist in licensing responsibilities, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:
• Texas Student Publications at The University of Texas is no longer a legal entity and cannot hire an attorney without regents' approval.
• Temporary and part-time state employees accrue sick leave, but leave for the part-timers is acquired on a proportionate basis.
• The Employees Retirement System of Texas may grant credit for service as a county attorney to a qualified member of the System.
• The Teacher Retirement System can purchase insurance for liability under the Texas Tort

Short Snorts
Texas officials filed suit in Washington in an effort to keep the state out of federal Voting Rights Act coverage.
An Austin district judge refused to grant a temporary restraining order sought by Texas Association of Proprietary Schools to prevent enforcement of new Board of Education rules.
Oscar Laurel of Laredo has resigned as Good Neighbor Commission director, effective December 31.
Sept. 21-27 has been designated Highway and Transportation Week.
Cigarette stamp taxes increased $5.2 million in the last fiscal year — to a total of $247.6 million.
Comptroller Bob Bullock said $22.9 million in unemployment benefits were paid to jobless Texans last month.

College Football Highlights
It seems we said something a couple of weeks ago about Missouri not being ready to spring an upset against Alabama. Ready? They were devastating! And they certainly increased the stock of the already powerful Big Eight conference. Illinois is next in line for the Tigers, but this time a few people will know what to expect. Mizou by 18 points.
The Alabama Crimson Tide will bounce back and probably at the expense of Clemson. The series between the two stands at 10 and 3, Alabama the big winner. The spread in this game is 20 points, Alabama the big winner. The spread in this game is 20 points, Alabama the big winner.

Four particularly big ones are on Saturday's schedule, but none are conference matchups. Miami's long 24-game winning streak is on a shaky line against Michigan State. The Redskins finished 16th in our top 20 last year, and the Spartans were #13. In spite of Michigan State's loss to Ohio State, we think that Miami's string of victories is going to be snapped. The Spartans will be the snappers by one point. If Alabama does slip this year, one of the heirs-apparent in the Southeast Conference might be Auburn. The Tigers received a mighty jolt last week, and may get another quick answer Saturday when they invade Baylor Bear Country, home of last year's Southwest Conference champions. Auburn whipped Texas in the Gator Bowls, and Baylor lost to Penn State in the Cotton Bowl. The crystal ball says Baylor will win the big one, but only by a point.

One big thing going against Penn State is its bid to beat Ohio State that the game is in Columbus. That's almost a quick seven points against any visiting team. Both teams are coming off busy ball games, but the favorites' role has to go to the Buckeyes. Ohio State will win by 17 points.
Finally, Oklahoma hosts Pittsбург. The Number One Sooners will find the Panthers a much stronger club than Oregon, but playing their first home game of the new season, it should be another large win for Oklahoma. Pitt is a 33-point underdog.
Because of newspaper deadlines and mailing necessities, the winner of the Notre Dame-Boston College is not included in our Top Twenty.

Lynn says their biggest opponents said compared with last years team, they are about the same size, they have more speed, and they have more players with better ability. The coach of the 'B' team is Coach Randy Crook.

Seventh Grade Football Underway

by Clifford Watson
 Seventh grade football has been going for about one and a half weeks so far this year. About 48 boys went out for athletics in the seventh grade. Coach Dean Minor says the boys seem to all have a good spirit about playing football; but, the practicing is just now getting organized and the progress should be going much more rapidly soon. He also said, that they had about three or four players that probably stand out above the rest and they probably will until they really get started.

The athletes will be running a PRO offense which was originally called the Houston vs. Muleshoe's High School players are running the same kind of offense. The names of the teams are the Bills, the Vikings, the Steelers, and the Cowboys. Minor says the teams should start playing in a couple of weeks.

'B' Team Defeats Morton

...Thursday night, September 11, 1975, the 8th grade B team played Morton at Muleshoe. The score was 6-0. The touchdown was scored by Jimmy Villa in the 4th quarter. With the blocking of the linemen and the backs, Jimmy Villa on a sweep play, ran at least 50 yards for the touchdown. The pat failed. Earlier in the game, Jimmy scored a touchdown; but, it was called back due to a clipping penalty. Congratulations to Coach Crook and B Team.
