In making his announcement Reese said, "I am convinced that the people of this district -- and this country -- are fed-up with the big spending by the Congress. They have spent us almost into bankruptcy and mortgaged the future of our children. It is a time for new directions."

I believe that federal deficit spending has been the main cause of our inflation. Perhaps you remember when about the only contact you had with the federal government was buying a 3-cent stamp. And you can't make a move now without Washington looking over your shoulder or getting into your pocket.

Our new directions must take us toward smaller, less-wasteful government . . . and toward more decision-making at the local level."

Reese, 2929 Kirkwood Drive, Odessa, was elected Mayor of Odessa in 1968 by a seven-to-one margin. He was re-elected in 1970 and 1972. He chose not to run for re-election in 1974. The 46-year-old businessman also is a former President of the Texas Jaycees and former vice-just plan to lead a normal life now with the return of their son but would be more protective from now on.

The nightmare for the Norris family began on Friday when a woman in her thirties, posing as a florist making a delivery entered the home and forced Mrs. Norris and her mother-in-law into a back bedroom at gunpoint. She tied the women up and took the baby. The kidnapper was wearing a frosted wig and was described as about 5-2, 125 pounds. She told the mother she would receive a telephone call Friday night, but no call was made.

Albuquerque police said Monday the young woman who kidnapped the week-old baby Friday, may have been attracted to the boy and decided to take him for her own.

Police checked out many tips from persons who had seen an artist's sketch of the kidnapper or were suspicious about someone they had seen who had a small child.

It wasn't until Sunday, February 1, that local law enforcement officials learned that there was the possibility that the woman who kidnapped the Norris infant might be a local woman.

According to Muleshoe Police Chief Buddy Black Eileen Lowe of this city, separated from her husband since last August had led members of his family to believe that she was pregnant.

On Sunday, January 25, 1976, Gene Lowe, her ex-father-in-law came to the Chief's office and told him that on Saturday, January 24, Eileen Lowe had caught a plane for Oklahoma City that left Lubbock at 10 p.m.

She called back to Muleshoe prior to 12 midnight saying she had given birth to a four-pound boy. Gene Lowe had told Chief Black the same day, she had tried to get admitted into the West Plains Medical Center here but they would not admit her because she could not come up with the money for a deposit.

Eileen also told her father-in-law that one of the doctors had given her some pills to hold off the pain and the baby.

Lowe told Chief Black that he learned that Mrs. Lowe had come back to Muleshoe Friday night, January 30, 1976 with a baby. Sunday morning he read in a Colvis paper where a baby had been stolen in Albuquerque, N.M. The description of the woman that stole the baby made him more suspicious.

According to the Chief, Mrs. Lowe had been seen in Church that day (Sunday) with the baby. After talking to some of the people that had seen the baby, "I was almost certain that the baby was not a four-pound premature baby," said Lowe.

Around 8 p.m. Sunday evening, Gene Lowe came to the Law Enforcement Center and discussed the pros and cons of the baby that Mrs. Lowe had stolen the baby. Chief Black said he then contacted Clovis by radio for more details of the baby's description. They did not have any more and were asked by the Chief to contact Albuquerque and let him know. They did not let him know a thing.

Monday morning Black and his assistant J.R. Carpenter decided to contact the FBI. Carpenter and Lowe contacted the local doctor who said he did examine the woman in question in the month of October and that all tests of pregnancy were negative. He also told them that he did not see Eileen Lowe nor give her any pills prior to her boarding the airplane, and that she could not fly in the state of pregnancy that she was in without a letter from a doctor telling how far along she was. It was later learned that Eileen Lowe caught a plane on Friday, January 23 instead of Saturday, January 24, 1976.

Another City Patrolman, Wayne Holmes had visited with Gene Lowe and after hearing his story and talking with Chief

Black and Carpenter, the FBI was again contacted Monday.

At noon Monday, a description of the missing baby was received at the Law Enforcement Center as well as a description of the suspect. The descriptions closely resembled the ones connected with the Albuquerque incident.

Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements said Lowe came to see him Sunday night with a copy of the Amarillo paper and showed him the article about the baby who was kidnapped in Albuquerque. Clements said he and Lowe talked for about an hour. "I told him I didn't know what we could do, that we would have to get information on the baby, but that we would do something," stated the sheriff.

Clements said a local minister came to see him with some additional information and he then called the FBI.

The Norris baby was picked up Monday night and taken to West Plains Medical Center until his parents arrived in Muleshoe to take him home. The child was taken to the hospital by FBI Agent Frank Haynes.

Eileen Lowe, 30, of Muleshoe was arrested at her home and transferred to Lubbock County Jail Tuesday. Her father-in-law (Gene Lowe) noticed her with a baby and contacted Sheriff Clements who contacted the FBI.

A $10,000 reward was offered by friends of the Edwards family, for the safe return of the child.

The baby, John Paul Norris was the only child the Norris' had. "He is our only child and had. He is our only child and we may not be able to have another. He means so much to us," said the father. "We've been told we couldn't ever have a child. We had this child and he is so important to us. My wife went through years of treatment to be able to have him."

The Norris', after having time to be reunited with their son, and compose themselves then graciously allowed all the time desired by the news media to take pictures and interview them, before returning to their Albuquerque home.

mands for payment, confident nothing will happen," he said. Bullock reported only a few of the delinquents paid in response to a recent mailing, and their names were deleted from the list. Others, he said, responded by sending in partial payments, which were deducted.

"But some of those partial payments were paltry -- like $20 on an $11,000 judgment," he said. "That's not going to cut it. We want it all back."

It was noted during the meeting that the city is presently in the planning stage of obtaining a grant from the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety for a traffic engineering survey of the City. The grant is a 100 percent grant for those items in a contract which the Traffic Safety Office deem appropriate. The City has obtained contracts from other cities currently having contracts with consultants in the field of traffic engineering that have a Traffic Safety grant also.

Items have been taken from these contracts and have been incorporated into a preliminary contract. After proposals are taken from the various consultants, the city will, along with the representative from the Traffic Safety Office, choose a consultant. Following this stage, the city will then start processing their grant application. The City Manager indicated that Muleshoe has a good chance of being funded.

The Councilmen were informed that County Judge Glen Williams feels they may still be able to secure funds for joint City-County investigative unit. The Judge will pursue the securing of funding for such a unit with the Criminal Justice Advisory Committee of SPAG of which he is chairman.

The Council approved purchase of Public Official and Employee Liability Coverage, and passed an order and notice declaring a City Council Election for April 3, 1976, setting a time and polling places.

New Symbol For Today PTA

The new PTA symbol, designed to display graphically the PTA's concern for the education and welfare of all children, will be featured in the National PTA's first national magazine advertising campaign.

The central focus of the symbol is a child, who represents all children. The child is supported and uplifted by a pair of caring hands, which represent the hands of the millions of PTA volunteers.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

There's always the problem of using the last of the turkey in attractive and nourishing dishes. We find this casserole one of our favorites and it also makes an attractive main course for after-the-holiday meals.

Turkey Puff

- 1 1/2 c diced cooked turkey
- 1 c turkey stuffing
- 1 c condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 8-oz. can cut green beans, drained
- 4 eggs separated
- 1 c French-fried onion rings

Mix soup and 1/3 cup water and put in 2-quart casserole. Arrange turkey, stuffing and beans in layers on soup. Beat egg whites until thick and fold in whites. Put the egg mixture over the ingredients in casserole and bake in slow oven 300 degrees about 40 minutes. Sprinkle with onion rings and bake an additional 5 minutes. Serves 6.

Children Honors Parents In Sudan

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wells were honored Sunday afternoon, January 25, 1976, with a reception in the home of a daughter and her family, the Glen Chesters. The couple's other six children and their families co-hosted the event.

The reception was to celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary. The couple married January 24, 1926 in Lubbock. They have lived in the Sudan-Muleshoe vicinity for 42 years.

A three-tiered white cake decorated with icing roses, gold leaves, and topped with white satin bells was served. Net and a gold "50" was on the cake. Gold bell mints, nuts, hot punch and coffee were also served from gold and crystal appointments with the cake. The table was laid with an off-white lace cloth over satin. It was centered with a bouquet of yellow roses and baby's breath, in a cut crystal bowl, which had been Mrs. Wells' mothers, Mrs. Lydia Isaacs.

Serving were granddaughters of the couple; Lori Patton, Jo Gaye Doty, and Dion Williams, all of Lubbock, and Shelley Hargrove.

Greeting guests were children of the honored couple. Sharon Wells, a daughter-in-law, registered guests at a gold colored table, decorated with three slender tapers in a gold holder, surrounded with greenery and baby's breath. A picture of the couple following their marriage was also displayed on the table.

Attending from Muleshoe were Mrs. O.M. Self, Mrs. Davis Guley, Mrs. Eunice Crume, Mrs. J.E. Wilhite, Mrs. Walter Damron, Mrs. Ruby Garner Pruitt, Mrs. Frances Graham, Mrs. Blanche Lenderson, Mrs. Charles Glover, and Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Montgomery.

Sheresea Dawn

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Windle of Clovis are the proud parents of a new baby girl born February 2, 1976, at 9:48 a.m. in the West Plains Hospital in Muleshoe. The baby weighed seven pounds, one ounce and was named Sheresea Dawn. The couple have six other children.

Take a chance on human nature; usually it pays off.

Updating Hem Lengths For Today's Fashion

COLLEGE STATION -- Fashionable skirts and dresses are hanging unworn in many closets -- simply because they're too short for today's styles.

But many of these can be "recycled" at little expense to become useful and enjoyable additions to a wearable wardrobe. Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, suggests.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Spend a few minutes visualizing possibilities on the too-short clothes. Would the hem allowance add enough needed length? If so, check to see if the old hemline would show. If it does, consider whether or not rows of trim or narrow tucks could be used for camouflage and still look as though they were planned as part of an original garment.

Muleshoe PTA Honors Past Presidents At Meeting

The Muleshoe Elementary P.T.A. will meet Monday, February 9, 1976, in the Richland Hills Elementary cafeteria, at 3:45 p.m. The program will be to salute and honor the past presidents with the history and progress of the local P.T.A. chapter. It will be under the direction of program chairman, Mrs. Robert Hunt. Everyone is urged to attend this special meeting.

"Once the hem allowance is successfully let down, think through ways the hem edge could be finished. Is it best to add a facing, bind the raw edge, or turn under a narrow width and topstitch?" she said.

She suggested some other possibilities if letting down the hem allowance doesn't provide enough needed length.

--Is the garment design and fabric design suitable for adding a contrasting ruffle or band at the hemline?

"To avoid looking 'tacked on,' contrasting fabric or trim added at the hemline often also needs to be positioned higher on the garment -- for example, as pockets, belts, cuffs, trim or applique."

--For straight or gathered skirts, cut without A-line seams, one or more rows of fabric bands or trim inserted above the hemline may work.

--Dresses without waistline seams can be successfully lengthened by adding fabric inserts at the waistline for mock belted look or as a midriff to be worn either belted or unbelted. --Long and closed vests, tunics or overblouses are excellent lengthening accessories. Adding a yoke or lightweight fabric to the underneath section of the skirt or dress easily lengthens the hemline.

Suspicion leads many people into many mistakes.

Grow Your Own Poinsettia Plant

COLLEGE STATION -- With a little luck and plenty of tender loving care, that poinsettia plant you received for Christmas can be brought into flower for Christmas, 1976.

"The plant you produce won't be quite the same quality plant as the one you received, but it can be a rewarding experience to produce attractive poinsettias for next Christmas," says Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

After the colorful bracts of the poinsettia are no longer attractive, gradually reduce watering until the soil is dry, explains the horticulturist. Supply just enough water to prevent the stems from shriveling. Store the dormant plant in a cool, well ventilated place at 60 degrees F. or above. About mid-April, cut the stems back to six inches above the ground and repot the plant into a container that is one to two inches larger in diameter than the original pot. Use a good potting mix -- one made up of two parts soil, one part peat moss, and one part perlite by volume.

Water the plant thoroughly and place in a sunny window, keeping it at 70 to 75 degrees F. When the new growth begins, fertilize the poinsettia every two weeks with a water soluble, complete fertilizer. Use the rate recommended for pot plants on the label of the fertilizer container.

"Once the danger of frost is past, move the plant outdoors where it will receive moderate shade in mid-afternoon," points out the Texas A&M University System specialist. "As growth develops, cut or pinch back the top, leaving three or four leaves on each shoot. Repeat this procedure each time the plant sends out new shoots until mid-August. Then bring the plant indoors and set it near a sunny window where the temperature will remain between 65 to 70 degrees F. Continue to water and fertilize but take care not to overwater since the plant requires less moisture indoors. As the plant puts on new growth, it will require additional water."

To have the plant in full bloom by Christmas, keep it in complete darkness from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. starting the first week in October and continuing until Thanksgiving, advises Janne. Flowering will be delayed if the plant receives any light during these hours because the poinsettia will set flower buds about 10 weeks after daylight time drops to 11 hours or less per day. In the daytime the plant must be near a sunny window for maximum growth and development of bracts and flowers. Continue to apply fertilizer until mid-December, then reduce applications to one-half the normal amount.

"The greatest mistake made by most people in caring for poinsettias is not providing them with enough sunlight at the right time, watering incorrectly and not cutting back the stems at the proper time," points out the horticulturist.

Dollar-Wise Decorating

FINDING NEW LIVING SPACE

By Joy Miller

Young families have a way of outgrowing homes. Or, put another way, homes have a way of "shrinking" with the arrival of new family members. What can be done?

Well, the simplest and most obvious answer is . . . move! Simple and obvious as it might be to pack up and head for larger quarters, these days when budgets are as tight as a sheepshank, it's just not all that realistic. Again, what can be done?

You could add a room. But before that's considered, exhaust every means available to utilize existing home space. What about that attic? Kids especially find attics attractive as personal "retreats." How about the basement? No law exists saying that basements have to be rec rooms. They make dandy bedrooms.

It's important to check your home for unused -- or under-utilized -- space because adding an addition to your home is much more than constructing three or four walls.

There are the expenses of the roof, foundation, heating system, electrical wiring, insulation -- all costs which can be avoided by better utilization of existing space. Imagination is often the key. Even if there are no vacant areas in your house, the chances are you have corners in your home that are just plain wasted space. Spots where two walls meet, but two people don't.

Not So Funny "You say your sister makes up jokes, then she's a humorist isn't she?" "No, she works in a beauty parlor."

D-DAYS FOR CLEAN WATER

For municipalities and industries around the country, three upcoming years are "biggies" in the field of wastewater treatment compliance: 1977, 1983 and 1985. Not only do treatment plants have to meet the standards of their respective states, but also national goals of the federal pollution control agency as required by the 1972 amendments to the federal law.

July 1, 1977 is the first future deadline. By this date municipalities must be providing secondary treatment of wastes before discharging them and industries must be providing the "most practical method" available to treat their wastes.

With only a few exceptions, Texas should be able to meet this goal with little trouble. As far back as the 1930's secondary treatment of wastewater has been required in Texas and industries in Texas have been exemplary in initiating cleanup campaigns for their discharges.

Two long-range goals also required by the federal law are July 1, 1983 and 1985.

By 1983 the "best available technology economically achievable" for treating wastewater should be practiced by both municipalities and industries. And then by 1985 the federal law states "it is the goal that the discharge of pollutants into the navigable waters be eliminated."

Guidelines for the 1983 deadline have been laid out, but for the 1985 goal, the definition of "pollutants" has not been outlined.

As is the case in almost any project, there are many "ifs" which must be answered before the mission can be accomplished. In this instance, money is the deciding factor.

"The new calendar is a daily guide that lets the gardener know when to do what for a successful garden," points out Sam Cotner, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The calendar also features a list of recommended vegetable varieties for Texas along with a planting guide which provides such useful information as row and plant spacings, time required for crops to mature, and expected yields."

Although the calendar is designed mainly for Southeast and South Central Texas, Cotner explains that the information it features can be used in other areas by simply adjusting planting dates to the average freezing dates in different regions of the state.

"The Garden Calendar deals primarily with vegetable gardening but also includes timely hints on growing fruit and nuts, shrubs, flowers and lawn grasses," adds the Texas A&M University System horticulturist.

The calendar is available from the Department of Agricultural Communications at Texas A&M University for 25 cents a copy. Anyone interested in reviewing

Search For Rural Hero
COLLEGE STATION - Some deserving individual who risked his or her life to save another will receive the 1976 Rural Heroism Award sponsored by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

The council annually sponsors the award program to help promote safety in rural areas, announces Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who serves as council secretary.

All nominations must be submitted by February 21 to the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, Box 489, Waco, Texas 76703.

the calendar may do so at any county Extension office. "Since the key to a successful garden often hinges on doing the right thing at the right time, the Garden Calendar should be just the thing for most home gardeners," believes Cotner.

The recipient of the award will be presented an inscribed plaque at the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association at the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel in Dallas on March 22.

"Any individual who performed acts of life-saving heroism in a farm or ranch environment during the 1975 calendar year are eligible for the award," points out Keese. "The nomination should include a detailed report of the incident, names of all persons involved, and the location and date. News pictures and stories will be helpful."

For Rent

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now. But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time. Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump and other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.
