Demo Carter Captures County, State

Annexation Plans Approved By City

Following lengthy discussion Tuesday morning, members of the Muleshoe City Council voted unanimously to initiate annexation proceedings for two portions of land adjacent to the present city limits of Muleshoe.

With only Council member Max King absent, the councilmen approved a process which will involve three public hearings and three readings of the proposed ordinances for the annexation.

One parcel, which was initiated through a written request from the owners of the Ranch House Motel west of Muleshoe, would include a parcel of land out of Section 33, which is adjacent to the present city limits and north and south of Highway 84 west of town. This would include residences and businesses on both sides of the highway within the proposed annexation, which would go west to FM1760 on the south and a county dirt road on the north.

Some businesses included in the annexation would be the Texas Highway Department; Woolley-Hurst Implement. AVI Sprinklers, Ranch House Motel, another sprinkler company on the south side of the highway and Wilson Drilling on the north side of the highway.

According to the Muleshoe City Manager, Dave Marr, the second area of proposed annexation would be the north-east city limits and would include all city owned property where the airport is located and adjacent to the present city limits and also include the golf course and Country Club and small private residence where the assistant golf pro resides.

He noted that although the country club and residence are presently utilizing all city services, that portion of the area is not within the city limits. Marr also explained that no extension of water lines, sewer lines or other services would be required in that area. To the contrary, in the proposed annexation west of Muleshoe, some of the buildings and dwellings are on city water, while the sewer service stops at the city limits. He said there would be sewer lines extended for those who wished to connect to the city sewer system, although persons with acceptable septic systems would not be required to connect to the city sewer.

He was asked to begin preliminary work on the annexation requests and check for scheduling public hearings.

Another major decision by the city leaders involved an ordinance for demolition of substandard housing. After approval of the proposed ordinance, a priority was outlined. Receiving first priority will be vacant substandard structures adjacent to another occupied residential structure; second, a substandard unoccupied structure located on a Cont. on Page 3, Col. 3

James Williams

New City Judge

Sworn in as new municipal judge for Muleshoe Monday was James E. Williams. On Sunday, Wednesday evening and various other times, he is known as Rev. James E. Williams, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Muleshoe.

The new judge assumes duties taken over by Bailey County Judge Glen Williams with the resignation of Melvin Berry a year ago. Since that time, Judge Williams has served in the capacity of city, county and justice of the peace.

Disaster Loans Are Authorized In Washington

The Washington Office of Congressman George Mahon, 19th District Representative, was notified Monday that Bailey County has been designated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as eligible for Farmers Home Administration emergency loans.

According to the Congressman's office, the emergency designation was made because of widespread crop losses throughout the county due to drought conditions. Applications for emergency loans assistance may be filed with the Farmers Home Administration county office in Muleshoe.

Applications for production losses may be submitted until July 29, 1977 and applications for physical losses may be made until December 30, 1976.

SUBSTANDARD HOUSES TO BE REMOVED . . . Members of the Muleshoe City Council Tuesday morning approved an ordinance to remove substandard, vacant housing from Muleshoe. The house above will be a likely target for the demolition which will begin in the near future. First priority will be given to vacant, substandard houses and buildings adjacent to occupied residences.

Mahon, Bentsen Both Return To Washington

Traditional Bailey County stayed traditional during Tuesday's general election and cast 1356 votes for Democratic Presidential Candidate Jimmy Carter and his V-P running mate Walter Mondale, although incumbent President Gerald Ford and his partner, Bob Dole, were close behind with 1255 votes. Bailey County also voted by 118 to return incumbent George Mahon to his office as Congressman. He received 1362 votes in Bailey County, while Republican candidate received 1244 votes.

With approximately 3600 registered voters in this county, 2650 took the time and interest to go to the polls. This represented just over 70 percent of the eligible voters.

Bailey County also established a new voting record this year for the general election. During the last general election in 1972, 2410 voters trekked to the polls. This was 240 below the number who voted this year.

This county also helped Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen return to Washington for his second term. The incumbent Senator received 1532 votes to 957 for Alan Steelman, his opponent. American Party Presidential Candidate Thomas J. Anderson got six votes and the Socialist Workers Party candidate for president, Peter Camejo got one vote in Bailey County.

Bailey County's only contested race was no contest as incumbent County Commissioner R.P. (Bob) Sanders of Precinct Three polled 501 votes to four for Domingo Ramos, his opponent on the Raza Unida ticket.

Other local totals included Max Sherman, State Senator, 1812; Bill Clayton, State Representative, 1953; Jimmy Briggs, write in Representative, 19; Bill Millen, write in for Representative, two; Ernest Kerr, write in for Representative, one. Jack Young, District Attorney, 2002; Gordon H. Green, County Attorney, 1984; and S.D. (Dee) Clements, Sheriff, 2023.

Also, Jean Lovelady, Tax Assessor-Collector, 2092; W.M. (Matt) Dudley, County Commissioner, Precinct One, 607; K.B. Martin, Justice of the Peace, Precinct One, 535; John R. Blackwell, Constable, Precinct One and W.E. (Wendell) Young, Constable, Precinct Three, 440.

The largest voting box was Box One at the Bailey County courthouse with a total of 723 votes cast. In second place, 623 votes Cont. on Page 3, Col. 1

Weather Modification Cause Of Resolution

Because of the heated controversy on the South Plains caused by weather modification (cloud seeding) members of the Parmer County Commission approved a resolution asking for a vote for Parmer County people as to whether or not they will approve weather modification in that county.

The resolution is signed by James P. Fortenberry, Parmer County Judge and the four commissioners, Joe Lewellen, C.H. Jefferson, Cecil Atchley and Jimmy Briggs.

More than 250 counties approved the modification program during a meeting of the Texas Judges and Commissioners meeting recently.

However, in the South Plains, many farmers and ranchers believe the modification program severely cuts into available moisture through cloud seeding operations.

The resolution reads as follows: "Reference is made to Chapter 14, Weather Modification, Section 14.061, Vernon's Texas Codes Annotated, concerning the issuance of a permit for weather modification.

"Since there is much controversy concerning weather modification for the purpose of hail suppression, as some feel that such weather modification disperses the clouds, thereby causing a reduction in rain, while others feel that such weather modification reduces the prospects of hail and are willing to pay for such weather modification, while still others feel that such weather modification attempts infringe upon the rights of the individuals living in the area involved in the permit request; the Commissioners Court of Parmer County feels that the ramifications involved in weather modification would justify a vote of the people of the county involved, and therefore protests the issuance of any permit for weather modification in any form over Parmer County, unless an Act of the Legislature. Mules To Mustang Field

Uh,oh! The Mustangs kicked their way through seven inches of snow to come away with a 6-6 tie against Littlefield in Olton last week. They will probably have the advantage of no snow this week when the Muleshoe Mules take to the field in Mustang stadium in Olton Friday night.

Shanks First Place In Weekly Contest

This year has been a year of switching back and forth so far for the coveted Muleshoe Merchant's Football Contest. This week, much to the disappointment of several people, nine persons missed only one game in the weekly contest.

Leading the contest however, was Gerald Shanks, who missed the Colorado-Oklahoma game, but was real close to the nose on the Texas Tech-Texas and the Texas A&M-SMU double tiebreaker. He predicted A&M 35 and SMU 14 along with Texas Tech 31 and Texas 21, to be a total of 22 off on the double tiebreaker.

In second place was a previously first place winner, James Roy Jones, who also miscalculated on the Colorado-Oklahoma game. However, he was a total of 35 points off on the double tiebreaker scores.

Oklahoma and Colorado caused a lot of commotion with their upset, as that was the only game missed by the third place winner, Lee Pool, who is in the winning column, along with Gerald Shanks for the first time this season. He missed out on the tiebreaker scores by 37 points.

Accurately predicting the outcome of the Colorado-Oklahoma game, but missing the Oklahoma State-Missouri tilt was L.C. Roddam, a frequent winner in the past. But, the long time prognosticator missed out by 46 points on the tiebreaker. Gerald Lara was close and missed the same game as Roddam, but was 52 points away on the double tiebreaker.

at 2-4-2 for the season and 0 at 2-4-2 for the season and 0-1-2 in district action for the year. season and 0-3 in district action. Mules have been plagued with injuries throughout the season and although they will have minor injuries for the Friday night game against Olton, no major incapacity is expected, with previously injured quarterback Randy Whalin expected to see limited action in the game.

Back-up quarterback Martin Nowlin was injured also in the game in Muleshoe against Friona, but is expected to play against Olton. Other players are ready to take to the field in the next to the last game for high schools this year, except teams going into playoff action.

This year, the Mustangs had another tie, also in district action, when Olton and Dimmitt both scored in the fourth quarter of a district game, to tie up at 7-7. Lalou ripped the Mustangs 21-6; they were upset by Lockney, 12-7; shocked 41-0 by the Floydada Whirlwinds and scalped by the Indians, 24-13. They also stampeded over Abernathy, 20-8 and sneaked past the Tulia Hornets, 7-6.

The Mules will be playing with close attention paid to Olton's quarterback Steve Johnson, a razzle dazzle runner when he gets loose, and Mark Williamson, who is known to rack up more than 100 yards rushing during a game. Expect Olton to take to the air frequently.

For the Mules, starting quarterback will be Martin Nowlin, who took over earlier in the season when regular quarterback Randy Whalin received a knee injury. In the event of additional injuries, the Mules have been working Jeeb Shanks in that position this week. The sophomore player may possibly see some action as quarterback this Friday.

Undisputed leader in district action is Friona. The Chieftains widened their district total to 3-0 following their 13-0 victory over the Mules last Friday night. In second place is Dimmitt.

Muleshoe Athletic Director Don Cumpton said he had not lost any of his earlier confidence in the Muleshoe Mules, and Cont. on Page 3, Col. 2

Veteran's Day Breakfast Set November 11

Members of the local V.F.W. met with the American Legion in Muleshoe Monday night to finalize plans for a Veteran's Day breakfast on Thursday, November 11.

VFW quartermaster Alton Carpenter said all veterans are invited to attend the breakfast, whether or not they are members of either organization. The free breakfast will be served from 6-8 a.m. he said, and the veterans are also encouraged to bring their wives to the breakfast.

Nearly 1,000 Vaccinated During Clinic

Members of the Texas Department of Health Resources office in Muleshoe report that nearly 500 persons were inoculated against swine flu on Saturday and over 450 vaccinated on Sunday to bring the total of persons in the mass inoculation to nearly 1000 in this area.

The two-day free clinic was conducted at the Muleshoe High School cafeteria in an effort to vaccinate as many people as possible against the flu which is expected to go into the epidemic stage sometime this winter.

Bailey County has around 9,000 residents, which means that only about one tenth of the population received the free vaccinations. Nationwide, the clinics are continuing, with an effort being made to vaccinate every adult over the age of 18 years.

First Baptist Revival Set Next Week

Revival services will begin on Sunday, November 7, with the morning services at the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe. Guest preacher for the services will be the Rev. Jack Ridlehoover, pastor of Pioneer Drive Baptist Church of Abilene.

He is a graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. His church is one of the great and growing churches among the Southern Baptist Church of Texas, said Muleshoe First Baptist Pastor, J.E. Meeks.

Bill Jetton, music evangelist, will be guest music director during the revival services. He formerly served as minister of music in churches in Missouri and New Mexico.

Scheduled are noonday services on Tuesday through Friday in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Lunch will be served at 12 noon followed by a brief service which will be terminated at 12:45 p.m. to allow working people to return to their respective places of employment.

For the first service of the revival, the Revival Choir and Kenneth Carter, associate pastor, will be singing special selections. The message will be given by the pastor of the church, J.E. Meeks.

The pastor said he would like to extend a special invitation to the residents of Muleshoe and the area. He added that anyone would be welcome to attend any or all of the revival services.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses China this week, which is pretty far afield for him.

Dear editor:
Since I don't even know what's going on in the political world in Muleshoe, I'm certainly not qualified to discuss what's going on in China.

As I understand it, Chairman Mao has made the biggest mistake a dictator can make: he grew old and died.

Naturally when this happens there's a scramble for his job, with a lot of politicians arguing with whatever guys they have at hand that each is the best qualified to lead the people toward a better life, each being equally willing to demonstrate to the masses what that better life is by taking over the fallen dictator's limousines, town house and country estate.

It's an odd thing, but I've noticed that around the world you can't tell by the kind of car a man is chauffeured around in what form of government he's the head of.

But what I started out to do in this uninformed discussion of China was to point out what a setback the change in power over there has given Women's Liberation. Here one day Madame Ching, wife of Chariman Mao, is being cheered and waved at by the masses as she rides through the streets of Peking, and a few days later Widow Ching is in jail and being jeered at by the same masses.

It's one thing to say the times are not ripe yet for a woman to become President, I mean dictator, of China, but it sure seems male chauvinistic to throw her in jail for trying. But I guess that's the mysterious Orient for you. In China, it's true, women have made great strides in seeking equality. In the cities they've attained the right to sweep the streets, shovel snow, lay bricks, build roads and stand shoulder to shoulder with men to wave at whoever they've been told is the new dictator. Out in the rice fields they're even allowed to pull a plow and, when the rice is harvested, tote the bags.

China is a dark mystery, and to nobody more so probably than the average Chinese. Those folks are even worse than we are about not going to the polls. Tell me, what's going on in Muleshoe?

"GUESS WHO'S COMING TO DINNER?"

Soil, Water Districts Name New President

District directors from Texas' 196 soil and water conservation districts elected Kenneth Kuykendall of Cherokee, Texas, president and Charles Wood of Lubbock, vice president of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts at the thirty-sixth annual state meeting of district directors held recently in McAllen. Approximately 800 persons attended the meeting.

James P. Wedel, vice-chairman of the Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District attended the state meeting.

Kuykendall, a rancher, has served as director and alternate director of the state association for the past nine years. He has also served as a director and chairman of the San Saba-Brady Soil and Water Conservation District for 15 years. He is past president of the Hill Country Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts and was named as San Saba-Brady Soil and Water Conservation District's Outstanding Conservation Rancher in 1968.

Kuykendall helped organize and is a former vice-president of the San Saba Valley Resource, Conservation and Development Project. He is also past president of the San Saba County Property Owners Association and a trustee of the Cherokee Home for Children.

Wood, a farmer and rancher, has been a Lubbock County Soil and Water Conservation District Director for 10 years and a board chairman for five years. He has served as secretary, vice-president and president of the South Plains Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. Wood served as an alternate state association director for five years. He was also honored as the Outstanding Conservation Farmer for Lubbock County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Other directors of the state association are David Tong, Atlanta; Gene Gilbreath, Dublin; and Bill Goldsberry, Edinburg. Dee Brune, immediate past president, also serves on the Board as an ex-officio member.

The purpose of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts is to conduct educational, scientific, charitable and religious work concerning the conservation, maintenance, improvement, development and use of soil, water and renewable natural resources. Headquarters for the state association are located in Temple, Texas.

were polled at the American Legion Hall. United Methodist Church reported 398 voters on Tuesday, and 199 at the Three Way School. This 199 is from the 225 registered voters in that particular box for a 90 percent vote. At the West Camp Baptist Church, 166 voters went to the polls and 145 at Bula. A total of 109 persons voted at Needmore, and the smallest box, the Old City Hall, reported 96 voters. A surprisingly large number, 191, persons cast absentee ballots during the time immediately preceding election day.

Bailey County also overwhelmingly approved both amendments. Amendment number one concerning $400 million in additional water bonds was approved 1207 to 741; while the water purification amendment number two, was approved 1164 for and 741 against.

Late Tuesday night, the Presidential race was still swinging back and forth, and with each swing of the pendulum, a change was reported in the lead between Ford and Carter for the Presidency. Around 11:30 p.m., it was reported that an order had been sent from the White House in Washington to impose all voter boxes in the State of New York, with no indication of what voter irregularities may be expected.

In Texas, incumbent Congressman George Mahon was unofficially determined to be the winner over his opponent, Reese, but Mahon declined to make a statement until one was issued by Reese.

With 15 of the 17 counties complete in returns, and most of the two other counties nearing completion on voting count, George Mahon led his first opponent in 12 years, 83,367 to 69,135 for the 19th Congressional District seat. Reese carried his home counties, Ector and Midland Counties, along with Gaines, Andrews and Yoakum.

Wednesday morning, nationwide, Carter continued to widen his lead in his bid for the Presidency. After winning in the south, Carter marched into the east, capturing New York and Pennsylvania, both considered key states in his bid for election.

Another House Scheduled for Demolition

... This is another of the vacant residences which may be declared a standard and dilapidated dwelling in the city limits of Muleshoe scheduled for demolition under a newly adopted Muleshoe ordinance.

Price Steady Thru October

Grower contracting prices were steady during the week ending October 29, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office. Contract prices for new-crop cotton ranged from 3400 to 3500 points over 1976 loan rates. About 15 percent of the High paved street and third, a vacant substandard structure located on a block with other occupied structures.

Marr also cautioned that the city would not be going into the demolition business and first owners of the structures would be contacted and asked to remove their buildings. If they do not, they can give permission for city workers to remove the structure. He added that such work would be done as time and resources allow.

Also discussed at length was an application for Community Development Funds. The city manager said he had checked on a request by members of the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department for funds to build a new fire station, and said the request would not meet the criteria of HUD, although the removal of substandard housing would meet the standards of the fund requirements.

Also discussed briefly were present building permit costs and a comparison made with permit costs of area cities, and a recent meeting of the Housing Authority Board.

Next meeting for the Muleshoe City Council will be 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, November 16.

cited their inexperience and injuries which have plagued the team throughout the season. He also reiterated his comments of appreciation for the continued support of fans for the Mules.

At the same time he said, "I had hoped to be able to turn the season around, but with most of the players seeing no action in high school until this year, I don't think the boys have played badly at all."

Weather is expected to be cool, but pleasant for game time at 7:30 p.m. in Olton Friday night.

Plains 1976 crop has been contracted.

Trading of new-crop cotton was slow to inactive. Mixed lots of mostly grade 42 staple 31, mikes 3.3 through 4.9 brought 29.75 to 70.75 cents per pound.

Predominant qualities for this week's classing were grade 42 at 32 percent, grade 32 at 21 percent, and grade 41 was 20 percent.

Predominant staple lengths were Staple 30 accounting for 15 percent; Staple 31, 32 percent; and Staple 32 at 28 percent.

Mike reading 3.5 through 4.9 amounted to 76 percent of the total.

Pressley tests indicated breaking strengths over the Texas High Plains averaged 85,000 pounds per square inch.

About 14,800 samples were classed by the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office during the week ending October 29. This season's total stands at 18,800 samples compared with 3900 on the same date a year ago, according to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Big Eight Broke Up Log-Jam Deadlock

That five-team log-jam at the top of the Big Eight Conference was broken up last week. The magic group is now down to three with the possibility that after this Saturday it might be down to just one. Nebraska clashes with Oklahoma State in one big one while Missouri meets Colorado in the other important one. The latter is a must win for the Buffaloes of Colorado in order to stay tied for the conference lead with the Nebraska-Oklahoma State winner. The Cornhuskers, at home, will nip the Cowboys of Oklahoma State by ten points, and Colorado might nudge Missouri by a wee three ... Missouri is at home.

Having disposed of Auburn last week, the Florida Gators sit alone atop the Southeast Conference ... temporarily. The faces of the Georgia Bulldogs cast shadows of coming events, and it may mean trouble for Florida, still undefeated in the league. Georgia, upset by Mississippi a month ago, has been waiting for this chance to move back into a tie for the conference lead. And we think they will. Georgia is favored over the Gators by fourteen points.

The Big Two in the Big Ten and the Specific Two in the Pacific Eight will continue rolling toward their eventual showdown on November 20. Ohio State will beat Illinois by 21 points, and Michigan will stop Purdue ... the spread is 37 points. U.C.L.A. is about 37 points too strong for Oregon while Southern Cal's spread over Stanford is 26 points. So what else is new.

The old forecasting average has taken some lumps and bruises in certain parts of the country the past three or four weeks, but there have been happy smiles in other areas. So, through Saturday, October 23, we have picked the results of 1397 football games. We've been fortunate 1008 times, and unfortunate 362 times, and there have been 27 ties. Average to date: .736. And we're not exactly popping our buttons about it!

Finally, the power struggle in the Southwest Conference centers around Texas Tech and Arkansas with Houston and Texas sorta hanging around, waiting. Texas Tech will bomb T.C.U. by 40 points and Arkansas will beat Baylor by eleven.

Driving power without direction is useless but it makes a lot of noise and results in some motion.

The world may be getting better but few people are making any effort to avoid the cash that is the root of evil.

Why is it so much easier to tell someone else how to do something than it is to do it yourself?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — Texas legislators will be heading back to Austin next January for another historic session.

One of their priority items — public school finance — already has been laid out for study and opinion sizeups.

A House sub-committee submitted a $1 billion plan for the state to assume 100 percent of school costs. Gov. Briscoe unveiled his long-awaited 1977 school finance proposals, together with cost estimates and district ability to pay data, this week.

Fortunately, lawmakers will have another windfall surplus estimated at from $2 billion to $3 billion.

They can afford a school plan and still have cash left over, but inflation and increasing demands of state agencies will make budget-making as difficult a task as ever.

Legislators, apparently, are in an economy-first frame of mind. Certainly, state leaders — including Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton — are. Briscoe, Hobby, Clayton, Comptroller Bob Bullock and others will offer their assessments of the 1977 session and its problems at the Texas Press Association's legislative briefing at the Hilton Inn in Austin November 5.

Unemployment Drops

The jobless rate in Texas dipped slightly to 5.4 percent in September, representing the third straight month of decline, according to Texas Employment Commission.

In August, the rate was 5.5 percent and in July 5.8 percent.

TEC Chairman Harold Dudley said the Texas rate is well below the national level of 7.4 percent for September.

"This pattern of decline is traditional for the season," Dudley said. "The fact that monthly unemployment rates are following seasonal trends indicates... we can remain optimistic about Texas' future."

Rates vary widely by areas.

Air Service Recommended

A Texas Aeronautics Commission hearing examiner has recommended approval of Southwest Airlines' application to add Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Lubbock and Midland/Odessa to its system.

Examiner John G. Soule's recommendation will go to the commission which has a tentative meeting date set for December 1.

Southwest now offers economy air service between Dallas, Harlingen, Houston and San Antonio.

If new routes are approved, non-stop service will be added to the following city-pair markets: Austin-Corpus Christi; Austin-Dallas; Austin-Harlingen; Corpus Christi-Houston; Dallas-Lubbock; Dallas-Midland/Odessa; El Paso-Midland/Odessa and El Paso-Lubbock.

AG Opinion

A city governing body may spend public funds to defend an elected city official or employee sued in official and individual capacities if the suit involves an action within his scope of authority in the public interest, Atty. Gen.

John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The Terry County commissioners court is not required to have an annual independent audit of tax assessor's records, although it may call for one when the public interest would be served.

Imported beef cannot be purchased for governmental purposes.

Legal rate of interest to judgment in an eminent domain case is six per cent a year prior to Sept. 1, 1975, and nine per cent thereafter.

The Structural Pest Control Board may not issue a pest control business license or renew one if the amount of property damage liability coverage by the applicant is less than $30,000.

Funds Redistributed

Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation approved redistribution of $4.1 million in unused funds to its facilities.

Money comes from unexpended balances in construction and operating funds during the 12-month period which ended last August 31.

Money goes to facilities in Austin, Big Spring, Kerrville, Rusk, San Antonio, Terrell, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Brenham, Corpus Christi, Denton, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Lufkin, Leander, Mexia, Richmond, San Angelo, Harlingen, Amarillo, Beaumont, El Paso and Houston.

Mattresses were replaced throughout the TDMHMR system in the redistribution due to a recent fire in which a patient was fatally injured. New mattresses will contain borax-treated cotton rather than highly-flammable man-made fibers.

Courts Speak

Millionaire Tommy Manville's ninth wife, who accepted $31,871 on a suit over a screenplay, cannot appeal for more, the State Supreme Court held.

The high court, in another case, set a review of an intermediate court decision directing State Comptroller Bob Bullock to refund $20,000 in sales taxes collected from a computer firm.

Short Snorts

Thirteen industries announced new locations in Texas during September, adding nearly $20 million and 446 jobs.

Operating standards of state and local government pension plans in Texas may come under federal regulation.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration is withholding $845,000 in grants to Texas Department of Corrections, on grounds the prison system hasn't produced an acceptable plan for hiring more minority group members.

House Administration Committee Chairman Pete Laney of Hale Center has asked an attorney general's opinion on whether the press should have free office space in the state capital.

Sales Up

Comptroller Bob Bullock reported a total of $33.9 billion in gross retail sales in Texas during the second quarter of 1976, a 17 per cent jump over the same period last year.

Bullock said the growth exceeds all estimates of inflation and demonstrates an improving Texas economy.

The analysis showed $31.5 billion in sales by Texas firms and $2.4 billion by out-of-state firms. Harris County sales increased 11 per cent to $8.2 billion and Dallas County sales by 16 per cent to $5 billion.

The St. Ann's Society is sponsoring their Annual Turkey dinner on Sunday, November 7, at St. Ann's Hall on Third Street, Bovina.
The menu consists of turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, home canned green beans, mashed potatoes, gravy, salad, hot bread, desert, and tea or coffee. They will be serving from 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Ticket donations will be $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.
Door prizes will be awarded.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Frieze of Canutilo, Tex., are the proud parents of a new baby boy born October 30, at 5:48 p.m. at West Plains Medical Center. The baby weighed five pounds and eight ounces, and was named Jerry, Jr.
He is the couple's third child.
Diana Vicuna
Mr. and Mrs. Fidencio Vicuna of Rt. 3, Muleshoe, are the proud parents of a new baby girl born November 2, at 11:14 a.m. at West Plains Medical Center. The baby weighed six pounds, nine ounces and was named Diana.
She is the couple's first child.

O E S Meets In Ft. Worth

The Ninety Fourth Session, the "Symbols of Freedom" Session of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star, was held in Fort Worth, October 25 through 28 with an attendance of approximately 5,000 representing 592 Chapters.
Distinguished guests were Mrs. Mabel L. Mackereth, of Toronto, Ontario, Canada; Most Worthy Grand Matron, and William E. George, Little Rock, Ark., Most Worthy Grand Patron.
Also in attendance were the Associate Grand Conductress of the Grand Chapter of Scotland, and Grand Representatives of Missouri, Montana, Mississippi, Georgia, Iowa, New Mexico, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Alabama, Colorado, Kentucky, Minnesota, and Tennessee.
The Estar Program was held Sunday afternoon; $1,070 contributions were received and 70 scholarships were given to young people in the field of religious training. Twenty-seven thousand dollars was contributed to the Worthy Grand Matron's Welfare Program, with 110 Chapters being 100 percent. Five hundred dollars was given by the Rainbow Assemblies of Texas, and $200 by North Jewelry Co., from the sale of O.E.S. jewelry.

Miss Carolyn Cox, Grand Worthy Advisor of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls, presented the newly installed Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Joyce Roberts, of El Paso, the traditional Rainbow Bible. She was accompanied by a large group of Rainbow Girls, singing "My Rainbow", the official Rainbow Song.

Muleshoe received two grand appointments. Mrs. Elbert Nowell, Worthy Matron, was appointed on the Founders Day Committee, and Delbert Nowell, Worthy Patron, on the Masonic Noblemen Committee. Others attending from Muleshoe were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Phillips, Mrs. Frank Hinkson, Mrs. Mary Farley, Mrs. Wylie Bullock and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Williams.

The 1977 Grand Chapter will be held in El Paso.

Robin Taylor Speaks To AAUW

Mrs. Robin Taylor, Bailey County Extension Agent for Home Economics, gave a demonstration on cooking yeast breads Monday, November 1, for the Muleshoe Branch of the American Association of University Women. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Gerald Allison and Mrs. John Watson was co-hostess.
Mrs. Taylor had breads prepared in different stages. Some were completely baked, some were rising, and finally she started with the ingredients, kneaded the dough and baked the bread.
Mrs. Linda Clines, president, presided and handed out the new yearbooks. Final plans were made for the Regional meeting to be held at the First Christian Church in Amarillo, Saturday, November 6. Also, the Children's Theater sponsored by the Muleshoe Branch and presented by the Muleshoe High School Speech Department will be given December 8 in the High School Auditorium.

Members attending were Mrs. Tony Clines, Mrs. Joe

Costen, Mrs. Don Cumpton, Mrs. Neal Dillman, Mrs. Clifton Finley, Mrs. Marcus Gist, Mrs. Arvis Grogan, Mrs. Paul Hindelang, Mrs. Robert Hooten, Mrs. Ed Kramer, Mrs. David Lynn, Mrs. Roland McCormick, Mrs. W.O. What Is A Credit File

COLLEGE STATION -- Your record of credit transactions is kept at the local credit bureau. It usually consists of factual data, rather than a rating on the order of a Dun and Bradstreet rating for corporations, Mrs. Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says.
She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
"Information recorded on a personal file usually includes the following: opening or closing a retail account, making prompt payments or being consistently late, fulfilling a contract or defaulting, name, address, employer and former employer, social security number."
"Other information recorded comes from public records, such as a contract suit, a judgement, divorce notices, marriages, a tax lien or a bankruptcy, or reports of arrest, indictment or conviction of a crime."
She said that if you are interested in your credit file, you can examine it in person for a small fee or without charge, if you are challenging a credit, employment or insurance denial.
The Fair Credit Reporting Act gives each person the right to check their credit bureau record upon request and proper identification.
"To establish a good credit rating, be financially responsible. Pay bills on time. Do not overextend by borrowing or charging more than can be paid."
Multimillion-dollar bank robbers amuse French.
USSR steps up spying activities near Japan.

back. In order to take advantage of the credit market, the better a financial record, the better the chances to qualify for credit, charge accounts, and low cost loans when needed."

By Mrs. Lyndon Huckaby
Four troops have been organized in the Muleshoe area this year.
Troop 258 consists of first grade girls under the leadership of Mrs. John Kropp and Mrs. Galya Baldwin. They meet each Monday at 3:00 p.m. in the 16th and Avenue D Church of Christ.
On their last meeting, October 25, they made sugar cookies and decorated them with paint brushes before cooking. There were 12 girls present.
Troop 388 consists of second grade girls. Their leaders are Mrs. Joe King and Mrs. Joyce Turner. The girls meet each Tuesday at 3:00 p.m. in Mrs. King's home at 1701 West Avenue E.
At their last meeting the girls received their Brownie pins and they carried on their regular meeting with a visitor, Beth Johnson, field representative from Lubbock. Cece King was the "Keeper of Gold" and Debbie Isaac was the "Attendance Recorder". All 13 members were present.
Troop 417 consists of third grade girls. The leaders are Mrs. Lyndon Huckaby and Mrs. Jerry Berry. The girls meet every other Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Mary De Shazo cafeteria.
Last Tuesday, October 26, there were eight girls present. They took a field trip to the Muleshoe Public Library to see two films starring "Winnie the Witch". All the girls enjoyed the outing and films.
Mrs. Bill Denton and Mrs. Becky Watson are the leaders for the fourth grade girls. They meet each Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Denton at 706 West Avenue D.
Their last meeting on Thursday, October 28, was hampered by the beautiful snow that we were receiving and there were only eight girls present. And this time was taken to get acquainted and to register. Mrs. Denton advises she is still taking girls and any fourth grader interested in joining her troop is asked to attend their next meeting on Thursday, November 4.

OSHA Ruling Does Not Alter Responsibilities

Small farms were exempted by Congress from complying with OSHA regulations during funding year 1977 in an overall Labor-Hew appropriations measure passed September 30. The law prohibits funds for inspecting and citing farms employing 10 or fewer employees (excluding members of the immediate family) except when fatalities or multiple injury accidents are involved. By OSHA estimates, 87.5 percent of all farms in the U.S. will be included under this exemption.

Joe Smetana, Vice President of the Farm & Ranch Section of the Texas Safety Association, applauded this move by the legislature to relieve small farmers from the economic and record-keeping burdens of complying with the OSHA act. "However," noted Smetana, "this does not exempt small farmers from the responsibility of insuring their employees and farm family members a safe and healthful place in which to work. Voluntary compliance with OSHA standards for proper machine guarding, employee training, and using roll over protective devices is still in order."

Politics is the art of blowing up issues to collect the most votes possible.

Treasure box helps 4-H'ers identify resources in and around them—like brain power, energy, money and time. Using these resources to get the things they want is the goal of young people 9-19 in the national 4-H home management program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and sponsored by Tupperware Home Parties, Division of Dart Industries Inc.

4-H Treasure Box Yields 'Wealth' of Resources

CHICAGO—A resource treasure box can spark the interest and enthusiasm of young people in the national 4-H home management program.

The box contains pictures and objects that help 4-H'ers identify resources they can use to reach their management goals.

Suggestions for starting a resource treasure box, plus ideas for other program activities, are detailed in the new Unit I home management leader's guide published by the National 4-H Service Committee with the assistance of Tupperware Home Parties, Division of Dart Industries Inc. The guide is for use with "Spotlight on Management," Unit I members' manual.

A Unit II leader's guide and members' manual are under development, as is a color-slide set designed to assist leaders in conducting a 4-H home management program.

Management means using resources at hand to get things that are needed or desired. In practical projects and activities supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, 4-H'ers 9-19 learn resources may be either within them—like energy, talents and brain power—or around them—like money and time.

Last year, Bonye Baker, 18, of Hennessey, Okla., so efficiently managed her time to include a busy schedule of early-morning band practices, daytime classes and evening meetings that she earned a college scholarship donated by Tupperware.

The Oklahoma coed was one of eight national winners in the 4-H home management program. Other scholarship winners organized housekeeping responsibilities to conserve physical energy or played key roles in personal and family budget management.

Again this year, young people can earn home management awards ranging from scholarships to county medals. Eight 4-H members will be named national winners of $1,000 college scholarships. One 4-H'er in each state will attend the 55th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 28-Dec. 2 in Chicago, on an expense-paid trip. And up to four 4-H'ers in each county are eligible for medals of honor.

Winners are selected by the Extension Service. Awards are arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee.

More information on the program is available from county extension agents.

Child's Discipline Is Family Affair

Editor's note: This is the second of a two-part series on children's behavior.

COLLEGE STATION — Discipline is a family affair involving both parents and children. Mrs. Ilene Miller, a family life education specialist, says,

Through personal example, repeated explanations and daily guidance, mothers and fathers help their children learn how to behave in different situations, she noted.

This specialist is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Primary responsibility for making judgements about their children's behavior rests with parents until the children are mature enough to make their own decisions. But a child will be slow to act responsibly, if he does not have opportunities to learn what is expected of him."

Young children must be told, guided, shown how and often told again before they learn what parents expect. Children need lots of positive direction; they need to know what they can do rather than what not to do. Positive directions help them learn how to act in different situations, she said.

"Guidelines and limits which help young children maintain self-control are also a must. For example, toddlers and preschoolers need firm guidance because they lack the maturity and experience to know how to behave in many situations. In contrast, older children in the family may be ready for more freedom and responsibility.

"Parents should set and enforce a few reasonable rules which consider the needs and abilities of each individual child. In setting limits, decide what rules are necessary for the well-being of the child and others and for the protection of property. Do not hesitate to change the rules once the child outgrows the need for such limits," she advised.

Young children need to know the possible consequences of their actions, and why some rules are necessary. Parents help their children make wise responsible decisions by talking about what could happen if the child does not -- or does -- behave in a specific way. Parents should also be consistent and enforce the family rules so the child will know what to expect in different situations.

Also, it is important to remember that children learn by example. The way a parent or older brother or sister behaves often makes more of an impression on a youngster than anything they might say to the child, the specialist reminded.

Before prattling himself out of office, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz recommended that the disaster provisions of the current farm law be "replaced by a nationwide multiperil insurance program."

Without saying where and to whom he thought disaster payments should have been made under the present program in 1974 and 1975, the Secretary bemoaned the fact that "Fairly heavy concentrations of payments occurred in high risk sectors." Therefore, he reasoned in a letter to Senator Herman Talmadge of Georgia, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, distribution of funds has been "inequitable."

This kind of reasoning is difficult to understand, comments Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock. "I fail to see the 'inequity' of making disaster payments to the farmers who suffer the disasters," he says.

The multiperil insurance program of which the Secretary spoke apparently refers to a "comprehensive natural disaster insurance program" proposed by E.A. Jaenke, a former USDA official now president of an agricultural consulting firm.

Jaenke's proposal calls for farmer protection to be provided through the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and/or private, mutual or cooperative crop insuring companies.

He would have the producer purchase insurance on up to one-third of his production, at premium rates based on actuarial tables for his area, then the government would provide coverage for a second third. Or, if a producer preferred to purchase coverage for only 20 percent of his production, the government would provide an additional 20 percent.

Coverage purchased from private companies could qualify for the government's matching coverage if prescribed conditions were met.

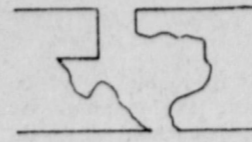

"This approach raises several questions," says Johnson, "including the question as to whether such a program, requiring the government to pay insurance premiums on up to one-third of U.S. agricultural production, would not cost the government more than it currently costs to make disaster payments on actual losses."

Also, Johnson says, "The government would wind up putting most of its money into premiums on crops in high risk areas just as it now pays losses in those same areas, and we fail to see just how this would correct the so-called 'inequity'."

Johnson commends Jaenke for the statement accompanying his proposal which said "Natural risk sharing is essential if farmers are to be asked to meet the goal of providing the required supply of food and fiber."

"But we seriously question," Johnson said, "whether Mr. Jaenke's proposal would be an improvement over the present risk-sharing method."

TEXAS JOB TALK

The state unemployment rate slipped down to 5.4 per cent in September, a decline for the third consecutive month, said Harold K. Dudley, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, today in Austin.

Texas' jobless rate was 5.5 per cent in August and 5.8 per cent in July, the TEC chief said.

"This pattern of decline is traditional for the season," Dudley explained. "The fact that the monthly unemployment rates are following seasonal trends indicates that the economy is steady and that we can remain optimistic about Texas' future."

Some 292,200 people were unemployed in September—a decline of 9,300 from August. The state's total employment in September stood at 5,114,300 with the labor force being 5,406,500.

"The Texas rate continues to compare favorably with its national counterpart which was 7.4 per cent for September," Dudley said, adding that the latter is two-tenths of one per cent lower than the August figure.

September unemployment rates in Texas' major labor areas are Abilene, 4.2 per cent; Amarillo, 3.4;

Austin, 4.4; Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange, 7.0; Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito, 10.2; Corpus Christi, 6.3; Dallas-Fort Worth, 4.5; El Paso, 12.3; Galveston-Texas City, 6.8; Houston, 5.6; Laredo, 13.1; Longview, 6.3; Lubbock, 3.1; McAllen-Pharr-Edinburg, 11.7; Midland, 2.7; Odessa, 2.8; San Angelo, 4.2; San Antonio, 7.3; Sherman-Denison, 9.0; Texarkana, 7.7; Tyler, 5.1; Waco, 5.1; Wichita Falls, 3.8.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—The Texas presidential primary law has expired and it will be up to the 65th Legislature to enact a new bill during the session beginning in January. There is much discussion already as to what kind of law Texans will have when the 1980 election rolls around. The Legislature made the so-called "Bentsen Bill" valid only for the 1976 primary. It was the first time Texans had a primary say about presidential contenders. There was some moaning over the law which gave Jimmy Carter less than 50 per cent of the votes but 94 per cent of the Democratic delegates. There was equal intensity among Republicans in the Ford-Reagan race. However, the feeling of most Texans was that they liked having a voice about the picking of the president in the primary round before the field of candidates had been depleted. I think Texans want to be able to make their choice in future elections as well. Therefore, the Legislature is going to be called on to provide the mechanism for that operation. It could be one of the major pieces of business in the coming session. Still, there is always the chance that the 1979 Legislature might have some say since the next presidential election won't be until 1980. However, we probably need as much time as possible to get ready for the next primary so a law in 1977 would not be jumping the gun. The House Subcommittee on Presidential Preference Primary Systems, chaired by Representative Sarah Weddington of Austin, has been doing its work in preparation for the coming session and some of their proposals will be brought before the Legislature. The Democratic Party has advocated its displeasure with winner-take-all primaries. One of the proposals of the House committee will likely be the elimination of winner-take-all provisions. After the primary last spring, I said that I would like to see presidential primaries separated from regular party primaries. Another feature I contemplated was letting Republicans and Democrats vote for any candidate they wished, regardless of party affiliation. During the summer I have talked with legislators in several other southern states. We discussed a "regional" primary with as many as 15 states holding primaries on the same day. Such a declaration from a substantial number of states might go a long way in deciding who the party nominees would be. Such a show of strength might even elect the next President of the United States. Many approaches, both to the mechanism of a state law and the idea of entering into a combined primary with other states, will be debated in the House beginning in January. I trust that no matter the outcome of any law passed Texans will have the best possible chance to speak their mind on who they feel should be the next President.

1976 Cotton Outlook Lower Market Strong

"There should be continued strength in the cotton market in the months ahead as crop prospects have been reduced by adverse weather," says an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Freeze and frost damage in West Texas on October 8 and 20 should reduce the Texas cotton crop by about 250,000 bales, says Charles Baker. The total cotton crop in the United States was estimated at 10.2 million bales on October 1 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. At the same time, the USDA estimated the Texas crop at three million bales. "Farmers still own about 50 percent of the 1976 crop -- so they can refuse to sell on the price dips," contends Baker. "Domestic mills and foreign buyers need cotton and will compete for it. World consumption will exceed world production by about two million bales this year."

Looking ahead, Baker expects 1977 cotton plantings to be higher -- perhaps 5.2 million acres in Texas and 13 million in the U.S. Of course, price levels in the first quarter of 1977 will have a big influence. Contracting for 1977 cotton has been heavy in South Texas, with producers locking in a profit at about 10 cents under the current price. This early cotton is in heavy demand by domestic mills. Contracting is a buyer's option, but this marketing alternative may help the farmer more in 1977 than this year, contends the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Competition has been getting farmers a little more money for cottonseed in the northern Blacklands," adds Baker. "This is a valuable part of the cotton crop that is completely overlooked by some farmers. Products milled from cottonseed are returning around $180 per ton, and the farmer's share should be around $120 based on grade 100. This figures out to $46 per bale. Farmers are now getting about $10 less than that."

Teacher: "As we walk out-of-doors on a cold winter's morning and look about us, what do we see on every hand?"
Class: "Gloves!"

Texas Farm Bureau Annual Meet Slated

About 1,500 farmers and ranchers are expected to attend the 43rd annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau in Fort Worth December 5-8.

General sessions will be in the Tarrant County Convention Center with some conferences scheduled for the Sheraton Hotel.

Policies to guide the state's largest farm organization next year and recommendations on national policies will be adopted during the final two days of the convention. Delegates will also elect a president and directors. More than 1,100 voting delegates, representing 190,000 member families in 210 organized county Farm Bureaus, will participate in the business session. The number of voting delegates from a county is based on the total number of member families in the county.

Another highlight of the meeting will be an address by TFB President Carrol Chaloupka and a guest speaker yet to be announced.

Events for young people in Farm Bureau will include a queen contest, talent find and discussion meet.

Recognition awards will be interspersed throughout the convention. Counties will be honored for outstanding achievements in membership, public relations and safety. A meritorious service award will be presented to an individual, not yet announced.

The convention will get under way with registration beginning at 2 p.m. in the Sheraton Hotel. Registration will continue Monday morning in the Convention Center.

A vesper service and discussion meet will be held Sunday

Navy Seaman Alton Burton In Exercise

Navy Seaman Alton L. Burton Jr., son of Mr. Alton L. Burton of 510 E. Austin, Muleshoe, participated in the NATO Exercise "Display Determination" in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS America, deployed with the U.S. Sixth Fleet. His command joined with naval forces from Portugal, Italy, Turkey and the United Kingdom for the combined exercise which included convoy operations, amphibious assault landings and anti-submarine warfare maneuvers.

The primary objective of the exercise was to train NATO naval forces in combined sea operations, to refine NATO procedures and ensure that operational plans were current.

Participating units evaluated increased standardization of doctrines, equipment and armaments among NATO forces, plus command and control procedures for coordinated action by NATO sea, land and air forces.

The convoy operation tested Allied capabilities to reinforce and resupply ground forces in Southern Europe. Acting as opposing forces, NATO units simulated surface, subsurface and air attacks along the convoy's route.

"Display Determination" was one of a series of annual operations, conducted each fall from Norway to Turkey, designed to provide unified and coordinated training of national and NATO forces within the Allied European Command.

A former student of Palo Duro High School, Amarillo, he joined the Navy in November 1973.

evening in the Sheraton Hotel and will be followed by talent find competition in the Convention Center theater. Representatives will be elected in both the talent find and discussion meet to participate in those events at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in January in Hawaii.

The Monday morning general session, which features speeches by TFB President and a guest speaker, will also include the annual report of the TFB Secretary-Treasurer Reed Lang of Rio Hondo.

A ladies' luncheon and fashion show are scheduled for noon Monday at the Sheraton Hotel.

Eleven special conferences will be held in the Sheraton Hotel that afternoon. These include Livestock and Animal Health, Community Services, Cotton, Wheat and Feed Grains, Rice, Farm Bureau Services, Peanuts and Oilseeds, Research and Education, Farm Labor, Natural Resources, and Dairy.

The annual queen's contest will be that evening in the Convention Center theater with 12 District winners competing. District caucuses will be held prior to the convening of the business session at 10 a.m. that day. Warren Newberry, executive director for the TFB, will make his administrative report at the beginning of the business session which will be held in the Convention Center theater. The voting session will continue throughout the remainder of the day. The annual dance will be that evening in the Sheraton Hotel.

The voting session will reconvene Wednesday morning and will continue until all proposed resolutions have been disposed of. Final order of business will be election of directors from even-numbered districts and the president.

Following adjournment, the TFB Board of Directors will meet to select a vice president and a secretary-treasurer.

Eighth Grade Students Pep Rally Visitors

The eighth grade class went to the High School Pep Rally on Friday, October 22. They left their seventh period classes at 2:45 to go over to the High School Gym. They stayed until the bell rang for school to be out.
The eighth grade thought that the pep rally had alot of spirit and that all of the High School Cheerleaders had done a tremendous job in decorating the gym and making the pep rally more enthusiastic.
Kenny Carter, the youth director of the First Baptist Church, gave a speech to give spirit to the players. Kim Helker, one of the Mules defensive players,

Cool Weather Bringing Out Coats, Sweaters

There has been a change of atmosphere at Muleshoe Jr. High. There had been a lot of warmer weather and a lot of summer shirts or summer clothes since school had started. Lately, we have been seeing a lot of coats and sweaters in school. There was a lot of snow on the ground last week and very many people were excited about it.
The gym has been opened on the cooler occasions for the students to go in to keep warm during lunch.

The prescription for most of the ills that beset the world is just plain everyday honesty.

Local Family Appreciated Food Drive

On Friday, October 22, the Muleshoe Jr. High had a food drive for the Marvin Lewis family. Every Jr. High student and teacher who wanted to bring some non-perishable food item to school, placed it in a box by the office. Clifford Watson, Student Council president, Brad Poyner, and Mike Richardson, one of the Student Council sponsors, took all the food to him. There was about four boxes and two sacks of food taken to him and his family. Marvin was asleep when the food was taken to his house. The family really appreciated the food given to them. They would like to thank all the people who gave to them.
Clifford Watson would like to thank all of the Jr. High students and teachers for bringing all of the canned goods for Marvin.

Happy Birthday

The Journalism class would like to wish everyone that has a birthday between the 5 and the 18 of november of happy birthday. Those people are:
November 7 - Carroll Precure and Andrea Sigale.
November 11 - Danny Seales and Albert Lopez.
November 13 - Laura Andringa.
November 17 - Pedro Pacheco and Kathy Rodriguez.
We hope this day will be a very special day and that it will go especially smooth.

Player Of The Week

Keva Roming is this weeks player of the week for eighth grade. Keva is a forward, and works very hard for her team. She enjoys basketball very much and can't wait until the games start. The eighth grade has started having practice after school and she enjoys it very much. Keva shows a lot of enthusiasm over basketball.

KEVA ROMING

CARA BASS

This weeks seventh grade "Player of the Week" is Cara Bass. She is really working hard to become a forward. She has really had a lot of energy and enthusiasm this past week, and it has shown up in her workouts. We hope she will keep on trying and improving to become one of our forwards.

The misery of miseries is to seek a place in the social whirl out of relation to one's income.

MRS. JOLENE THOMPSON

Junior High Welcoming New Teacher

We would like to welcome to Muleshoe Junior High, Mrs. Jolene Thompson. She is student teaching the eighth grade Art classes and observing the other art classes for teaching within the next four weeks. Mrs. Jean Moore is the cooperating teacher. After her four weeks at M.J.H.S., she will go to High School where she will observe and teach for four more weeks. After that she hopes to find a job teaching art.

Her comments on M.J.H.S. were, "I graduated at Muleshoe High School so this is more or less home to me. I really enjoy teaching Mrs. Moore's art classes and like the students very well."

She is going to West Texas State University where she will graduate this December. Her major is Art Education - all levels. Her husband is Kevin Thompson, the Parts Manager at Whitt Watts and Rempe John Deere house in Muleshoe. Her hobbies include all kinds of art, reading, sewing, and cooking. Let's give Mrs. Thompson a great big WELCOME!!!

People who were yelling for warm weather a few months ago are getting what they thought they wanted.

Always remember, if you would be considered wise, that your opinions are of small importance to anyone except yourself.

Chest Hospitals Give New Set Of Friends

Thousands of Texans who have been hospitalized at one of the three chest hospitals operated by the Texas Department of Health Resources went seeking treatment, cure and hope for the future.

While receiving these things, they have in most cases found something else: a new set of friends in the hospital doctors, nurses and other staff members.

The hospitals do more than just treat tuberculosis. Although noted for the expert, specialized treatment which tuberculosis patients must have, hospital personnel deliver it with compassion. They also provide guidance which affects the lives of many patients, particularly alcoholics. This counselling service is important because the recurrence of tuberculosis in many cases is associated with excess intake of alcohol and resultant nutritional deficiencies. The importance of nutrition to health is emphasized.

For patients stricken by tuberculosis, the chest hospitals located at Tyler, San Antonio and Harlingen are always open to receive them. It's the only place many Texans -- those with financial resources -- can go for treatment of this contagious disease.

The hospitals don't stop at the treatment for tuberculosis. If other medical or dental problems are found, these conditions also are treated while the patient is hospitalized.

In addition to the care given tuberculosis patients, the chest hospitals also provide treatment for persons with chronic respiratory disease (asthma, emphysema, bronchiectasis and other chest diseases including some cases sent to the hospital and later found to have cancer.)

The hospitals are accomplishing their extensive programs on a budget of $15.5 million. And, more than a fourth of this is returned to the state's General Revenue Fund. Patients who enter a chest hospital and are able to pay are charged commensurate with this ability to pay. Also, those who have private insurance, or are eligible for federal or other benefits, are charged for the services for which they are covered. These payments last year totaled $4.5 million. Since these payments do go into the General Fund the net cost to the state for the operation of the hospitals is some 25 percent less than the money appropriated for their operation.

The three chest hospitals last year admitted 3,200 patients, including most of the 2,600 new cases of tuberculosis diagnosed in the state. The hospitals get the worst cases of tuberculosis, those harder to treat who normally must spend more time in the hospital. Some tuberculosis patients are treated at contract hospitals.

Persons entering a tuberculosis hospital today spend an average of 65 days, while those with milder infections stay an average of 20 days in the contract hospitals.

A decade ago, the average stay in a chest hospital was 200 days. In other words, said Dr. Fratis L. Duff, Director of Health Resources, patients are receiving better care today than in the past and are having to remain in the hospital only a third of the time they did must 10 short years ago.

Cost for a hospitalization in a state chest hospital is only $48.09 per day, compared to $145 per day for a patient in a full reimbursement contract hospital.

If all tuberculosis patients admitted to the state chest hospitals in 1975 had been admitted to the full reimbursement contract hospitals and kept for the same period of treatment, the additional cost to the State of Texas over the cost of operating the chest hospitals would have been more than $13 million.

A big bonus provided these Texans by the hospitals, said Dr. Duff, is the provision of outpatient care including laboratory work, X-rays and medications, and special treatment for people who have chronic respiratory disease. Certain members of the medical staffs of the hospitals conduct clinics for chest disease patients in the surrounding communities.

All the advances are made possible by better management, improved care programs and the addition of newer methods of treatment of tuberculosis. Comparing the cost of state chest hospitals with the money paid to private providers for even lesser services reveals that in chest hospitals patients receive care at a fraction of what it would cost in another setting.

Without the chest hospitals, said Dr. Jerome H. Greenbert, Deputy Director for Preventable Diseases, Texans with tuberculosis would have to pay some three times the cost for services -- if they could afford to pay at all.

Medicare Deductible Increases In January

Beginning in January 1977, a person who goes to the hospital under Medicare will be responsible for the first $124 of his hospital bill. The present deductible of $104 will remain in effect for Medicare hospital admissions during the rest of 1976.

In announcing the new $124 deductible, James B. Cardwell, Commissioner of Social Security noted that the law requires an annual review of hospital costs under Medicare and an adjustment of the portion of the bill for which a Medicare beneficiary is responsible, if these costs have risen substantially. The law provides a formula for determining the amount of any adjustment in the deductible amount.

Commissioner Cardwell said the increase in the deductible results from continuing increases in hospital costs. He pointed out that hospital costs have been increasing over twice as fast as the overall cost-of-living and said that these inflationary increases in hospital costs are largely responsible for the 19 percent increase in the inpatient hospital deductible.

The hospital deductible amount, Commissioner Cardwell explained, is intended to make the Medicare beneficiary responsible for expenses approximately equal to the average cost of one day of hospital care. At the present time the average hospital stay under Medicare costs about $1,600.

Mr. Cardwell said that when the hospital deductible amount changes, the law requires comparable changes in the dollar amounts that a Medicare beneficiary pays toward a hospital stay of more than 60 days, or a posthospital extended care stay of more than 20 days.

When a Medicare beneficiary has a hospital stay of more than 60 days, he will pay $31 a day for the 61st through the 90th day, up from the present $26 per day. Should a beneficiary wish to draw on his "lifetime reserve" days, the extra 60 hospital days a beneficiary can use when he needs more than 90 days of hospital care in a benefit period, he will pay $62 for each reserve day used, instead of the present $52 per day.

If he has a posthospital stay of over 20 days in a skilled nursing facility, he will pay $15.50 per day toward the cost of the 21st day through the 100th day, up from the present $13 per day.

About 24.7 million persons are covered by hospital insurance under Medicare in 1976 and this number will increase to 25.3 million persons in 1977. The cost of Medicare hospital insurance is expected to increase from $13.6 billion in 1976 to $16.1 billion in 1977.

Ola Greene Funeral Rites Held Monday

Funeral services for Ola W. Greene, 83, were held at Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Chapel in Lubbock at 2 p.m. on Monday with Rev. J. Waid Griffin, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Lubbock, officiating.

He was assisted by Rev. Floyd Dunn of the First United Methodist Church in Muleshoe. Graveside services were conducted at Bailey County Memorial Park at 3:45 p.m. Monday under direction of Singleton-Elis Funeral Home of Muleshoe.

Ola W. Greene was born August 7, 1893, in Fannin County and had lived in Lubbock since April, 1974. She was a former resident of Muleshoe, and the mother of Mrs. Bill (Opal) Booth, who preceded her in death.

Mrs. Greene died Saturday, October 30, in Lubbock.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Madge Jarvis of Dallas, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Don Ethridge of 3409 69th Drive in Lubbock, and one great-grandchild.
