VOLUME THIRTY-EIGHT

BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1942

NUMBER 16

Former Bandmaster Active In Camp

A communication from the offices of the Technical Training School at Sioux Falls, S. D., states that Pvt. Clifford L. Horn, former bandmaster of the Brownfield schools, is very active in entertainment features of the camp. He is a member of the Sioux Falls Technical School Soldiers Chorus, also a member of the boxing team. Horn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Horn of San Angelo, Texas. He was a graduate of Howard-Payne College at Brownwood in 1939, and was director of the local band for some two years. About a year ago he married Miss Jackie Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Holt. The report further states:

The Sioux Falls Technical School is a new school, and Private Horn is a member of the fourth class to enter. He will graduate from the school as a Radio Operator the twenty-seventh of November. Where Private Horn will be sent after his graduation is not known. It is possible, however, that he will attend the Aerial Gunnery School, Combat Training, or Officers Candidate School.

Pvt. Horn says that he has found not all hospitality to be Southern. His stay has been made more pleasant by the response of the Sioux Falls people. The efforts of the Churches, and Civic Organizations are highly commendable.

Well, Here She Comes, Sailor Norton

Every now and then we get letters from boys we hardly knew in private life here, but at times like this that don't even count. Such a letter was received this week from Charles C. Norton, somewhere across the briny deep, as his letter is in care of the Postmaster at San Francisco, therefore we are not at liberty to print his address. Friends may obtain same if they care at the Herald office.

Anyway, Sailor Norton states that he used to live here and was a reader, and now that he is doing overseas duty, he needs something to keep him nearer home. Says send the Herald and the bill and he'll remit. OK already last week's issue is on its way to you, and we hope you will get a kick out of the old home town paper.

Thinks He Could Liven Up Town

A rather personal letter from Pvt. Phillip Thompson, out at Camp White, Oregon, states that he believes he could liven up the old town some if here for awhile. The camp is a lonesome place, he states, and all men read the Herald with interest. He means Terry County men, apparently. In answer to the question, "how is the old town," will state that one is surprised that so few empty houses are here considering the number that have left. It is no cinch to get a house when you want it now, and new people are coming in every day most.

You Bet We'll Change The Address

Among the other boys we have heard from the past week was Pfc. R. G. McNutt, Jr., who is located at Camp Forrest (near Memphis) in Tennessee. R. G. states that he is really enjoying each issue of the Herald, but that a slight error in his address may delay his paper some. It should be Med. Dept. 318th Inf. OK, she is being changed, and we hope you get 'er in time. My people who live just east of you about 70 miles, R. G., get their Herald Monday or Tuesday of the next week after publication.

Burnett Reports Tax Collections Good

Virgil Burnett, assessor and collector of taxes for the state and county, was in one day this week and reported that tax collections for October this year was far in excess of the same period in 1941, and that some 58 percent of the total 1942 taxes had already been collected. This is approximately $57,000 already in. For fear some one may get it into his head that these taxes were mostly paid by corporations, such as oil companies, railroads, cotton oil mills, gins, compresses, etc., will state that Mr. Burnett had stated that 502 poll taxes had been paid this year in October, compared to 255 same period last year, which shows that a lot of local people took advantage of the 3 percent discount on taxes in October.

Taxpayers are reminded that they will get a 2 percent discount if they pay their taxes this month, and 1 per cent if they pay in December. January will carry the flat rate. There will of course be a penalty added in February.

CELEBRATES FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Curley Edwards honored her daughter, Jonelda, with a party on her fifth birthday, Sunday. THE TRAGEDY OF THE PARSONAGE

Mr. Henry who has been away a couple of weeks conducting a meeting at Amarillo, and in Monohans conducting the funeral of M. L. H. Baze, Supt of Schools of that city, has now returned and will preach at both services of the Church for Christ next Sunday. He announces his sermon for Sunday night as "The Tragedy of the Parsonage." This will be the story of a Preacher's Wife who went wrong, thus breaking up their home. According to Mr. Henry, the audience after hearing this sermon will appreciate more than ever their home and companions, and the mercy of God. The people of Brownfield are extended a cordial invitation to attend this, or any service of the Church of Christ. Services Sunday at 11 A. M., and 8:15 P. M.

Harvest Speeds Ahead Of 1941

Without exception the cotton harvest on the south plains is running far ahead of the progress made last year, when continued rains and other factors held up picking and ginning for weeks. Official ginning figures as of Nov. 1 give the following 15 cotton-producing counties in the Lubbock area a total of 209,782 bales, compared with 44, 227 bales to the same date a year ago. This is four and three-fourths times as much cotton "in the bag."

The official figures for the counties, with comparative dates and number of bales last year are given below:

Dawson	35,079	301
Lynn	33,636	7,968
Lubbock	32,468	4,434

Pvt Duncan Home On Furlough

Mrs. E. D. Duncan was in this week to renew for the family Herald, and stated that her son, E. D. Jr. had been at home from the Lubbock Army Flying School on a seven day furlough.

He has but recently come to the LAFS from Fort Sill, and his mother said he liked fine, and especially that he was located so close to home.

ROPES MINISTERS HELP IN HARVEST

In these days of labor shortage the pastors of our local churches have laid aside their freshly pressed suits and newly laundered shirts and donned the apparel of the laboring man—rolled up their sleeves and are filling the place of some man in our armed forces. Rev. Barton of the Baptist Church is helping S. B. Pierson harvest his crops and Rev. Mayhew, of the Methodist church is helping down at the Goodwin-Crump gins. When a preacher lays aside his robe and steps out to the rank and file of the laboring people the cause of the Lord has been benefitted a 100-fold—Christ was a carpenter and the men he selected to lay the cornerstone of the Christian religion came from the humble stations in life.—Ropes Plainsman.

Mrs. Bill Eubanks underwent a major operation at Lubbock Monday.

Mary Ballard has accepted a position with the Texas Compress here.

Mesdames Tom May and Roy Ballard spent Tuesday in Lubbock.

Edwin Helms of Naval Training Station, San Diego, Calif., is here visiting his family and friends.

Mrs. Gail Willis and daughter of El Paso are here visiting Mrs. Willis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam White and daughter Evelyn, spent Sunday in Colorado City with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Watson and children.

Cubs Take Borger-Amarello Today

While we wouldn't say the Cubs had a walkover up at Borger last Friday night, they run up a score of 27 to 7 against the Borger Bull Dogs—bull dogs again. We believe that one made some four or five teams the Cubs have played this year with that moniker.

Thus, with the defeat of Plainview on penetrations, and Lubbock by score, and Borger by the same route, the Cubs have won three of the four games they have played, losing only to Pampa.

Tonight they meet what is supposed to be the hardest nuts to crack in district 1AA, the Amarillo Sandstems, rated as one among the best schoolboy teams in Texas.

Amarillo of course is a heavy favorite, but they better keep their side boards up all the time, and not get over confident, or they might lose a score or two to a much lighter but fighting team.

Win or lose, it will in all probability be the last game the Cubs will play this season or probably the last game the Cubs will play this season, or probably for the duration, unless of course by the merest chance they win over Amarillo, and the Sandies lose to Pampa Turkey day.

Cooke New Head Of McMurry College

ABILENE, Nov. 13.—Election of the Rev. Harold G. Cooke of San Angelo as president of McMurry College was announced Wednesday following a special meeting of the college trustees at Sweetwater.

Cooke will fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Frank L. Turner, now of Fort Worth, in the late summer to return to the pulpit as an evangelist.

An ordained Methodist minister since he was 14, the new McMurry president has been district superintendent for the combined Llano and San Angelo districts, described as the largest such unit in America.

REV. HAROLD G. COOKE

erican Methodism, both in territory and number of pastoral charges.

He is expected to assume his duties here about Jan. 1. Cooke will become the sixth president of McMurry, which was founded by the late Dr. J. W. Hunt. The others, in order, have been Dr. O. P. Clark, C. Q. Smith, Thomas W. Brabham, and Turner.

Car Of Feed For Tipton Orphans Home

Willie Winn was a caller at the Herald office Tuesday afternoon and stated that a car of feed would be loaded in Brownfield Monday for Tipton Orphan Home, Tipton, Okla., the 23rd. Mr. Winn stated that most of the car had already been made up, but he wished to reach others through the press that may not have heard of it.

He stated that to save space they were shipping threshed grain, any kind of sorghum grains. An 80,000 capacity car had to be taken as a smaller car could not be secured, and that one hard to get.

Those who wish to donate grain may carry their offering to the Ches Gore Elevator near the compress.

Rialto Announces Picture For Scrap Drive

Recently these columns told you about a picture that was coming to the Rialto, and that Mrs. Jones was giving passes to children or adults, to be admitted for so much junk metal, adults being admitted for 20 pounds of metal and children 10 pounds.

This picture can now be definitely announced, being "Stand By All Networks," starring John Beal and Florence Rice. This special feature will be shown for the purpose of gathering metal and rubber for Uncle Sam. "Throw your scrap into the fight." The Rialto will begin showing this picture at 9:30 A. M., Saturday, Nov. 21.

As this paper started recently, there cannot be any let up in the drive for metal. We must furnish our fighting men in the Solomons, New Guinea, North Africa, and various other fronts with what they need to clear out the Japs and Huns once and for all time. The Herald is glad to help in every way possible in advertising this drive.

Why Herald Sells At The Same Price

The renewals as well new subscriptions keep rolling in at a lively rate, for which we are thankful. The Herald has but one time in its history, changed the price, and that was during the world war one, when inflation ran the price of newsprint from 3c to 13c per pound.

The Herald cannot sell the paper any cheaper in the fall than in the spring or summer. That is the reason our price has been stable at $1.00 per year in the area, elsewhere, $1.50 per year when other papers sold at 25c per year or $1.50 and $2.00.

However, there is not much of such a thing as "cost" to mailing a paper year. You just don't get it, when you take into consideration the many changes in address. Papers have to count on their ads and job printing for profits—if any.

We're looking for your renewal daily.

Area Scouts Make Annual Report

The Herald has received the annual summary report of the activities of the Boy Scouts of this area, which makes mighty good reading matter, and speaks volumes for these uniformed boys and their leaders. Brownfield has no one on the official staff, all being Lubbock men with one exception. One local man is on the Executive Board, Mr. J. O. Gillham, and J. M. Moxley is the District Chairman.

On the inside of the folder is a picture of a bunch of hiking Boy Scouts, entitled "Scouts Yesterday." To the right is three US Airmen, with the title, "Heroes Today." "Yesterday on Scout Records—Today on Citation Lists." Above is this statement: "One-fourth of America's armed forces Scout trained. Today they are in the four corners of the earth heroically defending the ideals they have been taught to cherish above all else."

Briefly stated, we have the following of some of the tasks that devolved upon Scouts and leaders the past year:

Boy Scouts Are Prepared

The 3200 Cubs, Scouts, and Scouters of the South Plains Council are prepared and are members of Uncle Sam's team in helping to win the war.

The record of Service is remarkable—

Scrap Rubber and Iron Collection.
Poster and Leaflet Distribution.

Rev Hanks Returned To Brownfield

Apparently on account of the war and inconveniences of moving, the recent annual conference of the Methodist church at Sweetwater confined itself to a few removal of pastors as possible, and those that were moved were confined mostly to the district in which they were then situated.

Rev. H. W. Hanks, who we believe has been here but two years and has led his congregation in the rebuilding and additions to their plant, making it a very beautiful and convenient church workshop, has been returned for another year. This minister seems to not only fit in well with his congregation, but with the community as well. Other nearby place are filled by the ministers so named:

Denver City, G. F. Ivey; Meadow, G. H. Bryant; Plains, O. A. Graydon; Ropesville, Lloyd Mayhew; Seminole, H. Crandall; Seagraves gets a once very popular pastor here, Rev. Ed D. Tharp; Sundown, Franklin Weir; Welch, C. A. Duncan.

Baker Shows Second Crop Watermelon

A. L. Baker, who lives some six miles northwest of Wellman, and the farmer that usually puts home grown roasting-gins on the market in the spring, still continues his pursuit of producing and the first.

Monday he brought in a 39 pound melon, and the size is not unusual in Terry, where they usually run from 50 to 80 pounds. The unusual was the fact that he and family visited the Rio Grande winter garden section of Texas early in the spring, perhaps before frost was really out of the ground good here.

Anyway they had some ripe melons down there, and he saved the seed from one, and after due course of time planted them on his farm, and thus a second crop of melons, the first that we ever saw that we remember.

Mrs. C. M. Chapman and daughter visited her father in Winters last week. Mr. Chapman went after them Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrison of Union spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Sam White.

On The Golden Wedding Day

"Put on your old grey bonnet with the blue strings on it, while I hitch old Dobbin to the shay" was a very popular song about the close of war one. It may have been written years before that for all we know, but at least it was the song of all songs over our phonographs of a generation ago.

Well, something like that is in the air at the home of Uncle Jimmie and Mrs. Green on north Fifth for the coming Sunday, November 22, when they shall have reached the 50th anniversary of their wedding which took place in Williamson county.

The children of this fine couple are giving a reception from two to six for old and new friends, who are expected to call on them Sunday afternoon. Remember your date with them, if but briefly Sunday afternoon. More details next week.

Mrs. Slim Chavis Champion Rose Raiser

A party passed this office Monday carrying a bouquet of the largest roses we have seen in some time. Them "boogers" were as large as a saucer, and were so deep red that they appeared almost dark in places. A dozen or more petals lay upon each other.

The party stated they were produced by Mrs. Slim Chavis. Being the largest and prettiest roses we ever saw anywhere, we are hereby designating Mrs. Slim Chavis the champ rose producer of Brownfield.

The Social Security field board has asked us to try and make it plain to ladies who marry and of course change their names, to report at it once to the field office at Amarillo. This is very essential, or it might give you some trouble identifying yourself, should you get into financial difficulties and need this assistance.

Recently Mr. Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the US treasury has written the Herald, and perhaps all other weekly papers, asking them to qualify to sell war bonds and stamps. This paper took the matter under advisement several days before writing Mr. Morgenthau that we felt such a step was unnecessary in a town this size, and for several reasons: We are rather off the beaten trail of most of the passersby, being just at the edge of the business district. Second, the postoffice, two banks and the theatres sell stamps and bonds, all strategically located, not to mention many stores that sell stamps at least. But we tried to make it very clear to the Treasurer that the Herald would, as heretofore, use its space to the best of our ability to sell them at other places here in Brownfield as well as the area.

It appears to the Herald that the addresses of soldiers are made bunglesome and entirely too long. Practically all that we have on our mailing list require three lines of closely printed matter and some of them run four lines. It appears to us that some one in the higher brackets wants to appear smart and make them just as tedious as possible. We can't see the need for anything only, for example, "Pvt. John R. Jones, Co. CICERO SMITH LUMBER CO.

Whoopee, Califidelphia." Yea, but you say, there might be twenty-eleven John Jones in Camp Whoopee of perhaps 60,000 men. Well there might be forty-eleven in New York city of 7,000,000, but just his name and street name and number, is all that is required there for quick delivery. On the other hand, we have found the address of sailor much less complicated than addresses of soldiers.

We have wondered many times why all the dailies confine themselves to Republican columnists, with the possible exception of Walter Winchell. Even such Democratic papers as the Star-Telegram uses more GOP commentators than Democratic. Is it that there are no writer brains in the Democratic folds, or is it that more big northern dailies syndicate the Republican writers, and their services and columns can be secured cheaper than others? Of course, many other papers in the South than the Star-Telegram play the "Independent Democratic" route in order to keep on the popular side of their readers, who are overwhelmingly Democratic. But to us that "independent" stuff is just that much bosh, and means only that they are independent of the Democratic party, and most of the time they play in the GOP back yard. Even a few of the weeklies in Texas of late years have been playing up that "independent" stuff. Can it be that they imagine they will get more advertising from northern manufacturers by their neutrality? We never did like to straddle a fence, we are, or we ain't. That's all.

The last war was fought and won under a Democratic administration, but the peace was written by a Republican Senate—and such a peace! As matters now stand, it appears that the same thing will happen again unless peace is established in the next two years. The last election brought in a number of new faces, and some of the old ones who are known as isolationists, or at least half heartedly for the war effort. Despite their lip service that they are for a 100 percent all out persecution of the war, many of us have doubts of their sincerity. How many Americans, and we mean true blue ones, would believe anything that Lindbergh, for instance could or would say about winning the war. But, as Editor Richards of the Anton News stated last

by
BOYCE HOUSE

One of O. Henry's simplest, but among his most interesting, stories is the one about the New Yorker who was intrigued by the phrase, "typical man about town." He decided he wanted to see what a "typical man about town" looked like. He asked a policeman on the corner, he asked the bartender, he asked the doorman at a swanky hotel but none could tell. He was walking across the street—and next thing he knew, he woke up in a hospital 24 hours later. The nurse handed him a copy of the newspaper so he could read about his accident and there he saw:

An unidentified young man was struck by a truck as he was crossing the street . . . He was the typical man about town." Similarly, I had always wondered what a writer for the Saturday Evening Post was like. Despairing of ever meeting one, I wrote an article for the Post myself—and found that such a writer was just an average kind of fellow, even as you and I.

"How did you crash the Saturday Evening Post?" is a question that has been asked many times. Well it was an almost unimaginable way—the editor of the famous magazine wrote and invited me to write an article. Established writers often receive such requests—but for an unknown, a newspaper reporter way down in Texas, it was a semi-miracle.

But really not so odd as it sounds. Wesley Winans Stout, the editor, thought an article or two on big, old-time oil booms might be interesting. He wrote to the newspaper in Mexia, the scene of week, American people don't like any kind of restraints or rationing, and despite the fact that they apparently acquiesce, at the first opportunity, they will turn and rend those responsible for such restraints with the ballot. If the U. S. Senate is loaded with such people again this time, we had better begin singing "God Bless America" while we can.

Farm Families May Determine Own Diets

COLLEGE STATION — What farm families can produce for themselves will largely determine what kind of diets they will have in 1943, Louise Bryant, specialist in home management, recently told the headquarters staff of the A. and M. College Extension Service on her return from the Annual Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C.

The Outlook Conference is sponsored annually by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to give research and educational workers a preview of "what's ahead" for agriculture and home economics. Shortage of containers, labor and transportation mean consumers will use fresh fruits and vegetables next year, the specialist added. The armed services and lend lease beneficiaries will get the bulk of the country's fruit and vegetable pack plus a large portion of commercially dehydrated fruits and vegetables, she explained.

one of the great rushes, and Barnes Broiles, then editor there (now he's at Gladewater) wrote back that a chap named Boyce House had made some study of the Mexia boom. So Stout looked around some more, found a copy of a book of mine, "Were You in Ranger?" and then wrote the author, "I'm sorry you didn't submit this to us before publication as a book." That made two of us that were sorry.

The letter invited me to write an article on another boom and send it along. Another question that is often asked is, "Which is the biggest thrill—the letter of acceptance from the Post, the check or the copy of the magazine which actually contains your article?" The biggest thrill of the three (at least to me) was the letter of acceptance, because once an article is accepted, the check and publication follow in due course.

Your columnist was in Austin when the hotel clerk handed me the letter. I turned from the desk and tore the envelope open, saw at a glance that the letter was a full page and figure it was a rejection as Stout could have said: "Yes" in a line or two. But as I read on, there came the sentence, "And so we are accepting your article and will pay you $500 if that is acceptable." Men in the chairs around the lobby looked startled at the exclamation, "I'll be darned."

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

"We're going to buy foods in bulk, too," Miss Bryant reported. For instance, since no canned soups will be available home-makers will either prepare their own or "buy it at the nearest grocery store and take it home in their own glass jars." Miss Bryant added that rationing which would allow purchases according to food groups, such as proteins, for example. Marked increases in food costs are not possible, the specialist said, since 90 per cent of the nation's food prices already are under control.

That Darn "Kissing Bug" Here Again

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 19.—Research which uncovered two new carriers of sleeping sickness in Texas was described before the annual meeting of the Texas branch of the American Society of Bacteriologists, which met at the University of Texas.

One of the new carriers is the so-called "kissing bug," or triatoma sanguisuga, while the other is the triatoma ambigua. Neither had previously been suspected as carriers of the disease, research workers of the State Health Department and the National Institute of Health reported.

Victory Leaders Called On By Gov.

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 16.—Governor Coke Stevenson, chairman of the National Defense Committee for Texas has requested the A. and M. College Extension Service to use the "human chain system of communication" in informing the state's rural families about the government's Share-the-Meat campaign, according to Extension Director H. H. Williamson.

In this movement the Extension Service and the community and neighborhood Victory leaders will cooperate with the OCD and State and county nutrition committees, director Williamson said.

Briefly, the Share-the-Meat program is a campaign for voluntarily dividing the pork, beef, veal, lamb and mutton which is available for civilians after the needs of the armed services and lend lease commitments have been met. The "sharing allowance" of two and one-half pounds per adult per week includes only the muscle meats, not fish, poultry, and the "variety meats" such as hearts, kidneys, livers, sweetbreads, and the like.

Since October 1, Director Williamson explains, deliveries of "muscle meats" for civilian consumption have been reduced considerably. That means homemakers who cannot shop early and "diners-out" who get to the restaurants late in the meal, may not be able to get their share of meat. "Although families who are heavy meat eaters are asked to limit their consumption, no one expects a person now eating less than two and one-half pounds to cut his consumption. Instead, he should eat his allowance for the sake of good health," Director Williamson says.

During the week November 30-Dec. 6, community and neighborhood leaders will conduct the face-to-face campaign among farm families and in villages of less than 2,500 population. OCD block leaders will explain the program to families in towns and cities.

Inspectors May Examine Social Security Records

For the first time since the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission was created, an employer has been held in contempt in a District court for failure to comply with an order to permit representatives of the agency to inspect his books and records, it was announced today.

The Unemployment Compensation Act gives authority to representatives of the Commission to inspect employers' records, and makes provision for enforcement of the requirement in the courts. In only a few instances during the seven-year existence of the Commission have subpoenas and court orders been necessary it was said by Lee G. Join Up—Help Texas Win The War

LUBBOCK, Nov.—Texans compose about half the officers on foreign duty for the United States in this war, if Major Richard Kight saw a true picture while piloting Wendell Willkie abroad. "We didn't make a stop where there were as many as four officers together, when there wasn't two of us from Texas," Major Kight said on a recent visit to the campus of Texas Technological College, where he formerly attended school. "One of the fellows remarked he thought it was about time the rest of the United States signed up and help Texas win the war." Willkie at the conclusion of the journey of Egypt, Russia, China and other lands, characterized Major Kight, a native of Lubbock, as "the best pilot in the world." Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sawyer spent Thursday in Lubbock.

Thanksgiving

This year, as probably never before, we realize what the word "Thanksgiving" stands for. Before it meant merry-making, turkeys, cranberry sauce. But not this year—It means a feeling that is in our hearts, a tender feeling, even a little sad—but also a very proud feeling! When we think of our fighting men, braving the hardships and cruelties of war, our hearts, then, are truly full—full of a thanksgiving for a country so great, so wonderful, that we'll give our very lives in order to preserve it.

Thanksgiving

The first Thanksgiving was not observed in wholly peaceful times. For the Pilgrims were just establishing themselves in the New World, and the time was to be long until they no longer had to fight enemy tribes, privation and lack of adequate homes. But they were thankful for what food and shelter they had . . . and the fact that they were securing liberty for future generations gave them courage and hope.

THINK

STOP AND THINK!

Thousands of our boys are marching in uniform! Why are they marching? They're marching to protect a freedom so precious, so vital, that they'll gladly give their lives in order that it may be preserved.

So we give thanks this day for boys and men like this, and for what they stand for.

Much Need Meat Could Be Saved This Winter

(Editor's Note: This is the 6th article of a series, "Feed to Speed War Production", published to aid the Food for Freedom program.)

Thousands of pounds of beef to help offset shortages in the United States will be lost this winter unless immediate steps are taken, livestock authorities say. The danger is especially great because losses are less apparent than if the meat were visible to the average person they add, and it is less apparent though serious, in the Cotton Belt.

This threat to the nation's beef supply—preventable by feeding small amounts of cottonseed cake or meal, peanut meal or other protein concentrates—consists of losses of weight in range cattle (even deaths in some cases), failure to produce calves, and the production of weak, light calves.

That losses are just as real as if they consisted of beef spoiling on a shipping platform is evident from such statements as this quotation from a Department of Agriculture Yearbook:

"In the range country of the Southwest and in the Southern States, particularly along the Gulf Coast, thousands of cattle have to depend upon range the year round; as a result, death losses are usually quite heavy, and while the majority come through, the ill effects of undernutrition are usually clearly revealed in their poor condition and small size."

With wartime scarcity of beef adding to the profit incentive for feeding a pound or two of cottonseed cake or peanut or cottonseed meal, daily, to prevent this loss at a very small cost, feeding authorities expect past losses to be reduced sharply in the winter of 1942-43 by better feeding and management.

Deceptively - mild weather, changed overnight by blizzard and "northers," and abundant grass low in feed value are two factors accounting for relatively large losses in the South and Southwest, experience shows. Sudden weather changes are familiar to every cowman, but many do not realize how quickly and early range and pasture grass loses its protein and mineral content.

Experiment Station test in the Southwest during 1941 show that grass samples, some collected as early as October 15, provided only one-fourth of its digestible protein and less than one-half of the phosphorus needed to maintain pregnant beef cows. Authorities found that grasses analyzed would not meet maintenance needs after frost and pointed out that need for the protein supplement became greater as the season advanced.

Danger of losses can be virtually eliminated by the simple method of feeding small amounts of available supplies of protein concentrates, a consistent practice of many successful cattlemen. This is important, cattlemen have found; fall "caking" should start early to prevent loss of weight and condition that cannot be regained later. Early feeding, continued longer, even though small daily amounts are fed, is better than heavier feeding after cattle are losing weight.

Breeding cows, on range or fed roughage, can be kept thrifty and in good condition on 1 to 2 pounds of cottonseed cake, daily per head, except when severe cold requires 3 pounds per head. Herd bulls require 1 1/2 to 3 pounds, daily per head; calves, 1 to 2 pounds; and 1 to 3 pounds of cottonseed cake or meal will keep yearlings and two-year-olds growing. Where farm roughages are available—such as silage hay, sorghum fodder, cottonseed hulls and other—these amounts may be fed with these roughages.

Lamb Feeding Test At Tech College

LUBBOCK, Nov.—A lamb feeding trial is being conducted by the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological College in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The experiment is planned to determine the value of shelter for feeding lambs in comparison with feeding lambs in the open.

Six lots of 20 rambouillet lambs, purchased from J. T. Davis, ranchman of Sterling City, are in the feeding trial now. Four are being fed cotton seed cake, pea size, threshed milo, sorghum silage with four-tenths of an ounce of limestone per head daily. Lots 4 and 5 are being fed cotton seed cake, pea size, threshed milo, one-half pound of alfalfa and sorghum silage with two-tenths ounce of limestone per head daily.

Lots three and six are being fed cotton seed cake, pea size, threshed milo, one-half pound of alfalfa, shopped sorghum bundles and two-tenths ounce of limestone. Salt is before them all the time.

The first lot of each pair is in a shed and the second of each pair is in the open.

Experiment began November 3 and will continue for 84 days. At the end of each 28 day feeding period a preliminary check will be made.

Union Thanksgiving Service Next Sunday Evening

Thanksgiving service at 8 o'clock P. M., at the Methodist Church in which several congregations will participate including our own. There will be a prepared program for the occasion and a spirit of Thanksgiving should be manifest by all of our people who recognize God as being the giver of every good and perfect gift. Music especially for the occasion will be rendered by the Music Club. The B. T. U. will meet at our church at 7 o'clock and will adjourn for the Thanksgiving service at eight. It has been said that the hog's busy eating the acorns never look up to see where they come from, and a great many people fail to recognize the source of the best things they enjoy in life and some refuse to give thanks to God for anything they enjoy.

The pastor returning from the State Convention in Ft. Worth reports that over three hundred thousand dollars in cash has been received at the State headquarters and more coming in which demonstrates the possibility of cooperation of the more than three thousand churches in Texas who constitute the convention. These churches being pure democracies are working together for the promotion of the great work of this convention on a purely voluntary basis and in the payment of their debts they have unloaded a great handicap and can continue to build their work of evangelizing, the people of Texas as well as those of other nations to whom their missionaries are being sent. A few years ago during the dark days of the depression some professing friends of Baptist work in Texas predicted we would never
