'The Community of Opportunity-Where Water Makes the Difference'

Local, Area Representatives At Industrial Seminar

Muleshoe Hosts First Area Seminar Here

More than 50 people from 11 towns and cities attended the Texas Industrial Commission Seminar in Muleshoe Tuesday in the first seminar to be conducted outside Austin by the commission.

Headlining the program at the Muleshoe city hall council chambers was Homer Tucker, Senior Industrial Development Consultant who was introduced by Ted Barnhill, president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the seminar. Tucker made introductory remarks and introduced E.H. Sheffield who gave an orientation on acquiring industry.

Sheffield made introductory remarks and said the series during the day would touch on a five step program to attract industry. The five included community appearance, research and analysis, sites and buildings, industrial financing and prospecting.

He gave both tangible and intangible factors for industry deciding to locate anywhere and said there are more prospects than any city would ever have the time or money to reach.

Sheffield cautioned, "A prospect approaching a town or city goes on first impressions. The approaches to town reflect a community's attitude. Are there junkyards at the edges of town? Are your streets dirty with cracked curbs? Do you have lots not mowed and junk cars on your streets? Are your houses not painted? There are things you can do to change first impressions."

The consultant added, "People make communities, communities do not make people. And the attitude of your city and your city officials can make a big part of the difference as to whether or not industry decides to locate in your city."

Tucker gave a slide presentation showing several small cities in both 'before and after' slides. In the 'before' slides, the cities had abandoned buildings, bad streets and curbs and bad approaches to town. Renovated downtown areas were shown in the after slides which showed remodeled buildings, planters and gazebos in the downtown areas, repaired streets and sidewalks and painted storefronts. In each of the renovated cities, industries had located after renovation, including the $20 million plus textile mill in Littlefield.

Dispelling one preconceived idea, Sheffield emphasized "You are not buying prospects. You need to have a package prepared concerning financing and taxes, but we are not talking about give-away programs."

"Every community has the same capability to acquiring funding for industry. This community has as good approach for financing as Dallas. If your banks do not support economic development, you are out of business. And if you do not have an industrial foundation, it is impossible, forget it."

He gave several approaches to acquiring finances, and discussed what each financial source had to offer.

Immediately following lunch, Muleshoe Mayor Kenneth Henry gave some facts and figures about Muleshoe before presenting Homer Tucker with an honorary citizenship of Muleshoe for his efforts in helping to obtain industry for Muleshoe.

He was followed by Kenneth Owen, of the Area Development Department of Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo. Owen explained the process for evaluating, securing and presenting buildings and building sites to prospective investors in the community through industry.

He explained step by step how to prepare for potential industrial prospects and gave pre-requisites for attracting prospects.

He was followed by Phil Davis, Chief of Community Relations for the Tourist Development Agency of Austin, who explained how tourism and industry would work together to bring in additional money to a community or area.

"A tourist dollar exchanges times no less than seven times when it is in town," he commented. "And this out of town money coming in goes farther than the dollar earned and spent in town."

Wayne Franke, Assistant Government Affairs Manager for General Telephone Company of San Antonio spoke on research and analysis. He explained how to take all the facts accumulated about a community or prospective industrial site and fit it to a local situation.

He also told the group how to be specific on financing, the labor supply, population of the town and area, how labor trained, whether male or female available and all available natural resources.

Kenneth Owen further explained how to go prospecting for industry and other ways for economic development concluded.

Midnight Harvest Proven Bountiful

Bill Wooley of Wooley-Hurst Imp. recently returned from a huge, national product showing of International Harvester agricultural equipment, introduced for the coming year.

The special two-day event, attended by 4,400 from across the nation, took place in Chicago's McCormick Place.

Visiting the Bernis Camps the past weekend were Susan Kizer, now teaching in the Amarillo Schools; Joyce and Ricky Morris, Sissy and new baby brother, Ricky Lynn. Others were Cheryl Camp and children, Keila, Lisa and Robert from Lubbock; and Carol Tibbets from Lubbock.

Anyone interested in getting up or organizing a class reunion for 1966 class, meet at the XII, Monday afternoon, September 20, at 5:00 p.m.

For further information contact Mrs. Paul Wilbanks, Mrs. Ken Box or Mrs. Tommy Black.

County Heart Association Has New Director

The Bailey County United of the American Heart Association recently met at the XII Steakhouse at 12:00 noon. The following members were present:

Tommy Black, Elizabeth Watson, Bill Moore, Clara Lou Jones, Don Seales, Laura Seales, and Paul Wilbanks.

Jo Beth Holm, Regional Director from Lubbock, was also present. Laura Seales, President, presided at the meeting. Laura Seales introduced the new Regional Director, Joe Beth Holm, to the unit.

The following reports were made by chairpersons.

Elizabeth Watson has films and literature ordered to use at the schools. Bill Moore has programs set up for Senior Citizens, 2:00 p.m. on September 27; and for Threeway Lions Club, Muleshoe Lions Club, LCC Associates. Tommy Black is working on a CPR Training program for the Fire Department.

The new Resuscitator is being kept at Ellis Funeral Home and is ready for use.

Joe Beth Holm reported a campaign workshop to be held in Lubbock on October 20. It is a three dollar a plate dinner meeting. She advised that they would be informed of the place later on and that she would mail the needed literature to some of the chairpersons.

The president urged each chairperson to give their monthly report to Elizabeth Watson so that she can complete her report and send it to the state office. Clara Lou Jones, Publicity, is the only chairperson not required to give her report to Elizabeth.

Robert Ruiz Sr. Says Harvest 50 % Complete

Robert Ruiz Sr. and sons, who recently opened a new facility housing, Robert Ruiz Inc., in Muleshoe report vegetable harvest in full swing with approximately 50 percent of the harvest gathered at this time.

According to Ruiz, 50 percent of the area peppers, cucumbers and cabbage are harvested.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruiz, Sr., who have been coming to this area since 1953 purchasing vegetables, said their new facility now has all equipment installed and the plant is in full operation.

Mrs. Ruiz is commuting from Edinburg to Muleshoe during harvest. Ruiz said they have encountered a shortage of housing and labor. He added that he hoped there would be more housing available before they start their operation here next summer.

Some people call it 'weed', and some people call it 'grass', but local law enforcement officers called it simply a 'midnight harvest'.

Shortly before midnight Sunday, six local officers including Muleshoe City Police Chief Buddy Black, Assistant Chief J.R. Carpenter, Patrolmen Jimmy Mills and Wayne Holmes and Texas Department of Public Safety Troopers Louis Cardinal and Jim Williams drove up in

School Board To Purchase 2 New Buses

Other than routine reports on tax collections and financial conditions given, the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees approved purchasing two new buses for the 1977-78 school year.

Superintendent Neal Dillman said the current price for a new 60-passenger bus was $12,220, but added that new federal safety equipment may raise the price of buses as much as $1,000 each in the next year or two.

He also reported that income from the first two football games was in excess of $2,200 and reported on the new concession stand.

A brief discussion was conducted on continuing requirements of Title IX and steps that have been taken to date to comply with the federal regulations for schools.

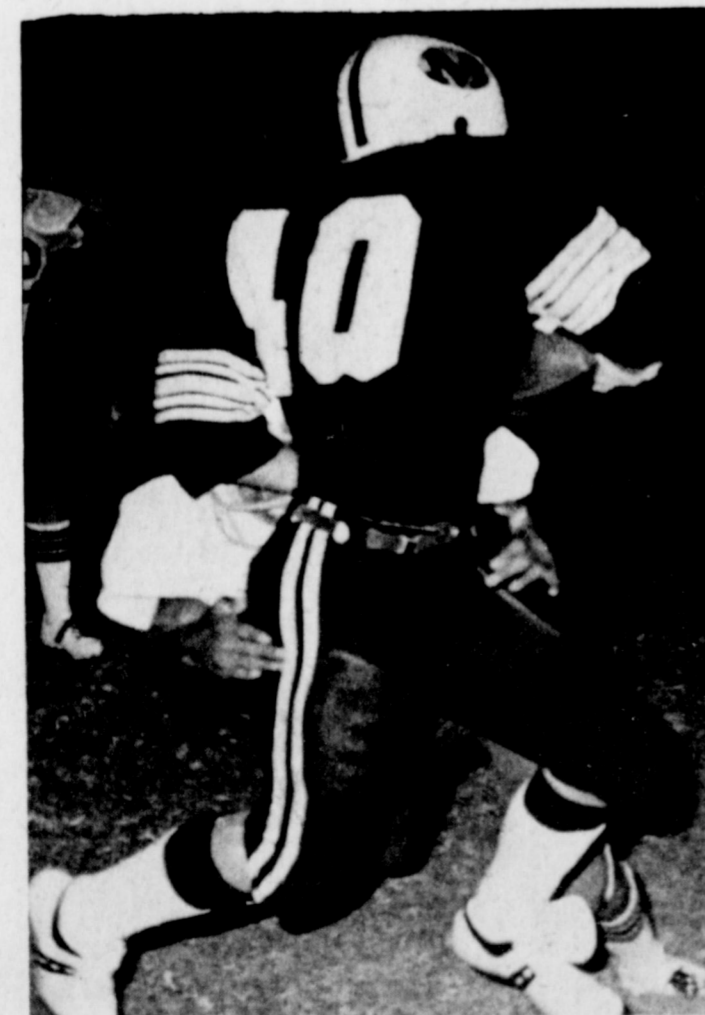

Also discussed were alternatives proposed for a tax equalization program, with future discussions to be scheduled before a final decision is reached.

Dorothy Green To Be Honored For 'Service'

A combination appreciation/birthday party is scheduled for Dorothy Green, longtime member of the Muleshoe Hospital Auxiliary, on Sunday, September 19 in the nursing home dining room.

All friends and the general public are invited to attend and contribute funds for a piece of equipment to be given the hospital in her honor for the many years of service she has given to the citizens of the area, as well as to the hospital and nursing home.

ON HIS WAY HOME . . . Jeep Shanks, who made two of the Muleshoe touchdowns in the Muleshoe-Lubbock Cooper game last Friday night is just about to be tackled by a Cooper Pirate during the game. This week, the Muleshoe take on potent Tula Hornets.

Mules Planning Stinger Removal

Friday night, when a swarm of hornets hit Muleshoe, this community will be ready for them. They will be arriving in town with their stingers poised and ready -- but they just may be able to get their stingers removed before they go home again.

When the Muleshoe Mules and the Tula Hornets take to the field in Muleshoe Friday, both will have a young season record of 1-1, as both lost their opening games.

Although the Tula Hornets failed before the Olton Mustang onslaught in their first game by 7-7, they came back in the second game and slammed visiting Lubbock Christian Eagles 61-0 last Friday night.

Portales Rams' surprise attack on the Mules resulted in a 15-7 loss for the Mules for the season opener. However, when the Lubbock Cooper Pirates came to town last Friday, they were devastated by an attack of wild Mules. The Pirates left town smarting from a 41-7 defeat resulting in the Mules 1-1 season tally.

Muleshoe Head Football Coach Cumpston said, "Tulia will be the best team we have had to play up to this point. They have eight starters back this year and they are aggressive."

"The team is well-coached, they do a good job, they're tough, although they have average speed," he added.

He continued, "We're impressed with their defensive line and their middle linebacker, they have a good offensive line and their running backs are impressive. The thing we have to do to win is maintain field position and control the line of scrimmage."

Special Group To Entertain After Football

Scheduled to provide special entertainment for junior and senior high school students following the Muleshoe-Tulia football game Friday night are the Oakwood Brothers.

The group is from Texas Tech and features Tech students Glen Yarborough, Gary Garth, Rick Owen, Kathy Pate, Brent Tidwell and Tam Hutlett. They will be singing and performing comedy skits at the First Baptist Church immediately following the game.

Refreshments of hot dogs, potato chips and Cokes will be served.

"Why not bring a friend or your date and enjoy good entertainment and free refreshments," said Youth Director Kenny Carter. "Where else in town can you get such a bargain?"

"This week, we are playing one of the biggest games in the area and we're really looking forward to it."

Coach Cumpston said Randy Whalin, quarterback for the Mules had his knee hyper-extended last Friday night, but is in good shape, and should be ready to play Friday night against Tula.

He also expressed his appreciation to the fans who are backing the team efforts this year.

Monday afternoon, Head Football Coach E.L. Miller of the Tula Hornets, and cautious about approaching the backing Mules commented, "We will have to play 48 minutes of good hard football. I think we're probably in the best shape we've been in since they handed out equipment on the first day. We've had four players out with injuries, and now, for the Friday game, all will be back except one."

Although the first game of the season against Olton was called, "a super defensive struggle", Coach Miller modestly referred to the small size and number of players for the Hornets. "We're not really too tough on defense," he said, "We have to depend more on being fast and playing hard."

He complimented the Muleshoe Mules and said, "They seem to be a fine team. They execute well, have good passing and appear to be a well-coached football team. We understand they have a coach who has worked wonders with the players."

Also, Coach Miller referred to the tremendous size of the Mules. He said his players are small. But, according to the rosters, Muleshoe only has two players 200 pounds or above, while four are listed on the Tula roster. Also, according to the roster, Tula Hornets number 21, while the Mules have some 40 players to choose from, but Muleshoe's first loss of the season was to a team with 27 players, so numbers apparently don't count that much.

Tulia top players to watch would include Joe Garza, split end; Larry Anderson, halfback; Larry Billingsley, fullback; Larry McCaslin, halfback; Don Burgess, quarterback and Steve Brown, quarterback. All were instrumental in adding points in the Tula-Lubbock game, and Anderson made the only points in the Tula-Olton game.

HERO Supper Friday Night Tops Season

The "Supper of the Season" is scheduled before the Muleshoe-Tulia game in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria from 5-8 p.m.

Under guidance of Mrs. Ben Gramling, the special supper will feature one-fourth a fried chicken, with choice of light or dark meat, potato salad, green beans, sliced tomatoes and bell pepper, hot rolls and butter, cherry cobbler, tea and coffee.

Carry out orders will be available, and the price is only $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Males Overtake, Pass In Contest

Three cheers for the local males!! They not only took the top two spots in the weekly merchant's football contest this week, but they showed more faith in the Muleshoe Mules than most of their female counterparts. And, even though Colorado is a big, rough team, the three top winners not only predicted the outcome of the Muleshoe-Cooper game, they also were correct in predicting that Texas Tech would dominate Colorado.

In first place this week was Harold Cowan, who missed two games and was a close 16 points off on the total tiebreaker score. Another male was second, Gerald Shanks also missed two games, but he was off 27 points on the tiebreaker games. In third place, uh-oh, now the going gets rough. Last week's first place winner is in the winning column again. Hazel Gilbreath, who won first place in the first football contest for 1976 is back in the money with a third place win this week. That makes Mrs. Gilbreath the current leader in the points accumulated for the grand prize of two tickets to the Cotton Bowl Game on January 1 in Dallas and a $50 expense check.

But, remember, it's a long time until the end of the contest, and the lead may change several times before the final tally. So, go ahead and get your entries in each week. It's fun, and you have as much chance as anyone to win extra cash weekly, as well as be in the running for the final prize.

Melinda Hinkson, who was second last week, was barely out of the money this week with three misses. Other persons who missed three games included Jerry Berry, Donald D. Leak.

HONORARY CITIZENSHIP . . . Muleshoe Mayor Kenneth Henry, left, presented Homer Tucker of the Texas Industrial Commission an honorary citizenship for his efforts in helping secure industry for this area. The citizenship was awarded at a seminar conducted in Muleshoe Tuesday.

have a special musical presentation by a visiting youth group preceding the evening services.

Conclusion of the crusade will be on Sunday, September 26, with "Victory Day".

God's Half Hour will also be featured from 12:10 to 12:40 every weekday Monday through Friday. The evangelist has "The Dread of Life" to share with visitors and members as they eat sandwiches provided by the church. Everyone is invited to attend the special services at noon. There will be no fee charged for the sandwich served at noon.

Sunday morning services begin at 9:45 a.m. and weekday evening services will be 8 p.m.

One reason that reading is such a hard task is because so many writers have so little to say.

Apparently there were several surprise upsets in weekend football action as a number of persons missed four and five games, tapering off to one person missing nine games. But, that's all right, keep plugging, and you have just as much chance as anyone to be in the winner's circle at the end of the season.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
 John C. White, Commissioner

Farm Prices Faltering... Rice Aplenty... Meat Production Shows Gain.

Texas agricultural producers already know it, and the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service confirms the farm price slump in its recent report: the average prices received in Texas for all crops decreased 7 per cent during the month of August. Livestock prices were down 1 per cent.

Parity now stands at 71; a year ago it was 78; even a month ago parity was at 73.

Lower prices for potatoes, fresh market vegetables, feed grains and hay contributed most to the decrease in crops. Lower prices were also noted for meat animals and broilers. Dairy products and eggs did show some increases.

But only one commodity—oats—is above parity. In major grain prices, wheat slipped to an average $3.05 per bushel compared to $3.51 a month ago and $3.77 a year ago. Wheat parity is $4.90 per bushel.

Grain sorghum averaged $4.02 per hundredweight compared to $4.54 a month ago, and $4.67 a year ago. Parity is $5.50.

Corn averaged $2.74 per bushel, a year ago the farm price was $3.08; parity is $3.29.

Cotton is one exception to the farm price slide, but it, too, has had its problems. As of the middle of August, cotton in Texas averaged 61 cents per pound; this is down 9 cents from a month ago, but it is 23 cents per pound above a year ago.

A LOOK AT LIVESTOCK

tells the same dismal story. Beef cattle averaged $31.80 per hundredweight; parity is $57.30. Calf prices averaged $34.79; parity is $67.60. Ewe-hogs are slipping. Hog prices averaged $40.90; this compares with $44.30 a month ago and $54.70 a year ago. Parity is $52.70.

Egg prices were up about 6 cents a dozen from a month ago, but are still about 9 cents a dozen under parity.

RED MEAT PRODUCTION IN TEXAS during July compared to a year ago showed an 18 per cent increase. For the first seven months of this year, red meat production totaled 2,003,000 pounds compared with 1,637,000 pounds a year ago.

Nationwide, commercial production of red meat totaled more than 3 billion pounds, which is 7 per cent more than a year ago.

Onions In Exciting Side Dish

Most often onions are used as a flavor ingredient only. But not so with mild Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions. Creole Onions show off their ability to be turned into an exciting side dish.

Thick slices of onion are baked until tender in a tomato-wine sauce. Bits of crisp bacon and green pepper are sprinkled over the top as a flavor accent. Delicious with fried chicken, meat loaf or roast beef.

In addition to their delicate flavor, Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions have an enormous size, giving them the title Gentle Giant. They also have excellent keeping qualities. For storage a cool dry place with good circulation is recommended. Cut onions should be wrapped and refrigerated; if chopped, they can be frozen.

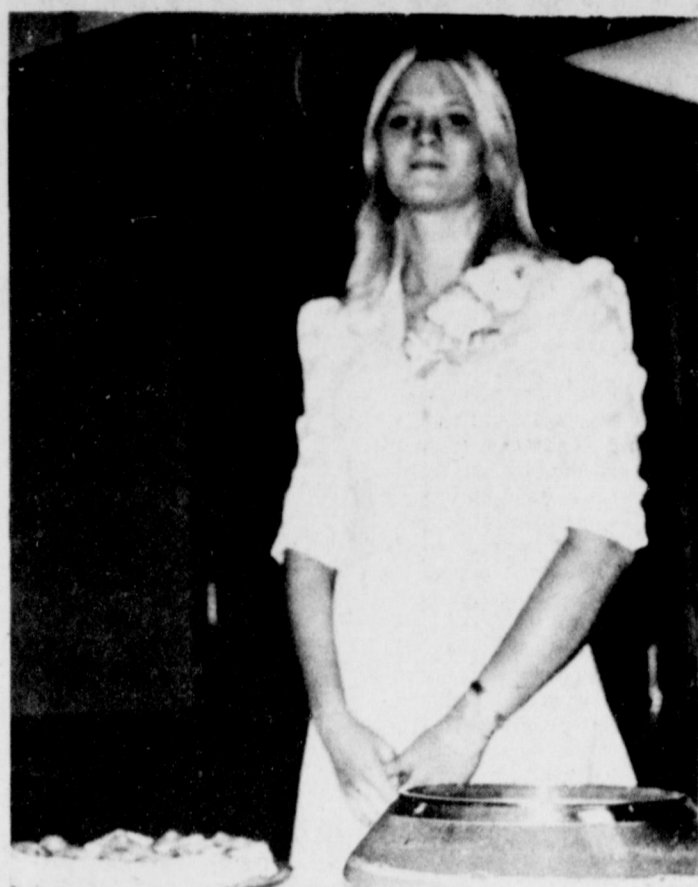

Look for Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions from September through March.

Creole Onions

- 2 large Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup tomato puree
- Salt and pepper
- 1/4 cup dry white wine
- 2 slices bacon
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme

Peel and slice onions into 1/2-inch slices. Arrange in buttered shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Fry bacon until crisp. Drain and crumble. Add green pepper and garlic to wine, water and thyme. Saute a few minutes. Combine tomato puree, bacon and green pepper. Pour over onions. Sprinkle with crumbled bacon and green pepper. Bake, covered, at 375 degrees 30 to 35 minutes, or until tender. Baste occasionally with pan liquid. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Safety For The Older Adult , At The Door

COLLEGE STATION -- Many older people live alone, and their safety is of primary concern -- beginning at the front door. Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education-aging-specialist, reminds.

"Of course, most people who call on the telephone or come to the front door are honest, legitimate callers. But the risk taken if they are not is too great to ever take the chance of opening the door without checking first. The best defense is a constant, suspicious attitude of prevention -- and a peephole in the front door."

Mrs. Blair is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"When someone knocks on the door, never automatically open the door, even if a visitor is expected. Don't even rely on a chainlock and opening the door a few inches.

"People intent on doing harm will rely on their victim's natural good manners and his efforts not to be rude -- they'll expect the door to be opened easily. Family members and friendly visitors will understand and not be upset with the senior citizen for not opening the door until he knows who is there," she said.

Some suggestions to help insure safety at the front door follow.

--Install a one-way peephole. They are not expensive and are easily installed.

--If there is a stranger at your door, have him slip his credentials under the door or make a verifying telephone call before admitting him.

--When a stranger wants to make a phone call, take the information and make the call for him, but don't admit him to your house.

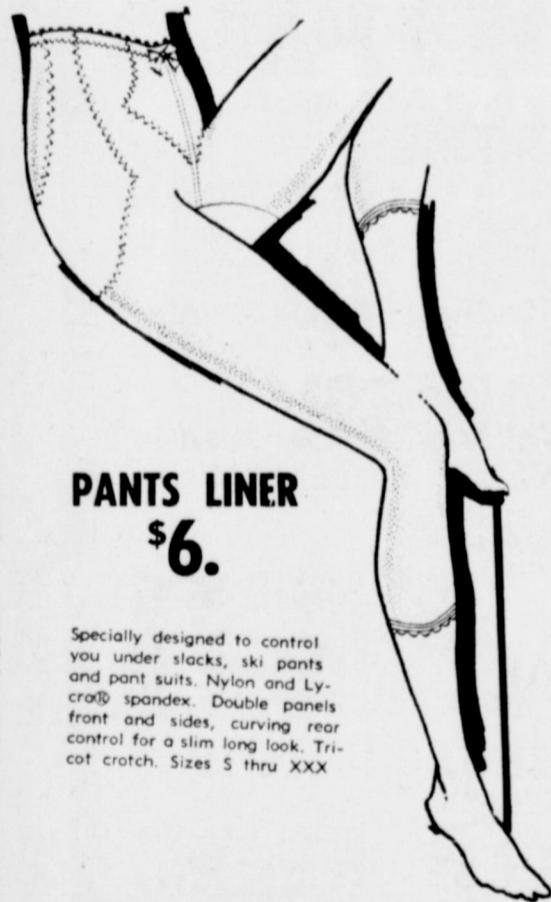

--Close blinds, shades or draperies at night so that no one can watch you from the outside. Call the police immediately if you suspect a prowler.

--Don't play telephone games. If your caller won't identify himself, hang up immediately. Never give any personal information about yourself -- even your name -- until you know who is calling you and recognize it to be a safe legitimate call. If asked, "Who is this?" reply "Whom are you calling." If the caller gets ugly or obscene hang up immediately. If you are bothered frequently with strange telephone calls, call the police and ask for advice or assistance.

Parents: Don't Let Your Children Burn

Editor's note: Fire Prevention Week is October 3-9. This is the second of a five-part series by Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, designed to help parents teach their children and themselves how to survive a house fire.

COLLEGE STATION -- A child who has had the opportunity to practice what to do in a fire has a much better chance of surviving a real fire. Below are two of six drills offered in this series, designed to teach children how to survive a fire. After the first try, these "fire drills" can be tested during the day or after children are in bed at night by using the signal "Fire!" In the fifth part of this series, a final "rookie" examination will be presented to determine whether your children qualify as "firemen."

A drill called "Don the Gas Masks" teaches children about poisonous gases which are the true killers in fires.

Pretend the house is filling with smoke and that you must get out as quickly as possible. In all the drills, stress immediate escape. Yell "Smoke!" and have the children, wherever they are -- in bedrooms, living room, kitchen -- grab a pillow or several thicknesses of fluffy material such as a towel and place it over their mouths and noses. The cloth won't filter out poisonous gasses in smoke but will relieve some of the irritating effects of inhaling smoke. Then have the children move as fast as they can, keeping close to the floor where the air is best. They should avoid deep breaths.

Emphasize the fact that smoke, not flames, is the Number One killer in fire. It contains large quantities of carbon monoxide and a dozen or so other poisonous gases from burning materials. By far the majority of fire victims are asphyxiated by smoke gases long before flames ever touch them. Sometimes poisonous smoke can knock you making upper floors where bedrooms are located the greatest fire traps. Be sure children know that wherever there is smoke, there is potential death -- so get to fresh air fast.

The next drill is called "Hot Door, Cold Door". As a part of "basic training", firemen learn the dangers of opening a door in a fire. It's something your child unconscious after two or three breaths and can kill you in a few minutes. Smoke always rises, must know, too. Teach him never to fling open a bedroom door if he suspects fire. He should apply this test: Put his hand on the door panel and knob. If either is warm, he should not open the door, for heat and gases are on the other side ready to burst in. One lungful of superheated air can fell a person instantly. He must leave the door closed and make his escape another way.

If the door doesn't feel warm, he should brace himself against it, open it a crack and be ready to slam it should smoke or heat rush in. If all is clear, he can proceed through the door with caution.

Make sure young firemen practice this routine until they have it down pat. As a fire drill is being announced, slip a sign under the closed door reading "hot" or "cold" while youngsters react appropriately. Also, make it a nightly ritual to close bedroom doors at night unless this would prevent a bedroom fire from setting off a fire detector located in a hallway. Tests have shown that behind a closed door your survival time is from 5 to 11 minutes. With the door open the survival time is only two minutes. Ideally each bedroom should contain an audible fire detector.

Part three of this series provides training in two more drills designed to teach children how to survive a fire.

Mrs. Minnie Redwine Tells Of Her Hobbies

Mrs. Redwine has a most unusual Hen and Chicken plant at her house. It has grown and formed in many different shapes and grew out into different directions. She received the pot, the plant is in now, from her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Redwine, from Joplin, Missouri about 15 years ago. It was a birthday gift and just one of her small treasures she has collected.

Mrs. Minnie Redwine of Muleshoe is the mother of twelve children. She is 82 years old and is a big collector of rocks and shells, from all over. Some of her items have traveled many miles, and from every means of transportation you can imagine. Most of her children or grandchildren have brought back most of them, from different places they have journeyed.

This summer, Mrs. Redwine visited Kentucky and brought rocks back from there, also. Some of the states she has received rocks from are Arkansas, Colorado, California, Michigan, Kentucky, Georgia, New Boston, Texas and Nevada. She has also been to Galveston and has brought back a whole collection of sea shells, of all forms and shapes. She had the pleasure of picking them up herself, with her children and grandchildren helping her.

One of her sons flew in with some rocks from California embedded in his suitcase. Another one brought one in from Nevada, by means of motorcycle. So, her collection has been gathered from many places, and by many means of transportation.

Mrs. Redwine has been a resident of Muleshoe for about 35 years. She and her husband moved to Progress from Flag first, and later, moved into town to retire. They farmed up until they retired about eight or ten years ago.

Mrs. Redwine closed her story with this: "I enjoy this hobby, because I can see the handiwork of God."

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin—We have started a new program that will make it much easier for my auditors to keep track of the 16,000 new and used car dealers in Texas to make certain the state is getting all of the motor vehicle sales tax that is due.

I will explain how the new program works by first telling you how incredibly difficult it has been in the past to conduct an audit of a dealer. Whenever you buy a car, you and the seller make a joint affidavit which is filed at the county courthouse. These affidavits are lumped together in the courthouse records by month.

If one of my auditors wanted to check a particular dealer, he would have to go to the courthouse and sift through all the affidavits on file to find the ones relating to that dealership.

You can better imagine the scope of the problem when you realize that about 300,000 affidavits are filed each month. Looking for affidavits from Joe's Used Cars was something like looking for a needle in a haystack.

So we signed an interagency contract with the Texas Department of Corrections to help solve our problem.

Courage alone justifies survival of a people, a nation, or an individual.

Now every county sends their affidavits to the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville on a monthly basis. There they are separated and filed by dealership, by county and by month in a new training program at the Department of Corrections.

When one of my auditors wants to check a specific dealer now all he has to do is call Huntsville and have all that dealer's affidavits sent to him.

The cost of this arrangement is minimal—our contract calls for us to pay the Department of Corrections $9.56 per day per person employed in the project. The cost will be far offset by the results of our audits.

Dealers are only required to keep their records for four years. This program will help us reach our goal of auditing 25 percent of all dealers each year, so that we check every one of them during each four-year period.

IF YOU HAVE ANY STATE TAX PROBLEMS OR QUESTIONS, CONTACT YOUR LOCAL COMPTROLLER'S FIELD OFFICE OR CALL TOLL FREE 1-800-252-5555.

Be careful about making promises; some of them can be collected in court.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN —There will be two constitutional amendments concerning water on the Texas general election ballot in November. I fear there are many citizens who are not aware why we need many millions of dollars for water bonds.

The Texas Water Development Fund is asking for authorization for $400 million for bonds. Already the fund has used $235 million in bonds to fund 88 separate projects in this state.

These expenditures to date have helped many cities in our state fund water projects. Without help these towns would have gone without or would have had to raise taxes or hike water bills, including those of persons on meager and fixed incomes.

Approximately 30 percent of all the people in the state have been directly helped by these loans. In some instances it has meant several communities working together to build common reservoirs for the good of all.

If it is voted to authorize expansion of the fund, we will see the same type projects as in the past receive help. We will see additional reservoirs built, water treatment plants constructed and transmission lines laid. We will also see the fund continue to purchase storage water for future use.

We will be upgrading the living conditions of the people of this state and meanwhile securing water supplies for the future development and growth of Texas.

It should be noted that while these water bonds have helped areas that were without water, those areas with abundant supplies also benefited. All the regions of the state are interdependent on each other. Products produced in North Texas are processed in East Texas or shipped from the Gulf Coast. Products manufactured in South Texas are sold to West Texas. No region of the state can realize its highest economic potential if other regions cannot provide the necessary support.

What is the cost of this to our citizen? During the 10 years of its existence, the fund has cost each Texan about 25 cents a year. A total of $29.3 million has been transferred from the General Revenue Fund. Over the course of the life of the bonds this money will all be returned with interest to the treasury.

A new vitality has followed this water lifeline. New industry, population increases and better crops are the result. It is conservatively estimated that our $235 million repayable investment has generated more than $1 billion in assets to the affected communities alone.

The second amendment would increase the Texas Water Quality Enhancement Fund from 100 to 200 million dollars. This money is used to provide grants, loans or a combination for water quality enhancement.

I believe we should help our communities, towns and cities help themselves. When we invest in them we are investing in ourselves and the future of Texas.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — That proposed $298.3 million Southwestern Bell Telephone Company rate increase isn't likely to go into effect until next year, if at all.

The company, under Texas Public Utility Commission rules, had to publish notice in newspapers for four weeks that it plans the raise October 7. That's 35 days from the day it filed recommended new rates with PUC.

The commission is expected to vote September 20 to require Bell to defend its request in public hearings.

Hearings will be held during the next three months, and the regulatory agency has 125 days after October 7 to act on the rate case.

PUC attorney John Bell already has filed a protest that the rates are "excessive," and has requested that action be suspended during the 125 day period. His motions will be considered by the three commission members at the Monday (Sept. 20) hearing.

Also to be considered at the pre-hearing conference next week is a request by Texas Municipal League to permit city governments to intervene in statewide rate cases over which PUC has original jurisdiction.

Richard J. Hoyer, mayor of Monahan and chairman of TML's Public Utility Council, argues that all essential evidence pertinent to the rate case cannot be developed without interventions by city governments and other interested parties.

Aid Up
Texas state and local governments are becoming increasingly reliant on federal aid, Comptroller Bob Bullock reported in a recent study.

Federal aid is now running about a fourth of all total revenue received by state government.

The study showed more than $2.2 billion was received by Texas units of government in 1975.

The figure has been increasing about 15 per cent a year, but the increase slowed to 3.5 per cent and 3.4 per cent in 1974 and 1975.

Texas, which ranked fifth in total federal aid among the states, ranks 47th in per capita receipts.

For every dollar Texas contributes in individual federal income taxes to finance federal aid programs, it gets back 82 cents in federal aid, according to Bullock's findings.

Connally On Job
Former Texas Gov. John Connally stepped in as head of the President Ford campaign in Texas after turning down national campaign assignments.

Connally said he expects an aggressive effort in the state, and thinks Ford can win by pinning down Democrat nominee Jimmy Carter on the issues.

A Texans for Ford organization also is forming to wage a particular appeal to independent and conservative Democratic voters.

State Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas is expected to be Connally's right-hand man in the state campaign organization.

AG Opinions
Governor's Office Education Resources data on school district taxable property values is open to public disclosure, though unedited and not checked for accuracy, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill decided:
Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation does not have power to adopt a policy giving its state-paid physicians authority to carry on private medical practice at MHMR facilities.

Authority given Harris County commissioners to regulate private water company rates was replaced by the Texas Public Utilities Commission.

Travel records of certain state auditors relating to an investigation are exempted from public disclosure.

Carter Leading

A new poll by an Austin-based market research firm found Jimmy Carter-Walter Mondale leading Gerald Ford-Robert Dole substantially in Texas.

The Henson-Hopkins survey of 400 voters in 126 counties showed 51 per cent favored or leaned toward Carter-Mondale to 38 per cent for Ford-Dole. Seven per cent recorded undecided, three per cent declined to answer, and one per cent said they would not vote for either.

Voters under 35 showed stronger support than older ones polled.

In spite of the indicated preference for Carter-Mondale, 48 per cent of Texas voters rate themselves conservative, 38 per cent say they are moderates, and only 11 per cent give themselves the liberal label.

Among voters under 35, just 35 per cent say they are Democrats, and 44 per cent identify themselves as independents without party identification. Eighteen per cent state they are Republicans.

Industry Honored

Four Texas industries and sponsoring chambers of Commerce were honored as recipients of the Governor's Industrial Expansion Awards here last week.

Recognized for contributions to civic and community development and industrial expansion were Aberdeen Manufacturing Inc. of Kaufmann, Carlingswitch Inc. of Brownsville, Union Carbide Corporation of Seadrift and Ludlum Measurements Inc. of Sweetwater.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Texas Industrial Commission, Texas Industrial Development Council, Texas Association of Business and four regional chambers of commerce sponsored the awards contest.

Housing assistance bill for poor, elderly approved.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has uncovered a thorny legal problem this week.

Dear editor:
I don't want to throw cold water on the Presidential campaign, right when the debates are about to be held, but it's possible that whichever candidate is elected, Ford or Carter, neither will be allowed to serve.

The Supreme Court may throw out the election, on the grounds that the Equal Opportunity law has been violated.

The truth of the matter is the American voters are not equal opportunity employers when it comes to hiring a President. They systematically exclude women.

I can see the Supreme Court now saying, "Oh, at the first it might have been just a happenstance that only men were chosen as President, certainly it was all right and within the law to select Washington and Jefferson and Adams, but you stretch the pattern out for 200 years, with one man after another being selected and not one woman, and equal opportunity becomes a joke. It's sex discrimination if we ever saw it. E Pluribus Unum and Pro Bono."

I'm not a lawyer, if a Water-gate bum is entitled to go to jail I wouldn't stand in the way, but you know it's bound to dawn on some smart women that the law is on their side when you review the long history of one man after another getting named President and never a woman. I look for a suit to be filed before long.

All right, say the suit is filed and it gets to the Supreme Court. You know it's going to dawn on some ultra-smart woman that, hold on a minute, there's no woman on the Supreme Court either and never has been. The Supreme Court itself is in violation of the Equal Opportunity law.

At this point the thing gets so confusing I don't want to think about it anymore. I'm sorry I brought it up.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

SEALED BY THE HOLY SPIRIT: Ephesians 1:3-14 - When we freely translate this 13th verse, it would read something like this: "...in Him you Gentiles also, after listening to the Message of the truth, the Good News of your salvation - having believed in Him - were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit."

I WOULD LIKE TO MENTION FOUR THINGS CONCERNING THE WORK OF THE HOLY SPIRIT: The Seal spoken of here is the Holy Spirit - which was promised through God's Covenant with His people - and Paul says that it is now among us. He lives in our hearts if we are his children. And Second Corinthians 1:22 says: that the presence of the Holy Spirit in our hearts is the evidence of our approval in the sight of God. This is an unusual thought at this point - but it is none the less true - just as a seal may be marred and broken - just so the Holy Spirit may be "Grieved and Quenched". And many times we grieve the Holy Spirit - and God's Covenant is made to none effect. The Sealer of this Covenant through the Holy Spirit is God who gives the Spirit to them that believe on His Name. John 6:27 says: "...him hath God the Father sealed". And Second Corinthians 5:5 says: "...he that wrought us for this very thing is God, who gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit". Ephesians 1:12-13 says: "...the sealed ones are those who have heard the Gospel (Good News) of Salvation, and have trusted in Christ." And Galatians 4:6 says: "...it is because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of His Son in your hearts." But the significance of the Sealing is the most important thing of all. Why is it important? For one thing - the Seal is given usually as the closing act of a bargain or contract. The ring worn by the King bore a seal and with the stamping of this seal any contract or important paper was made official. Mohammed is called by the Moslems, "The Seal of the Prophets", mainly because they believed him to be the last of that order. Therefore the sealing of the Holy Spirit speaks of many things.

FIRST OF ALL IT SPEAKS OF SECURITY - OUR ETERNAL SECURITY: We read in Daniel 6:17 that the stone laid at the mouth of the den where Daniel was imprisoned was "Sealed with the King's Signet". That the purpose might not be changed without his notice. No one could move the stone without answering to the King. Absolutely nothing could change and order once it was sealed by the Signet of the King. Also, the sealing of the stone at the Sepulchre of Jesus was also with the same intent. Those who are chosen of God, "according to his purpose", are built upon that foundation of God, which standeth sure having this seal. "The Lord knoweth them that are His." And none shall pluck them out of His hand.

THIS SEALING ALSO SPEAKS OF OWNERSHIP: When the Holy Spirit descended upon the Son of God out of heaven there came also the voice saying: "...this is My beloved Son." Therefore those who are sealed by God's Holy Spirit are owned by Him. They belong to God - having been sealed by His Signet. In Second Corinthians 1:21-22 we find: "...those who are established by God in Christ are also anointed and sealed. The blood of Christ redeems us to God - The Holy Spirit possesses us for God - And we become His property."

THE SEAL ALSO SPEAKS OF AUTHORITY: The Seal has always spoken of and has been the sign of Authority. Joseph and Mordecai were both clothed with royal authority, when they received the seal of their respective Kings. Thus possessed of the King's Seal, they acted in the King's name - In other words, what they did, they did it as if the King was performing the act personally. That is what is meant by Second Corinthians 5:20 when we are possessors of God's Holy Spirit - we are to act in Christ's Stead. We act in such a manner as He would have acted had he been performing the act himself. And in Acts 1:8 we are witnesses unto Him in whom the power of the Holy Ghost has come. Therefore Jesus could say: "...after the Holy Spirit is come upon you - you are to be my witnesses."

If we claim God's Holy Spirit - then we have no alternative but to act after the manner that Jesus would act as if He were performing the act himself. No person can claim the right to act after his own will if that will has been bought by the power of the Holy Spirit of God.

THIS SEAL ALSO SPEAKS OF A GOD LIKENESS: A seal imparts its own image to the object or to the person who has been sealed by it. That is to say: "If the object or the person is a condition to receive the Spirit and retain the image." But not even the Holy Spirit can imprint the image of Christ on a heart that is cold and hard and stony. In Isaiah 57:15 we read: "The humble and contrite heart will have God's Holy Spirit dwelling with them". Therefore those who have been sealed by God's Holy Spirit will have the mind of the Christ Jesus. The work of the Holy Spirit with us produces the character of Christ within us. Thus the writer could say in the long ago: "Yield yourselves unto God - For He is able to work in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure". Therefore, let me urge upon you today - Take God's Holy Spirit into your life and let Him be teacher, guide and leader.

London plagued with forest fires due to drought.

The opportunities for profit in agriculture over the next 10 or 20 years "at worst are going to be pretty good, and at best will be very good."

This is what Donald Johnson of Lubbock told the annual convention of Area II Young Farmers and Young Homemakers in Lamesa September 11. Johnson is Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., 25-county High Plains cotton producer organization.

"The demand for agricultural products is strong and growing along with the living standards of people throughout the world," he said, "and we in the U.S. have the land, the capital and the know-how to satisfy that demand."

Referring to the group of youthful agriculturists and their wives as "the people who have the energy, the enthusiasm, the training and years in front of you, to do great things in agriculture and for agriculture," Johnson went on to urge that they take an active part in their commodity organizations and in the political arena.

Only in this way, he said, "can you assure that there will be an environment under which farmers can take maximum advantage of the opportunities that lie ahead."

Noting that most of what is being written about farm policy in this election year concerns the policies espoused by the major Presidential candidates, Johnson cautioned the group not to overlook the importance of Congressional races.

"Congress, not the President, writes the laws," the PCG official said, "and from the standpoint of potential effect on agriculture, the outcome of the contests for House and Senate seats may be as important or more important than the race for President."

Reminding the group of the old adage "There ain't no such thing as free lunch," Johnson expressed the opinion that the farm policies proposed by incumbent President Gerald Ford and challenger Jimmy Carter "each carries its own price tag."

The "lunch" Ford is serving and would continue to serve, he said, consists of a market-oriented farm program with low loans and low target prices which he (Ford) thinks will give farmers the opportunity for maximum profit.

The price of market orientation and little or no government interference, according to Johnson, is little or no protection against loss.

Carter, he continued, proposes a lunch of low-risk or no-risk investments served on higher loans and target prices or some other government protection, "which you can be sure will be paid for with either more government control, reduced profit potential, or both, because there really isn't any such thing as free lunch."

The veteran observer of farm programs, emphasizing that he was not endorsing or opposing the farm program philosophy of either party, went on to conclude that farmers in 1976 are faced with two decisions. "First, we must decide on the kind of farm program we want," he said, "and second, we must determine what we are willing to pay for it."

SOME STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT

SMUT

There are two distinctly different kinds of smut in the corn fields of Parmer, Castro, Deaf Smith, Lamb, Bailey and Hale counties: common smut and head smut. Common smut has little, if any, economic significance. Head smut is the real culprit. Estimates are that it will reduce the yields of some fields by over 20%.

COMMON SMUT (Ustilago maydis), sometimes called boil smut, does not usually reduce yields. It is characterized by galls, bulbous growths which are at first covered with a glistening, greenish to silvery-white tissue. The galls may appear on any part of the corn plant including the exposed tips of healthy ears protruding beyond the shuck. The plant becomes host to wind or water-borne spores which stimulate cells in young tissue to proliferate.

HEAD SMUT (Sphacelotheca reiliana) is systemic, the plant being infected by soil-borne teliospores in the seedling stage. The outward signs of the disease are less conspicuous than common smut. It first appears when ears and tassels are formed. Tassels of infected plants usually appear to be covered with a reddish brown or black, spiny rust. Silkless shucks look as if they might cover a short, fat ear of corn but opening the shuck exposes a mass of black, worm-like teliospores or a tangle of bright green, leafy buds. Since head smut is soil borne and there is no practical chemical treatment to control it, we can expect infection to increase from one year to the next if conditions are right. This year's weather (dry and cool) was particularly conducive to infestations of both types of smut fungus.

WHAT ABOUT NEXT YEAR

For the most part, head smut occurs in fields that have been planted to corn for several years. It appears that farmers with a head smut-infested field have a choice for the use of that field next year. They can plant the field to another crop or can, with reasonable safety, plant corn hybrids that offer resistance to the disease. Pioneer has three excellent hybrid corn varieties that show strong resistance to head smut. One of these is well known to area farmers and is the most planted variety in much of this area... Pioneer brand 3306. Two other Pioneer varieties... 3184 and 3195... which were planted widely in this area for the first time this year, not only resist smut but have even greater yield potential than the well-known yield champion, Pioneer brand 3369-A.

A RECOMMENDATION

If you have a field that shows signs of head smut infections, plan to switch to one of the three Pioneer varieties that provide resistance to the disease and, at the same time, give you a shot at the best corn yield you have ever had.

Talk to your Pioneer dealer now about ordering Pioneer varieties 3306, 3184 and 3195. It makes a lot of sense to plant all three.

EXEMPTION MAY LOWER FARMLAND TAXES

A recent Texas Supreme Court decision could save part-time farmers and ranchers many tax dollars, according to an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The court held that farmers and ranchers may qualify for agricultural tax exemptions on farm real estate even though they earn more than half their income from other sources. This ruling will help farm and ranch owners who get incomes from a variety of sources, such as business investments, royalty payments and other jobs, but who spend a majority of their time on the farm or ranch.

8th Grade Football

The eighth grade Mules got their 1976-77 season underway. The Mules have eight games this year. Their first game is against the Tulia Hornets, and then they play the Farwell Steers, the Gattis Cubs, the Dimmitt Bobcats, the Littlefield Wildcats, the Dimmitt Bobcats again, the Friona Chieftans, and the Olton Mustangs.

The Mules are divided into two teams, the "A" and the "B" teams. On their last two games of the season the "A" team and the "B" team will combine into the "A" team and the seventh grade will play as the "B" team.

The Mules have three coaches. Coach Dave Lynn, who has been at M.J.H.S. for three years, Coach Randy Crook, who has been at M.J.H.S. for three years, and Coach Gary Goodin who is coaching his first year at M.J.H.S.

The coaches have the boys working out every day, during fifth period, right after lunch. Coach Lynn thinks the Mules will have a very good season.

Lynn says that football is fun and the Mules are very enthusiastic. Coach Lynn commented that this team doesn't have as much talent as last year's team, but that won't be a problem. He thinks the Mules toughest opponent will be either Dimmitt or Clovis Gattis. Lynn says that 53 boys went out for eighth grade boys athletics.

He thinks the Mules will do well and he is expecting exciting things. Coach Randy Crook will be coaching the "A" team, Gary Goodin will be coaching the "B" team and Coach Dave Lynn will be helping with both teams.

TURNING THE WATER ON... Monday morning, a long-awaited event took place for the city of Muleshoe. Quietly and without fanfare, city officials turned the water on to fill the new 1,000,000 gallon water tank in the background. The elevated tank was turned on by from left, Jack Eades, assistant city administrator; L.M. Bell, water superintendent; Dave Marr, city manager; and Kenneth Henry, Muleshoe Mayor.

On Wall-Street

The worst drought in 500 years has hit England and the European countries. Parts of England have had only five inches of rain in the past nine months. France is also hard hit. A recent thunderstorm just ran off the parched and cracked soil. Wales has had to cut water supplies to industry in half and the French owned electric utility complex will run up a $200 million tab for importing oil and coal to generate electricity which was lost due to low water levels.

For England, the drought comes at an unusually bad time. The governments anti-inflation program is barely a year old and this dry spell could wreck efforts to keep employment up while keeping inflation down. Unemployment in England is 6.4 percent, a record number which will creep higher as large companies continue to lay off workers. One company has gone completely out of business. An 85 year old umbrella maker closed its doors after six months of sunshine simply dried up its sales.

Farmers are suffering the most and the loss of vegetables, potatoes, and feedgrains will push prices higher and force greater imports of agricultural products which puts more pressure on the British pound, now at an all time low.

The English government has been running ads to get consumers to use less water. Listen to some of the suggestions

Give me one bit on inner space,
Where I can park my car.

being made: "Take a shower instead of a bath as it uses far less water. If you haven't a shower, then limit your bath water to five inches -- and try to use water for more than one person. Don't let the tap run while you're cleaning your teeth or washing your hands as each running tap uses up to five gallons a minute. Flush your lavatory the minimum number of times necessary to retain hygiene. Even better, flush with waste water. In the kitchen, save your washing up until you have enough to make full use of your bowl of water. Washing machines and dishwashers are tremendous amounts of water. So don't use them until you've a full load. And try to reduce the number of rinses on automatic machines. Garden hoses and sprinklers are now banned. But it would be madness to use them anyway."

The 1976-77 FBI Staff

The 1976-77 FBI Staff consists of five eighth grader students and five seventh grader students. Eighth graders include Keva Roming, Brad Poyner, Shelli Hawkins, Clifford Watson, and Sharon Carpenter. Jan Whitt, Robin Burgess, Jill Turner, Lupe Rosales, and Michelle Bryant are the seventh grade journalism students. The journalism class will be writing the articles for the weekly FBI and working on the 1977 Mule-train Jr.

Hotline To Fishing Aiding Sportsman

Have you ever driven two or three hundred miles or so to try some fantastic new fishing spot you've heard about, only to run into nothing but lousy weather and ditto fishing?

It's enough to give the most dedicated fisherman nightmares. But it's a bad trip you should never have to experience again, thanks to a new service called The Texas Fisherman Hotline.

This Hotline is a network of fishing experts located in various fishing areas throughout Texas. They're now being listed, along with their telephone numbers, in every issue of The Texas Fisherman magazine.

So if you're planning a fishing trip, or want to find out how the fishing is in any area, you just call the "Hotliner" there, and he will gladly give you the lowdown and answer all your questions.

Marvin Spivey, editor of The Texas Fisherman, introduced this new Hotline service in the June issue -- and the telephones have never stopped ringing. One Hotliner reported:

"Through July 4th I received in excess of 300 phone calls. I expected the majority of the calls would be about where and when to go. They were just that, but with them were a lot of how-do-you-do-it and why questions."

"Several callers were somewhat taken aback when I told them to stay home and save their money, because at the time of their calls the kind of fishing they were asking about was very poor. Apparently they were geared for an answer urging them to 'come on down, the fish are jumping into the boats!'"

But the Hotline isn't being run that way. Every member is a contributing editor of The Texas Fisherman. If the fishing is good, they'll say so. But if it's poor, they will tell you to stay home and wait for another day. Here are the experts you'll talk to when you call for current fishing conditions in their area:

A.C. Becker, Jr., covers the Galveston area, and upper end of the Texas coast. He is the Sports & Outdoor Editor of The Galveston Daily News, and author of nine fishing books.

Anton Husak covers the Rockport area and lower end of the Texas coast. He has spent over 40 years fishing the bays of Texas, and writing about them in two books and hundreds of articles.

Russell Tinsley covers the Austin and Highland Lakes area. He is Outdoor Editor of the Austin American-Statesman, and has authored eight fishing books.

Earl Golding covers the Waco and Central Texas area. He is Outdoor Editor of the Waco Tribune-Herald, and a regular columnist for The Texas Fisherman.

John Thompson, who covers the Fort Worth-Dallas area and North Central Texas for the Hotline, is Outdoor Editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Al Eason was added to the Hotline in July to cover the East Texas area, where he has been a professional fishing guide for many years. Al is a columnist for The Texas Fisherman, and his book, "How Professional Guides Find and Catch Fish" has just been published by Fisherman Books.

Jesse Miller joined the Hotline in July to cover the Freeport area and middle Texas coast, which he literally knows like a book. As Sports & Outdoor Editor of the Brazosport Facts, Jesse has been covering that popular fishing area for many years.

In August, Kenny Redin was added to the Hotline to answer questions about the Plainview area and northern part of West Texas. Kenny covers outdoor news for the Plainview Daily Herald, and his syndicated column appears in 52 newspapers in the top part of West Texas.

Newest addition to the Hotline is Ray Sasser, Outdoor Editor of the Port Arthur News. Ray is the man to call for fishing conditions in the extreme East Gulf area of Texas.

Dental Oral Program New At Cancer Clinic

Two Houston health care institutions have joined together to establish a dental and oral cancer program that is the first of its kind in the nation. The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute and the Dental Branch of UT's Health Science Center at Houston have formed a joint Department of Dental Oncology as of September 1, announced Dr. Robert Hickey, director of M.D. Anderson and Dr. John Victor Olson, dean of the UT Dental Branch. The two institutions have conducted a joint dental-oral cancer program since 1948, but are expanding this long-standing program to include detailed oral examination as routine testing of every new cancer patient regardless of diagnosis. The new department will participate in all phases of cancer patient care: examination, evaluation and planning, treatment and rehabilitation. It will also provide increased clinical training for dental students at the school. Establishment of the department highlights the importance of protecting the oral cavity and teeth of every cancer patient. Under the joint direction of Dr. Joe B. Drane of M.D. Anderson and Dr. Samuel Dreizen of the UT Dental Branch, the department will have a greater role in the oral management of pediatric patients and patients receiving chemotherapy. Dr. Dreizen says that one immediate benefit he sees in the joint department is "mobilizing the expertise in oral oncology at the two institutions into a comprehensive and coordinated clinically applicable teaching program dealing with cancer of the mouth and the mouth of the cancer patient."

general dentists who are not afraid of oral cancer, who can recognize it in its earliest stages, and know what to do and where to send the patient. We will place our teaching emphasis on the undergraduate dental students. M.D. Anderson will continue to train specialists in oral oncology," he says. Anderson will also be responsible for all cancer patient care and clinical research, along with graduate and post-graduate education. Both institutions will collaborate closely on all educational and research projects. An increased emphasis on detailed record keeping will benefit educational, research and treatment programs. "A pilot program has been conducted for the past two years at M.D. Anderson's Rehabilitation Center to verify the estireviewing the patient's progress and also will serve as a valuable research source," he explains. Research projects planned for the department include studying the effects of fast neutron therapy and chemotherapy on the oral cavity. Other research plans call for development of new facial materials and studying the tolerance of oral tissues to radiotherapy. This will be the first time all cancer patients at M.D. Anderson routinely will be screened for oral cancer. This is also being done at all clinics operated by the Dental Branch. "Dental service at Anderson in the past has only been done on a consultation basis for those patients with cancers of regions other than the head and neck," Dr. Drane explains. "There have been no detailed records and no prevention program begun for these patients when they first arrive for treatment. We have only stepped in after problems developed." Especially in children, Dr. Drane believes, it is important to watch the change from baby teeth to permanent teeth and to take steps to prevent tooth decay which may occur as a result of necessary cancer treatment. The new program will set up communication with each M.D. Anderson department head at weekly staff meetings. "We are not offering routine dental care," emphasizes Dr. Drane. "We will depend on the home dentist to be part of the treatment team, but we do expect to offer services that are not available elsewhere." Such care includes management of hemorrhage, following radiation therapy to the major salivary glands, procedures to prevent extractions in post-irradiated patients and fabrication and fitting of special rehabilitation prostheses following surgery and/or irradiation for cancer. The expanded program will offer short courses for intensive training in post-cancer treatment taught by faculty at the Dental Branch and Anderson. "Within two years we hope to host an international meeting on dental oncology here," Dr. Drane says.

PUBLIC NOTICE SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe. The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature. The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds. The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature. Two Super Powers To Clash Saturday

It's always interesting to tally the final power quotients each week that determine how the teams rank in our Top Twenty. And it also arouses our curiosity - especially these first ratings of the season - to see if any unfamiliar faces appear in the select group. Few do ... and if they do, most don't stay. The super-powers, for the most part, are there from start to finish. Two of those super-powers will hammer at each other in University Park, Pa., Saturday, when Penn State hosts Ohio State. The Nittany Lions have been looking forward to this game since early last fall. The only trouble is - U.C.L.A. got to the Buckeyes first in the Rose Bowl. However, it's a new season and the Lions are trying to roar for an upset. We don't think it's gonna happen ... Ohio State by fifteen. The Pacific 8 and the Big 8 get tangled up in an inter-conference game Saturday as Oklahoma meet California. Members of the Big Eight, shut down three times in post-season bowl games last December, are anxious to prove that all losses were Big Mistakes! This one should go on the plus side for the midwestern conference. The Sooners will whip the Bears by sixteen points. Georgia and Georgia Tech have contrasting opponents. The Bulldogs, on the heels of their big inter-sectional victory over California, get a wee bit of a breather. That's one of the sneakiest words in football - and Clemson just might be the sneak. Nevertheless, Georgia is the favorite by 34 points. And instead of a breather, Tech gets a real bristler in Pittsburgh. The Panthers come off a big win over Notre Dame, and they'll be a tough challenge for Georgia Tech. Pitt's the pick by 16. Notre Dame's nemesis pops up on their schedule this week. Purdue has upset the Irish more times than South Benders like to remember. And it could very well be in the cards again this time. Notre Dame is only a six-point favorite over the Boiler-makers. Finally, Michigan will beat Stanford by ten points ... Texas will up-end North Texas by 30 ... and Kansas State is a 17-point underdog to Texas A&M.
