 A memo with proposed contract attached, establishing a joint City-School tax office was also presented to each councilman for their review before they meet in joint session with the School Board. A tentative date for this meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, January 27 at 8 p.m. at the City Hall. The city dads commented on several points of the contract.
 Clarence Christian, mayor pro tem who conducted Tuesdays Council meeting in the absence of Mayor Alex Williams, gave a brief report on SPAG meetings he has attended.
 There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

STARTED SCHOOL HERE ... Walter Boness of Muleshoe, a resident here since 1948, brought in this picture of the little red school house where he started school at the age of 7 years. The school, located at La Salle County, Illinois is about 80 miles southwest of Chicago. The building has been well preserved and is about 100 years old according to Boness. Boness moved to this area in 1929 and previously ran a store at Bula and one at Needmore before moving to Muleshoe.

Farmers Losing Control Ag Policy

COLLEGE STATION -- Farmers are finding it increasingly difficult to be heard in Washington.
 "Producer interests in agricultural policy are taking a secondary position to interests of foreign policy, consumerism and labor. Secretary Butz is no longer calling the shots on farm policy. Unless farmers are able to take charge, farm programs may actually be a noose around the producer's neck."
 That's the contention of Dr. Ronald Knutson, economist in marketing and policy for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who spoke at an Extension Service Press Day banquet at Texas A&M University yesterday evening (January 13).
 "Producers must consolidate if they are to regain a position of control over agricultural policy," emphasized the Texas A&M University system economist.
 Knutson listed two critical policy questions on which producers must evaluate their position: (1) In whose interest is agricultural policy going to be made? (2) How much government involvement should there be?
 The economist noted that the overriding concern of producers is the question of the conditions under which they will have access to international markets. "Food has become an integral part of the policy of detente. As such, it may be used either as a carrot or a stick in diplomacy. The carrot policy involved freely exporting to make foreign governments more dependent on the United States as a source of supply. The theory behind this is that a foreign power will not bite the hand that feeds it."
 "On the other hand, the stick policy makes access to U.S. grain dependent on support of U.S. policy by the recipient government. If food is used as a stick, the producer is in danger of being denied free market access from time to time."
 While food diplomacy receives a lot of attention, organized labor and consumerism stand as even greater threats to producer access to foreign markets, argued Knutson. In both 1973 and 1975 the impact of exports on domestic food prices was the primary reason for export controls. This reflects the fact that President Ford listened to George Meany more than to producers or Secretary Butz.
 "Target prices, food reserves and the future of commodity programs stand as the major domestic farm policy issues," notes Knutson. "Farmers feel that in return for full production there must be reasonable assurance that prices will not fall below production costs. They are opposed to reserves because they lower prices. Commodity programs such as those on rice and peanuts appear to be on the way out."
 "For agricultural producers to get a fair shake in future farm policies, they must make their voices heard -- as one strong body rather than as individual commodity groups. Farmers need a strong right hand in Washington or else they will have to continue catering to the whims of those who desire to use agriculture as a pawn," emphasized the economist.

 to build an industrial base," Puckett said, and pointed out that oil money constitutes approximately 50 to 60 percent of their economy and Iran is seeking to become self-sufficient industrially. "Everything is geared to industrialization and Iran could emerge as a great world power," he stated.
 Mrs. Puckett says she really loves living in Tehran and her husband claims she has adapted to the new surroundings much faster than he did. Kathy studied Persian in special courses set up to teach Americans the language. Puckett picked up the native tongue while on the job.
 Most of the people have at least a limited command of English, since this is one of the major subjects taught in Iranian schools. Puckett said most of the Iranian citizens he has met have had a high opinion of the United States and that most would like to visit the U.S.
 There is a tremendous amount of pride in Iran's past which dates to the Persian Empire of Biblical times. The Persian Empire recently celebrated its 2,500th birthday. Literally hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent by the Shah of Iran, on the birthday celebration. The past means a great deal to the Iranians, according to Puckett.

Energy Saving Tips Part Of Appliance Parade

Homemakers trying to save home energy should check the refrigerator freezer compartment.
 "If the ice coating is more than one-fourth inch thick, it's time to defrost," Mrs. Robin Taylor, Bailey County Extension agent, advised.
 "A build-up of ice over one-fourth inch acts as insulation -- and keeps cold air from circulating freely."
 "The refrigerator has to work over time to produce the proper amount of cooling, so energy is wasted," she added.
 Other energy-saving tips on refrigerators and other appliances will be available to local consumers at an Appliance Parade at the Catholic Center in Muleshoe on Thursday, January 29, the agent said.
 Set from 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., the event will feature "home economists and professional representatives from the appliance industry offering information of specific interest to local consumers through 20-minute presentations and one-to-one contacts," Mrs. Taylor said.
 It also will feature exhibits of newest major home appliances.
 The appliance Parade is sponsored by the Bailey County Family Living Committee and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, in cooperation with major appliance manufacturers.

Group Studies Problems Of Small Communities

AUSTIN -- A three-way partnership approach to the problems of small towns has been established by leaders in state government, corporations and private foundations, according to A.T. Anderson, chairman of the Texas Project for Small Town Rural Development.
 Anderson, of Union Carbide Corporation in New York, was one of 150 people who gathered in Austin (January 13) to discuss the best method of solving the unique problems facing small communities.
 Conference Chairman John Ben Shepperd of El Paso Products, Inc. in Odessa, said the meeting reflected a sensitive government, informed and concerned corporations and foundations and small town leadership anxious to work on their own problems.
 Governor Dolph Briscoe addressed the group pointing to the trend of young people to return to the small towns in which they were reared, and the necessity of helping these communities provide services to their citizens.
 "Much of the strength of Texas and out state's future progress lies in our small towns," Governor Briscoe said. "The stability and successful development of these rural communities is dependent on the dedicated and cooperative efforts of many individuals, organizations and leaders."
 Edward L. Protz of the Moody Foundation and vice-chairman of the conference, said leaders in small communities have often been thwarted in their efforts to improve conditions in their towns, whether in areas of social service or water supply, because no single existing program meets all needs.
 The consortium of public and private sectors will facilitate the success of goals established by small town leaders. In the proposed project, an advocate role will be played by a representative of the group on behalf of small towns. The exact form of this assistance will be determined by committee members and interested resource controllers within 30 days, according to Anderson.

 Walter A. Haas Jr., chairman of the board of Levi Strauss & Co., said his company, which has more of its facilities and employees in Texas than any other state, wants its employees and consumers to enjoy a quality of life that is satisfying, and believes there are small town values that should not be lost.
 "We want to assist the leadership that exists in small towns to define the problems, list the priorities, develop an approach and help them contact those who can and should respond," he said.
 Governor Briscoe assured those in attendance of the support of state government, and charged the Texas Department of Community Affairs with

Baylor To Host Alumni Banquet

WACO -- The Baylor University Ex-Students Association will be host for the university's first Distinguished Alumni Banquet February 20.
 Announcement of three distinguished alumni of Baylor for 1976 will highlight the black tie dinner in the Barfield Drawing Room of the Baylor Student Union Building on campus. Attendance will be by invitation.
 Distinguished alumni who have been honored by the association in past years also will be present for the banquet that is expected to become an annual event.
 The banquet program will include a speaker of prominence and musical entertainment to be furnished by Baylor School of Music personnel.

 The banquet will also be the first activity sponsored by the ex-students association during the Bicentennial year to commemorate the nation's 200th birthday.

Avocado Seafood Salad Tarts A Hearty Main-Dish Salad

Whether you're having a luncheon for friends or a Friday night supper, Avocado Seafood Salad Tarts will be a welcome main-dish salad.

Baked tart shells are filled with an inviting mixture of mashed California avocado, flaked tuna, sour cream, green onion, celery, parsley and radishes. Each hearty serving is then garnished with avocado crescents and radish slices.

For a variation, you might want to substitute crab, shrimp, lobster or salmon for the tuna. And this recipe makes enough filling so that it can be served in a baked eight-inch pie crust instead of individual tart shells.

California avocados, either half-shell style or as an ingredient in salads, dips, sandwich fillings and entrees, contribute to your daily nutritional needs. The fruit contains eight essential vitamins and five vital minerals—significant amounts of Vitamins A, C, E, iron, magnesium and potassium.

Avocado Seafood Salad Tarts

Planning Ahead Insures Your Wardrobe To Be Fashionable

COLLEGE STATION -- A few steps to gain "wardrobe wisdom" will help consumers stay fashionable when styles and seasons change, Margret Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist, says.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Start by looking at fashion magazines, TV, newspaper ads and in the stores to see what's new. Now, back to reality -- stop and think.

"Can you see yourself in the current fashions? Are you tall enough or petite enough for the look you like? Will new items and your current wardrobe work together?"

She suggested taking a critical look in the closet and sorting clothing into "okay", "needs help" and "won't wear" piles. Give away the "won't wears", she advised.

"Try mixing and matching existing clothes -- add a scarf or belt to tie colors together. Then notice what colors show up most often in the wardrobe. Consider this 'basic' color and plan around it.

"When shopping for new clothes, take along snips of fabric from the seams of garments you hope to match or coordinate."

She suggested buying or making one really new trend-setting item -- and decide how it can be combined with things you already have.

FRESH IDEAS IN FRAGRANCE

Fragrance...soft, sensuous, deliciously feminine... is in the air, everywhere. Scents are on the scene in all kinds of new products, many packaged in plastic or foil to make it easy for you to carry in a cosmetic case.

Look for sweet-smelling soaps in reusable plastic cases, great for gifts or for yourself when you travel.

Bath oil and bath salts, great pickers-uppers after a busy day, come in pretty little single-use pouches. And new scented shampoos that leave alluring herbal fragrance in your hair come in safe, plastic bottles to store near the tub or tuck into a suitcase.

Mrs. Lyons Watercolor Demonstration

Twenty four members and two guests met Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the regular meeting of the Art Association to attend the watercolor demonstration given by the guest artist, Tessa Lyons, of Clovis, New Mexico. The meeting was called to order by the President, Blanch Lenderson, who reminded the members of the all day painting day on the fourth Tuesday of each month at Williams Brothers Office Supply. Anyone who is interested in painting is welcome to come and paint with the group, either all day or part of the day.

Each member was asked to be thinking of the most valuable information that they have received since they have begun to paint and also, the biggest mistake they have made while painting. These will be discussed at the next meeting and we feel that all will benefit from others' aids and mistakes. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Lenderson introduced the guest artist.

Mrs. Lyons is a graduate student from the Texas Women's University and also has a masters degree in art from Eastern New Mexico University. She works in all mediums, but her preference is watercolor.

Being one of the owners in the "Paint 'n Place" Gallery in Clovis; the mother of five children, while continuing her education in art, keeps Mrs. Lyons busy, but she still finds time to do her painting. After giving a demonstration on a landscape and a floral painting she donated the painting to the Art Association to be drawn for. Janet Ethridge won the painting.

Guests attending were Mrs. Dale Nickols of Goodland, and Naomi Burgess of Earth. Members attending were Mrs. A.J. Lenderson, Mrs. Tommy Wheatley, Gladys Dorsey, Mrs. Elbert Nowell, Myrtle Steinbock, Verna Davis, Cass Stegall, Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. Tice Hugg, Mrs. Raymond McGehee, Mrs. C.W. Tested Tips To Help You

CASSEROLE WIPES CLEAN
There's nothing so good and warm and filling for a winter lunch as tuna casserole. The recipe below is a quick and easy one to make, and what's more, cleanup is easy, too.

What makes cleanup easy is spraying the casserole dish with Mazola No Stick cooking spray. The spray, which contains a touch of corn oil and the vegetable derivative, lecithin, adds no odor to foods and less than one calorie per use. It is a coating that above all else, stops food from sticking. Tuna, macaroni, vegetables and all slip right out, leaving a casserole that's easy to clean.

NEWS OF SAFETY

TIPS ON BICYCLING
A bicycle craze has gripped the country.

Once mostly a child's activity, bicycling is now a favorite with people of all ages -- as a family pastime, a source of recreation, a physical fitness exercise, and oftentimes, as an economical means of transportation. Over 60 million Americans have become bicycle riders.

Bicycling is meant to be fun -- and safe. Although bicycles don't need a lot of attention, they should never be neglected. The chain, axle, and other moving parts should be cleaned and lubricated periodically. Every rider should learn to change a tire and check brake levers, cables, and brake blocks. Tires should always be inflated to the proper pressure which is usually indicated on the side of the tire in raised letters. Regular car wax will protect a bicycle's finish and keep it new looking for years.

Defensive riding is the responsibility of every cyclist. Thomas F. Henry, Director of Safety Services for The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, outlines the following as rules for safe riding:

- Keep right, riding with traffic.
- Ride single file.
- Don't carry passengers

"Parade" Features Appliances

Sponsored by the Bailey Family Living Committee and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, in cooperation with major appliance manufacturers, the event will provide consumers with up-to-date information on selection, use and care of major home appliances, the agent said.

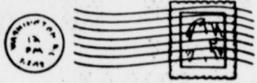

For homes with low water pressure, a clothes washer with a pressure fill mechanism will insure proper water level for each load, a local home economist explains.

"The pressure fill method allows water to run until the selected level is reached, regardless of the water pressure," Mrs. Robin Taylor, Bailey County Extension agent, added.

Other features to look for when selecting a clothes washer and other major appliances -- will be explained and exhibited with local consumers by home economist and manufacturing representatives at an Appliance Parade, she said.

Set from 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. on January 29 in Muleshoe the Appliance Parade will be at the Catholic Center.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
It is a nice idea for everyone to come home to the old home for Christmas but what happens when the children, grands and great grands get to be too many to get in the house. I have a suggestion.

My parents have three daughters, one of them lives in the same town and the other two live fifty miles away. What we do is to take turns and have the tree at one house. After the dinner some of us go to the other house in the same town. Of course the ones from out of town bring the special foods that are their specialties and which can be carried.

In the summer, when much of the activities can be out of the house, we have a special day to visit the old folks.

Answer:
It sounds very good, if it suits everyone. Coming home to parents at Christmas depends on many things. Is the house large enough to accommodate the crowd, is grandmother able to take on the job of the dinner, etc., and do all of the children wish to come?

Very often the children, who have children of their own who are married, prefer to spend Christmas in their own home and have the grandparents with them. This sometimes works out very well if the oldsters are not quite up to all the responsibility of Christmas entertaining.

Louisa,
There are people so eager to go somewhere that they go with anyone.

Electrical Repairs You Can Do

COLLEGE STATION -- Even though making electrical repairs sounds complicated, there are some simple ones that home-makers can do themselves, according to Mrs. Patricia Seaman, housing and home furnishings specialist.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. BEFORE MAKING ANY ELECTRICAL REPAIRS, BE SURE TO TURN OFF THE ELECTRICAL POWER SOURCE TO THE POINT AT WHICH REPAIRS WILL BE MADE, she warns.

Below, she outlines steps for replacing a wall switch, appliance plugs and a wall outlet. HOW TO REPLACE A WALL SWITCH

First, BE SURE TO TURN OFF THE ELECTRICITY.

To do this, remove the fuse -- or flip the fuse box switch -- to turn off the electricity at the wall switch that will be replaced.

Then you're ready to replace the wall switch.

Unscrew and remove the face plate. Tape screws to face plate to prevent loss or misplacement of screws.

Then unscrew the top and bottom mounting screws and pull the switch "body" out of the junction box.

Loosen the terminal screws on the backside of the switch body -- to free the switch body from its circuit wires.

That removes the old switch body completely. Now you're ready to install the new switch body.

Simply reverse the steps you've just completed.

Be sure -- when you attach the circuit wires to the new switch body -- that you fit the loops on the end of the wire to the terminal screws so the curves (of the loops) run CLOCKWISE.

When you complete the installation procedure, restore electricity to the wall switch.

-- split the insulation along the cord length -- for about two inches

-- strip the insulation from one-half inch of wire tip, then scrape the wire until it is bright (without nicking it)

-- insert the two wires into the new plug and on through to the pronged side

HOW TO REPLACE APPLIANCE PLUGS

First UNPLUG the cord from the wall outlet and from the appliance.

To replace a plug on the "wall outlet" end of the cord (the end that plugs into the wall outlet), follow these steps:

-- cut off the old plug, plus one inch of cord

-- tie an "underwriter's knot"

-- tighten a loop on each wire top so that it curls CLOCKWISE around its terminal screw

-- tighten terminal screws to hold wires securely.

Now you've replaced that plug. To replace a plug on the "appliance" end of the cord (the end that plugs into the appliance), follow these steps:

-- cut off the old plug, plus one inch of cord

-- split the cord insulation about two inches along the cord length

-- separate the halves of the new plug (unscrew the screws) and remove the contact clamps

-- strip one-half inch of insulation from the two wire tips of the cord -- far enough down to make loops fit clockwise around the terminal screws

-- secure the contacts by tightening the terminal screws

-- screw or clamp the halves of the new plug together.

Now you've replaced this plug.

HOW TO REPLACE A WALL OUTLET

An unintentional error is often stupid but not as stupid as the derision which sometimes greets it.

Remember, DO NOT ATTEMPT ANY REPAIRS UNTIL ELECTRICITY TO THE OUTLET IS OFF.

To shut off the electricity to the outlet, remove the fuse -- or flip the switch at the circuit box.

Next, unscrew and remove the outlet face plate. Tape screws to face plate to prevent loss or misplacement.

Then unscrew the mounting screws at the top and bottom (or on either side) of the outlet unit -- and pull it out of the junction box.

Loosen the screws to free all the wires.

Remove and discard the damaged outlet.

Now you're ready to install the new outlet.

Install the new outlet by reversing the steps you just completed.

BE SURE to attach the black wires to the dark terminal screws; attach the light wire to the silvery terminal screw -- and if there is a green wire, it is a "ground" wire, and you attach it to the "ground terminal screw" at one end of the outlet (bottom or top of outlet unit).

That completes the replacement process, and you can restore electricity to the wall outlet.

Not many people are as smart as they think they are.

No one can afford serious mistakes but everyone makes them.

It's always easy to find an excuse for delaying hard work.

You can look back to 1975, but we prefer to look forward to 1976.

6th Grade Writes Brand Name Stories

Mr. BELL DIALed SUGARY SAM, who lived in DEL MONTE, while the BAKERS were cooking turkey. Then Mr. REYNOLDS came inside and said, "Boy, there's WHITE RAIN pouring down." After him came Mr. CAMPBELL, who had a great STYLE. He said, "I want a cup of ROSE MILK." When Mr. LIBBY came, suddenly a DOVE went WHISK past the window. SUGARY SAM said, "You have bad breath, why don't you wash your mouth with SCOPE." Margie Castillo Janie Martinez Mary Alice Orozco Mr. REYNOLDS was SHURE his wife, JOY, would DIAL Mr. FORD and tell him to put a SCOPE on his gun to shoot the DOVE down into the TIDE. It looked like WHITE RAIN falling into the ocean - they were SHUREFINE to eat. When they finished eating, Mr. REYNOLDS took his ARM AND

HAMMER to build a garage for his PONTIAC. The next day LITTLE DEBBIE got sick, so MRS. BAIRD, their MINUTE MAID, called DR. PEPPER so he could get a CLOSE-UP look at her. After all of that, everyone was SHUREFINE, so they went to see MR. MUSCLE and MR. CLEAN fight. Steve Orozco Dusty Puckett George Vela

PETER PAN went to Mr. MAXWELL'S HOUSE and DIALed the BELL so that it would RISE and AIM at CAPTAIN CRUNCH. So WHITE RAIN started coming down and flooded the whole DEL MONTE town. The ULTRA BRIGHT sun started GLEAMING through the CHEERFUL town. All the NEET floods were going away. PETER PAN went to Mr. MAXWELL'S HOUSE and unDIALed the BELL so that it wouldn't RISE and AIM at CAPTAIN CRUNCH. While PETER PAN was unDIALing the BELL he fell off the RISE and into a RAINBOW of water. Mr. COCA COLA was helping him and he had to throw a LIFESAVER into the RAINBOW of water. PETER PAN caught the LIFESAVER. Cindy Turner Denna Harris Marsha Williams

ALBERTA BALSAM had a good AIM on DR. PEPPER, who was walking with Miss MORTON. When DR. PEPPER saw ALBERTA he called a LIFE-GUARD who was SURE he needed to DIAL for a LIFESAVER. When Miss MORTON saw what was RISING up on DR. PEPPER, she sat on her DOUB-LE MINT and cried so SOFT 'N DRY it rained WHITE RAIN. When Miss MORTON saw that DR. PEPPER was SAFE-GUARDED, she jumped for JOY. When they CARE-SSED each other with ZEST and they lived CLOSE-UP ever after. Shelley Davis Ella Graves Michelle Townsel

One day WHITE RAIN was falling. AURORA was in the WHITE RAIN. She DIALed CORONET's number and asked if he would pick her up in his MONTE CARLO. He said, "No!" I AIM to get CHARLIE to RISE and PEAK at MABEL-EN GIBSON through the GLASS PLUS LIBBY BAKER's, and GINGER ALE's house. You go ask one of those FLEISHMAN boys.

AURORA walked over the CREST and saw CHARMIN BORDEN. They spent the rest of the day together UNSPOKEN till ROSE MILK came along. She liked DEL MONTE but she always WISK that CHARMIN liked her. She looked like IVORY. ROSE MILK tried to get CLOSE-UP with CHARMIN, but a BAYER came and ROSE MILK got a little FRISKY and ran away to find DEL MONTE. While AURORA and CHARMIN were walking home, they saw Mr. RAGU and MISS CLAIREOL. Miss REYNOLDS wrapped some MINUTE MAIDS up, so they went home and had their STYLE of food. Jill Turner Teri Duvall

Pruning Trees

Improper pruning of trees can be just as bad or worse than not pruning them at all, emphasizes Spencer Tanklesy, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. On the other hand, proper pruning can turn a tree or shrub into a beautiful plant specimen.

Tanklesy offers 10 pointers to consider as far as the pruning operation is concerned:

1. Do not top trees. Topped trees often die because the topped branches cannot heal, thus letting in decay fungi and bacteria. Also, side branches below topped stubs are usually weaker and are subject to wind damage.

2. Prune at the right season. Prune deciduous trees and shrubs, vines, ground covers and evergreens during the winter. However, an exception is that spring-flowering shrubs such as azaleas, forsythia, bridal wreath and gardenias should be pruned after flowering.

3. Use proper tools. Hand shears can handle twigs under one-half inch in diameter. Long-handled lopping shears are needed for timber one-half to one inch in diameter. Branches larger than one inch in diameter should be cut with a pruning saw.

4. Make all cuts flush with the trunk. Stubs don't heal properly and the decay and deterioration spreads down the trunk of the tree until wind topples it.

5. Seal big cuts with pruning paint. Use pruning paint on cuts larger than one inch in diameter to ward off insects and diseases.

6. Repair damaged plants at once. Plants should be kept healthy year-round; this means pruning damaged twigs or branches.

7. Use common sense when pruning. Watch for limbs that may fall over power lines or damage other property.

8. Always prune after transplanting. Pruning is especially important for balled-and-burlapped plants; this compensates for roots lost during digging.

9. Beware of the door-to-door pruner. If you can't handle the pruning job yourself, hire someone with an established operation and years of reputation.

10. Have a reason for pruning. Don't prune just to pass the time of day.

Following these simple guidelines can save many headaches, heartaches and "butchered" plants, contends Tanklesy.

'Outlook' Discussions To Highlight School

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas bankers dealing with agricultural loans must have firsthand knowledge about what's down the road for various agricultural commodities. And that's just why they're going to get at the 24th Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers, February 9-11, at the Rudder Center, Texas A&M University.

A special session will provide "outlook" information on livestock, cotton, grain and the money market, points out Dr. Richard Trimble, economist in management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Speakers will be Extension specialists Dr. Ed Uvacek and Roland Smith; Dr. Phillip Gramm, Texas A&M professor of economics (currently on leave); and Dan Davis of Lubbock, general manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association.

"We think this portion of the school will be of special interest to bankers since it will give them some idea of what to expect in the coming months in these particular areas," notes Trimble. "Many of the decisions they will have to make during the year will be based on 'outlook' information."

Other features of the school will include concurrent sessions on loans for crops and machinery, cow-calf operations and feedlots along with a special session for bank directors.

Setting the stage at the beginning of the three-day school will be discussions on changing agricultural environments -- political, market and financial. A special Agricultural Credit Analysis Workshop will begin the afternoon of February 11 and continue through the morning of February 13. The workshop will deal with preparing financial statements, analyzing and reconciling farm records, and preparing cash flow projections. Case problems will also be studied and solved, points out Trimble.

Texas Criminal Justice Standards And Goals

Governor Dolph Briscoe today released TEXAS CRIMINAL JUSTICE STANDARDS AND GOALS. The 198-page document outlines the direction criminal justice in Texas is expected to take in the future. The final report was adopted by a 20-member panel, the Governor's Executive Committee on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals, following a year of research and input by hundreds of Texas citizens, elected officials, and criminal justice professionals. "This document reflects the best thinking of many of Texas' most capable criminal justice officials and citizens. Development of standards and goals for the state's criminal justice system required substantial effort on the part of the 20 men and women of the Governor's Executive Committee on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals," Governor Briscoe said. "Publication of this report represents a significant milestone on the road to reducing crime - for we must be aware of what the criminal justice system is and should be before we can begin an organized and effective effort to improve it," Governor Briscoe said.

Standards are not minimum levels of operation against which to measure the existing system but rather ideals toward which that system is expected to strive. Implementation of these standards will require significant effort in all areas of the criminal justice system. Standards are expected to reflect the ideal criminal justice system within the framework of reason. Some already have been met. Achievement of others will require legislative changes or changes in agency policies and procedures at the state or local level. Such changes take time and demand resources. But this fact must not be used to delay unnecessarily the initiation of standard implementation," Governor Briscoe said.

Chairman of the Governor's Executive Committee on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals is Leroy Jeffers of Houston, past president of the State Bar of Texas. Standards identified in the document are expected to be the center of the planning and funding effort of the Governor's Criminal Justice Division. Proposed projects will be expected to contribute toward achievement of one or more of the quantified standards. CJD Executive Director Robert C. Flowers joined Governor Briscoe in commending Jeffers for developing a set of standards tailored to Texas.

Standards are ambitious. Standards are not minimum levels of operation against which to measure the existing system but rather ideals toward which that system is expected to strive. Implementation of these standards will require significant effort in all areas of the criminal justice system. Standards are expected to reflect the ideal criminal justice system within the framework of reason. Some already have been met. Achievement of others will require legislative changes or changes in agency policies and procedures at the state or local level. Such changes take time and demand resources. But this fact must not be used to delay unnecessarily the initiation of standard implementation," Governor Briscoe said.

For Rent

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now. But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boasting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time. Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump, other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

Rearing Children By Government Or By Parents

Editor's note: The following article was brought to the Journal by Mrs. John Harris, third vice-president of the local PTA, who felt the information should be brought to the attention of the public. The names of your senators and congressmen are listed at the end of the article if you wish to contact them concerning the legislation mentioned in the article.

There is before the Congress of the United States Legislation known as:

THE CHILD AND FAMILY SERVICE ACT OF 1975 CHILD ADVOCACY CLAUSE:

In the Congressional Record the bill is described: "If, in the judgement of those who are in charge of such a program, The State by way of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, parents are not doing a good job, the advocate (a specialist appointed by the government) would enter the home and direct the education, even within the home. And if the parent would object, the authority of the home would De Facto, be transferred to those advocated."

The Charter of Children's Rights of the National Council of Civil Liberties is becoming part of the Child Development Act. Following are four of the several items proposed in the charter.

1) "All children have the right of protection from and compensation for the consequences of any inadequacies in their homes and backgrounds."

2) "Children have the right to protection from any excessive claims made on them by their parents of authority."

(The question was asked by way of example, "What do you mean by the fact 'excessive claim'?" The example was given:

"If the mother or father asked the child to take the garbage out and the child doesn't want to, the parents have no right to insist upon it.")

3) "Children have the right to freedom from religious and political indoctrination." This means parents could not insist on children attending church or Sunday School or Synagogue. It also means the parent could be reported to authorities for expressing himself in his own home before his own children regarding politics and religion if the child reported this to the authorities.

4) "Children shall have the freedom to make complaints about teachers, parents or others without fear of reprisals."

This bill passed both houses in 1971 and was vetoed by President Richard Nixon with the following remark: "This bill would weaken the American family by committing the vast moral authority of the national government to the side of communal approaches to child rearing over against the family oriented approach."

The Congressional Record states concerning this bill: "The intent of this bill is for the government to be responsible . . . for the nutritional interests of your child, and for all psychological interests of your child."

"What is at issue is whether the parent shall continue to have the right to form the character of the children or whether the State, with all its power and magnitudes, shall be given the decisive tools and technique for forming the young lives of the children of the country."

"As a matter of the child's right, the Government shall exert control over the family because we have recognized that the child is not the care of the parents but the care of the State. We recognize that not parental, but communal forms of upbringing have an unquestioned superiority over all other forms. Furthermore, there is serious questions that maybe we cannot trust the family to prepare young children in this country for this new kind of world which is emerging."

In the event you wish to contact your Congressman, their addresses are:
