

Bears To Play Carbon Here Tonight In Last Conference Game of Season

By Charles Young

The Baird Bears, who were originally scheduled to travel to Carbon to tangle with the Carbon Wolverines, instead will play host at the Bears Den tonight. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Bears and Clyde Bulldogs are co-leaders in District 8-B

P.-T.A. NOTES

The P.-T.A. will meet Tuesday, November 18, at 3:30 in the high school auditorium. The sixth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Webster, will furnish part of the program and Mrs. Earl Ellis will talk on "The Blessings in Every Home."

Another fine example of the cooperation that is needed to make the local P.-T.A. a successful community activity was shown at the Halloween Carnival, in the response to requests for cakes and pies to be donated by the mothers of the elementary school children. A sincere thanks is extended to all who helped in any way. The P.-T.A. received $37.97 from the sale of pie, cake and coffee.

Your P.-T.A. is now conducting a membership drive. If you have not been contacted by the committee and would like to join send your dues of 50 cents to a teacher or the chairman of the committee, Mrs. Lea Macdonald. Your P.-T.A. needs you.

Speech Class to Present Play

The Speech class of Baird High School will present a play entitled "Not a Man in the House" at the school auditorium on Wednesday, November 19 at 10:50 a.m.

The cast of players include Ramona Cummings, Shirley Waggoner, Elizabeth Abernathy, Mary Walker and Geneva Joy.

Admission will be ten cents and the public is cordially invited. — Elizabeth Abernathy, reporter.

SWEET 'N SOUR

By A. DILL

Dear Baird Bears: Thanks, fellas, for that game of football you played Friday night. You upset the apple cart of a lot of football prophets around here when you chalked up a victory against your oldest rivals, the Clyde Bulldogs. You just about stole the election thunder too, you know, and national news sort of paled under the impact. Maybe other folks were still growling at each other over political issues but not us—"Baird Beat" was all the fuse we needed to start the fireworks and celebrating. So thanks, kids, thanks for a great ball game. P.S. Do it again to Carbon, will ya?

Met the loveliest little lady this week—tiny Lee Anne Brown, Gwen and Lee's pride and joy, and they have just cause to be proud too, for she certainly is an attractive mite.

Nice to see Department—Becky Griggs back in the City Pharmacy dishing out a lot of bright smiles and personality along with tooth paste and cherry cakes. Now the Pharmacy's personable manager, Jerry Loper, may be a good fellow, nice to know 'n all of that, but he ain't purty—an' gee, Becky is.

Mrs. S. L. McElroy attended Federated Club meet in the state capital this week to give an exhibit and lecture on "Conservation" to those attending. "Mack" has made quite a name for herself with these talks and her illustration for they are excellent.

Going to show next week? They're all good and better pictures at the Plaza for this mid-November season. You'll probably like the one Sunday and Monday—"High Noon." It has Gary Cooper stalking bad men all over the place and is the sort of Western drama that goes over big in this part of the country. Walt Disney's "Real Life" story of "Water Birds" coming Saturday is one you can't afford to miss—as usual, with Disney pictures, the photography is superb. You will really enjoy this one.

Wilma and George Carlisle were in town the other day, introducing their lovely baby daughter, Doris Anne, to their friends and you can very well believe it when we tell you that she's a beautiful baby—all sugar 'n spice like little girls are supposed to be.

Next Monday is Christmas Seal day—opening the 1952 campaign. When you see that double barred cross you may remember the one on the Banner of Saint George who met and slew a terrible dragon. When you think of tuberculosis as a cruel monster to be subdued you'll want to join the fight. The seals you buy will do just that, so dig deep for the Christmas Seal fund.

And that puts the quietest on this week's chatter but we'll be back next time—now does that sound like a threat or a promise?

with 4-1 records and each is heavily favored over its Friday opponent.

Clyde has changed its schedule and is to play host to the winless Greyhounds at Clyde instead of at Strawn. Baird is not expected to stub its toe on the Wolverines.

Everyone is invited to attend the game and cheer the Bears as they were cheered before, during and after last week's game. Let's show that much enthusiasm at the Carbon game.

The Bears are shooting at the District crown this year and the fans, I am sure, would like to see them get it, so get out the cheer wagon and give it all you have and the team will do the rest.

The team came out of the Clyde contest with high hopes and are in fine condition for the Carbon tilt.

Baird Receives Some Moisture

Mild temperatures of last Saturday faded with the season's first cold wet front arriving in the early Sunday morning hours.

Light showers fell over a wide area during Sunday morning and a heavy downpour of rain fell on Baird at 10:00 a.m. with diminishing showers lasting until noon.

Temperatures declined during Sunday with a low of 37 Monday morning, but no additional moisture has fallen since Sunday when a total precipitation of approximately 1.5 inches was reported in the Baird area.

Residents awoke Tuesday a.m. to find the season's first heavy frost on the ground, but as yet no freezing weather has hit here.

Clyde To Fete Team, Pep Squad

At a meeting of the Clyde Lions Club on Tuesday night it was decided that the entire Clyde community would participate in feting this year's football team and pep squad with a dinner.

The dinner, in appreciation of good sportsmanship and fine playing, will be held at the Lions Club hall on the evening of November 21.

Seven members of the S. Taylor-Tuscola Lions Club visited at the meeting, looking for suggestions for a carnival they plan to have at Tuscola on December 6.

Other guests included Beans McCasland, coach at the Clyde High School, and A. L. Froman, superintendent of Wilson & Co., Abilene plant.

CONGRESSMEN TO ANSWER VOTERS' QUESTIONS IN STATE-WIDE MEETING AT FT. WORTH NOV. 21

Pictured above are ten of the twelve members of the U. S. House of Representatives who will discuss national and international issues with the people of the state in the second annual Texas Congressional Forum in Fort Worth, November 21. The public is invited to attend and to ask the legislators questions. Members of the Forum Panel pictured above are: Jack B. Brooks, Beaumont; Omar Burleson, Anson; Martin Dies, Lufkin; O. C. Fisher, San Angelo; Wingate Lucas, Grapevine; Frank Ikard, Wichita Falls; W. R. Peage, Waco; Ken Regan, Midland; Olin E. Teague, College Station; J. Frank Wilson, Dallas. Other members of the panel will be Brady Gentry, Tyler, and John Dowdy, Athens. Ed Gossett, Dallas, former congressman will be the moderator. R. B. Anderson, Vernon, will deliver the keynote address, prefacing the question-and-answer session. The Forum is sponsored by the West Texas and East Texas Chambers of Commerce and the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. It will open at 2 p. m. in the Texas Hotel ballroom.

New Mixing Plant In Operation

A. G. Black, manager of the Callahan County Farmers Co-Op., Inc., announces the new Baird Mixing Plant is now in operation and custom grinding is being done on range feeds, poultry feeds, dairy feeds, hog feeds and molasses feeds.

This modern plant, under construction for the past 90 days, now reaches skyward in an imposing monument to the efforts of the Callahan County Farmers Co-Op., Inc., which has for some time maintained a mill at Clyde.

The latest in mill equipment has been installed in the Baird plant—for grinding, mixing and processing feeds—and huge tanks are now set up for the storing of grains.

The master power manipulating panel, with touch-button control, is an engineer's delight. For most of the manual labor has been eliminated; motors and conveyors do the work.

Mr. Black states that the big scales are ready to do accurate weighing.

Most of the equipment is now in operation—excepting the Pellet machinery which will be ready within the next thirty days—but formal opening will be delayed until everything is complete, Mr. Black stated this week.

Citizens of Callahan County are invited to observe the mill in operation and farmers and ranchers are urged to consult with the mill management about their feed problems.

J. B. Peylor is assistant manager of the mill.

Mrs. Meadows Now At Margie Ray's Shop

Mrs. Leotis Meadows, who has owned and operated a beauty shop in Baird since 1929, is now employed at Margie Ray's Beauty Shop, 504 Arch Street. All Mrs. Meadows' friends and the general public are invited to come in and have her give them a new fall hair style.

Tuberculosis kills more men in crowded cities than on the farm. But more farm women die of the disease than city women.

Churches To Observe Xmas Seal Sunday

"Christmas Seal Sunday" will be observed in churches throughout the county on Sunday, Nov. 16 when clergymen of all denominations will urge those attending services to support the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale, according to an announcement today by Mrs. C. H. Siadous, county Christmas Seal Sale chairman.

Sponsored by the Callahan County Tuberculosis Association, the Christmas Seal Sale opens on Monday and will continue until December 25. Funds will be used to finance the association's TB prevention and control work during 1953.

Callahan County priests and ministers, in reminding parishioners of the Christmas Seal campaign, will speak briefly of the association's case-finding, health education, and rehabilitation projects, according to Mrs. Siadous.

Mrs. Siadous said today that the ready cooperation of the county's clergymen is deeply appreciated by those working for the success of the Seal Sale and those directly engaged in the prevention and control of tuberculosis.

The fight against tuberculosis is one in which all religious faiths can enlist. The disease attacks people of all groups—from any walk of life, regardless of race, color, or creed.

Abilene Man On TMA Board

FORT WORTH—Texas business and industrial leaders from 23 cities have been elected to the Texas Manufacturers Association's board of directors by members attending the 30th Annual Conference of Texas Industry which concludes its two-day session Friday.

Twenty-five were elected to three-year terms, while J. C. Archibald, Jr., of Laredo will serve one-year, filling out an unexpired term. Mr. Archibald is manager of the Texas Mining and Smelting Division, National Lead Company.

TMA's board is composed of 75 directors and 11 officers. It meets quarterly in different cities throughout Texas to chart the future plans and review past operation of the state-wide business organization.

Elected from this area was Paul W. Powers, Partner, Abilene Brock Company, Abilene.

Jack Hunter of Grand Prairie attended the Baird-Clyde game Friday and visited his sister, Dolores Hunter, and friends in Baird during the weekend. Jack has received his discharge from the armed forces and is associated with his father at Grand Prairie.

Baird Bears Upset Clyde Bulldogs To Tie For 8-B District Lead

By Charles Young

The Baird Bears soundly outplayed their arch rivals, the Clyde Bulldogs, in an exciting game in the Bears' Den Friday night to throw the District 8-B race into a two-way tie for first place.

Baird's long, lanky halfback, Jimmy Higgins, hit pay dirt three times to lead the Bears. Along with Jimmy Higgins, George Jones, J. E. Bullock, Charles Brame, and Charles Jacobs led the Bears.

The Bulldogs entered the game leading the District with a 3-1 record and started the scoring in the first period, but were not able to match the Bears either on offense or defense thereafter. They gained 81 net yards rushing and got only 4 first downs.

The Bears meanwhile were having themselves a field day in racking up 298 net yards rushing on the ground and 60 in the air and making 20 first downs.

Clyde opened the scoring in the first period on a 79 yard scoring drive that ended on a 56 yard pass play from Charles Hines to Jimmy Hicks and a TD. The same pass combination was good for the extra point.

Six players later the Bears tied it up.

Clyde kicked inside and Baird took over on the 50. Higgins lost seven yards after taking a pitchout; Bullock scampered wide around end for 35 yards, added 5 more through the middle; Higgins galloped 22 yards to put the ball on the four; Clyde was then penalized to the one yard line for offside and on the next play Higgins sneaked over. Kyle Meadows' kick was good.

Late in the third quarter, Baird took a punt on the Clyde 48 and started a Bear scoring drive. Charles Jacobs hit Johnny West with a jump pass good for five yards; Bullock went through for five, the Jacobs-West combination was good for six more. Charles Brame went for 4; then three more; Bullock got six and Higgins broke into the clear about the seventeen and went over untouched. Meadows' kick was wide.

Baird's last score came shortly after when the Bears took over the ball on the Bulldog 37. Bullock went for six; a clipping penalty set the Bears back 15 yards; Jacobs passed to George Jones, who got to the Bulldog 30; Bullock, Higgins and Jones alternated in moving the ball to the one-yard line. Higgins dove over for the TD. Meadows' kick was true.

Playing good defensive ball for the Bears were Alex Shockley, Johnny West, J. E. Bullock, Paul Jones, R. Halle, Charles Lawrence and R. Gunn.

Tommy Johnson, Johnny Bailey, J. D. Tedford, Charles Hinds, Billy Bob Roberson and Doug May were the best among the Bulldogs.

Clyde and Baird both play District games this week. Baird plays Carbon at Baird and Strawn tangles with Clyde at Clyde.

Mayor Issues Seal Sale Proclamation

Because the Callahan County Tuberculosis Association is "dedicated to the life saving work of combating tuberculosis in this city," Mayor J. T. Lawrence today urged every resident to support the association's 1952 Christmas Seal Sale.

Proceeds from the sale of Christmas Seals will finance the organization's year-round tuberculosis control program, including chest X-Rays, patch tests to school children and financial aid to T.B. patients. The 1952 Christmas Seal Sale which begins November 17 and ends December 25 is the 6th conducted in this city.

The Mayor officially approved the forthcoming campaign today by signing a 1952 Christmas Seal Sale Proclamation. In signing the proclamation the Mayor told Mrs. Siadous, County Seal Sale Chairman, he wished to thank the association for helping to make Baird and Callahan county a healthier place in which to live.

"The Callahan County Tuberculosis Association works throughout the year for the betterment of this community by fighting the spread of tuberculosis, the No. 1 killer among infectious diseases," the Mayor said. "We can all share in this important work by supporting the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale and making it the best the association has ever had."

Following is the text of the Mayor's 1952 Christmas Seal Sale Proclamation:

WHEREAS, tuberculosis, the No. 1 infectious killer, is a constant threat to the health and happiness of all of us in Baird;

WHEREAS, tuberculosis causes untold suffering throughout the United States, attacking 115,000 new victims every year and causing one death out of every 37;

WHEREAS, the annual cost of tuberculosis to the American people is well over $350,000,000;

WHEREAS, tuberculosis is a chronic, relapsing disease which can be controlled by the intensive cooperative efforts of official and voluntary agencies, the medical profession, and the general public;

WHEREAS, the Callahan County Tuberculosis Association is a voluntary organization of public spirited citizens dedicated to the life-saving work of combating tuberculosis in this city, and

WHEREAS, the sale of Christmas Seals constitutes the sole financial support of the year-round tuberculosis work of the association,

THEREFORE, I, J. T. Lawrence, Mayor of Baird, appeal to every resident of Baird to make a sound investment in health and enlist in the local war against tuberculosis by buying and using Christmas Seals on all their holiday cards and packages.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Melton of Austin, visited Mrs. Melton's sisters, Mrs. W. H. Boatwright, Mrs. Homer Boatwright and Misses Myrtle and Lorena Gunn. Miss Lorena is recuperating in Callahan County Hospital after having had major surgery.

Ruthless Methods Used On Victims By Texas Sharks

AUSTIN—Thousands of small borrowers in Texas are paying 140 per cent, 200 per cent, and even 250 per cent to loan sharks but there is yet more to the evil than this, declares Senator George Nokes of Corsicana, chairman of the anti-usury committee of the State Junior Bar Association.

Even worse than the loss of money to the borrower through unconscionable usury is the effect on his health and happiness, the committee has found. A borrower becomes so burdened with the high interest payments that in most instances, he gets behind and then he is subjected to harassment which grows more and more severe.

At first, he receives dunning letters which threaten his credit rating. Then he is called over the phone at his place of employment several times a day and at his home so frequently that he may quit answering the phone entirely. Then he will receive special delivery letters and telegrams late at night in order to break into his rest.

As a result of this hounding, the victim becomes extremely nervous and his working ability is impaired to such an extent that he may be demoted or even discharged. In one instance, a borrower who had been subjected to this scientifically calculated cruelty collapsed at his work bench. Numerous cases of nervous breakdown have been produced. Nerves wrought up as the result of financial difficulties and such harassment have caused homes to be broken up. Such tragedies represent losses which can not be measured in mere dollars.

The State Bar of Texas has recognized the need for regulating the small loan business and limiting the charges to a fair amount and the State Junior Bar Association is urging legislation similar to that adopted in 30 states.

NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles on our State Hospital System, prepared under the supervision of Dr. George W. Jackson, Medical Director of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, and sponsored by the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene, University of Texas.

Mary L. was a pretty girl. Her dark hair was always freshly brushed, and there was an excited look that often sparkled in her eyes and made her look like a kid at a pony ride.

Her eyes had that look the day she got the job with the social service department of a Texas State Hospital. She hadn't hoped to find work the week after she graduated from college. She sat in the kitchen the night before her job started, watching her mother roll pie crusts, tasting the sugared cherries, and talking. "I'm so excited, Mom," she said. "This is just the kind of job I wanted. I like to feel useful and helpful to people."

That's what Mary thought. It took her a month to realize that the feeling of usefulness was soon mixed with a sense of frustration. The social service department numbered eight—eight workers and a director. Nine workers. More than three thousand patients. That meant that 340 patients looked to Mary for help in working out their problems of adjustment, for aid in getting furloughed, for help in placement work after discharge.

As Mary recognized how much training was necessary to do her job well, she enrolled for several courses at the University School of Social Work. She soon learned that willingness and desire could not replace professional training.

This case load was more than the social workers could handle adequately, but Mary tried—just as all of them did. She made her little office as pretty as she could; she tried to see patients and relatives, tried to keep her records of contacts with patients, families and community agencies up to date. The one secretary used all her time writing the required histories and letters.

Mary worked with Herman R., the fellow with baby curls and football shoulders, the man whose liquor bottle had become a crutch. She was delighted the day the doctor permitted Herman to take the job she found for him, stricken the day they brought him back from the police station too drunk to know her. And Mary blamed herself for Herman's relapse. She had known he would need encouragement on his new job, but she had not had time to keep in touch with him.

Mary wrote careful notes about Willie J., the sixteen-year-old kid whose dark eyes spoke to her of hidden fears and deep, shaking misery. In the interviews with Willie, she could see him looking at her with hope and pleading. She thought of Willie often. He was the boy to whom grown-up terrors and horrible delusions had come with the first fuzz of manly beard. When he should have been thinking of footballs and girl friends and square dances, Willie was fighting his phantom miseries behind the walls of nightmare.

Mary's supervisor helped her understand Willie and his problems, and Mary spent a lot of time with him. It was she who wrote his father when the doctor said Willie was well enough to be furloughed. And it was she who had to face that questioning look, who had to meet those miserable eyes, who had to tell Willie that his father didn't want him to come home and bother the younger kids. She had too many patients to be able to get out in the community and find a family who would take Willie into their home. Finally, it was she who wrote in Willie's record, "Patient more disturbed. Privileges removed."

Before long Mary was seeing fewer and fewer patients. Routine jobs, paper work, letters and records ate up her time. She wasn't able to keep complete records, those vital notes so necessary to understanding and aiding patients.

When the director informed them that the social service department would cut their recording to the minimum, the inevitable happened. Working without good records was like trying to fight an opponent in the dark. Recordings were so sketchy that Mary couldn't even review them to help her grow professionally, to help her in helping others.

The social service department is only one bolt in the big engine of the State Hospital System. Doctors need records; so do the research workers. And compiling the information takes man hours.

A hospital cannot plan for the future without comparative records of the past. Doctors cannot know case loads without statistics. Gathering information for weekly statistical reports takes vital time away from patients.

Black words on a piece of paper. Important words. Words that record job placements, discharge number of patients, results of treatments.

IBM machines can speed the work process immeasurably, can free doctors, nurses and social workers for their job with patients.

Knowing all these facts, the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools has planned better record keeping as the first step on the list of 14 improvement points.

A statistical department was set up in August of 1951 and is now compiling case histories on 20,000 patients, gathering material for a comprehensive annual report. That much has been done.

BUT it takes many people to keep records. And people cost money.

The need is great.

Select and Save Seed Sweet Potatoes

COLLEGE STATION — Next year's sweet potato crop depends directly upon the quality of the seed potatoes used. As this year's crop is being graded at the farm or the commercial storage houses, careful attention should be given to selecting a supply of good seed potatoes.

Too often, says J. F. Rosborough, horticultural marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the cull and scrap potatoes are kept for seed. Seed of this type, he adds, cannot be expected to transmit good yielding qualities, desirable shape nor good flesh color.

Seed potatoes need not be perfect specimens of the variety but should have a salmon flesh color, copper colored skin, be from three-fourths to two inches in diameter, three to four inches long and have a good shape, says the specialist. Plants produced from such potatoes will have ample food to stimulate growth and plant vigor when the plants are set in the field. Weak or spindly plants can be expected from seed potatoes grown from "strings."

The specialist reminds growers that the eating quality of sweet potatoes is mighty important and a big item is color. Potatoes with a golden or salmon colored flesh contain more sugar and are richer in food value and thus are in greater demand by consumers.

Rosborough advises growers to check the seed potatoes for color by nicking them with a pocket knife. Nicking does not cause decay in storage for the small cut will soon heal. Potatoes showing any black-rot areas soil-rot or stem wilt should not be saved for seed. By careful selection, Rosborough says, growers can carry out their own potato improvement program and improve yields and quality by so doing.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Spence of Crane visited relatives and friends here last weekend.

SAME OLD ROAD BLOCK

The embittered, high-powered campaign that marked the closing weeks of the Presidential race largely drove from the headlines many a news story of long-pull significance—even as it diverted public attention from developments of top importance to the entire world. High on this list have been the course of the cold war and the status of the hot war in Korea.

Certain facts seem to be self-evident. First, the idea, which was hopefully held some time ago in various quarters, that the Soviet Union wished to come to some sort of reasonable terms with the United States, no longer has credence. It is clear that the only terms in which the Politburo is interested are those which would work 100 per cent to Russia's advantage. In his last major speech, before the U.N. General Assembly, Vyshinsky followed the standard Soviet line for well over an hour, accusing this country of practically every crime in the calendar, including the germ warfare charge, and the assertion that the Korean war was being deliberately prolonged so as to profit American billionaires who lust for blood money.

Second, current Soviet strategy has as its basic aim the splitting of the Western powers, to be followed ultimately by the isolation of the U. S. This certainly isn't a new technique, but the work is being intensified. Soviet officials are being very polite these days to certain of the Western nations—particularly those in which there are substantial anti-American blocs, and in which the governments are something less than stalwart in their allegiances. The officials are trying hard to sell the idea that Russia has no designs on these nations, and wants to be friends.

Third, Russia is going all out to strengthen and harden her agents and sympathizers in the Western countries, with special emphasis on the U. S. The American Communist party has in large part gone underground. It is reported that membership requirements have been greatly stiffened—no weak sisters are wanted. It is also reported that Russia's system of schooling her foreign agents is really in high gear. The curricula is an extensive one, including everything from propaganda techniques to how to sabotage industrial plants, power and rail systems.

Fourth, the problem of what to do about Communists in our government is more crucial than ever. The testimony of General Walter Bedell Smith, head of our top intelligence agency, in this regard was most revealing. General Smith, an extremely able officer who was Eisenhower's Chief of Staff during World War II and afterwards Ambassador to Russia, said that communists had wormed their way into important places in his agency and elsewhere. Also revealing is the charge of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that American communists have gained key positions in the United Nations Secretariat.

Last, but certainly not least, it is clear that we are as far from a Korean truce as ever, that no one in a responsible position has any definite plan for ending the bloody struggle, and that the Kremlin will do everything possible to keep it going and to force us to spend material and manpower there in an endless stream.

The campaign is over, the candidates have said their say, and the people have supplied the decision. But the great problems confronting the American government and the chosen representatives of the American people remain.

Questions & Answers

Q—I am planning to take a correspondence course under the Korean GI Bill. How will it be charged against my entitlement?

A—One-fourth of the elapsed time in taking the course will be charged against your entitlement. Elapsed time is measured from the date you enroll to the date the school processes your last lesson.

Q—I realize I'm entitled to only one change of course under the Korean GI Bill. But what if I want to change schools without changing course? Is there any limit on the number of changes of this nature?

A—The law imposes no restrictions on changing schools, so long as no course changes are involved. Before making your move, however, you must apply to VA for approval. If everything's in order, VA will issue a supplemental certificate authorizing you to go ahead with GI training in your new school.

Q—What's considered full-time training in accredited undergraduate college courses, under the Korean GI Bill?

A—Full-time training consists of at least 14 semester hours or the equivalent. Three-quarters time is between 10 and 14 semester-hours or the equivalent; half-time, between 7 and 10 semester-hours, and less than half-time, under 7 semester-hours or the equivalent.

Q—I have a fellowship from the Atomic Energy Commission, and I find that I also am eligible for training under the Korean GI Bill. Could I take my training under both programs at the same time?

A—No. You may not receive GI allowances for training taken under the auspices of the Government under any other law—where the GI payments would constitute a duplication of benefits paid to you from the Federal Treasury.

Cigarette Prices Upped By OPA

DALLAS—The Office of Price Stabilization has issued an order, effective November 8, which will have the effect of slightly raising cigarette ceiling prices from one to three cents a carton. Frank C. Tomlinson, OPS regional restaurant and foods chief, announced in Dallas that his agency did not expect the authorized ceiling price adjustment to have any effect on the price of an individual pack of cigarettes.

Mr. Tomlinson declared that a recently completed OPS survey indicates it is necessary for cigarette distributors to include the November, 1951 excise tax increase as part of their cost if they are to realize their "customary percentage margins" as required by the Herlong amendment to the Defense Production Act.

Schools Assist In Civil Defense

Texas schools have made a start on working out a sound civil defense and disaster relief network, but a survey just completed shows that they still have a long way to go.

The survey, which was carried out as a cooperative project by the Texas Education Agency and the State Division of Defense and Disaster Relief, was composed of a series of questions on measures now being taken which would help in the event of a disaster. A total of 843 responses were received by Dr. Joe R. Humphrey of the Texas Education Agency and William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense.

The answers revealed that only about one in three schools have safety areas designated in buildings, and that only about one in five have made studies to find out what natural disasters or enemy actions are most likely to occur in their respective communities. They also showed that only about one in six has made any contact with local civil defense directors.

On the other hand, five of six schools now have evacuation drills. What's more, four of five have programs which include studies on how to conserve human and other resources, an important fact of the civil defense program.

Questions and a breakdown of the answers is as follows:

Have safety areas been designated within your building?

A total of 188 answered that they had been designated, and 71 said they had been partially designated. There were 517 negative answers and 67 who returned no answer on that question.

Has an evaluation been made to determine natural disasters which are most likely to occur within your community?

A total of 112 answered yes, 128 said partially, 583 replied no, and 20 didn't answer that question.

Has an evaluation been made to determine what enemy action would most likely occur within your community?

A total of 93 said yes, 82 replied that a partial evaluation had been made, 536 said none had been made, and 132 didn't answer.

Has any contact been made with your local civil defense director, and has the school coordinated any or all civil defense activities with same?

A total of 193 said yes, 109 said partially, 604 replied no,

Oilman to Get Award at HPC Homecoming

BROWNWOOD—J. Brown Cutbirth, independent oil operator of Houston, has been named the Howard Payne College "Man of the Year" for 1952.

He will receive this award of distinction at Homecoming, November 15, in half-time ceremonies at the Howard Payne-McMurry football game.

Cutbirth is a native Texan. He was born in Callahan County; is a former resident of Baird and is a graduate of Baird High School class of 1919.

He was graduated from Howard Payne College with the BA degree in 1923. He married a West Texas girl, the former Oleta Stephens of Brownwood.

In addition to oil interests, Cutbirth runs two cattle ranches, one in Fort Bend County and the other in Uvalde County. He is a director of both the South Main State Bank in Houston and the Gibraltar Life Insurance Company of America, Dallas. Active in church, civic affairs, service and social clubs in Houston, he has also served as a Howard Payne trustee for many years.

and 27 didn't answer that question.

Are evacuation drills held in your school at regular intervals?

A total of 571 replied in the affirmative, 57 said a partial system has been set up, 133 said none are held, and 82 didn't answer.

Does the curriculum enrichment program in your school include conservation of human and other resources?

A total of 400 said it did, another 295 said partially, 105 answered in the negative, and 43 didn't return an answer on that one.

Nevada hopes to locate the world's first commercial atomic power plant at Richmond Eureka mine where it would supply cheap power for extraction of gold, silver, lead and zinc ores. Proposal now is before the Atomic Energy Commission.

Pulmonary tuberculosis is responsible for 92 per cent of all deaths due to this disease, but TB can attack almost any part of the body, including the brain, spinal cord, skin, and eyes.

Reading and Lighting and 'Rithmetic

Look what some figure-happy statistician just found out. From kindergarten through high school, school kids have to plow through a pile of books 18 feet high. A photograph taken of this pile of books would make your eyes ache.

Close visual work is hard on the eyes. A New York State survey of 83,000 students showed only one in 20 kids had vision defects at kindergarten age. By senior high, eye troubles affected six students in 20.

Good lighting is one readily available means of making seeing easier for these students. Lighting engineers find that over half the schools still use old, globe-type fixtures that give only one-sixth the light that ought to be on the desks.

In those schools that have installed modern lighting, teachers report that students are more eager to study, are happier and require less discipline. The teachers find their jobs easier.

To help schools analyze what light is needed, General Electric engineers work out various lighting systems in model classrooms where effects can be demonstrated and compared. A booklet is offered, "Making Schoolwork Easier on the Eyes," in which current practices are summed up. (Write the Lamp Division, Nela Park, Cleveland, Ohio.)

It is the aim of General Electric to translate its engineering help into public service at the community level.

You can put your confidence in—

SCHOOL NEWS

With Atrill

First half of the second six week school period is all tied up and neat labeled "Highly Successful." Three weeks exams are all finished, there's only twenty-two more school days until Christmas, and Thanksgiving is sandwiched somewhere in between so no wonder school spirits are high these days.

Miss Sibly Meyers reports that she is highly pleased with the progress her youngsters are making—they have come a long way in phonics and they are reading nicely now. Thanksgiving pictures are being made in art classes and the room is gay with the little folks work.

Mrs. Bowles' second grade welcomes in the Fall holidays too. Jack Frost and his Autumn leaves have been given special attention and soon Pilgrims and fat turkeys will march around the wallboards. Second graders can now tell time, know the days of the week, the month of the year, all of the seasons and can tell you within one thirty-second of a minute when Santa Claus will come sliding down the chimney. These youngsters are developing penmanship, and are finding that they must stay on their toes to do "real second grade" work.

Mrs. Ross's third grade is hard at work on their Christmas program to be presented at P.-T.A. next month, and it promises to be a good one. Third graders are coloring horns of plenty for room decorations and wondering why. With all the good things in this world, someone had to "invent" the multiplication tables—but they are learning them and doing it well. Third grade welcomed a new student this week—Linda Lutrick.

Miss Grime's lively little fourth grade are completing their three weeks exams and getting to work making their room festive for coming holidays with brightly colored up-set cornucopias spilling autumn fruits. Fourth graders have an especially interesting project underway now—they select and read from the literary classics in their library and then report on their favorite story to the class. The report is accompanied by an expressive art picture illustrating their story. It is excellent training in several fields—reading, literary appreciation, and creative art. Your teacher needs some applause for this job, don't you think?

Fifth graders and Mrs. Hall are finishing their three weeks tests too—checking to see how much arithmetic they have learned, and how much language they have absorbed—grades are way above the average too. Papier mache animals will soon be under construction in art classes and Christmas projects are looming in the very near future.

Mrs. Webster's sixth grade concluded their three weeks exams last week—testing their knowledge of European geography, and remembering their lessons in advanced arithmetic and spelling. Grades here too were exceptionally good.

Mrs. Ivey's seventh grade did well on their three weeks exams, punctuation rules were stressed, as well as sentence structure and paragraphing. Texas history and geography came in for its share of attention for seventh graders are learning to appreciate their state as well as learn the three R's.

The "The Harvest Festival" scheduled to be held at the Cottonwood school building will be postponed until Thursday night, November 20. This is being done in order not to conflict with the Cross Plains-Rising Star football game to be played on Thursday night, November 13, the original date of the Festival. All other plans, however, will remain unchanged. There will be bingo and a grab box. Supper will be served from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Plates will cost 50c each, with coffee and dessert extra. Coffee will be 5c per cup, cocoa 5c, pie per slice, 10c and cake 5c. (Donations of cakes or pies will be appreciated).

Supper will be followed by a musical program by the Polka Dot Boys. The school children will also present a program to be climaxed by the crowning of the "Harvest Queen." The doors will open promptly at 5:30 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Official Memorandum

BY

ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

Eighty national organizations and numerous associations of Texas citizens are joining in a Volunteer Registration Program for Civil Defense and Disaster Relief from November 11 to November 27.

The purpose of this undertaking, epitomized by its theme "Pledge for Home Defense," is to provide a voluntary expression by public-spirited citizens of their willingness to be included in a reserve of man power which will be called upon by the authorities of their local communities for civil defense and disaster relief training and service as the occasion demands.

Inherent in the character of the American people is the desire for self-reliance and for the skill to help themselves, their families, their neighbors, and others in distress when disaster strikes.

It seems fitting, therefore, that the members of these patriotic organizations should once again renew their pledge of willingness to serve their country, their community, and their fellow men in time of great need.

THEREFORE, I, Allan Shivers, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby commend the enterprise and loyal impulse of those participating in this movement and express the hope that this worthy effort may achieve the success which it very surely deserves.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 28th day of Oct., 1952.

Allan Shivers
Governor of Texas

GOVERNOR'S COMMENDATION—This is the official memorandum which has been issued by Governor Allan Shivers commending the volunteer registration program for civil defense and disaster relief which will be held from November 11 to November 27. Dozens of organizations over the state will cooperate in the drive under the theme, "Pledge for Home Defense."

Local Students Now At H-S U

ABILENE—Three persons from Baird and one from Oplin are among the 1450 students enrolled this fall at Hardin-Simmons University. They are Curtis Lynn Chatham, James Paul Shanks, and William Hilton Manning all from Baird; Kay Johnson is from Oplin.

Reserve Officers' Training Corps courses are being offered at Hardin-Simmons this year for the first time. Freshman and sophomore male students are required to take the basic course in the branch general ROTC program. Advance training also is offered.

Miss Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Euly Pat Johnson. A senior this year at the university, Miss Johnson is a member of the P.E. Club and the Rodeo Club. She rides one of the six white horses that parade with the Cowboy Band.

William Hilton Manning is a senior. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Manning.

James Paul Shanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shanks, is also a senior. He is a member of the H-SU Dramatics Club and Pi Gamma Mu, a social science fraternity.

A freshman on the campus, Curtis Lynn Chatham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Chatham. He is enrolled in ROTC training.

Civil Defense Is Texans' Duty

Texas—a state which has never been let down by its citizens in times of emergency—will call on those citizens again between November 11 and November 27.

This time, the call will be for Texans to register as volunteer civil defense workers. The Armistice Day-Thanksgiving Day campaign is being carried out over the nation. In this state, national and state-wide organizations—including a block of 22 women's organizations representing almost half of Texas' female population—are handling the registration campaign.

William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense, said that the voluntary registration will be solely an indication of availability. He explained that the idea behind the program is to form a reserve of manpower which will be available for service in civil defense when called upon by local civil defense officials.

After the availability program is completed, McGill said, local civil defense organizations will determine when these volunteers will be called for actual enrollment, classification and training.

To bridge the gap between this registration and the time when local defense officials can give them proper training and assignments, leaflets are being prepared suggesting what every family and every individual can do now to promote self-reliance in emergencies. Some of these, McGill noted, are easy to follow and may some day mean the difference between life and death in an atomic attack:

1. Prepare an emergency first-aid kit for your home.
2. Take a regular Red Cross first-aid or home nursing course as soon as you can.
3. Practice fire-proof house-keeping. Learn to fight fires at home.

4. Maintain a three-day supply of food and adequate water for use in an emergency.
5. Equip the most protected place you can find in or near your home for an air-raid shelter.

McGill also noted that besides being of obvious help in case of an enemy attack, civil defense training can also often be of vital use in meeting other emergencies such as fires, explosions, and floods.

As to why a civil defense campaign for volunteers and training of those volunteers is needed, the civil defense coordinator pointed to what may be found in the 263,000 square miles which comprise Texas.

A THANKSGIVING DRINK

HOLIDAY festivities gather momentum in the Fall and get into full swing about Thanksgiving time. There'll be parties and parties for the younger crowd because holiday spirits, running high, are all that is needed to turn any occasion into something special.

Inexpensive decorations, special party cakes, cookies and sandwiches and a good-tasting drink turn the smallest evening gathering into a party. The beverage you serve is important. Very refreshing is a glass of pale dry ginger ale, by itself, or combined with a fruit juice. Ginger ale blends perfectly with your favorite fruit juice and the variations of flavor will please you and your guests.

Here is a drink, excellent for holiday parties.

HOLIDAY GLOW

1 can (6 oz.) concentrated quick-frozen tangerine juice

1/2 cup cranberry juice cocktail

Pale dry ginger ale

Combine tangerine and cranberry juices. Divide among 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Rubber Industry Expects To Sell More Tires in '53

The rubber industry expects to sell more tires next year—whether times are good or bad, and no matter what President-elect Eisenhower and the new Congress do.

Industry leaders base this prediction on the fact that in 1950 and 1951 the auto industry sold a record number of new cars. And just about next year you'll have to start replacing the original tires on them.

Times ought to be good through most of next year anyway, with nothing but minor setbacks to be expected, according to James J. Newman, vice president of B. F. Goodrich Company.

"Even during slumps, the tire replacement volume holds pretty steady," says E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. "People do without other things before they stop driving their cars. So tire replacements depend largely upon the number of cars built in previous years."

People bought up a lot of tires they didn't need in 1950 when the Korean War scared them, so replacements fell to $4 million in 1951, Thomas says. This year the replacement total should be 45 million. And next year 49 million tires will be replaced, an increase of 8.8 per cent, Thomas believes.

Newman extends this even further and predicts that by 1960 replacements will top 60 million tires a year. That means that this year the industry is

LIVESTOCK
BY TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH — Livestock shipments to market at Fort Worth and around the major livestock marketing circle this week opened up on a big scale again following the sharp dip in movement during election week.

Monday's 12-market report showed 41,000 more cattle went to market than a week ago, and receipts were double the same day last year. Calf receipts were 36,000 above a week ago and double the same day last year. Sheep receipts at 12 markets were 14,000 ahead of last week and double the same day last year.

Slaughter classes of cattle ruled about steady at Fort Worth Monday. Some bids were steady to weak on cows but prices in the main were about in line with last week's close. Stockers were unchanged. Slaughter calves ruled fully steady and some of the top grades were stronger.

Butcher hogs were 50 cents lower, and sows were 25 cents lower. Hogs topped at $17.75 at Fort Worth.

Slaughter lambs ruled steady to strong and other classes of sheep and lambs were steady. Fat lambs topped at $23 at Fort Worth.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold for $23 to $30, while common and medium sorts drew $14 to $22, while cutter kinds of steers and yearlings sold for $10 to $14.

Fat cows sold around $13 to $16, with occasional heiferettes at $17 and above. Canners and cutters cashed at $8 to $13, bulls sold at $10 to $17, odd head higher.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $20 to $25 and a few fancy heavyweights sold to $26 and above. Plain and medium slaughter calves sold for $14 to $19, and culls cashed at $10 to $14.

Good and choice stocker steer calves and steer yearlings sold at $18 to $23, and some lighter weight calves cashed at $24. Stocker and feeder calves and yearlings of common to medium grades sold at $12 to $17, or cows moved at $12 to $17.

Good and choice butcher hogs weighing 190 to 280 pounds sold for $17.50. Good hogs of lighter weights and heavier weights sold at $16 to $17.50. Sows cashed at $13 to $16.75.

Medium, good and choice slaughter lambs sold for $18 to $23, some choice 106-pound lambs at $23. Stocker and feeder lambs sold for $10 to $15. Medium and good slaughter yearlings sold at $12 to $15. Cull lambs and yearlings cashed at $8 to $10. Canner ewes sold from $4.50 to $5, and fat ewes sold from $5.50 to $6.50.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Salmonella — A Food Problem

The salmonella has nothing to do with the finny denizens of the briny deep commonly met in cans. It is a rod-like creature so small that it cannot be seen without a microscope. You may not have seen it, but you have probably felt its presence.

Perhaps you met it on your motor trip last summer. You stopped at that quaint country inn for chicken dinner. Twelve hours later, in a hotel in a strange town, the whole family was miserably sick. Diarrhea and painful cramps were the chief symptoms. There may also have been fever, nausea, and vomiting. The attack lasted about three days and almost ruined your trip.

A touch of food poisoning, you called it. Salmonellosis, the doctors call it, after the American pathologist Daniel Salmon. The disease is caused by eating food containing the salmonella organisms, of which there are many varieties. They are chiefly associated with food poisoning, but one variety causes paratyphoid fever. It occurs both in man and animals.

Salmonellosis can usually be traced to improperly prepared food, particularly roast fowl and egg dishes. The intestinal parasites are also spread from the excrement of dogs, cats, most farm animals, and also from people. The disease is communicable throughout the period of illness which can last from about three days to three weeks. Anyone can catch it, and it is prevalent throughout the world. Epidemics are most frequent where sanitation is primitive, but they are by no means unknown in the United States.

Simple measures to protect the family against the infection should be a part of every housewife's routine. All animal food should be thoroughly cooked, with particular attention to fowl and egg dishes. Food stuffs should be refrigerated, especially if there is to be any delay between the time of preparing the food and serving it. Hands should always be washed before preparing food and before eating.

Salmonellosis is often traced to unsanitary methods in restaurants and other food handling establishments. Any place where food is handled for the public should be regularly inspected by the health department. Employees should be educated in hygienic methods. Citizens can do their share by reporting every case of food poisoning to their doctors so that the source can be discovered.

Ranchers Attend Eastland Meet

Some 200 members and guests of the West Texas Ranchers Association attended a semi-annual meeting at 7:00 p.m. Thursday, November 6th, at the Sig Faircloth Auction Barn in Eastland, President Sam Kimmell of Cisco has announced.

The program feature was the showing of colored movies by Murray Cox, Radio Station WFAA farm editor. The pictures were taken by Cox on a recent tour of livestock and farm projects in the east and in Canada, on which he conducted some 200 Texans.

The association, which was formed about a year ago, has members in five counties—Eastland, Callahan, Stephens, Oalo Pinto and Shackelford. A Texas Ranger has been employed full time as a means of stamping out cattle rustling.

Mr. Kimmell said that 13 of 16 banks in the five counties have posted $250.00 as a reward for the arrest and conviction of cattle thieves in the area served by the association. The association is a non-profit organization of stockmen.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Lawyer's Challenge No Reflection On Prospective Juror

When involved as a party to litigation everyone wants, and is entitled to, a jury of 12 disinterested and completely impartial persons—men who will try the case fairly on the law as stated by the judge, and on the evidence admitted at the trial. This kind of jury is what lawyers and judges are trying to secure when they orally examine members of a jury panel.

To be questioned and challenged by a lawyer and excused by the judge is not a reflection upon the prospective juror's integrity or intelligence. It simply means that, in one particular case, the judge may deem it proper to excuse that person.

There are many reasons why a person originally called for a jury panel might not be a fair and impartial juror. He may be closely related to one of the litigants, have a business relationship with one of the lawyers, or have personal knowledge of the case being tried that would make it difficult for him to render a strictly impartial verdict.

Even where there is no condition producing a conscious or readily apparent bias, a lawyer may ask that a panel member be excused under the peremptory challenges allowed his client. He usually does this because he feels there is something in that person's background which might unconsciously sway his judgment, even while honestly attempting to be absolutely fair. Many apparently irrelevant questions may be asked by an attorney in reaching a decision regarding this unconscious factor.

Under the law each juror must be a citizen of Texas and of the county in which he is to serve. He must be qualified to vote in such county, except that he need not have paid his poll tax. He must own land within the State or he must be the head of the household within the county. He must be of sound mind and good moral character and able to read and write the English language.

A juror is not qualified for service if he has served as a juror within a certain specified length of time. No one who has been convicted of a felony is qualified to serve as a juror; nor is an individual who is under indictment or other legal accusation of theft or of any felony.

The statutes of Texas exempt certain persons from the obligation of serving as jurors. Persons over sixty years of age, civil officers of the State or the United States, ministers, physicians, attorneys, publishers of newspapers, school masters, druggists, undertakers, telegraph agents, ferrymen, millers in grist, flouring and saw mills, certain railroad officials, firemen and certain state Forestry employees may claim exemption from jury duty. The exemption must be stated and claimed under oath.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Use Caution In Crossing Streets

AUSTIN—Ever get caught in the middle of the street when the traffic light turned red?

Lots of pedestrians have, and there's always been a question who has the right-of-way in that case. The question was recently presented to the U. S. Court of Appeals in a case involving an accident in the State of Louisiana.

About dusk on a rainy afternoon, a man undertook to cross from the east to the west side of Scenic Highway at a point where there were traffic signal lights. He started across on a green light, but as he reached the center of the street the light turned amber and when he was a few feet from the west side it changed red against him. He was struck by a taxi.

He filed suit against the company insuring the taxicab and secured a judgment in his favor. The defendant insurance company appealed. The Court of Appeals sustained the judgment, holding that he continued to have the right of way over opposing traffic until he had a reasonable opportunity to reach the opposite curb. So if you're caught in the middle, you still have the right to cross the street, even though the traffic light turns red against you while you're crossing.

But the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association warns that having the right to cross doesn't necessarily mean you're safe. The drivers of the cars against you may not be

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
By Mary Lee Taylor

Creamy Mince Pie

9-oz. package mince meat 1/2 cup Pet Milk
1 cup water 2 Tablespoons dark molasses
2 slightly beaten eggs 1/2 cup sugar

Break mince meat into pieces, and put into saucepan with water. Cook and stir over medium heat until smooth. Mix rest of ingredients. Stir in hot mince meat mixture. Pour into a 9-inch pie pan lined with unbaked pastry made with pie crust mix. Bake 10 minutes in a very hot oven (450), then reduce heat to moderately slow (350) and bake about 30 minutes, or until firm. Serve warm or cold.

*Bulk or bottled mince meat can be used if water and cooking are omitted. Just stir 1 1/2 cups of such mince meat into egg mixture.
